Oh, saith the Lord God, I am raising up visionaries. Those that will see into the future, like My servant David. I gave unto him the intricate details of the building of the Temple and gave Him instruction on how it was to be built, by whom, and where the resources would come from. Because I have raised up a generation that has sought My face, and that hears My voice, they will be like David. There will be many visionaries among the sons and daughters of the morning. Some will be called to see, others will be called to build, and still others will be called to provide the resources.

In this new season, I am fitly joining together those in My Body that will work hand in hand, each knowing their destiny and how it compliments the destiny of others. And they will take hands, and build a wall that cannot be destroyed. They will take hands, and My Kingdom will come into the earth through these. They will take hands and the works of the flesh and the works of the enemy will come to naught.

In the past My people have perished for lack of a vision but it will not be so for the sons and daughters of the morning. That which they have seen, I have gone before and made a way for them, so that the vision of destiny becomes a reality. But, not by their own hands, but by the hand of an all seeing, all knowing God. I have already put into motion all that they need for the fulfillment of their destiny. I have brought them to a place of total dependence upon Me, they seek no means of their own, and they seek no man’s hand. They have learned to wait upon Me. They have learned that I will meet them at every turn or curve in the road. They have learned that it is I, and I alone, that hold all the keys to the fulfillment to destiny.

And I have given to them keys. And each key unlocks a new door. I have given them wisdom on which key to use, and which door to unlock before entering a new door. I have given to these sons and daughters of the morning the keys to the Kingdom of Heaven, and they will cause things to be on earth as they are in heaven.

Oh the sons and daughters of the morning are visionaries. They see in the spirit, and they will step out on what they see, and I will meet them there. After what they have first seen has been established, then they will use the key to unlock the next door. They will cross over the threshold, and I will meet them there. Their destiny’s will be fulfilled one step at a time, one door at a time, and I will meet them at each step with the provision for the next step.

My, My, My, saith the Lord God, the plan is unfolding. The visionaries have seen. I have made provision and the destiny of the sons and daughters of the morning are going to manifest in the earth. No more waiting, no more longing, for the new day has dawned and no longer will the vision tarry, saith the Lord God.

Unforgiveness and Other Barriers to Compassion

Catherine Brown

"What then shall we say: Is God unjust? Not at all! For he says to Moses, 'I will have mercy on whom I have mercy, and I will have compassion on whom I have compassion.' It does not, therefore, depend on man's desire or effort, but on God's mercy." Romans 9:14-16

In today's study I would like to examine some of the things that might prevent us from being compassionate, and, in acknowledging them, we will discover how to overcome the things that hold us back from moving in God's mercy. These may include such obstructions as unwillingness, unbelief, fear of failure, and weariness.

JESUS HEALS THE MAN WITH LEPROSY

"When he came down from the mountainside, large crowds followed him. A man with leprosy came and knelt before him and said, 'Lord, if you are willing, you can make me clean.' Jesus reached out his hand and touched the man. 'I am willing,' he said. 'Be clean!' Immediately he was cured of his leprosy. Then Jesus said to him, 'See that you don't tell anyone. But go, show yourself to the priest and offer the gift Moses commanded, as a testimony to them." Matthew 8:1-4

Jesus clearly demonstrates through His loving compassion to the leper that He is (1) WILLING to heal, (2) ABLE to heal, (3) and the result of Christ's compassion is a healing miracle!

If we will only see and believe the fundamental truth in these three points from Scripture, we can lay our unbelief, fear of failure, and weariness at the feet of Christ and trust that Jesus is the healer and that HIS COMPASSION IS ALWAYS EFFECTIVE AND ETERNALLY PRESENT. What a liberating thought! We are not to strive to produce compassion. We simply position ourselves in the mercy of God and, by faith, surrender as His power and miracles flow to those in need.

PARABLE OF THE UNMERCIFUL SERVANT

"Then Peter came to Jesus and asked, 'Lord, how many times shall I forgive my brother when he sins against me? Up to seven times?' Jesus answered, 'I tell you, not seven times, but seventy-seven times. Therefore the kingdom of heaven is like a king who wanted to settle accounts with his servants. As he began the settlement, a man who owed him ten thousand talents was brought to him. Since he was not able to pay, the master ordered that he and his wife and his children and all that he had be sold to repay the debt. The servant fell on his knees before him. 'Be patient with me,' he begged, 'and I will pay back everything.' The servant's master took pity on him, cancelled the debt and let him go.

"'But when that servant went out, he found one of his fellow servants who owed him a hundred denarii. He grabbed him and began to choke him. 'Pay back what you owe me!' he demanded. His fellow servant fell to his knees and begged him, 'Be patient with me, and I will pay you back.' But he refused. Instead he went off and had the man thrown into prison until he could pay the debt. When the other servants saw what had happened, they were greatly distressed and went and told their master everything that had happened.

"'Then the master called the servant in. 'You wicked servant,' he said, 'I cancelled all that debt of yours because you begged me to. Shouldn't you have had mercy on your fellow servant just as I had on you?' In anger his master turned him over to the jailor to be tortured, until he should pay back all he owed.

"'This is how my heavenly Father will treat each of you unless you forgive your brother from your heart.'" Matthew 18:21-35

These are strong and striking words from Christ, which should impel us to examine our hearts honestly before the Lord and allow him to search us for any trace of unforgiveness. Unforgiveness chokes the breath of God in us. It binds us spiritually and we will not be able to move in God's compassion if we are thus ensnared. If we hold unforgiveness in our hearts towards another, we will not seek Father's heart for that individual and, in so doing, we demonstrate unwillingness and unbelief. Jesus wants us to receive compassion and He also wishes to teach us to show compassion to others without pride or prejudice. If your heart is hard today, allow Jesus to minister His grace to you and repent for your unforgiveness.

Compassion is God's manna in this hour to the church. A heavenly feast of the Bread of Heaven, upon which our thirsty souls may feed and be satisfied and through which we might serve others: "Finally, all of you, live in harmony with one another; be sympathetic, love as brothers, be compassionate and humble." 1 Peter 3:8

WHO DID JESUS SHOW COMPASSION TO?

Jesus shows compassion to the sick, the afflicted, the wounded, the weary, the lost, the broken hearted, the bereaved, the poor, the starving (physically, spiritually, emotionally), the prodigals, the sinners (those in need of salvation), the lonely, the persecuted, the devastated, all those in need, the hurting, the abused, the marginalized, the harassed, the helpless, those needing deliverance...the list is endless. His compassion resulted in many miracles: healing, comfort, provision, salvation, deliverance, and resurrections to name but a few. The blind see, the deaf hear, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the prodigals return home, the hungry are fed, the dead are raised - Christ's compassion transforms lives and communities in astonishing, undeniable ways.

COMPASSION: LEADS TO ACTION = LOVE & TRUTH

"If anyone has material possessions and sees his brother in need but has no pity (compassion) on him, how can the love of God be in him? Dear children, let us not love with words or tongue but with actions and in truth." 1 John 3:17,18

Our challenge today is to respond to Christ's compassion in our daily walk with Him; to be open and willing vessels through which our Master may pour out His miracle-working power and compassion. May we know a fresh wave of grace on our lives today to believe that Jesus entrusts this wonderful gift to us, His bride, and may we be ever faithful in our stewardship of His mercy and compassion.

Un-veiled Eyes, Beholding His Glory, and Transfiguration Experiences!!

Un-veiled Eyes, Beholding His Glory, and Transfiguration Experiences!!

2 Cor 3:18 declares that "But we all, with unveiled face, beholding as in a mirror the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the same image from glory to glory, just as by the Spirit of the Lord.

The word that is translated "face" literally means "the face so far forth as it is the organ of sight". We must have unveiled sight so that we may behold the Lord in His Glory resulting in a transformation into the very image of Christ. That word "transformation" here is "metamorpho" in the Greek which is used only 4 times in Scripture and in two of those 4 instances it refers directly to the event of Jesus' Transfiguration on the mount. Now that is "transformation"!! That is what Christ has in mind for us as we behold His glory!! A transformation so complete that we emanate the Glory and very Image of the Lord in our lives like Jesus did of the Father on the mount! Oh come on Jesus! Yes!!!!!!!!!

In context, this chapter teaches us that the veil is removed at our new birth. Amen. How many can remember the experience of your first days, months and perhaps years in Christ? Truly the veil was lifted and it was if everything you saw, smelled, tasted, touched and experienced was alive with the presence and fingerprints of God. The revelation of Jesus was every where you looked. His presence was so near and sweet that you could weather any storm, tackle any mountain, and overcome any challenge. Seeing Him was so natural and awe inspiring that from one encounter to the next (from Glory to Glory) nothing but expectation gripped your heart and through this process you were being changed into His image. Oh for the days when we had little "knowledge" and "experience" but a whole lot of God! We couldn't explain church doctrine but we sure could reveal Jesus! We were regular (and more than likely, some what unwitting partakers) of Zoë Life and we were being changed as we beheld Him. We couldn't explain how but we knew it was wonderful! So much change happens so quickly for the new believer. I've been pondering why? The answer, I believe, is unveiled eyes beholding the glory...thereby being transformed into His image!

As time goes on something happens. We all experience some form of pain, disappointment, hurt, betrayal, hope differed, misunderstanding, unsound teaching, stubbornness, pride, guilt, shame, etc. and something slowly begins to happens to our eyes. With each _____________ (fill in the blank with the "wrong" as it pertained to you) our incomplete (incomplete defined for now as "wrong founded") response to the wounding causes a re-veiling to begin to slowly and steadily take place. At first its hardly noticeable. Then, one injury, mistake, or issue that is not dealt with leads to another and our continued incomplete response bring us to a place that without even realizing it, a veil slowly begins obstructing our "eyes". The result is an impeded ability to see His Glory and thereby be metamorpho (transformed and transfigured) into His very image. Most of this veil issue is tied to the "incomplete" response. Let me explain.

As I have been having this incredible journey of revelation from the Lord as of late He has pointed out to me with stunning clarity that ANY RESPONSE OR ACTION that does not flow from the foundation of Love, Forgiveness and Rest is to respond incompletely and circumvents the full work of the Spirit in our life and in the situation. Furthermore, you can't just respond to the given situation with one, or two of the three, it must flow from all three!! There is so much more to go into regarding these Three Mandates but for now let me just lay the foundation of what I've received from our Lover King, Jesus.

So the question remains what is re-veiling our eyes in any way that keeps us from seeing His Glory unobstructed(come on Lord!), thereby being transformed (transfigured into His likeness!!)?? I now believe that anything that you will eventually discover in your life as the Spirit puts His finger on it will be tied to all three of the following "foundational mandates" in some way. These are not necessarily in order of importance and they are all inextricably linked to one another and yet they are being Highlighted by the Holy Spirit in very distinct ways.

1. Love. We must love God and His people as our top priority in life. Love must be the foundation from which all things in our life flow. To the degree that we are still motivated by ANY other desire than love, to the same degree our eyes are suffering from a veil. Gal 5:6 says that ".....the only thing that counts, is faith expressing itself through love". Any time the Bible says a phrase like "the only thing that counts" we really must pay attention!! THE ONLY THING THAT COUNTS IN OUR LIVES IS FAITH EXPRESSING ITSELF THROUGH LOVE. Filter all that you do and all that you say through this filter. If it can not pass through it then you must pray that God will help you either adjust your motivation so that it does line up or, for most of us, He calling for whatever it is to die, go away, cease to exist! He has something better and rightly founded in mind! Read the entire chapter of Ephesians 3 over and over and get it into your Spirit. For now consider the following Scriptures:

Ephesians 3:16-19 says: "16 that He would grant you, according to the riches of His glory, to be strengthened with might through His Spirit in the inner man, 17 that Christ may dwell in your hearts through faith; that you, being rooted and grounded in love, 18 may be able to comprehend with all the saints what is the width and length and depth and height-- 19 to know the love of Christ which passes knowledge; that you may be filled with all the fullness of God. (sounds like 2 Cor 3:18 transfiguration experience to me!!!)

2. Forgiveness. Two fold. First at it relates to wrongs done to us or mistakes that we make. (Forgiving others and forgiving ourselves). The scripture is clear in Matthew 6:14-15 that "14 For if you forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you. 15 But if you do not forgive men their trespasses, neither will your Father forgive your trespasses. Forgiveness is God's power and pathway to reconcile first God to man and secondly man to each other. It also includes the reconciling of the truth in ourselves we release our self from the self imposed prisons of self-condemnation and shame for mistakes that we have made. Without the forgiveness that comes through the cross of Christ we are lost. We have no choice but live and offer forgiveness 70x7. The second part of the Forgiveness equation, and I believe just as important to the act of forgiveness as it relates to us personally, is becoming an ambassador of forgiveness thereby releasing the power of the Cross wherever you go. In John chapter 20 we have a most interesting insight on the Great Commission as Jesus revealed it to the Disciples. Consider the following in John 20:21-23 it says "21 So Jesus said to them again, "Peace to you! As the Father has sent Me, I also send you." 22 And when He had said this, He breathed on them, and said to them, "Receive the Holy Spirit. 23 If you forgive the sins of any, they are forgiven them; if you retain the sins of any, they are retained." As He was sent so now are you and I sent. True forgiveness is a gift from Jesus and in this passage above we see the Lord imparting this wonderful gift to His own. He directly tied the "receiving" of the Holy Spirit with a commission and responsibility to Forgive. Releasing forgiveness from our place of authority is one the keys to fulfilling the Great Commission and is an integral part of the Gospel of the Kingdom. Forgiveness goes beyond salvation to the supernatural place of reconciliation and restoration of not only man to God but of the Heavens, the earth and what's under the earth, seen and unseen, and all that they contain to God and His authority. Begin to release forgiveness from your place of authority and the power of God will be released in and around your life in ways we've never dreamed. I have never heard of anyone praying for this wonderful gift because the price that comes with it is great to be sure! But if we are to be a part of what God is doing in these days and your desire is to preach the "Gospel of the Kingdom" then we will take the above scripture to heart and ask the Lord to help us understand the true power of Forgiveness the way He designed it. There is much to still be uncovered here but this will start us off for now! To the degree that we are not being motivated by the release of genuine forgiveness as we discussed above, to the same degree our eyes are suffering from a veil

3. Rest! Hebrews 4:1-3a;9-10;16 "1 Therefore, since a promise remains of entering His rest, let us fear lest any of you seem to have come short of it. 2 For indeed the gospel was preached to us as well as to them; but the word which they heard did not profit them, not being mixed with faith in those who heard it. 3 For we who have believed do enter that rest...9 There remains therefore a rest for the people of God. 10 For he who has entered His rest has himself also ceased from his works as God did from His...16 Let us therefore come boldly to the throne of grace, that we may obtain mercy and find grace to help in time of need." Often when we think of the verse 16 we think of coming boldly to the throne for mercy for any need that we have, and we should, as I believe that Christ provided for that. In context however, that is not what this verse is directly speaking to. In context this verse refers directly to obtaining mercy and help in our time of need as it pertains to entering into this promise of rest. God is so serious about us entering His promised rest that He made sure we were clear that we had throne room access for help "lest anyone fall according to the same example of disobedience." Rest is the fulfillment of Trust and the consummation of the "Peace that passes understanding" taking full root in our lives bearing the fruit of rest which comes to us through God's Love and His desire to have a what I now call a Living Sabbath where He can rest. Let me be clear that I am in no way referring to any form of keeping the law, but rather drawing Trust is a verb form of Faith and Rest is one the realities that He has called us to as a result of His Love for His people. To the degree that we are not entering into this reality of rest, to the same degree our eyes are suffering from a veil. Remember, the "only thing that matters is faith, expressing itself through love". Jesus is our source of Love, Forgiveness, and Rest.

I won't say much more about this issue right now but there is something profound to be realized in this issue of entering His rest and how that relates to, in principal, the Sabbath as the day that God rested (settled down and permeated) on. For now I would encourage you to read this article by Francis Frangipane which can be found here http://www.faithwalking.com/poems/aplaceforhimtorest.htm (I have no connection the website its simply a place to find the article).

P.S. I have recently spoken a message on the Three Mandates that Lord anointed very powerfully and is using to effect people lives. We would be glad to send anyone a CD copy of it if you desire to go deeper into these things. Just send us an email at hiddenservant@yahoo.com and we will get them out, free of charge, as quickly as we can.

Unless I Wash Your Feet

Helen Pollack

Unless I Wash Your Feet You Have No Part With Me
Helen Pollack

Jesus washed the feet of the disciples as an example of what they needed to do for one another. He told them they were clean and needed to only wash the feet of their comrades. The armor of God as told by Paul calls for being shod with the Gospel of Peace. The feet come in direct contact with the earth. In like manner the gospel comes into direct contact with the earthiness of man. It must be pure and clean to keep our walk clear before God. We walk with our feet shod with the Gospel of Peace.

Eph 6:15-16 15 and with your feet fitted with the readiness that comes from the gospel of peace. NIV

John 13:1-4 13:1 It was just before the Passover Feast. Jesus knew that the time had come for him to leave this world and go to the Father. Having loved his own who were in the world, he now showed them the full extent of his love.

2 The evening meal was being served, and the devil had already prompted Judas Iscariot, son of Simon, to betray Jesus. 3 Jesus knew that the Father had put all things under his power, and that he had come from God and was returning to God; 4 so he got up from the meal, took off his outer clothing, and wrapped a towel around his waist. NIV

John 13:5-8 5 After that, he poured water into a basin and began to wash his disciples' feet, drying them with the towel that was wrapped around him.

6 He came to Simon Peter, who said to him, "Lord, are you going to wash my feet?"

7 Jesus replied, "You do not realize now what I am doing, but later you will understand."

8 "No," said Peter, "you shall never wash my feet."

Jesus answered, "Unless I wash you, you have no part with me." NIV

John 13:9-11 9 "Then, Lord," Simon Peter replied, "not just my feet but my hands and my head as well!"

10 Jesus answered, "A person who has had a bath needs only to wash his feet; his whole body is clean. And you are clean, though not every one of you." 11 For he knew who was going to betray him, and that was why he said not every one was clean. NIV

John 13:12-17 12 When he had finished washing their feet, he put on his clothes and returned to his place. "Do you understand what I have done for you?" he asked them. 13 "You call me 'Teacher' and 'Lord,' and rightly so, for that is what I am. 14 Now that I, your Lord and Teacher, have washed your feet, you also should wash one another's feet. 15 I have set you an example that you should do as I have done for you. 16 I tell you the truth, no servant is greater than his master, nor is a messenger greater than the one who sent him. 17 Now that you know these things, you will be blessed if you do them. NIV

The second part of this lesson is that we are to do as He did. We are to wash the feet of one another by readying each other with the Gospel as we face the temptations of flesh, pride and the devil.

Eph 6:15-16 15 and with your feet fitted with the readiness that comes from the gospel of peace. NIV

Unclaimed Mantles

Linda Patterson

Vision - I approached a door with a large doorknob. As I opened the door and looked inside I saw racks of coats. There were even a few thrown haphazardly over the top of the rack. I enquired of the Lord and heard Him say, "These are unclaimed mantles".

As I have offered the mantles of times gone by to My beloved of this day and hour, many have not felt worthy to receive. Some have asked, "Why Me Lord?" Well, why not you My beloved remnant bride, for you have walked through the fire, you have walked through the flood and you have walked through testing and trials. You have come out proven, tried and tested and it is time to array yourself now for destiny. As the angels have been commissioned from My Throne Room to take forth the mantles and offer them to my warriors of the final hour, be careful not to reject what I deem rightfully yours. Receive the mantle with grace, for as you wear these various cloaks you shall be strengthened, empowered and enabled to do My bidding as the final curtain draws to a close. Always remember it is only because of My Son that you are worthy, for He empowers you and lifts you up and strengthens you day by day as you walk yoked together with Him.

Stephen was cloaked in a mantle of grace and glory as he lifted his face to heaven in those final moments as his spirit departed from the earthly realm. Throughout the ages My bold warriors and martyrs have been encompassed with a cloak and a crown unseen by the natural eye but very real to the spirit realm. You are called and commissioned for a mighty work. Do not delay but follow Me! Follow Me! Follow Me! Be clothed in my humility, my righteousness, My peace. My grace and glory have been extended and My mantle of love to some. Know the way that I have called, I have chosen, walk in it. Let your Yes be Yes, and your No be No. Do not halt! Do not falter! Do not hesitate! Be sure and swift, walk forward with Me. Do not look to the left or the right but look straight ahead for My light is getting brighter. I take you forward on this pilgrims journey covered and arrayed in My glorious splendor for now and throughout eternity.

Matthew 11:29-30 Take My yoke upon you and learn from Me, for I am gentle and lowly in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For My yoke is easy and My burden is light.

Psalm 84:11 For the Lord God is a sun and shield; the Lord will give grace and glory; no good thing will He withhold from those who walk uprightly.

U.S. War Against Terrorists
Francis Frangipane

Jun 12, 2004

U.S. War Against Terrorists Goes Back To Founding Fathers

Most Americans probably think the Islamic terrorists declared war on the United States Sept. 11, 2001. Actually, it started a long time before - right from the birth of the nation. In 1784, Thomas Jefferson, John Adams and Benjamin Franklin were commissioned by the first Congress to assemble in Paris to see about marketing U.S. products in Europe. Jefferson quickly surmised that the biggest challenge facing U.S. merchant ships were those referred to euphemistically as "Barbary pirates."

They weren't "pirates" at all, in the traditional sense, Jefferson noticed. They didn't drink and chase women and they really weren't out to strike it rich. Instead, their motivation was strictly religious. They bought and sold slaves, to be sure. They looted ships. But they used their booty to buy guns, ships, cannon and ammunition. Like those we call "terrorists" today, they saw themselves engaged in jihad and called themselves "mujahiddin."

Why did these 18th-century terrorists represent such a grave threat to U.S. merchant ships? With independence from Great Britain, the former colonists lost the protection of the greatest navy in the world. The U.S. had no navy - not a single warship. Jefferson inquired of his European hosts how they dealt with the problem. He was stunned to find out that France and England both paid tribute to the fiends - who would, in turn, use the money to expand their own armada, buy more weaponry, hijack more commercial ships, enslave more innocent civilians and demand greater ransom. This didn't make sense to Jefferson. He recognized the purchase of peace from the Muslims only worked temporarily. They would always find an excuse to break an agreement, blame the Europeans and demand higher tribute.

After three months researching the history of militant Islam, he came up with a very different policy to deal with the terrorists. But he didn't get to implement until years later. As the first secretary of state, Jefferson urged the building of a navy to rescue American hostages held in North Africa and to deter future attacks on U.S. ships. In 1792, he commissioned John Paul Jones to go to Algiers under the guise of diplomatic negotiations, but with the real intent of sizing up a future target of a naval attack.

Jefferson was ready to retire a year later when what could only be described as "America's first Sept. 11" happened. America was struck with its first mega-terror attack by jihadists. In the fall of 1793, the Algerians seized 11 U.S. merchant ships and enslaved more than 100 Americans. When word of the attack reached New York, the stock market crashed. Voyages were canceled in every major port. Seamen were thrown out of work. Ship suppliers went out of business. What Sept. 11 did to the U.S. economy in 2001, the mass shipjacking of 1793 did to the fledgling U.S. economy in that year.

Accordingly, it took the U.S. Congress only four months to decide to build a fleet of warships. But even then, Congress didn't choose war, as Jefferson prescribed. Instead, while building what would become the U.S. Navy, Congress sent diplomats to reason with the Algerians. The U.S. ended up paying close to $1 million and giving the pasha of Algiers a new warship, "The Crescent," to win release of 85 surviving American hostages.

It wasn't until 1801, under the presidency of Jefferson, that the U.S. engaged in what became a four-year war against Tripoli. And it wasn't until 1830, when France occupied Algiers, and later Tunisia and Morocco, that the terrorism on the high seas finally ended. France didn't leave North Africa until 1962 - and it quickly became a major base of terrorism once again.

What's the moral of the story? Appeasement never works. Jefferson saw it. Sept. 11 was hardly the beginning. The war in which we fight today is the longest conflict in human history. It's time to learn from history, not repeat its mistakes.

PRAYER | INTERCESSION: It is impossible to imagine the burden President Bush is carrying right now. He needs to be prayed for daily. Lord, we praise and thank You that our President is a man of public faith and commitment to Jesus Christ. We pray that he will continue to seek Your wisdom and counsel in all his actions on behalf of this country and in his personal and private life. (Psalm 89:21) Let our President not rely solely upon the strength of our nation's weapons and intelligence, but first turn to You, Lord, the source of all wisdom and strength. God, bless our Commander in Chief and the tens of thousands of United States troops and our allies who are putting their lives on the line to defeat the jihadists. May they inspire us all to stand strong.

Follow Those Who Follow Christ
Francis Frangipane

"Brethren, join in following my example, and observe those who walk according to the pattern you have in us. For many walk, of whom I often told you, and now tell you even weeping, that they are enemies of the cross of Christ." Philippians 3:17-18

Paul faced a major problem in the first century: many deceivers had crept into the Christian church. The apostle said these false leaders were enemies of the cross of Christ. Paul warned the Philippians to recognize the differences between a true man of God and a false teacher or prophet. Without any sense of false humility, Paul declared that both his vision and his attitude toward attaining it were examples for us to follow.

The context in which Paul wrote describes both his self-righteousness before he found Christ and his utter abandonment of fleshly confidence afterward. We will study these verses carefully. For in an age of increasing deception and distractions, we find a standard that will keep us aimed at the fullness of Christ's Presence.

"Beware of the Dogs"

Paul started this third chapter of Philippians with a caution. He said, "Beware of the dogs, beware of the evil workers, beware of the false circumcision" (Phil. 3:2).

There were three types of false teachers Paul warned about. The first group he referred to as "the dogs." The phrase, "beware of the dog(s)" is still used today. It means there is a vicious animal here. Additionally, most of the dogs of Paul's day were scavengers. In the first century, one could find dozens of dogs eating off the rubbish heaps outside cities; their faces would be bent downward as their muzzles turned up garbage.

Today's church has similar people: fault-finders - people without real faith or love who continually feed upon the garbage and failures of the human condition. Paul's warning holds true today: Beware of those who whisper sarcasms to you, who are continually discovering what is wrong with others! If you listen to them, you will become like them: their words will rob you of vision, leave you without joy, and drain you of your energy.

There are others in this category who cannot accept God's promises of a glorified church at the end of the age. The idea of unity among Christians angers them. In spite of their criticisms, the expectation of a special time of glory at the end of the age was the apostolic viewpoint (2 Cor 3:18; Rev 19:7-8; Isaiah 60:1-3). Yet, lest we miss the great day of the Lord, let us also heed Paul's warning to "beware of the dogs."

Paul also warned against the evil workers. These are harder to discern than the "dogs," but he describes them briefly in the first chapter. They proclaim Christ from "envy...strife...selfish ambition" rather than out of love (Phil. 1:15-17). "Beware," Paul said, of those who preach Christ to build their own kingdoms, whose ministries are motivated by ambition. James adds, "For where jealousy and selfish ambition exist, there is disorder and every evil thing" (James 3:16). In our nation, this has been a serious problem in the church. May God help us all to preach Christ purely from a heart of love!

The third warning was aimed against the "false circumcision" (Phil. 3:2). These were the Jewish Christians who, when they were saved, tried to make Christianity an extension of Judaism. This last teaching was the most dangerous because it seemed the most plausible. The essence of this error was that Christ's atonement was not enough for salvation; you also had to keep the whole system of Mosaic Laws. Paul wrote the next fourteen verses to refute these legalists, as well as to give the church a clear example of what it means to be an authentic Christian. He began his correction stating, "For we are the true circumcision, who worship in the Spirit of God and glory in Christ Jesus and put no confidence in the flesh" (Phil. 3:3).

Paul explains that, when it came to the righteousness in the Law, he had been blameless. After presenting all the things of which his flesh could boast - born of the tribe of Benjamin, a Hebrew of Hebrews, a Pharisee, and a persecutor of the church - Paul then states, "But whatever things were gain to me, those things I have counted as loss for the sake of Christ" (Phil. 3:7).

In the apostolic definition of Christianity, truth is found in knowing Jesus. We do not keep the Law - we keep Jesus. Without violating the spirit of the Law, if we truly keep Jesus, we will go far beyond the righteousness of the Law.

Paul said he counted "all things to be loss in view of the surpassing value of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord" (v. 8). Everything Paul may have been in his flesh he considered as religious rubbish in order that he might gain Christ.

Christ was more than the Law-giver. He was the Faith-giver, Love-giver, Life-giver, Power-giver, and Health-giver as well.

Paul went on, "that I may know Him, and the power of His resurrection" (v. 10) If we say we know Him but do not know the power that raised Jesus from the grave, we really do not know Him as He is. In Acts, Peter proclaimed that it was impossible for death to hold Jesus (Acts 2:31). Hebrews tells us that Christ was raised as a priest by virtue of an "indestructible life" (Heb. 7:16). To be intimately acquainted with Christ's resurrection life as a source of our life is to know one side of Christ's nature.

Paul also embraced "the fellowship of [Christ's] sufferings, being conformed to His death" (Phil. 3:10). The knowledge of Christ's power is accessible only through conformity to His death; resurrection is attained through crucifixion. No one will enter the fullness of Christ's Presence without carrying the cross to get there. It is self which occupies the heart, denying Christ's entrance into our lives. Without the cross, self becomes an idol in the temple of God.

Participation in Christ's sufferings is part of knowing Christ. Paul did not embrace death in a morbid surrender to destruction; He embraced Christ's death, the death to self. It is this surrender to God's will which manifests the Presence of Christ within us. It forgives those who have "crucified" us - a sacrifice of love, not merely self-denial.

In knowing Christ, Paul hungered to know both aspects of Christ: His sufferings and His resurrection. Hunger to know Jesus is the core reality of what it means to be a true Christian.

Paul continued, "Not that I have already...become perfect, but I press on in order that I may lay hold of that for which also I was laid hold of by Christ Jesus" (Phil. 3:12). Keep this thought in mind: This was an apostle who was pressing on! This was a mature Christian who was reaching forward.

Paul said, "One thing I do: forgetting what lies behind and reaching forward to what lies ahead, I press on toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus" (Phil. 3:13-14). What did Paul choose to "forget"? He put aside the wounds, the offenses, and the pains of yesterday that he might be fully given toward the upward call of God in Christ.

As long as we are continually remembering the past, we cannot leave it. We disqualify ourselves from embracing the future God has for us!

The prize in true Christianity is to attain the glory of God. To obtain that prize is worth letting go of everything else. Those who would have you passively sit back with a false security are blind to the goal, the prize, the upward call of God into which Paul himself was pressing.

Many teachers will come and go throughout your life. As you seek guidance, remember Paul's warnings: never follow anyone who is not himself pressing toward the prize of Christ Jesus! You can pray for them, stand with them, and encourage them. But if they are not going where you are going, do not follow them!

Paul went on, "As many as are perfect, have this attitude" (Phil. 3:15). It was in this context that Paul said, "Brethren, join in following my example, and observe those who walk according to the pattern you have in us" (v. 17). Of course, the first and final pattern for our lives is Jesus Christ. Yet, Paul was the pattern of one in pursuit of the Perfect Pattern.

In this world of illusions, deceptions and seductions, let us beware of those who are like dogs, always focused upon the refuse of life. Let us flee from the evil workers who are full of envy and ambition. Let us not yield to the legalists who put a standard of righteousness before us other than Christ.

Paul tells us that these all are "enemies of the cross of Christ, whose end is destruction" (v. 18-19). Let us, instead, run toward Christlikeness. Like Paul, let us press toward the glorious prize: laying hold of Christ Jesus our Lord. For it is here that the Presence of Christ manifests within us.

Upon This Rock

John Garr

When Jesus asked his disciples who they understood him to be, Peter's effusive answer encapsulated the most profound truth in Holy Scripture. "You are he, the Messiah, Son of the living God!" the impetuous apostle exclaimed. Realizing that the ultimate truth about his very nature had been revealed by the heavenly Father, Jesus replied, " . . .upon this rock I will build my church; and the gates of hell shall not prevail against it" (Matthew 16:16-18). Many have taken this statement to mean that Jesus' mission on earth was to clean the religious slate and initiate something that had never been considered in the history of man–the church. Jesus was finally terminating and entombing a lifeless, failed religion and announcing the birth of a vibrant, new faith, they say.

In order to understand what Jesus said and did, however, we must return these words to their context, to Second-Temple Judaism, to the life and practices of first-century Israeli Jewry. We cannot understand these words if we transplant them into Gentile soil, for they were spoken by a Jew in the land of the Jews to no one but Jews. Only when we return to this place, this people, and this time can we truly comprehend the meaning and function of the church.

Theological Analysis

The term church is both very familiar and very misunderstood, generally at the same time. What is the church, who are a part of it, when did it begin, where does it exist, how does it operate, and why does it exist? These are the questions of ecclesiology, the study of the church. Does the church make Christians or do Christians make the church the church? Is the church merely a local congregation of believers? Is it a denomination? Is it the entire Christian community? Anyone who has interacted to any degree with believers of various communions knows that the answers to these questions are many and widely divergent.

In a theological analysis, it is essential that we stress the biblicity of the church–both the term, its definition, and its function. We must turn to the Bible for our understanding of ecclesiology. In analyzing Holy Scripture, however, we must also be careful that we engage in exegesis, not eisegesis. The use of the latter has resulted in the maze of confusion on the subject that already exists, for men of good intentions have read into the texts of scriptures the meanings which their cultures, politics, or other environmental conditionings dictated. We must exegete the biblical word church by literally "drawing out" the meaning of the words and texts of Scripture.

The Church Etymologically Speaking

The word church is derived from the Greek word kuriakov" (kuriakos) which means "belonging to the Lord." The word church must be understood, however, in the light of the New Testament Greek term ejkklesiva (ekklesia), which refers to an assembly or gathering of people. In classical Greek the word ejkklesiva meant an assembly of the citizens of a city (polis), with the understanding that those who were of this assembly had the right to vote on civic issues.

Ekklesia is derived from the verb ejkkalevw (ekkaleo), which means "to summon forth." Hence, it has been said to mean "the called out." For an full understanding of the word church, however, we must go behind the Greek text of the New Testament and return to the Hebrew in which the words of the apostles were either written or thought. In essence, we must return to the Hebrew foundations of Christian faith in order to arrive at a proper definition of the one word that most often denominates the community of believers in Jesus.

We begin to discover the spiritual meaning of the secular Greek word ejkklesiva when we turn to the Hebrew words which were rendered ejkklesiva by the translators of the Septuagint Version of the Old Testament. Seventy scholars in Alexandria translated the Hebrew Scriptures into Greek in the third century B.C.E. to make it possible for the Hellenized Jews of the diaspora to read the Scriptures in the lingua franca of the Mediterranean Basin. These scholars used the Greek word ejkklesiva to translate the Hebrew word lh;q; (qahal), which means "congregation, assembly." lh;q;is a derivative of loo/q (qol), the word for voice and ultimately refers to the summoning of an assembly or to the act of assembling. This term is generally used biblically to refer to the congregation of the people of Israel (e.g., laer;c]yI lh'q] (qahal Yisrael–congregation of Israel); hwhy lh'q] (qahal Yahweh–congregation of Yahweh); and !yhiloa>h; lh'q] (qahal haElohim–the congregation of God). The Jewish people are sometimes referred to as the qehillah, from this same root. The word lh;q; is usually rendered ejkklesiva in the Septuagint.

In Biblical language, then, the church is the assembly of those who are called out to be in covenant with God. Church is not exclusively a New Testament term, for the origin of the term is found in the Septuagint version of the Old Testament which the writers of the New Testament used. The word which the apostles chose to use as an expression of their corporate identity was the same as that which had been used by the Jewish people since the exodus. This is why Stephen calls Israel "the church in the wilderness" in Acts 7:38 and why Hebrews 2:12 quotes Psalm 22:22: "I will declare thy name unto my brethren: in the midst of the congregation will I praise thee" as "I will declare thy name unto my brethren, in the midst of the church will I sing praise unto thee." This is also why Hebrews 12:23 uses "general assembly" and "church of the firstborn" as virtually synonymous.

The New Testament writers understood that the word ejkklesiva (ekklesia) translated their Hebrew word lh;q; (qahal) and meant the congregation of God. For Jesus and the apostles there was absolute continuity between the congregation under the old covenant and the congregation under the new covenant, the church in the Old Testament and the church in the New Testament. Jesus did nothing new, therefore, when he called unto him whom he would and ordained twelve apostles to be the foundation of his reformed congregation or church (Mark 3:13, 14; I Corinthians 12:28; Ephesians 2:20). He was merely restoring God's congregation to its original purpose and reforming it by introducing a new covenant sealed in his own blood.

The term church, then, might more accurately be translated congregation. Perhaps if the Archbishop of Canterbury's instructions to those who created the interpretation of the Bishops' Bible that came to be known as the Authorized King James Version of the Scriptures had not proscribed the use of congregation in deference to the ecclesiastical term church, generations of Christians in English-speaking nations would have understood the church as the congregation of God, a perpetuation of the congregation of Israel in complete continuity. Then, we might have more readily understood that Paul's olive tree metaphor in Romans 11 reveals Israel, into which Gentile branches were grafted to share in the spiritual root and fatness of Judaism. We could also have understood the church as the continuation, not replacement, of Israel and the new covenant as a renewed covenant as Hebrews 8:10, 11 reveals.

Who Are The Congregation?

Who are the people who comprise the assembly of those who are called out to be in covenant with God? The answer was very clear in the Old Testament: it was the entire assembly of the descendants of Abraham through Isaac and Jacob who made the exodus from Egypt and appeared before the Lord at Sinai, and it was all of their subsequent posterity. While all of Israel was denominated and arranged accordingly around the tent of meeting in the Sinai desert, they were collectively considered qahal, the "congregation of God." While there were various elections within Israel (e.g., Judah–Psalm 78:68), all of Israel was the qahal, the ones called out to enter into covenant with Yahweh. All of Israel, therefore, was the church in the wilderness.

The answer is equally clear in the New Testament. Just as the Old Testament church was baptized into one body unto Moses in the cloud and in the sea (I Corinthians 10:2), so all believers have been baptized by one Spirit into one body (I Corinthians 12:13), buried with Christ in baptism (Colossians 2:12). This includes everyone who has been called out: "There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling" (Ephesians 4:4). It is a calling into covenant with God: "Wherefore, my brethren, ye also are become dead to the law by the body of Christ; that ye should be dead" (Romans 7:4). All believers are the children of God who have been "espoused to one husband" (II Corinthians 11:2). Though there are diversities of callings and administrations within the community of Christ, the church is one–those who have been called out from the world to receive Jesus as Lord and to enter into relationship with God through the new covenant.

"No New Thing Under The Sun"

Most Christian scholars conclude that the church began on the Day of Pentecost. And, they are right, but in the wrong century! The church did not begin on Pentecost at Mount Zion in Acts 2. It began on Pentecost at Mount Sinai in Exodus 20.

The truth is that Jesus' "I-will-build-my-church" statement meant, "I will restore my congregation." James declared this to be Jesus' work: "After this I will return, and will build again the tabernacle of David, which is fallen down; and I will build again the ruins thereof, and I will set it up" (Acts 15:16). Jesus was a restorer, not an innovator. He never intended to destroy what God had been molding among the Jewish people for centuries so that he could start something totally different and completely new. He sought only to restore the house (congregation) of David that lay in ruin.

From Temple and Synagogue

The church of Jesus Christ was modeled after both the temple and the synagogue that were so intrinsically involved in the lives of first century Jews. The church came to be thought of as the spiritual temple, the new habitation of God through the Spirit (Ephesians 2:21, 22). Local assemblies of the church were still termed synagogues by James thirty years after the resurrection of Jesus (James 2:2). Much of the church has not understood this truth because most translations render sunagwghv (sunagoge) in this passage as "assembly" or "gathering." The same translations render sunagwghv as "synagogue of Satan" in Revelation 2:9; 3:9 and as "synagogue of the Jews" in Acts 17:10!

Even after Christian congregations ceased to name themselves synagogues, the ongoing life of the church was still patterned after the synagogue. Its officers were merely an extension of the form with which the apostles had been familiar all their lives. Each congregation of the church was autonomous, like the synagogues before them. Congregational leaders were called president (nasi), rather than pastor, until at least the middle of the second century. The government of the early church was purely egalitarian, both in the democracy of the local congregation and in the yeshiva or Beit Din of its translocal leadership (Acts 15). Monolithic organizations with hierarchial episcopacies were later accretions patterned after the governmental and military structures of the Greco-Roman world and of the nations in which Protestantism later developed.

The liturgy of the earliest church paralleled the liturgy of the synagogue. Forms of prayer and praise remained consistent with the patterns of the Judaism in which Jesus and the apostles had expressed their faith. Jesus was not seeking to establish a new order; he merely brought a new covenant to God's ancient system of praise, worship, and service–biblical Judaism.

Extended Family, Community

In reality, both synagogue and temple in the economy of Israel were patterned after Abraham and Sarah's tent, so that even each Jewish family's gathering for food and fellowship was thought of as in a mini-temple. The foundation of both the synagogue and the earliest church was the home, and congregations met in homes as had the synagogues of which they had been a part.

An accurate depiction of the church, then, is that of an extended family, the family of God. Community was foremost in the first century church and should be the guiding principle for the church today. It is in the small groups of extended family that believers receive the mutual support and reinforcement and the accountability that they need for successful Christian living.

Back to Basics

God's command to Moses is good advice to us: "See that you make all things according to the patterns shown you in the mount" (Exodus 25:40). In this case, the Mount Zion community of the first century must be the pattern from which we contextualize the faith of the apostles in today's multi-cultural world society. When we do, we will find ourselves building on the Rock, not on the sands of human tradition, and the lives that we build and bring to maturity will stand for all time.

Unveiling The Saudi Strategy

Gary Todd-Coldiron

Jul 20, 2004

"See, I have this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms to root out, and to pull down, and to destroy, and to throw down, to build, and to plant." (Jeremiah 1:8)

"And the seventh angel sounded; and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever." (Revelation 11:15)

I glanced over and noticed that the digital numbers read 3:54 as I unexpectedly sat up in my bed this past Thursday morning (15 July). I awoke to hear the Lord speaking to me. I remained still and gave ear in a sleepy stupor, while contemplating what I was hearing, until I saw 4:00 registered in red beside my pillow. What I listened to in that 6 minutes was the Spirit of God providing instructions concerning the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. I got up, quickly visited another part of the house, and immediately returned to bed. My thoughts, though, were suddenly alive and sleeping once more would not be easy. And who wants to sleep after the Lord has visited you? For I knew that morning, from what I'd heard, that I was released to share something, held mostly in secret for many years, with others.

It all started in 1987

The year before, 1986, was a pivotal year in my Christian walk. It was the time that I experienced a significant spiritual growth spurt. Being a born-again Believer since 1979, I had steadily grown in faith and word knowledge among my peers, while hitting some speed bumps along the way, and life was mostly quiet and satisfactory. Then I was informed that spring of '86 that my dear mother had terminal cancer. I recall laying hands on her, with others, standing in faith and praying continually for her healing. It didn't happen. She had suffered so and died in early August. I was stunned. My belief system had taken a blow. Like Peter after his fall, for several months I went "fishing."

That November I returned to fellowshipping with the brethren. Being part of a mega-type congregation prior to this, I decided that I needed a smaller church and one closer to home to settle in. My first visit was to a mainline Pentecostal church in Aurora, Colorado. After attending the church on a Sunday service, I went to a mid-week supper for prospective members. Sitting at a table ready to eat, the Lord spoke to me and said, "Plant your roots here." I obeyed without hesitation. It would turn out to be one of the best decisions I would ever make. For my life, from that time forward, would never be the same.

The next six months would find me encountering a whirlwind of blessing and increased service to the Lord. After reading Larry Lea's book "Could You Not Tarry For One Hour," I was determined to be an early morning prayer riser. I soon had a meeting with the pastor of my new church and asked him for a key to the building. I wanted to pray there every weekday morning at 5:00 a.m. He not only complied with my request but set me up with another brother who had a similar desire. Plunging right into it, it would not take long for our tiny two-man band to grow, and within weeks several men of the church (mostly Air Force guys) were regularly stopping off to participate on their way to work at the local base.

It was not long before our early morning group decided to reach out to the community and we began meeting on mid-day Saturdays to do a little street witnessing in downtown Denver after prayer. We quickly discovered that if we met the needs of the homeless, they would be more susceptible to hearing our message. Thus, we started to gather earlier to prepare sack lunches to give out at night. This work grew to the point that it was becoming a large operation, taking a good portion of our time to prepare the food. Several weeks into this, we had yet, though, led anyone into the Kingdom. One late afternoon, a friend of mine and I, before leaving our car, asked the Lord in faith as touching in agreement to give us one soul. He would that evening give us two. The next week, we repeated the same prayer, but this time we were bolder and asked for two. He gave us four.

Oh, what gloriously innocent times they were. I was so happy and fulfilled during that brief period. It did seem that the windows of heaven were open just for us. For example, during one prayer I asked the Lord to open the door for me to preach. I had never done so before then, but there was a burning in my heart to share the gospel from the pulpit. That's amazing for someone who grew up absolutely terrified of public speaking. Being home on one particular (very late) Saturday evening, a brother from the church called me and said, "Gary, I can't preach at the nursing home tomorrow morning. Would you mind standing in for me?" I replied, "Would I?" I jumped at the opportunity. God had answered my prayer quickly and I was so thankful.

The nursing home visit went well and I arrived at Sunday morning service back at my church just in time for the sermon. The Pastor saw me, and as I sat down in the back of the congregation, he said, "Gary, would you come up here please?" A bit puzzled, I obediently walked up to the front and took a chair behind the Pastor who was standing at the pulpit. A few minutes later, the Pastor suddenly made the following announcement: "Gary has been hearing some incredible things from the Lord recently. I would like for him to take this opportunity to tell you about some of them." So, there I was, not just preaching once per my request but twice in the same day! Hence, may I submit that early morning intercession does bear fruit, my friends? I know it does. And my Lord proved Himself to me to be the God of the double blessing.

The Trip to Saudi Arabia

Yes, I could have lived that life in Colorado forever. Then the unexpected happened. I received a military assignment to Saudi Arabia. I was informed that I had to be in "The Kingdom" by April. Being young in the Lord, I profusely complained before God with arguments like, "Lord, after what I went through with my mother, how could you do this to me? You've blessed me so much in that church. You even planted me there. How could this be?" And yet it was.

I vividly remember sitting on a small bed in a Guest-House near the eastern shore of the Persian Gulf the first night of my arrival. Sweating in my inappropriately warm apparel, the oppressive humid heat of the area permeated the unimpressive white room. It smelled. The prospects of spending one entire year away from home, family and church in the hottest of deserts was constantly in my thoughts. I recall speaking my mind out loud: "God, I can't do this. I'm not as strong as you think I am. This will tear me apart." And then He spoke.

"Gary, your government believes they are the ones that brought you here, but I did it. First, you have been sent here to pray for these people. I have remembered the prayers of my friend Abraham and I want you to pray in agreement that I would rise up a great nation, as promised, out of his son Ishmael. I am calling you to ask me that the kingdom of Saudi Arabia would be considered a sheep nation in the soon-to-come judgment of the nations.

Next, I have taken you from your home and blessings and brought you here that I may have the opportunity to answer some of your prayers. There are things that you have asked for that can only be given to those who have the obtained the promise of the 100-fold return. Since you have, with this assignment, voluntarily* left everything for the sake of my Kingdom, you now qualify.

Finally, you are to read a chapter of the Bible every day from now on, starting with the book of Matthew."

(*I could have, with some effort, used a legitimate family medical excuse for a way out of the 1-year assignment.)

Starting off, I noticed something dramatically had changed when I read that first chapter. Inspiration was flooding me. The Bible became alive before my eyes. I understood small and great things that I had never seen before. I had surely encountered a great change. Even the genealogy of the first chapter seemed special. I soon found out that the 100-fold promise was indeed true:

"Then Peter began to say unto him, Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee. And Jesus answered and said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that has left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands, for my sake, and the gospel's, But he shall receive an hundredfold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with persecutions; and in the world to come eternal life. But many that are first shall be last; and the last first." (Mark 10:29-31)

Hearing from the Lord like never before, I fulfilled my year in Saudi Arabia and returned to the States in April of 1988. While away, I prayed as the Lord asked me to. I still have an image of me standing in a field late at night and praying for all the countries surrounding the "Kingdom." And, yes, I did address the Prince of Persia and other evil entities in that region. But, in retrospect, I know now that the fight had just begun.

Ten years later

On October 3rd, 1997, during a time of intercession for Saudi Arabia, I had an open vision and spoke to the Lord Jesus in it. I saw Him in white robes standing to the side facing me while addressing three other men. These men stood before the Lord with their backs to me wearing the same apparel. Suddenly, He quit talking to them and, looking at me, said:

"Do you want them?" I replied, "Want who, Lord?" He said, "Do you want the people that you are praying for?" I countered, "Yes, Lord." Then He said, "Then they are yours."

Immediately as He spoke, a verse came to my remembrance and I knew that I had used it in prayer for the Saudis before:

"Ask of me, and I shall give you the heathen for your inheritance, and the uttermost parts of the earth for your possession." (Psalm 2:8)

I know that this Scripture is a Messianic promise to Jesus, yet because we, His people, are joint heirs with Him as partakers of His inheritance, it applies to us too.

Again, He spoke further to me: "And on the Day of Judgment you will stand in my courts as an advocate for them." I responded with an honest, logical question, "Lord, I thought you were their Advocate?" He replied, "It's true that I am their Advocate now, but on that Day I won't be. On that Day I will be their Judge." I thought, "Of course, it is He who judges all the nations (Matthew 25:31-33)."

Then in the vision I heard another voice making a statement confirming what I had just heard. It must have been the Holy Spirit. Please listen to what I heard because, friends, it's vitally important. If you don't think that time is counting down to the end, maybe this will finally get your attention:

"No one prepares for court, and puts its main players in place, unless they are getting close to the Day that it begins."

What I heard during those early morning minutes

I believe that there are prayer warriors around the world who will read this, heed it and run with it. Some folks are just itching for strategic information that will give them the inside track in their fervent intercessions. I sense that there are Saints in Israel right now and around the Middle East that will fully understand the principles that I'm writing about and, with child-like belief, will hook up with me in the prayer of agreement for Saudi Arabia. I believe there are also representatives of God in Washington D.C. who might want to make another prayer journey around the Saudi Embassy in light of the information that is being provided.

Please hear me out - Saudi Arabia is the key for Christians who are taking a stand against Islam. The reason for this is because Saudi Arabia represents the core of Islam. It's the birthplace of that religion. In the closed society it represents, it's where its law of the religion is centered. Even the two "holy" cities (Mecca and Medina) are located there. Note that it's a major part of Islamic doctrine for believers to make a pilgrimage to Saudi Arabia and these cities at least once in their lifetime. Subsequently, if you are passionately serious about taking power over the greatest power of the enemy in our era (Islam), then your attention should be turned toward addressing the "Kingdom." So, while the physical armies of the world busy themselves with the peripheral Islamic nations, Christian Believers should direct their speaking to Saudi fig trees and set their prayers on affecting the headquarters.

In our first text, we see that those endowed with the ruling Spirit of Jeremiah will destroy before they build:

"See, I have this day set thee over the nations and over the kingdoms to root out, and to pull down, and to destroy, and to throw down, to build, and to plant." (Jeremiah 1:8)

The Lord's people with a true calling to be set over the nations and "kingdoms" will function in the following God-given order:

They will first:
1 – Root out
2 – Pull down
3 – Destroy
4 – and Throw down
And then they will:
5 – Build
6 – and Plant

That 6-fold operation was revealed as a result of that early morning 6 minutes. In our case, modern-day Islam must be spiritually rooted out, pulled down, destroyed and thrown down before we can later build and plant with the real gospel of Jesus Christ. In case you think that specific calling of death first and life second pertains only to Jeremiah in the Old Testament, may I remind you what it says in the New Testament book of Revelation?

"And he that overcomes, and keeps my works unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations: And he shall rule them with a rod of iron; as the vessel of a potter shall they be broken to shivers; even as I received of my Father." (Revelation 2:26-27)

In our second text, anyone standing in the gap for that nation can have a sound assurance that any "kingdom" existing on the earth at the time of the Lord's return is destined to become His:

"And the seventh angel sounded; and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever." (Revelation 11:15)

It appears to me that the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia has a certain destiny, doesn't it?

Let's go back to those 6 minutes. The first thing I heard that morning was the name Nebuchadnezzar. With this, I was reminded of the fact that the book of Daniel and the book of Revelation are parallels. Daniel is to the Old Covenant as Revelation is to the New Covenant. Also, the prophet Daniel is to the Old as the apostle John is to the New. Both were identified as being loved by the Lord (Daniel 10:11, John 21:20). Both miraculously escaped martyrdom when placed in great peril. Both received the greatest documented insights into the future through divine visitations.

I heard the Lord say: "There can be a Nebuchadnezzar in the New Covenant just like there was in the Old."

Now, Nebuchadnezzar was a heathen Babylonian King who ruled over Jerusalem during Israel's years of captivity. One of his enforced servants was a young Jewish man named Daniel. In those days, the King kept an entourage of magicians, astrologers and sorcerers around to give him advice. Daniel and his friends, being wise and having a relationship with the one true God, were proven more reliable than the King's worldly advisors. Because Daniel could interpret the King's dreams, and no one else could, Nebuchadnezzar paid homage to Daniel's God and gave the prophet a high position in his kingdom (Daniel 2:46-49).

How does this apply to modern Saudi Arabia? I believe the Lord was showing me that Christians could ask Him to visit a political head in the Middle East with troubling dreams (possibly a leader in the Saudi royal family?) that only a man of God would be able to interpret. Understand that God is a God of consistency and patterns; if He did something in the Old Covenant, chances are real good that He'll do it again in the New Covenant. He did it in Daniel's time (the age of the Jews); may He do it now in John's era (the time of the Gentiles). Besides that, He's now spoken to me about this twice (once before in a dream I had several years ago that I thought would make a good script).

In addition to what has already been given, there are 2 very good reasons that we can believe for a breakthrough in this Islamic country. They are:

1 – Through the English-speaking militaries and 3rd World nationals (there are multiplied thousands of them in the Kingdom), many Christians have entered into this land, and prayed over it and walked upon it. Some have even shed their blood there. A few of them while living there, such as myself, have invoked the promise once given to Joshua. That is:

"Every place that the sole of your foot shall tread upon, that have I given unto you, as I said to Moses." (Joshua 1:3)

2 – As mentioned before, the Lord has given us a verse to stand on (Psalm 2:8). Therefore, being joint-heirs with Jesus we have a right to "ask" for the nations and its people. The question is, "Do we have the faith to believe what Scripture unwavering says; that is, 'Everyone who asks receives'?"

Additionally, you know it's His will that none should perish but all should be saved and come to a knowledge of the truth. Can we believe together that God can change the direction of one country? If He can zap Saul on the road to Damascus, He can surely visit any King in this world and speak to them. Have you ever asked the Lord Jesus to do this? Have you requested that He make visitations to the people of a country?

Surely, this will not be an easy fight. The fruit may not be apparent for awhile. If you enter into it, you may have to keep plugging away until Jesus returns. And that might take years.

Babylon now comes into the equation

"And he cried mightily with a loud voice, saying, Babylon is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird.' (Revelation 18:2)

With the introduction of Nebuchadnezzar (who, by the way, saw the destruction of 4 worldly kingdoms when the Lord's kingdom arrived – Daniel 2:44) also comes the reality of Babylon in today's society. If you have read my recent offering "Countdown to October," then you know that several years ago God gave my wife and I 7 cities to pray over. The last four (who were initially grouped together) are:

4 – Los Angeles
5 – Moscow
6 – New York City
7 – Rome

He once spoke through me and said that Los Angeles was the world's greatest social polluter, that Moscow as the world's greatest militaristic polluter, that New York City was the world's greatest economic polluter, and, finally, that Rome was the world's greatest religious polluter.

My friends, I make the following comments with all humility and the fear of the Lord. I believe that God has shown me that each of these four cities listed has a fate to be severely judged as representatives of modern-day Babylon. Therefore, do you want to see what the Lord has to say about religious Babylon (Rome)? Then read the 17th chapter of Revelation. Do you desire to understand what the Lord says about economic Babylon (New York City)? Then read the 18th chapter of Revelation. And what do Los Angeles and Moscow represent? They are today's pictures of social and military Babylon. And the evil infested Babylon will fall, will fall, for the mouth of the Lord has spoken it.

Don't be mad at me. I love America, my home, too. And I love her enough to shake myself and start yelling, "Turn from this great sin even now!" The alarm of impending judgment is now sounding in God's Holy Mountain. Will you be among those who hear it and act upon it?

The rest of my hearing that morning concerned the unveiling of this story and how others could join in the stand for a particular Islamic state to turn to Jesus. I once had a vision of the country of Saudi Arabia with the name Jesus written in red covering it. May you have the eyes to see the same. I'm fully aware of what some members of Saudi Arabia have done in an evil way. Still, I believe the pieces are in place for a great "awakening." The nations of the earth will eventually cry out when they see the sign of the Son of man in the sky (Matthew 24:30). May the mourning that Saudi Arabia experiences that day be of repentance. May God have the ultimate mercy on the descendants of Abraham's oldest. May God remember Abraham once more.

Urban Warrior
William Coleman

<soldierofgolgotha@usa.net>

The Lord is in His "Preparation Mode". This is the time in which He prunes those who are dissatisfied with themselves (they have finally come to grips with His reality), the church (they now realize that the church is a Kingdom instrument), and the world (they have tasted its water and found it lifeless, bitter). The process of pruning requires that we go back to the "altar", for it is at the altar, (the place of death; the altar of total surrender), that we find life. John 12:23-26; Phil. 3:7-9.

When death to all is accomplished, we move into the realm of Christ's destiny. It is here that we will be "used" of God. This "used" is literal (Matt 5:11-12; Mark 9:35). It will entail the "fellowship of His sufferings" (Phil 3:10-11), the fleshly, painful conforming to the image of Christ. For those who wish to "walk with Him in the cool of the day" we must allow Him to place us in His reality, the place where His presence saturates us; the baptism of fire; the purging of all that separated us from Him. This is necessary. It cannot be bypassed.... We must burn in His Holy Fire!

When we come from the furnace of Holy Fire, the characteristics that He places in us become manifest in our hearts. The "fruit" of the Spirit (our character) will blend with the gifts or as the original Greek says, "spirituals", and cause the "new man" to break forth. This new man is generic; male and female; "man and womb-man" (Gen. 5:2). This will be the "Urban Warrior", the "last-day soldier of the cross", the "Sons of Zadok" (Ezek. 44) of the "third-day church." With prayer, intercession, worship, and the Word and Spirit, they will by God's power do Jeremiah 1:10: See, I have this day set you over the nations and over the kingdoms, to root out and to pull down, to destroy and to throw down, to build and to plant.

Mercy will be their mantle; and in God's mercy (judgment flows through mercy) they will be like the army of Joel 2. These are the ones being prepared for the last-day battle....I will show the revelation of these characteristics later; each one speaks volumes of what the Lord is about to do. Thank you, Lord, for raising up your people in this hour. Forgive us for trying to figure out what you are doing; and forgive us for our unbelief and complaining. We now realize that the valley always leads to the mountaintop! We praise you, Lord, for the valley!

The Lord is in His "Preparation Mode". This is the pruning of separation for those who have entered the realm of "Kingdom Reality", the place of death to all that is not of His will and eternal purpose. It is the altar of total surrender, where the Holy Spirit gives His death blow, that baptism of fire which coincides with the "baptism in the Holy Ghost (Luke 3:16), to make us into the image of the eternal Son; for as the "sons of Levi" were "refined" (Mal. 3:3), so must the new priesthood (1 Peter 3:9) be placed in position to receive the DNA (divine navigational attributes) of the one whose "eyes are as a flame of fire" (Rev. 1:14).

This refining process is painful to the flesh and the mind because it separates life from death, confusion from peace (Rom. 8:6). The world in which we now live embodies death and confusion; fleshly history, not HIS-STORY. Therefore, the Lord, even Jesus, is searching the hearts of men and women of whom He can put His Spirit at the level He has always wanted:

"He breathed on them and said to them, "receive ye the Holy Ghost (John 20:22). The breath of God", breathing His life into us...this has always been His purpose. Here His character traits become our hearts desire, not because of what we can do with them, but what He can do in us through them. These are the "fruits of the spirit", which will be the "calling card" of the URBAN WARRIOR, the last day soldier of the cross; the "SONS OF ZADOK', who will be used as the third day enforcers of all that is truth: "they will teach the people the difference between the Holy and profane, the Clean and the unclean (Ezek. 44:23. They will minister to the Lord and not to men, but by ministering to the Lord, they will liberate men (John 8:32).

There are 12 characteristics that will identify the Urban Warrior. The number 12 in scripture signifies Divine Government, Apostolic fullness. This will be manifested in the DNA of the Urban Warrior. Gods plan, His architecture (Ex. 25:9), His rule (Isa.9:7), will be paramount to all the warrior is and does, as will the apostolic fullness of the "sent one", who eats Ephesians 2:20. Mercy, divine mercy will be embedded into their hearts; they shall see as Jesus sees, hear as He hears, do as He would do (I only do what I see the father do) John 5:19).

Each characteristic will be learned in the "school of Jesus", at the "Altar of Total Surrender". This is the "wilderness" the place of barrenness, where we learn John 15:5, and are placed into its reality. The Altar is a place of death. The last day "altar call" calls us to die (John 12:24), because we have been programmed by the flesh, the world, and the devil to live according to the rudiments of this world. To those who have tasted the "sweetness of the Lord", this world is "marah", bitter, and the "woe" of Isaiah 5:20 presses down upon us: It is the Holy Spirit who cries out to us, "How long halt ye between two opinions" (1 Kings 18:21) I am reminded of the lyrics of a rock song by Jimi Hendrix in the 1960's: "Manic depression has captured my soul I know what I want but I just don't know How to go about getting it......"

But we "Know", if we realize that knowing (Gen. 4:1) means intimacy with Christ, where we give birth to the eternal purposes of God. Depression comes when we fail to allow the Holy Spirit to "press us". He "must press"!! Press out "our" thoughts, press out "our" hopes, press out our lusts. He desires to replace de-pression with His ex-pression (John 16:13-15) When Psalm 119:71 becomes our "love song", and we relish in its power to us-ward, we have allowed Him to press. PRESS US HOLY GHOST!

THE 12 CHARACTERISTICS of the Urban Warrior are: 1. UNSELFISH ABSOLUTE SURRENDER LK. 22:42; JOHN 4:34 2. COMMITTED ABSOLUTE LOYALTY PHIL. 3:8-11 3. DEVOTED IN LOVE WITH Jesus JOHN 16:27 (A SHULAMITE) 4. KINGDOM-MINDED HIS RULE REV. 11:5 5. FREE BY THE SON JOHN 8:36;COL. 3:11 6. FAITHFUL SOLD-OUT PHILIPPIANS 1:21 7. STEADFAST PERSEVERING 1 COR. 15:58 8. PROGRESSIVE FROM FAITH TO MORE FAITH HEB. 6:5 9. WAR-LIKE LIKE THE FATHER EX. 15:3; JER. 51:20 10. AGGRESSIVE TRUE MERCY REV. 3:12 11. POWERFUL HIS DUNAMIS REV. 2:26 12. DANGEROUS CHRIST IN US JOHN 14:30b

Each characteristic is bolstered by the 9 "fruits of the Spirit", because for the Urban Warrior the fruits will come first, then the gifts (1 Cor. 12); for without Gods character in our hearts the gifts become tools for self promotion. All 12 will be sustained by "fervent prayer", prayer that assaults heaven; FULL ARMOR PRAYER. The warrior will be shaped by "worship", the "HOLY, HOLY, HOLY worship of REVELATION 4:8. Fasting will come naturally for food will have its true meaning made understandable (John 4:32,34). None of these things will smell of "works", it will be lifestyle! Lifestyle made possible by communion with Christ. Lifestyle birthed in the splendor of His presence (Ex.34:29) no veil needed or desired!

We will look at these characteristics in detail later. There is a pattern to each, and that pattern is what we, the hungry, have been searching for. It has always been one prayer away!

FATHER, WE NOW REALIZE THAT ALL WE HAVE GONE THROUGH WAS YOUR RESPONSE TO OUR FAILURE TO "SEE YOU" WE SEE YOU BETTER NOW (MARK 8:24) AND WE CLAIM 1 COR, 2:9 AS OUR REALITY. FROM THIS DAY ON WE WILL NOT COMPLAIN, BUT BECOME JAMES 1:1-3. WE ARE EXCITED LORD. WE SHOUT "LETS GO"!

Vindication '4' America Yom Kippur 2004
Mahesh and Bonnie Chavda

On Yom Kippur 2004, Dr. Bonnie Chavda received a visitation from the Lord. Some impressions she received during that visit are recorded here for your encouragement.

19 We hoped for peace but no good has come, for a time of healing but there is only terror. 20 O LORD, we acknowledge our wickedness and the guilt of our fathers; we have indeed sinned against you. 21 For the sake of your name do not despise us; do not dishonor your glorious throne. Remember your covenant with us and do not break it... our hope is in you! - Jeremiah 14: 19-21

Yom Kippur 2004 "Vindication 4 America"

In Jewish tradition, heaven comes to earth on Sabbat so we may enter God's rest. This day, 9-25-04, was a double holy day with Sabbath and Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement, both occurring together. We feel this Yom Kippur encounter indicated significance and holiness of THE DAY coinciding with current events in the nations, especially for America. We sense a dramatic shift in the heavens that is affecting things on the earth. The clash of kingdoms, power against power, has become clearer than ever. The saints of God should take courage and run toward destiny as never before. God has opened heaven and has come to accelerate His finished work. We have included the impressions received on Yom Kippur 2004 with our thoughts and insights. We hope you will be encouraged.

On the eve of Yom Kippur, Bonnie traveled to attend the wedding of a minister's daughter. The girl has come out of some years "in the wilderness." As she became a bride, a double portion of the Spirit has fallen on her. During the flight, Bonnie sat next to a man whose small daughter suffers from an auto immune disease similar to the one that threatened our son Aaron. Also on the plane happened to be the twin brother of the surgeon who had performed the first operation on the sick child. The mother of the child has been forced to stay home to care for her and has turned her skills to making jewelry for bridal parties. This turned out to be a divine encounter and time of ministry. The aspects of this encounter were more than circumstantial.

Renewing the Heart of America

As the day of the wedding dawned, Bonnie awoke to a vision of the head of a "festive" ram. This ram was mature with thick wool and strong curling horns. Genesis 22:12-14: "Then Abraham lifted his eyes and looked, and there behind him was a ram caught in a thicket by its horns. So Abraham went and took the ram, and offered it up for a burnt offering instead of his son. And Abraham called the name of the place, The-LORD-Will-Provide; as it is said to this day, 'In the Mount of the LORD it shall be provided.'" Jehovah Jireh was in the visitation. This is His promise to America. God wants to renew the heart of America. Expect Him to keep His promises. This is the second time we have heard this same word for the nation, The first time was during the early days of battle in Iraq. "And the Angel of the Lord called to Abraham a second time out of heaven, 'By Myself I have sworn because you have not withheld your only son, in blessing I will bless you and in multiplying I will multiply you.'" The war on terror is an indication of the revelation of John wherein "the earth helped the woman" and swallowed the flood from the serpent's mouth directed to take away Israel. God is reasserting that America's part, including her first impulse towards war in Afghanistan, although it has cost us our most precious treasure, our sons and daughters, besides our reputation and economic resources; is unfolding His purposes in many nations and unveiling the works of darkness on many levels. America is His servant. This is not an unrighteous thing we have done. We must support and encourage our land, and Christians play a vital role. Aaron and Hur held up the hands of Moses to secure victory over Amalek. We must do our part, in prayer and fasting, for our troops and our nation to have success. An aspect of the President's determination that sets him in derision is the unction of the Lord upon him. God has found, in George Bush, a man He can move to actions that are pleasing to God. He is like the oxen driven by the Spirit to carry the ark to Jerusalem. With their calves in stalls behind them, lowing as they went, they could not but cooperate with the Presence and purpose of the Lord.

Bonnie saw "a SECOND sacrifice." This one was different in nature and appearance from the first, though it was the same species. The second sacrifice was the body of a lamb as described in the law for Passover—young, perfect, ready to be slain. Jesus was in the lamb. "The-Lord-Will-Provide." Expect this nation's well-being and prosperity, and the peace of her individual citizens to be carried in the Lord's sacrifice on Calvary. SECONDS are flowering everywhere. Isaiah 11:11, "I will set My hand again a second time to recover the remnant of My people." Expect a repeat of many events we have experienced the past three or four years.

"A SACRIFICE IN BOZRAH."
The Lord was clad in robes of holy zeal. The edges of His robe were heavy and wet with the blood of His enemies, and He is not finished. America is among His promised ones. He views her as part of His bridal procession. God will defend her against the enemies of Israel and others who rise against her. Her prophets should guard their hearts and measure their words at this time. If God is for us His servants should take note as well. Isaiah 34:5-8 "For My sword will be bathed in heaven. The sword of the LORD is filled with blood, it is made overflowing with fatness, with the blood of lambs and goats, with the fat of the kidneys of rams. For the LORD has a sacrifice in Bozrah, and a great slaughter in the land of Edom. For it is the day of the Lord's vengeance, the year of recompense for the cause of Zion." It is important to note that Bozrah was the chief city of Edom. Its inhabitants were descendants of rebel Esau; a man with a crooked spirit who sold his birthright for a meal. Indicating Messianic victory, Bozrah was initially the place of betrayal. The actions of Bozrah's people were very similar to the violent insurgency against our troops in Iraq. Edom was almost always Israel's enemy. They rejoiced at the fall of Jerusalem. Bozrah represents nations hostile to God and His plans. Bozrah represents the pride of evil agendas. Many nations surrounding Israel are laboring under this curse. This perspective sheds light on current events and signals a warning to those who oppose the Lord.

The name ELAZAR appeared. Elazar was Abraham's servant who went to find Isaac's bride. He indicates bridal preparation. El-azar, God (is) help, is a type of the Holy Spirit. Elazar found Rebecca in present-day Iraq where our troops are now.[1] Rebecca offered drink to the stranger at the well and went beyond that to water his camels also. Her first impulse was the right one. It was the test by which she was chosen for God. Her choice sealed her destiny. America has done the same. A stay of judgments and a revival of America's covenant with God is earned in this. Our spiritual destiny has brightened again. It's not because we are good - it's because we were chosen for this in former times. Expect God to bring us up out of the so-called mire. Our role in the war on terror will prove a deciding factor of fate and fulfillment in God's purpose as a nation and determine global atmosphere. We have come to the kingdom for such a time as this.

God is On the Move

Scenes of the bride whose wedding Bonnie would attend that day came to her. Though she had not seen the bride, her dress or other attire, nor had anyone described them, the images she saw turned out to be what the bride wore that afternoon and evening. These things, like the man on the plane, were more confirmation. Rebecca of old offered the stranger a drink from her jar and furthermore drew water for Elazar's ten camels. America's response to 911 and subsequent actions in the region are not unlike Rebecca at the well. Her first response was right, though all convention opposed it. This war is not just about Israel or deliverance for the oppressed. It is not retaliation for 911. It is the right response to a spiritual wake up call. This is a spiritual war, perhaps the first of global proportion. Regardless of what nations think or plan, God is on the move according to His own purpose. God had ancient unfinished business with the land of Abraham. This is part of the reason our sacrifice is so precious to Him. In Iraq, Jewish exiles were held prisoner. Ancient Iraq was also the place of captivity for the vessels stolen from the Temple. The ravaging of Iraq's national treasures was in type, vengeance for the former ransacking of God's temple. The rampant hostage situation is a manifestation of a spiritual prince of the power of the air over the region. Expect it to be "copied" elsewhere. The spiritual powers over the region are deep darkness. In all this, do not forget: Iraq is the land where Ezekiel saw the glory of the Lord!

Rebecca came to Isaac at Beer Lahai Roi, the well where God visited Hagar, and she knew Him as The-One-Who-Lives-and Sees-Me. Genesis 16:13, "Then she called the name of the LORD who spoke to her, You-Are-the-God-Who-Sees; for she said, 'Have I also here seen Him who sees me?"" In her distress, God made a covenant concerning Ishmael, though he was not the promised son. The literal name is Well of the Living (One) My Seer. This has many implications. Living water is being poured out for DIVINE ENCOUNTERS, SUPERNATURAL KNOWLEDGE AND SIGNS AND WONDERS. The gifts of the Spirit for supernaturally anointed evangelism by words of knowledge, dreams, visions and personal encounters with God is upon us. Jesus said in John 7:37 "Anyone who is thirsty let him come to me and drink." Expect women, backsliders, and sinners to be especially touched in this outpouring. You will meet persons just as Jesus met the Samaritan woman at the well. Our steps will be ordered by the Lord. You will plan to go a certain way at a certain time and circumstances will take you another way for these encounters and ministry. There will be a dramatic increase of supernatural appearances of Christ occurring among the sons of Ishmael, the Arab nations and throughout the Muslim world; with new power coming on those reaching out in evangelism. The opposition will be as violent as the beheadings we have seen in recent times. Martyrdom may accompany this outpouring and harvest.

10 Days of Awe

The number 10 of the servant's camels, and the 10 days which Laban asked Rebecca to stay longer, remind us of the 10 Days of Awe; a time of repentance and return just prior to Yom Kippur. On the Day of Atonement, judgment takes place at the mercy seat in the Holy of Holies. There in heaven, our High Priest, Jesus, has offered His blood. The Lord says, "I will meet you there," between the cherubim, at the bema, between mercy and judgment. Expect mercy rather than judgment in the immediate season. Expect God to meet our nation and extend His mercy in these days.

"The (name) chosen for this one (camel) is WAR." The camels of God are coming.[2] They are visitations -- contractions to bring Christ's appearing. The Holy Spirit directs them. God's bride will water them. Not all of them will be so difficult as "WAR." Expect spiritual revival for three years, especially igniting the 30 and younger set. Focus on colleges and a revival of patriotism. The last camel to come is named "Persecution." That camel will carry Rebecca home.

"JOSEPH IS STILL ALIVE."

The favor of God is still on George Bush. "You prepare a table before me in the presence of my enemies; You anoint my head with oil; My cup runs over." Psalm 23:5. "And they told him, saying, 'Joseph is still alive, and he is governor over all the land of Egypt.' And Jacob's heart stood still, because he did not believe them. But when they told him all the words which Joseph had said to them, and when he saw the carts which Joseph had sent to carry him, the spirit of Jacob their father revived." Genesis 45:26, 27. The former prophecies about the burning bush are still true. A second term will invigorate Israel while infuriating many enemies. In the Inaugural Watch of 2000, we received a word from Genesis 45:5-8 about the President as a Joseph in our time. For seven years of famine there are three aspects of promise: Joseph was anointed to preserve posterity, provide food for his house and the nations, and save lives by a great deliverance. Seven years from 9/11 would include a second term. Expect intervention regarding abortion, provision and recovery in economic downturn, wisdom and success in the war on terror. We see Exodus 3:2, Burning Bush II, again. Look for a "domino effect" in the Senate, the Supreme Court and other institutions in connection with this administration. God has chosen the Psalm 15 man to sit in His holy hill.

"THE PERFECT STORM."

Hurricanes, various storms and natural disasters are interrelated with heavenly activity. They reveal the clash of kingdoms. "Beer Lai Roi, observe it is between Kadesh (a sanctum) and Bered (hail)." The evil determination of the prince of the power of the air and the righteous acts of the saints in prayer and fasting are colliding. For inhabitants of the earth caught between the two, expect it to be very violent. In this clash of kingdoms, visitation is coming on American Jewry. The "Living (One) My Seer" is knocking on the doors of many. Suddenly, many will see Him just as Hagar did.

"NOW I WILL ARISE."

The Lord will fight for Jerusalem this year. Isaiah 33:17-19, "Your eyes will see the King in His beauty; they will see the land that is very far off. Your heart will meditate on terror: 'Where is the scribe? Where is he who weighs? Where is he who counts the towers?' You will not see a fierce people, a people of obscure speech, beyond perception, of a stammering tongue that you cannot understand." The word comes from a root meaning to have intelligence; separate, be cunning, discern. Expect new grace regarding national intelligence against terror. Isaiah 33:10, 20, 35 "'Now I will arise,' says the Lord; 'Now I will be exalted, now I will lift Myself up. Look upon Zion, the city of our appointed feasts; Your eyes will see Jerusalem, a quiet home, a tabernacle that will not be taken down; not one of its stakes will ever be removed, nor will any of its cords be broken. For I will defend this city to save it for my own sake and for My servant David's sake.'"

Expect Lebanon and Syria, their armies including Hamas and Hezbollah, to be hobbled as a horse limited in battle. Isaiah 14:24-27 "The Lord of hosts has sworn saying, 'Surely as I have thought, so it shall come to pass. And as I have purposed, so it shall stand: That I will break the Assyrian in My land, and on My mountains tread him underfoot. Then His yoke will be removed from them. And his burden removed from their shoulders. This is the purpose that is purposed against the whole earth. And this is the hand that is stretched out over all the nations. For the Lord of hosts has purposed, and who will annul it? His hand is stretched out, and who will turn it back?'" Assad will be bridled for a time. Isaiah 14: 33-34 "'Therefore,' thus says the Lord concerning the king of Assyria: 'He shall not come into this city, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with a shield, nor build a siege mound against it. By the way he came, by the same shall he return; and he shall not come into this city.'"[3]

"A posterity shall serve Him."

The Lord is raising up a new generation of servants. They will be fierce young lions. For their sakes, we must choose godly government and righteous leaders who fear the Lord and keep His ways. Psalm 22:30, 31, "A posterity shall serve Him. It will be recounted of the Lord to the next generation, they will come and declare His righteousness to a people who will be born, that He has done this." Expect valiant "young men," a generation of spiritual offspring of men and women in America, in the church, in Israel and the nations, who know their God as Daniels. A revival of spiritual patriotism is advancing.

INCREASE

Expect economic recovery. The personal wealth of believers will be blessed. Isaiah 37:30-32, "This shall be a sign to you: You shall eat this year such as grows of itself, and the second year what springs from the same; Also in the third year sow and reap, Plant vineyards and eat the fruit of them. The remnant who have escaped of the house of Judah shall again take root downward, and shall bear fruit upward. For out of Zion shall go a remnant and those who escape from Mount Zion. The zeal of the Lord of hosts will perform this." The Lord will provide. Genesis 22:14, "And Abraham called the name of the place, The-LORD-Will-Provide; as it is said to this day, 'In the Mount of the LORD it shall be provided.'" Keep your eye on Mt. Moriah this year. Expect the Lord to recover America's economic strength, partially by blessing Bush economics as He blessed Joseph in Egypt, and additionally, as God remembers our sacrifice in war. Genesis 22:16-17, "'By Myself I have sworn,' says the LORD, 'because you have done this thing, and have not withheld your son, your only son—blessing I will bless you, and multiplying I will multiply your descendants as the stars of the heaven and as the sand which is on the seashore; and your descendants shall possess the gate of their enemies.'" America's sons will shine as stars in the night sky.

"The eagle will take its prey." Certain lead terrorists will be taken suddenly. Expect a disruption in the terror hierarchy.[4] Isaiah 31:8-9 "'The Assyrian shall fall by a sword not of man, and a sword not of mankind shall devour him. But he shall flee from the sword, and his young men shall become forced labor. He shall cross over to his stronghold for fear, and his princes shall be afraid of the banner,' says the Lord, 'whose fire is in Zion and whose furnace is in Jerusalem.'"

America's reproach has been rolled away for another year. Our name is inscribed in the book of the living. 2 Chronicles 7:14, "if My people who are called by My name will humble themselves, and pray and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways, then I will hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin and heal their land." The ardent prayers and repentance among the saints in this land have been heard on high.

"YOU HAVE ANSWERED ME."
Psalm 22:21, "Save Me from the lion's mouth and from the horns of the wild oxen! You have answered Me." The prayer and fasting of the saints have reached heaven and God has responded to the earth. Press in to full breakthrough. God promised Abraham "If there are ten righteous" He will save the city. As a people, we are carrying heavy baggage from days in the wilderness and political correctness, but a remnant is on track, nationally and in the church. The sin that clings to our society will be a heavy burden to bear. Expect the fire of division on social issues, and expression of individual rights between former amiable groups. God has begun to separate wheat from chaff. This fire will be uncomfortable for the wicked. Those who have the Spirit of God will be blamed for many things. Former dialogue and cooperation between those in light and those in darkness may turn to rancor. Now is the time for believers to be salt and light.

A wedding feast on the holiest fast day of the year seemed incongruent yet perfectly fitted at the same time. We fasted until the time of the wedding feast. Zechariah prophesied that the "fast of the seventh month (Yom Kippur) shall be joy and gladness and cheerful feasts for the house of Judah." In the fulfillment of Isaiah 4 following the war between God and those nations who oppose Him, a fountain of Living Water is opened in Jerusalem flowing east and west when Sukkot, the Feast of Tabernacles, is celebrated following Yom Kippur. The new Jerusalem is almost ready. She is even at the door. Isaiah 4:5, 6, "Then the LORD will create above every dwelling place of Mount Zion, and above her assemblies, a cloud and smoke by day and the shining of a flaming fire by night. For over all the glory there will be a covering. And there will be a tabernacle for shade in the daytime from the heat, for a place of refuge, and for a shelter from storm and rain."

Isaiah 35:3,4, "Strengthen the weak hands, and make firm the feeble knees. Say to those who are fearful-hearted, 'Be strong, do not fear! Behold, your God will come with vengeance, with the recompense of God; He will come and save you.'"

We encourage believers everywhere to lay hold of these promises and expect Jehovah Jireh to come down. We watch over the coalition nations with our prayers for these blessings as well and invite you to prayerful agreement.

[1] A few days prior to this, Bonnie dreamt that the spirit of America, in the form of a woman, was singing Psalm 40. The Spirit of God has stirred up the ancient spirit of America. She sang, "He has set my feet upon a rock" pronouncing the words as Iraq. The Psalm says, "He has brought me up out of the miry clay."

[2] We mentioned before an open vision of Elazar and his ten camels. Bonnie stepped into the spirit realm to find herself standing on a desert floor that stretched for miles into the night. A man in desert garb came trotting out of the night toward her. It was Abraham's servant Elazar. He led the first camel in a train of ten all tethered together spaced one behind the other. As they passed by she saw they were laden with bundles; burdens, gifts, provisions and tests ordained to prepare and adorn the bride of Christ.

[3] For several years in my spirit I've seen images of an army amassing in the Bekaa Valley and suddenly overflowing the sides of the mountains toward the south and east; like a flurry of cockroaches. We are vigilant in prayer regarding this fifth column of terror.

[4] On September 17, I received an impression of three simultaneous images. What I describe as a "watcher" from the book of Daniel, a heavenly agent wearing an embroidered sash around his waist. The image reminded me of a story told of General Washington during Valley Forge when an angel visited him to show three perils to come. The watcher I saw was holding the severed head of a man by the hair. I thought the image of the man held by the hair to be Zarqawi and beside him two more. The scene changed, and I saw a bright dome over Baghdad city center, particularly the avenue where Saddam erected two giant swords made of enemy fighter helmets cross. I was uncertain if the sudden bright cloud was supernatural or a natural explosion. Now there was only one sword instead of two, turned down as if broken. The scene changed again, and I saw the top of St. Peter's in Rome, and its bells were pealing a good announcement over the surrounding countryside. I reported that I believed I had seen that the two Italian aid workers taken hostage would be released in safety. Three days later the media falsely reported they had been killed. They were later released alive. I expect the rest of the vision to have its fulfillment as well. Evil men who have lived by the sword will reap what they have sown.

Vision And Words Of Prophecy for 2004

Job Anbalagan

gloryofhiscross1@yahoo.co.in

"Greetings to you in Jesus' holy Name. I thank God for bringing you and your family safely to this New Year. God has protected you and your family from dreaded diseases and accidents during the last year. The Holy Spirit has given us the following words of prophecy so that we may prepare ourselves by way of prayers to face any eventuality during the New Year. Please note that we know in part and prophesy in part because the gift of prophecy or the ministry of a prophecy is imperfect (I Cor.13:9-10). However, we should not despise prophesyings (I Thes.5:20).

VISION AND WORDS OF PROPHECY FOR 2004

Destruction and natural calamities will be unprecedented throughout the world. But the people of God who take refuge under the shadow of the Cross will be protected. Evil spirits from the abyss likened to scorpions will be let loose and they will cause incurable diseases to the inhabitants of the world for which there will be no remedy even through the best of medical sciences. But they will not harm those who have the seal of God on their foreheads. God will judge some Christian rulers very severely as they did not heed His Word.

NON-CHRISTIAN NATIONS

In non-Christian nations, there will be upheavals of revivals and the Satan's strongholds in these nations will be shaken and destroyed. Rulers of some Muslim nations will open their doors to the gospel of Christ. Mighty miracles which have never been heard of will be performed by the Holy Ghost in these nations. In India, there will be a great change in the political rule at the Center and this will take those political pundits by surprise who would predict otherwise.

USA AND UK

False prophets and teachers will be on the prowl in every city of USA. But they will be exposed by a new brand of young ministers filled with the power of the Holy Spirit. These young ministers will be persecuted and will be driven away from the churches. But they will stand in the streets and proclaim the truth of the gospel. The waters of Noah which swept the nation of USA on 11th September 2001 will not be repeated. But the terrorists will attack the American and British interests outside USA and UK through novel ways which are not known hitherto.

In USA, the people of God should come together and form prayer cells in their houses because most of the churches will not encourage them to pray in their churches. God will send revivals to these house churches and not to the established and denominational churches. The people of God should pour out their hearts before God for protecting their kith and kin residing outside their nations. Last year i.e. for the year 2003, I was led by the Spirit to make the following prophecy:

“The rulers of the USA and other Christian nations should be all the more vigilant and should seek the intercessory prayers of God’s people in this regard. Their rulers have to seek God sincerely humbling themselves before God more than ever before and to confess that it is only God, who gives them victories on their enemies. Some of their trusted allies will not stand with the USA in their hour of ordeal.”

The word of prophecy - “some of their trusted allies will not stand with the USA in their hour of ordeal” - was literally fulfilled when nations like France, Germany, etc. did not support their war against Iraq.

In the United Kingdom, the revival fire will begin in some of the traditional churches which are today resisting the move of the Holy Spirit in their midst.

OTHER CHRISTIAN NATIONS

The apostasy will take hold most of the churches in these nations, especially Germany. But God will raise a small group of His ministers and these small groups will become strongholds against the kingdom of Satan in these nations. The sin will abound in these nations in an unprecedented manner, inviting the wrath of God on these peoples. Many ministers will be raised up in Canada in the power of the Holy Spirit and they will set the whole nation on revival fire. The ministers in Canada and Australia will take leading roles in global evangelism and revival.

Dearly beloved in Christ, if you happen to live in any of the nations which are not covered by the above words of prophecy, and if you want to seek our words of prophecy for the churches or the people of God in your nation, you can prayerfully e-mail us.

Isaiah 59:1-21 NKJV Separated from God

Behold, the LORD's hand is not shortened, that it cannot save; Nor His ear heavy, that it cannot hear.
2 But your iniquities have separated you from your God; and your sins have hidden His face from you, so that He will not hear.
3 For your hands are defiled with blood, and your fingers with iniquity; Your lips have spoken lies, Your tongue has muttered perversity.
4 No one calls for justice, Nor does any plead for truth. They trust in empty words and speak lies; They conceive evil and bring forth iniquity.
5 They hatch vipers' eggs and weave the spider's web; He who eats of their eggs dies, and from that which is crushed a viper breaks out.
6 Their webs will not become garments, Nor will they cover themselves with their works; Their works are works of iniquity, and the act of violence is in their hands. 7 Their feet run to evil, and they make haste to shed innocent blood; Their thoughts are thoughts of iniquity; Wasting and destruction are in their paths.
8 The way of peace they have not known, and there is no justice in their ways; They have made themselves crooked paths; Whoever takes that way shall not know peace.
9 Sin Confessed - Therefore justice is far from us, nor does righteousness overtake us; We look for light, but there is darkness! For brightness, but we walk in blackness!
10 We grope for the wall like the blind, and we grope as if we had no eyes; We stumble at noonday as at twilight; We are as dead men in desolate places.
11 We all growl like bears, and moan sadly like doves; We look for justice, but there is none; For salvation, but it is far from us.
12 For our transgressions are multiplied before You, and our sins testify against us; For our transgressions are with us, and as for our iniquities, we know them:
13 In transgressing and lying against the LORD, and departing from our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart words of falsehood.
14 Justice is turned back, and righteousness stands afar off; For truth is fallen in the street, and equity cannot enter.
15 So truth fails, and he who departs from evil makes himself a prey.

The Redeemer of Zion

Then the LORD saw it, and it displeased Him That there was no justice.

16 He saw that there was no man, and wondered that there was no intercessor; Therefore His own arm brought salvation for Him; and His own righteousness, it sustained Him.
17 For He put on righteousness as a breastplate, and a helmet of salvation on His head; He put on the garments of vengeance for clothing, and was clad with zeal as a cloak.
18 According to their deeds, accordingly He will repay, Fury to His adversaries, Recompense to His enemies; The coastlands He will fully repay.
19 So shall they fear The name of the LORD from the west, and His glory from the rising of the sun; When the enemy comes in like a flood, the Spirit of the LORD will lift up a standard against him.
20 "The Redeemer will come to Zion, and to those who turn from transgression in Jacob," Says the LORD.
21 "As for Me," says the LORD, "this is My covenant with them: My Spirit who is upon you, and My words which I have put in your mouth, shall not depart from your mouth, nor from the mouth of your descendants, nor from the mouth of your descendants' descendants," says the LORD, "from this time and forevermore."

I wish I could put the photo of the meteorite in this, but I can't, it will be available on the site at www.upstreamca.org under prophecies. But this last week, a meteor went through the roof of a house in Auckland, New Zealand. I sensed as did my fiancée, that there was something prophetic about it, and today I got the confirmation while listening to Ari Lipkin talk about the Black Stone in Mecca. In Mecca is a great black stone and it is foundational to Islam.

Meteorite Smashes Into House
13/06/2004 09:10 PM
Reuters
A grapefruit-sized meteorite has smashed through the roof of a New Zealand house, hitting a couch and bouncing off the ceiling before coming to rest under a computer.
The 1.3 kg (2.9 lb) chunk of space debris dropped out of the sky and plummeted through the tiled roof of the Auckland home on Saturday.
"I was in the kitchen doing breakfast and there was this almighty explosion," owner Brenda Archer told the Sunday Star-Times newspaper.

"It was like a bomb had gone off. I couldn't see anything, there was just dust."
Archer's one-year-old grandson had been playing nearby minutes before it hit.
It is only the ninth meteorite found in New Zealand and the first to hit a home.
The Archers, who are following expert advice by drying the rock out in their oven, plan to sell it or give it to a museum.
Experts believe the meteorite, a chunk of an asteroid, could be worth more than NZ$10,000 (3,500 pounds), the newspaper said.

I got this off an internet site:

"Kaaba (Arabic, "a square building"), Islam's most sacred sanctuary and pilgrimage shrine, is located in the courtyard of the Great Mosque of Mecca. According to the Koran, the cubic-shaped structure was built by Adam according to a divine plan and rebuilt by Abraham and Ishmael. A trough in which they reputedly mixed mortar stands near the door and is a popular place of prayer. The Kaaba houses the Black Stone, the most venerated object for Muslims. Probably of meteoric origin, the stone is reputed to have been given to Ishmael by the angel Gabriel. When Muhammad began to preach to the Meccans, the Kaaba was a shrine for the pagan deities of the Arabs. After the Prophet established control of Mecca, the shrine was rededicated to Allah. All Muslims face toward the Kaaba during their daily prayers.

First application: I believe is that the black rock/meteorite has gone through the roof of a HOUSE. House in dreams often represents the House of the Lord. The corrupt approval of Islam as a "peaceful" religion has entered into the Christian church. The POPE a year or two back KISSED the Koran while visiting one nation. I remember sending out the photo. And the" politically correct" in some of the church have not backed Franklin Graham and others who have told the truth about the Quran and what it teaches about the people of the Book. Or have said NOTHING.

Sura 5:42 says that you cannot be friends with Christians or Jews.

Sura 5:42 O 'Believers'! take not the Jews or Christians as friends. They are but one another's friends, be surely is one of them! God will not guide the evil doers.

Sura 5:62 O ye who believe! Take not such of those who have received the scriptures before you, as scoff and jest at your religion, or the INFIDELS, for your friends, but fear God if ye are believers:

These are familiar scripture to all muslims. It is like saying John 3:16 to a Christian!

"By approving what the LORD does NOT approve of we have made an entrance for the enemy, and the ENMITY has entered into the church.

By nature this spirit is ANTICHRIST! "

Gal 1:8-9 NKJV As we have said before, so now I say again, if anyone preaches any other gospel to you than what you have received, let him be accursed.

Isa 5:20-21 NKJV Woe to those who call evil good, and good evil; Who put darkness for light, and light for darkness; Who put bitter for sweet, and sweet for bitter! 21 Woe to those who are wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight!

Second Application: The second application is that curses coming from Islam are being aimed at EVERY AMERICAN from those you see chanting on the TV in IRAQ and IRAN, Saudi Arabia and the Gaza Strip…HATE and MURDEROUS spirits aimed at all JEWS and ALL CHRISTIANS. You know, the ones jumping up and down and cheering at the death of American Soldiers, or Israeli's they've just killed, holding up the head of a South Korean. The Shiites have threatened the Sunni Royal Family and want all INFIDELS out of their nation!

If you believe the BARAGE of LIES that is coming from people who are saying they are peaceful, you are greatly deluded and have not read the Quran for yourself. It is very enlightening.

Sura 3:52 Verily, Jesus is as Adam in the sight of God. He created him of dust: He then said to him, 'Be'- and he was.

This is blasphemy against JESUS. Jesus Himself said,

Matt 12:30 "He who is not with Me is against Me, and he who does not gather with Me scatters abroad." NKJV

Amplified says it this way… Matt 12:30 He who is not with Me [definitely on My side] is against Me, and he who does not [definitely] gather with Me and for My side scatters.

Sura 5:76-77

76 Infidels now are they who say, 'God is the Messiah, Son of Mary;' for the Messiah said, 'O children of Israel! Worship God, my Lord and your Lord.' Whoever shall join other gods with God, God shall forbid him the Garden, and his abode shall be the Fire; and the wicked shall have no helpers.

77 They surely are INFIDELS who say, ' God is the third of three:' for there is no God but one God; and if they refrain not from what they say, a grievous chastisement shall light on such of them as are Infidels.

Sura 3:79 Whoso desireth any other religion than Islam, that religion shall never be accepted from him, and in the next world he shall be among the lost.

Sura 3:85 As for those who are infidels, and die infidels, from no one of them shall as much gold as the earth could contain be accepted, though he should offer it in ransom.

Sura 8:40 Fight then against them till strife be at an end, and the religion be ALL of it God's. If they desist, verily God beholdeth what they do.

Note that the meteorite landed in the house of people named ARCHER.

An archer is a person who uses a bow and arrow. It is the WARRIORS in the church these curses are being aimed at. Many intercessors are under attack as they are the backbone, the pillars of the church. We need to be wise and as diligent as those who are praying 5 times a day against us! We need to pray for our nations, pray for our leaders, and pray for Christians and Jews.

We need to daily BREAK their curses and PLEAD THE BLOOD OF JESUS over us and our families, over our homes and ministries and nations.

And we need to pray for those in the church who are deluded into thinking they can be friends to ISLAM. Like Ari says, "we need to bring them to Jesus or they will bring us to the SWORD!" Love the person, but do not EMBRACE Islam!

Rev 20:4-6 NKJV The Saints Reign with Christ 1000 Years

And I saw thrones, and they sat on them, and judgment was committed to them. Then I saw the souls of those who had been beheaded for their witness to Jesus and for the word of God, who had not worshiped the beast or his image, and had not received his mark on their foreheads or on their hands. And they lived and reigned with Christ for a thousand years. 5 But the rest of the dead did not live again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection.

6 Blessed and holy is he who has part in the first resurrection. Over such the second death has no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with Him a thousand years.

Isa 1:4-31 AMP

4 Ah, sinful nation, a people loaded with iniquity, offspring of evildoers, sons who deal corruptly! They have forsaken the Lord, they have despised and shown contempt and provoked the Holy one of Israel to anger, they have become utterly estranged (alienated).

5 Why should you be stricken and punished any more [since it brings no correction]? You will revolt more and more. The whole head is sick, and the whole heart is faint (feeble, sick, and nauseated).

6 From the sole of the foot even to the head there is no soundness or health in [the nation's body]--but wounds and bruises and fresh and bleeding stripes; they have not been pressed out and closed up or bound up or softened with oil. [No one has troubled to seek a remedy.]

7 [Because of your detestable disobedience] your country lies desolate, your cities are burned with fire; your land--strangers devour it in your very presence, and it is desolate, as overthrown by aliens.

8 And the Daughter of Zion [Jerusalem] is left like a [deserted] booth in a vineyard, like a lodge in a garden of cucumbers, like a besieged city [spared, but in the midst of desolation].

9 Except the Lord of hosts had left us a very small remnant [of survivors], we should have been like Sodom, and we should have been like Gomorrah. [Gen 19:24,25; Rom 9:29.]

10 Hear [O Jerusalem] the word of the Lord, you rulers or judges of [another] Sodom! Give ear to the law and the teaching of our God, you people of [another] Gomorrah!

11 To what purpose is the multitude of your sacrifices to Me [unless they are the offering of the heart]? says the Lord. I have had enough of the burnt offerings of rams and the fat of fed beasts [without obedience]; and I do not delight in the blood of bulls or of lambs or of he-goats [without righteousness].

12 When you come to appear before Me, who requires of you that your [unholy feet] trample My courts?

13 Bring no more offerings of vanity (emptiness, falsity, vainglory, and futility); [your hollow offering of] incense is an abomination to Me; the New Moons and Sabbaths, the calling of assemblies, I cannot endure--[it is] iniquity and profanation, even the solemn meeting.

14 Your New Moon festivals and your [hypocritical] appointed feasts My soul hates. They are an oppressive burden to Me; I am weary of bearing them.

15 And when you spread forth your hands [in prayer, imploring help], I will hide My eyes from you; even though you make many prayers, I will not hear. Your hands are full of blood!

16 Wash yourselves, make yourselves clean; put away the evil of your doings from before My eyes! Cease to do evil,

17 Learn to do right! Seek justice, relieve the oppressed, and correct the oppressor. Defend the fatherless, plead for the widow.

18 Come now, and let us reason together, says the Lord. Though your sins are like scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they are red like crimson, they shall be like wool.

19 If you are willing and obedient, you shall eat the good of the land;

20 But if you refuse and rebel, you will be devoured by the sword. For the mouth of the Lord has spoken it.

21 How the faithful city has become an [idolatrous] harlot, she who was full of justice! Uprightness and right standing with God [once] lodged in her--but now murderers.

22 Your silver has become dross, your wine is mixed with water.

23 Your princes are rebels and companions of thieves; everyone loves bribes and runs after compensation and rewards. They judge not for the fatherless nor defend them, neither does the cause of the widow come to them [for they delay or turn a deaf ear].

24 Therefore says the Lord, the Lord of hosts, the Mighty one of Israel, Ah, I will appease Myself on My adversaries and avenge Myself on My enemies.

25 And I will bring My hand again upon you and thoroughly purge away your dross [as with lye] and take away all your tin or alloy.

26 And I will restore your judges as at the first, and your counselors as at the beginning; afterward you shall be called the City of Righteousness, the Faithful City.

27 Zion shall be redeemed with justice, and her [returned] converts with righteousness (uprightness and right standing with God).

28 But the crushing and destruction of rebels and sinners shall be together, and they who forsake the Lord shall be consumed.

29 or you will be ashamed [of the folly and degradation] of the oak or terebinth trees in which you found [idolatrous] pleasure, and you will blush with shame for the [idolatrous worship which you practice in the passion-inflaming] gardens which you have chosen.

(Wiccans worship around the oak trees)

30 For you shall be like an oak or terebinth whose leaf withers, and like a garden that has no water.

31 And the strong shall become like tow and become tinder, and his work like a spark, and they shall both burn together, with none to quench them.

The Lord said to me “Lionhearted lovers “, and asking Him what He wanted to say about this, this is what He said :

“ I am drawing to Myself those who will love me with their whole heart, and whole soul, and whole mind and whole body! I am wanting lionhearted lovers who will be passionate in their pursuit of Me, and passionate in their obedience to My will.”

Then this song came to mind, “ When somebody loves you, it’s no good unless they love you, ALLLLL the time!”

“The whole body of My church as well as the nation, are sick from the head to the feet. And the fear of me is not in you. (Jer 2:19) I am visiting My church who is called by My name and I will restore to her all the locusts have eaten. I will restore to those who are willing to BEND to My will, in their hearts, all the ground the enemy has taken in their hearts and souls. I will have a spotless bride! I love you My sons and daughters and I will not allow this lack to go on! I am for you and not against you, but the threshing floors must be purged so that TRUE Shepherds will come forth to minister to My flocks.

I am not slack as some count slack concerning My promises. But the wealth you have been used to in this nation is speedily coming to an end. Be wise in your dealings and understand MY WORD! If you want love, you give love. If you want mercy, then give mercy. Whatever you want men to do to you, then treat them the same. If you were homeless, would you want a can of food, or a warm dinner? If you had no clothes, would you like torn, worn, clothing, or would you like something new for your child, for example? Give as you would like to be given to yourself!

Do not forget the poor, the widow, the fatherless, I've said, yet for years and years you have forgotten them and built your own kingdoms. You have not taken in the poor to your homes, nor have many of you bandaged the wounds of the broken hearted. So I am coming to pour out MY LOVE that you would learn to love the way I have loved you! And to those who have taken time to bandage the wounds of the poor and lowly, the discarded and rejected, and tried to love them, I will give you MORE of all you've received, that you may steward the resources of heaven in the days ahead. For the needs will be great in this nation.

Changes are coming in the nations, and your hearts will be tested beyond anything you have imagined. So I am calling to you, wooing you, I have asked you to draw near, that you might be filled with MY strength and grace to endure what lies ahead. Do not hesitate any longer. Do not be too busy to take time with ME. Any time you spend with ME is NOT WASTED! Believe me when I say that you will be most thankful that you did as the time draws nearer to My coming!

Learn to live simply. Do not think I will not be watching who is generous and who is stingy with the things they have. It is not wrong to have nice things My children, but when the things have you, there is a problem. Lay down your life and pick up MINE! Foxes have holes and birds have nests, but the Son of man had no place to lay his head. Be aware that you may be entertaining angels in the days ahead.

Zech 11:3-6 NKJV

3 There is the sound of wailing shepherds! For their glory is in ruins. There is the sound of roaring lions! For the pride of the Jordan is in ruins.

4 Prophecy of the Shepherds - Thus says the LORD my God, "Feed the flock for slaughter, 5 whose owners slaughter them and feel no guilt; those who sell them say, 'Blessed be the LORD, for I am rich'; and their shepherds do not pity them.

I will take those who are lionhearted lovers of the Most High and will keep them and place them in postitions to feed My flocks and will provide all that is needed to do the work in this hour. But know that what is required more than money is a heart like MINE. People can get through ANYTHING if they know they are loved and truly cared for! The days of giving 5 minutes here and there are gone. FEED MY SHEEP. SEARCH OUT THOSE THAT ARE LOST and scattered on every high hill and mountain, for I am RESTORING the ancient foundations. I will establish MY WILL and I will establish TRUTH again in those who are really Mine. Do not think I desire unity at all costs. TRUTH is the dividing line My beloveds. You must love the truth, and embrace the truth and live the truth! Do not call good evil and evil good any longer.

For now I am coming with My terrible swift sword, and I will level the mountains of opposition to My will and TRUTH will prevail in the hearts of those who truly love Me.

Ex 18:20-22 NKJV Moreover you shall select from all the people able men, such as fear God, men of truth, hating covetousness; and place such over them to be rulers of thousands, rulers of hundreds, rulers of fifties, and rulers of tens. 22 And let them judge the people at all times.

Ps 85:10-12 NKJV Mercy and truth have met together; Righteousness and peace have kissed. 11 Truth shall spring out of the earth, And righteousness shall look down from heaven. 12 Yes, the LORD will give what is good; And our land will yield its increase.

Ps 86:11 NKJV Teach me Your way, O LORD; I will walk in Your truth;

Unite my heart to fear Your name.

Healing will flow like Niagara falls in the day ahead and you will see all your hearts have longed for. Be careful not to take the glory for yourself. You will see astounding miracles and righteousness will be restored to My temples. You will be trees of righteousness and bring much healing to the nations of this earth. It is a time to WORSHIP ME in the beauty of HOLINESS. Proclaim My Word with confidence for it to bring signs and wonders!

Ps 111:1 NKJV Praise the LORD! I will praise the LORD with my whole heart, in the assembly of the upright and in the congregation.

Ps 119:2 NKJV Blessed are those who keep His testimonies, who seek Him with the whole heart!

Ps 9:1-5 NKJV Prayer and Thanksgiving for the LORD's Righteous Judgments - I will praise You, O LORD, with my whole heart; I will tell of all Your marvelous works. 2 I will be glad and rejoice in You; I will sing praise to Your name, O Most High. 3 When my enemies turn back, they shall fall and perish at Your presence. 4 For You have maintained my right and my cause; You sat on the throne judging in righteousness. 5 You have rebuked the nations, You have destroyed the wicked; You have blotted out their name forever and ever.

Ps 119:58-64 NKJV I entreated Your favor with my whole heart; Be merciful to me according to Your word. 59 I thought about my ways, And turned my feet to Your testimonies. 60 I made haste, and did not delay To keep Your commandments. 61 The cords of the wicked have bound me, But I have not forgotten Your law. 62 At midnight I will rise to give thanks to You, Because of Your righteous judgments. 63 I am a companion of all who fear You, And of those who keep Your precepts. 64 The earth, O LORD, is full of Your mercy; Teach me Your statutes.

Ps 119:69 NKJV The proud have forged a lie against me, but I will keep Your precepts with my whole heart.

Ps 119:145-150 NKJV I cry out with my whole heart; Hear me, O LORD! I will keep Your statutes. 146 I cry out to You; Save me, and I will keep Your testimonies. 147 I rise before the dawning of the morning, and cry for help; I hope in Your word. 148 My eyes are awake through the night watches, That I may meditate on Your word. 149 Hear my voice according to Your lovingkindness; O LORD, revive me according to Your justice. 150 They draw near who follow after wickedness; They are far from Your law.

Ps 138:1-2 NKJV I will praise You with my whole heart; Before the gods I will sing praises to You. 2 I will worship toward Your holy temple, and praise Your name for Your lovingkindness and Your truth; for You have magnified Your word above all Your name.

Jer 3:10 AMP But in spite of all this, her faithless and treacherous sister Judah did not return to Me in sincerity and with her whole heart, but only in sheer hypocrisy [has she feigned obedience to King Josiah's reforms], says the Lord. [2 Chron 34:33; Hos 7:13,14.]………

Jer 3:12 AMP Go and proclaim these words toward the north [where the ten tribes have been taken as captives] and say, Return, faithless Israel, says the Lord, and I will not cause My countenance to fall and look in anger upon you, for I am merciful, says the Lord; I will not keep My anger forever.

Jer 24:7 AMP And I will give them a heart to know (recognize, understand, and be acquainted with) Me, that I am the Lord; and they will be My people, and I will be their God, for they will return to Me with their whole heart.

Speaking Things That Are Not As Though They Were!:
To Women Who've Been Hurt by Men

Heb 11:1 NKJV Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.

Heb 11:1-2 Amplified
1 NOW FAITH is the assurance (the confirmation, the title deed) of the things [we] hope for, being the proof of things [we] do not see and the conviction of their reality [faith perceiving as real fact what is not revealed to the senses]. 2 For by [faith--trust and holy fervor born of faith] the men of old had divine testimony borne to them and obtained a good report.

Phil 3:9 AMP And that I may [actually] be found and known as in Him, not having any [self-achieved] righteousness that can be called my own, based on my obedience to the Law's demands (ritualistic uprightness and supposed right standing with God thus acquired), but possessing that [genuine righteousness] which comes through faith in Christ (the Anointed one), the [truly] right standing with God, which comes from God by [saving] faith.

Helper – [from Genesis name for woman – I will give you a helpmate]
OT:5828 `ezer (ay'-zer); from OT:5826; aid: KJV - help.
OT:5826 `azar (aw-zar'); a primitive root; to surround, i.e. protect or aid:
KJV - help, succour.

Speaking in FAITH is sometimes misunderstood as lying. But I know that the Lord has shown me to speak in faith over my son regardless of what behavior is manifesting. I went through divorce from his stepfather when he was 12. This was my first real marriage. And when Dave went to high school finally, (was home schooled before then) there was a lot of anger surfacing. And when I went to Toronto in 1996, they had warned me that Dave was going to take a path that would break my heart and to not get caught up by the sorrow and grief as it would draw MORE warfare to myself.

Now this is a hard one for any mother, especially of an only son at this point.
I had lost my two stepsons in the divorce. And here is my son getting involved with smoking, and marijuana through "friends". He would lash out at me with cussing and around that time, I also read a book by Merlin Carothers called " Bringing Heaven into Hell" which I would highly recommend. You can get it through Amazon or on his site. I learned that no matter what was going wrong [or at least I was trying to learn it] I needed to praise Him.

This was also reinforced by a book by Basilea Shlenk on overcoming. So as he would get angry….I would walk in my bedroom, tears running down my face, and speak in obedience [not even in sincerity at first] "Thank You Lord that he is swearing and angry at me!" " Thank You Lord that he is Treating me like a jerk . Thank You Lord that he is rebellious!…. Thank YOU Lord that he is saved and healed . Thank You Lord that the call on his life is one of an apostle and that he walks in the light as You are in the light…" etc.

By the time I was done speaking those outloud, I was more calm and laid down on the bed and within a half hour, he'd come in and say, " I'm sorry mom, I don't know why I acted like such an ___." We'd hug and kiss and make up. He was going through a lot of pain at the time physically and mentally. So I knew when he spoke those things, it was not him, it was what had hold of him. We war NOT against flesh and blood, but power and principalities and spiritual wickedness in high places.

I made out 4 X 6 index cards with scriptures on them and began to speak them over him as often as I could and personalize the scrips to him in prayer. One day when I did that I heard a demon voice tell me…" That won't do you any good! " So then I knew it WAS doing some good! They are kind of stupid you know! And they are prideful so just have to reveal themselves.

I KNOW that God KEEPS telling me to speak the apostolic call over his life and the TRUTH of the Word, and HE will perform it. Just recently the Lord told me that my partying son is about to have a "HALLELUJAH PARTY "!
Praise the LORD! So I am EXPECTANT.

No matter what you go through, one KEY of DAVID is to PRAISE HIM IN ALL THINGS as David did. Dance, sing, exalt His name, regardless of what I going on around you. There is some revelation on this in Ezekial 47 as well.
You can read that one at: http://upstream.homestead.com/ezekial47.html

Faith is the SUBSTANCE of things "hoped for", the evidence of things yet unseen.
Everytime I used to get focused on what was wrong with my ex-husband, things would go awry. Nothing would go right…there would be more strife and more fights, etc. But when I would look at what was wrong with ME, and ask for humility and a right attitude of heart, a change of heart for myself,

THEN things went really well. Our focus has to remain fixed on HIM and our own sanctification. It doesn't help anyone to berate them for all they do wrong. A husband who is going through a rough time needs encouragement as much as a woman going through a hard time who is unhealed.

The Lord told us that for unbelievers, they will be won over by a quiet and GENTLE spirit. And truth be known, if we will PROPHESY into their lives the things HOPED FOR! In first Samuel is an interesting scripture:

1 Sam 18:10-11 NIV The next day an evil spirit from God came forcefully upon Saul. He was prophesying in his house, while David was playing the harp, as he usually did. Saul had a spear in his hand 11 and he hurled it, saying to himself, "I'll pin David to the wall." But David eluded him twice.

1 Sam 18:10-11 NKJV And it happened on the next day that the distressing spirit from God came upon Saul, and he prophesied inside the house. So David played music with his hand, as at other times; but there was a spear in Saul's hand. 11 And Saul cast the spear, for he said, "I will pin David to the wall!" But David escaped his presence twice.

1 Sam 18:10 AMP
The next day an evil spirit from God came mightily upon Saul, and he raved [madly] in his house, while David played [the lyre] with his hand, as at other times; and there was a javelin in Saul's hand.

1 Sam 18:10 NLT The very next day, in fact, a tormenting spirit from God overwhelmed Saul, and he began to rave like a madman. David began to play the harp, as he did whenever this happened. But Saul, who had a spear in his hand,

So whatever words come out of our mouth are PROPHECY. Will we speak LIFE or DEATH. The Lord says that life and death are in the power of the tongue. He wants us to speak LIFE to those we have been called to love.

It doesn't mean we can never correct. But when we correct we have an obligation not to CONDEMN, but to encourage towards life. We can't control the other person's reactions, but we can control ours. We must say what GOD is saying, like Jesus did. And in order to do that, we have to SEE as HE SEES. If He says to speak death, we better know it is coming from HIM, and not our flesh. Our flesh will fool us every chance it gets. And the enemy will also try to throw in divination through trying to control others when he can. That spirit of divination comes with religious pharisaism faster than a speeding bullet! If we have too much desire for prominence, or if we are competitive, that spirit of divination will enter in a most sneaky way, trying to make itself sound just like the Most Holy Spirit. We can be convinced also by our fleshly desires that war within us. So speaking the WORD is a SAFE thing to do if it is done in love, and not like a sword to kill.

A slave has no rights. We are slaves of the Most High. We must do things by HIS dictates, not the dictates of our own flesh and pride. We don't do what pride dictates. Pride is defensive and know it all, and demands what IT wants. If we don't learn our lessons the first time, we will go round and round the desert like the Israelites did in Moses' time till we GET IT!

We speak the the TRUTH of His Word to the mountains and the Word says that if we have faith even as tiny as a mustard seed, that if we say to that mountain MOVE, it will move! So we must EXPECT the Lord to do something also. If our expecter is broken, then we need to forgive God and repent of all doubt and unbelief, and keep on perservering till it comes about. Ask and you will receive. If we ask ANYTHING in His name it will be done for us. Maybe not in OUR timing, and if it is not in our timing, then it is because He is teaching us perserverance and trying to work LOVE into us, and DEATH to SELF, and what self wants.

We don't maginify the problems, but we MAGNIFY the LORD WHO is MOST HIGH, and greatly to be praised. We magnify His TRUTH, and it will become TRUTH. Not a magic pill, but earnestly seeking HIS WILL in all things. We say will YOU do this, but not as I will , as YOU WILL. He knows what it takes for each person to change. And as a woman, I know that I have done this thing of judging others so much and being blind to what is wrong in me, because of the abuse of men in my life. And if you have never known the love of a father's arms around you in holy love, and never known the affection of your husband outside the bedroom, then you may have such a deficiency of love in your life, that you have a tendency to see God as you see men, or to see men in a very unfavorable light that is NOT REAL. If you have never seen true men of God relating to women in a right way, then your vision becomes skewed. But the more you are exposed to the truth of what men CAN BE WHO WALK IN HOLINESS and TRUTH, then it is healing to the soul, and the greatest healing of all comes at the feet of JESUS, when we just SOAK in His presence and receive the LOVE HE so DESIRES to pour into us.

Abraham was called by God a great man of FAITH, yet from his life, I can see many things that would cause me to judge him otherwise. David was called a man after God's own heart, yet he was a murderer and an adulterer.
Yet GOD saw them as FAITHFUL! THAT is the grace of God and if we want GRACE women, then we must GIVE IT!

WE must stop making jokes about the inadequacies of men at their expense, and stop emasculating men, stop holding resentment against men, no matter how much any man has ever hurt us. I KNOW the pain, as I was only a toddler when abused by my stepfather and it took me years of inner healing to forgive the perversion and abuse. And I see for example in my sis the same jezebel treatment my mother gave men, and it makes me cry to see her abusing her sons in law. Her husband knows how to deal with her…but he sons in law know better than to say anything. She is still not saved or healed. The callousness towards other genders in this age was predicted, and we must be cut from a different cloth than those who give in to the perversion of mockery.

We are ALL DARK but lovely in the eyes of the FATHER because of the death of JESUS, and HIS BLOOD spilt for us. He loves us more than any other could ever love us, and we must CLING to that truth, to Him Who is TRUTH, and not give up on the men, just because they have been the one God used to break down our pride, or because it was them that was our cross to bear for a time. FORGIVENESS and HUMILITY are two weapons the enemy can do nothing to oppose! We must surround them with our love and protection and fight the compulsion to focus on the negative things. And if he will never change, then GOD will be our DELIVERER. We have to do what HE tells us, and not rely on the flesh.

Versatility

Versatile
1 : changing or fluctuating readily : VARIABLE 2 : embracing a variety of subjects, fields, or skills; also : turning with ease from one thing to another 3 a (1) : capable of turning forward or backward : REVERSIBLE (2) : capable of moving laterally and up and down b of an anther : having the filaments attached at or near the middle so as to swing freely 4 : having many uses or applications

I heard the word "versatility" and asked the Lord what He wanted to say about it.

"Versatility is one of the major qualities I look for in people I want to use.

Are they able to adapt? Are they able to change with the WIND of My Spirit? Will they flow in the Spirit, looking to Me for what and how to do things. Will they be willing to drop everything to do what I want when I tell them to?

John 3:6-8 AMP

6 What is born of [from] the flesh is flesh [of the physical is physical]; and what is born of the Spirit is spirit.

7 Marvel not [do not be surprised, astonished] at My telling you, You must all be born anew (from above).

8 The wind blows (breathes) where it wills; and though you hear its sound, yet you neither know where it comes from nor where it is going. So it is with everyone who is born of the Spirit.

CHANGE is inevitable in life. Change is difficult to your humanness. It is more comfortable to the flesh to stay in a certain comfort of knowing what is and what will be from day to day.

The people at Babel were not versatile or flexible, nor were they obedient.

I told them to spread out and multiply in the land. But instead of obeying Me, they built a city and a tower and refused to spread out as I'd told them.

So then they were forced to do so by the confusion of their languages from judgment on their idolatry to self. They thought they could aspire to My greatness and to do what I did. They turned the creativity I gave them into idolatry. This is also a serious breech of conduct in this hour in the world and in My church that calls themselves by My name. They are taking My Word and turning it around to suit their idolatries and their fear of man, and their unsanctified mercies!

While the world is trying to literally produce man in their own image. This abomination will not go long without being judged as I judged the people of Babel.

I am calling out for truth-tellers! You have many soothsayers in this age, but not many truth-sayers! You have many who want to not cause any waves.

So I will take a RADICAL generation who have been neglected and abused, and misled, and I will draw them to Myself, and fill them with My glory and My wisdom and My POWER, and they will speak the TRUTH in love to this end times age. I will take the truth-sayers of the older generations and put them at the head of this army I will form for Myself! And I will make them the generals who have experience and wisdom I've given. And I will give them legions of soldiers who will not love their lives even unto death!

They will GO for US into the streets, into the nations, and they will NOT compromise My Word. They will RESTORE the ancient foundations of many generations and will lead multitudes into the Kingdom of GOD. They will not build their own kingdoms, for they are radical, and will not hoard money or belongings, but will freely share with others of like kind and heart. They will convict those who are walking in their own ways and bring down the idols in their hearts.

They will have the character of their Father, to reach out into the byways and highways to bring in all who have gone astray. They will follow the lead of the Good Shepherd! They will walk with ME, like Enoch and Noah did!

They will not break ranks when they run through defenses! They will LOVE their own brothers and sisters. They will not care for fame and finances as much as for obedience to Me. But because they seek Me with their whole heart, I will provide all they need to do all I've given them to do. And there will be spectacular deliverances from death. There will be spectacular provision and multiplication, and miracles of many kinds!

The Kingdom of Heaven is invading earth. You will see it in your time and be amazed! Get ready to be RADICAL for you are the sons and daughters of a RADICAL GOD who loves you with a RADICAL LOVE. Nothing will be the same! Nothing will ever be the same!"

Visitations And Demonstrations

Visitations & Demonstrations of the Spirit and of Power: A Key to City Transformation

Exodus 3:2, 16-17 - "And the Angel of the Lord appeared to him in a flame of fire from the midst of a bush. He looked and behold, the bush was burning with fire, but the bush was not consumed. Then Moses said, 'I will now turn aside and see this great sight, why the bush does not burn...'
"'Go and gather the elders of Israel together and say to them, 'The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, of Isaac, and of Jacob, appeared to me, saying, 'I have surely visited you and seen what is done to you in Egypt; and I have said I will bring you up out of the affliction of Egypt to the land of the Canaanites...to a land flowing with milk and honey.'"
ONE ENCOUNTER

What empowered Moses to stand before Pharaoh and courageously declare, "Let my people go!"?

One encounter with a burning bush and Moses was forever changed. Not only was Moses ruined for God, but this personal visitation was what emblazoned Moses to become the deliverer of a nation!

Do you want to see God change your city? The common question I hear in conferences across America is, "How do we bring in a revival? How do we bring heaven to earth? How do we welcome in The King of Glory?" I believe that one key to city transformation is personal visitation.

For God to change your city, you must first have a radical visitation yourself. If you want to usher in a major move of God, you must first and foremost have a God encounter yourself.

There is a misconception and a lie in the Church that visitations are just for personal purposes where you have awesome adventures like riding in chariots of fire, eating on the Sapphire Sea like the Elders did with Moses, and playing with angels. But is that the only reason that God gives us radical encounters with Him?

If we examine scripture, we will see how the majority of our forefathers of the faith had a personal encounter with God to launch them into their destiny so that they could change the course of biblical history. The result of these hallmark encounters were not just that they themselves were touched, but also that God's people were radically blessed. We cannot divorce city transformation from personal God encounters. If you want revival, cry out for radical encounters with Jesus!

PRAYER:
Lord, I want a radical visitation from You! Just like you suddenly appeared to Moses, I ask for a holy ambush of your Spirit. I ask that you would put a bull's eye on my heart and ruin me for Jesus! I must have more! Use me like you did Moses to deliver an entire nation from just one personal encounter!

REVIVAL & REVOLUTION

Acts 19:8-10 - "And he [Paul] went into the synagogue and spoke boldly...and this continued for two years, so that all who dwelt in Asia heard the word of the Lord Jesus, both Jews and Greeks."

1 Corinthians 2:5 - "And my speech and my preaching were not with persuasive words of human wisdom, but in demonstration of the Spirit and of power, that your faith should not be in the wisdom of men but in the power of God."

Acts 19 is the most outstanding success story of Paul's missionary career. One of the greatest triumphs in his entire life was that the entire province of Asia was evangelized in two years. The revival fire spread throughout all of Asia Minor and even brought about the conversion of Emperor Constantine in 312 A.D. Christianity became the dominant religion in the Roman Empire, which once tried to extinguish the early Church.

WHY NOT TODAY, TOO?

Can you imagine the Gospel spreading so quickly that even the pagan leaders of other countries would become radically saved! If it happened 2000 years ago, why not today too? When there is a demonstration of the Holy Spirit's power, entire nations are transformed!

The government of God backed up his words with such extraordinary signs and wonders that an entire continent was touched in two years! Beloved, it will take more than just eloquent teaching to touch this generation. We must have the power of God! We need to cry out for a fresh baptism of fire - another Pentecost - if we want this magnitude of revival and revolution in our cities.

PRAYER:
Oh Lord, I want to see Your glory touch this nation and spread to the ends of the earth! I want the power of the Holy Spirit to invade my life, my city, my continent. If you would use Paul, why not use me? Today, Lord, I am asking You for a fresh baptism of fire from the Holy Spirit. I want the government of Your kingdom to back up my words so that thousands will be saved.

Victory In The Camp

Olivia Long

April 14, 2004
Be ready for a mighty move is on the horizon. As daylight breaks, in an instant it changes from darkness to dawn and you will witness one moment - darkness, the next moment - dawn. In an instant, in a twinkling of an eye you will perceive, you will be ready and you will move out in the mighty power of your mighty God.

My Beloved, you have been under My Watch. It is a Holy Watch, a watch that derails the enemy. Although he has tried to assail you, My Watch has been over you and on you. The eye of your God is ever upon you. Many have been the oppressions by the evil one but these assaults WILL be overridden by My Hand, My Watch and My Word. You, My Beloved, are cradled in the palm of My hand and you are safe and secure and I will keep you solely in My care. Nothing, I say again, NOTHING by any means shall harm you.

My plans, My way are as living stones. My plans are implanted and immovable as living stones. My plans will not be moved for they are solid. I have placed My plans in order and they WILL come forth in the order I have placed them. You are one of these living stones. I have planted you and I place you for your steps are ordered by Me. You will not be moved by circumstances not of Me but you will stand solid in the place I have called you because you are solid and one of my living stones.

So many of My faithful ones feel I have forsaken you and that I do not remember My promises to you. My Beloved, I have not forsaken you and I know each promise I have made. Many think you have erred in your belief of what I said I would do in your life but I say you will NOT be put to shame! How can you because Yeshua Jesus took on that shame for you at Calvary. HE suffered the shame of the cross and that was your shame so you would not suffer it. Continue to confess and profess My words for My Word is living and it is life. You will not be under but on top and you will not suffer shame.

I AM speaking profound words to you, sure words! These words bring release into your calling, release in finances, release in all areas that have sought to hinder you. You will now begin to move forth and as you do, doors will open to you that you have not even considered. Ways in the wilderness will be clear paths. You will wonder why you had not seen these before, but they were not there before. As I move you forth, other paths will open to you.

I AM giving you revelation as you will understand the work that I AM about to do. Not only in this nation but the world. As you begin to see events unfold, your spirit will quicken for you will know what I AM about to do. You are part of a multitude of those to whom I AM disclosing My plan so as to have workers going forth to prepare My people. There is a supernatural move of My Spirit that is gong forth to prepare the hearts of My people to receive My Words and you shall go forth in the power of My Spirit. Beloved, pray fervent prayers for My church... Intercede, stand in the gap and see Me move in a Mighty way, saith the Lord.

The end is near, the end is soon, the end to your long wait. You have been patient and you have endured. Those things you have prayed for others, those requests you have made for others will be manifest in your own life. My Word says pray ye for one another and you have been faithful. Rest in Me and My Word and see the fullness of My Word come to past.

I AM moving swiftly. I AM calling out My called ones as I AM moving swiftly. Do not be concerned with what is happening around you as I have it all under control. This is MY move and MY calling and it is I who will accomplish the miraculous. You are My hands extended and I have prepared you and trained you to draw close to Me and to hear My voice so that you can perform only those things that I AM speaking and calling. Listen for My voice, to not listen to the voice of another, stay close to Me.

Now as you stand before Me, awaiting your orders, as you dance before Me, as you worship before Me and as you sing a new song before Me... strongholds are coming down! Territories once stolen by the enemy are being released. Blinders are coming off, the blind all seeing. One caution - although you are Of Me, you are walking in the world and the dirt of the world will settle upon you every day and it is imperative that you come before Me each day so that you may be continuously cleansed. Beloved, you are in great warfare but there is VICTORY IN THE CAMP. Victory in All areas which once held disillusionment and discouragement. Captives are being released and lives are being transformed. There is Victory, VICTORY IN THE CAMP!

Vision Of A Field, Forest & The Tabernacle

Two days ago, early in the morning, I had a vision concerning a field, forest and a Tabernacle that I sensed the release to share with all of you today. I have already received an interpretation of this, yet there is still more that is being unfolded although I will write and share with you what I have thus far.

In this vision, I was in a field where there were many people scattered all over this field and I was sitting next to someone that I knew to be a football coach. We were talking about a plan and I knew that this was a football coach due to the way that He was dressed in this vision.

Then we both stood up and moved the chairs from the field where we were sitting and when I looked again, I realized that this coach was the Lord himself in this vision and that I had received my direction from Him.

Then I began to move forward onto this field with Him and I saw many of the different people coming together, to join together as teams and as I watched them, the different groups of people came close together in what appeared to be huddling as football teams would do to discuss the game plan. No longer were the people scattered but were close together and unified although the different ones were uniquely different.

On the edge of this field in front of me was a very lush, beautiful green forest and I began to walk towards this forest and noticed that there were many people also doing the same. As I entered the forest, I noticed that there were different people on different paths that were leading around to the same direction that I was going in.

Then I heard a voice say, there is an awesome Tabernacle that is back in the Forest but that I would have to "GO NORTH" to find it. So then I headed and veered a little in the right direction from where I was going and was heading North towards this Tabernacle that was in the forest.

As I approached the Tabernacle, I could hear and see that there were many different people that were finding it and I began to see it through the trees and bushes. Then I had arrived there and the vision ended.

The open field was the place where the Body of Christ was located in the beginning of the vision and I was there with the Lord in a waiting and sitting position with Him. Then when the chairs were being moved back indicated that the time of waiting was over and that I had received instructions from the Lord and knew that I had received my orders from Him.

Next, I was in a standing position with Him. And I was finally beginning to move forward and that is when the people came together into teams. I watch as the teams were huddling together which indicated to me that they were now getting the game plan and were getting unified together very closely.

There were many of these teams and each team were uniquely different. This indicated to me that the Lord was calling many different types of people together and was bringing them together in teams although all of the teams were a part of each other. They were not in competition but were just there discussing the game plan in huddles.

The lush green forest was a place of abundance and life and I noticed that many of the people were also moving into this forest at the same time. Many of them where on different paths that were leading in the same direction. This indicated to me that God has called many from different walks of life to move in the same direction in this end time mandate for the Body of Christ.

When I heard the voice say, there is a awesome Tabernacle back in the forest but you will have to "Go North" to find it. This showed me that I was already heading in the right direction but there was a slight adjustment to be made and that it had been made.

The Tabernacle is the habitation of God and may also be a regional area where God is mightily visiting Him people. A place where God is Tabernacling among His people. Such as a location where there is a mighty move of His Spirit. The North could be the direction of throne of God as through research and teaching that has been given concerning the North could very well be the direction of the location of heaven in the universe.

So there are different meanings in what could be meant in "Go North", although I believe that the interpretation could very well mean both. It may very well mean in the direction of the Throne of God in heaven and also a region where a mighty move of God is or will be taking place. I believe that it is both regional and also the location of the throne in heaven. Both!!!

Then there was another aspect of "North" that the Lord brought to my attention. In ancient times the invaders of Israel such as Assyria and Babylon, often came from the North. So this indicated to me here that North also means from the direction that the enemies of Israel came from, thus we must head in the direction of the face of the enemy.

If the enemy is in your face, then you are heading in the right direction. This is another way that you can tell when you are in the will of God. When you are coming under attack in the face of the enemy. We must not face the opposite direction, but must face the enemy head on and to overcome. So face the North, or Go North.

What I also saw in this vision was the mandate that God has given to me concerning the Networking of Ministries. Bringing Gods people together and them coming together in teamwork. And through this, they will also enter into that place of Abundance and life where they too will walk on the path to find that hidden place in the forest where God is Tabernacling among His people. God will place the people where He wants them in His end time mandate, but they will need to come together to get the game plan is what I am seeing in this.

Also, in this vision I did not see any lone-rangers out there trying to just stay alone and doing there own thing, but they were uniting together and getting the plan from the Lord and working together. So this concerns me a bit as I see that there are still so many different ones who are claiming that they are so spiritual and yet they don't realize that the plan is going to come to pass through the unified Body of Christ.

God is the coach and we are His Body. And what He has planned for the end time is for the Body to come together instead of just wanting to stay alone without accountability. This is something to ponder and for everyone to begin to pray and to seek the face of God about.

Because loners are not going to get the game plan by themselves but when they come together with the Body of Christ wherever He desires to place you. And if He is bringing you together with this network, then by all means, join in and make yourselves useful for the Body of Christ. If you are called to be somewhere else , then you are strongly advised to join together with the ones that the Lord wants to join you with.

But I can assure you of this one thing. That walking alone and thinking of oneself as more spiritual than others will only lead down a misguided path to nowhere. There is a urgency at this time, to encourage each one to become useful and to not only walk closer to the Lord than ever before, but if you are not hearing what God is saying or not listening, then you should also start listening.

Because the Lord not only speaks to us in our personal lives, but also speaks through His Body and it is now time to awake from sleep and to be obedient to what the Lord is saying and doing in the Body of Christ. To ignore His Body is to Ignore Him. As the Lord continues to unfold more of this, I will post a part two to this vision as the Lord may direct.

This is a call to unite and to walk with the Lord in such a way that you will not miss out on what He is desiring to do in this end time mandate. Those that are hearing the call to network, should be doing much more than just posting prophecies or articles, but should be building relationships with us and the other networking ministries.

There is time to seek the face of the Lord and to also work on building those relationships. There is also still time to get yourselves positioned for the end time move of God, but there is not much time left to waste.

Those that are truly committed to what the Lord is doing with the networking of ministries should be showing those commitments in words, deeds and actions. Those that are not committed should go where the Lord wants them to get committed. What the Lord is doing here is not for those who desire to remain alone or to draw people after themselves. Because this work is all about him and is also about the Body of Christ coming together.

Everyone is loved and welcome to join with us here, but there are choices that will be needed to be made because this is the Lords kingdom business and He is really serious about this.

If any of you need more information or would like to come into relationship with us and with the other networking ministries, then please go to http://ourchurch.com/member/j/Joshua-Network and read the various pages on our site.

Vision of Fort Worth

Conrad Lampan

As I was praying for America I was led by the Spirit to pray particularly for the area of Fort Worth and Dallas in the state of Texas. I was praying for revival specifically and suddenly a map of the area appeared in my mind, not as a paper map but rather as a sort of live map. This vision in a sense was very similar to the vision I had over the Bay Area in California some years ago, only that in that case it was about fire, and here it is about water.

I was looking at that map from an elevated position, as if I was floating in air over the area. I saw the whole metro area surrounded by water like if it were an island. There was a very wide sort of “river” surrounding the area; or rather it looked like the whole metro area was like an island inside a lake.

As I was looking, something like a hydrant somewhat propped up from the West/South area of Fort Worth. It was not yellow or red, rather greenish as if covered by some moss. The top was knocked off in a rather violent way, although I did not see any hand or foot or tool, and immediately water sprung up in a very forceful way like a jet stream, with so much energy that in a few seconds it reached what seemed to be miles up in the air.

Somehow as the jet stream was reaching higher I myself was reaching higher so in the end I could not see the map any more; instead I could see the globe actually and this stream of water coming up and in its way dawn it was literally bathing the Globe like a mighty shower.

I believe this vision speaks of the waters of revival that God is sending. I believe God is saying that the streams of revival have for a long time been “stopped”; this represented by the hydrant that was hidden and covered with a moss like thing. The hydrant also speaks of “management” for too long the local body has tried to “manage” the things of God, but this has caused the water to be actually stopped. However, at some point it won’t be possible to keep it under control anymore as something caused it to pop up, and someone had the top forcefully knocked off thus letting the water out freely. I believe God is about to show were the water was stopped and He will knock off whatever has stopped it. Because of God’s intervention there will be a flow, a jet stream of water reaching so high that can in no way be construed as something done by human ability or power. The result of such stream will be that the blessings will reach all around the Globe.

When God blesses a place He always has the whole body in mind and whatever blessings we received are intended not only for us but for the rest of the body. The blessings received locally will and should reach to the whole world. I also believe this word might not be only for Fort Worth and Dallas, but for every city where the church has tried to keep a rein on God.

In the love of God for His church.

Vision Of New Zealand

Judith Grobelny

April 20, 2004
This vision and word for New Zealand came at the very end of an extended time of intercession.

The vision began with the Lord bringing BREAD to the intercessors in the middle of a green field. He then released a light covering, or mantle, like a tent over everyone.

I saw workmen under this tent (like workmen when they are repairing telephone wires), they were digging deep down into the soil.

As the digging went deeper they uncovered a new substance, I believe the Lord was saying it was the true heart of the nation which no-one has yet seen.

I saw Maori warriors doing a haka (challenging dance) on top of the land, but the Lord said even the Maori have not yet dug for His heart.

We were connected to the beat and pulse of this heart. Those who get down low, close to the land, will find the heart.

There is still something to be found/released in Matamata (centre of the North Island) in this regard. He clearly said “I have not yet finished with Matamata”.

I saw strong figures emerging from a thick grey fog and mist. The Lord said there would be a new release of leaders in the nation, unknown men and women brought forth by the Lord.

As those who were prepared to dig deep in the Lord continued to dig, the heart was found and I saw the whole of New Zealand become a huge heart. Every part of the nation was this immense heart.

Then I saw the Lord’s hand take pieces of this heart and drop them into the nations. He had lifted me up high and I saw the nations of the earth, they looked like pieces of paper floating on the ocean compared to the size and depth and substance of this ‘heart’ nation.

There was so much substance that the pieces of heart placed in the nations radically affected each one. All the nations of the earth were affected.

Then the Lord showed me connection between this heart and Jerusalem. I saw a surge outward over the northern tip of New Zealand that became a powerful arrow-shaped flow into Israel.

What has been prepared, and will be released, in the uttermost parts of the earth, will reach back into the land of Israel.

Finally I saw those who had been digging. They were sitting deep down in a furrow, between banks of well-tilled soil. These were deep ploughed furrows.

Finally I was reminded again that He had brought us bread in a green field – this indicated to me that much of what I had seen was ‘grass roots’ (indigenous) in nature.

Who Would You Have Us Be Lord?

I would like you to be you.
I made you and I love you.
My desire is that you would be truly you.
Who am I?
You are a blend of your spirit and mine.
We are like the sand and the sea,
The sky and the clouds
They move together and are made to be together.
Let me ebb and flow through you
We are like the soil and the grass.
Let me sustain you and cause you to grow,
We are like the sun and the rain.
Let me be your seasons and determine what will best help you grow.
Live in Me, and let me live in you
That is who you are and how it is meant to be.

Vision of Storms

Larry Magnello

August 23, 2004
I was in a house on the 2nd floor with my mother and sister in America. There was a strong storm with great winds and it was raining. It blew so hard I thought the windows would break to pieces. It was very noisy and loud this storm. We went to the front of the house where the bedroom was. The house was almost like the one I grew up in and it seemed like Ohio. Ohio doesn't have bears, so I had the impression I was in Pennsylvania where I live in bear country, but the area looked like Ohio.

I looked out the window and saw the winds blow about 150 to 200 mph. I saw a large bear and dogs that were being blow by the house. They were terrified and the wind carried them away. Then another bear blew by and he finally stood still. I could see the terror on the bears face, and then the winds blew him away, and I saw some more dogs on the streets being blown away swiftly. With these winds the house should have blow away, and the windows should have burst but they didn't. I knew it was very dangerous weather, but in the dream, I didn't pray for protection. God was protecting us. God was going to judge America.

House of Cards & Cities of Glass Vision July 24, 2003

Larry A. Magnello

House of Cards

I was in a city in looked like northeastern America and there was a powerful storm in the sky, and the clouds were dark, and the wind was blowing fiercely. Everyone ran for shelter and some people took me with them. We went into a large dome building and I said, "this is not going to protect us from the storm, we got to get out of here. They responded and said that we were safe, but I knew we weren't; so I left, but they stayed.

I went back outside and looked up to the sky, and the sky was higher and larger, and I saw the United States sprawled out over the sky like a map. It was like a sheet of glass with each state drawn in the map, and I gazed more at the eastern part of the United States.

There were storms in each state as I looked at the map. Each state had different intensities of storms in them, but the northeastern parts of America were severe storms.

I saw houses made of cards, or cardboard pieces and a wind blew on them and they fell flat. God said, "House of Cards," Houses would collapse in the coming storms with great winds.

Interpretation

This can also apply to the Christian homes that are not built by God will collapse like a house of cards will fall. But the main feeling I got while in the vision is that there are coming storms and winds that will be over 200 to 300 mph, which will bring many houses down flat to the ground.

Cities of Glass

I saw cities made of glass (sky Scrapers) and Rocks fell from the sky, but when the large mammoth rocks hit the cities, the buildings and skyscrapers crashed and shattered like dropping glass. I saw people go into large dome buildings, and they also were crashed and shattered like glass.

Interpretation

Rocks will fall across the cities of America, and since the skyscrapers are made out of glass, they will shatter and glass will fall to the ground. Entire cities will be destroyed.

Vision Of The Furnace Opening Up Before The Throne

Susan Cummings

On Sunday, September 26th- 2004, the Lord gave me a vision during the worship time of our service.

I saw the angels of God that are around the Throne. They were swooping down and flying back and forth over and before the Throne. There was lots of activity and it seemed very important, that they had began to swoop down as they flew. As I was watching this, the ground area before the Throne, opened up and a furnace of sorts began to explode upwards from within its area that had now opened.

(The Throne was suspended in the air as I watched, but somehow there was a ground level before it that was also suspended before the Throne.)

This Furnace was like a black tempest, and it was full of fire, smoke, and great forces of wind. It was like an oven had been opened, or like a great storm had opened up. I also thought of incense rising upwards before the Throne within this tempest, but I did not know how the incense could rise up without being scattered or destroyed by the great blast. But somehow, I knew that the Father held it all perfectly, and He received all that was within the Furnace.

Then, I saw the Father stand up, on behalf of His Own. He stood up and all of a sudden, everything went totally silent. All of the activity was immediately halted and not a sound was heard. All of heaven was at attention. Then, through the Tempest that was before the Throne, I saw a glorious scepter emerge to the other side, where I was watching from. It reached out towards me as I watched.

Then, I heard the Father say, “I am now calling to My Own. They are now coming to Me. They will now be joined to Me. They will now enter in, and then the door will be shut.”

Then, that same night, at the evening service, the Lord gave me the scriptures of Psalms 50.

Psalms 50

1. The Mighty One, God, the LORD, speaks and summons the earth from the rising of the sun to the place where it sets.
2. From Zion, perfect in beauty, God shines forth.
3. Our God comes and will not be silent; a fire devours before him, and around him a tempest rages.
4. He summons the heavens above, and the earth, that he may judge his people:
5. "Gather to me my consecrated ones, who made a covenant with me by sacrifice."
6. And the heavens proclaim his righteousness, for God himself is judge. Selah

7. "Hear, O my people, and I will speak, O Israel, and I will testify against you: I am God, your God.
8. I do not rebuke you for your sacrifices or your burnt offerings, which are ever before me.
9. I have no need of a bull from your stall or of goats from your pens,
10. for every animal of the forest is mine, and the cattle on a thousand hills.
11. I know every bird in the mountains, and the creatures of the field are mine.
12. If I were hungry I would not tell you, for the world is mine, and all that is in it.
13. Do I eat the flesh of bulls or drink the blood of goats?
14. Sacrifice thank offerings to God, fulfill your vows to the Most High,
15. and call upon me in the day of trouble; I will deliver you, and you will honor me."

16. But to the wicked, God says: "What right have you to recite my laws or take my covenant on your lips?
17. You hate my instruction and cast my words behind you.
18. When you see a thief, you join with him; you throw in your lot with adulterers.
19. You use your mouth for evil and harness your tongue to deceit.
20. You speak continually against your brother and slander your own mother's son.
21. These things you have done and I kept silent; you thought I was altogether like you. But I will rebuke you and accuse you to your face.
22. "Consider this, you who forget God, or I will tear you to pieces, with none to rescue:

23. He who sacrifices thank offerings honors me, and he prepares the way so that I may show him the salvation of God."

It is time to enter into the Chambers of the Lord and to know Him intimately, for the time of the Union is closing. Those who respond now will enter into the Secret Place and be under His Abiding Place, those who refuse will be left out and to their own ways.

The Summons [repost]
Susan Cummings

Jan 31, 2003

Today, as I was making a worship hoop for a friend, the Lord gave me a vision, and as I was worshipping the Lord, he spoke to me about the vision. I submit it to you for your discernment, and for prayer. This is what he showed me:

I am seated in a chair, and I suddenly feel compelled to worship the Lord. As I am worshipping, I am caught up, and taken in the Spirit to a place that I don't know of. It is a different area that I have not been to before. I see a building that I have entered, and am standing in a hallway. This hallway goes in two different directions, and is long and carpeted with red carpet. There are many doors along the corridor of the hallway. Each door is different though.

There are tall doors, short doors, wooden doors, steel doors, glass doors, and arched doors, and many more, too many to describe them all. It felt funny to see all of the different doors in this place. I was thinking about how odd it was for this to be this way, when I heard talking. I looked up and down the hallway, trying to find where the voices were coming from. I began walking down the corridor to the right.

The Lighting in this hallway was not bright, yet, not dim either. There were no lights to be seen, yet, it was lit and you could see. I also noticed that there were no doorknobs on any of the doors. Each door was shut and each had it's own method of entrance. The sound of the voices trailed down the hall, as I continued to follow it's sound.

I noticed that the carpet was red, but it was also very worn. There were paths beaten into the fibers of the carpet, and it was obvious that this was a well-traveled place. Even though the carpet was worn, it was very inviting and pleasing to look at. It was comfortable to walk upon. As I walked on, I came to a junction. I looked, but did not see anyone, or hear anything from the other hallways, so I continued on.

All at once, I see a man standing before a door up ahead of me. He was standing in front of the door with a sword in his hands. The voices seemed to be coming from within that door. I felt some apprehension about going up to the man, as he stood guarding that door and he looked very serious. As I drew closer, he turned and looked at me. I then knew that he was no man, as he was an angel that guarded that door. I began to feel uncomfortable, and started to turn away from him, as I felt a sudden fear and I did not want to seem foolish to him.

The angel then lowered his sword and pointed it at me. He said, “Whom do you seek?” I began to shake and I said that I didn’t know why I was here, but that the Master summoned me. The angel then smiled, and he looked at me closer, and said, “Yes, he has.” He then stepped aside, and motioned for me to enter the door.

The door then opened without anyone touching it. I felt relief flood into me as I stepped into the room. I was not prepared for the things that I would see here. I had entered into a room with maps all over the walls. Yet, they were not paper maps, but looked like real places somehow placed on the walls. Every continent was there, and every country. There were the oceans, and the seas, and the rivers. It was all there, on all of the walls. I was amazed at the sight, and I wondered who placed them up on the walls. I could also see two chairs in the room, and a line of people who stood by the chairs. In the chairs were seated a man and the Lord. The man and the Lord were talking back and forth. I then realized that those were the voices that I heard from the hallway. They were not talking loud but softly, and I wondered how I could hear them all the way from down the hallway.

I noticed that the people in line came up to the Lord, one by one. There were men and women in the line. Each one stood by the Lord and talked with Him. The Lord would point to the maps, and speak of certain events that would happen to the countries, and he showed the person what would take place. As I watched, the Lord pointed to a country, and fire began to spread out in that country and it devoured all of the crops in that land. I was horrified as I watched. There was no one who could stop the fires. The man that stood with the Lord watched and then he shook his head, and left the line. I watched as he walked away with his head down and his hands gripped together. The Lord looked sad, and watched him leave.

A woman then approached the Lord ahead of me, and she stood next to the Lord. The Lord pointed to the oceans and they began to churn with a great storm. The storm made huge waves that beat upon some lands and upon the sea I saw ships that were sinking from the huge waves. The storm was very powerful and the roar of the waves terrified me as I watched. It seemed as if I could feel the pounding even from where I stood. The woman showed no emotion. I was amazed. She watched, and said it did not matter, as the people were dead anyway. Then she backed away, and turned to leave. I stopped her, and put my hand on her shoulder. She hesitated, then continued on. The Lord watched her go, and there was grief in His eyes, and pain that I did not want to see there. I felt somehow responsible.

I then realized that it was my turn. I stepped forward and stood next to the Lord. I was very unsure of what I was supposed to do, but I felt safe with the Lord standing next to me. He noticed my reaction and smiled slightly. Then he raised his hand and pointed at the far wall in front of us. The wall came alive with a great shaking. It seemed that the whole wall shook, and the lands with it. I could feel the shaking from where I stood, and it terrified me. I grabbed onto the Lord, and stood watching as the lands shook violently. There was a great noise, and then it was still. The lands had split from the shaking, and it was deathly quiet. It was so quiet. I looked at the Lord, but he remained looking at the wall. I looked again, and I saw that there were very few untouched areas of the land. It was shaken till there was nothing recognizable. Then I saw one of the mountains erupt and it spewed lava and ash over parts of the land, and it shook again. People were running everywhere and there was no where to run to. Fires burned in places from where the lava landed and it lit up the land like torches. I could smell the burned land. I then felt tired, and looked to sit down. The Lord sat me next to Him, and looked at Me. He then asked me if I understood what I saw.

I considered the scenes that I saw since I entered the room. I said to the Lord that I knew that he had summoned me, but that I did not know why He had showed me these scenes and why the people were here. The Lord then said, “This is My Map Room.”

It is here that I have laid out the foundations of the earth, even before I created them. All that has occurred since the beginning of time, I have seen and have carried up till this day. Nothing happens upon the earth without My Foreknowledge or My Sovereign will. I chose to create the earth for man, so that we could dwell together. My dwelling place has always been with man, but man rejected Me, and has chosen to live separate from Me. Ever since, they have lived in the lower expanse without Me, and without My Hand guiding them in their affairs. What you have seen here this day, is the culmination of the generations, and the repercussions of the choices they have made. The earth can no longer hide the sin, and travails to expel it.

Throughout the ages, I have summoned people to come here and to see this room. It is here that I show them the awesome responsibility that comes with man’s choices. It is also here that the hearts are revealed and shown for what is in them. You see, I call to my people, and they do not come to Me. The few that do, also choose whether they will carry My burden and reach out to those who dwell in those lands on the maps.

Many choose not to respond, not to care. They are more concerned for their own personal safety and comfort that they cannot reach out without jeopardizing their own lives and freedoms. They will not risk their life for their brother, and they walk away.

The man that you saw was full of fear. He came out of obedience to Me, but He had not conquered His Fear, and fully trust in Me, and when he watched the fires come upon His lands, He could not trust Me to use Him nor to even care for Him. He looked good on the outside, but when he was challenged with the real threat to his safety, he backed away, unable to reach out to those who were hurting. He only saw the destruction, and could not see the needs of the people. So he left to go to his own destruction and to his portion.

The woman that was also here was full of dread. She watched as the storms tore away at her own lands and she hardened her heart. She had not allowed Me to walk with her in the earth, and be her companion. She suffered through life without My Grace, and ended up hardened and cold. The many injustices of the times ate away at her faith until she could no longer believe that I even cared or that I could help her. She waded through life, enduring each thing that came with pain and she gave up hope. She also came, but she did not come out of obedience, but out of necessity. Here she had a moment of peace, but she left to go back to the life without Me. She did not see any hope in the storms, and so she could not reach out and help someone. She only sees death and destruction without Mercy and Justice.

Then you came before Me. I brought you here to show you some of the things that will come to your land. The Great Shaking has only just begun in reality, but I showed you so that you would know My Heart in it. The Shaking is necessary to dislodge all of the deeply entrenched sins and idolatry of the nation. Much is entrenched beneath the land and has been there from the beginning. But, I am visiting the land, and it will be shaken so that it can be freed. The mountains erupted from the great pressures that have been building and from the battle that has been waged over the destiny of your land.

You were right to grab hold of Me in the shaking, as it is the only safety that there is. Everything that can be shaken, will be. Nothing will remain the same, nor can it be. For the cries of the earth demand Liberty and the cries of the generations of slain demand Justice. The blood cries out from the ground and cannot be held back any longer. I have given time for men to reach out to Me. I have given opportunities for all men to hear the Truth. I have given My Life for them to be saved and to know Me, yet they continue to reject Me, and the Truth.

There is nothing else besides Me, except for time itself. And even time is coming to an end. I called you here to show you what is to come. I called you to test your heart. Will you deny yourself and go and reach out to My People who remain on the earth, and who will suffer greatly in the days to come? I say My People, as all men are mine for I created them all. But they are not My Children, nor are they My Bride.

Will you overcome your weaknesses and reach out to them at all costs? Can you stand, trusting fully in Me, without wavering in the face of great trials, and show My Love to those around you? I saw your tiredness as you watched the great upheavals. I know of your labors and of your zeal for Me. I know that you pursuit me with devotion and are seeking Me more, yet, will you continue, knowing that it will cost you greatly? The flesh tires from the cost, but will you rise up in My Strength and allow Me to undergird you?

Many fall because they can never allow Me to come alongside of them and help them. They cannot admit that they have need of My help. They feel it is a sign of weakness, and immaturity to be weak. Yet, they can never overcome their own faults enough to reach out themselves. Many will fall in the days to come, who once let me help them, and who knew my Hand upon them, yet they felt the security of the position, and felt that they didn’t need Me anymore, and walked on without Me. They felt that they had grew up and had now gained solidity and were now examples to others and were leaders of the people. Yet, they did not see their own pride and could not even see that they had fell. They continued to walk alone, and slowly lost their faith, and their tenderness. They soon lost all respect for others, and became arrogant and criticized others who struggled.

The cost is great, and the price is high, yet the harvest is ready and the time is short. Many think that there is still time, and don’t remain alert, and are not seeking Me. They are going on to their own demise, as they will not have My Wisdom to guide them. They chose to go their own way, rather to pursue Me. The cares of this world will lure many away, and cause them to become dull of hearing, and of heart. They will lose their sensitivity to others and will not even notice when things have changed, for their hearts are far from Me. They will have their reward.

I called you to come here and to see what lies ahead. Many of My Faithful Prophets have already been here, and are now sounding the alarm. Many are faithful to reach out, and to call My Own in. Will you stand with them? Many will mock you, ridicule the Word that I give to you, and criticize your walk, but I will be with you. Many will discount the Voice that will speak through you, and will not believe the Truth. But many others will. Will you pay the cost, and call My People to Me?

The Lives of My Prophets are in My Hand, and I am turning them this way and that way, and positioning them in the earth. They will sound the warning, and then the scenes that you saw, and still many more you did not see, will begin.

I could feel His eyes looking right into My heart as He spoke. I did not feel fear, but I did feel all of my humanity within me. I have always felt that I knew He was with me, but at this moment I knew that I had not always walked in that knowledge. I could see many of the times where I had tried to carry too much, or to do things without the Lord’s wisdom, and I knew that He was right. I had not allowed the Lord to fully enable me, nor to empower me to be his servant. I did have zeal, but not a lot of strength.

I said, Lord, take me and carry me. Enable me to be your servant and to speak Your Word with Your Power. I cannot go any further without you as the head in my life. I trust You, and rely upon Your Strength and Wisdom, and not upon myself. Give me Your Heart for Your People, and help Me to speak to them and to see them with Your eyes. For I will pay the cost, as I desire no other, but You. The Lord looked at me with very grave eyes, and reached into my heart and pulled it out. I was shocked, and cried out. He calmly smiled at me, and reached into His heart and pulled it out, and gave it to me.

He said, “You now have My Heart. Be careful what you do with it. Never take it for granted, nor fail to obey it’s leading. Guard it carefully, and never fail to release it to others. Love those around you with My Love, and speak the Truth. I felt no pain as I stood there, but I did feel a release. I did not fear anymore, nor did I feel tired. I felt very full and free, and as if I was loved completely and had no strings attached to me. I was so caught up by the simplicity of His Love, and how we make life hard by resisting Him. I clutched His Heart to Me, and there was a great stirring within me. I felt such hope rising in me for God’s People. I saw the great Destiny that awaited them, and the Glory of His Reunion.

It was worth it all.

Void Of Understanding

Connie M Giordano

Aug 09, 2004

In Christianity today, there is an overemphasis on Prosperity. So many are claiming the Promises of God so that they will never be found in want. Yet the Scriptures mention something that is far more important in our lives than wealth. It is understanding. Lacking finances, in most instances, will not lead a soul to Hell. However, lacking understanding will. Resultantly, may we never, ever be found "void of understanding."

The Bible gives us clear-cut descriptions of seven types of people and one animal who were found to be "void of understanding." Behind each illustration is a lesson for us today. May we heed the warning that the Holy Spirit is sounding loud and clear to us this day.

1. The Leader

Proverbs 28:16 - The prince that wanteth understanding is also a great oppressor: but he that hateth covetousness shall prolong his days."

Here we see a person who is placed in a position of leadership, but he lacks understanding. Instead of displaying mercy and justice to the people under his authority, the Scripture implies that he oppresses them. He is called "a great oppressor." In other words, he is a tyrant. People mean nothing to him. Only his selfish ambition matters. He loves covetousness or gain for himself. He caters to those who flatter and exalt him.

Are you in a place of authority or leadership? Do you lack understanding? How do you handle those under you? Are you oppressive with them or gentle, meek, mild, and patient? Do you use people for your own selfish gain? Do you show favoritism towards those who minister to your greed, pleasure, or ego? Or are you understanding of others, demonstrating mercy and kindness to all?

2. The Slothful

Proverbs 24:30 - "I went by the field of the slothful, and by the vineyard of the man void of understanding."

The sluggish man is "void of understanding." He is given a job to do with certain requirements, but he lacks the courage, initiative, and motivation to step out and accomplish the task at hand.

Resultantly, his lack of reasoning, wisdom, and skill causes him to be overtaken by poverty, want, and desolation.

The "field" and the "vineyard" of the slothful man can typify our own God-given responsibilities.

As the head of your home, through your lack of "understanding," have you allowed "thorns" and "nettles" to grow in your family? These can be any evil habits that are allowed to persist or hurtful offenses that are never resolved but simply swept under the rug, so to speak - to be dealt with at a more opportune time.

What about God's wall of protection around your home? Has it been broken down through compromise, worldliness, disobedience, rebellion, loose-living, indifference, and Sin?

Each one of us is responsible for the care and upkeep of the "vineyard" of our own hearts. Through our lack of "understanding" of the management of our spiritual affairs, have we allowed "thorns" and "nettles" to grow? Have we neglected to root up any inordinate affections, lusts, passions, greed, pride, malice, unforgiveness, bitterness, anger, unbelief, doubts, or fears?

3. The Backslider

Proverbs 21:16 - "The man that wandereth out of the way of understanding shall remain in the congregation of the dead."

Christianity is the "way of understanding." Therefore, the man who wanders "out of the way of understanding" is the one who was once enlightened but now turns from Light unto Darkness... Holiness to Sin...Purity to Sensuality...Freedom to Bondage...walking in the Spirit to following after the ways of the Flesh.

His final outcome? "The congregation of the dead." In other words, without repentance, he is condemned forever to eternal death in Hell.

How about you?
Are you walking in the "way of understanding" today? Or have you wandered? Have you compromised the Holy Standards of the Word of God and played with Sin and its enticements too long - only to find yourself now in the ways of darkness and under the dominion of Satan?

No one has to go to Hell. You can turn around and get back on the "way of understanding." Simply cry out to Jesus in godly sorrow and sincerely turn from your wicked ways. He will once again enlighten your understanding with His Gospel Light.

4. The Deceived

Proverbs 17:18 - "A man void of understanding striketh hands, and becometh surety in the presence of his friend."

The Scripture tells us that the one who pledges for another man's debt is "void of understanding." In fact, Proverbs 6:2 says that he is "snared" and "taken" with the words of his mouth and should readily seek to be delivered.

Are you indebted to another?
Have you - through your lack of understanding of the ramifications involved - made a faulty or ungodly contract that has brought you into terrible bondage? Are you presently carrying someone else's debt?

Seek to be freed. Call out to Jesus for His Mighty Intervention. And ask Him to endue you with understanding so that you will not make the same mistake again.

5. The Distracted

Proverbs 12:11 - "He that tilleth his land shall be satisfied with bread: but he that followeth vain persons is void of understanding."

This man should be busy minding his own business or maintaining an honest calling. Instead, he is pursuing worthless things and associating with idle and evil company. He is "void of understanding." Unlike the man who works hard and then is "satisfied with bread," he meets with hunger and lack on all sides.

Are you distracted today?
Has God planted you in a specific place for such a time as this? Are you about your Father's business? Or have you fallen in with the wrong crowd - whose main ambition is to get wealth and to pursue after worldly riches instead of the riches of the Kingdom of God?

Because of your lack of understanding, and your neglect of the business assigned you, do you find yourself in a place of spiritual destitution and want?

Colossians 3:2-3 - Your answer? "Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth. For ye are dead, and your life is hid with Christ in God."

6. The Adulterer

Proverbs 6:32 - "But whoso committeth adultery with a woman lacketh understanding: he that doeth it destroyeth his own soul."

Anyone who commits adultery shows a total lack of understanding. They are blinded to the ruin and devastation that this sin brings into one's life. Its shame, dishonor, and reproach is indelible. It wounds the conscience, extinguishes any flame of spiritual life, and opens the door for the just wrath of God.

Who is guilty of such a horrible sin?

Many would cry out - "Not me, O Lord."

But how many are there who have not actually gone so far as to commit the very act of adultery yet have committed it in their hearts and minds?

Instead of wholeheartedly loving their spouse, they have shared their affections with another. They have fantasized of having someone else or looked upon another with the desire to have them for their own. They respect and honor another's spouse but reject, ridicule, dishonor, and despise their own.

What about all those who have committed spiritual adultery? How many in the Body of Christ can be said to lack understanding because they love this world and its pleasures more than God?

They profess to know God, but their hearts are clinging to the amusements of this world. They want just enough of Jesus to escape Hell, and enough of this world to escape persecution and ridicule.

7. The Tempted

Proverbs 7:7 - "And beheld among the simple ones, I discerned among the youths, a young man void of understanding." Proverbs 9:16 - "Whoso is simple, let him turn in hither: and as for him that wanteth understanding, she saith to him."

Here we have a "young man void of understanding." He is "among the simple ones." He is "simple." What that means is that he is a ready target for the seducer or temptress. He is inexperienced, idle, loitering, unprincipled, undisciplined, and empty-headed. He has no strength to resist the flatteries or seductive impressions that come his way. His mind is set on the things of the flesh rather than the things of the Spirit. He has no discernment to detect the danger at hand.

How about you?
Are you empty-headed as opposed to those who have their minds filled with the Word of God? Are you undisciplined in your prayer life? Are you unprincipled in that you don't really have any holy standards - according to the Word of God - by which to live?

You are "void of understanding" and are a prime target for the tempter. At this very moment, Satan is planning your demise and defeat.

Allow God's Word to fill you with an "understanding" of the dangers involved here. Get busy in maintaining your spiritual life. Don't expect others to do the work for you. It's your soul that is at stake.

8. The Negligent Parent

Job 39:13-17 - "...or wings and feathers unto the ostrich? Which leaveth her eggs in the earth, and warmeth them in dust, And forgetteth that the foot may crush them, or that the wild beast may break them. She is hardened against her young ones, as though they were not her's: her labour is in vain without fear; Because God hath deprived her of wisdom, neither hath He imparted to her understanding."

The "ostrich" is a very remarkable bird. Besides its beautiful, hair-like plumage, its large size whereby it is oftentimes referred to as the "winged camel," and its bounding speed whereby it can outrun the fastest horse, it is a monster in kind.

It is in stark contrast with the stork. The stork delicately cares for its young, whereas the ostrich neglects hers. Unlike the other birds who seek for a secluded, inaccessible place in the trees or rocks for their eggs, she drops hers any where upon the ground and forsakes them, expecting the sun or sand to keep them warm. Never mind the traveler in his journeys who may very well come along and crush them under his feet.

At the least sound of danger, she flees from her young, never to return to them again. She has been known to find another's eggs and to sit upon them. Could there be found a greater example of one "void of understanding" among God's creation?

How are we doing as parents?
Would it be said of us that we are "void of understanding" or endued with it from on high?

We would probably never think to abandon our children like the ostrich. But, like her, do we neglect our job as parents and leave them to be taught the principles of life by others? Are we too busy to teach them the Word of God ourselves? Are they finding out about life through their peers or the "Christian" musicians, artists, songwriters, sports figures, and movie stars?

Do we neglect to show them our love and respect by taking the time to listen to their problems or to spend quality time with them? Do we cover them with our prayers as they venture out into the world each day? Or have we, like the ostrich, "hardened" ourselves against our "young ones"?

"Void of understanding."
May we never wear that label.

Proverbs 10:13 tells us - "...a rod is for the back of him that is void of understanding."

The chastisement and judgment of God is for those who are "void of understanding." What an incentive to cry out to Him today for understanding. Wouldn't you agree?

Vietnam Resurrected

Dennis Peacocke

www.gostrategic.org

The current presidential election has spent an amazing amount of time focusing on the ghost of the Vietnam War due to the controversy over the war service records of Mr. Bush and Mr. Kerry. Tearing open old wounds, which scarcely are hidden under the skin of my generation's national psyche, this revisiting of that nightmare has not been pleasant. Wherever we stood then, and wherever we stand now in retrospect, one thing is for sure: None of us who went through the national drama and trauma want to see it happen to the United States again.

Yet, here we are again. We are caught in a war we may not be able to "win," if "winning" means the bringing of it to an honorable, desired conclusion. Our old "Remember the Alamo" dictum after Vietnam became: "Never engage an indigenous land war in the jungles of Asia." Today the current situation may lead to a new, harder-won conclusion: "Never engage in an indigenous religious civil war in the desert either."

At this point, from my vantage, only God knows what we should have done in Iraq, or how we should have done it. And the Almighty ain't talking, despite some people's impassioned opinions on both sides of the issue. We removed a dictator. We have a tiger by the tail. We may or may not have the resolve to finish the job. Enough Iraqis may or may not be with us. More troops may or may not make a difference. A civil war may or may not follow the elections in Iraq, if they are held. We may or may not have to restart a national military draft. Here we are again, stuck in a national crapshoot. Is this 1964 or 2004? It smells uncomfortably similar to me, and I've lived in the passions of both situations as a fairly politically self-conscious critter.

Some time back I said in The Bottom Line that living in God's judgment is characterized by having no good choices. In other words, go left you're had or go right and you're had. The only good choice is to repent and go back to where you went wrong. For the United States, that is a tough one, since we've made so many nationally anti-God choices over the last fifty years or so. Is it Roe v. Wade? Is it the race eviscerating choices of the "war on poverty"? Is it Kennedy's turning the White House into a one-night-stand Palladium? Is it slavery? Is it pride and cultural imperialism? As countries go, I love and honor America despite our sins.

Comparatively, in a historical sense, we have used our power kindly as a world power. Nevertheless, I hear the 1960's echoes faintly in my ears of, "Hell no, we won't go." Somebody wake me up, and that is the bottom line.

Viewing the Cross from the Throne

Amanda Davis

Mar 04, 2004
After seeing The Passion of Christ, I wondered how the Father handled all that happened to His Son on this earth. I decided to ask Him if He would be willing to share His experience with me. I offer this for your testing against the one true Measure.

As I entered the Throne Room the Father motioned me forward saying, "Come in My curious one."

That pretty much sums up my personality but I quickly reminded Him of His wise words that we 'Have not because we ask not.'

He smiled and said, "What is it you would like to know?"

We discussed the new movie depicting Jesus' last hours on earth. In recalling the events His expression was a mixture of sadness and satisfaction. The Father expressed concern that His churches were not prepared for the Harvest this movie was going to bring in and He asked to keep that in prayer.

I moved in closer and asked Him to tell me what happened after Christ left Heaven.

He said, "All eyes were ever on My Son when He entered the earthly realm, for the Destroyer sought to take His life at every opportunity. Angels had their assignments before He left and each one took their charge seriously."

The Father continued, "I sent helpers along the way for guidance, for encouragement and for strength. I knew it would be a welcomed sight for My Son to receive these visitors from Heaven. As Jesus' journey neared its end, legions of angels stood by to move at a spoken Word."

I asked Him how He handled the way His Son was treated on earth.

He paused for a moment with His hand against His face and said, "When I think of the experience My Son had on earth I focus on the destination of the journey rather than on the journey itself. I have not forgotten what happened but I choose to see that Christ's experience made the way for many more to come to Us. It also made a way to defeat the enemy in a way that ALL would see. Jesus' life also serves as an example for others to follow. So you see, when I look at the experience My Son endured I choose to see the profit instead of the pain."

I asked if He got angry when they were beating and berating Jesus.

Sadness overtook his reflection as He thoughtfully answered my question, "My anger was indeed kindled many times as I watched but My Son asked me to forgive them, saying that they did not know what they were doing. It was My good pleasure to answer that prayer for I love these Children, too. I knew that one day many of those that mistreated My Son would one day come to serve Him."

I marveled at the grace and mercy of my God. But, there was one last question I have wondered about every time I read the Word. So I asked Him, "Why did Jesus say, 'My God why have Thou forsaken Me?"

The Father said, "You were told only half of the conversation We had that day…the side that man heard. The sins of the world clothed My Son as He hung on the cross. His flesh and the Deceiver cried out to Him telling Him that I had forsaken Him but My Spirit spoke to His heart in that moment saying, 'I will never leave You or forsake You.' After hearing and believing that truth, My Son delivered up His Spirit to Me and it was accomplished. All of Heaven rejoiced at that moment because mankind had found their Deliverer and My Son was no longer suffering. It was a joyous day. As Jesus slept in the tomb I watched Him rest just as you use to do when your daughter was a babe. The angels also watched in anticipation of the prophecy that He would rise again on the 3rd day. When that day came there was much rejoicing but not as much as the day He returned to Heaven…" End

Psa 22:1 My God, my God, why have You forsaken me, and are far from my deliverance, and from the words of my groaning?

Psa 22:18-24 They divide My garments among them and cast lots for My clothing. But You, O Jehovah, be not far from Me; O My strength, hurry to help Me...You have answered Me. I will declare Your name to My brothers; in the midst of the congregation I will praise You… For He has not despised nor hated the affliction of the afflicted; and He has not hidden His face from him, but when he cried to Him, He heard.

"At last! My people are at last starting to PROTEST! -- At last! I hear from Heaven, the sound of a people of 'sleepy' disposition, awaking and rising up to speak out against the insidious encroachments of the enemy in their land!

Sleepers are awakening!
Words of Protest are being spoken!

At last, there are 'eyes' being opened, and hearts being disturbed by what has been happening in the high places of their land!
Darkness is being called 'light'!
Sweet is being called 'bitter'!
Wrong doings are being lauded, and passed off as 'good'!

My people have been happy for it to be so, because the shepherds, and the prophets, have spoken from their own hearts and not from My Spirit! They have indeed spoken 'Peace' when there is none ; - they have caused the ears and hearts of My people to become fat and sluggish with apathy!

But now - now when they see the land's rulers proposing to open the floodgates of filth, and defilement, upon the people's daughters and sons, they are moved to protest! My heart rejoices, and is warmed within Me to see that, as I take 'the 'veil' that is spread over all nations', to one side, so that the devices of the enemy are clearly visible, My people are no longer ignorant of his methods!

See My people, I have started to take the cup of 'trembling' out of your hand ; you shall no longer drink of it!

But I will put it into the hand of those who afflict you; who have said to you, " Lie down, that we may walk over you!" And you have laid your body like the ground, and as the street they have walked over you!

But now, you have risen up, and stood to your feet and stated, " Enough! We protest against your treatment, you who are in high places in this land! We protest that you have tried to lead us into slavery!"

And I, who have scanned to and fro throughout the whole earth with My eyes, rejoice to see the plumb line in the hands of My people, and as they have asked for help, I will show Myself strong on their behalf, and join in their Protest, and the enemy will take flight, leaving to lick his wounds, and leaving My people victorious in their God!

Righteousness does indeed exalt a nation, and those of Mine, who do indeed humble themselves, and pray and seek My face ; as they turn from their wicked ways, will see that I have heard from heaven ; will forgive their sin of apathy and unbelief ; and remove completely the veil that the enemy has cast over them!
I will register My protest by My victorious right hand, and all the earth will know that their God reigns supreme! "

Words For The New Year

Words for the New Year: Eiffel Tower of Love, NYPD, Prismoids, Anchor, Compassion, Weapons, 3 Tents, Blue Prints, Stargazers, Dawn of a New Day, Warrior Chief, Window of 10, Cotton Fields, Beaver Pelts and Scalps

As the world has focused on the Twin Towers of tyranny and the Empire State Buildings, i.e. the empires they are building. It has been a year of romance for the CHURCH as we have been wooed by the language and fragrance of His love for us in the Eiffel Tower of His love.

As the New York's Police Department continue to fight crime prevention and terrorist endeavors, the angels of heaven will continue to protect, defend and deliver God's people, plans, and purposes, i.e. the crimes against His state.

We are like His prismoid and through us His light is able to break through in light form to those who are locked away in prisons or prisms of their own darkness. Our light is translucent but the Lord is coming down to dwell among His people in a new way and His voice is going to be heard in the Plains of Abraham (places of battle) loud and clear, i.e. with much clarity.

I saw a very small anchor hanging from a huge white ocean liner. Hope is the anchor of the soul that will keep us afloat. This anchor seem to represent faith, hope and love but hope was in the middle between faith and love, which gave it balance. Hope deferred makes the heartsick but when the desire comes it is a tree of life.

I saw knitting needles where the wheat among tares and the souls of humanity were being knitted together. I heard the Lord asking "who will have compassion on the ignorant and of them that are out of the way"? (Hebrews 5:2) Many live in empty spaces or vacuums and have lost the ability to feel or have any natural affection. A vacuum in the natural picks up dirt. In spiritual terms a vacuum is a space absolutely devoid of matter. In emotional terms it implies an empty feeling. When we lose our spiritual moorings a vacuum is created and we can fall prey to violence, despair, alien ideologies and tyranny. He will fill our valleys and empty spaces with Himself it if we let Him.

The Lord is the producer of weapons and each weapon has been produced for His purpose and there is a reason for each one made. I then saw laser guns and beams of healing light shooting from them.

Saw three tents being set up in the wilderness. There I will meet with you, says the Lord. This is a time of great outpouring and I am rewriting my words in the heart of my people. The ink of my words that were once spoken became invisible on empty pages. I then saw script letters being written in hearts and ancient scrolls, which started to become unraveled which then became blue prints. These were the secrets into the Holy of Holies and I heard, "I will lead you to my treasures".

Stargazers -I have been seeing visions of stars and clusters and then silver stairs climbing up into an observatory. We were observing the stars and why they became great and then thought of those great clouds of witnesses that have gone on before us. Each one of us shines so brightly when we are in His will, when His light is allowed to shine into the dark. "Every morning, every sunrise I rise to give you light walk in this light even when the morning stars sang together for my coming is as sure as the dawn of each new day" and the dawn of new day is almost upon us.

I saw the Lord as our Warrior King and He was walking among us as a Chief. He had a full body length headdress, which was full of feathers from various eagles. I then prayed, rise in us, oh eagle's breath, breathe in us, through us, blow upon this earth that it may become whole, alive and free. It is His last stand.

God is for us and not against us but we must see all things through the 10 windows of His commandments, which is governmental order. His order, His government of which there will be no end...

We must guard against the little foxes or anything that would hinder our walk
The chemistry of success is the smell of burning flesh
Don't push against the fence posts that He has set in place
We can love many but worship only ONE!
Wise ones still seek Him
Continuing to walk through open doors
Corporate prayer for Paul Martin that he would lead this country back into the fear of the Lord and respect for the almighty.

It is one thing to have rights, another to exercise them. In His name it is time to reclaim our rights in the cotton fields, beaver pelts and scalps of days gone by. So much history beneath our feet...Lord - lead this country back to the river. Let it flow once again...clear, fresh, water of life flow once again through our land.

May the sound of heaven be sweeter than anything this life could afford Lord...we want you more and more and more!

Word For Wales

Mike McClung

Wales: About to See Another Ignition Bigger Than 1904 Revival!

During a recent ministry trip to Milford Haven, Wales, I led a team of eleven to do an Intimacy with God/24-7 Worship & Intercession conference. The presence of the Lord and the stirring of the Holy Spirit were powerful in each place we visited. During a Sunday evening worship time with our hosts, Roy & Vanessa Hackett and the worship team of their fellowship, Cleddau Community Church, and our good friend, Carl Brettle, the glory of the Lord began to manifest in powerful, tangible ways to those present, especially our team from the International House of Prayer-Knoxville. During this time, the Lord spoke to my wife, Kelly, and myself about the Welsh flag.

The Welsh flag has a split white and green background, with a red dragon in the middle. Talking with Roy and Vanessa, they said that many ministers would not even come to Wales because of the dragon on the flag, and many Welsh Christians are somewhat ashamed when they have to explain the origins of the dragon on the flag. In 1959, the Queen of England officially made the dragon an emblem on the Welsh flag. I now believe that this was sovereignly allowed by God as a prophetic statement for the destiny of this small, Celtic nation.

The month of September 2004 marks the 100th anniversary of the beginnings of the Welsh Revival of 1904. The Lord used an unknown, 26-year-old Welshman, Evan Roberts, to help ignite a wildfire of glory that literally swept over the earth. Although Wales has presently grown cold spiritually in most of the nation, the Holy Spirit is beginning to stir again over this small, rejected nation. Wales is about to see another ignition that will make the revival of 1904 small in comparison.

The "Dragon" Will Be a Trophy for Wales

Getting back to the worship time on the Sunday evening, September 5, the word came forth in the midst of a powerful in-breaking of the Holy Spirit. I had been praying about Wales' destiny the whole time we had been there, and I was especially concentrating on what purpose the Lord would have in allowing the red dragon as a national symbol for this once on-fire nation. My wife, Kelly, leaned over to me and said that she thought a scripture that I had quoted in a previous meeting had direct application to the red dragon on the Welsh flag. The scripture is Colossians 2:15 (NKJV): "Having disarmed principalities and powers, He made a public spectacle of them, triumphing over them in it." The Greek word for "public spectacle" is a word that means to "display a specimen." It is also used as a taxidermy term, as to make a "stuffed trophy" of something. The Lord made it very clear to us as we prophesied it, that the Lord would now begin to use this tiny, despised nation as a major end-time force to make the enemy a "stuffed trophy" to be placed under His feet. This explained to us the symbol of the red dragon on the flag.

Arise, Wales, shake off your slumber! The Lord's destiny on Wales is to bring that nation back into deep, intimate communion with Himself and to use Wales to destroy the works of darkness, again, and present the enemy to the Lord as a "reward" for His suffering. The Lord has even had the highest-ranking civil authority in the United Kingdom prophesy that the red dragon would become Wales' trophy, as signified by the Welsh flag!

Worship with all that is within thee
We'll be undefeated, a team. you and me.

I am having many ladies ask about W.i.n.G.s and thought I would send out what it is and the vision for it. It actually applies to the whole Body of Christ, we are to be as one , as One Body, Christ's Body, fully equipped to do His will upon this earth .

Women In God's Service

Ezekiel 1:1

When Ezekiel was among the captives by the river Chebar, the heaven's were opened up to him and he had a vision from God. The Word of the Lord came to him and the hand of the Lord was upon him. Notice he was still among the captives in the natural, yet not in the Spirit. He was free in the Spirit.

God still had his hand upon him, even there and was opening up revelation and heavenly things to him where he was at.

He looked and beheld a vision of living creatures. He describes them as well as he possibly is able. We all know he describes the appearances and the behavior of those he is seeing when there are not adequate words to do so.

VS 8: says The hands of a man were under their wings on their four sides and each of the four faces and wings.

9: THEIR WINGS TOUCHED ONE ANOTHER.

The creatures did not turn when they went, but each one went forth straight forward. They moved as one even though they were separate beings, in harmony and unity. You don't hear they went different directions, but moved as one straight forward.

11: Thus were their faces. Their wings stretched upward, TWO WINGS OF EACH TOUCHED THE OTHER, and two covered their bodies. Notice how often it repeats that they touched one another !

12: And each one went straight forward, THEY WENT WHERE EVER THE SPIRIT WANTED TO GO, AND THEY DID NOT TURN WHEN THEY WENT.

13: This verse speaks of them having the appearance of torches, moving back and forth, like flashes of lightening, the fire was bright !

20: WHERE EVER THE SPIRIT WANTED TO GO THEY WENT, BECAUSE THE SPIRIT WENT. THEY WERE ONE WITH THE HOLY SPIRIT. The Spirit of God was in and moving through this combination of individuals with wings.

24: When they went I heard the noise of their wings.interesting ! Like the noise of many waters, LIKE THE VOICE OF THE ALMIGHTY, a tumult, LIKE THE NOISE OF AN ARMY and when they stood still they let down their wings..

This picture paints us a vision of God's people moving as one, as they are only moved by God's Spirit. They are flexible to His leading. Their wings would be positioned upward, to the side, lowered, stretched out, often touching or joined to the one next to them. Never leaving their position, or breaking rank, only following the Lord.

They did not turn aside as they went , they did not go in different directions. They only obeyed the leading of the Holy Spirit as one.

This Army of many members were only about the Lord's will being done. Different individuals, joined in purpose, obedient, fulfilling the will of the Lord. Committed to following only Him.

I see in this picture God's heart and what he desires from us, a unity in the Spirit, total obedience. Touching one another as we accomplish His purposes. Separate, yet one. An Army of many that have become one, surrendered to the will of God and willing to follow it where ever it takes them.

This is the vision for W.i.n.G.s

It is God's will for all, but in this case for women to reach out and touch one another, individuals, yet becoming one in the Lord, joined in the Spirit into one man .. An Army for God. Supporting and encouraging one another as we endeavor to do his perfect will. Helping others to get their wings and learn how to use them and fly.

A blending of callings, anointing, talents, and giftings to harmonize as one and help one another accomplish God's purposes on this earth as he wills it to be done. On earth as it is in heaven !

Jane Hamon recently did a teaching on the fact that women are God's secret weapon. Women have a Prophetic Destiny in the Kingdom of God. We march with our men, but we need one another. We can reach out and touch lives, allow our wings to spread and touch as was the will of the God in this vision.

He has indeed given us the wings of an eagle, let us use them to soar in the Spirit as he leads and help others do like wise, fulfilling God's purposes for our lives in the time we have been given.

We are not alive and here by accident in this time in history. God has birthed us and kept us, and is raising us up to be warriors, leaders, worshipers of the most high God. Don't be afraid to spread your wings or to touch another with his purposes. We can accomplish much more as a unit in agreement than we could as individuals.

Indeed we are here for such a time as this.

Whispering Hope
Betty Nelms

Willing and Obedient

I have been writing about the importance of hope and that others find the hope in Jesus that most of us have found. I wrote last about the story of Rahab and how the scarlet cord represented her hope, the root word for hope being earnest expectation&. and the verb root being stretched cord or rope.

I then remembered the service I later wrote about where the two women ministers preached about Rahab and at the end of the service how they prophetically imparted portions of the scarlet cord to each of those that asked for it, to be imparted to others.

I told of how they, as they were led by the spirit of the Lord, gave to my husband and myself their offering when we were in a desperate situation. How touched I was when I opened the envelope and discovered that someone had put in a pair of ear rings and someone had put in a writing pen.

I thought they had given what they had because they had nothing else to give, and it so touched my heart, and that may well have been the case.

My daughter Kelly emailed me the next morning with this profound insight, that I had never thought about until she mentioned it. She felt these items were very significant.

The women had asked those that felt led to give, to give what they felt the Lord wanted them to give, these were what I found among the offering.

It never occurred to me, but it did her that these offerings may have been symbolic of the bond servant and the willingness to remain a servant, even though they were free. The sign of this service was the piercing of their ear and the wearing of the ear ring. Also, the pen being the instrument used by a writer.

The Lord has many times given me the scripture about your tongue being as the pen of a ready writer and I have known that for a long time, but had never thought of these objects as being reminders or prophetic to what I am suddenly doing now.

I have always been a writer, but mostly poetry. When it was prophesied to me years ago that I would write a book, my friends and I thought immediately that it would be a book of poems. I had already done a small hand made one, but the minister said, no, it would be a book of teachings. These teachings are my life experiences. I have learned first hand what I am able to impart.

I marveled at what Kelly said, because the prophecies about the book and the one given about 20 years ago that I would be ministering around the world was so far from my comprehension that I just past it off. In one short month, over night it seems, both of these are being fulfilled beginning on the Internet. I am receiving many emails saying so and I marvel at the goodness and faithfulness of the Lord. His ways and his thoughts are so far above ours.

I began thinking after she spoke of this insight about being the mother of the Lord again, which is where I began this testimony. Those that do His will are His mother, and his brother. Those that are led by His spirit are the Sons of God. Mature in the Lord, brought to maturity. The Word tells us how the whole earth is awaiting the manifestation of the Sons of God. The world needs them !

I began thinking again about the pen, which I use so much and the ear ring as a symbol of willingness and obedience & by choice !

The Lord wants us to serve him with joy as spoken of in Deuteronomy . It speaks of all the things that can befall you if you are not serving the Lord obedient and with joy.

28:47: Because you did not serve the Lord your God with joy and with gladness of heart, for the abundance of everything.

There are those that are Christian and not obedient and there are those that are obedient, but their heart is not really in it and their motives may not be right.

In the vision I described when I first began this testimony, there were women only taking care of themselves and their own, they were not being a mother, or obedient to Jesus. If they were being obedient, then they would have been called his mother. It is all about the heart !

I did not want to obey God and go to the desert ! I was not going to go , but I had to make a choice TO BECOME WILLING and accept His will and not my own. I needed a heart change. When I became willing, he gave that to me and I was able to be obedient to His will and not my own. I accepted His will, knowing he knows what is best and knows the future and His ways are far above ours. He works ALL things for good for those that love him.

Even Jesus cried out, Father, not my will be done, but thine.

God speaks, even of giving as a matter of the heart. He says he desires you to give with a joyful heart. Among other related scriptures in Exodus 35:5 it says &Take from among you an offering to the Lord, WHOSOEVER IS OF A WILLING HEART.

2Cor. 8:12 For if there is first a WILLING MIND, IT IS ACCEPTED TO WHAT ONE HAS AND NOT ACCORDING TO WHAT ONE DOES NOT HAVE.

1 PETER 5:2-4 Paul is speaking to the Elders of the churches saying :

Shepherd the flock of God which is among you, NOT BY COMPULSION, BUT WILLINGLY, NOT FOR DISHONEST GAIN, BUT EAGERLY; NOR AS BEING LORDS OVER THEM, THOSE ENTRUSTED TO YOU, BUT BE AN EXAMPLE TO THE FLOCK; AND WHEN THE CHIEF SHEPHERD APPEARS, YOU SHALL RECEIVE THE CROWN OF GLORY THAT DOES NOT FADE.

We are not to just be obedient, but first have right hearts and motives. Willing to become willing if necessary, as it was in my situation.

We don t see the whole picture, nor down the road years later as God does. He alone knows how to direct us and we need to learn to trust that direction and be willing, perhaps to travel a road you have never been down before. A path total unknown to us and we have to follow by faith. As Abraham, going , not knowing.

We need to guard our hearts. Heart checks are good ! Just doing the work is not enough. Just acting the part or playing the role is not enough. God sees right through all that and so do most of the unsaved !

Many know the right words and the right behavior to appear as good Christians, but the fruit has to be there! There are others that depend on our heart conditions and our obedience. The scriptures that I quoted affected generations, not just the ones that didn t keep Covenant with God, or keep their hearts and minds right. Their children and families paid a price too. The unsaved will pay the price too, because they watch us.

We are living epistles, read by people. Our lives are examples of what we preach or teach. They look at our lives and how we respond to situations etc. more than what we say. What a responsibility we have .

The Lord will turn our sorrows into joy and he gives us his peace and His joy and he says he wants His joy to remain, for it to be full. The world needs this joy and peace that it can t give them.

He says in Psalms 30:5 that weeping may endure for the night, but joy comes in the morning.

Isaiah 61:3 says: To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give them beauty for ashes, the oil of joy for mourning, and the garment of praise for the spirit of heaviness, that they may be called trees of righteousness, the planting of the Lord, that he might be glorified.

Jesus teaching in Matthew 25:21 says His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithful servant; thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make you ruler over many things; enter into the joy of thy lord.

We need to be willing and faithful even in the small things. Things change, they will not always be as hard as they may be right now for those going through hard times.

There is a scripture that you never hear preached and I can relate to the reason, it says we are to glorify God in the fire. I have wrestled with that one for years. How can you rejoice and glorify God when you are suffering ?

Isaiah 24:15 Wherefore glorify ye the Lord in the fires,

That can be hard, but look at Paul when he was in prison. They were worshipping God WHERE THEY WERE AT, and saw no way out and the prison doors were opened by angels and they were set free.

Jesus endured the cross because of the joy set before him. He knew the outcome was worth the suffering !!!

It was once told to me that because I laughed so much that this Prophet said he could see in the spirit, that the demons were just being thrown back as I walked through things laughing ! That is a powerful force !!! The joy of the Lord is also our strength.

I see many, as you all must, that serve God for gain or are so ambitious, seeking positions and religious looking status. Looking for glory for them selves, spiritual ladder climbing , and trying to build a kingdom of sorts of their own in the name of our Lord and it will be as rubbish to be burned. I imagine it is a stench in the nostrils of God. Those that he has entrusted to guide and watch over his flock are abusing and using them. It is going to come to an end !

The church has not been what he desired it to be, it has become man made, man directed, man gratifying themselves rather than pleasing God. I believe, as I have heard many others express that this age is about over and the church as we have known it, as a religious institution is coming to it s own end and the church of Jesus Christ will become what he intended it to be all along. Not self serving, but God serving !

Will you willing to be His bond servant? We are free in Christ, but would you be willing to be obedient to what ever he asked of you ?

I speak from experience, it is not always easy, but he never told us it would be an easy road. He has told us that he is a rewarder of those that diligently seek him and if you do that you will know what he is requiring of you.

James, a bond servant of God and the Lord Jesus Christ.

To the twelve tribes spread abroad:

1:1-5 My brethren, count it all joy when you fall into various trials, knowing that the testing of your faith produces patience. But, let patience have it s perfect work, that you may be perfect and lacking nothing. If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God, who gives to all liberally and without reproach, and it will be given to him.

James made no mention of his personal relationship with Jesus, nor did he identify himself as a church leader. His greatest honor was to be a bond servant of God.

When we become Christians it does not mean we automatically are excluded from difficulties. The proper attitude to adversity is to count it all joy, which is a deliberate appraisal of the situation from God's perspective. Trials are a means of building character, moral and spiritual growth. We do not rejoice in the trials them selves, such as rejoicing in the fires, but at the possible results.

We learn to be acquainted with the grief and sorrows of others, just as Jesus did. God then uses it to set others free and impart hope where there may not have been any.

May we all become willing!

It is a matter of a willing heart .

Walking Forward

Jane Larsen

I had a vision of butterflies. There were many of them, all flying together, and the sun shone on their wings which were glowing with the most beautiful shades of purple and blue and yellows. Then the Lord laid this in me:

The time of transition has not been easy. The process has been hard. Many of you have walked in valleys, some have trudged wearily up mountains, others have hidden alone in caves, waiting to be transformed, waiting in your lonely and hard place.

I tell you that this was for a reason, for there was much you carried with you when you began the journey that you did not need. You were weighted down, you were unable to focus for so great where the cares you carried with you. Bit by bit you have dropped them along the way. Bit by bit you have shed the old and made room for the new. The further you traveled, the closer you came to me and all I have for you.

I know this has been a long and hard season, where you have often felt you were hanging on to air. I know that you lifted your tearful face to me in the place of silence that you were in, and wondered why heaven was still, but I am never still. I was transforming you, I was allowing you to let go of those things that held you down, that imprisoned you, so you could come through, refined and pure, perfect and strong, ready to walk the new walk, without the burdens of the world.

Now you will walk straight, now you will walk tall. See, there is no luggage on your shoulders, no burdens in your hands, now you are free. Now you are free. There are places I will send you, the chosen ones, the ones that have been in the valleys, on the mountains and in the caves. There are places that call. You will speak to others who do not know me, who are in places of sadness and pain, you will carry hope not despair. There are those who are ill, who see no way to be cured, who you will touch in my name, and who will find freedom from their ailments. Now you carry healing. There are those who are prisoners to sin, who think that is the only way, and now you will go to them and carry the truth, for you know the truth. You have met with the truth and the truth has set you free. Go, set others free in my name. There are now no chains holding you back.

Look. Look at the you that you have become. The love that now burns in your heart, the strength that abides in you, the wisdom that your lonely journey has given you. Go, feed those that hunger, give to those who thirst, give to them from the brook of living water.

I have called you from the mountain tops, I have brought you from the deserts, I have carried you through the valleys and I have set you in a new place. Brush the dust from your cloak and walk on, lightened and healed, restored and refined and do not look back, for behind you is what you no longer need and before you is all that you will ever want.

We've Asked For the Fire

Cyndee Pillow

A lot of us don't realize that when we ask for the fire, with that fire comes a lot of light...and that light shows our imperfections as the Lord reveals.

The purpose for the fire is to be purified.

When I first asked for the fire, suddenly, I started seeing a lot of junk I didn't know was still in my life. It was as if the Lord was saying, "Here is a tarnished place. Clean it up!"

The fire causes us to BE holy. I am not saying this in a prideful sense, however. I am saying that there comes a time when we are to lay down those things that nearly have unknowingly become a part of us as Christians, that are not a part of God. Somehow, we haven't realized, for whatever reason, that these things are detrimental to our holy walk. As it is revealed by the Spirit in the fire, we are required to turn away from them and repent.

Going through His fire is where the pure gold will be evident in the body, after the process is completed.

Secondly, in this fire, there is an ironing out of those wrinkled garments.

I remember having to iron for my Granny when I was small. It was not much fun after I had ironed for about 5 minutes. It was hot by the iron, as we didn't have air-conditioning back then. Sweat would sometimes pour off me. I even got burned a couple of times, as I didn't follow instructions to take my time and pay attention to what I was doing.

We have to know that there is going to be some labor involved and it is SERIOUS STUFF. We're going to have to work on ironing out all the wrinkles that have been evident in our walks, as individual believers. We need to realize that this is a holy thing that will require our undivided attention in the Lord's instructions to us. When we iron out those wrinkles with His guidance, there is going to be glory like we have never known. Final touches are being done!

My Granny's neighbor never ever came over while she was ironing and volunteered to do it for her. This was HER responsibility. Do you realize that the Lord has equipped you? He has sent the comforter to guide you through to victory. No human on this earth can help you in this process. Only the Spirit of the Lord, by his guidance, is able to point out and give you direction in ironing out your wrinkles.

Because some have not felt they were getting the attention from others in their fires, they have even gotten upset with those around them. This reminds me of another part of ironing for my Granny. She would always make me finish what I had begun. If I was frustrated in ironing a sleeve, she never took the iron from me, but encouraged me to keep ironing, keep trying, and finish what I had started. This was never fun. I would rant and rave and pitch a fit sometimes. She would remain calm and coach me through the process as I would continue to iron, even when I didn't want to do it any longer. Afterwards, I would always be so glad that I had not given up and had finished as she had instructed me to do.

I hear the Lord say,
"Gold Is Hidden In the Fold."

What does that Mean, you ask?

In the Fold of those wrinkles in your garments, there is hidden gold.
This gold will bring about the Glorious Church.
You WILL be changed when the process is complete.

Hallelujah!

Are you willing, now that you know what the FIRE really means, to still go through the process?

If so, Get ready to let the whole world know that JESUS is KING in your LIFE like never before!

Devoted to JESUS,
Cyndee

War Against God’s Saints

Revelation 13:7-8

Bound within the book of life
Are the names
Of God’s saints
Known from
The dawning of time
Crowned in His glory
Sheltered in chambers of His love
They are equipped for the battle
Faith in His holy Word
Pressing ever onward
Children, of the living God.

The Lamb who was slain
Redeemed man from the curse
God’s love made a way
For light to move in power upon the earth.

Found within the book of life
Are the names
Of God’s saints
Who have been washed
And purified
Moving with compassion
God blessed them with eternal light
In His glory they now stand
With the Comforter by their side
Their praise can be heard
Echoing throughout the land.

The Lamb who was slain
Redeemed man from the curse
God’s love made a way
For light to move in power upon the earth.

> “And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindreds and tongues, and nations. And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.” Revelation 13:7-8
> “Howbeit we speak wisdom among them that are perfect: yet not the wisdom of this world, nor of the princes of this world, that come to naught: but we speak the wisdom of God in a mystery, even the hidden wisdom, which God ordained before the world unto our glory: which none of the princes of this world knew: for had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory.” 1 Corinthians 2:6-8

To awaken unto righteousness, is to dwell in God’s kingdom without end, where mercy creates passageways, and songs of love cause the Son to rise within. God’s mercy endures forever. To awaken unto righteousness, is to stand within God’s pavilion of eternal light, safe from turbulent storms that invade the shores, as the depths of the sea are stirred up by man's hand of strife. God's mercy endures forever. While the pride of man rebelliously strays outside the comfort of God's holy embrace, God continues to proclaim, that Jesus is the truth, He is the way. God's mercy endures forever.

Who has been awakened unto righteousness? Who has understood the depths of God's mercy and grace? Those embraced by Jesus Christ, the holy, righteous King. God's kingdom will reign in strength within the lives of those He has redeemed. Kingdoms of darkness will fall as a man hears God's call, and turns toward the Son of righteousness. The mystery unknown will begin to unfold, as God's Spirit removes all obstacles, causing blind eyes to see, and deaf ears to hear the goodness of the Lord. Then will the eyes of a man's heart understand a truth of great worth, that it was not of their own wisdom, or of their own strength, but through the Spirit of the living God, that they have gained entrance into God's eternal kingdom of righteousness. Their souls, once darkened by the night, will be made white, renewed through the power of God's Holy light, God's Spirit of eternal light.

What God has purposed no man can annul. God purposed, before the foundation of the world, that His beloved Son would be offered as a holy sacrifice to redeem mankind from out of their bondage to sin and disobedience. It was purposed that through faith in what Jesus Christ accomplished upon the cross, that God would send forth His Holy Spirit to confirm and establish His nature of holiness within a man's life. It was purposed before the foundation of the world, that man would understand the great mystery of a holy union existing between man and God, as God's Spirit dwelt within a man's physical body. It was purposed that man would experience the presence of God, impacting their thoughts and desires, as the Spirit set up residence upon a man's heart and mind.

When the earth was still without form, God's purpose for mankind had been determined. Before Eve was taken from Adam's rib, God had purposed man to live full of faith and the Holy Spirit, so that the righteousness of Christ would be made manifest within a man's life. Before the serpent tempted man to partake of forbidden fruit, God had purposed that man, full of the Holy Spirit, would bear the peaceable fruit of love, joy, longsuffering, gentleness, goodness and faith. Before Adam and Eve were cast from the Garden, God had purposed a holy kingdom of righteousness to be established upon the earth, where God would dwell with man, and man would appreciate God's great love toward them. Before man would ever understand the seriousness of sin, the suffering and torment that sin would bring upon a man's life, God had purposed that His Son, the holy unblemished Lamb, would make restitution for man's sin, by obediently shedding His precious blood upon the cross.

> "And to make all men see what is the fellowship of the mystery, which from the beginning of the world hath been hid in God, who created all things by Jesus Christ: to the intent that now unto the principalities and powers in heavenly places might be known by the church the manifold wisdom of God, according to the eternal purpose which he purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord." Ephesians 3:9-11

The principalities and powers that empower thoughts of rebellion, pride, hatred and destruction, have brought great suffering upon man. Man has walked for many years in total darkness, trusting in the vanity of their own self-righteousness, thereby bringing destruction upon their lives and the lives of others. Through the Old Covenant, God would lay a foundation that declared what was holy and expressed His nature, helping to protect and guide man upon the earth. Commandments were given; and sin was exposed as the destructive force of darkness that it is. But man, whose pride would continue to justify their decision to trust in ideas and behaviors contrary to God's Word, rebelled against God. Darkness and rebellion continued to gain strength within the heart of man.

God had purposed a day when man would no longer strive against the Word of God. Man would no longer have to determine within the vanity of his own thoughts, which were impacted by darkness, how and why to live holy unto the Lord. In man's own strength, in his own self-righteousness, man strayed far from the intent behind the Words God had given to him. But what was not possible with man, who was determined to stand upon his own legs of self-righteousness, was possible with God. Man, in his own strength, in his own self-righteousness, could not approach God's holy mountain. In his own strength he was not equipped to climb the steep terrain and stand atop the highest heights, experiencing the Holy presence of the Lord. Man was unable in his own strength, to stand with God, atop His holy mountain, and look upon life through God's eyes of mercy, love and holiness.

"The Lamb slain from the foundation of the world" had been purposed of God to provide freedom to the captives, light to those who lived under the shadow of darkness. Jesus Christ had been purposed to fulfill God's plan of redemption and sanctification, and to impart into the heart and mind of man, wisdom from the Lord of creation. Through faith in Jesus Christ, and receiving God's Spirit, man would be given the ability to walk in a close, intimate relationship with God. As a man's eyes are opened to the revelation of who God purposed him to be in Christ, praise for God's mercy and longsuffering will adorn his heart with joy. The principalities of darkness, which kept man from looking to God for hope, direction and purpose, will be put to flight as God's Spirit of righteousness, truth and holiness set up residence upon a man's heart and mind. The kingdom of darkness, which had influenced a man's thoughts and decisions, will fall, as man, through faith that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, is built up into a holy temple through God's Spirit of righteousness, holiness and truth.

> "And I entreat thee also, true yokefellow, help those women which labored with me in the gospel, with Clement also, and with other my fellow laborers, whose names are in the book of life." Philippians 4:3

Man, "whose names are in the book of life" will, through faith that Jesus Christ is the promised redeemer, Messiah, Son of God, receive God's Spirit of wisdom, truth and righteousness. Jesus Christ, who is the "resurrection and the life," is able to impart God's Spirit of resurrection and life into the hearts of those who love His holy name. Jesus Christ, who was sent to open the eyes of man so he could understand God's desire toward them, would declare: "rejoice, because your names are written in heaven." God has known those who would be called of His holy name. Since the foundation of time, God's children's names have been written in heaven. Cherished and blessed of God are children whose names are found in the book of life.

But of those whose names "are not written in the book of life," woe unto them, for great is the darkness that easily overtakes the heart of man. Man, who walks without the sanctifying presence of the Holy Spirit, is enticed by his own pride and self-righteousness into believing he has obtained a truth that will lead himself and others unto a path where purpose can be found. But self-righteousness, no matter how holy of an outward appearance it portrays, still belongs outside the realm of God's holiness, truth and righteousness. Whatever is brought forth from turbulent, contaminated waters of unrepentant self-righteousness, will not represent the nature of true holiness that exists within the refreshing, healing waters of God's Holy Spirit. It is God's Holy Spirit that will give life to the spirit of man. A man is born again through the purposeful, holy, righteous Spirit of God, not through self-righteousness, where focus is centered on man's natural desires and abilities. All glory is to be given to God, not to man.

A parable spoken by Jesus:

> "Two men went up into the temple to pray; the one a Pharisee, and the other a publican. The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God, I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publican. I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possess. And the publican, standing afar off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be merciful to me a sinner. I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other; for every one that exalteth himself shall be abased: and he that humbleth himself shall be exalted." Luke 18:10-14

The Pharisee, who thought he portrayed to the world a man who walked uprightly, holy, and righteous, was not the one justified in the eyes of God. The Pharisee, the keeper of the law, had an appearance of righteousness, but his righteousness was not of God. If his righteousness had been of God, he would have seen himself for who he truly was. That he was a man born in sin, for all men are conceived in sin, whose desire was to please himself and not God. He would have realized that it was God's mercy and compassion that was able to set him free from his sin nature. Through this revelation, he would have understood a relationship where he lived in sincere love for God, and for the children of the earth who were created in the image of God.

The Pharisee, though his obedience to rules and regulations, seemed to proclaim his reverence of God; but his words of condemnation and judgment against the tax collector, revealed the true condition of his heart and relationship with God. To have a heart circumcised by the hand of God, through the sanctifying presence of the Holy Spirit, will bring understanding to man of his own wretchedness, and of his great need for God's righteousness to rule and reign upon his thoughts and emotions. To understand God's nature, is to understand that God's desire is that our actions and our hearts beat in unison to the sound of mercy, where any outward acts of sacrifice are under the inspiration of God's kindness and compassion. This is so we will leave the realm of dead works, where the heart seeks only to be accepted of men, and move into God's Kingdom, where His Word and Spirit influence each word spoken, each action taken.

To whom much has been given much is required. To those who have received the bountiful treasures of God's mercy, may their hearts be swift to show mercy. To those who understand that the heart is desperately wicked above all things, may God grant them strength of obedience as they undergo the heart transforming work of the Spirit, the circumcision of the heart. And as man matures in the ways of God, may he be adorned with a great measure of grace, as he extends a hand of mercy to those lost in the depths of the sea, where the beast continues to hold man captive to his self satisfying lusts and desires.

> "And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindreds and tongues, and nations. And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world." Revelation 13:7-8
> "If it had not been the Lord who was on our side, when men rose up against us: then they had swallowed us up quick, when their wrath was kindled against us: then the waters had overwhelmed us, the stream had gone over our soul: then the proud waters had gone over our soul. Blessed be the Lord, who hath not given us as a prey to their teeth. Our soul is escaped as a bird out of the snare of the fowlers: the snare is broken, and we are escaped. Our help is in the name of the Lord, who made heaven and earth." Psalm 124:2-8

Man, who looks only to the law to appease his own natural sense of righteousness, does not fully understand the sanctifying power of the Holy Spirit. He does not understand that the door to the kingdom of God is opened through faith in Jesus Christ, and not of any outward acts that man is able to put his hand to. Many are the men who have been ushered into the kingdom of God, having heard the Word of God, having believed in the name of Jesus Christ, and having cried out for His hand of mercy to be extended to sinners such as themselves. And many are those who follow after the footsteps of the Pharisees, thinking themselves to be faithful keepers of the law, who continue to stand outside the door to the kingdom. Because they have yet to understand that it is through faith, and not of works, that man gains entrance into God's kingdom of wisdom, mercy, and love, the door has not yet opened to them.

To stand outside the door to God's kingdom of righteousness, and to demand to be let in according to the good works man has performed, will not move the heart of God, so that the door is opened. For man to declare that perfect obedience to the law will open the door, and allow man entrance into the kingdom, can cause a man to continue on a path in life, subject to the darkness. His heart misleads him to assume a reality that does not exist. Man can erect great monuments in honor of his name, he can walk down city streets receiving the praise of man; but he continues in deception, if he thinks God opens the door to His kingdom of righteousness because of anything he accomplishes. God cannot be deceived. He is able to look past all outward appearances into the heart's desires and the thoughts of a man. Through faith, a man will gain entrance into the kingdom, and not because of works performed by man's acts of self-righteousness.

Those who stand outside the door to God's holy kingdom, who have been deceived by the serpent in thinking that they can deny the power of God's Holy Spirit, may continue to believe and teach that it is according to the law that man will stand in right relationship with God. If a man continues to think that in his own self-righteousness he can obtain salvation, then he may not only expect works and obedience to the law from himself, but also from others. Without understanding, the words a man believes, speaks and teaches may be able to hinder others from entering into the kingdom of God. A man, who does not understand the power of God's love being shed abroad within a man's heart and mind, through faith in Jesus Christ and receiving the Holy Spirit, may cling to works and the law to justify his position as a man of God.

But a man, perhaps a man like the tax collector in the parable spoken by Jesus, if he should understand what was accomplished through Jesus Christ, if he should call out in faith, God will answer him. Even though God is never far from the man, and is prepared to answer the man in the day that he would hear and believe, it may still take the man much time before he understands the great mercy of God's longsuffering toward him. And though the work that must be done within the man's life will involve many changes, as he is aligned to the good purposes of God, the man will continue to be thankful for the day that God answered his call and welcomed him into His kingdom of righteousness.

But the beast, which rises up from the turbulent sea of un-repentance, where man is tossed to and fro emotionally, thinking to be justified according to man's own preconceived idea of righteousness, may mock and ridicule the child who proclaims he has been welcomed into God's eternal kingdom. He may mock a child who declares that God's grace has touched his heart, which has revealed God's great love toward him. The man under the law may look upon others without being anointed with the eye salve of grace, and may determine that others are sinners unworthy of God. To the one who follows the tradition of the Pharisees, he may judge according to the law, in deciding who belongs to the faith. To the man under the law, he may not understand that the kingdom of God, the kingdom where the greater light, Jesus Christ, shines in abundant mercy, abundant fruit unto righteousness, is produced according to faith.

To a man under the law, he may have come to believe that entrance into God's heavenly kingdom does not occur until his physical death; and that it is according to the works of what he determines is righteous that prepares the way. To hear of God's kingdom existing within a man's heart through faith, so that a man is able to perceive God in all of life, and able to hear God's voice call out to him, may be, to the man under the law's authority, an utterance of blasphemy. To the man who waits outside the kingdom of God, to hear a child proclaim that the kingdom of God has been revealed to him, and that he has gained entrance while alive, so that he is able to perceive God's will for him, may bring a great swelling wave of words of condemnation against the child. To the child who walks with God in His kingdom of righteousness, while alive, who proclaims that God has spoken to him through a dream or a vision, may bring many harsh words of misguided correction. The man who has not gained entrance into the kingdom of God has decided his boundaries of comfort; and to speak of a love where God interacts personally with man while man walks the earth, is outside the realm of his understanding.

> "For I bear them record that they have a zeal of God, but not according to knowledge. For they being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God. For Christ is the end of the law for righteousness to every one that believeth." Romans 10:2-4

The man, who stands outside God's kingdom of glory, has not submitted himself unto the righteousness of God. He cannot understand that the Holy Spirit is able to accomplish what the law could not. The man, who looks to the law, does not understand the sanctifying power of the Holy Spirit to remove all that does not reflect the nature of God. To hear of a relationship where a child walks with God, talks with God, knows the love of God, not according to the law, but because of their faith in Jesus Christ, may cause the beast to rile up in a man spewing forth much condemnation. To walk in self-righteousness, a man will walk according to the "beastly", carnal mentality, which will keep him from observing the unveiling of God's kingdom of holiness and righteousness. Yet, God is clear in His Word to this man who continues to walk in self-righteousness, to follow after the nature of the beast is to be held in subjection to the influence of the serpent, Satan.

A man, who follows the paths of the Pharisee, may speak many words of condemnation against a child who has gained entrance into God's kingdom of righteousness; and he may cause the saint, God's child, much confusion. The saint may look upon the man, who proclaims to speak the message of what relationship with God involves, and try to appease his demands by submitting to his authority, yet the Spirit desires to set the saint free to follow God's will for him. The Spirit is mighty in fulfilling God's will for man and will continue to move upon the saint's heart and mind, revealing that to listen to the man under the law, is not God's path for him. To the man who has newly entered into God's kingdom of righteousness, it may seem he is being overcome by conflicting emotions. To follow the Pharisee, keeper of the law, is to grieve the Holy Spirit who has set up residence upon his heart and mind.

God will provide His saints a way of escape. Though the man, who proclaims relationship according to the law, causes feelings of condemnation to overcome God's precious saints, God will not loose one whose name is written in the book of life. Though they may feel as if they are sinking into a great ocean of despondency and confusion, as condemnation overcomes them, God will - at the perfect moment - lead them to safety. It is as God's saints continue to follow Him, at the leading of the Holy Spirit and the Word, that they will understand that God has used these situations to train them up in the ways of Jesus Christ. All trials and testing were being used for good, so that the saints of God are prepared for all situations.

Jesus Christ, the Lamb who was slain from the foundation of the world, will provide for God's dearly beloved saints. Their names have been found written in the book of life, they will be equipped to endure to the end, able to give God the praise in all situations. Though a man's pride may cause him to think he is greater than God, in determining who is acceptable to enter into the kingdom, God is greater than man. There is no man who can take a precious saint from out of the hands of the righteous King of creation.

> "Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, which according to his abundant mercy hath begotten us again unto a lively hope by the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead. To an inheritance incorruptible, and undefiled, and that fadeth not away, reserved in heaven for you, who are kept by the power of God through faith unto salvation ready to be revealed in the last time." 1 Peter 1:3-5

Why Am I Bored

Why Am I bored - Sid Roth & Humility: The Ultimate Freedom - Joyce Roth

Dec 24, 2004

For thirty years I have gone to church twice a week minimum and loved it. But lately I have been bored. It's the same-o, same-o patterns of service every Sunday. I love the worship. I love the messages. I love the people of God. So why am I restless?

Because I know there is so much more of God's Spirit available to us today. Even a quick read over of the New Testament reveals a level of power and miracles among the early believers that bears little resemblance to what we now call "church."

Since God doesn't change, it doesn't take a mental giant to know who is responsible. In Judaism we have a favorite word—"tradition." Jesus said to the humanistic synagogue of His day: "Why do you also transgress the commandment of God because of your tradition?" (Matthew 15:3).

Tradition robbed the majority of Jewish people of God's power and salvation at the first coming of the Messiah. The Jewish people had added so much tradition to the laws of Moses it was impossible to obey (Matthew 23:4). Will tradition rob the majority of Christians of God's power and salvation just before His return?

Where Did We Go Wrong?
Let's examine the first church and perhaps we can find what traditions have short-circuited the 21st century church of the power of God. They met in homes, not buildings. The leaders were laymen, not professionals. The concept of sermons every week had not been established.

The service was not a one man show. In fact the Greco-Roman form of entertainment Christianity had not started. The people did not sit in theater-style seats. Most likely they were in a circle because the attention was not on one man or woman. Everyone participated. First Corinthians 14:26 states: "Each of you has a psalm, has a teaching, has a tongue, has a revelation, has an interpretation." Everyone was equipped for ministry. Everyone was a worker.

Where were the children? Sunday school or children's church had not yet evolved, so the children were with the adults. Today if the children are forced to sit through the service most will hate church. But back then church was exciting for the children and the adults.

Nothing was predictable in these early congregations. The power of God was free to flow. People were instantly healed and delivered before their eyes. Even the children participated in the supernatural. They would prophesy or have a tongue or tell about a dream that came true. No two services were the same because the real leader of the meeting was the Holy Spirit.

The offerings were not for mortgages because they did not have buildings. And since it was a laymen's movement, they had no salaries to pay. The offerings were for the poor, the widows, and orphans.

The early believers left these house meetings so full of the Holy Spirit and faith they had to pray for every sick person they saw on the way home and to tell everyone about Jesus.

The Best Wine is for Now!
There is coming a fresh new wind of the Holy Spirit. God is looking for people who are more passionate for Him than for their comfort zone of tradition. Repackaging the church will not work.

Jesus said we need new wineskins. The old wineskins will not be able to contain this glory. And Jesus has "kept the good wine until now"! (John 2:10).

Most pastors are unwilling to let go of their traditions to embrace change. Or they are dependent on the current system for their salaries and pensions and don't want to rock the boat and lose tithers.

I don't have all the answers, but I know that what we have called the 21st century church will not contain the glory. Better than 90% of what we call "church" or the office of "pastor" is based on tradition. I am willing to scrap anything that stops the flow of the Holy Spirit. I am willing to experiment and find out what pleases God. I am hungry and thirsty and desperate for a fresh move of God's Spirit.

Let me be your Holy Spirit cheerleader. Let's join hands together and run into the greatest revival in history. I call this next move the "One New Man." The old one man show will be replaced by the One New Man! (Read my book, The Last Lap, to understand this next great move of God.) Don't look back. When God shows up, you will not be bored!

Note: One way to begin to move closer to what God wants is through humility. I urge you to read the article below by my wife, Joy. Her life was dramatically changed when she read Andrew Murray's book, Humility. Some may say, "Sid, you need to read this book rather than criticizing the church system." God loves His church and will use the current system. But there is more—so much more! True humility is surrendering to God and allowing His Kingdom to come now! Joy and I are walking this road together.

If you have not read Andrew Murray's book, please order a copy today. Rosh Hashanah begins a period of ten days in Judaism to soul search and repent. Let's walk this walk together.

"Humility: The Ultimate Freedom"
Joyce Roth

Well, here I am again writing about humility. What a journey this has been! I wrote an article for the March 2003 Messianic Vision newsletter, which I thought would be my one attempt to explain the path of humility in my daily life. At the time I thought I had said everything I needed to about this subject, and could just merrily go on walking in humility and serving God in my highest and best. WRONG!

My biggest test of humility came when my husband, Sid Roth, decided to have hip replacement surgery. Much to our surprise, his surgeon announced the day after the surgery that Sid was to be homebound for six weeks! Further instructions were to walk only with crutches or a walker. Sid had so many restrictions on his movements that it was difficult for him to do most of the everyday things we all take for granted. So it fell to me to do the things for him that he couldn't. After Sid's return home from the hospital, the first ten days to two weeks were a real challenge. I came to experience a level of exhaustion that I had not known before.

Now don't misunderstand me, Sid was an excellent patient, but the pain and fear of moving in the wrong way and causing a problem with the prosthesis was foremost in his mind. I slowly but surely began to lose my connection to humility. The monster within me—and I don't say this lightly since it really felt like a monster—rose up. I felt powerless to turn myself around even though I knew what was happening. I felt helpless and discouraged. Sid saw my change in attitude and actions. He began to try to take care of me, which made me feel even worse because he was in such a bad place himself. That was true humility on the part of my wonderful husband. I was in a real downward spiral, and it felt horrible.

I made it through the six weeks with a renewed commitment to seek God in my struggle for humility. Humility is mentioned some 90 times in the Bible with the majority indicating the need to "humble yourself." Humbling myself involves a daily, and sometimes moment-to-moment, choice to prefer others to myself.

I must confess that I have been an extremely judgmental person and now see that that had been a source of fuel for my pride. I believed that my judgment was accurate and if others didn't recognize that then they were surely not my equal. What an abomination to God!

I am now overwhelmed by the magnitude of my pride. Pride is a root of all kinds of evil. The Bible says we are born into sin. Children don't need to be taught to be selfish and to always seek what they want. The "I" is in us from the moment we are born and the "I" is PRIDE.

Why did God banish Lucifer from heaven? Pride, of course. So when we walk in pride, we walk in tandem with Satan. When we walk in humility, we walk in tandem with God. Pride is the ugliest of sins because it flaunts in the face of our heavenly Father who created us the idea that we are greater than He is.

The journey to true humility is to empty myself of pride and the preoccupation with ME so that I can walk wholly and completely in tandem with God. Then He will bring me to my place of destiny in HIS plan for me. I can only walk into my destiny as I walk in humility.

Recently, I spoke about humility at a small gathering. At the conclusion of the meeting, the leader thanked me and then remarked that talking about humility was like "sandpaper." In my opinion it may feel that way at first, but when you fully embrace humility, it becomes the Balm of Gilead, the ultimate freedom.

Perhaps we are fearful of the prospect of humbling ourselves because we think that we will become a doormat for others or will be prohibited from having any ideas of our own. I have found that it is quite the contrary. I am more willing to share my thoughts and ideas with others because I am not afraid of what they will think of me.

Our culture promotes everywhere the concept that our thoughts and the essence of who we are is of paramount importance when in reality this is the exact opposite of what God has called us to. We come into the true knowledge and rest of who we are, a real sense of self, when we are in humility. Humility is God's best for us. When I am in humility I am at peace with others and myself and when I am in pride I have NO peace.

Can we be humble in our daily lives and harbor anger or unforgiveness against another or even God? I think not. We will discuss these stumblingblocks to humility at another time. To all of you who wrote me about the previous humility article, I thank you for sharing your thoughts and affirmations. It was very encouraging to know that there are many of you who have embraced humility. I am no longer young, so I don't know if I have enough years to come to "true humility," but it is my heart's desire. God bless you all and I pray we all walk in humility before God and man.

We Are In The Midst Of The Week

David Prichard

Iyyar 4, April 23, 2004

The witnesses of the Holy Spirit and of the Holy Scriptures, as well as discernible evidence in world events, compel me to speak. A series of events beginning in mere days to weeks shall test this word. Confirmation of the first event will come before May 21st. I have never been more sober about sharing a “word” from the LORD.

Please post this letter for all to judge:

I am convinced that we are entering a period of time when we can literally “count days” according to Biblical prophecy. I’m NOT predicting the date of Yeshua’s Return. God knows His timetable for that event. Rather, I am “reading the signs” as I believe the Holy Spirit is giving wisdom. The LORD provided us with some SPECIFIC time periods – some in DAYS, some in MONTHS, and some in YEARS – and these are coming into focus right in front of our eyes. The good news is: 1) Judgment comes in stages for the sake of the elect, and 2) With great tribulation comes abundant mercy, and a worldwide demonstration of the absolute authority of the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Israel, through the sons and daughters of Elohim.

Before I begin, please note the following events:

- On September 13, 1993, which was the FIRST DAY of the month of TISHRI on the Hebrew Calendar that year, President Clinton hosted Yitzhak Rabin of Israel and Yasser Arafat of the PLO for the signing of a “land for peace” deal initially called the “Oslo Agreement”. It was essentially an ‘agreement to make an agreement’, and the process would come to be known as the “Oslo Accords”.

- In the summer of 1999, Bob Neumann posted the last of the “Seven Thunders”, the most powerful and spiritually accurate modern prophetic writings (that I had seen) since Rick Joyner’s “War and Glory”. (Incidentally, Joyner received that vision in 1993, the year the Oslo Accords began taking Israel on a slow, deceptive “death march” in the name of “peace”.)

- August 11, 1999 was the FIRST OF ELUL, the beginning of the annual 40-day period of reflection and repentance leading to Tishri 10, the Day of Atonement (Yom Kippur). A total solar eclipse came across Europe and right over the land of Israel on ELUL 1 in 1999.

- September 4, 1999: After six years of wrangling by the Clinton administration, Britain, Israel, and the PLO, the “Oslo Accords” were finally completed and legally signed. The official enactment date: ONE WEEK LATER, on SEPTEMBER 11, 1999.

- SEPTEMBER 11, 1999 on the Gregorian Calendar was TISHRI 1 on the Hebrew calendar. Now: The first day of Tishri is called Yom Teruwah, the day of trumpets (shofars!) and shouting. It is the “New Year’s Day” of the Hebrew (civil) calendar. In 1999, it was the OFFICIAL LEGAL COMMENCEMENT of the Oslo Accords, which have proven to be a “covenant with death” to Israel. Of course, we now recognize that date, in retrospect, from an event in 2001…

- TISHRI 1 in 1999 (9/11/99) was ALSO the day of the SIGN OF REVELATION 12 in the night sky. A number of folks saw this “once-in-12,000-year event” developing as early as 1995, and one Messianic Jew even wrote a book about it. Most Christians never even got the word. We were all abuzz with Y2K talk. I think we were more prone to pay attention to the predictions of Tribulation and End Times if they came with a sign in the technology world (Y2K) than one in the night sky. But it WAS a true “SIGN IN THE HEAVENS”.

This SIGN, described in Revelation chapter 12, was a REAL ANNOUNCEMENT:

The woman (Virgo) clothed with the sun (right below Virgo, below the horizon, at sunset); a crown of twelve stars on her head (these stars are always there); the moon rising between her legs, as she "gave birth" (initially from a lying position); and the dragon (Draco) just above, attempting to devour the Manchild (moon) as it moved across the sky. This sign will never be seen again – at least, not in the universe as we know it! It was a PRE-ANNOUNCEMENT that most of us missed at that time. It was proclamation in the heavens of events that would begin to unfold one year later.

- On TISHRI 1 in 2000, at sundown (the very beginning of the "day" on the Biblical calendar), the evening of September 18th, Ariel Sharon went up to the Temple Mount and read EZEKIEL 37 – which contains the prophecies of the valley of dry bones, and of the two sticks (the one, Joseph/Ephraim/Israel, and the other, Judah) being made ONE STICK in the hand of God. Immediately chaos broke out on the Temple Mount , and within hours the "Palestinians" had declared "holy war" (the "Aqsa intifada"). The following morning – still Tishri 1, 2000 – in response to the Muslim holy war, the Israeli government declared the Oslo Agreement void and retracted all participation in its agreements. The Oslo 'covenant' – which Israel was railroaded into by the rest of the world – lasted EXACTLY SEVEN YEARS by the Hebrew calendar. To this day, Israelis refer to this terrorist war with the Arabs as the "Oslo War".

- In March of 2001, the leading rabbinic authorities (called the "Gedolei Yisrael") announced that the "time of Jacob's trouble" was upon us. Their statement, endorsed by all 27 of the leading Orthodox and Chassidic sages, was released just before Aviv 1 (also called Nisan 1 – the spring counterpart month to the autumn month of Tishri.) Aviv 1 is the beginning of the Hebrew spiritual calendar.

- Fast-forward to the present: As the month of Aviv began this year, 43 Hebrew months (exactly three and one half years) of "holy war" with the Arabs had just been completed. With the new moon this week we just completed the 44th month of an 86-month run that extends from Tishri 1, 2000 to Tishri 1, 2007. I believe this month was FAR MORE SIGNIFICANT than it appears right now, and the proof will begin to manifest with CLEAR PROPHETIC SIGNS beginning with the month of Iyyar (which began April 21st according to the new moon in Israel.)

Despite the neat little time-table popularized by hundreds of books about the Seventieth Week of Daniel, I submit to you that EVERYTHING that was prophesied to happen up to the first half of the "week" has happened. From this point forward, the things that have been predicted to happen right at the mid-point of the "week" shall begin to be fulfilled in the sight of the whole world. And those divinely- and deliberately-vague passages in the Holy Scriptures that have been translated into English and made to fit "the mind of man" are going to be seen in the RENEWED LIGHT of the Holy One of Israel!

Many of us "common folks" who have been diligently studying God's Word are going to "take back" Biblical understanding from the "wise" among us, because the Holy Spirit is about to pour out a Fresh Pentecost (Shavuot) on the saints that's going to light a FIRE like we have NEVER SEEN in our lifetime!

Now, I am NOT a prophet. If the events that I predict below do not come to pass, then I will sit back and reconsider a LOT of my understanding of Holy Scripture. But if/when they do, then take note! We are a lot farther along on the calendar of "end-time" events than most believers recognize. And the proof is right at our doorstep.

Two issues cloud our vision the most:

1) Misunderstanding of the Biblical language patterns of prophetic scriptures, combined with imposing classic Western "linear thinking" to spiritual writings that are largely Eastern and non-linear in form. This led to all sorts of assumptions that made some sense when they were first proposed but have turned out to be very misleading if not completely wrong.

2) The general expectation that at the beginning, or the exact middle, of the "Seventieth Week" (the final seven years as prophesied by Daniel) Christians were supposed to be "caught away" (at the VERY time we were needed MOST!) and the world was suddenly supposed to go to "hell in a hand-basket." This put many of us 'to sleep', so to speak, numb to certain events that might have otherwise caught our attention. (Of course, the saints living in ISRAEL have not been so prone to sleep during this time!)

It hasn't helped much that so many of the "voices" out there proclaiming that we're already "in the Tribulation" tend to be hard-hearted and impatient toward those who don't accept their teaching. Most of these studious ones believe there will only be a VERY SMALL harvest, or "remnant", and they have a tendency to delight in the thought of the Judgment coming upon all the rest. Because of this, even those with true "pieces of the puzzle" lose credibility with mainstream believers. Unfortunate, but understandable. (Who among us, who have prayed for years to see a great Harvest, have loads of patience for those who so easily relegate 99% of the earth's population to hell?)

NOW WATCH WHAT IS ABOUT TO HAPPEN!

Here is what I "see" coming, and the rest of this letter is very basic discussion:

1) During the month of Iyyar, which began with the new moon around April 21st, we are going to see a war in the Middle East that will change the world. This war will fulfill certain prophetic visions on an even deeper level than the wars of 1948, 1967, & 1973. Not only will sections of Psalm 83 and Zechariah 10 & 12 be manifested more precisely, but prophetic passages from all throughout the Bible will be displayed rapidly from this war forward. There are TONS of scriptures that interweave to explain to us what is happening, since the ENTIRE BIBLE is prophetically focused toward the first and second advents of Jesus Christ, Yeshua haMashiach.

This war is going to be – to the world – what 9/11 was to America. After this war, the "world" will never again see Jews through the same eyes. A rapid "polarization" of all the peoples of the earth will begin – divided between "Zionists" and "anti-Zionists". The same polarization will happen within "Christendom". At first, there will be no clear "good guys" and "bad guys", since there will be a lot of confusion. For one thing, the Zionists will attract many who bow to the false doctrine of "salvation by works of the law" – which will repel a group of true believers toward the anti-Zionists camp. The anti-Zionists will quickly bow to the teaching that the entire Mosaic Law was nailed to the Cross – a false teaching that leads to cheap grace. Somehow God will sort it out and bring the unity that ONLY the HOLY SPIRIT can bring. He knows His own!

Somewhere in all the violence and chaos, the Temple Mount will return to Israeli control. Most likely the Southern Wall will collapse, or else be blown up by Hamas. Anyway, whatever the Muslim terrorists try to do will backfire on them, and losing the Temple Mount will be part of it. The only thing the Islamists will "win" in all of this will be news media coverage giving credibility to all sorts of lies and half-truths.

The prophetic event that this war will bring about, which we have a time-table for, is found in Micah 5:7 & 8 and Revelation 11:2, and was foreshadowed in Luke 21:24 as well as many Old Testament passages. The "nations" will tread down the holy city (Jerusalem) for 42 months. This will begin as a "U.S.-led coalition" of some sort, a "peace-keeping force" that will be allowed by the Israeli government in response to the international outcry of sympathy for the Palestinians. Ultimately, everyone who is "anybody" in the world system is going to want a piece of Israel – and especially of Jerusalem. If you have already recognized how Jerusalem has become a "burdensome stone for all people", be ready for stage two! We haven't seen ANYTHING yet!

Financial markets will soon be rocked on an even greater scale than we've seen in the past several years. I don't know how, but the Holy Scriptures make it CLEAR that the wealth of the nations, the leaders of the nations, and the weapons and armies of the nations are going to be increasingly concentrated toward that tiny strip of land that the world calls "Israel".

THIS 42 MONTHS is an EASILY IDENTIFIABLE EVENT – a group of "Gentiles" who don't live in Jerusalem today shall suddenly set up a presence there; that's the first event. IF IT DOES NOT HAPPEN by the next new moon (in May), then I'll sit down and be quiet. Either way, I had better be humbled because I'm no more "ready" for these events than anyone else! But it is GOING to happen.

Now, at the same time as the "nations" are beginning to take their places in Jerusalem, the anti-Christ – initially through his "representatives" in places of governmental and ecumenical authority – will be handed great authority in the earth to speak against God's Word. This is another 42-month period – parallel to the one described above – spoken of in Daniel 7:25 & 8:12 and Revelation 13:5. It will begin in a form that sounds okay to most Christians: smooth words of love and peace, and harsh words about the Law of Moses. I expect a change-up in the Vatican to correspond with all of this.

Also at this time a 1260-day period and a 1290-day are prophesied – and I believe these have already begun. The first (1260) has to do with the two witnesses (Rev. 11) – and the explanation for that is another entire letter. The second has to do with the "daily sacrifice" that must be taken away at this time. But keep in mind that there are TWO DIFFERENT "DAILY's" that are REMOVED. One is the LITERAL ALTAR SACRIFICE – the morning and evening lambs offered up DAILY once the altar is restored on the Temple Mount. THIS "daily" is removed for 2300 mornings and evenings – or 1150 days. (Daniel 8:14) The OTHER "DAILY" is the "TAMIYD" – the "perpetual" covering of grace that God has granted to the world in response to the "perpetual" offering of worship from the "altars" of the hearts of His people. The "TAMIYD" is removed for 1290 days. (Daniel 12:11)

So before moving to the NEXT EASILY IDENTIFIABLE EVENT, let us acknowledge an event that's more subjective but should be relatively easy to discern spiritually as it progresses. (And it will progress QUICKLY!) In a 'nutshell', we should be seeing an acceleration of the darkening of the minds of those given over to the 'beast'. Paul put it this way: "God shall send them strong delusion, that they should believe a lie…"

2) NEXT: Sometime BEFORE the month of Av (which begins with the new moon around July 9th) Israel will have a tabernacle of some sort erected on the Temple Mount, with or without the Ark of the Covenant. (I believe they have access to it, but I expect that the "Gedolei Yisrael" will advise them not to bring it out at this point.) There will be an altar constructed, and after a seven-day consecration, the "daily sacrifice" will begin – that is, the morning and evening lambs.

THEN, sometime between the last day of the month of Tammuz and the 9th day of Av, the "daily sacrifice" will be stopped. This will begin an 1150-day countdown until a new altar is built and consecrated. (Daniel 8:13,14) Furthermore, as a CLEARER SIGN FROM THE LORD to Christians who have largely neglected study of Torah and the Prophets, I expect that the altar and whatever tabernacle or structure has been erected will be taken down or destroyed on the 9th of Av. Jews worldwide will just be concluding the "three weeks" of mourning for the temples destroyed by the Babylonians and the Romans – each on the very same day – the 9th of Av.

This sign will be even MORE POWERFUL to the Jews than to Christians, because it will force them to grapple with Daniel's prophecies – which they have largely relegated as mystical and allegorical. Daniel is the ONLY PROPHET to prophesy the TIME of the MESSIAH'S FIRST COMING. And the God-ordained separation between Christians and Jews has led them to over-spiritualize Daniel's prophecies. But they're going to have to deal with the fact that the "stick of Joseph" that's in the "hand of Ephraim" (Ezekiel 37:19) belongs to a bunch of CHRISTIANS! And Daniel will witness powerfully in this regard.

WHEN THESE THINGS HAPPEN, at least relatively closely to what I have described, and in the predicted time-frame, then it's time we shed a few traditional interpretations of the Holy Scriptures and take a closer look! These predictions are based on Scriptural Patterns that are FUNDAMENTAL to understanding the prophets of the Bible.

When Yeshua of Nazareth came to earth in the flesh, as the suffering servant, He fulfilled His prophetic destiny for the SPRING FEAST cycle – EVERY DETAIL. When He returns in His Glory as Messiah and King, He will fulfill His prophetic destiny for the AUTUMN FEAST cycle – EVERY DETAIL! Of course, just as before, we can expect some surprises. Things always happen in a different way or at a different time than we expect. But He gave us a WEALTH of information about these days, including several VERY EXACT time periods. And what He put in His Word, He expects us to use at the appropriate time.

Think about this: When Yeshua was born, how many of God's people knew that the Son of God had come into the world? A mere handful! And even as he grew up around them, His own community did not know Who He was. ONLY in the last 3 ½ years of His life did He announce Himself to Israel and the surrounding peoples. And even then, He was slow and methodical about revealing Himself.

EVEN SO, there was no television announcement when the Final Week of man's rule in the earth arrived. But now that the final 3 ½ years is beginning, we shall see the SIGNS of the times – in a deliberate and methodical UNLEASHING of BOTH the Holy Spirit and of the evil one. We should have known that concurrent with the GREAT AWAKENING and REVIVAL that we have been waiting for, for so many years, a great Judgment would also be in force. I, for one, didn't realize it until a few years ago. But Yeshua's wisdom echoes across the ages: "The Spirit is willing, but the flesh is weak." For this reason, as the LORD pours out HIS SPIRIT upon His children in the flesh, we require a SOBER and SOLEMN BACKGROUND of world events, lest we become puffed up. Remember Paul's "thorn in the flesh"? If we are truly the generation who shall again see "greater works" than those worked by Yehsua of Nazareth, we are going to need a DAILY dose of humility and restraint! Welcome to the "Great Tribulation" – the most DANGEROUS, the most HOLY, and the most GLORIOUS of all times to be alive! THIS is what we've been TRAINING FOR! Our WEAPONS are about to get a major UPGRADE! (Provided we've been faithful in His eyes with what we have been given – and He is gracious!)

Okay – Do I hear some objections?

Aside from the Rapture theories, probably the biggest hindrances to Christians accepting that the events described above actually DO CONSTITUTE proof [that we in the "midst of the week"] are the vastly popular teachings that have neatly and erroneously mapped out the seven-year "Tribulation". The fact that SO MANY different time schedules have been proposed attests to the complexity of the task. I would like to mention a few scriptures that have been consistently interpreted a certain way, when in fact an alternative interpretation exists that has been ignored because it didn't fit the "conventional wisdom" of the scholars.

A number of years ago, the LORD began challenging me to grapple with LANGUAGE in my Bible studies. I had learned in the '80's that Yeshua spoke primarily (if not exclusively) the Aramaic and Hebrew languages. Yet my New Testament was translated primarily from Greek texts. And I had studied extensively from a parallel Greek-English Bible, in order to get a sense of the flow of the Greek language. The next challenge was to learn the flow of "Hebraic" language.

Soon, my Bible studies began to explode anew. I saw things I'd never seen before, and dozens of Scriptural themes that had been sort of hanging undeveloped before became clear, in both the New Testament and the Old Testament. I began to study the work of James Trimm (Messianic Jew and Hebrew scholar) and Herb Jahn (ExeGeses Bibles). I spent two years studying with a Messianic Jewish Hebrew teacher. Plus, the internet and books and tapes have opened up many more QUALITY Biblical truths. I don't agree with everything these folks teach any more than you would agree with everything I teach. But they presented excellent and deep-running Biblical evidence that YESHUA OF NAZARETH – Jesus Christ – is Messiah, beyond what I had ever seen in two decades of serious Bible study and learning from hundreds of authors, pastors, and mentors. And they also challenged all sorts of things that I never thought to question!

For example, did you know that scholars (Rabbi Moshe Yoseph Koniuchowsky and James Trimm to name two) have DOCUMENTED 134 places where the Masoritic Hebrew text of the Old Testament has been CHANGED? The Masorites (Jewish scribes) were trying to protect their faith against Christian persecution – so they hid the TRUTH of certain passages that pointed to YESHUA AS MESSIAH! An example is Psalm 110:5 where YHVH, the holy name of God, was REPLACED BY ADONAI. But in fact, the "Lord" sitting at the right hand of the "LORD" (YHVH) in verse 1 is actually "LORD" (YHVH) Himself. (L-O-R-D in capitals in the Old Testament indicates that the word is Y-H-V-H, the Holy Name of God.) In other words, verse 5 makes the connection complete, that it is YHVH Who is sitting at the right hand of YHVH – the Son of God Who sits at the right hand of God IS HIMSELF GOD, for they are ONE! And there are OTHER incidents where we find multiple "YHVH's" in the Hebrew text at the same time, just like we find in the Greek and Aramaic textual accounts of the baptism of Yeshua when the Holy Spirit and the Voice of the Father from Heaven were present with the Son – a manifestation of THREE (Who are ONE) at once.

Please do not misunderstand. These Masorites knew the ABSOLUTE HOLINESS of God's Word, and they even left notes on what they did, basically telling on themselves. The best I can figure, they trusted Messiah to sort it all out when He came – which He will! But clearly they acted “in the flesh”, and compromised with God’s Word just as Christian authorities have done periodically for many centuries. Furthermore, we have the Septuagint (LXX), the Greek translation from the Hebrew text, approved by the rabbis of old, as a wonderful parallel to the Hebrew texts. But even so, there are MYSTERIES that are coming forward in these “end times”, which have been hidden throughout the ages.

Have you heard about Zechariah chapter five and the “woman that sitteth in the midst of the ephah”? Or have you ever read that passage and wondered what a woman was doing in a “basket”? or what king of basket has a lead lid on it? It turns out that in the original Hebrew text (which had no vowel markings) the Hebrew word for “woman” is the same exact letters as “fire offering”. Neither the original translators of the Septuagint nor the Masorites could imagine any reason to translate the word as “fire offering”, even though having a woman in a basket didn’t make a whole lot more sense. So EVERYONE called it a “woman”, right down the line for centuries.

So now we come to the 21st century, and a Messianic Jewish rabbi (Michael Rood) was studying one Sabbath, reading Zechariah from the Hebrew text, and suddenly the Holy Spirit dropped this into his spirit, and he realized, “It’s an evil FIRE OFFERING!” And sure enough, if you read Zechariah 5 with this restored revelation, and you follow the Hebrew text accurately, you find that the “flying roll” (vs. 1&2) is a cylinder (not a double-handled scroll) – and this cylinder has TWO “fire offerings” lifting it into the sky (vs. 9), like a two-staged rocket with fins (“wings”) at the bottom. And the cargo of this rocket, or missile, is a WICKED fire offering (vs. 7&8) that is enclosed in a container with a lead lid – just like a NUCLEAR WARHEAD mounted on top of a MISSILE! And I haven’t verified this, but I’m told that the measurements given in verse 2 that when translated to English were rendered “length” and “breadth”, constitute the very height (or length, in flight) and circumference of one of the standard missiles manufactured by modern industry which can be used to carry a nuclear warhead.

So we can see that God can “seal up” a mystery for as long as He wants to – and then open it up suddenly. The story of the “woman” vs. the “fire offering” has been propagated on the internet for over a year now. I certainly don’t agree with a lot of what Michael Rood teaches, but this revelation given to him and picked up by many others testifies that God CAN and WILL bypass the “wise” and give revelation of His Word to those who are simply hungry and faithful witnesses.

The end-time prophecies were ALWAYS meant by the LORD to be MYSTERIES – often spoken in figurative language, or cloaked – so that those whose hearts are set on worldly things will not understand these truths EVEN when it’s RIGHT UNDER THEIR NOSE. Furthermore, most of the literally hundreds of prophecies that apply to these last 3 ½ years are interspersed with prophecies that apply in the past.

Building a relationship with God is SIMPLE. Salvation, when examined in essence, is SIMPLE. But interpreting and accurately applying the end-time passages of the Bible is the most complex task that ANYONE can attempt. It’s easier to build a nuclear reactor! (I am a former Naval Nuclear Reactor Operator.)

SO it is more than fair for us to reconsider much of the POPULAR UNDERSTANDING that floods the markets of Christian prophecy teaching today. Look at yourself, and see how much you have learned about God over the past year, or five years, or ten. As believers at large over the centuries, our collective knowledge has grown as well. MANY things were lost – but the LORD is restoring what was lost in preparation for His Return!

So what about the “man of sin”?

If the question concerns mid- or pre-tribulation rapture, there are more than enough discussions from all sides of the issue to be found on the Internet. For myself, the deeper I allowed the LORD to take me into harmonizing the Old Testament and New Testament prophecies, the Scriptural “evidence” for these two scenarios fell apart. They are lying in a heap of dust just like a section of the Southern Wall of the Temple Mount is about to become.

Therefore I wish to focus on the false assumption that the anti-Christ (pseudo-Messiah) must identify himself either at the beginning or at the mid-point of the “week”. This teaching relies on scriptures in Daniel and Revelation. To begin with, note that any time correlation with events described in 2 Thessalonians chapter 2 is pure ‘assumption’. All this text tells us is that before the LORD returns and gathers us together, there will be a ‘falling away’ and ‘that man of sin’ will be revealed.

In Revelation chapter 13 we learn that a ‘beast’ is given a “mouth speaking great things and blasphemies”, and that he is allowed to do this for forty-two months. HERE is a SPECIFIC event with a SPECIFIC time period, which begins THIS MONTH (Iyyar). But right after this we are introduced to ANOTHER BEAST. And the SECOND BEAST seems to have all of the power of the first beast, and MORE. In fact, the second beast seems to have the POLITICAL and ECONOMIC powers. (The first beast would seem to be a religious leader…) So before we go ASSUMING (as the conventional wisdom has it) that the first beast is the anti-Christ – the “little horn”, the “wicked prince”, the “prince that shall come”, the “man of sin” – perhaps we ought to study and pray and meditate on this for awhile. (And consult BOTH the Old Testament and the New Testament for insight…)

Finally, we come to Daniel 9:26 & 27:

26 “And after threescore and two weeks shall Messiah be cut off, but not for himself: and the people of the prince that shall come shall destroy the city and the sanctuary; and the end thereof shall be with a flood, and unto the end of the war desolations are determined.”

27 “And he shall confirm the covenant with many for one week: and in the midst of the week he shall cause the sacrifice and the oblation to cease, and for the overspreading of abominations he shall make it desolate, even until the consummation, and that determined shall be poured upon the desolate.”

To begin with, this passage is EXTREMELY VAGUE. It is quite possible that the one confirming the covenant is the MESSIAH. Perhaps it refers to Yeshua’s confirmation of Daniel’s prophecies (of the Seventieth Week), recorded in a good deal of detail in Matthew 24:7-22. (But I don’t think that’s it.) Or perhaps God was confirming His covenant with Israel when He sent Ariel Sharon to the Temple Mount to read Ezekiel 37. But this doesn’t ‘settle’ well in my spirit either. It may be a kind of “parallel” fulfillment that the LORD loves to bring forth. He’s done it throughout history! But I can’t write this scripture off like that just because it seems to stand as the ONE dissenting passage to the premise of this entreaty.

We have been taught that the “he”, who confirms the covenant for one week, is the “prince that shall come”, and Hebrew scholars across the board are pretty much in agreement. But we have ALSO been taught “linear thinking” so thoroughly that some very clear possibilities don’t tend to occur to us. WHAT IF the prophet saw TWO seven-year periods, one being a prelude to the other? One was a seven-year “trial” – God testing the hearts of men and establishing a foundation for the fulfillment of all to follow. The second is the “Final Week” of the seventy.

Over and over in the Holy Scriptures, prophetic events happen in sets of two. There are the “times of the Gentiles” in Jerusalem, when she is “trodden down of the Gentiles”. (Luke 21:24) This began in 70 AD, and lasted at least until 1967. One might even argue that until the Jews recover the Temple Mount, they we are STILL in this time. But the Temple Mount is about to be suddenly recovered – just in time for a SHORT PERIOD of altar worship – and then comes a SECOND “treading down” for 42 months: “the holy city they shall tread under foot”. (Rev. 11:2) So there are TWO events, one being the prelude to the other. Yet to read Luke 21:14 and Revelation 11:2 one might suppose that they refer to the same thing.

Another set of TWO is the TWO MESSIAHS. One represents the TRUE Throne of David, and the other will come as such, but is the “fleshly” throne of David in the earth. The false messiah is “anointed”, so-to-speak, to bring about the end-time judgments against God’s people Israel, including the ‘apostate churches.’ The True Messiah is anointed to bring about the end-time judgments against the dragon and all of his accomplices.

Here is Young’s Literal Translation of Daniel 9:27:

“And he hath strengthened a covenant with many -- one week, and [in] the midst of the week he causeth sacrifice and present to cease, and by the wing of abominations he is making desolate, even till the consummation, and that which is determined is poured on the desolate one.”

I submit that the “one week” when the covenant was strengthened was the “dragon” (Satan) operating through Clinton and Gore, offering Israel a “covenant with death” – but that this was NOT the SEVENTIETH WEEK in the series. Then, when speaking of the “midst of the week”, the prophet is referring to the Seventieth Week. I know it seems far-fetched. So many truths that the Holy Spirit has shown me seem like that at first.

But I KNOW what I KNOW – that we are IN THE MIDST OF THE SEVENTIETH WEEK !!

So WATCH WITH ME – and KNOW that the LORD is doing something MARVELOUS right out in the open for ALL TO SEE! A fantastic DELIVERANCE is about to happen in Israel! A Great Revival is about to happen among the saints!

And WE – IF we will SURRENDER to the HOLY WORK of YHVH in our lives – have the opportunity to be WITNESSES to a world that, through much tribulation, is about to be “born anew”. HALLELUJAH !!

Walk Across America - a prophetic warning to a nation of bloodshed

Scheduled to begin March 1, 2004 in Los Angeles, California

God has used Operation Rescue / Operation Save America as a prophetic witness over the years to city after city in America for over a decade and a half (including Orlando, FL; New Orleans, LA; Buffalo, NY; and Washington, D.C. three days before 9-11, as described in Rusty Thomas' March newsletter, following the Press Statement sent out in January below.

This witness in the past has been to CITIES. Beginning March 1st, in the city of Los Angeles and heading eastward across America, this time, the witness will be to the NATION.

Walk Across America

Starting at the beginning of March, Rev. Flip Benham, National Director of Operation Rescue/Operation Save America and I (Rev. Rusty Lee Thomas), along with my two daughters, Shekinah and Destiny, a donkey, a white horse, an aborted baby, and a ministry team will walk across America as a living parable carrying a prophetic message to America.

This marks our most ambitious effort, our greatest adventure, and most arduous task in service to our Lord Jesus Christ and the unborn made in His image.

When words fail, as they have in the abortion wars, God speaks through parables. Every step of this 3000 mile journey, which will take 6 to 7 months, carries a prophetic word of warning to America. The killing of God's babies in the womb must cease or we will face the increased judgment of a Holy God upon our sin-soaked and blood-stained land.

When King Jesus rides a donkey, He comes in peace. God is merciful and He longs to be gracious to America. He desires to be our friend and great benefactor as He has in our history. However, our many sins and idolatry, such as abortion and sodomy, have grieved God's Spirit and have removed His hand of protection from us. The constant threat of terrorism upon our own soil and the erosion of our liberties is clear evidence of God's displeasure with America.

When King Jesus rides a white horse, He does not come to bring peace, but to make war and bring judgment. America has chosen to kill her babies, now America must choose how she will respond to God's warning. The message is clear, America must stop killing our children or prepare to meet thy God! America, do we want King Jesus to ride a donkey unto us or a white horse? Time is running out and we must decide. For if we persist in killing our children, behold, the white horse is coming and this is the name that is on its side, King of kings and Lord of lords!

March's Newsletter

Sun, 22 Feb 2004

Dear Champion Of The Lord and the Unborn,

The Lord richly bless you! Next week, Flip Benham and I, plus a ministry team will be starting our Walk Across America Prophetic Tour. We are entrusting ourselves to God and setting our face like flint to fulfill this most arduous assignment that God has given us to date. Today, I had the privilege to preach at my Church. I told them that we don't have much of a comfort zone, but what we did have is now been taken away. We are getting ready to launch out into deeper and more uncertain waters than we have ever known. Pastor John Wachsmann, my faithful pastor, laid hands on my family and sent us out to fulfill God's word to America. We are grateful for that blessing. Brethren, pray for us!

IN KING JESUS' SERVICE,
Rusty

WALK ACROSS AMERICA PROPHETIC TOUR
"Son of man, I have made thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore hear the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me. When I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die; and thou givest him not warning, nor speakest to warn the wicked from his wicked way, to save his life; the same wicked man shall die in his iniquity; but his blood will I require at thine hand. Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedness, nor from his wicked way, he shall die in his iniquity; but thou hast delivered thy soul. Again, When a righteous man doth turn from his righteousness, and commit iniquity, and I lay a stumbling block before him, he shall die: because thou hast not given him warning, he shall die in his sin, and his righteousness which he hath done shall not be remembered; but his blood will I require at thine hand. Nevertheless if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous sin not, and he doth not sin, he shall surely live, because he is warned; also thou hast delivered thy soul." (Ezekiel 3:17-21)

We all know it is a dangerous world out there. Turmoil churns from within our nation and threats of terrorism plague us from without. These predicaments are highlighted by our President's new budget proposals that he sent to Congress recently. Two of the most expensive items on his budget are Home Land Security and the Military. Clearly, our government is concerned about what the future may hold for America.

For many in the Church, America's precarious position is a "sign of the times." They view what is happening through the grid of dispensational theology and chalk all this up to the "End Times." Thus the heathen solution to the danger is to "Eat, drink, and be merry for tomorrow we die," while for many in the Church, the solution is to stay sequestered in our churches, sing songs to Jesus, and wait for the chariot of heaven to swing low and remove Christians from this evil mess.

Very few would dare to see this situation as God's remedial judgments upon a spoiled, wicked nation. Very few would consider that our sins, such as abortion, sodomy, and pornography have reached heaven. And fewer still would preach in our seeker friendly churches this message, "In all their affliction he was afflicted, and the angel of his presence saved them: in his love and in his pity he redeemed them; and he bare them, and carried them all the days of old. But they rebelled, and vexed his holy Spirit: therefore he was turned to be their enemy, and he fought against them (Isaiah 63:910)." We would preach with passion the first part of Isaiah's passage that reveals God's great love and saving presence, but God becoming an enemy to His people that fights against them? This is not possible or so we nervously think. I believe this refusal to honestly and Biblically assess our true condition before a Holy God in America is producing the very thing we shudder to recognize.

For many years now, God has used Operation Rescue/Operation Save America as a prophetic witness to different cities throughout America. A little remnant of saints would show up to give God an excuse to show off. In each city, God would watch over His word to perform it with mighty, terrible signs and wonders following. This is just a sampling. In Orlando, we prophesied against the abortion industry, the homosexual agenda being promoted by Disney, and the pedophile books being sold at Barnes and Nobles. We declared that God would judge Orlando just as He judged Sodom and Gomorrah, by raining down fire upon their heads. Butch Berget, our OSA worship leader, sang at every gate we visited this song, "We Serve a God Who Answers by Fire." At the conclusion of the event, Brother Flip Benham called upon me to give the benediction. After the saints of God said "Amen," the entire area went up in flames and burned out of control for over a month.

In New Orleans, however, God blessed the city by arresting the spirit of murder and bringing peace to their streets. Pastor Bill Shanks, one of our national leaders, prophesied that if the abortion mills would shut down while Operation Rescue came into New Orleans, then God Himself would end the plague of murder that was terrorizing his city. At the time, New Orleans was the murder capital of America. Even the police were murdering other police. It was insane. Sure enough, we came into town and every abortion mill shut down. Halfway during the event, the media made mention of the fact that there was a connection between the murder of the innocent in the womb and the escalating violence in the streets. They declared, "Didn't Operation Rescue say that if abortion shut down there would be peace in our streets? That's what they said. Would you know, there hasn't been one murder thus far since they have been here. Incredible!"

In Buffalo, NY, Flip Benham preached from Hosea 4:1,2 which states, "Hear the word of the Lord, ye children of Israel: for the Lord hath a controversy with the inhabitants of the land, because there is no truth, nor mercy, nor knowledge of God in the land. By swearing, and lying, and killing, and stealing, and committing adultery, they break out, and blood toucheth blood." He specifically cried out against the sin of shedding the blood of our children through abortion. He demonstrated from the Scriptures that there was a direct connection between the bloodshed in the womb and the blood coursing down the corridors in our public schools. The next day two disturbed young men walked into their school in Columbine, CO, and without mercy gunned down 13 of their peers and then committed suicide. That night, we had a spontaneous solemn assembly that brought us tearfully down on our faces in the fear of God.

The following is the press statement OSA released after 9/11. "The horrific attack on America today was not a mere coincidence. Reminiscent of accounts in the Old Testament when God used prophets to warn nations of their wicked ways, America has been given its own warnings over the years for the shedding of innocent blood through the horrific practice of abortion. The most recent national rebuke was this past weekend when a prophetic word was spoken to the White House police on Saturday, September 8, 2001.

Rev. Flip Benham, along with 18 other pro-life pastors and leaders from across the nation, gathered in the nation's capital to bring a prophetic warning, that if we continue to sow bloodshed in the womb, we would continue to reap it in ever-increasing horror in our streets.

Standing in front of the White House, praying and proclaiming the prophetic Word of God, these gentle Christians were threatened with arrest. They refused to move, and instead continued to pray for the mercy of God on our nation. As they were given their third and final warning, Benham declared these prophetic words, "No, America! This is your third and final warning!" Then he read from Dt. 32:25, "In the street the sword will make them childless, in their homes terror will reign. Young men and women will perish, infants and gray haired men."

"The Supreme Court of the United States of America declared that children in their mother's wombs were not fully human and therefore were not entitled to the full protection of the laws of our land," said Rev. Benham. "Because of this open rebellion and blatant disregard for the Law of God and for life, our nation is suffering under the remedial judgments of God Himself. Blood is coursing down the corridors of our schools, workplaces and streets. Because we have not hated bloodshed, bloodshed is pursuing us." (Ezekiel 35:6)

After Flip gave God's "Third and Final Warning," he was arrested. I picked up his fallen Bible and told him I had recovered it. He told me in no uncertain terms to open it to Dt. 32:25 and preach. As I did, I stretched out my hand toward the White House and prophetically declared that if America didn't repent immediately of child-killing then God would reduce our economic and military might to dust. Thirty hours after we left Washington DC, the Twin Towers, the symbol of our economic might, and the Pentagon, the symbol of our military might became dust.

There are many other examples that could be mentioned, but this should suffice for now. The reason for this brief history of how God has soberly used Operation Rescue/Operation Save America in times past is to try give understanding of the national implications concerning this Walk Across America Prophetic Tour. In Joshua, the word of the Lord proclaims, "Every place that the sole of your foot shall tread upon, that have I given unto you, as I said unto Moses (Joshua 1:3)." Every step of this three thousand mile journey carries a prophetic parable to our entire nation. The warning we are bringing does not just encompass a city or a region, but our sin-soaked and blood-stained land.

The first station of the walk will be known as JUSTICE. Brother Curtis Fenison, our official OSA shofar blower from North Carolina, will be carrying an aborted baby and a set of the Ten Commandments broken. The broken baby demonstrates the injustice and the broken Commandments of God. Galatians 3:24 declares, "Wherefore the law was our schoolmaster to bring us unto Christ, that we might be justified by faith." Thus following the law of God will be a donkey that I will lead. The donkey will carry a banner that reveals her name, MERCY. The Gospel message between these two stations is undeniable. The Law of God is a schoolmaster to lead us to Christ and the very mercy of God. If however, our nation spurns the goodness of God that leads to repentance, following the donkey trails a white horse led by Rev. Flip Benham. On the horse's side a sword will hang and a banner will read "King of kings and Lord of lords." The horse's name is JUDGMENT.

Prayerfully, you can begin to see the urgency of our obedience to fulfill this arduous task. In our opening passage in Ezekiel, God exhorts the watchmen upon the wall to cry out a warning if they see the sword coming. Flip and I are simply seeking to obey the admonishment of the Lord. We have enough blood on our hands already concerning the babies that have been murdered in our nation under our watch. We don't need to add the blood of the wicked who allowed them to die in the first place. Brethren, pray for us!

Where are My Phinehases

Jeff Wright

Numbers 25:6 6Just then one of the Israelite men brought a Midianite woman into the camp, right before the eyes of Moses and all the people, as they were weeping at the entrance of the Tabernacle.£ 7When Phinehas son of Eleazar and grandson of Aaron the priest saw this, he jumped up and left the assembly. Then he took a spear 8and rushed after the man into his tent. Phinehas thrust the spear all the way through the man's body and into the woman's stomach. So the plague against the Israelites was stopped, 9but not before 24,000 people had died.10Then the Lord said to Moses, 11"Phinehas son of Eleazar and grandson of Aaron the priest has turned my anger away from the Israelites by displaying passionate zeal among them on my behalf. So I have stopped destroying all Israel as I had intended to do in my anger. 12So tell him that I am making my special covenant of peace with him. 13In this covenant, he and his descendants will be priests for all time, because he was zealous for his God and made atonement for the people of Israel." Where are My Phinehases?!

Ezekiel 18:30-31 30"Therefore, I will judge each of you, O people of Israel, according to your actions, says the Sovereign Lord. Turn from your sins! Don't let them destroy you! 31Put all your rebellion behind you, and get for yourselves a new heart and a new spirit. For why should you die, O people of Israel? 32I don't want you to die, says the Sovereign Lord. Turn back and live!Where are My Phinehases? !

Ezekiel 33:10-11 10"Son of man, give the people of Israel this message: You are saying, 'Our sins are heavy upon us; we are wasting away! How can we survive?' 11As surely as I live, says the Sovereign Lord, I take no pleasure in the death of wicked people. I only want them to turn from their wicked ways so they can live. Turn! Turn from your wickedness, O people of Israel! Why should you die? Where are My Phinehases?!

2 Chronicles 7:12- 14 12Then one night the Lord appeared to Solomon and said, "I have heard your prayer and have chosen this Temple as the place for making sacrifices. 13At times I might shut up the heavens so that no rain falls, or I might command locusts to devour your crops, or I might send plagues among you. 14Then if my people who are called by my name will humble themselves and pray and seek my face and turn from their wicked ways, I will hear from heaven and will forgive their sins and heal their land. For why should you die, O people of The USA? Where are My Phinehases?! Many have read the prophetic chatter and are feeling what the Spirit is saying, the Spirit also is saying to His people: Ezekiel 18:30-31 30"Therefore, I will judge each of you, O people of Israel, according to your actions, says the Sovereign Lord. Turn from your sins! Don't let them destroy you! 31Put all your rebellion behind you, and get for yourselves a new heart and a new spirit. For why should you die, O people of Israel? 32 I don't want you to die, says the Sovereign Lord. Turn back and live! The Lord is calling out to those of have made a quality commitment to this path: THE KINGS HIGHWAY

ON THE NARROW KING'S HIGHWAY WE TRAVEL
THE NARROW WAY OF FAITH
THE WAY OF THE CROSS
THE WAY THAT DEMANDS NO SHORTCUTS OR DETOURS
THE WAY THAT THAT LEADS US THROUGH THE LONG HILLS AND VALLEYS
THE WAY THAT MAKES US TOUGH, STRONG AND FIT
THE NARROW WAY THAT BRINGS US INTO HIS REST
THE WAY OF REST WHERE WITH HIM OUR ENEMIES ARE UNDER OUR FEET, AND HIS WILL IS DONE ON EARTH AS IT IS IN HEAVEN.

Many of us are in the season where we are transferring into Christ likeness. We have our own personal character issues in the forefront of our thinking and with a clear conscience before God we are diligently working on them. The Lord is pouring out His Grace to get us over into His Rest to get us over the Jordan.

The Jordan is waiting for me to cross thru,
My heart is aging I can tell
So Lord, I am begging for last one favor from you

Here's my heart
Take it where you will
This life has shown me how were mended and how were torn
How it's O.K. to be lonely
As long as you're free
Sometimes my ground was stony
And sometimes covered up with stones
And only you could make it what it had to be
And now that it's done
If they dressed me like a pauper
Or if they dined me like a prince
If they lay me with my fathers
Or if my ashes scatter on the wind
I don't care
When I leave I want go out like Elijah
With a whirlwind to fuel my chariot of fire
And when I look back on the stars
It' be like a candlelight in Central Park
And it won't break my heart to say good bye. Elijah -Rich Mullins

The Whole Armor of God

10A final word: Be strong with the Lord's mighty power. 11Put on all of God's armor so that you will be able to stand firm against all strategies and tricks of the Devil. 12For we are not fighting against people made of flesh and blood, but against the evil rulers and authorities of the unseen world, against those mighty powers of darkness who rule this world, and against wicked spirits in the heavenly realms.13Use every piece of God's armor to resist the enemy in the time of evil, so that after the battle you will still be standing firm. 14Stand your ground, putting on the sturdy belt of truth and the body armor of God's righteousness. 15For shoes, put on the peace that comes from the Good News, so that you will be fully prepared.£ 16In every battle you will need faith as your shield to stop the fiery arrows aimed at you by Satan.£ 17Put on salvation as your helmet, and take the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God. 18Pray at all times and on every occasion in the power of the Holy Spirit. Stay alert and be persistent in your prayers for all Christians everywhere. We're not fighting people! For we are not fighting against people made of flesh and blood, but against the evil rulers and authorities of the unseen world, against those mighty powers of darkness who rule this world, and against wicked spirits in the heavenly realms. The root is the church let these principalities take a hold and that's why we're at midnight for America! What's done is done. God is calling us to become Phinehases for Him. To stand up and war and pull down these strongholds! So that the good work God started in America will not be for nothing and we won't be thrown away! So that judgments that are coming won't have the scent of Hell, hopelessness! But will cleanse and bring life! Yes Life!

April 30, 1863 Abraham Lincoln:

We know that by His divine law, nations are subjected to punishments in this world. May we not justly fear that this awful calamity of civil war which now so desolates the land may be a punishment inflicted upon us for our presumptuous sins, to the needful end of our national reformation as a whole people. We have been the recipients of the choicest bounties of heaven; we have been preserved these many years in peace and prosperity; we have grown in numbers, wealth and power as no other nation has ever grown. But we have forgotten God. We have forgotten the gracious hand which preserved us in peace and multiplied and enriched and strengthened, us and we have vainly imagined, in the deceitfulness of our hearts, that all these blessing were produced by some superior wisdom and virtue of our own. We have become too self-sufficient to feel the necessity of redeeming and preserving grace, too proud to pray to the God who made us. It behooves us, then, to humble ourselves before the offended Power, to confess our national sins, and to pray for clemency and forgiveness. All this being done in sincerity and truth, let us then rest humbly in the hope authorized by the divine teachings, that the united cry of the nation will be heard on high, and answered with blessings no less than the pardon of our national sins, and the restoration of our now divided and suffering country to its former happy condition of unity and peace.

Hezekiah's Sickness and Recovery2 Kings 20

1About that time Hezekiah became deathly ill, and the prophet Isaiah son of Amoz went to visit him. He gave the king this message: "This is what the Lord says: Set your affairs in order, for you are going to die. You will not recover from this illness." 2When Hezekiah heard this, he turned his face to the wall and prayed to the Lord, 3"Remember, O Lord, how I have always tried to be faithful to you and do what is pleasing in your sight." Then he broke down and wept bitterly. 4But before Isaiah had left the middle courtyard, this message came to him from the Lord: 5"Go back to Hezekiah, the leader of my people. Tell him, 'this is what the Lord, the God of your ancestor David, says: I have heard your prayer and seen your tears. I will heal you, and three days from now you will get out of bed and go to the Temple of the Lord. 6I will add fifteen years to your life, and I will rescue you and this city from the king of Assyria. I will do this to defend my honor and for the sake of my servant David.'"7Then Isaiah said to Hezekiah's servants, "Make an ointment from figs and spread it over the boil." They did this, and Hezekiah recovered!

What if the armies of the Lord Picked up and dusted off their swords Vowed to set the captive free And not let Satan have one more What if the Church for Heaven's sake Finally stepped up to the plate Took a stand upon God's promise and stormed Hell's rusty gates What if his people prayed and those that bare his name Would humbly seek His face And turn from their own way And what would happen if we prayed For those raised up to lead the way Then maybe kids in school could pray AND UNBORN CHILDREN SEE LIGHT OF DAY What if the life that we pursue Came from the hunger for the truth What if the family turned to Jesus Stopped asking Oprah what to do What if his people prayed and those that bare his name Would humbly seek His face And turn from their own way He said that they would hear His promise has been made He'll answer loud and clear If only we would pray If My people called by My name It they'll humble themselves and pray If My people called by My name It they'll humble themselves and pray WHAT IF HIS PEOPLE PRAYED Casting Crowns

MOBILIZE! For we are not fighting against people made of flesh and blood, but against the evil rulers and authorities of the unseen world, against those mighty powers of darkness who rule this world, and against wicked spirits in the heavenly realms. We need to mobilize. We need to coordinate with our own individual networks to pray. Those who have been given a burden and a Godly passion to come against Homosexuality, coordinate with likeminded Christians and come against the spirit of homosexuality in this nation. If you have a burden to come against abortion, network and come against abortion/Molech. Those who have a passion to come against corruption in government, the passion for seeing the children set free, pornography, and all the scourges that has devastated us. Network, coordinate, and pray, get the word out, blow the trumpets, have the spirit of Paul Revere and sound the alarm!

THE GATES OF HELL WILL NOT PREVAIL!

A Prophetic Word For England
August 2, 2004
aguilamo@btinternet.com

"For this is the year that England shall see much upheaval in the political system. I am causing there to be a revamping of those in power as I seek to establish My righteous government. Intercessors I am causing you to pray for your leaders for the enemy has sought to speak ungodly counsel about the direction this nation shall take. It is time to wake up and join together in unity and take back parliament for the Kingdom. Much upheaval is coming and I am causing you, My intercessors to become more aware of the things and decisions made by your Government."

"I am causing there to be a sharpening in discernment about what the enemy is up to concerning his plans for the Government. But know that I am doing this in order that you would get on your knees and pray. Pray against the spirit of abortion seeking to kill My young ones. You have much to pray about and yet many have stood by the sidelines and watched blankly as the enemy has wrecked havoc and has allowed the degradation of human beings in this land through sex, violence, drugs, etc. I have given you the voice to cry out against these things. I am giving you the mantle of grace whereby you will rise up in the Spirit of Prophecy and declare My will for England. Satan cannot stand against My Word and so he will do all in his power to silence you, yet I have raised you up to be a prophetic voice and a trumpet for the nation. If you do not, who shall?

I see some in despair say, "We have prayed and prayed and yet not seen any results." My Beloved prayerful people this is not the time to give up. The enemy's stakes on this land at present are very high and it takes a unified, faith filled prayer of My Body to shatter the strongholds of Satan. I say to watch for spirits of division to attack many churches and ministries who have My mandate to pray because the enemy knows that a victorious church and body comes from a unified body. Stand together in My name with Me as your primary focus and take back your land."

"The Kingdom of the Lord suffers violence and it is indeed the violent who shall take it by force. Do not be deceived. As you stand together in prayer and in proclamation of My word the shift shall occur in the spirit first and then in the natural. I am causing My winds to blow upon the Houses of Parliament.

They shall indeed know that it is I the Lord who has the power to decide the course of this nation and not them. For long have I heard the intercessions and the travailing of My people for revival. Will I ignore their cries? Surely not, for surely now I have been moved to act on behalf of My children in your nation."

"Even now the spiritual foundations of this land are being shaken as My angels are released into the heavenlies to war on behalf of the saints, but the ball is now in your court, saints of God. You cannot afford to relent in your prayers or your praises for now more than ever is the time critical to stand in the gap for England. My shofar is blowing across this land calling My people to awaken. Apostles, Prophets, Teachers, Evangelists, Pastors, People of God this is a call for all My children to come together and cause change to occur through intercession, through prayer, through prophecy, through praise and worship."

"Nothing done in My name is insignificant, for this is the time and this is the season says the Lord where I shall come and shatter the strongholds of the enemy and usher in My Glory as never before. Yes you see these as dark days, but these are also the days when the nation shall facilitate the greatest move of My Spirit if My people get on their knees and pray. Yes prophesy to the east, north, south and west wind that My redemption is coming on a mass scale to hearts open to Me. This and more I will do when My people come together and ask Me for their nation."

"The days before you are dark England, the enemy has plans to cause much destruction, but I have raised My Kingdom army in this land to storm the gates of hell and bring the plans of the enemy to naught. But even in the midst of these days My Glory shall explode and shine upon My Beloved Chosen even as a fulfillment of Isaiah 60. Watch now and pray. Watch and pray says your God. Watch and pray."

War Clouds

Ephraim Frank

Shalom Fellow Israelite,
This week, as the storm clouds of war continue to gather here in the Middle East, we in Israel, along with all the surrounding nations, have been continuing to prepare for war. During the nineties, when the so-called "land for peace" negotiations were in progress, the United States was unloading dozens of Apache helicopters in Israel's Haifa port. At the same time, the Israelis were arming the Palestinian police (cum army) with handguns and assault rifles which have been used against us in the past three and a half years, just as was predicted at the time by those who had foresight. The Arab nations have also been ‘beefing up’ their military arsenals, and at the same time helping smuggle into Lebanon and the Palestinian controlled areas rockets and sophisticated high explosives. These destructive forces have been growing under the umbrella of "peace”, when, to all intents and purposes there was and there is no peace. Anyone who has his spiritual eyes open to the Word of God should be able to discern the times in which we are living. However, sometimes our biblical views have to be fine tuned, as we do not always see clearly.

In the past few months, with the current situation in Israel, some have written, asking if we thought that this was the beginning of the Gog and Magog War. While anything is possible with YHVH, and He will ultimately fulfill His word in His way and in His time, we, who have the Holy Spirit and the scriptures, try as best we can to discern the time and season in which we are living. So with that in mind, let us take a stab at what is happening and attempt to come to some (subject to change) conclusion.

I personally do not believe that this is the time of the Gog and Magog ‘scenario’ for the following reasons: According to Ezekiel 38, which describes the times of YHVH's judgment upon Gog and Magog, that war takes place at a season in which Israel is "dwelling securely" (verses 8,10, 14). The root for the word “securely” here is “ba’to’ach” (b.t.ch), meaning security, quietness, trusting, confidence, while in Aramaic it means to throw one down upon his face. Based on this definition, Israel of the pre-Gog and Magog days will have been humbled by YHVH and will come to trust Him fully. In verse 8 we read that the war takes place at the time during which the land is restored from the sword (war) and a remnant of Israelites, who have been gathered from the nations, are living on the mountains of Israel (Judea and Samaria) in a state of trust and confidence in YHVH. It seems that this condition can only come to pass after the prophetic fulfillment of Ezekiel 34-37. This is one of the main reasons for this sequel of chapters (that is, events), which climaxes in chapter 38.

Chapter 34 focuses on the condition of the lost sheep of the House of Israel. The shepherds, or leaders, of the political and religious systems are seen as “feeding themselves” (v.2), and “eating the fat and clothing themselves with the wool” (v.3.). They dominate the flock with harshness, manipulating and controlling them for their own purposes. They do not strengthen the sick, nor do they bind up the wounded. They do not protect those under their charge from the beasts of the field (which could mean demons), but leave them to run wild over the mountains fleeing to the high places, and do not even bother to look for them, and when they do happen to find any, they pen them up in their earthly institutions for the purpose of serving their own interests. This seems to be the condition of the lost sheep of Israel today. However, there is a remnant that the Shepherd of Israel, Yeshua, is calling out. This remnant He will bring back to the land and to the mountains of Israel to graze in good pastures (v.13-14).

Chapters 35 and 36 describe Israel as having some problems with Esau from Mount Seir (see Ez 35:2,12; 36:2). The latter, together with some of his sons and cousins from the surrounding nations, are allying themselves (see Ps. 83), planning to stake a claim upon the mountains of Judea and Samaria and proclaim ownership over them (35:10). Thus, they are ridiculing Israel, saying: “Aha, the everlasting heights belong to us and have become our possession” (36:2). But YHVH will speak in

His jealousy and in His wrath against all the surrounding nations (36:5). He will gather them together, and will have them pound their agricultural equipment into military hardware. Then He will bring them down to the Valley of Jehosaphat (meaning, “His judgment”), and there He will judge them for dividing up His land and for the violence done to the sons of Judah (Jews; ref. Joel 3:2, 9-12,19).

At about this time period YHVH will lift up His standard, and recover a second time the banished ones of Ephraim and the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth. Ephraim’s jealousy towards Judah will depart, and Judah’s enemies will be cut off, as together they will swoop down on the slopes of the ‘Philistines’ and plunder the sons of the east (Edom and Moab), and even the tongue of Egypt will be destroyed (Is.11:11-15). As mentioned above, the prophet Joel, who also foresaw this, concludes that the destruction resulting from this war of YHVH’s judgments will fall on the surrounding nations.

Because the Ephraimites help Judah during this war with the surrounding nations, they will return and possess portions of Samaria, Lebanon and Gilead (Zech.10:7-10), and the nations all around will be subject to them. There will even be a highway from Assyria for the remnant of His flock (Isa. 11:16). YHVH will establish the throne of David over the united Israel, and Yeshua their Shepherd and Messiah will rule over them and prove Himself holy in them. He will make a covenant of peace with them and pour clean water upon them. YHVH will also give them His Spirit, so that they will walk in His ordinances and keep His statues and observe them (Ez. 37:21-28). They will live securely for a thousand years, as Yeshua will rule the nations with a rod of iron through this royal priesthood and holy nation. Thus, all the nations will know that YHVH is the one who sanctified Israel, when His dwelling place is in their midst, for they will be living securely and no one will make them afraid. (Ez. 34:28).

It is at the end of this period that YHVH causes Gog and Magog to take note of His people, who are living securely. Now let us pick up the narrative from Revelation 20:7-8: “And when the thousand years are expired, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison, and shall go out to deceive the nations which are in the four quarters of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battle.” What thousand years is John speaking about? Is he not referring directly to the chapter that precedes Ezekiel 38, the chapter that deals with the two trees, Israel and Judah, who are living securely under one kingdom authority of YHVH their God, and Messiah Son of David, as one nation in a land that was given to their forefathers, and are now no longer at strife with the surrounding nations?

The big question that is usually asked at this time goes something like this: “Is the Messiah physically present during the thousand years, or is His presence the indwelling of the Spirit of Holiness, ruling in and through His redeemed people?”

Because I see through a smoky class, my understanding of this could change in light of progressive revelation.
I wish you a Shabbat Shalom with a warm cyber hug.

Warfare
Ephraim Frank

Shalom Fellow Israelite,
In one of the most frequently used end-time scriptures (Ezekiel 37), an entire nation is described being raised from graves of nonexistence and transformed into a mighty army. For what purpose has this army been resurrected? Who does this army consist of? What kind of war is it to be fighting? Is it standing on its feet today, being clothed again with its own identity as the prophet foretold? "So I prophesied as he commanded me, and the breath came into them [the dry bones of the whole house of Israel], and they lived, and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army" (Ezekiel 37:10).

There is a phenomenon happening in the earth today, the lost tribes of Israel known by their generic name of Ephraim, are reappearing out of every nation, tribe and people group in the earth. This is just a very small remnant of the multitudes that are still waiting in the wings, or should I say still under YHVH's prophetic wing. As far as I know, at this point in time they are all coming out of some kind of Christian background although according to the prophets they are hidden in every nation. They are carrying birthmarks of the faith of their father Abraham, their Messiah is Yeshua/Jesus and the anointing (breath) of the Spirit of Holiness is upon them. But why "an army"? Who have these ones been sent to fight? Paul the Apostle gives some clear instructions to this army, when he tells them that: "For though we walk in the flesh, we do not war after the flesh: For the weapons of our warfare are not carnal, but mighty through Elohim to the pulling down of strong holds; casting down imaginations, and every high thing that exalts itself against the knowledge of Elohim, and bringing into captivity every thought to the obedience of Messiah" (2 Cor 10:3-5). And, "For we do not wrestle against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this age, against spiritual hosts of wickedness in the heavenly places" (Eph 6:12).

This Army is to be suited with armor, a sword and shield: "Therefore take up the whole armor of Elohim, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and having done all, to stand. Stand therefore, having girded your waist with truth, having put on the breastplate of righteousness, and having shod your feet with the preparation of the gospel of peace; above all, taking the shield of faith with which you will be able to quench all the fiery darts [thoughts] of the wicked one. And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of Elohim" (Eph 6:13-17). This army's Captain, Leader and King has come to destroy the works of the Devil and all his hosts: "For this purpose the Son of Elohim was manifested, that He might destroy the works of the devil" (1 John 3:8), and now He is preparing this army to accomplish this mission. Each soldier must respond by likewise preparing himself for the battle for dominion in the heavenlies.

Satan knows YHVH's kingdom order in the family of Adam and Noah, as it has already been laid out in the first book of the Tanach (Old Testament). This Israelite army from the House of Judah and from the House of Israel/Ephraim, will be his main target, as the enemy knows that if they come together as one nation with one King, he will be defeated globally and YHVH's dominion through this one nation will be over all of humanity.

The Ephraimites are the priesthood of the Melchizedec army and their sanctification unto holiness is essential. This is the first step into a corporate responsibility to rule in the heavenly places in and through our Messiah Yeshua. Here is what Yeshua says to the seven congregations:

"And he who overcomes, and keeps My works until the end, to him I will give power over the nations -- 'He shall rule them with a rod of iron; They shall be dashed to pieces like the potter's vessels' -- as I also have received from My Father; and I will give him the morning star" (Rev 2:26-28).

"To him who overcomes I will grant to sit with Me on My throne, as I also overcame and sat down with My Father on His throne" (Rev. 3:21).

These scriptures were written to the congregations living outside the Land, but the qualifying mark is "He who has an ear, let him hear what the Spirit says to the all seven congregations" (Rev. 3:21-22).

We need an ear to hear like never before. “Hear oh Israel” is not just for the Jews, but also for all Israel, especially for the Redeemed Ephraimites. We are given a window of time to consecrate ourselves as His priests, cleansing ourselves from all filthiness of flesh and spirit. “Therefore, having these promises, beloved, let us cleanse ourselves from all filthiness of the flesh and spirit, perfecting holiness in the fear of Elohim” (2 Cor 7:1). Who are we waiting for in order to accomplish this sanctification? Peter says that YHVH has already given to us everything for life and godliness: “As His divine power has given to us all things that pertain to life and godliness, through the knowledge of Him who called us by glory and virtue, by which have been given to us exceedingly great and precious promises, that through these you may be partakers of the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust” (2Pet. 1:3-4).

Perfecting holiness is not some abstract and distant scriptural concept. He is already in us, as His life is our life. The Spirit of the Holy One is just waiting for us to defeat our enemy by repenting from cooperating with it, and resisting it by believing and obeying the Truth.

We are not in basic training - we are in “on the job training” as Yeshua’s soldiers. Our weapons are not carnal, but we need to learn to use them. Ignorance is no excuse as - we have His Spirit and military manual. This warfare does not have to be sought for; it will come to you and is right in our own backyard where lust and various other thoughts gather to play. As we head into this Shabbat remember “Let [us] the set apart ones, be joyful in glory; let them [us] sing aloud on their [our] beds [a resting place]. Let the high praises of Elohim be in their [our] mouth, and a two-edged sword in their [our] hand…” (Ps. 149:5-6).

Preparation

I was awoken suddenly one night to the sound of what I thought was the alarm. I immediately got my towel and headed for the shower, thinking it was morning. Unbenounced to me, it was only 1am in the morning and I had only been asleep for close to two hours. I should have realised it was night but I didn't. For example, in our house we have massive glass doors leading to outside which I had to pass, so I should have known it was night time. However, by the time I realised I was in the shower. When I finally realised it was dark and my instant reaction was "what am I doing up?" Within a split second after I realised it was not my alarm clock that had woken me but it was the Lord. I saw a picture of an angel, approximately 5 feet tall blowing a trumpet in my ear. I realised as well that at the time I was dreaming of angels blowing trumpets and I had woken up being startled. If it had been my alarm I would not have been startled, because I am use to my alarm clock. Straight away the Lord spoke to me "purify yourself for I want to talk with you." Instantly the fear of the Lord struck me and from then continued all night. The only way I could describe this is like a trembling in spirit, which to some degree was also making me tremble in my body as well.

I got out of the shower and went straight to my room and looked at my alarm clock. It was still set for 8am in the morning. It definitely had not gone off. Straight away in the spirit I saw the angel and he smiled at me. Without actually speaking to me, he basically communicated to me, "you need to go quickly to the prayer room for the Lord is waiting." Perhaps I just knew this as soon as I saw the angel, I am not sure.

As soon as I was in the Prayer room (I live with another intercessor and our lounge room was used usually once a day for prayer & worship), I opened the Bible to the book of revelations chapter 8 and began reading about the seven trumpets. I felt it was significant that I had been woken up by the sound of a trumpet blast.

What I noticed about reading the chapter was this: The first six trumpets were not in anyway nice, but at the end if the chapter there is a reason given why these things happened.

Revelation 8:20 The rest of mankind that were not killed by the plagues STILL did not repent of the work of their hands, they did not stop worshipping demons, the idols of gold, silver, bronze, stone and wood - idols that cannot see or hear or walk. Nor did they repent of their murders, their magic arts, their sexual immorality, or their thefts."

Straight away, I felt the voice of the Lord saying to me, "we are entering a new season."

Part 1: Mayhem in North Brisbane Suddenly I had a vision. I was in the same house, in a suburb in a city called Redcliffe, which is just north of Brisbane. There was a few of us in the house, and we were crammed together in a room as if we were afraid of something. I could hear lots of commotion.

Suddenly I was looking at the street from the top of our roof. What I saw was devastating.

It was like rioting. There were people going into houses, smashing down the doors and windows, trying to get inside in order that they could loot, murder, rape or pillage. There were people running everywhere, as if chaos, but one lady in particular I can still remember watching. Her front door had been broken down and people were still inside her house looting it. She was outside trying to run for life, but behind her was a demon who was tormenting her. The demon had his hands on her shoulders and was tormenting her and laughing, because she was trying to get free in order to run, but he was simply playing with her. She could not get away. But where was she going to run to anyway? In desperateness she was trying to get somewhere for shelter, but the situation was the same in every single place in the street. In fact the only place that hadn't yet been attacked was our house. People were running away from people who were trying to kill them, others were still looting, there was shouting, screaming and the sound of car alarms going off. I saw one woman clearly but out of the corner of my eyes I could see all the rest of this going on.

The vision changed back to the house. All five people had retreated to the back of our house into what was then was my bedroom, and were kneeling and desperately praying. It was all we could do. Pray and hope no one enters the house. That somehow they bypass the house. I never saw anyone enter our house and at this point the vision changed.

Before I explain the next vision, I get two senses about that vision. One is the demon was actually a person, but I saw what was going on the spirit. In other words it was a demonically driven person who was tormenting the woman, and he was part of a demonically driven army or group of people who were reeking havoc. The Lord did not reveal whether this was an invasion, civil war or rioting over an issue. Honestly God did not reveal this. They reminded me almost of pirates and the scene was much like scenes from movies where pirates move in on a town and destroy it.

The other sense I got was that this was not just Redcliffe. I doubt it just Brisbane, or south-east Queensland either. I did not see anywhere past my street, but I get the impression this was not one off.

Part 2: Melbourne under attack

Again the vision changed. I saw a picture of the night sky over a city being lit up with green flashes as missiles were hitting the city. It was as though I was looking at the television pictures through night vision, of an air-raid on a city. It reminded me of some the pictures I had seen during desert storm. At the time there were tensions building up again between Iraq and the United States. So my immediate thought was "this is Bagdad" and I looked down at my paper ready to write it. However in an instant, I knew in my whole being that this was not an overseas city. It was an Australian city. It was Melbourne.

Like some of the people who received visions in the Bible, immediately after seeing both visions I became worried in spirit. Like Daniel I was terrified. But this was no spirit of fear. I wasn't scared of my own safety, just worried for my nation. I immediately went to prayer and pleaded before God for my nation. I had never thought or imagined this could happen in my nation, and I was scared for the nation. The entire night I kept getting a word "an army from the north." I will make you aware though that I had previously heard second hand that someone had prophesied an invasion from the north. So I had heard this sometime before.

I stayed up all night as my mind was worried and I said to the Lord that he needed to confirm this to me. That morning for the first time I began watching some of the Christian shows from approximately 4:30am. The first show I saw was on Biblical prophecy. I turned it on and about 10 seconds after I turned it on, the host began talking about the Prophet Joel, and reading from Joel 1:5- 12. This to me was confirmation. Again Benny Hinn was on, and whilst I can't quite remember his exact wording, in one of his prayers he specifically mentioned words that became a confirmation to me.

Conclusion

I wrote what had happened on paper at the time. The date I am writing into the computer is the 4th of November 2004. In other words it has taken me a year and a half to write this. This is the first vision I have held onto to test whether it is the Lord. I believe that it was the Lord who visited me that night, and whilst he never gave any real application to the vision, the fact that God showed me revelations 8:20 first and the reason for the trumpet blasts, suggests to me that repentance is a key. I cannot speak what I have not heard, and I cannot say what I have not seen, thus I have tried to recount everything I have seen with as much detail as possible. I honesty don't know whether these events are set in concrete and cannot be changed, or whether by repentance they can be averted. As one person said to me recently it was like a glimpse into the future.

May God bless you and keep you and make his face to shine upon you,

And be gracious unto us!

War!

Kriston Couchey

Nov. 19, 2004
War is here. Many have come up against obstacles that oppose further advance. These obstacles have as their source demonic forces that are intent on stopping what God is doing, and if possible to destroy it.
This war is over freedom to enter into our own spiritual places, anointing, and destinies. It is a battle for the sons of God to be revealed and for the likeness and character of God to be manifest in those born of His Spirit.
Strongholds of fear, deception, and control will be demolished and those held captive will be free. Be sure that even the people being used by Satan as instruments of war and captivity ARE NOT the enemy. The souls of ALL men are what we fight for.

As you see the outward signs of turmoil and skirmish increase, know that the real battle is being fought in the heavenlies by those who are establishing freedom and victory for themselves and for others.

Warning Rulers Of The Earth

Lou Engle

I recently had what I believe is a profound prophetic experience. I was preaching in an African American church in San Francisco when a tall man and his entourage entered the room. With every eye on him, he made his way to the front row and sat down. I did not know who he was, but after I finished preaching, the pastor introduced him as the mayor of San Francisco! He then asked me to pray for him. The Spirit of the Lord stirred me with conviction and agitation as I stretched out my hand to him and prayed forcefully, "God, I thank you that all earthly government is derived from your heavenly government. Therefore, let this man know that he will be held accountable for everything he does in this city under the government of God. In Jesus' name. Amen."

Three weeks later, this same man, Gavin Newsome, mayor of San Francisco, was on the front page of every newspaper in America, having ignited the same sex marriage firestorm in America by instructing city clerks to issue gay marriage licenses.

Sent to Warn Our Leaders

As I pondered this amazing 'coincidence', God gripped me with the conviction that He had sent me to warn this man in the spirit of Psalm 2:10, "Therefore, you kings, be wise, be warned you judges of the earth. Serve the LORD with fear and rejoice with trembling. Kiss the Son, lest he be angry and you be destroyed in your way."

This warning was not for Mayor Newsome alone, but prophetically represents leaders and politicians everywhere. I believe it is a prophetic picture of the Church's role in this hour; to stand for righteousness and justice and to soberly warn those in authority who would pass laws that hold the Law of God in contempt. The same-sex marriage issue transcends political differences and touches on the very foundations of society.

A Clash of World Views

In this confrontation, I felt that God was thrusting me again, as in 2000, into the spiritual and cultural battle for our nation. These upcoming elections are not about the war or the economy, but about the titanic clash of worldviews - one which can still call evil 'evil' and good 'good' because it is founded on a biblical worldview espoused by our forefathers - and the other based on relativity, where ethics are vague and absolute truth does not exist.

Let us be very clear on this: God is neither a Republican nor a Democrat. He stands alone, above all governments of men, unmoved by the raging sea of history. He judges nations, and He does not ask kings and presidents for their opinion. Instead, He holds them accountable to carry out His unchanging Law lest they come under His wrath, as Psalms 2 reminds us.

God instituted human government to bring order to society and to restrain violence. Romans 13: 3-4 tells us, the government should hold no terror for the blameless, since it bears the sword to punish evildoers. However, when governments become renegade, they cross their own boundaries and use that sword against the innocent. Through legalized abortion, over 40 million American babies have been terrorized in the womb since 1973. Yet the church still votes for those who sanction this atrocity!

Through our votes, we are guilty before God of making alliances with governments whose laws enshrine evil, particularly the evil of shedding innocent blood, the ultimate moral offense.

America at the Crossroads

In a few short months, America will vote again and the stakes are even higher this time. The outcome of this election will shape America's judicial future for decades to come. The next President of the United States of America will almost certainly decide the fate of legalized abortion and whether millions of innocent lives will continue to be taken 'legally' in our country.

Chief Justice Rehnquist, appointed 32 years ago by Nixon, is now 80. Justice Stevens, a liberal, is 84 years old. Justices O'Connor and Ginsburg are 74 and 71 years old, respectively. Any of these pro-choice Justices could vacate their seats during the next 4 years, due to illness, death or retirement.

In 2000, in Stenberg v. Carhart, the U.S. Supreme Court - by a narrow 5-4 vote - struck down a Nebraska abortion ban. This five-member pro-choice majority would be overthrown by the appointment of just one new Justice, potentially by the next president!

In January 2004, we officially closed The Call offices, having fulfilled our mandate from the Lord for that season. However, our country and our leaders remain in desperate need of prayer, now more than ever. In fact, I believe that we are at a place of far greater crisis than we were in 2000. This is not hype or rhetoric, but a sober assessment of our national condition.

In the four short years since The Call DC, America has endured the horrors of 9/11 and fought two wars that continue to claim lives.

The nation and the church are buckling under an escalating spiritual and moral crisis, punctuated by events such as the removal of the Ten Commandments from the Alabama courthouse, the Catholic Church sex abuse scandals and the ordination of a practicing homosexual, given a place of prominence and spiritual authority within the Body of Christ as an Episcopal Bishop. Last month, Massachusetts (home state of Sen. John Kerry) became the first state in our nation's 200 year history to recognize homosexual marriage in bold defiance of the law of God.

Governmental House of Prayer

In light of these things, I am compelled, as never before, by the word the Lord spoke to me, "Raise up a House of Prayer that will contend with every other house."

Now is time for a House of Prayer that will contend for the government of our land!

We believe God is calling for 120 young Nazirites to come to Colorado Springs for 50 days of day and night worship and intercession. We're inviting thousands more to join them at this 24/7 Governmental House of Prayer at the Navigator's Facility from July 10 to August 28, 2004.

This will be no easy walk in the park.
It will be intense. Each student will be expected to give eight hours a day or night. Many will go on extended fasts. The night watches will be as important as the day battles.

I am asking for worship teams that can carry the fire of worship. There will be two-hour shifts for devotion and spiritual refreshing. Then we will follow the Lord again into the battle for the elections, for the courts of our nation and the overturning of Roe v. Wade, for a great youth awakening, for the ending of the Iraq war and for a powerful move of the Holy Spirit in the homosexual communities of America.

While many are convinced that George Bush somehow 'stole' that election, we believe it was the prayers of the church which ultimately decided the outcome of that struggle, as God intervened in human affairs in response to our intercession. Many ministries, including The Call DC, called for extended fasting and prayer during that time and perhaps as many as 1 million people went on a 21-day fast.

It is clear that this coming election will be just as bitterly fought and just as closely won by whomever triumphs.

I believe this is the hour for thousands of young people to come to Colorado Springs to shake the heavens over America for 50 days! Will you help us do this - through your prayers and by giving generously to this cause? Thank you in advance for joining us in this battle.

Power To Change A Nation
Lou Engle

Who will stand for justice and righteousness in this day and age?

Judges 17:6 - "In those days, there was no king in Israel. Everyone did what was right in their eyes."

This is a verse for today. But what do you call it when everybody just does what is right in their own eyes? We call it Pluralism. Pluralism is the belief that all truths are equally valid. It is the absence of absolute truth. It's the same thing as Relativism. It's a rejection of truth.

And what are we without truth? If there is no truth, is there any real basis for law? Is there any real basis for history? Is there any framework at all for our existence? What is man, but the search for truth?

Law and History are crucial for us to understand if we are going to live together in any kind of society. Without law there is anarchy, without history there is ignorance.

A people without history are easily swayed. Just look at Germany shortly before the rise of Hitler.

That is why we are seeing such a battle being fought in the universities over history. There are those who want to rewrite the events of the past and put their own fingerprint on them. They want their professors to teach their history, with a "spin" that is more favorable to their point of view. It is a complete lack of respect for truth. It's the same as saying, "My politics are not an extension of my beliefs." But where will pluralism lead us if we do not resist? Pluralism leads to anarchy, and anarchy leads to tyranny. That is why the election of George Bush is so crucial this November. Without God's righteous man in the White House, anarchy will begin in the streets of America, and the government will respond by taking away our freedoms.

"Alternative lifestyles" will be taught to your children in schools, and the moral foundations of this nation will completely collapse.

These aren't scare tactics to try and rouse you to participate in my agenda. These are the beginnings of judgment coming upon this land. If Bush doesn't deal with abortion and the injustice in the courts, America will be under a curse.

God is the same yesterday, today, and tomorrow. His ways do not change. Look all throughout the Old Testament and you will see that time after time He was forced to bring judgment in the face of blatant immorality. Abortion, injustice, gay marriage: if these things are not immoral, then what is?

But the Pluralist view is that these things are all right, as long as they don't hurt anybody else. So the sin and immorality takes root and begins to spread across the land, forcing God to react.

But it doesn't have to come to that. The church can stand for justice. The church can stand for righteousness. If the church will stand today, it can save millions of lives.

Called to Accomplish His Purposes

It's easy to get discouraged. It's easy to look at the secular world and the prevailing Pluralistic viewpoint, and say, "How can we ever find any common ground?" Society has become polarized. Polarization - we're in it, and the church must rise and provide a voice! We don't need to find common ground. The bride of Christ needs to stand for truth, without compromise or apology.

So what are we really talking about here? Nothing less than revolution... A revolution of holiness, justice, and righteousness. A spirit-led, spirit-empowered Jesus revolution.

Ultimately, this isn't about politics, it isn't about economics...it's about moral standards and truth. These are the foundations for any successful society. Even early Rome was built on moral foundations and on a hunger for truth. But those moral foundations were eroded, and they became corrupt. It is no different than what we are seeing today, and if the church doesn't act - if it doesn't vote and pray - then we will suffer the same fate as the Romans.

Nobody thought that Rome could fall, but it was so eaten away by corruption on the inside, that it couldn't stand in the face of Barbarian invaders. That is why the decisions we make today are crucial for tomorrow. America must be ruled by an agenda that promotes life. But if we let an agenda that promotes death, an agenda that favors addiction to drugs, homosexuality, assisted suicide, and abortion, not to mention pornography and sexual immorality, then we invite judgment, and the destiny that God has laid before this nation will be aborted.

We can sit in the Book of Revelations, comfortable in our Eschatology, and not having faith that we can actually accomplish anything in these last days, the whole time bemoaning that we were ever born, or we can pray, we can restrain. Yes the Anti-Christ will come, but until his appointed time comes, we can hold him back.

Why else does God have a church in the earth in this day and age, but to accomplish His purposes? Why else are we here, but to find the lost, and to pray for our God-ordained leaders?

The Call School joined me on the Cherokee Trail of Tears this fall, and since then, we have seen huge things accomplished for the Kingdom of God in the First Nations communities.

God wants to direct His church how to pray. He wants to give us authority to shift things in the heavens. John the Baptist said, "Man can receive nothing unless it has been given to him by heaven." So it comes down to hearing God, and it comes down to being available to pray as He directs.

Mobilizing Prayer To Change a Nation

Where two or more are in agreement, we can ask anything in the name of Christ and it will be given to us. But we're not just talking about two or three intercessors. We are talking about huge mobilization. We are mobilizing all 50 states to pray for a shift in government on Labor Day. We are urging the church to pray for President Bush to be re-elected. Imagine if each state just brings 10,000 to pray. That's half a million praying all at once. Imagine assaulting the heavens with the power of 500,000 fellow believers behind you. Who knows? We may even get as many as 5 million.

But we can't just stop at praying for the President and our government. We have to pray for our schools. The universities in this country are governmental. We need to have righteousness taught in our schools again. We need to have righteous professors in our schools.

That's why we are going to be mobilizing on college campuses. Already the mobilization has started on campuses like San Jose State in Northern California. We're going to be establishing Houses of Prayer on campuses all across the state, and eventually all across this nation, commissioning the youth to pray and turn back the tide of unrighteousness on their campuses and all across the country.

A Prophetic Generation For Such a Time As This

The youth are crucial to this. This upcoming prophetic generation has a special anointing to break the back of abortion. God has brought them into this world for such a time as this. But there is even more that we must do if we are to win this struggle for the soul of our nation. We have to get outside the four walls of our church buildings and take Christ out onto the streets. We are in the process of linking arms with a ministry called Saving Arrows. What Saving Arrows does is they send young girls out to abortion clinics, not to protest, but to minister to the hurting girls who are going to get abortions. These young girls look for opportunities to abort the abortions, speaking life and sharing the love of Christ with those who need it most. And God has anointed them to save the lives of their generation.

By confronting immorality on the streets, and in the prayer room, we hit the schemes of the enemy with a two-pronged attack, and we will begin to see much more success than ever before. California Senator Barbara Boxer - a leading abortion advocate - was recently quoted as saying that, "Abortion is hanging by a thread," and now we're even seeing Roe vs. Wade challenged in a court in Louisiana. If this doesn't give you faith that this nation can be turned back to God, and that the church can move in power and authority in this day and age, then what will?

War Prophecies

Thomas Gibson

2001 09 13.1
After getting over the initial shock on Tuesday I had begun to question the Lord about the terrorist attack on the USA. To my knowledge no prophet, including me, had prophesied about this specific event. I wanted to know how this fits into the prophetic picture.

Early on the morning of September 13, about 2:00 a.m., God woke me out of my sleep and began to reveal to me a link between an event and prophecy that occurred years ago. During this revelation in my spirit I had this feeling of dread on me. I believe this was the dread referred to in the prophecy. The revelation in my spirit went on for over an hour as God continually emphasized the facts over and over.

I had forgotten about this particular prophecy until the Lord reminded me of it that night. Below is the prophecy that God referred too.

The great dread against the United States came in December of 1998 when they invaded Iraqi airspace to bomb Iraqi targets. That dread upon the United States shall not leave until the United States has suffered a severe blow-- more than once, says the Lord.

The Lord revealed to me in this time that if the USA had not attacked Iraq in December of 1998 this event would not have taken place. It was mainly that attack that the terrorist's used to justify their actions. The Lord made it clear to me that He was not saying that Iraq was behind this; nor was the Lord saying that they were not. He was not revealing to me who was behind it, but that the attack by the US spurred on the terrorists to take the action that they did.

The Lord showed me that the US attack on that day (in Dec. 1998) set in motion a series of events of which this is the first major occurrence. Many other occurrences will occur, and all of this will lead to extreme trouble for the United States of America.

In Dec. of '98 when I gave you that prophecy concerning the fact that the United States entered Iraq without My blessing, I stated there will be repercussions that would eventually lead to a great war. [Several prophecies in Dec. '98 and two later that refer to Dec. '98 give what the Lord noted to above: 1998 12 17.1; 1998 12 23.1; 1998 12 23.3; 1998 12 24.1; 1999 01 08.1; 1999 01 09.1; these prophecies are available on my web page] They have now, again, followed those repercussions to the place where they cannot escape save I intervene to allow them to escape. This would only happen upon their repentance. The nation has not repented and so it shall go forth.

They shall fight in Afghanistan. And they shall have a difficult time. And every time that they think they have made progress they will find a huge price for that progress. Terrorism will not stop. I will allow it to continue, says the Lord. Every step they make will cost them dearly. And if they do not step, it will cost them dearly anyway. For terrorism will still move forward.

They have stepped into a sin in which repentance is the only way out, and things will get steadily worse. My hand will see that it happens. Save that they repent, they are in serious trouble and heading for worse. So says the Lord.

There will be many more attacks on the United States, some from above, some from the ground; but they shall continue, says the Lord.

2001 12 06.1
This word of the Lord comes as a result of the nation of America and its attempts to get back with Me. For they have used My Name, says the Lord, but their heart is not toward Me. They have gone to church, but they love their money. They have sought everything but truth.

The nation of America wallows in sin. The nation of America seeks its own way. The nation of America continues its evil: for it murders the unborn child, it loves money, it loves its power, and it gives the credit for all its power to themselves.

Where did I come from, saith the Lord? Did not I raise the nation? Did not I raise it up? For they have loved their love and their love was the love of the earth, the love of satan, the love of evil. They have sought the sins of the earth and I will judge them. This is not a time to sit back and say the terrorists have gone. This is the time to stand up for the terrorists are here, standing at the door!!

Stand and beware America shall be judged. Had they repented, truly I would turn and deliver them. But less than one in a thousand of those who use the name christian are truly serving Me, saith the Lord, less than one in a thousand.

So many play religious games. So many call themselves Christian. So many seek to play a game. But I look on the heart, saith the Lord. I look to see whom they are dedicated too: to the god of this earth which is satan, or to the God of heaven which is Me. Listen, saith the Lord, I will bring America to its knees. It will take several years, but it will happen; save they repent and turn I will bring it to its knees.

America has sought evil. America has sought evil over and over and over. They produce more sin than any other nation. They have not only murdered the unborn child, they have taken My Name out of schools, they don't give Me the credit for raising them up, they are slowly turning away from My nation Israel, and they are producing pornography at an incredible rate--and they call themselves a Christian nation. THERE IS NOTHING CHRISTIAN ABOUT IT!! They are evil through and through! And I will deal with them as I have always dealt with nations of evil! So says the Lord!

As I was praying the Lord showed me the following in my spirit. I could see President Bush from his left side sitting at a desk or table. He was saying, "We must get Saddam Hussein, we must get Saddam Hussein." (He said it twice).

As I watched he signed some type of paper. But he signed it with his left hand from the right to the left--just as the Arabic language is written. He signed this twice. I could not tell if he was signing two papers one above the other, or twice on the same page.

Then the Lord gave me this word. Thus says the Lord, these two statements by Bush, plus the two signatures, indicate each two agreements with Arabic nations. These two agreements are compromises by Bush in order to get permission to go into Iraq.

When he signs them, says the Lord, this will create ruffled feathers both in America and in Arabic areas as they find out what is agreed too; which will not be done until some time later.

The first agreement [see 2002 08 18.1] the American President will make with the Arabic nations is to strongly support a Palestine state in the West Bank.

The second agreement will be their right to the capital of Jerusalem. The U.S. President will then backtrack on these two agreements creating trouble on both sides--first to the right wing American politics, and then to the Arabic states.

2002 10 23.1
While I was in prayer I could see in my spirit President Bush as I had seen him earlier [see 2002 08 18.1]. I watched him signed again. But this time it continued and I saw him lean back in his chair and say, "I will do anything to get into Iraq." Then the Lord gave me this word: For thus saith the Lord. What you have seen is right. He has said it, and he has meant it.

2002 11 1.1
For thus says the Lord. America is due judgment. My hook is in Bush's nose to pull him into war with Iraq. And when he goes to war, America will be judged in a great way. For thus says the Lord. America, America why have you forsaken Me?

2003 01 19.1
Thus saith the Lord, I am that I am. The I Am has stated that judgments shall come. But when I delay such wrath do not think it shall not occur.

I have mercy and I delay My wrath on the U.S. in order that they might repent, but they have not. After 9/11 much prayer was made, but not to repentance, but rather to protection. Have they not understood that with repentance goes My protection? I have given them much time to turn from their sins, but they have not. Instead they now go on toward their destruction.

In my spirit I could see Saddam Hussein. As I looked at him I could see his heart come up before me. In it I could see an image of Hussein saying, "I am god." He said it several times.

2003 03 28.1
As America's invasion of Iraq in the '98 bombing brought about September 11 [see prophecies 2001 09 13.1 and 2002 11 1.1], so too will this invasion into Iraqi soil bring terrorism on American soil. I have purposed in My heart that America shall be judged--and so it shall.

2003 06 1.1
Thus says the Lord. Those wicked men and women who will create a statehood for Palestinians will be judged along with those nations who support it.

Also, says the Lord, I will defend My Nation Israel from the evil of this new state. When it is here, and created by men and satan, you will see that I have used it to bring My people to their knees in repentance and recognition of the Saviour and Messiah.

Then I will judge that state of Palestine and remove it. So says the Lord.

2003 06 3.1
A spirit of anti-semitism will rise in the U.S. beginning right now.

2003 06 3.2
In the days to come it will be up to the church to stand for Israel. It is those true Christians that will stand and defend Jews against their enemy.

In the days to come it will be those true Christians that defend My people. Those who do not defend them are not of Me, saith the Lord. So it is that it will be easy to see who is of Me and who is not.

There is a movement in the spiritual realm to bring strong discrimination against the Jews in America. This movement of satan will be strong, not only in the world but also in the church.

Those who have stood on the spiritual line, trying to be a "Christian" when their heart is far from it, will be revealed. Go look in the churches in the months to come and see if those who call themselves Christian can stand up and defend My people, the Jews. If they can stand up and defend them, then they are indeed of Me; but if not, then they are false and are of the world.

Walk And Rest, Walk And Rest
Sandy Warner

May 17, 2004
I have heard your cry for more strength, sweet one. For too long you have pressed yourself to exhaustion, then collapsed and done nothing. I want to strengthen you and teach you how to bring your life into better balance. A little here, a little there, each added to your daily portion. As you move and stretch past your comfort zone, I will also grant you benches of rest sprinkled along your path. In this way you can move into what I have planned for you, and you will have refreshing stopping places that will fill your body, soul and spirit with renewed energy from My throne. Keep your focus on Me, not the gravity and obstacles before you. You would be amazed how our loving fellowship together will lighten every moment, even as you stretch and strengthen your spiritual muscles.

"Therefore we do not lose heart. Even though our outward man is perishing, yet the inward man is being renewed day by day. For our light affliction, which is but for a moment, is working for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory, while we do not look at the things which are seen, but at the things which are not seen. For the things which are seen are temporary, but the things which are not seen are eternal." (2 Cor 4:16-18 NKJV)

Be Careful What You Think

The power of a spoken word issues from the heart. And what is your heart saying, dear one? What you believe is what you think. This principal works both for good and for evil. Yes I AM teaching you that you shall have what you say… yet deeper still is to heal what is behind your words. If you believe you are sick, in danger of disaster, have reason to fear, then that is what you believe. It shall spring forth in your words, and come to pass even as you speak them.

"For as he thinks in his heart, so is he." (Prov 23:7 NKJV)

You Shall Have What You Say

Maturity is learning to speak what is good and pleasant and full of life. I AM teaching My own the power of their words. Take heed that you speak life. Do not own sickness, disaster, fear, theft - do not open the door to the devil's forecast through the power of your own speech. You shall have what you say. Dear ones, be careful what you say.

"Death and life are in the power of the tongue: and they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof." (Prov 18:21 KJV)

"And the tongue is a flame of fire. It is full of wickedness that can ruin your whole life. It can turn the entire course of your life into a blazing flame of destruction, for it is set on fire by hell itself." (James 3:6 NLT)

The Word of the Lord to Washington, DC is JOY
Dearest Friends in Jesus:

I feel led to share with you two connected spiritual events. I knew after the first one happened, it was not time to release it, and was waiting for the right timing on it. I think now is the time. I'm asking you to pass this word onto anyone you know who carries a burden for Washington, DC. They need to hear this word, and weigh it, and judge it, and see what the Lord would conclude them to believe is their part in all of this.

PART ONE

About 2 months ago, the Lord led me to take a little "prayer" drive around DC in the wee hours, as He often seems to do.

On this particular night, I was feeling no burden, and no sense of oppression that one often feels when they drive into a city's limits. Instead, the joy of the Lord filled my car, and I felt the Lord spreading Himself over the city like a blanket of great joy. By the spirit (not an "open" vision, but as a presentation to my spirit), I saw huge, immense white wings spread over the city, gently fluttering, and knew it was a canopy of protection through JOY.

With all the things going on in this world, and the role that Washington DC plays in all of it, you would have thought that I'd feel the weightiness and heaviness of the responsibilities to pray, intercede, fast, repent.........all the more serious spiritual activities of any person desiring to be a devoted servant of the Lord.

I felt NONE of that. Just JOY. Great JOY!! Then I began to thank and praise the Lord for the many intercessors in the city who have even for years been fighting the battles in prayer. I felt so proud of our prayer warriors, and so grateful for those who have been diligently willing to put their time in on their knees, and on their faces before God.

I felt warmed in my spirit when I thought of the many "prayer walks" different groups, friends, individuals have taken around strategic locations in our city to "take back the land". Truly, I felt the heart of God for His faithful servants, and I say unto you by the word of the Lord, Your labor has NOT been in vain, and you are going to reap a harvest of joy from the sowing in tears!

I wanted to loudly proclaiming to our intercessors and prayer warriors in DC, "Rejoice!! For your warfare HAS BEEN ACCOMPLISHED!! The powers of darkness are rolled back from the city!! Principalities and powers have been spoiled not only historically on the cross, and in the corridors of hell when Jesus reached through those bars and commanded that the devil give Him back the keys, but the day has come that we are realizing it experientially in our time, NOT just "judicially"!! (Colossians 2:15, Ephesians 4:9,10, Revelation 1:18)

I truly felt the power and spirit of Zephaniah 3:17 coming forth in a mighty RHEMA word about Washington, DC:

The Lord thy God in the midst of thee is mighty; He will save, he will rejoice over thee, with joy; he will rest in His love, he will joy over thee with singing. Zeph. 3:17

Personally, I have been raised since my childhood to understand and walk in the joy of the Lord, regardless of circumstances. But, for days after this experience in DC, I felt the new wine and the oil of gladness overflowing in my own soul, and multiplied in the kingdom in a new and fresh way. A prophet must have picked up on it because as I was sitting in a meeting in Oakton, VA, the man of God called me out, and prophesied over me about being a vessel of the joy of the Lord!

(And I am not one that has a perpetual smile on my face as some do . If anything, I often have to remind my face it needs to get a sweet look on it so I won't hurt anyone's feelings because I often look so serious, you'd have thought I just consumed a jar of dill pickles, when inwardly, I' m truly feeling happy, contented and blessed! Oh, how the devil likes to use a "look" to sow discord in the body of Christ! Well, he is NOT going to get away with using MY face to do it!!!!)

Since I had this visitation about the joy of the Lord to Washington DC, I have been pondering it, considering it, allowing it to roll around in my spirit to see what the Lord had to say about it, and what responsibility I have in particular to this word of the Lord.

For me personally, I feel God spoke to me that He is calling me to rally the troops under the banner of His joy. *I feel like I'm an anointed recruiter for the JOY army!! This is the main weapon of warfare, the STRENGTH of His people that will take His people through a hard time about to come (actually even now HERE) against the society in the form of a horrendous and insidious attacks of the devil to extinguish the lights that are set on the hill, and especially against His people in particular. _(*This does not mean I'm trying to start a big ministry. I do not have either the personal charisma or drawing power for such a thing, and I'm far too much of a loner. I'm speaking of an anointing of impartation that will spark a sense of true burning enthusiasm for the Lord and His purposes into the hearts of His people as the Lord brings forth God-appointed connections.)_

You do not need to be any prophet to discern that we are in times when the enemies of Jesus Christ and His people are out to do everything they can to silence the sound of His voice in the Land. I'm sure your mailbox is flooded with pleas to sign petitions that will some how keep righteousness and godliness at the forefront of our society, and day by day it seems the battle intensifies.

Except the Lord truly gives strength for the battle, it seems almost too overwhelming and gargantuan an undertaking for the backs of even the fittest of the dedicated soldiers in the armies of the Lord. The onslaught has been relentless, and it truly seems to be a contest to the very death to see who will be the "last man standing".

God is making it plain to me that I am to be a vessel that contends for the joy of the Lord, and that my mission as far as DC, the DC area, and my relationships into DC are to primarily encourage His people to hold fast to their JOY, and to "activate" the JOY of the Lord at every opportunity that arises. And I am believing
God is raising up others with this same anointing! Be in touch with me via e-mail, if you are getting something similar in your spirit, PLEASE!!

I am feeling strongly that this is my mandate from the spirit, that this is my portion. I love it when people see me as very contemplative, and deep, and truly spiritual because I feel like all my personal afflictions have not been in vain, and truly they have been working within an "eternal weight of glory". It's RIGHT to want to be "more like Jesus" in nature and character, and to avail ourselves to the deep works of God that gets the job done. But my friends, JESUS had the oil of gladness ABOVE His fellows!! (Psalm 45:7)

And I'm quickened to insert this scripture, even though it's a parenthetical:

(I will rejoice greatly in the Lord, my soul shall be joyful in my God; for He hath clothed me with garments of salvation, He hath covered me with the robe of righteousness, as a bridegroom decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth herself with jewels. Isaiah 61:10 Beloved, there is a connection between the JEWELS of the Bride, and the JOY of the Lord!!!)

So, for those of you who like people to be very serious and thoughtful and deep, I ask you to please now forgive me because He is telling me I need to be willing to abandon the desire for a certain refined, spiritual appearance in order to obey the word of the Lord to me. He is telling me I am to be drawing JOY from the wells of salvation.

I'm to be ministering it every chance the Lord puts me in contact with others in DC because I have seen by the Spirit, and I believe I have truly had a visitation from the Lord to ordain me to a ministry of encouraging the manifestation of new wine because it's going to be a most NECESSARY portion to sustain His people in what is shortly to come to pass in way of the intensification of warfare against His people.

This is the word of the Lord for Washington, DC:

There is a blessed spiritual drunkenness in the Holy Ghost that has even been as the taps on reserve for this hour of trial and affliction, and His people need to drink freely, and voraciously, and without even ceasing to slurp for even a second to wipe the mouth because His JOY is going to be the evidence of His presence that will carry you through!! *See Joel 2:28, Acts 2:13-18, Ephesians 5:18.

Am I advising you to manufacture something that's not really in your heart, or just to get something "hyped" up?? No, but I'm saying to yield to the Lord in a willingness to abandon religious pride, and sense of what might make you look very refined and distinguished to be impressive to those in "high places" in the Washington DC political and social scheme because AGAIN His Joy is what will CARRY YOU THROUGH some very difficult times ahead!!

I know I'm being redundant, but it's because I know I'm commissioned at this time by the Spirit to drive this home to you, and I cannot impress on you enough the weight with which this word from the Lord came to me!! The JOY OF THE LORD is what is going to carry God’s people through some very difficult times coming to Washington, DC.

If you're a Senator in the United States Congress, are you willing to be in a little prayer meeting where you might get slain in the Spirit, roll on the floor, and land in a corner in sweeping gales of true and pure holy laughter??

Be WILLING to appear ridiculous and without dignity in the flesh, because if you're willing.....I'm prophesying to you by the word of the Lord the spiritual benefits and power of God imparted to you will be far greater on behalf of the true Holy Ghost agenda than countless hours of debate and wrangling in any proceeding going forth in the halls of Congress and out over C-Span's airwaves!

Indeed, what you get from the Spirit when you're slain under His power will be ANSWERS that will stun the adversaries, and leave them with an open-mouth gape looking far sillier than how you looked when you yielded the flesh up to God to enter into the joy of the Lord!!

But this is not the only thing the Lord spoke to me about the "joy of the Lord" over Washington, DC. It is not only for STRENGTH IN WARFARE and a CANOPY of PROTECTION, but it's the TESTIMONY OF HIS PRESENCE AS KING OF ALL KINGS, AND LORD OF ALL LORDS!!

And here is the second part of what the Lord showed me about Washington, DC.........and the part I needed to get in order to be released to send forth this word of the Lord.

PART TWO

Early in this week, again, the Lord led me to drive into Washington DC.

What manifested this time was another spirit entirely, and my friends, I will tell you it has me chilled to every spiritual bone in my spiritual body, and more than ever, I know I heard from God the FIRST part of this word about the joy of the Lord considering what I felt and saw by the Spirit on Monday night into the wee hours Tuesday morning.

It's hard to even put into words, but it was NOT good. NOT good at all.

1. First, I saw and FELT Washington DC not as an American city, but as an international entity with an overriding spirit of globalism and a godless and corrupt "world view" that had totally overtaken it.

Let me be very quick to say here I am NOT one who believes that God has a special interest in America above all else, as His particular pride and joy. I believe that there is a foundational history of America that has pleased God, and if America is favored in God's sight at all, it has to do with foundations rightly laid.

But when any nation forsakes the standards that drew the Lord's blessings, that nation is destined for a time of judgment and correction, and my fervent prayer is that it will be toward redemption and restoration, and NOT to destruction!!

Beloved, I will tell you I'm cautious and even a bit fearful that I'm stepping way out of my league here in things I am saying to you prophetically. I know there are prayer warriors who oft engage in battles against principalities and powers over nations and cities, and I have not even scratched the surface of that arena in the spirit realm.

But I tell you what I felt last night was something far beyond my own recognized comfort zone in culture, and what I was feeling and "smelling" was so horrible to me, and coming from an ancient source bed of wicked, corrupt, vile spiritual authority and power that I did NOT feel like I was in America, but in some other world!

I lived for many years in Tucson, AZ. Often we'd take little trips into Nogales, Mexico. When you cross the border, you immediately know you're in a different world, a different country. I also lived in New York State where from time to time, I'd make a trip to Ontario, Canada with my Bible School roommate. Again, it was a different type of change, but immediately, just in the air, I could sense I was in a different country.

Countries are ruled by principalities and powers and you can FEEL the difference in the atmosphere when you go from one country into another. I emphasized the word "FELT" above because this was not just a word, and not just something I was seeing by the Spirit, but it was A FEELING that has left me with an inner disturbing such as I have not experienced in quite some time!

And the Spirit spoke to me as the wheels of time have ground ever so slowly, and as ancient nations of this world evolved from their infancy into maturity for GOOD or for EVIL for RIGHTEOUSNESS or for WICKEDNESS, for GODLINESS AND HOLINESS or for DEPRAVITY and CORRUPTION, even AMERICA is passing from innocence and infancy into a maturity of her choosing, and will she follow the whole world??

Will she now forsake the blessed and holy communion with the Lord Jesus Christ of her youth to now switch to partaking at the tables of idols and devils as nations of the world have done ?

Indeed, she is in the very process of doing that very thing, and you will not be able to even come into your nation's capital and feel your spiritual heritage as you should because the very spiritual scent in the air is changing, and except the Lord should leave a Holy remnant in the land as a witness, there would be NO evidence at all of the Godly foundations at all!

2. The SECOND thing I felt (Monday p.m./Tues a.m.) was the advancing clutch of Islam over the nation's capitol, and no doubt the empowering spirit behind the FIRST manifestation was the advancing and aggressively hostile clutch of Islam into our nation's capital. It was filling the night's air. It was permeated the buildings. And the menacing power of it was (that what I was sensing) was not some little spirit of Sunday-School level infiltration, but a fully-matured religious wickedness spawned from hell that had sway and power over all the city's decisions and activities, that would in turn affect the nation, and even the world.

I began to resist it in the Holy Ghost.

I do not want to receive from the Lord that this should EVER come to pass, but I know a few things after what I experienced last night:

First of all, if you have a genuine burden of the Lord for those steeped in the traditions of Islam, and God is speaking to you about Washington, DC, you need to come and roll up your sleeves and do the work of the harvest in this area in however God quickens to you to do it.

Whether it's one-on-one witnessing on the streets, or in the prayer closet, or in forming ministries or agencies specifically to minister to these poor ones trapped in that bondage of hell! The Lord may have given me this insight and imparted this burden by way of my own spiritual heritage. My grandmother was a missionary for about 40 years to people of Arab descent first for 17 years in Tunisia, North Africa, and then for 23 years in Israel. She greatly loved the peoples of Islamic persuasion and won many to the Lord.

Yet, never before last night did I even have a shred of a sense of her burden in this area. Maybe her prayers are still speaking into the ears of the Lord of the harvest, after she has gone onto her eternal reward.

When I visited in Chicago this past May, I met a Pakistani sister in the Lord who oversees a ministry to people of mid-eastern culture who are new in their Christian experience. In the Spirit, I greatly loved this sister, and the Lord spoke to me to open my heart wide to her because she was a vessel especially anointed of the Lord for what she is doing there in Chicago.

I do not know if any such thing even exists in Washington, DC, but my friends.....we need to pray that God starts springing such ministries up all over the city because there needs to be a holy and godly and loving and kind outreach to those trapped in this false religious system. If God has been dealing with you and speaking to you anywhere in this country about a ministry in particular to the Islamic, believe me, and hear it by the word of the Lord, you ARE hearing from God!! Take this word as a confirmation to you: You are hearing from God!!

But know you're not converting someone from being a Presbyterian to becoming a Lutheran. You've got your spiritual work cut out for you in the disciplines of prayer and fasting to wage warfare for those souls held captive by bondages of hundreds of generations enslaved by the powers of the Prince of Persia. If you're hungry to have a ministry and to do something for the kingdom, ask the Lord to give you a burden and an understanding of these things because God is not willing that ANY should perish.

God spoke to me that just as the cup of iniquity is full for Islam, even so the Lord wants to rescue from it's grasp the innocents who are to be redeemed out of that system before He pours forth His judgments in full against the wickedness and rebellion of Islam. There is a sickle to be thrust into Islam, for within Islam there are fields which are ripened unto harvest, but the laborers are few because of fear and because of ignorance, but the Lord is saying PREPARE to take the battle where the battle is being waged, and fear NOT to speak boldly in the Name of the Lord for the righteousness of the Lord Jesus Christ, and His Saints!

God spoke to me that day after day we pensively wait for another "terrorist attack". We watch the warning levels to see how alert we should be. When I drive around DC, I see the police keeping watch over all the monuments and federal buildings. At times in the wee hours, many streets will be blocked off for security purposes, or investigations of some kind. We are basically becoming like a police state because of the threat of terrorism.

I do supposed that natural man has to fight against flesh and blood to protect those things which are visible and tangible to our flesh. But what I sensed by the Spirit last night is that things have been happening in the spirit realm that are as deadly, no.......even MORE deadly than any forces of the flesh can even begin to render. I felt the menacing laughter of the devil at our ignorance in being so caught up with the natural concerns of protection that he is gaily sweeping through and subverting the culture through spiritual means and we hardly bat an eye because we don't have our senses exercised as we should to discern good and evil.

Am I prophesying to you the demise of America as a Christian, Independent Thinking Nation willing to stand squarely on the sound precepts and judgments of the Word of God?? Absolutely NOT. Whenever I get something negative by the Spirit, I always receive it as a warning to pray, and NOT as a final word of judgment!! I've learned TOO MUCH about the long-suffering, goodness, and mercy of God to live anywhere BUT constantly in the atmosphere of faith and hope in God!! What I am doing by the Spirit here is to implore you NOT to allow what I have seen to happen on your watch! I'm searching my own heart that I not let it happen on MY watch!! And if you do not have a "watch" in the Spirit, then ask God to give you one, and He will!!

Beloved, after getting that visitation about the JOY of the Lord to Washington, DC........and then that absolutely HORRIBLE manifestation I got on Monday night, I must admit I was feeling a bit confused in my spirit, and very well disappointed, too!! But God has cleared up my confusion. I wasn't hearing RIGHT one time, and WRONG the other time!!

The Lord is saying, that there is a FULLNESS OF JOY IN THE HOLY GHOST that is MORE POWERFUL than all of the forces of hell and darkness, and IN HIS PRESENCE, WHICH IS FULLNESS OF JOY there is a POWERFUL TESTIMONY TO THE EXALTATION OF HIS NAME AS KING ABOVE ALL KINGS, AND LORD ABOVE ALL LORDS!! And that includes the name of ALLAH!!

If you despise the joy of the Lord, and the manifestation of the joy of the Lord, then you are despising His Presence, and you are literally damning souls to hell who might find the true gospel of Jesus Christ because of the JOY OF THE LORD!!

My friends, I need to do some more personal study, but I am getting a very clear word of the Lord to my spirit that the JOY OF THE LORD is going to bring a witness against the misery and darkness of Islam such as nothing else can do!! Washington DC is CALLED to the JOY OF THE LORD!!

Washington DC is NOT called to morbidity, or moroseness of spirit. It's not called to mourning and sorrow, but it's called to JOY, and I would adjure every pastor who preaches in a church in Washington DC, and every minister who walks it's street, and every person who hosts a home meeting to CATCH this in your spirit, and see what God will do when the joy of the Lord is released in the full measure that God intends for it be released.

God will restore and revive WHEN THE VATS ARE FULL AND OVERFLOWING WITH WINE AND OIL!! Don't let any religious demon tell you that if you're not consumed with sorrow and weeping for the nation , you don't have the burden of the Lord!! NOT TRUE!! You can STILL weep between the porch and the altar. You can still cry out to God in the midnight hour, and fast, and pray and repent!! One does NOT have to cancel out the other!! God needs to help His people get rid of their propensity to the 'either/or" mentality!!

God wants the JOY OF THE LORD advanced in DC as a STRATEGY of warfare, as a PROTECTIVE COVERING, and as a TESTIMONY of His Presence !

Beloved, if you'll hear what I'm saying by the Spirit, you'll know I have the unction of prophetic evangelism on this one!! I am feeling, "OH ZION HASTE!!" on this one!!!

If you're not in a place where they actively teach and practice the joy of the Lord, allow the Lord to make you His peculiar vessel bearing the wine and oil into the midst! I'm telling you I'm believing God is going to place Washington DC on His Holy Ghost kingdom map as THE PLACE TO GO if you want to enter into the spirit of joy and rejoicing!! It's not just a move of God coming to one particular on-fire church in the city!! It's going to sweep the city for WARFARE, for PROTECTION, and for TESTIMONY!! I declare it SHALL BE SO, in JESUS NAME!!

In Jesus Name, I am calling it forth to manifest in churches of all denominations, and cultures, and in all neighborhoods. Every valley will be exalted, and every mountain and hill are going to be made low when the glory of God manifests in the joy of the Lord in Washington, DC. The mountains and hills are those in exalted stations in life. The valleys are those whom the world gives no recognition to at all, and all the people who love to come to Washington DC to see what God is doing in the city……..rarely are they interested in what God is doing in the neglected sections of the city. But God is moving!! No one church, no one ministry, no one anointed agency, is going to be able to claim they've got the market on this thing, because this is a move of God TO THE CITY, and not just to a particular group!!

When you wake up on a Sunday morning, and consider going to church, or to a home-meeting…….you won't have to struggle decide where to go, because ANYWHERE that you choose to go where His Blood is applied, and His Name is Exalted, and His Word is preached will be NOT just a reservoir, but a very FOUNTAIN HEAD of the joy of the Lord, and the glory of God!!

THIS is the witness that God is going to bring into Washington, DC in order that people who are held captive in darkness, whether through bondages of Islam, or the seductions of secular humanism, or their own vile sin and uncleanness are going to have to come face to face with soon and VERY soon!!!

God is getting ready to say to those in the DC area, CHOOSE THIS DAY WHOM YE WILL SERVE", but He is not saying it until He has a strong witness for His own way!! It's not a religious way, and it's not a doom and gloom way, and it's not judgmental way!! It's the way of the fullness of JOY!!

Oh, Lord Jesus, help your people to hear what You are saying, and to ENTER IN that the witness you desire to be manifested in this city will come forth that the multitudes in the valley of decision might rightly decide with ALL THE FACTS about the goodness and the glory of God!!

In Jesus Name, Amen and Amen. Let it be so, In Jesus Name, AMEN!!

Always in the Love of Jesus,

Wheat And Tares
Rick Joyner

This week we will begin a study of the "man of sin," or the "antichrist," which is prophesied to come and dominate the world for a time. The "man of sin" is the personification of the sin of man in its deepest depravity, and its greatest power of corruption. We are told about this in Scripture so we can be prepared for it, which is why we are doing this study.

In Matthew 13:39 the Lord said that "...the harvest is the end of the age..." As we have said, the harvest that comes at the end of the age is the maturing and reaping of everything which has been sown in man, both the good and the evil. This is more apparent when we read the whole context of this statement in Matthew 13:36-43:
"Then He left the multitudes, and went into the house. And His disciples came to Him, saying, 'Explain to us the parable of the tares of the field.'

"And He answered and said, 'The one who sows the good seed is the Son of Man, and the field is the world; and as for the good seed, these are the sons of the kingdom; and the tares are the sons of the evil one; and the enemy who sowed them is the devil, and the harvest is the end of the age; and the reapers are angels.

'Therefore just as the tares are gathered up and burned with fire, so shall it be at the end of the age.

'The Son of Man will send forth His angels, and they will gather out of His kingdom all stumbling blocks, and those who commit lawlessness, and will cast them into the furnace of fire; in that place there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

'Then the righteous will shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears, let him hear.'"
Here we see that there will be two "seeds" maturing at the end. Both are going to be gathered together. So, the separation of the wheat and the tares is also the gathering of the same into their own groups. One is so it can be burned, and the other to shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father.

In the parable of the wheat and the tares, when the laborers discovered the tares growing with the wheat, they asked the landowner if they should gather the tares. He replied that this could jeopardize the wheat. He commanded them to "allow both to grow together until the harvest; and in the time of the harvest I will say to the reapers, "First gather up the tares and bind them in bundles to burn them up; but gather the wheat into my barn" (Matt 13:30). Until now the wheat has had many tares mixed in with it. These are the hypocrites and those who continue to "practice sin" while claiming to serve Christ. These will be separated from the true "wheat" in the coming times, and the church will become as pure and holy as the Lord deserves from His own bride.

This is not to imply that those who sin are "tares," as there is a difference between "practicing sin," and stumbling occasionally as James affirmed that everyone does (see James 3:2). There is a difference between those who claim to be righteous, but actually love sin more, and those who seek to live a holy and righteous life, and love righteousness, though they occasionally fall to sin. This will become more clear in this study.

So two of the signs that we are coming to the end of the age will be the maturity of the wheat and the tares, and the separating of them from one another into their own groups. In this the tares are described as "stumbling blocks, and those who commit lawlessness" (Matthew 13:41). These are gathered out of the kingdom by angels or messengers, and they are gathered into bundles so they can be burned. In the timetable of the last day events, we are just in the first stages of this gathering.

As this proceeds, there will be a great, and at times, very difficult, separation coming in the church. To prepare for this I have tried to lay a foundation of the redemptive and restorative purposes of the Lord. It is not the Lord's desire for a single soul to perish. As we are told in James 2:13, "...mercy triumphs over judgment." The Lord would much rather show mercy than judgment, even to the worst sinner. However, there is a time when those who are truly given to sin and lawlessness will no longer be tolerated in His church.

Once when I was riding in a car with James Robison, he pointed out something to me in a wheat field that I have never forgotten. He asked me if I could tell the difference between the wheat and the tares, to which I responded that I had no idea how to do this. He said they look very much alike, and it is hard to tell them apart until the harvest, because when wheat matures it will bow over. However, the tares continue standing erect. In this we might say that the wheat becomes more humble as they mature, but tares become more arrogant. Pride is at the root of all human sin, and pride will be found as the fundamental character flaw of those whom the Lord calls tares and stumbling blocks.

As Jack Deere once pointed out, if you take the chronological order in which the apostle Paul wrote his epistles, in one of the first he claims to not be inferior to the greatest apostles (see II Corinthians 11:5). In a letter written about five years later he claims to be "the least of all apostles" (I Corinthians 15:9). In a letter written a few years after that one, he claims to be "the least of all saints" (Ephesians 3:8). In one of his last letters he claims to be "the greatest of sinners" (I Timothy 1:15). The pattern here is quite obvious - with increasing maturity there is increasing humility.

My purpose in these studies has been to not only examine the signs of the times, but to share that which I believe can help us prepare for them. Let us now ask the Lord to send His Holy Spirit to examine our hearts for any evil way that is within us, to convict us of our sin, and to lead us to the Truth, Himself, so that we can be set free. In our study of the "man of sin," we will see the sin of man in its full maturity. As we look at this, we want to first see how this sin may have a part in our own lives, so we can humble ourselves, seeking God's grace, and be set free. Only after we are free will we be able to see these things more clearly in others to help them get free. We must get free from the sin and lawlessness that is the reason for the final judgments coming upon this age. Those who do will begin to stand out too as those who "shine forth as the sun (Son)." They will begin to look like Jesus.

The Sin of Man
Rick Joyner

May 17, 2004

Last week we began to study the one which Scripture refers to as the "man of sin," or the "antichrist," who is prophesied to come and dominate the world for a time. The "man of sin" is the personification of the sin of man. This is why the book of Revelation, which was given as "the revelation of Jesus Christ" (Revelation 1:1), contains so much about the antichrist. It is by seeing this man of sin, the result of the sin of man, that we can see how desperately man needs Christ, and how far awry we will go without Him.

Immediately after the Fall in the garden, the Lord prophesied the destiny of the seed of the serpent, and the seed of the woman (see Genesis 3:15). As we are told in Revelation 12:9, the "serpent of old" is the devil. The seed of the serpent is the nature of the devil, which was sown in man by the Fall. A prophecy was given to the woman that she would be at enmity with the serpent and bruise his head, but he would bruise her heel (see Genesis 3:15). This was a prophecy of Christ who would be born through a woman, and as a man destroy the works of the devil. With the first two sons of Eve, we can discern the nature of these two seeds. In the Scriptures, we find the story of the development and maturity of these two seeds in man, and the conflict between them throughout history.

The curse upon the serpent was that he would crawl on his belly and eat the dust. This speaks of how the serpent's seed would be bound to the earth, conforming to the contour of the earth. Because man was made from the dust, and this is what the serpent would eat, it speaks of how the devil would feed on the earthly or carnal nature of man. This is why the devil is so intent on sowing carnality in man-he feeds on it.

One of the most basic distinctions between the two seeds can be seen in the offerings that Cain and Abel brought to the Lord. Because of the sin of man, the ground was cursed so that he could only bring forth fruit from it by "the sweat of his brow" (see Genesis 3:19). Therefore, when Cain brought an offering of grain to the Lord, he was bringing that which was produced by his own works. In contrast to this, Abel brought a blood sacrifice, which was a prophecy that man could only be acceptable to God through the blood sacrifice of Jesus.

It was the nature of these sacrifices that brought the enmity between Cain and Abel. Likewise, it will always be the cross that is the enmity between the two seeds. This is still the primary reason for the persecution against Christians, and will be until the end. Those who are of the seed of Cain will be enraged at those who claim the only way we can be acceptable to God is through the sacrifice of Jesus on the cross, and that our own works will never make us acceptable to God.

Basic to the true works of the Spirit is the knowledge that we do not work in order to gain God's approval, but we do His work from a position of having His approval through the cross. Therefore, all we do is from a position of abiding in Him and the works are Him working through us. Therefore, the true works of the Spirit should point to Christ Jesus, not us.

Because Cain was "a tiller of the ground,"(Genesis 4:2) it speaks of him being "earthly minded." This is the nature of all who are primarily controlled (as we are all born with this nature) by the seed of the serpent. Basically the man of sin is a personification of the nature that is within us all. This is why we must be born again by the heavenly seed.

When we are born again by the heavenly seed, it begins a struggle between these two seeds, or two natures, within us. The Bible is a record of the struggle between these two seeds in mankind, and by studying this struggle we can better understand many of the struggles that will go on in our own heart.

We may not like this struggle or want it, but it is this struggle between the two natures in our hearts that actually strengthen and fashion our characters so that we bear the heavenly nature and calling. Then, we will be able to minister to those who are still trapped in the earthly, carnal, nature of man. For this reason we are told in Romans 12:1-2:

I urge you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, to present your bodies a living and holy sacrifice, acceptable to God, which is your spiritual service of worship.

And do not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind, that you may prove what the will of God is, that which is good and acceptable and perfect.

The Greek word that is translated "transformed" in this text is metamorphoo from which we derive our English word "metamorphosis."

This is the process that a caterpillar goes through to become a butterfly. Since a caterpillar is a "worm" it is bound to the earth. Because of this change it is then given beautiful wings that enables it to soar above the earth. This is likewise what happens in the normal development of every Christian. We go from being earthly-minded, conformed to the ways of the world, to being able to soar in the heavenly realm above the earth. Our ultimate calling is to be seated with Christ in the heavenly places, as we read in Ephesians 2:1-8:

And you were dead in your trespasses and sins, in which you formerly walked according to the course of this world, according to the prince of the power of the air, of the spirit that is now working in the sons of disobedience.

Among them we too all formerly lived in the lusts of our flesh, indulging the desires of the flesh and of the mind, and were by nature children of wrath, even as the rest.

But God, being rich in mercy, because of His great love with which He loved us, even when we were dead in our transgressions, made us alive together with Christ (by grace you have been saved), and raised us up with Him, and seated us with Him in the heavenly places, in Christ Jesus,

In order that in the ages to come He might show the surpassing riches of His grace in kindness toward us in Christ Jesus.

It is said that the greatest struggle for a butterfly is freeing itself from the cocoon where the transformation took place. However, if it were not for this great struggle, it would not be strong enough to flap those huge wings. This too is a message for us. The Lord does not want our struggles to be easy. If they were too easy, we would not become strong enough to walk in what He has called us to. There is a principle revealed throughout Scripture and history-the more difficult your trials the more significant your calling. Those who come into their purpose easily and quickly usually do not have a very significant calling. The bigger the wings you are called to have, the bigger the struggle must be for you to be strong enough to use them.

As we are told in II Corinthians 13:5, "Test yourselves to see if you are in the faith; examine yourselves!." One of the most basic tests that we can give ourselves is whether we are primarily occupied with the things of this present world, or with the eternal purposes of Christ. What takes most of our attention, most of our time, and most of our energy? Are we bound to the earth like the caterpillar, with our ways conforming more to the ways of the world, or have we learned to fly?

In the coming weeks we will continue our study of the man of sin, but we will also study the new creation who will rise above the sin and darkness to conquer it.

Discerning The Beast
Rick Joyner

May 24, 2004
And I saw another beast coming up out of the earth... (Revelation 13:11).

As we covered last week, Cain was "a tiller of the ground" (Genesis 4:2), which speaks of the earthly mindedness of the seed of Cain. Here we see that the beast comes up "out of the earth," which is the result of the earthly mindedness of fallen mankind. Let us read the last part of this chapter, verses 16-18, where we see the ultimate result of this earthly mindedness:

And he causes all, the small and the great, and the rich and the poor, and the free men and the slaves, to be given a mark on their right hand, or on their forehead, and he provides that no one should be able to buy or to sell, except the one who has the mark, either the name of the beast or the number of his name.

Here is wisdom. Let him who has understanding calculate the number of the beast, for the number is that of a man; and his number is six hundred and sixty-six.

Since this was written in the first century there has been much speculation about the form in which the mark of the beast would come. This is to be expected, but far more important than understanding the form in which it comes, is understanding the nature of the beast, and what causes men to take this mark.

Taking a mark is not the sin. The sin is found in worshiping the beast. The mark is simply the evidence of what one is doing. Would one be innocent if he did not take the mark, but worshiped the beast? Of course not. The real issue here is who we are worshiping.

Because man was created on the sixth day, six has been regarded as the "number of man." We are told to "Let him who has understanding calculate the number of the beast, for the number is that of a man..." (Revelation 13:18).

This beast represents humanism, which is basically the worship of man, or making man the center of all in place of God. That the mark is given on the right hand and the forehead represents the works and the mind. Those who worship the beast will do their works for men, and before men, instead of for God and before God. Their minds will also be centered on the earth instead of on the Lord.

Without the mark, no one will be able to "buy, sell, or trade." This is the commerce of the world. This makes the mark an economic mark, and the power of the beast over the world will be through economic power. Why is this?

Remember that the harvest at the end of the age is the maturing and the reaping of everything that has been sown in man-both the good and the evil, the seed of the serpent and the seed that would ultimately crush the serpent. The reason why the mark of the beast is an economic mark is because the love of money is one of the ultimate idols of the earthly, fallen nature of man, and the way we relate to it will determine who we are really worshiping.

Financial responsibility is one of the increasingly important issues of our times. For this reason, every Christian should be financially independent. This does not necessarily mean that all Christians are called to be wealthy, but that we should never have to make a decision on whether we have enough money or not, but whether the matter is God's will or not.

If we have built our lives on the kingdom of God, we have an unlimited resource-"an abundance for every good deed" (II Corinthians 9:8). If the storehouses of heaven are our source, we really will not care whether we can "buy, sell, or trade" within the world's economy. Neither would we ever take the mark of the beast because we would never worship the beast.

In the coming weeks we will explore how this is done a little more practically, and how we can build our lives on the kingdom of God, not the kingdoms of this world that will shortly pass away. The real answer to these questions is not to fear the beast, or what he can do to us, but to fear the Lord, and serve Him only. When those who fear man run to the beast to take his mark so that they can "buy, sell, and trade," those who live by faith in God will be experiencing unprecedented prosperity, and the peace that comes from serving the Lord who is above all rule, authority, and dominion. Peace and godly, noble, and spiritual prosperity will be an increasing witness of the One we are serving.

Overcoming the Beast

Rick Joyner

Last week, we began our study of the beast, and the "mark of the beast" (Revelation 16:2). As stated, because this beast comes "up out of the earth" (Revelation 13:11) this speaks of it being borne out of humanism, or earthly mindedness. We also know that the "mark of the beast" is an economic mark that enables one to "buy, sell, or trade." Therefore, we can expect the economic systems of this earth to become more and more humanistic, and demanding more and more allegiance to the religion of humanism.

If we are approaching this time, which it seems obvious that we are, one might assume it will become increasingly difficult to be successful in the economy of this world without compromising more and more of the basic issues of our faith. That will be true in many ways, but there is another major factor that we must consider. The Lord is also establishing the foundation for His kingdom in the earth.

There is another economy in the earth! It will ultimately be the most successful of all. As we read in Daniel 2 concerning the statue that represented the kingdoms of this world, a stone is going to strike the feet of this statue, and the statue will come down. That little stone will grow into a mountain and then fill the whole earth.

It is important that we understand how the kingdom of God is also coming at this time or we will overreact to the things that are happening in the world, and by that fail to be a part of God's solution which He provides for every scheme of the devil. Our goal is not to just flee from the economy of this world, but to be a part of establishing one that is greater, having more substance and strength than anything the world has.

It is because of the root of evil, which is the love of money, and the coming of the beast and his mark, that understanding Christian economics is going to become one of the important issues of our time. However, we should not want to study this just for these reasons, but in order to obey God, and do all things according to His ways. For this reason, as we study this beast and the present systems of this world and its economy, we will give even more attention to the kingdom of God, and living according to the Lord's ways in these things.

As we proceed, I think you will not only find these principles interesting, but compelling and life changing. A basic calling upon every Christian is to live in victory in these things, and to do so is not at all complicated. However, to do so does not just include a knowledge of these biblical prophecies and what is happening in the world, but it requires living by and manifesting the fruit of the Spirit. It will require love, faith, patience...

To serve the Lord as we are called to in this time requires that each of us have the following basic economic plan for our life:

1) We live on the unlimited supply of God's kingdom, having an abundance for everything we are called to do.

2) We owe no man anything but to love them.

That is the simplicity of God's economic plan. This is the top of the mountain, but to get there we need to understand where we are, and what is the quickest path to the top. We can actually cover this in just a few weeks. It will take a little longer for us to get to the top of this mountain, but we can get there, and we must. We may think money is not that important to God, and it is not, but how we handle it is. As the Lord Jesus Himself said in Luke 16:10-13:

"He who is faithful in a very little thing is faithful also in much; and he who is unrighteous in a very little thing is unrighteous also in much. "If therefore you have not been faithful in the use of unrighteous mammon, who will entrust the true riches to you? "And if you have not been faithful in the use of that which is another's, who will give you that which is your own? "No servant can serve two masters; for either he will hate the one, and love the other, or else he will hold to one, and despise the other. You cannot serve God and mammon."

Our goal should never be to make decisions based on money, but on the will of God. Money is given to serve us, and we must never become the servants of money. Those who are free in this way will be the most free and powerful people on the earth in the times to come. There is no one on this earth, even the antichrist, who is more powerful than one who is in the center of God's will for their life. The least in God's kingdom has far more power living in them than all of the antichrists combined. Our purpose for being here is to live in and represent the kingdom of God in all that we do.

God has another economy, and if our lives are built on it we will not care at all whether we can buy, sell, or trade in this world's economy. Living by that economy should be a basic goal of every Christian. Those who build their lives on God's economy will never fear what is happening in the world's economy. They will not only be adequately provided for in all things, but they will "have an abundance for every good deed" (II Corinthians 9:8).

Winds & Trees & Things

Steve Taylor.

One evening last week as I was traveling home to Skye from Inverness, my attention was drawn to a fallen tree silhouetted against the twilight sky on an exposed hilltop. It was clearly evident that the tree had been an old tree that had stood for many years on that spot, but now it was laid low in ignominy, its roots now exposed for all to see. Eventually it will decay and disappear from the landscape. The main reason it will do so is because it has no root connected to a life giving supply of water. Many still see it as a tree, but in reality it no longer serves the purpose for which it was planted. It is dead!

As I considered the tree I was again impressed by the voice of the Spirit. I saw that the tree, which has once graced the hilltop with its beauty and shade, came to the point where it was unable to withstand the fresh wind of the Spirit.

In the natural we see old things , established things and well tested methods , as the most reliable and the things in which we can put our trust. That may seem like sound common sense but it can also be a dangerous mistake, as many in our financial institutions have discovered to their cost!

The real test of the trees ability to withstand the wind is the condition and location of its roots.

Many of our churches roots are things such as tradition, organisation, control, orthodoxy, creeds and so on.

I believe we are living in the day of a fresh wind of the Spirit. In that wind, as previously prophesied, many things will bend, break and be thrown to the ground.

The fact is that fresh wind exposes old weaknesses just as new wine exposes old wineskins!

In the week that followed this revelation (revelation to me anyway!) I discovered that a number of friends flowing in the fresh wind of the Spirit had encountered a backlash in their work and ministry.

The fact is that many trees will attempt to stand tall rather than bend to the direction of the Spirit s wind. Their pride will in fact be their undoing for they will fall and the condition of their roots will be exposed.

On arriving home that night I turned to a scripture I had been meditating on recently. I read with fresh revelation ... And I pray that you, being rooted and established in love, may have the power, together with all the saints, to grasp how wide and long and high and deep is the love of Christ.

As we long for revival that fresh wind of the Holy Spirit, and ask what form it will take I believe increasingly that it will be a revival and revelation of the Father's love to the people of this land.

If we fail to be rooted in the river of love then we must not be surprised if we fall and consequently become irrelevant to the purposes of God for our generation.

This is what the LORD says: "Cursed is the one who trusts in man, who depends on flesh for his strength and whose heart turns away from the LORD. He will be like a bush in the wastelands; he will not see prosperity when it comes. He will dwell in the parched places of the desert, in a salt land where no one lives. "But blessed is the man who trusts in the LORD, whose confidence is in him. He will be like a tree planted by the water that sends out its roots by the stream. It does not fear when heat comes; its leaves are always green. It has no worries in a year of drought and never fails to bear fruit."

Walk After The Promises

Shirley Lise

riverpub@sgci.com
April 14, 2004

Wasted time and effort will be returned. What was lost will be restored. There has been no day like it! I shall triumph in your midst. I shall overstep the limits set by crafty men. I shall turn the tables on those who try to rule with an iron fist. I shall bring the erring to their knees.

Oh yes, I am able to strip those who walk in man-made authority and over-rule their jurisdiction. I am able to triumph over injustice in the lives of those who need help. Yes, I am able to put to nothing the schemes of the enemy. I am able to bombard the enemy from within the gates and destroy the hierarchical rule that dictates policy within its confines. I am able to set up a standard of holiness and righteousness that no man can resist.

Watch to see what I do in your midst. I will tread the enemy underfoot and crush Satan's head. I will put to nothing rulership that exhibits the mind of man and the flesh works. Rejoice and sing, for I am doing a work in this day that will not go unnoticed. I am setting the captives free and bringing counsel to multitudes. I am driving the wicked one out of the land and taking possession.

Behold I come, and with Me are your rewards for faithfully declaring My word. Trust and believe that your whole household shall be brought into line with My will and purposes. Press in and press on in the high calling. Press through the "rubbish" that is scattered round about. Press through to the promises. Follow hard after Me and do not let doubt be your master.

Kings and princes will come to the dawn of your rising, so break forth into joy, and walk after the promises.

Walking Amongst The Tents Of Israel

Susan Cummings

A Current ongoing vision I have been getting lately this week.....

I saw myself walking through a camp of tents, like the tents of the 12 tribes of Israel. They were all pitched around the Tent of Meeting. I was walking through the encampment and was watching all the various tents, the many different families, all the activities, etc....

As I was walking, a sudden huge roar sounded and in the midst of where the Tent of Meeting stood, the ground suddenly and violently broke forth, and out of the ground came this huge fiery pillar of Light and Fire that shot forth out of the midst of the Earth. It was so big that it overshadowed the whole encampment.

I did not see the Tent of Meeting anymore, as the Fiery Pillar of Light now filled the whole area.

This Pillar burst forth, and rose up high into the sky, I could not see the top, if there even was one. It was so huge and very powerful and roared with the power of the Presence of the Lord. You could hardly think, as the roar of the energy coming from the Pillar was deafening.

Then the vision ended.

I keep getting flashes of it this week, over and over.

The Lord is about to break forth into our midst, in a very powerful way.

I sent this vision to the group, and the Lord has been speaking more to me regarding His Purpose for the vision, and to give me further understanding as to why He showed it to me.

This is what he spoke to me:

I have brought you to My House, to see My People. They are camped around My Tent, and have built their lives around Me. All of their lives work and activities revolve around their relationship with Me. Or so it seems. I want you to see what I am bringing forth.

My people will now know who I Am, as I am breaking forth into their lives in a very profound way. I have revealed myself to them in layers and in Truths, and in portions. For most have not purified themselves enough to draw close to Me, and out of My Mercy, I have limited their understanding of me, so that I could preserve them and bring them further into maturity.

The time has come for My People to come into full maturity.

The time has come for true holiness to now be seen amongst them and within them.

I will no longer hold My People at arms length, to wait for them to choose to be Holy, but now I require it for it is a great hour of trial that now is being unrolled upon the earth. My People will not stand unless they are fully in My Presence and hidden IN ME.

So, I am breaking forth, and violently shaking all things concerning them, and will expose everything, so that they can come to the Truth, and embrace it. If they embrace it, I can embrace them fully, and bring them fully into My arms. If they choose not to embrace the Truth, then they will be consumed by My Fire and perish. For the enemy will devour them and bring them to perdition. There is no middle ground anymore. There is no more time to play.

As I bring exposure, it will be as a roaring in the earth. My Voice will be so loud that they will have to stop their ears to deny Me. There will be no excuse. I will roar over My People. I will roar over the nations. The sound of My Voice will be heard as it covers the earth, and then the darkest night will fully fall.

There will be no more games played. My People’s lives will be ordered around their relationship with Me, or it will be devoured by the enemy. My Camp will be full of Light, My Light, and no more mixture will be in it. Everything will be submitted to Me, and shown for what it truly is.

The religious models that have been erected and built by men, will be burnt up as I rise up. There will be no more manmade tents, edifices, altars, or monuments. For all that is not built by My Hand will not stand, but will fall under My scrutiny. What is not judged by Me and purified, will devour it’s maker. For all that is not birthed by My Spirit is idolatry and pride.

My People think they know Me. They think they walk with Me, yet, they do not come to Me, nor seek Me. They do not pay the price to sit at My Feet and to spend time with Me. If they did, they would fear Me more than men, or their opinions. They would not be in bondage to their lifestyles.

That day has come and is now being thrown into My Fire. I will be everything to you, or nothing to you. Either you come to Me everyday and in humility seeking My Ways, or you will go your own way to destruction. It will be seen if I walk with you or not. Either I dwell in you or I don’t.

Either My Word is true or it is not.

When Babylon Falls

Arlette Pollard

Revelation 14:8-10

Blessed is a man who perceives
The truth that lies behind the mystery
Of the Holy One, the righteous Son
The Redeemer who holds the key
To eternal life, resurrection life
Where man lives under God's authority
Within God's kingdom come, so God's will is done
Each day in the life of a man saved by grace.

When Babylon falls
In power in your life
When you are awakened
To the terror found in the night
Then is the moment
To stand up and fight
In the power of love
Giving glory to God
As you drink from the cup
Of the promised new wine.

Blessed is a man who resides
Within the kingdom of God's eternal light
Marked by God's endless love
They will like silver and gold
Be refined through cleansing fires of God's design
Set to walk in God's kingdom, purified
So that idols of old, will no longer hold
The power to turn them from God's love, divine.

> "And there followed another angel, saying, Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great city, because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication. And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand, the same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb." Revelation 14:8-10
> "Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and deliver every man his soul: be not cut off in her iniquity; for this is the time of the Lord's vengeance; he will render unto her a recompense. Babylon hath been a golden cup in the Lord's hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations have drunken of her wine; therefore the nations are mad. Babylon is suddenly fallen and destroyed: howl for her; take balm for her pain, if so be she may be healed." Jeremiah 51:6-8

Within God's everlasting kingdom where mercy, righteousness, and love reveal the nature of the Father, all power and authority has been given to God's beloved Son, Jesus Christ. God has chosen to establish his divine government upon the shoulders of Jesus Christ so that to hear the Son speak, is to hear the intentions of the Father's heart. Jesus Christ was purposed, according to God's plan of salvation, to reign and rule over God's body, speaking the truth, in love, to those who would be united to the Father, through faith. It is Jesus Christ, who was ordained to be the head over those called according to God's holy name.

God has given to His Son power and authority over all principalities, and powers that exist within the kingdom of darkness, where unrighteousness abounds, and idols speak words that deny the majesty of God. And it is the Son who holds absolute authority over all powers and principalities within the kingdom of Light, so that men live at peace with God. Jesus Christ is the Son who sits at the right hand of God, ruling and reigning over all of creation.

Jesus Christ, is the Son chosen of God to bear the name, Wonderful, Counselor, The Prince of Peace. It is Jesus Christ, who is able to transform the way a man thinks and acts as He speaks words of truth into the inner recesses of a man's heart and mind. It is Jesus Christ who will cause men to live at peace with their fellow man, as He impresses upon their hearts the need to stand under God's governmental authority, where His divine wisdom and counsel determines justice and truth. Within God's divine government, where kingdom authority is established upon the revelation of Jesus Christ, men will learn to lay aside the unfruitful works of darkness.

> "And every priest standeth daily ministering and offering oftentimes the same sacrifices, which can never take away sins: but this man, after he had offered one sacrifice for sins forever, sat down on the right hand of God; from henceforth expecting till his enemies be made his footstool. For by one offering he hath perfected forever them that are sanctified. Whereof the Holy Ghost also is a witness to us: for after that he had said before, this is the covenant that I will make with them after those days, saith the Lord, I will put my laws into their hearts, and in their minds will I write them; and their sins and iniquities will I remember no more. Now where remission of these is, there is no more offering for sin." Hebrews 10:11-18

At the appointed time, Jesus Christ would ascend on high, to His rightful position at the right hand of God. "For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us."(Hebrews 9:24) God's divine governmental authority in heaven would be implemented on earth, within the hearts of men, because of the perfect obedience of the Son toward the Father. Because a better sacrifice, the shedding of the Lamb's precious blood, was sprinkled as an offering to purify the "heavenly things themselves", the authority once laid upon the shoulders of ordained priests, who were required to offer sacrifices to make restitution for men's sins, would be lifted, from them.

When the heavens received the better sacrifice of the precious blood of the Lamb, the law would end, which required men to offer sacrifices upon earthly altars. Because the heavens themselves became an altar before the Lord, which received the perfect sacrifice of the Lamb's precious blood, God's requirement that a priest make atonement for the sins of men, was lifted from off the shoulders of men, and placed upon the Son who sat at the right hand of the Father.

When Jesus Christ ascended on high, His precious blood purified the "heavenly things themselves." Because of the perfect work of Christ, God's atoning work would no longer be under the governmental authority that had been placed upon the shoulders of men. Because Jesus Christ's blood was considered by God to be the perfect sacrifice, needed to make restitution for mankind's sin, judgment would, from that day forward, be determined according to the governmental authority placed upon the shoulders of Jesus Christ.

God's dominion, under the authority of Jesus Christ, would bring about judgment according to faith. Men would be declared righteous in the sight of God, according to their faith in Jesus Christ. The blood, which had purified the heavenly things, was forever to signify God's new covenant of grace, whereby men were forgiven their sins through faith in what Jesus Christ had accomplished upon the cross.

The governmental authority given to Jesus Christ, as He sat at the right hand of the Father, would allow the Son to decide judgment unto righteousness, for those who in faith, called upon His holy name. God's gift of eternal life, the Holy Spirit, is given when, through faith, the Son pronounces judgment unto righteousness upon a man. God's eternal Spirit of holiness is given to lead men into all truth. God's Spirit will speak to a man's heart of God's great love toward him. And as a man continues to walk with the Lord, the Holy Spirit will continue to reveal greater truths of God's majesty that exists within His everlasting kingdom of righteousness, truth, mercy and love.

> "A sound of battle is in the land, and of great destruction. How is the hammer of the whole earth cut asunder and broken! How is Babylon become a desolation among the nations! I have laid a snare for thee, and thou art also taken, O Babylon, and thou wast not aware: thou art found, and also caught, because thou hast striven against the Lord." Jeremiah 50:22-24

When a man has been judged righteous because of his faith in Jesus Christ, so that he receives the gift of God's abundant love within his life, the Holy Spirit, then will the old nature, which was dead to the purposes of God, be cast down to the earth. As God rises up in power within a man's life, the death and deception that exists within the darkness of unbelief will be exposed. A man, who stands within God's eternal kingdom of righteousness, will understand that the dominion of darkness, where vanity and lies hold reign, has had great influence upon his life.

When God's voice speaks with authority to the thoughts of a man, it can be compared to the sound of a trumpet used to awaken a man from his slumber. When God's trumpet is blown within a man's life, he will be awakened to see the power that exists within the dominion of darkness, where idols speak lies to deceive men from the truth. Within the dominion of darkness, the foundation of understanding is built up of the same lies and deception that the opinions and desires of those who walked the city streets of Babylon.

Within the darkness, the spirit of Babylon exists. Within Babylon, as within the city of darkness, unbelief is the strength of men, and the "truths" of hatred, unforgiveness, lust, covetousness, and jealousy have great power. A man filled with the Spirit of God's holiness will understand the truth that the spirit of Babylon is darkness. Within the dominion of darkness, where idols speak words that lull men into a false sense of peace and security, death stands watching over its subjects as with Babylon. God is mocked, and men are dominated by the same lies spoken by Satan thousands of years ago.

When a man stands under the governmental authority of Jesus Christ, through faith, then will the darkness fall as a city under siege. A man who receives God's Spirit of holiness will begin to see and understand the reality of what exists within the realm and region of darkness. As a man matures in the ways of God, he will look upon idols, which he once heralded as being the source of great worth in his life, as nothing but decaying lifeless objects, useless in helping men build truth in which to find refuge and safety.

Within the dominion of darkness is found the same self-focused pride that fueled the desires of the men of Babylon. Self-focused pride has been the destruction of many men. Pride causes man to believe that, in and of himself, there is knowledge that will bring purpose; but this understanding will only lure him deeper into darkness, where the voice of the living God is not heard.

When a man first believes in Jesus Christ, when he is just a babe in the Lord's arms, he may not understand the destruction that lies in the darkness. Experiencing God's love, mercy and forgiveness may inspire his heart for many days. But as a man grows up into maturity in Christ, as the Spirit does its perfect work, a man will begin to understand the horror that exists within the realm and region of darkness. He will understand that the darkness is a spiritual Babylon, where idols speak death, and current whims of man's philosophy are like tidal waves that wash upon men's souls, leaving death and destruction in its wake.

Within the gates of the spiritual city of Babylon, there is no "Light" to guide men's thoughts. When men cannot perceive the light, then idols, made of the elements of the earth, speak words that hold purpose and worth. Because men are not spiritually discerning, they do not understand that their idols are nothing more than objects created to hold men captive to fantasy and illusion. Within the spiritual city of Babylon days pass without men discovering the joy found in the eternal truths of walking with God, in holiness, humbleness, love and mercy.

But as a man matures, in the ways of God, the spiritual city of Babylon will fall in power and authority in his life. The spiritual city of Babylon, the city of darkness, will be seen as a harlot who embraces many lovers, causing her to bear many scars of sickness and death. When a man matures so that he walks in the revelation of the depths of hell that exist within the city of darkness, he will look upon what he once considered as his "great city," and see her for who she really is.

The “great city” will be seen as a harlot who takes unto herself many lovers, without experiencing any feelings of condemnation for her actions. And finding no reason to be embarrassed by her lewdness, she will continue to call out to all men; “Come and drink, let us embrace.” She will continue to promise men love and purpose, while they lay with her upon her bed of defilement; but upon arising in the morning, they will find she has disappeared back into the night, leaving them alone and reduced of strength.

> “And the Lord said unto him, go through the midst of the city, through the midst of Jerusalem, and set a mark upon the foreheads of the men that sigh and that cry for all the abominations that be done in the midst thereof.” Isaiah 9:4

God marks those who love His holy name with His Holy Spirit. They are sealed unto righteousness, having been redeemed by the blood of Christ. Though they are aware of the death and destruction around them, it will not be allowed to come near them. Their souls belong to the Lord, and nothing can take them from His mighty and loving arms. Theirs is the kingdom of God, and only to Him will they bow in reverence and submission. Their eyes have been anointed by God to see the reality behind the facade that death lifts up before men, knowing that to take a step in his direction is to partake of suffering and destruction.

Great is the sorrow of those held captive to the deceivers voice, for he will surely lead them to the pit. But what of those who profess the name of Christ, and yet comfortably live and partake of the spiritual city of Babylon? If they find it natural to follow after idols, will God continue to allow them to avoid the consequences for their actions? Or, will those, who name the name of Christ, but who lustfully continue to drink from the cup offered by the harlot Babylon, realize that the wine that now fills their lives has turned bitter? Will God awaken them by placing within their hands the “the wine of the wrath of God.” Will this wine without mixture, which is made up only of God’s anger, with none of His love and compassion to soften the bitter taste, cause men to understand the consequences of professing to love the Lord with their lips, while their hearts experience no remorse as they lust after the idols offered by the harlot Babylon?

If signposts that read, “herein lies death and destruction” mark a man’s boundaries, can he proclaim to be a citizen of God’s everlasting kingdom? Will this man understand that God will focus His anger toward a man who calls himself a child of God yet walks in rebellion? How will God’s judgment according to the authority of Jesus Christ, be decided when dealing with a man who proclaims that his maker is the Lord God on high, yet his obedience lies more within the dominion of Babylon than within the City of Righteousness, the Kingdom of God?

The praise of God’s saints are a sweet smelling aroma. But what is the putrid smell that arises from the earth that God speaks of? Could it be the words of a man who claims the name of Christ, but spends his days in the arms of Babylonian harlotry? What is this smell of brimstone that ignites the sky with ash and fire, as it erupts from the mountains built up by man’s pride and rebellion? Could it be coming from the direction of a man who claims the name of Christ? Surely God would take offence with a man claiming the name of Christ, while never sincerely desiring to embrace the love of God. Surely God would take offence with a man who claims the name of Christ, but leads others away from the kingdom of God by enticing them to seek warmth and comfort by the fires of hell that line the streets of the spiritual city of Babylon?

> “For if we sin willfully after that we have received the knowledge of the truth, there remaineth no more sacrifice for sins, but a certain fearful looking for of judgment and fiery indignation, which shall devour the adversaries. He that despised Moses’ law died without mercy under two or three witnesses: of how much sorer punishment, suppose ye, shall he be that thought worthy, who hath trodden under foot the Son of God, and hath counted the blood of the covenant, wherewith he was sanctified, an unholy thing, and hath done despite unto the Spirit of grace. For we know him that hath said, Vengeance belongeth unto me, I will recompense, saith the Lord. And again, the Lord shall judge his people. It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God.” Hebrews 10:26-31

Within the harlot city of Babylon, a cup is lifted up full of fornication; and those who drink from this cup, cause the pollution of death and destruction to fill their stomachs with its decay. Those who hear the Word of God, and turn toward Jesus Christ in faith, though they have lived many days in the realm and region of darkness, shall escape from its deceitfulness and wickedness. God will call them His sons and daughters of faith, holy in His sight because they are adorned in His robes of righteousness.

When a man turns toward Jesus Christ in faith, God will open His children's eyes to the reality of the spiritual city of Babylon. And when their eyes are opened, Babylon will come crashing down before them; appearing as an ash heap, which supplies food for the serpent and the owls of the evening. For those men who continue to think that purpose is found within the spiritual city of Babylon the same nature as Babylon will be birthed within their lives. And unless they repent, they will bear the consequences of their choice.

Those who claim the name of Jesus Christ, yet continually set their hearts toward the spiritual city of Babylon; their punishment will be great. Because, "It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God." Though God's mercy endures forever, He will not always strive with a man who casually blasphemes His name among the nations. Unless this man repents and bows down before the Lord in all sincerity, he will be sure to continually come up against the fury of the Lord.

The fear of the Lord is an awesome reality, which will keep a man on the sure path of righteousness. May all men seek the Lord while He is near and discover what it means to fear His holy name. Let all men who profess the name of Jesus Christ, seek to sit under His governmental authority, so that they are able to experience His peace that surpasses all understanding. May all of God's children understand that to refuse the cup of Babylon's fornication is to bring honor to God's name. May all God's children be found praising the Lord in spirit and in truth.

> "Be ye therefore followers of God's dear children: and walk in love, as Christ also hath loved us, and hath given himself for us an offering and a sacrifice to God for a sweet smelling savor. But fornication, and all uncleanness, or covetousness, let it not be once named among you, as becometh saints; neither filthiness, nor foolish talking, nor jesting, which are not convenient: but rather giving of thanks. For this ye know, that no whoremonger, nor unclean person, nor covetous man, who is an idolater, hath any inheritance in the kingdom of Christ and of God. Let no man deceive you with vain words: for because of these things cometh the wrath of God upon the children of disobedience. Be not ye therefore partakers with them. For ye were sometimes darkness, but now ye light in the Lord: walk as children of light." Ephesians 5:1-8

What Causes Barrenness In Church Life?

Graham Cooke

http://www.grahamcooke.co.uk/

When we talk about putting down roots or laying foundations, we often think of staying put in one place. Our God is not a camper. The tent of meeting in the Old Testament was a simple structure designed to be easily erected and dismantled as His people followed the cloud of His Presence.

The more formal structure of the temple was designed to enable people to come to grips with the same phenomena. The presence of God was enshrined in mystery within the Holy of Holies. People waited with bated breath for the reemergence of the High Priest on the Day of Atonement. The smell and spectacle of the sacrifices added to the drama of coming into the very presence of God. People were brought to that place of awe-inspiring worship as they became involved with the ongoing pageantry of the manifest presence of God in their midst.

The supernatural was commonplace. Men and women both spoke with sharpness and clarity in their representation of God. Words were backed up with power and anointing that saved lives and brought deliverance from occult powers, famines, disasters, and human oppression.

This essence of pure relationship and raw power between God and His people has been the dominating theme of the Scriptures. Only the form and style have changed throughout the generations from a handmade stone altar roughly put together with materials on hand by individual men such as Abraham, Jacob, and the prophets, to the designer places of worship expressed in the tabernacle and temple.

At times these places of worship were inspired by a revelation of God's grace, mercy, and calling, such as when Jacob-in-transition-to-Israel finally came to understand the desire that God had for relationship with him. In other times and places, altars were built upon the sites of intense spiritual warfare and upon battlefields as sacrifices were offered to God on the burning embers of false gods and idol worship. Mount Carmel and Gideon's hometown became places of cleansing and purification as the enemy was driven out and the name of the Lord revealed.

Continuity from the Old Covenant to the New was established in the person of Jesus, who became the temple of God wandering amongst a guilty and sin-ridden people. "Destroy this temple and God will raise it up in three days," He said, referring to Himself (see Jn. 2:19). Something had happened in the hearts of the people between times. A creeping institutionalism had given way to form without power, to style without substance, and to a performance mentality that elevated men, not God, in the presence of the people. People did things to be seen of others; rules of behavior governed the lives of many. Leaders had become blind guides, searching the Scriptures without prophetic insight. Those who most desired the coming of the Messiah missed Him because their interpretation of Scripture was not mingled with worship, the manifest presence of God, and prophetic wisdom.

God walked among them, but they had not been trained to recognize His presence. All their teaching and distilled wisdom down through the years had left them without the faculty for discerning the glory of God. Even when they saw signs and wonders and Jesus graciously asked them to believe in those signs as part of their journey to a wider, deeper revelation of God's presence, they could not bring themselves to part from their institutional mind-sets.

So the early Church grew up next to a hidebound institution that continued thinking that it alone held the glorious tradition of the truth of God. The old persecuted the new, which in turn eventually came against the newer works, which in time grew to be the oppressors of new moves of God till the present day. The chronicles of the Church are littered with stories of new moves of God erupting in the earth through orthodox persecution and then settling back into conventional, narrow-minded religiosity.

Only the presence of God can prevent institutional Christianity from reducing truth to a set of rules and worship or to a meaningless time of singing without awe.

Only God's presence can enable believers to confront the enemy and the evils of mankind with a powerful expression of truth combined with supernatural power. Only God's presence is the glue that holds us all together through tensions, conflicts, and the violence of being on the front line of the battle against a depraved and intimidating foe.

We have lost the glory, the majesty, and the mystery of all that God is within Himself. The temple gave way to the synagogue and the mystery began to fade. Word stopped leading us to worship, and in time the dynamic revelation of God became a rote to live by as we waited for God to come in final deliverance. Today's worship precedes the Word and in many places has become the platform for the teaching and the ministry of people. Our churches have lost the art of ministering to the Lord in worship and discerning the voice of the Lord in our midst (see Acts 13:1-2).

People went to the temple to participate in the mystery and the majesty of God. They went for three main reasons: to worship, to make an offering, and to pray. In the synagogue they went to hear the word of God (i.e., for teaching), to get their needs met, and to have fellowship. In the temple, the instruction and communication of God's word always led them into an experience with God. In the synagogue, it often led them into debate and discussion about God. Meetings became man-centered instead of revolving around the presence of God. Even today in many of the newer churches, if the meeting has a lot of content and activity, it is often the worship that gets squeezed. People go to church for good teaching or fellowship. Our society has created intense loneliness, and people are hungry for companionship. Accordingly, it is easy to justify making our meetings into a designer-style atmosphere to attract people.

I am not against this in principle. I think all our meetings should be aimed specifically at God's desire to do particular things and achieve specific objectives. I am against stereotypes that do not bring us into the creative presence of God. We must regain the capacity to live in the manifest presence of God. The teaching of the Word must lead people into an encounter of God Himself, not just into an experience of the church.

God has always set people within the framework of tabernacle, temple, and church who would act as catalysts to cause breakthrough into the manifest presence of the Lord. When people look at us, they should see Jesus. They should observe His love in the way that we live together. The entrance of God's Word should produce hope, faith, life, and health to every part of our being. The presence of God is life to us. When we lose His presence or, even worse, if we have never grown up with the reality of His glory, it is inevitable that we would use the Word to relegate the supernatural to a future time of glory in Heaven rather than glory now.

God sits outside of time. He has never not been full of glory. He is altogether glorious. Everything He touches carries the fragrance and the passion of His manifest presence. He is wonderful, awe-inspiring, and magnificent. Our meetings must reflect the glory of His unchanging nature. I love to meditate on the nature and character of the Lord. For me, He has come to be the kindest person I have ever known. He is kindhearted, gracious, loving, good-natured, and benevolent. He is generous, cordial, approachable, and thoughtful. He is slow to anger and swift to bless. He sees the good, acknowledging the treasure and the worth in people. He inspires confidence, renews our self-worth, and puts a smile on our hearts. He is captivating, beautiful, and completely lovely. He is strong, powerful, a force to be reckoned with, a conqueror and overcomer. He is a paradox a fierce and mighty warrior dressed as a lamb; the king of glory and a bruised reed; a son, a servant, a prophet, a priest, and a king. The fear of Him is the beginning of wisdom, yet His laughter makes us wriggle with pleasure. He continually brings us to points of vulnerability and weakness so that His sheer joy in Himself can be our source of strength.

Our meetings very often do not reflect His nature, but ours.

They focus on our needs instead of celebrating who He is in our midst. How many of our people take time out during the day to spend just a few minutes in silent worship and awe of God? Whatever God is, He is infinitely. It is impossible for God not to be everlasting, endless, and eternal. He is the greatest endless and eternal expression of goodness, kindness, and grace. He is everlastingly kind and merciful, eternally loving. He loves infinitely and without boundaries. There is no end to the kindness of God.

He is also totally perfect. He never does anything partway. He completes everything He starts. "He who has begun a good work in you will complete it [literally, perfect it] until the day of Jesus Christ" (Phil. 1:6). He does everything perfectly. He is infinitely and perfectly good. He has perfect love and grace. His love is complete, wholesome, and endlessly perfect! He is always loving because He is infinite and perfect.

He is immutable. He never changes. What God was, God is and God will be. There is no shadow of turning within Him. He is unchanging. What a relief! We all have experienced the fluctuating fortunes of human relationships and been both blessed and burned. I love the ongoing continuity of God's affection for me. He put me in the one place where I could relate to Him in all of my changeableness. He put me into Christ so that His unchanging, infinite, and perfect love could become a constant to me as I grew up in Him.

He is never indifferent. His silence is just His silence.

Never mistake His silence for detachment. He is never aloof and unresponsive. His silence is often a means to draw us into meditation, which becomes the prelude to worship and the entrance of revelation that then brings change to us. What changes us the most is the unchangeableness of God! Whenever I reflect on the unchangeable nature of God, I want to cry. His constancy and dependability always make me resolve to be like Him.

He brings peace to me by His constancy. I feel my heart settling down into Him in the turbulence of situations and events. In crises and conflicts I find myself wanting harmony and love rather than just resolution. To agree to disagree and remain loving friends is a sure sign that God is among us and that we are in love with Him.

God is endlessly enthusiastic about people. He has a boundless, unremitting energy. He never stops working, yet He exudes rest and peace. He rests in and through His work. I am never quite sure where my rest in Him gives way to His rest in me. (Oh, I love Him.) On the seventh day He rested from creating, but He never ceased from maintaining what He had made.

It is typical of God that man's first day of creation and life should coincide with God's rest. Our first day began with rest, and a prime part of our relationship with God is to enter His rest. One of my personal goals is to be one of the most restful, peaceful people on the planet. Since I have discovered rest as a major part of my relationship with the Lord, my output has increased significantly. Rest maintains worship, adoration, and focus. It promotes a God-consciousness by the Holy Spirit that increases productivity without detracting from fellowship. The more we rest, the more we get done. Time spent resting brings us into a place where God can do in seconds what we could not do in hours under the anointing.

The more we rest, the greater the power to break through.

The greater the rest, the more God prepares things around us by His hand. His wisdom increases as we sit and relax in His presence.

I once was sent a complicated brief on certain conflicts and situations in a particular church. This was followed up by a meeting with the leaders where I was expected to give some kind of godly perspective and Solomon-like wisdom. I never read their pages of problems. For some reason I spent several days resting and meditating though that and other work were piling up. On the day of the meeting, I discovered that they were coming to visit only when I looked in my diary. (I am not normally like this we run a very efficient office, though that is due more to Carole, my personal assistant, than myself.)

In the meeting with these guys it was clear there was a significant measure of conflict and tension. We can communicate peace only if we have it. I cannot remember what was said in that meeting only that peace, love, and understanding broke out amongst the brothers. Harmony precedes resolution. I remember saying to the Lord afterwards that I wished I had taped the meeting because some of the things I said were brilliant! He smiled. He knew that I knew that the wisdom was His and that I was content just to be a vessel and vehicle for His presence. He loves with a boundless consuming love. He hates with a terrible consuming fire. The anger of the Lord burns against unrighteousness and sinful activity. The mercy of the Lord in including us in Christ is eternally breathtaking and wonderful. To rest in the finished work of Calvary is a wonderful privilege. Lack of the presence of God is a major cause of barrenness.

When Dreams Die

"By faith Abraham, when God tested him, offered Isaac as a sacrifice. He who had received the promises was about to sacrifice his one and only son, even though God had said to him, `It is through Isaac that your offspring will be reckoned.'" Heb 11:17& 18.

God would pass every vision and dream he has given us through the fire. And it would be as if it would die. It's very painful to watch our dreams or visions face death. And if we are not careful we may struggle to keep them alive by the arm of flesh. But faith acts differently.

Here is how faith responds, "If really my vision or project is from God then I don't have to loss my peace to keep it alive by my own power. If it is from God I don't have to prove to men that it is. God himself will."

" Abraham reasoned that God could raise the dead". This is the reasoning of faith. If it is from God, then even if he allows it to die he would raise it again. Alleluia! It is important not to try to finish up in our strength that which we began in the Spirit.

".. and figuratively speaking, he did receive Isaac back from death." The point is that when Abraham offered up Isaac something died in him. The promise of God was no longer as important as the God of the promise. This is usually the whole reason why God allows every vision, ministry, or project he gives us to pass through fire. He would not have us loving anything more than him – not even his gifts. Do not loose heart though you may pass through the fire it shall only purify you. No promise God has put in your heart can be destroyed by the fire.

PLEASE are you born again? It is not enough to believe in the existence of God, to go to church, or be interested in spiritual things. Jesus said "I am the way and the truth and the life. No one comes to the Father except through me" (John 14:6). Jesus died to deliver you from sin so that you can come to God. (John 3:16) If you ask him to forgive you and give you a new heart he will. When Darkness Falls

When The Darkness Falls Seek For My Light And Glory"

Jan. 10, 2004

> JN 12:35 Then Jesus told them, "You are going to have the light just a little while longer. Walk while you have the light, before darkness overtakes you. The man who walks in the dark does not know where he is going. [36] Put your trust in the light while you have it, so that you may become sons of light." When he had finished speaking, Jesus left and hid himself from them.

"This year as I have said, will be filled with many things. There will be smoke and fire. There will be wars and rumors of wars. I tell you that the time is very near upon you when the man of perdition will come upon the scene. I tell you that he will come when you least expect him to. I tell you that the democratic race will go to a man who will change the direction of this country. The White House will be filled with new and different policies. I have warned you that these days would happen. You have been thrust into war, and you have tasted the death of many of your young, but I tell you that this is nothing compared to what is coming. For sun will shine and moon will arise at night. The days of night will come. For it will appear to be very dark and bleak at times. But those who put your trust in Me, are to set your minds on things above. For this earth as you know it, will not always last. "

"Many will come unto my light this year. Many will come unto the light of my glory. For when there is great darkness, my light will shine even the more. But I tell you that the enemy has many schemes upon his mind and heart. For he knows that his time is short. For I tell you that deception will run rampant this year. You will see more and more instances of cultic and witchcraft used upon the scene. Those who follow the stars will be consulted more and more. But many also, of my sons and daughters, will demonstrate my glory. So when the darkness falls, seek for my light and glory."

A Year Of Problems And Possibilities
Jan. 6, 2004

COL 3:1 Since, then, you have been raised with Christ, set your hearts on things above, where Christ is seated at the right hand of God. [2] Set your minds on things above, not on earthly things. [3] For you died, and your life is now hidden with Christ in God. [4] When Christ, who is your life, appears, then you also will appear with him in glory.

Matthew 5:18 I tell you the truth, until heaven and earth disappear, not the smallest letter, not the least stroke of a pen, will by any means disappear from the Law until everything is accomplished.

"I would tell you that this year will be filled with many things. Everything is coming to a head. I tell you that this year will be filled with many problems. They won't be problems on a personal scale, but they will be problems on a world scale. For I tell you that everything that has been spoken in my word will be coming to a fruition. The increase of wickedness will be plainly seen. The deceiver will be employing his band of wickedness like never before. But those who are strong in Me will grow into great stature. They will weather the storms and they will be a light unto many. The trial and the war that has been in Iraq will no longer be in the forefront as it has been. No longer will my servants have to beg for bread. For I will provide for their every need. So I tell you, many will go on to righteousness, but many also, will be involved in darkness. No more will my servants be kept from doing what I've called them to do. The world will go on as it has been prophesied. I tell you that my hand is upon my servants to do my pleasure in them. The world will hate you because it hated Me. I have overcome the world and I have also overcome the world in you. So, set your sights upon things above and not on things upon this earth. For when the wind blows, and many of the things upon this earth are blown, your hearts and minds will not be unsettled. For many of the people who do not know Me will become more and more unsettled. This year is the culmination of many things. It is the culmination of natural disasters, and it is also a time when those who draw the sword will die by it. How does one prepare for days such as these? It is not by the world's standards, but it is by going into that inner chamber and spending time with Me. It is a year of problems and of possibilities."

Trust The Prophetic Word
Stephen Hanson

When We Need To Trust The Prophetic Word, And Not Try To Analyze It
Jan. 10, 2004

HEB 11:1 Now faith is being sure of what we hope for and certain of what we do not see. [2] This is what the ancients were commended for.

I have found recently that after posting a prophetic message that sometimes people want details and interpretations concerning the word.

To a point, I believe that this can be a good thing, but when it is carried to an excess then we can analyze things to death to the point that we try to figure out everything without placing our trust and faith in God. One of the main purposes for the prophetic word is in speaking forth the mind and counsel of God. Now to be true, there are boundless "types" of prophetic messages from the simple word of prophecy to the prophetic office which entails words of direction, prediction, and a host of other things. Our entire relationship with God has to do with faith, because "Faith is the substance of things hoped for, the conviction of things not seen." Now if we can't see it, then we need to place our trust in Him and believe that He will carry it out according to His plan.

Now understand me here; I'm not referring to the need of discerning whether or not a word is from Him or not. We are to [21] Test everything. Hold on to the good. [22] Avoid every kind of evil. 1TH 5:19 However, after we truly "know" that this is from God then we need to pray about what God wants to reveal to us in His prophetic word. What is there in it that speaks to us personally? Instead of chopping it up and wondering is God speaking here about whether we are to be raptured now, later, or in the midst of the tribulation period, may well be something we cannot find. We may well have to just put these things on the shelf and just believe that He knows, and that because He knows, then we are to simply trust Him.

My wife and daughter and I just returned from a trip to the Southwest during the holidays. Now I had a map of course, and on the map it indicated major highways, roads, landmarks, and towns. However, I found that there were some things that weren't on the map. We simply had to drive to the destination and then along the way, there were people, places and things, that we didn't even know about. No matter how much we studied the map, not everything was there. The same I believe, is true of the prophetic. God will give us a piece of the puzzle, but He won't give us everything. There are so many things that can cause us to dispute amongst ourselves. There are so many things that can frustrate us or confuse us, when God simply wants us to rest in Him. There are times when He certainly does speak quite clearly, and when He does, then there most certainly is not a need to even question His message to us. To be sure, He does want our communication. To be sure, He does want our relationship above else. But let's just take Him for His word. When we're not certain about a message that a brother or sister speaks for the Lord, then why don't we simply ask God about it? "So Lord, what really was the central message that just came forth there?" I'll bet that He would be glad to answer your question. Go ahead and seek the prophets. Go ahead and ask your pastor. Go ahead and get some apostolic impute, but don't go again and again and again, to the prophet and ask him or her what else there is for them. There comes a time when God is to be sought. There comes a time when we can "wear out the message." There even comes a time when we can "wear out the messenger." So, ask, seek, and knock, and then the door will be opened to you. But don't bang the door down.

What Defines Revival

J Conrad Lampan

In these days when we are seeing several moves of God around the world, and also quite few other things which some call revival, the question comes to the mind: How do we define revival? What in essence is revival?

I would like to bring a definition from the results of revival rather than from the looks of it. From the looks of it we see different manifestations, we see or experience joy, happiness, refreshment, and a myriad other manifestations or feelings, or emotions. However impressive, none of the above can define revival.

What then is revival? What are the results that define revival?

We can have an amazing time of unexpected manifestations; or we can have an increased level of awareness of God's presence; we can have a sense of happiness that we did not have before, but if we do not have as a result Christians everywhere turned into witnesses, then we do not have revival.

Awareness of God's Presence is not enough because that awareness will not change us. The devil is well aware of God's Presence but he is by no means changed. What we need, along with that sense of awareness is submission, a total surrendering of the self to the will of God. Unless we surrender, we are not changed, and if we are not changed we cannot even speak of revival.

Revival is a true move of the Holy Spirit that turns Christians into witnesses. Before Pentecost the disciples had experienced joy, and happiness, and have seen and even performed miracles in the name of Jesus, they have cast out demons, but after Pentecost they were turned into witnesses. After all that is what Jesus promised: "You will receive power, and you will be my witnesses...to the end of the earth"

The Holy Spirit is on the business of saving people not performing a show for the personal enjoyment of well fed Christians who will run to wherever they can get the highest dose of goose bumps technology can buy.

What made Brownsville possible? Or Argentina? Or Sunderland? When the Holy Spirit began to move there were people who surrendered and those were the ones who took it to the streets. When they were turned into witnessed then it spread like fire.

Do you want revival?

Do not expect revival sitting comfortably in your assigned pew waiting for the next anointed preacher to come by and bring revival in his or her suitcase, for revival will happen when Christians start living as Christians. If we are to have revival congregations are not to be the passive recipient of whatever blessing they can fetch, much on the contrary you and I are the instruments God wants to use to bring forth the mightiest revival ever.

Watch Duty
Sandy Warner

Aug 9, 2004
You have stood the test of time dear one. I gave you grace to stand on the front lines in the storm and I upheld you all the way. It was only afterwards when I brought you into a season of rest that you found yourself flat on your face before Me. You have been so low that you have hardly noticed the change.

If you would but look up for a moment, you will notice that the raging waves are still and you are being sustained in My peace. The reason you have not applied this to your level of faith, joy and assurance is that you continue to look at your storm as it was. Beloved, the rage is behind you. Place your focus on Me and I will have just one thing to say to you…

Your "I quit" button has died, behold I make all things new. You have stood strong on the front lines of battle and served Me well. Now I am needing volunteers to watch and pray. I am not asking you to stand guard duty, but watch duty. You have yet to experience the difference.

Ps 89:8-9 NKJV
LORD God of hosts, Who is mighty like You, O LORD? Your faithfulness also surrounds You. You rule the raging of the sea; When its waves rise, You still them.

I Have Kept You
Sandy Warner

Aug 18, 2004

My love, I know that you are very tired after a very long and arduous journey. So much has been accomplished. I am so proud of you, that in spite of everything that you are not afraid, but have learned to trust Me explicitly even when evil befalls you. For you have learned the secret of My Sovereignty, that nothing touches your life without My permission and only for your good. It is only through My love and longing for you that I allow anything to resist you.

I have also given you angels that keep you in your way. They have specific instructions not to interfere with your will, but they are allowed to intervene that nothing can come against you unless I say so.

Every detail of your training is under tedious care and planning, and I have left nothing out. I truly keep you My Love, and you are truly kept in Me. Now abide and rest in My love, for your life has been given to you as a prey. Have courage and rest knowing that in My keeping power nothing is lost except what does not belong to you.

Rom 8:28 KJV
And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose.

Isolated No More
Sandy Warner

Aug 20, 2004
How I yearn, along with My beloved children who are chained behind the doors of isolation! My precious ones, I have felt every tear, know every sorrow and experience every longing in your hearts. So MANY are in your shoes.

Rejection, infirmity, shame, pain, fear, weakness, broken hearts, broken families, transition… the list goes on and on. There are so many reasons for the isolation that My people are suffering.

You may feel shut in behind closed doors, but I have placed a window of light before you. Listen to the memory in your heart, I have already given you a way out. I have already pointed towards an opportunity. The stronghold of isolation has fallen, I have broken the locks and it is time for you to put actions to the glimmer of hope before you. Step out, reach out, take that step and move forward. You will find that when you reach out, there are others who are feeling just as you are… lost within a crowd. Touch their life and see the chains of your own isolation melt away.

"...So will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered..." (Ezekial:34:12)

My Friends
Sandy Warner

Aug 16, 2004
Some will betray Me. Some will compromise and some will be faithful all the way. Yes My love, it has been that way since the beginning...

And even when I already knew the outcomes, I chose to love. And even so it is the same with My gifts and callings. They are irrevocable…

Yes precious one, now you know. I have given you a glimpse into Mine own heart. How I long for friends, just like you do! How I long to be one those, just as you call them. - kindred hearts. How it melts My heart when I see them suffer because they love Me and continue to choose to love Me no matter what. I AM all powerful, all knowing and always present. I always was and always will be. And yet only you can give Me volunteer love. And now you know. How I feel.

John 15:13 NKJV
Greater love has no one than this, than to lay down one's life for his friends.

Why Do We Observe Passover?
David H. Prichard

Dear Bill

My wife and I feel called to be a "bridge" between Christians and Jews. At this point, we're actually more of a bridge between Christians and Messianic believers who are struggling to balance their "Old Testament" with their "New Testament".

The issues of "everlasting covenant(s)", Torah, the "two houses", and the Feasts of the LORD all came together in my spirit recently, and I felt strongly led of Yah to write a discourse which I entitled, "Why do we observe Passover?"

I submit this essay (attached) to you and/or your staff to read over and post as a teaching -- not just on Passover, but to help explain: 1) why more and more Christians are doing "Jewish" things, and: 2) how "observing Torah" can possibly "fit" with "New Covenant faith"

Shalom, David H. Prichard

1. The Eternal Covenant(s)

On the day when Moses delivered the message that we call the book of Deuteronomy, he prophesied to the entire nation of Israel – all twelve tribes – BOTH those standing there that day, AND to the many more who would be born into, adopted into, or "grafted" into Israel in the future:

"Ye stand this day all of you before the LORD your God… that thou shouldest enter into covenant with the LORD thy God, and into His oath, which the LORD thy God maketh with thee this day:

That He may establish thee today for a people unto Himself, and that He may be unto thee a God, as He hath said unto thee, and as He hath sworn unto thy fathers, to Abraham, to Isaac, and to Jacob.
Neither with you only do I make this covenant and this oath; But with him that standeth here with us this day before the LORD our God, and also with him that is not here with us this day." (Deuteronomy 29:10a,12-15)

And we know that the covenant which the LORD made with Israel in that day was not complete in itself unto eternity – for the "covenants of promise" (Ephesians 2:12) would not be complete without another, "new" (or "renewed") covenant, carried out by the authority of an Eternal Priesthood. (Isaiah 55:1-3, Jeremiah 31:31, Ezekiel 16:59-63, Hosea 1:10-11 & 2:18-23, Hebrews 7:11-28 & 8:6-13). Yet we also know that in His great Faithfulness, YHVH did not sweep away the promises of the covenants of old, which He made with Noah, with Abraham, with Moses and the children of Israel, and with David. For when the Most High gives His Word, it stands forever. Thus the psalmist writes:

"He hath remembered His covenant forever, the word which He commanded to a thousand generations. Which covenant He made with Abraham, and His oath unto Isaac; and confirmed the same unto Jacob for a law, and to Israel for an everlasting covenant…"
(Psalm 105:8-10)

In fact, the Holy Scriptures refer to each one of the holy covenants – individually and collectively, as an "Everlasting Covenant". (Genesis 9:16 & 17:7, 2 Samuel 23:5, 1 Chron 16:17, Isaiah 24:5) And the LORD in His Integrity has always kept His Word even when only a small remnant remained faithful in their hearts to their part of the agreement. In fact, He determined to fulfill those covenants despite the fact that "all we like sheep have gone astray". But the method that He used to fulfill His Word has often come in a more complicated way than it had to – or than the original hearers imagined.

Now the promises of land and of heritage and of long life and blessing were made to Abraham and to his seed, to Moses and the nation of Israel, through covenants that were inferior to the one made by the Blood of the Lamb; that is, through covenants that did not secure Eternal Life to the one entering the covenant. For example, the promise that Abraham sought, of a "city which hath foundations, whose Builder and Maker is God" (Hebrews 11:10), was not secured until the Messianic Covenant was made through the Blood of the Lamb of God. For the scripture testifies of our forefathers in the faith, that "these all, having obtained a good report through faith, received not the promise" (that is, in their lifetime). (11:39)

For even though the promise of Eternal Life was made before the world began (Titus 1:2), that promise was not made available to us as long as we remained trapped in the earthly realm of our death sentence, inherited from Adam. Only the Atoning Blood of Yeshua of Nazareth, the Son of the Living God, could save us and bring us into right relationship with the One True God. (John 6:47-58, John 17:2-3, Romans 5:9-21) Therefore the prophets called the promised new covenant by the same title: "Everlasting Covenant" (Isaiah 24:5, 55:3 & 61:8, Jeremiah 32:40, 16:60 & 37:26, Hebrews 13:20), for the superior covenant could hardly be called by an inferior adjective. Writing to the Corinthians, Paul contrasts the administration of Torah with the Messianic Covenant this way:

"But if the ministry of death, written and engraved on stones, was glorious, so that the children of Israel could not look steadily at the face of Moses because of the glory of his countenance, which glory was passing away, how will the ministry of the Spirit not be more glorious?"
(2 Corinthians 3:7-8 NKJV)

And the writer of the epistle to the Hebrews states very plainly:

"But now hath He obtained a more excellent ministry, by how much also He is the mediator of a better covenant, which was established upon better promises."
(Hebrews 8:6)

Therefore any discussion concerning observance of the Feasts of the LORD, or Sabbaths, or circumcision, etc., must begin with the foundation that the ministry of Jesus Christ – Yahshua haMashiach – in the earth today is based on the True, Eternal Pattern of Heaven itself. And the covenants that YHVH made with Abraham and with Moses cannot stand independent from that Eternal Pattern. (Hebrews 9:23-24, 10:1-9) In fact, clearly that portion of the Mosaic Covenant that had merely stood temporarily "in the place" of Jesus' Priesthood – that is, the Levitical priesthood – has been "taken away", or "annulled"; at least from the perspective of Eternity. (Hebrews 10:9) Yet the entire Mosaic Covenant has not been annulled even to this day, or else it could never have been called "eternal"! Jesus did not come to start a new religion, but to set right that which, "being weak through the flesh" (Romans 8:3), was being "hi-jacked" and used for evil. This is why Yahshua made the statement:

"And from the days of John the Baptist until now the kingdom of heaven suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force."
(Matthew 11:12)

Therefore the legitimate debate is in regard to this: Which other commandments – besides those directly concerning the priesthood and the altar service – were done away with, or transformed in some way; and which commandments were meant to remain even to this day, for proper training in holiness, and to preserve the prophetic patterns for understanding these "end times"?

The answers to these questions are found, not just in the New Testament, but in the Old Testament as well. And there is fair room for prayer, meditation, discussion, and some differences of opinion.

2. The Law "transformed"?

Now, since even the inferior covenants are also called Everlasting, then in some way each of these covenants stands as a pillar upon the Foundation that is Christ, the Messiah – Who Alone secured for us the ultimate "everlasting" promises. (For these could not be everlasting without the "Eternal Life" that He secured for us.) And so the Apostle John calls Him "the Lamb slain from the foundation of then world" (Rev 13:8) – for the essence of Eternal Covenant was determined and settled within the heart and mind of YHVH before the world was made.

And just as Paul points out that God's covenant with Abraham could not be nullified by the Torah of Moses (Galatians 3:17), that same standard applies "across the board". In other words, the covenant that God made with Moses was not nullified by the Messianic Covenant. For otherwise, Paul could not assert, after the Resurrection of his Messiah, that "the law is holy, and the commandment holy, and just, and good". (Romans 7:12) How could it still be "good" if it was annulled? It was merely incomplete until it could be renewed unto an Eternal Priesthood. (Acts 7:37-38; Isaiah 40:3-8,21&31; 2 John 1:5-6; Rev 1:8) This is a major scriptural theme, but it has to be assembled through Bible study.

Paul never taught that we are to break the Law. He kept the Law to the best of his understanding! He even used a Torah instruction as seemingly obscure as the one (in Numbers 6) for sanctification through a Nazarite vow (shaving the head, etc.) – as mentioned in Acts 18:18. And after laying down his "righteousness which is in the law" (Philip 3:6), he did not count it completely evil – but counted it "loss for Christ". In other words, he gladly laid down even everything he ever did right as he followed the Pharisaical interpretation of the Law – which was a lot! He proved his zeal, and he got the Father's attention! He laid it down for "the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus". (Philip 3:7-9) So the Law of Moses itself is not evil, but attempting to find Eternal Life by following the "works of the Law" (Galatians 3:10) is heresy. (John 5:39-47)

The apostle John testified that "sin is the transgression of the law" (1 John 3:4), and he taught us to "keep His commandments". (1 John 5:2) Jesus Himself said, "If ye love Me, keep My commandments". And if Jesus was the One, as Stephen asserted (Acts 7:37-38), Who delivered the "Living Oracles" at Mount Sinai, then He could hardly show up In Person, 1500 years later and say,

"Never mind that I punished you severely for the past 15 centuries because you didn't keep My Laws – I was just showing you that you could never do it right anyway. You can forget all those harsh commandments now."

No – those commandments were "everlasting", and this is no contradiction as we come to understand the spiritual nature of "the Law". What, then was "nailed to the cross"? It was "the handwriting of ordinances that were against us" (Colossians 2:14). Paul explains more about these ordinances in Ephesians 2:12-15:

"That at that time [prior to the advent of the new covenant] ye were…aliens from the commonwealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenants of promise… [because as "lost sheep", the house of Israel was divorced by God, their Husband, and then scattered among the Gentiles who themselves were also strangers from His covenants] (more about the "lost sheep" and the "house of Israel" in part 3) But now in Christ Jesus ye…are made nigh by the Blood of Christ. For He is our peace, Who hath made both one, [that is, joined Jews and Israelites back together] and hath broken down the middle wall of partition between us; [the "wall of partition" existed because: 1. the two Kingdoms were split after Solomon died, and: 2. Israel effectively became "Gentile" and considered the Jews and Torah "strange" Hosea 8:8-12]

Having abolished in His flesh the enmity, even the law of commandments contained in ordinances;
[What ordinances? The ones that sentenced Israel to servitude to foreign nations and gods] for to make in Himself of twain one new man, so making peace"
[In other words, the lost sheep of the house of Israel were supposed to convert and return to their brother, Judah – and the Jews were supposed to rejoice that their Messiah had come and led their prodigal brother back home! But we're STILL waiting for THAT to be completed!]

(Ephesians 2:12-15)

Therefore those who were made "aliens from the commonwealth of Israel" (Ephesians 2:12) because they were cut off from the Mosaic Covenant, have gained access again to the "covenants of promise". So it is not the Mosaic Law that they are free of, but "the curse of the law" (Galatians 3:13). For many aspects of the Law of Moses still have application today. For every principle laid by the former covenants still stands eternal. Yet it may not stand as it was originally given, because some aspects of the Old Testament commandments have been transformed to a higher level by the new covenant in the Blood of our Messiah.

This is why the writer of the epistle to the Hebrews writes:

"For the priesthood being changed, there is made of necessity a change also of the law (Torah)."
(Hebrews 7:12)

"But as a renewal took place in the Cohen-hood [Priesthood], so a renewal also took place in the Torah." (Hebrews 7:12 Hebraic Roots Version NT)

Therefore it is logical that there would be a debate afoot in this "end time" concerning the nature of this "change…of the Torah". For there are those who will acknowledge only the Ten Commandments and whatever laws and precepts from the New Testament that happen to be obvious to them from their English text, and teach that all the rest of the "law" was "nailed to the Cross". And there are others who would attempt to take away the predominant place of the Spirit of Grace, and re-instate the "ministry of death" (2 Cor 3:7). But the Truth is somewhere in between.

For the prophets made it plain that at the time of the birthpangs, the "sons of God" would be manifest (Romans 8:19-22), and the LORD would raise up a remnant of BOTH HOUSES – the Jews AND the 10 tribes of Israel (who are called prophetically by the name of their largest tribe, "Ephraim"). (Ezekiel 37:15-28, Revelation 7:1-8) This remnant will prepare the way for Messiah to return by restoring the ancient paths without getting bogged down again in "works of the law". (Isaiah 58:12-14, 66:8-9; Jeremiah 30:6-9, 31:18-37; Ezekiel 36:22-28, 37:15-28; Daniel 11:32-35; Joel 2:28-32, 3:1-21 Matthew 10:18-20, 10:40-42; 1 Thess 5:3-5; Revelation 11:3-6, 12:14-17)

3. Israel, Judah, and the Gentiles

The Everlasting Covenant was (and is) made for BOTH non-Israelite Gentiles (who are not descended from one of the twelve tribes) AND the scattered, "ten lost tribes" of the house of Israel, who were divorced by YHVH. (Jeremiah 3:8-18, 31:32; Hosea 1:6-2:7, Isaiah 54:5) These "lost" Israelites were sent to live among the Gentile nations until the time of the end. (Deut 30:3-6, Isaiah 10:20-27, Jeremiah 31:10 & 33:7, Micah 5:7-15, Romans 11:25-26a) Because the nation of Israel did not willingly develop itself according to God's original plan to make them "a kingdom of priests" (Exodus 19:6), the LORD used one of His many back-up plans. He scattered the majority of them throughout the nations to become the evangelists of the world. (Jeremiah 50:4-7; Ezekiel 22:15-16, 36:16-38, 37:16-25; Hosea 8:8-9; Zephaniah 3:8-20; Zechariah 8:23; Matthew 4:23-25, 10:5-6, 15:24; John 7:35; Romans 11:24-32, and much more).

Of course the Jews also (the house of Judah), who were never divorced from the covenants of promise, nevertheless had just as much need for the foundational covenant as anyone else, for "God hath concluded them all in unbelief" (Romans 3:23, 9:1-4, 11:32). (For YHVH specifically witnessed of the Jews, that after witnessing the whoredoms and judgments of her "sister" – Ephraim, the house of Israel – that rather than repenting, the house of Judah 'followed suit' and became more adulterous than Israel had!)

The thing that sets the Jews apart from all others – even from their brethren, the house of Israel, who basically became "Gentiles" culturally – is that the Jews were reserved by God to be entrusted with "the oracles of God"; that is, the Hebrew scriptures. (Romans 3:2; Acts 7:38) Furthermore, the Jews have preserved priceless knowledge of the Hebrew language, and of ancient traditions that always pointed to our Messiah. Therefore Paul writes:

"What advantage then hath the Jew? Or what profit is there of circumcision? Much in every way: chiefly, because that unto them were committed the oracles of God." (Romans 3:1,2)

It is through a small but faithful remnant of Jews and Christian scholars today that the LORD is beginning to fulfill the prophecy of Zephaniah:

"For then I will restore to the peoples a pure language, that they may call on the name of the LORD (lit.: YHVH), to serve Him with one accord." (Zephaniah 3:9 NKJV)

We do not know, ultimately, what heavenly language we will be speaking in Eternity, but the first step in restoring a "pure language" here in the earth, is understanding Hebrew. This is becoming popular among many Christians at this "end-time", and by the implication of Zephaniah it will accelerate right into the Millennial Reign of Christ. For whereas the foundational covenant is expounded upon in the New Testament, the foundational scriptures are found in the Old Testament, written in Hebrew! Thus we find another curious prophecy, written by the prophet Zechariah:

"In those days it shall come to pass, that ten men shall take hold out of all languages of the nations, even shall take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, saying, We will go with you: for we have heard that God is with you." (Zechariah 8:23)

The "ten men" here represent the ten tribes of the house of Israel who at this point in history stand on the verge of fulfilling their prophetic destiny. Huge numbers of them are us – Christians and Messianic believers who are not Jews! In the prophetic books of the Bible, we are usually called "Ephraim" or "Israel". Other descendants of these ten tribes are already aligned in their hearts with the Anti-Christ, and being positioned to receive the judgments prophesied against the house of Israel at the end-times.

Of course, we need not concern ourselves at this point with whether or not we are physical descendants of Israel – because to be a "true" Christian means to be grafted into the Covenants of Israel. For who did Jesus say He came for?

"I am not sent but to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." (Matthew 15:24)

And to whom did He send His disciples?

"Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritans enter ye not: but go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." (Matthew 10:5,6)

Now, the term "house of Israel" (in the New Testament, especially) is sometimes used to include the whole nation of Israel – both houses. But it is important to understand that He spent very little time, proportionately, ministering in Judea where the most 'pure' Jewish population of Israel was concentrated. Instead, He lived and ministered primarily among Greek-influenced descendants of both houses that were considered to be inferior Israelites by the elite Jewish leaders. (Matthew 4:23-25, Luke 4:43,44) It was only after His resurrection that He commissioned the disciples to go to Samaria (who were primarily Assyrians) and Judea and "the nations". (Matthew 24:19,20; Mark 16:15) The Hebrew word for "nations" (goyim) is also translated "Gentiles", so what He was telling them to do was to get ready to preach a worldwide message – because the rest of "Israel" was scattered throughout all the nations as the prophets had declared! And along the way, of course, plenty of non-Israelite Gentiles would join them. (By the way, if you look at a globe, you'll notice that North and South America are "the uttermost part of the earth" (Acts 1:8) from the land of Israel.)

4. The Feasts of the LORD

Once we understand: 1) that the covenants of old were Everlasting Covenants; and: 2) that as Christians we are no longer merely “Gentiles”, but literally citizens of the spiritual nation of Israel – Then it’s all the more clear that we are brothers with those who are “true” Jews (Romans 2:28,29), and we tend regard Moses and the Prophets in a different “Light”. Jesus Himself said that He did not come to “abolish” (or “destroy”) the law (Torah), but to “fulfill” it. (Matthew 5:17). Then He went on to say:

“For verily, I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled. Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments and shall teach men so, shall be called least in the kingdom of heaven: but whosoever shall do and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdom of heaven.” (Matthew 5:18,19)

This is a serious statement that deserves our prayer and meditation. The “heaven and earth” of this physical universe are not scheduled to “pass” away and become new for over one thousand years. (Rev 20:1-3) Then will come the final “Renewal” of all things. (Isaiah 66:22; 2 Peter 3:8-13; Hebrews 8:13 & 11:10; Rev 21:1-22:5) So Jesus was actually predicting that before His Return, men would be teaching us to break commandments that we should be keeping.

This is not a Salvation issue – but it is an issue of “calling”. (“…and thou shalt be called, The repairer of the breach…” Isaiah 58:12) We are called to take “the ministry of reconciliation” that He has given to us (2 Cor 5:18), and apply it “to the Jew first, and also to the Gentile”. (Luke 24:37, Romans 1:16 & 2:10, 1 Cor 10:32) With what’s going on in Israel and the world today, we stand on the precipice of the worst wave of Jewish persecution of all time. And if we consider it our end-time assignment to help reconcile the Jews to their Messiah, we must first reconcile ourselves unto the Jews. For if we present to the Jews a Savior Who goes back on His Word by refusing to honor His Own Commandments, we are in danger of teaching men to break God’s commandments. But if we recognize the validity of the Mosaic Law to instruct us and lead us to YHVH, yet hold fast to His Atoning Blood and standing in the Liberty that ONLY the Son of God can secure – then we are ready to be “imitators of Christ”.

Therefore, since we are free from bondage to sin, and no longer “under the law”, but “justified by faith”, then we are reconciled to the Father to follow His teachings and instructions throughout all of the Holy Scriptures as appropriate, out of free will. And if God has given grace to Christians for centuries, to celebrate holidays with pagan origins (and mixed with pagan symbolism), shall He not celebrate with His Beloved those holidays (“holy-days”) that He originated Himself? Therefore Paul writes to the Colossians:

“Let no man therefore judge you in meat, or drink, or in respect of an holy-day, or of the new moon, or of the sabbath days: Which are a shadow of things to come…”
(Colossians 2:16,17)

For it was not the feasts, of themselves, that God came to despise in the days of old, but the arrogant religious spirit that pre-dominated their celebration. For after the pronouncement, “your appointed feasts my soul hateth” (Isaiah 1:14), still the Son of God kept each “appointment”, as an obedient son.

And “the Feasts of the LORD” (Leviticus 23:2,4,37,44; 2 Chron 2:4, Ezra 3:5) only became “the Feasts of the Jews” because the rest of the Israel was scattered and took on Gentile customs. So it was part of their punishment that they would forget their rightful heritage of righteous laws and customs “which if a man do, he shall even live”, and be turned over to laws and customs that do not have the Life-flow of the Most High God working in them.

And now we find ourselves at “the end of the age”, in a Christianized culture that is rapidly losing its Judeo-Christian values and the cultural cohesiveness that they bring. And our God is calling out to His Two Anointed Ones in the earth – the house of Israel and the house of Judah – saying, "House of Judah, can you not recognize the Priestly Anointing on your brother, Ephraim? Put aside your doubts, and know that I have called him to join you at this 'time of Jacob's trouble'." (1 Chron 5:2; Isaiah 26:15-21, 54:1-10 & 60:1-11; Jeremiah 16:19-21 & 31:9; Micah 5:8; Zechariah 3:1-10 & 10:6-8)

"House of Israel, known to the world as Christians, can you recognize the Kingly Anointing on your brothers, the Jews? Come to Me and learn about the errors in your own traditions. Then you will see clearly to help your brother get free from his own erroneous traditions." (Gen 49:10; Deut 33:7; Jeremiah 16:19; Hosea 1:7; Zechariah 9:13, 10:6 & 14:21; John 4:22, 1 Cor 9:20)

These two witnesses in the earth must be joined together! Therefore we must not accuse one of "trampling on God's Grace", who merely desires to follow more closely to God's commandments. Rather, the Holy Spirit is leading us all forward, unfolding the mysteries of the Kingdom. And neither can we allow ourselves to lose balance, and fall prey to modern "Judaizers" – or even worse, to forsake the New Testament scriptures. We must recognize that with every new move of the Spirit there are those who go to extremes, and so pray for discernment without judging others.

Did you know that the Puritans came to America seeking freedom to worship God on the seventh day (Sabbath), and to observe the Feasts of the LORD? They were a group of English who set out to return to the "purity" of the Biblical "appointed times". They studied their scriptures, and read the words of God, saying, "The feasts of the LORD, which you shall proclaim to be holy convocations, these are My feasts." (Leviticus 23:1-2 NKJV) Then they studied their New Testament, and could find no place where they were instructed to stop observing them.

Every year Americans celebrate Thanksgiving, oblivious that its origin was the Feast of Succot, observed by the Puritans. (Ever heard of a vegetable mixture called "succotash"?) Thanksgiving used to be celebrated in October because it was timed to one of the Feasts of the LORD, called the Feast of Succot. But in the mid-1900's our government changed it to the end of November. This is all true, documented history that you can verify in any good library. But they didn't teach us these things in grade school, nor did our preachers learn them in Theology School.

How quickly one generation loses the knowledge of their fathers! And the Father cries out through the ages: "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge!" (Hosea 4:6) Paul recognized the holy days as "shadows of things to come". Some deeply significant prophetic events have been occurring on significant dates of the Hebrew calendar ever since 1999, but most Christians today are neither aware of the events nor the dates, because the world has a tendency to lull us asleep. But that is about to change.

As Christians, we are on the verge of a wonderful move of the Holy Spirit. Hearts will be touched – especially among many young people. Many believers will be blessed. But if all we do is soak up the "warm, cozy feeling" of the Holy Spirit, and neglect the serious Bible study and Truth-searching that God is calling many of us to, we will do a great disservice to ourselves and others.

The Feasts of the LORD are shadows of things to come. Paul wrote this AFTER Jesus' resurrection, which means these feasts are STILL good "for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness". (In fact, the "all scripture given by inspiration of God" he referred to, here in 2 Timothy 3:16, were all Old Testament scriptures. There was no New Testament at that time!)

The spirit of the anti-Christ, however, wants to divert us from understanding the patterns of the times we live in, which understanding God promises to release to those obedient ones who seek His knowledge. For Daniel warned us about the "little horn" that shall "think to change times and laws" (Daniel 7:25) – and the spirit that drives the anti-Christ has been operating for many centuries. Daniel also warned us that many of God's people "shall fall by the sword, and by flame, by captivity, and by spoil, many days". (11:33) But "the wise shall understand". (Daniel 12:10)

Therefore, as for me and my household, we will seek the God of Israel at His "appointed times", out of a spirit of Freedom and with joy! We believe that if Jesus were among us today, “in cognito”, He would set aside whatever was on His schedule and take the time to observe Passover and the Feast of Unleavened Bread.

We don’t do these things to earn brownie points with God. We recognize His Grace upon millions of believers who do not observe Passover, and we do not judge them. We do not follow “the letter” of Torah ourselves; we are still “in process” of “coming home” to the blessings which the Biblical Sabbath schedule permits. Also, we do not consider Jewish tradition to carry nearly the same authority as the Holy Scriptures. Yet Jewish traditions are rich in godly teaching and prophetic insight, and they help to “fill in” the very basic structure given in scripture for how to celebrate this feast.

Above all, we observe Passover because YHVH has called and instructed us to do so, by His Spirit. It is a sign to Jews and to Christians alike, that Ephraim, the house of Israel, is “studying to show himself approved”, and is doing his part to prepare for “reunion” with his brother, Judah, that we may fight the end-time battle before us as “one new man”. And it is a sign to all who will receive it, that we are living in the last days before the Return of the Son of God – the Messiah of Israel – to rule and reign in the earth for one thousand years. Hallelujah!

When God Invades His Church

Mike Riches

Before I share what occurred, let me first point out that there is a biblical precedent of God invading His people. The Jewish leaders of the early Church were sure everything was on target, until God initiated a series of dramatic and supernatural events in Acts chapters ten and eleven. God quickly shattered Peter's religious pride.

Our Church SHAKEN

The Lord did something similar to our church family and me. You could have described us as a typical, non-denominational, evangelical church. We were characterized by contemporary worship music, verse-by-verse expositional preaching, a sensitivity to the non- Christian, and concern with equipping the saints. We had a noted children's ministry, and a vibrant young adult church, which was growing and gaining the attention of the community. Our church would have been described as a safe place, as we grew from 170 to 1500-1700 in attendance in seven years. We were even in the middle of a building program to relieve our cramped conditions. But God had plans of His own.

As mentioned earlier, like Peter on the rooftop, God invaded us in January of 2000. Within 120 days we experienced several people who had dramatic demonic manifestations, physical healings taking place, and prophetic words and dreams being released. And to truly take us over the edge, my wife experienced two angelic visitations to explain what was transpiring and what was going to transpire. I can't imagine Peter being more traumatized than I was, and over time many in our church became offended as to what was taking place (including myself at times).

Things did not subside after those first 120 days, in fact, they continue even today in a very notable fashion. Hundreds have received physical healing, hundreds have received freedom from captivity by powers of darkness, and hundreds have received eternal life through Jesus Christ. Many of the healings have included terminal diseases, and even recovery from a death-coma.

The Lord taught us many memorable truths through some very painful lessons. Due to uncertainty, discomfort, and fear, eighty percent of the people that were with us in January 2000 are no longer a part of our church. Our building project came to a screeching halt while excavation had already started. We had been respected in the community of churches surrounding us as a solid and progressive evangelical church; now all manner of stories were circulating and our reputation had become tarnished because of the unconventional ministry that was taking place. Very hurtful things were stated and expressed toward our leadership and church body.

About REFORMATION

One of the lessons we learned in all of this was that the Lord is still reforming His Church. Much has been restored in the Church since the scriptures began to be recovered in the late 1300's to the mid 1500's. Of course Martin Luther was used to recover the essence of salvation by grace, through faith alone in Jesus Christ, in the 16th century. The reformation continued in different dimensions of the Church for the next several centuries. But there is still reformation work to be done in the Church at large.

In the midst of this dramatic upheaval, when I was in a particular state of offense at what God was doing in our church, He asked me a series of questions:

* "What is My design for the Church?"
* "Are you faithful to the commission I gave My Church, or had you succumbed to conventional expectations of man?"
* "What is different about what I am doing in your church than what happened while I ministered on earth?"
* "Were there not physical healings?"
* "Did I not hear directly from My Father as to what He was going to do and what He wanted Me to do and say?"
* "Were there not demonic manifestations no matter where I ministered, whether in the Synagogue or out in the streets and fields?"
* "And did I not demonstrate authority over all powers of darkness and powerfully release those who had been captives?"
* "Was not all of this part of people coming into My kingdom?"
* "Was not all of this part of Me training and teaching My disciples how to do My ministry?"
* "Were not My disciples commissioned to carry out the very ministry My Father sent Me into the world to perform?"
* "Did I not say that My disciples would do the very works I have done and even greater?"
* "Did I not pray for My disciples regarding this work and not only them but for all who would ever believe in Me because of their testimony?"

Waking up to JESUS' MINISTRY

We soon realized there was nothing happening in our church that was not spoken to and demonstrated directly in the Scriptures. God simply woke us up. We needed a good shaking, though! We began to read the Scriptures in a fresh way, all while having our paradigm and practice of "church" change dramatically.

During this season we learned a central message. The Lord emphasized what characterized the ministry or what we like to call "Jesus-ministry." Luke 4:18-19 summarizes it as proclaiming the gospel, releasing captives, giving sight to the blind, freeing the oppressed, and proclaiming this is the age of God's grace.

Jesus' design for His Church - all of us who possess God's Spirit and are followers of Jesus Christ - is that we continue the very ministry He initiated on earth. My ministry and our church were falling short in the assignment the Lord had given us, and we were anemic in the demonstration of His power in our midst. The Church of Jesus Christ, like our church, needs to recover the foundation of God's Word with the demonstration of His power, so that people's lives are radically transformed. This is the mission of the Church. This is what Jesus commissioned us to do! We need a full return to ancient truths and power in present-day wineskins. We need more than mere programs or routine, for the Church desperately needs a revolution unto reformation.

When God Swore
Maria Magruder

Is 50:4 …That I should know how to speak a word in season to him who is weary.
God knows exactly who needs a "word" in season. God knows exactly who is weary, and He knows exactly "when" to speak a word to His people. He never leaves us without a word that will feed us and sustain us. God always has something to say to His people. Glory! We can always find a word to hold fast to in any season we may be in, whether we are "in season" or "out of season". It's the "out of season" times that are the hardest for us. God has promised us there will always be "seasons", there will always be "seed time and harvest time, winter and summer, cold and heat shall not cease". No one can just live in the "in season", we all go through the out of season times. Without the "out of seasons" times there is no growth. You can't just have harvest all the time, because after you have reaped your harvest, there must be more planting, and/or preparation time so there can be another harvest. So be encouraged that those out of season times many of you are experiencing are necessary for the next harvest in your life.

Many of you are in that spot of "out of season" and awaiting for that "in season" to come to play. Your heart has been aching and crying out to God to see that "in season" come to pass, and all those words spoken over you to begin to manifest. During your "out of season" you have been faithful. You have been faithful to God's word and commandments, you have been faithful in the little things as well as the big things, you have labored in building the Kingdom of God, you have served, you have been obedient in all He has asked you to do. All these things have been "planting" my friends. All your labors have not been in vein, but on the contrary, God has seen every seed sown, and every labor you have made:

Hebrews 6:10 For God is not unjust to forget your work and labor of love which you have shown toward His name, in that you have ministered to the saints, and do minister.

I hear the Spirit of the Lord saying, that you have done well, and that He is pleased with you, keep your heart and mind set in Him confident of reaping His promises for your life… AND TO NOT GIVE UP BEFORE YOUR MIRACLE. To not give up before you "in season" comes around again. You can always be sure your in-season will come as sure as spring time and summer always come. Stay the course that He has given you, stick to His word. Literally…STICK to His word, don't let go of it, don't allow yourself to become discouraged before your miracle, before your harvest, before your releasing, as those are only tactics of the enemy to kill your harvest. We are not to lose heart if we want to reap in due season, and due season my friends is coming. (Gal 6:9) Make His word the ultimate authority in your life and settle for nothing less! Glory!

Galatians 6:9 (Phi trans) "Let us not grow tired of doing good, for unless we throw in our hand (give up), the UTLIMATE HARVEST IS ASSURED."

The harvest is assured my friends, as faith being the assurance of the outcome, and hope is what anchors our soul. For Godly hope does not disappoint, but stays in faith and stays in patience, for it's only by faith AND patience that we inherit the promises of God for our lives. You never find faith without patience.

Hebrews 6:12 (Bas trans) "that you do not become sluggish, but imitate those who through faith and long waiting (patience) inherit the promises."

That long waiting my friends is our "out of season" time. Oh, how hard it can seem to be! But the good news is, God is not a liar over anything He has promised you, and He will not be mocked at His word. Glory! As a matter of fact God is so serious about His promises He has made to you, that He swore! Yes, that's right God swore about you. He swore that His word is Truth, and that His word will manifest in your life, and will not return to Him void, for the purpose of souls, for global impact.

Hebrews 6:13 "For when God made a promise to Abraham, because He could SWEAR by no one greater, He SWORE, by Himself."

What exactly did God swear about? Well, He swore His word to Abraham, which is the same word for us. In the amplified version we find God's sworn promise in Gen 12:2:

"And I will make of you a great nation, and I will bless you with ABUNDANT INCREASE OF FAVORS, and I will make your name famous and distinguished, and you WILL be a blessing dispensing GOOD(S) TO OTHERS. And I will bless those who bless you, and curse him who curses you, in you will ALL the families of the earth be blessed (global impact) and by you they will bless themselves….vs 7 …Then the Lord appeared to Abram and said, I WILL GIVE THIS LAND TO YOUR DESCENDANTS."

This my friends is global impact. This my friends is God's promise of the harvest and of every word ever spoken over you, every promise God has given you. For He has already given you the land. And God is so serious about His plans for your life that He SWORE about it. The word "swore" really hits home when you find out what it means:

Swore means: the number seven, as the sacred FULL One, complete, seven times, declaring, declaration seven times, cause to happen, make to happen.

Glory, Glory, Glory! When God says He is going to cause us to dispense multi-millions, multi billions of dollars worth of goods to the earth, to bless ALL the families of the earth, and when God says that He will make you, Church a great nation, that He will cause your name to be famous, and every little devil in hell will know your name, and when He makes promises of the ultimate harvests in your life, when He calls you rich, when He calls you healed, when He calls you into great and mighty anointings, mantles and callings, when He promises favor on your life in your work, with your boss, when He says He will do something in your life, when He has spoken giftings and light into you, when He says He will perform in your life, HE WILL DO IT, BECAUSE HE HAS SWORN IT SEVEN TIMES, HE IS GOING TO CAUSE IT TO HAPPEN, HE IS GOING TO MAKE IT HAPPEN, AND HE SWEARS IT SEVEN TIMES COMPLETE!!!!!!!!!!!!!!! It's a done deal baby! Glory! God cannot break His word! Hallelujah! For He has sworn it complete and He has already given you the land!

Our part on all this is to endure with faith patiently. As it says in Hebrews 6:15 "And after he (Abe) had patiently endured, he obtained the promise." And we find that God is more determined to bless Abrahams descendants and that these promises are absolutely UN-CHANGABLE in verse 17-19:

Thus God determining to show MORE ABUNDANTLY to the heirs of promise the immutability (un-changeable) to the heirs of promise the immutability of His counsel, confirmed it by and oath, that by two immutable (un-changeable) things, in which it is impossible for God to lie, we might have strong consolation, who have fled for refuge to lay hold of the hope set before us. This hope we have as an anchor of the soul, both sure and steadfast, and which enters the Presence behind the veil."

My friends do not give up before your miracle! Let hope anchor your soul (mind, will and emotions) to the word of God, to His promises and know that He will perform His word. He swears it!

Whatever Happened To The Great Renewal?

Don Hawley

July 29, 2004
Note: I'm aware that I've addressed this subject in the past, but now believe I have some additional pieces to the puzzle.

The Greatest Renewal

It was in 1994 that the greatest move of the Holy Spirit since Pentecost broke out in Toronto, Canada. With amazing speed it swept around the world, introducing millions to the kind of divine power that we read about in the book of Acts.

In the Word, John gave sound advice:

"Do not believe everyone who claims to speak by the Spirit. You must test them to see if the spirit they have comes from God. For there are many false prophets in the world."
1 John 4:1.

Since what was happening was outside their comfort zone, many felt they didn't have to do any serious checking. I decided to fly to Toronto to experience for myself, rather than depend on some newspaper or magazine report—usually negative, and almost always by someone who hadn't taken the time to visit personally.

Toronto

The very first night in Toronto I knew something momentous was taking place. From 1,000 to 5,000 people were in attendance each night of the week, from countries all around the world. Virtually every denomination was represented, but it became clear that these man-made, artificial walls of separation were being ignored. This was a gathering of the worldwide Body of Christ, a family affair.

Soon after I returned home, the major participants from Toronto visited Portland, and Bunnie had an opportunity to attend the meetings here. Thus began the most joyful and enriched period of our mutual Christian experience. We became "conference junkies," traveling around the United States and Canada to attend other sessions of the movement that had come to be known simply as "the Renewal."

Not Really New

Most assumed that what was happening in the Renewal was some new phenomenon, but such was not the case. This move of the Holy Spirit closely resembled those throughout history that Christians now look back on with awe and nostalgia. I refer to well-known revivals like the French Calvinist Huguenots in 1559, the followers of John Wesley in 1739, George Fox and the Quakers in 1648, Jonathan Edwards in the 1700s, George Whitfield, also in the 1700s, the meetings in Cane Ridge, Kentucky, in 1801, Charles Finney revivals in 1825, and the Azuza Street revival of 1906.

Every one of the above-mentioned revivals presented the same manifestations as seen, and widely ridiculed, in Toronto, Canada. Many are disquieted by such movements of the Holy Spirit, so through the decades the actual happenings have been thoroughly edited and tamed down to more acceptable pabulum.

Let me say again that this period of renewal provided the most stimulating and rewarding years of my entire Christian experience. Like many others, I've had to ask the question, "Whatever happened to the great Renewal?"

Part of the answer may be found in a most wonderful teaching by Jesus, the story of the Lost Son as recorded in Luke 15:11-32. I won't print it out here, but I hope you will take just a few moments and reread this gem. For me, nothing in the Bible better illustrates the wonderful plan of salvation so dearly purchased by our Savior.

The Prodigal Son

The son had made a complete fool of himself, squandering all his inheritance on wild living. Now, so hungry he yearned to eat the pods set aside for the pigs, he decided to return home. Knowing how totally unworthy he was of a father's love, he offered to sign on as a "hired man."

The principle lesson in this story has to do with the Gospel of Jesus Christ that offers salvation through the blood— plus nothing. The "hireling" represents the legalist, who offers to pay the Father for salvation from his own pitiful little store of good works. Nothing, of course, is a greater insult to Almighty God than to imply that his Son's blood was insufficient. That is why Paul, in Gal. 1:8, 9, pronounces such a dreadful curse on those who claim they can buy their way into heaven.

Instead, the father welcomed the prodigal back as if he were a returning hero. Nothing was too good for his returning son, and as soon as the young man was suitably attired the father threw a huge, all-stops-out party.

The Renewal Party

That's just what the great Renewal was, a big party God threw for his children returning after many boring years in the "valley of dry bones." Before the church could play its assigned role in the final crisis it had to be brought back to life. It had to learn to praise and worship with a certain abandon, rather than the stiff, formal services formerly endured.

Why Did it Wane?

Parties like that for the Prodigal lasted several days, but eventually they had to end so that ordinary business could be taken care of. Marc Dupont was one of the first prophetic voices to state that the Renewal party was ebbing so that Christians could give attention to preparing for other great events just prior to the return of Christ. Jesus said those days would be a "time of horror" such as human kind had never seen, and we can't just party our way into the Kingdom.

Ken Gott of Sunderland, England, put it succinctly when he proclaimed, "The part is over; the war has begun."

To cast further light on the waning Renewal, let's go back to the great spiritual party that was Pentecost.

Pentecost Also was a Party in the Lord

The acts of the Book of Acts were possible only because a new power accompanied the ministry of the followers of Christ. Jesus promised this special empowerment just prior to his return to heaven.

"He told them, 'Do not leave Jerusalem until the Father sends you what he promised. Remember, I have told you about this before. John baptized with water, but in just a few days you will be baptized with the Holy Spirit.'

“’But when the Holy Spirit has come upon you, you will receive power and will tell people about me everywhere.’” Acts. 1:4, 5, 8.

How did the coming of the Spirit affect those who received? We aren’t given specifics, but we can deduce from what observers witnessed.

Drunk in the Spirit

The mighty wind of Pentecost had brought a multitude together, and we are told what they witnessed.

“They stood there amazed and perplexed. “What can this mean?’ they asked each other. But others in the crowd were mocking. “They’re drunk, that’s all!’ they said. . . Acts 2:12, 13.

Peter, under the influence of the Spirit, explained the truth of the matter.

“Some of you are saying these people are drunk. It isn’t true! It’s much too early for that. People don’t get drunk by nine o’clock in the morning.”

“No, what you see this morning was predicted centuries ago by the prophet Joel.

‘In the last days, God said, I will pour out my Spirit upon all people. Your sons and daughters will prophesy, your young men will see visions, and your old men will dream dreams. In those days I will pour out my Spirit upon all my servants, men and women alike, and they will prophesy.’” Vs. 15-18.

The point I want to stress just now concerning this Spirit-induced event is one that many Christians try mightily to gloss over. The behavior of those who received of the Spirit at Pentecost was perhaps best described by comparing it to those drunk from ordinary spirits! No matter how some attempt to claim otherwise, the Scripture makes this perfectly clear.

Paul further clarifies the issue.

“Be not drunk with wine, wherein is excess; but be filled with the Spirit.” Eph. 5:18.

I don’t think we mistreat this verse by expressing it thus:

“Don’t be drunk with wine, as that can bring troubles; instead, be drunk in the Holy Spirit.”

Behavior

Most have seen people tipsy from imbibing liquor; the general effects might be listed as follows:

- Loudness
- Balance impairment; even falling down
- A surfeit of joy
- Laughter
- Breaking into song
- Feelings of affection and camaraderie
- Speech affected

It stands to reason that the disciples at Pentecost must have exhibited some or all of the above attributes. I personally have seen people filled with the Spirit exhibit similar behavior.

Gimme That Long-faced Religion

Many Christians missed out on God's great Renewal party because they confuse solemnity with sanctity. I dare say that a majority of today's Christians would have roundly condemned what the Holy Spirit wrought at Pentecost had they been there! I admit that I spent much of my life in "worship" services that were more funereal than joyful, but I finally have found what God really had in mind.

"When the Holy Spirit controls out lives, he will produce this kind of fruit in us: love, joy, peace, patience, kindness, goodness, faithfulness, gentleness, and self-control." Gal. 5:22, 23.

Since "love" really embraces all of the other gifts of the Spirit, I consider the very first one to be "joy." When the Holy Spirit fell at Pentecost he brought fullness of joy, and that has been true of every great revival since—along with the other manifestations previously mentioned.

Long-faced religion is not true religion; it is not Spirit-filled faith.

The Critical Role of Music in Renewal

Every great renewal through the centuries has brought with it a new music, as was the case with the one that erupted in Toronto in 1994. My wife and I flew to attend many Renewal conferences across the country and in Canada. Every one of those wonderful praise gatherings began with, and was laced with, joyful and powerful music. I still play my CD's with some of those wonderful praise songs such as, "Lord I Lift Your Name on High," "The River is Here," "Mighty is Our God," "I Could Sing of Your Love Forever," and so many more.

That powerful music wasn't just a happy appendage to Renewal, but actually the life blood of it. Unfortunately, as the Renewal waned, so did the music that it birthed.

The Need for a Frequent Nip

Although the wine of the Spirit seemed to diminish with the waning, we surely cannot do without it altogether. To continue in the Way, we need frequent "nips" of the Holy Spirit, and nothing is better designed to provide such drafts as Spirit-filled music. The problem is trying to find spiritual "bars" where such music is offered.

I'm not a professional musician, so I don't understand what has happened. What I do know is that a strange new genre of music has descended on the churches. This new music is insipid, uninspired and boring. The melody wanders up and down the scale without any discernable pattern. The rhythm is weak, and although the words are good ones, they largely are lost because the soul is lacking.

I note another trend. During the Renewal the musicians were focused on bringing the people to the Throne. Now, once again, the focus often is on individual musicians and their performance.

I often wonder where this new music came from. Who decreed this was the way to go? How did it infiltrate all churches? All I know is that wherever I go I find it holding forth. Even those congregations that were known for strong, enthusiastic music have succumbed. So, if one who joyed in the great Renewal music thirsts for a corporate "nip," where can such a person go? I really don't know.

What I do know is that God's musician David told us plainly what kind of worship music pleases the Divine.

“Praise the Lord!”

“Praise him with the tambourine and dancing; praise him with stringed instruments and flutes!

“Praise him with a clash of cymbals; praise him with loud clanging cymbals.

“Let everything that lives sing praises to the Lord!

“Praise the Lord!” Ps. 150.

Personally, having tasted the new wine, I am not content to go back to playing church. There is no power in that to meet the challenges just ahead.

The Final Act

Many are unaware, but events are shaping up rapidly for the final climax of human history. The devil is putting everything he has on the line. Surely there will be one more great, probably brief, thrust of the Spirit prior to Christ’s appearing. Perhaps great praise music could help usher in that final move of the Spirit. Please join me in praying that God will raise up Spirit-filled musicians who will lift his people to new heights of adoration and praise!

What If

www.vision2advance.com

From time to time, we have all wondered what if? There are many what ifs in many situations in life. What ifs can be good, especially looking at the way things are and also what if we changed them or adjusted them for the better. We only know in part, so it is always good to check what we think we know often. Here are my What Ifs as we move into 2005.

Please remember that these are only what ifs, purposed to shake up paradigms, firm some up and dismantle others. My prayers are to continually stimulate a possibility thought process on those things that are non essentials and absolutes…..

What if pastors and leadership teams around the world would train and release every member of their church into the ministry that the Lord has called them to in, around, and especially beyond the four walls?

What if pastors would seek to train and support the vision God has for each of their members rather than have the members fulfill the pastor's personal vision for the church?

What if the pastors vision could truly come to fruition because each member would realize their purpose and calling and be released to fulfill it beyond the four walls?

What if every Mega church sought in relationship the other pastors of the community not to fulfill the Mega vision but to truly see transformation take place in all of the churches and jurisdictions of the city?

What if the true 5-fold ministry was unleashed upon every church and that every gift and every leader would be fulfilling their roles as a servant rather than seeking to be served?

What if we realized the Lord owned everything we have and asked us to steward everything, and that we would ask Him how much to give and to where, always willing to give 100% if He were to ask of us?

What if all the children of God understood and operated in the full authority that Jesus Christ sacrificed for us to have?

What if we would accept others and the blessing they are, rather than be offended by them in their differences?

What if more souls for the kingdom and the releasing of every saint into ministry far outweighed any focus on mammon?

What if we all were willing to serve in every phase of our lives rather than being served?

What would happen if every believer realized the lifetime process we are in and could walk beside those not as far along in the process?

What if what we thought was reality was revealed as not, so as to get us to living a life that is filled with reality and purpose for the kingdom?

What if we really knew we could choose to not be offended when offenses came, or at least choose to let go of all offenses immediately?

What if we chose to forgive in every situation and not only because the Father said He would not forgive us unless we did, but because it was in our hearts to love in that way?

What if we really were blinded to culture, creed and credentials as the family of God? And what it if we were excited about the uniqueness of each difference, and the value of each expression of God's people?

What if spiritual Fathers would be motivated with a heart of giving to their spiritual sons that far outweighed any thoughts of what they would receive in return?

What if we had abundantly more Shepherds, (pastors), willing to run after the few of the flock that have been hurt, isolated and in need of life giving expressions of our Saviors love?

What would happen if God's people really prayed and communicated intimately with the Father on a daily basis?

What if we had every Christian home open and available for the faith community every week? And how about daily?

What if every believer was more concerned about being Father's change agents for people, families and communities rather than when we check out in the soon coming rapture?

What if the rapture were a long ways off, or to not to come at all, would we still be about our Father's business in establishing His kingdom upon the earth?

What if we really did not fear dying for Him and in fact chose to die to self daily in order to truly live in and through Him?

What if we lived and moved and had our being in the Holy Spirit 24 hours a day and 7 days a week?

What if every word or deed was received with the Father's heart and mind and every response that came forth from us in word and deed was likewise from the heart of the Father?

What if we would rather have a towel (servant), than a title in leadership?

What if we realized that we must seek to trash every idol in our life to really be free to serve in the army of our Lord.

What if we realized that the greatest idol that you and I have is "self" and we must remove him as often and completely as possible?

What if we realized that removing self only happens as we die to self and live in Him as we seek Him and His will alone?

What if every believer realized that their obedience to what the Father has called them to do was ministry unto Him and His kingdom?

What if every housewife and mother understood that she was in full time ministry in her role?

What if every businessman or blue collar worker realized that in Christ, they were full time ministers in their calling?

What if there was no difference in the perceived spirituality of a nuclear or ecclesiastic pastor and one who pastored their home and business, keeping in mind the godly order of things?

What if we actually believe God speaks in relevance for today beyond the written word in alignment of the written word?

What if we actually could actually hear a relevant word for today that was in line with the heart and written word of God?

What if there was greater prophetic accountability and disclosure that we are still learning to hear and pronounce prophetically?

What if in accountability and freedom to express what we hear, that we may include a disclosure with something like this; the date, time or event may not ever happen as we only get 3 out of 10 of these right, as we are learning to hear our Fathers voice?

What if we worshipped the foundation of the order, (Christ), beyond the order or perceived order of things?

What if the living Word, (Christ Himself) replaced any dead theoretical, theological, Christological religion?

What if we came and really had fellowship or a connection with somebody on a Sunday, rather than not knowing those around us and once again leaving empty relationally on the drive home?

What if we loved as He loved?

What if we spoke as He spoke?

What if we did what He did?

What if my opinions were okay, because they were my opinions and people would love me even if my opinions were different from theirs?

What if people were commanded to love me and would love me out of obedience, even if they did not feel, "the love"?

What if even one of these "what ifs" were to fan the flame in just a few to go out and make a bigger kingdom difference?

Where Are The Prophets

Where Are The Prophets In The Church Of Jesus Christ?
Excerpt from Article "WHERE HAVE ALL THE PROPHETS GONE?"
(originally published on Ncubator.com, 2001.)

Pick a prophet... any prophet? Lately we in the churches are playing this dangerous game. Nobody seems to be sure who is a "real" prophet and who just got lucky a few times and hit the nail on the head.

Why are we lacking discernment when it comes to knowing who is a prophet and who isn't? It might have something to do with people not understanding what Bible prophecy actually is ... and isn't.

Let's examine the general set-up in a typical church in America.

Pastors are locked into routines that creates a kind of domino effect. Complacency and fear on the part of the pastors who feel responsible for maintaining control tends to keep the door shut to true prophets of God coming into the churches. Instead of all the parts of the Body of Christ working together, the heaviest burden still remains on the pastors. Ironically, the balance is forsaken for the sake of keeping "order" in the church, which often means excluding those "high-risk" prophets.

On the other hand, everybody likes the evangelists to come in every so often, as these are frequently the most showy of all ministers. They can get folks stirred up enough, but not TOO much. The church leaders want these evangelists to preach a Gospel that persuades unbelievers to believe. So they "gift-wrap" their message so the unGodly will take notice. That "glitter wrapping" can take the the form of loud and obnoxious showmanship.

Prophets generally don't come in gift-wrapped, unless they've devised some kind of "schtick", like singing and dancing and rythymically rhyming people into a kind of spiritual euphoria.

Prophets might exhibit outrageous mannerisms, dress in contemporary fashions, such as wearing black garments and a long hairstyles. But again, people are looking at that glamorous personality, and the Word of God then becomes much diluted. A compromise has to be made in order to be able to deliver a potent message. It's the tactic: "a spoonful of sugar helps the mediocre goes down".

However, you cannot hope the real ones will stay away forever. Ignore them, but they still keep coming ... yep, the prophets are here now! And they DON'T look like the aforementioned!

The reason the prophets are not visible in the church is because there is no room made for them. Everybody wants the pastors and teachers and evangelists, but they sure don't want the prophets - and even less - the apostles - to appear on the scene.

Because when a prophet or apostle arrives, it heralds all is not well. A chasmic unmet need being avoided is about to be addressed. The prophet announces exactly what they may not want to hear. And an apostle is going to build them a new church. Nobody wants to hear those "hellfire and brimstone" messages! And there is invariably going to be a battle when a genuine prophet or apostle comes into town.

Jesus Himself made relatively infrequent appearances inside the temple. That's because He was certainly not welcome there! The religious leaders of Jesus' day were trespassing in the temple and ruling it. Jesus would only upset their agenda. It is beautifully symbolic that Jesus OVERTURNS the religious peddlers' carts when He enters the temple.

In conclusion, as long as a church adheres to its ceremonious rituals and practices, there won't much hope of a real prophet squeezing in, unless he (or she) literally bursts through the door and overturns the book and tape tables, and the flower pots all over the altar, and the velvet upholstered pews. In this day and age, that is almost laughable! Just imagine someone doing that -- and about a hundred squad cars would be summoned immediately with lights and sirens, and that one little "agitator" would be cuffed and hauled away by six burly uniformed officers!

I mean, sometimes it has even occurred to me that some of these "faith" churches have these security-guard deacons and ushers stationed strategically placed around the doors for the reason of keeping out just that very type of person. These guys are more like bouncers, eyeballing everybody that comes in the church door. Lord have mercy on anyone who exhibits "disruptive" behavior! The church sentinels are so busy filtering out what they anticipate as bad, they won't be able to receive that which is good -- that which is truly from God that would make all the difference between "church as usual" and a genuine move of the Holy Spirit.

Therefore, in an effort to keep everything in a decent and orderly manner, they've got their pre-planned prophecies, where someone is assigned the role of speaking out in a prophetic manner. That again, is almost laughable! Or, how about when somebody is selected prior to the service to be the designated tongue-talker? Then the pastor himself may give the interpretation, or the pre-selected "interpreter".

It's all orchestrated prior to service. It's all part of the show, to keep the congregants amused and to keep them believing this is "real church". And, that, they believe, will keep the coffers filled. People aren't going to pay for something that doesn't give them their spiritual "lift"!

Lord, we can only keep praying for a loosing of the true prophets of God in Your church, and for true apostles to go where they are sent by You to go and build new churches.

Right now the commercial prophets are going out to all parts of the globe, yet some of these people are not equipped for the work because they were neither truly called by You, nor were they adequately trained and discipled before they set out. They assume You, God, will be there when they get there. This is like toes trying to be fingers.

Compounded by the sanction of church committees who hand these well-meaning ministers their passports to foreign lands, these prophet-merchandisers are ill-prepared to face the reality of what they will meet when they reach their destinations. WHY?? BECAUSE THERE IS A STARVATION FOR GENUINE BIBLICAL PROPHECY TO BE DELIVERED IN THE CHURCH TODAY!!!

Jesus stormed into the temple, and we pray You, Holy Spirit, thunder into the midst of church services today just like Jesus did when He took whips and beat the money changers and drove them out! Hallelujah! Holy Spirit, we call upon You praying You will forcefully drive the religious spirits out of the churches! Glory to God! Holy Spirit, let the prophets of God come in and say what MUST be said. No more "hat-and-cane" Christianity, no more toxic faith, no more pomp-and-circumstance religious fairs.

Holy Spirit, PLEASE come!

We have been praying that You will be welcomed. But it's clear to see that they WON'T welcome You. So, we invite You... PLEASE TAKE OVER, Holy Spirit! May God's prophets now come in! No more showboating, no more grandstanding, no more back slapping or "Jesus pep-rallies". No more church as usual. No more politics. No more religious threatre. Praise the Lord! Glory belongs to the Lord alone!

Ministers of the Gospel, take heed.

End Time

Scripture of the Week

Prayer Psalm 135

Baruch Ata,
YHVH - Elohey Yisrael, Avi
(Bless You, YHVH - Elohim of Israel, my Father).

We, Your servants YHVH who stand in Your house, the house of Ya'acov, and in Your courts, praise You, we praise Your name Elohey'nu (our God). For You have chosen Ya'acov for Yourself and we of Israel, his seed, as Your special treasure. Yes, it is good and pleasant to praise You, Elohey Avotey'nu (God of our Fathers).

I know Abba, that You are great and that You are above all gods. You will do, whatever You, Ribon Olam (Sovereign of the Universe), please to do, in heaven and in earth, in the seas and in all deep places. For You cause the vapors to ascend from the ends of the earth; You make lightning for the rain; You bring the wind out of Your treasuries.

You Elohey Tzva'ot (God of the Armies), destroyed the firstborn of Egypt, both of man and beast. You sent signs and wonders into the midst of Egypt, upon Pharaoh and all his servants. You defeated many nations and slew mighty kings -- Sihon king of the Amorites, Og king of Bashan, and all the kingdoms of Canaan – You gave their land to my forefathers as an inheritance, a heritage to Israel Your people. Your name, YHVH - Elohey Yisrael (God of Israel), endures forever, Your fame, Elohey Avraham, Yitzchak and Ya'acov (God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob), throughout all generations.

The idols of the nations are silver and gold, the work of men's hands. They have mouths, but they do not speak; eyes they have, but they do not see; they have ears, but they do not hear; nor is there any breath in their mouths. Those who make them are like them; so is everyone who trusts in them.

You, YHVH - Shof'teynu (our Judge), will judge us, Your people; You will have compassion on Your servants.

All the house of Israel will praise You, all the house of Aaron will praise You, and all the house of Levi will praise Your holy Name YHVH. All those who fear You, YHVH, El Shaddai (God Almighty), will praise You! We praise You out of Zion, all those who dwell in Jerusalem! Praise You, YHVH!

Hallelu-Yah!!! For You, YHVH, are Elohim. You are Elohey Yisrael, Elohey Avraham, Yitzchak and Ya'acov. Avi the Almighty reigns!

End Time Prophetic Vision

Who Is This Man From Galilee?

Yolanda Ballard

Jan 29, 2004
Who is this Man from Galilee? Is He one of the brothers of the carpenter who works in the mill, or is He just a passerby from the village? Who is this Man was a common saying back in the days when My Son was growing up, because He did not act like the other children. And even this day many ask the same question, but are you ready to reply with an answer that can change their life even from death to life?

We need to be ready at all times to give a testimony to our Lord Jesus of His love and faithfulness. Many ask but really do not want to know. So beware not to cast your pearls before swine for surely they will turn and trample you. Even with what you give them they will run and try to cause you harm. For this is the day to have greater discernment and victory in every area of your ministry. Do not get caught up in areas that I did not call you to. For the enemy will set traps to try to seduce you to leave what I called you to do. Yes, he will try to entice you and tempt you, but do not listen to him.

Cast down vain imaginations that would delude you from the path of holiness which is having a humble and contrite spirit. He will try to rob you of your time by planting tares that only want to distract you from your true calling. Beware of those that have big problems but will not repent of their wicked ways. If you help them, you will only strengthen them in their sin. For this is the day to seek out those who I have died for. For they are ready in their heart but just don't know how to receive My message of grace and truth. So seek out those who will reply in a positive way and receive My life in abundance. Yes, they will receive My gospel message.

Who is the Man from Galilee? Listen closely to those who are crying out with a heart of sincere desire to know Me, not of one who is sent to lead you astray to a pit of no return. Many are called but few are chosen to follow Me in the path I've set out, one of suffering and endurance. For I have set out a cross for all to carry that will transform your life into one of fruitfulness for My kingdom. I have set out a path of humility and grace. I have set out a place of peace in the midst of the storm; secret place calling you to draw close to Me. Come apart from the cares of the world and dwell in My presence so that I can prepare you. You are like sheep in the midst of a pack of wolves and if you stay close to My side, I will protect you and guide you. Yes, I will lead you by streams of living water to refresh you.

Yes, I will prepare you to carry My anointing in greater measure to walk in My power and grace to gather in the wheat. Yes, you will know those who I have died for. You will see the desire for My love in their eyes and a willingness to receive all I have for them. So be ready when I call for I AM sending you out to reap a bumper crop for My kingdom. Yes, this is the day for great grace in ministering to the lost and even those who have fallen away.

Yes, this is the day of restoration, for truly I AM that Man from Galilee, and I AM walking in the midst of My faithful ones who will carry on My calling, to reconcile unto My Father all that I gave My life for.

Where Has The Glory Gone

Hollie Moody

(5 February 2004)
Since the closing of the year of 2003, the Lord instructed me to be silent and to observe closely events transpiring in the congregation I attend. The Lord laid it on my heart that these events I would be observing would also be events transpiring to many other congregations world wide.

For weeks and months, I came quietly to church; sat in the very back, and just observed. Many things I observed disturbed and angered me. Other things I observed revived a spirit of hope within me.

It seemed that as I observed situations in the congregation I attend, I somehow also was sensing the spirits behind these events. There were times I felt paralyzing spirits of lethargy, indifference, apathy, oppression and depression. There were spirits of anger, disunity, discord, gossip and slander.

Many times, observing these things and feeling the weight of these spirits behind the events weakened me physically and I battled numerous illnesses.

Attendance at the congregation I attend has dropped by more than half. Almost no young people or young couples remain. Those who have left this congregation, for the most part, have not backslid. They still love the Lord and want to serve Him. They have just stopped coming to church.

I ask myself often, "Where has the glory gone?"

A few weeks ago, the Lord broke His silence and began to speak and reveal and show some things to me about myself and the congregation I attend. The Lord said that these things also apply to others of His children and other congregations.

It is with a spirit of weakness and a heart almost of fear (feeling completely unable and incapable of somehow putting into words), that I now attempt to share these things with others.

The Lamp Of God Went Out

In a vision, the Lord and I were standing quietly next to each other. The Lord showed me a church building set upon a large hill. I saw a bright light shining out from this church building. Then, the light began to glow fainter and fainter. Until finally, the light went out.

1 Samuel 3:3-4 ~~ "{3} And ere the lamp of God went out in the temple of the Lord, where the ark of God was, and Samuel was laid down to sleep; {4} Then the Lord called Samuel: and he answered, Here am I."

The Glory Is Departed

In the vision, I then saw an opaque cloud shoot out through the top of this church building. When this happened, I saw people leaving the building. 1 Samuel 4:21-22 ~~ "{21} And she named the child Ich-a-bod, saying, The glory is departed from Israel: because the ark of God was taken, and because of her father-in-law and her husband. {22} And she said, The glory is departed from Israel: for the ark of God is taken."

Spirit Of A Whore

A beautiful woman then approached the darkened church building and entered into it. From the way the woman was dressed, she appeared to be a prostitute.

I then found myself with the Lord within the church building. I noticed that there were a few people remaining in the building.

The prostitute was going from person to person, whispering in their ears. Some of the people appeared to listen to her words. Other people put their hands over their ears and ran from the prostitute.

"Who is this prostitute?" I asked the Lord.

"She represents a spirit of false doctrine," the Lord replied. "This is a spirit perverting My Word; mingling carnality with that which is holy."

Revelation 17:1 ~~ "And there came one of the seven angels which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying unto me, come hither; I will show unto thee the judgment of the great whore that sitteth upon many waters."

Spirit Of Ab-sa-lom

I saw a male in the church building begin to go up to all the people in the building and begin to speak to each of them. I walked over to this man and heard his words of flattery and self-promotion. His words were masked with a false humility.

Soon, I noticed that most of the people remaining in the congregation had begun to gather around this man.

"Who is this man?" I asked the Lord.

"This is the spirit of Absalom," the Lord replied. "This spirit is at work within many congregations to steal the hearts of the faithful. This spirit draws many of My children into self-promotion. This is a spirit of idolatry rampant in many congregations and in many of My children's hearts."

2 Samuel 15:1-6 ~~ "{1} And it came to pass after this, that Ab-sa-lom prepared him chariots and horses, and fifty men to run before him. {2} And Ab-sa-lom rose up early, and stood beside the way of the gate: and it was so, that when any man that had a controversy came to the king for judgment, then Ab-sa-lom called unto him, and said, Of what city art thou? And he said, Thy servant is of one of the tribes of Israel. {3} And Ab-sa-lom said unto him, See, thy matters are good and right; but there is no man deputed of the king to hear thee. {4} Ab-sa-lom said moreover, Oh that I were made judge in the land, that every man which hath any suit or cause might come unto me, and I would do him justice! {5} And it was so, that when any man came nigh to him to do him obeisance, he put forth his hand, and took him, and kissed him. {6} And on this manner did Ab-sa-lom to all Israel that came to the king for judgment: so Ab-sa-lom stole the hearts of the men of Israel."

Perfect Through Sufferings

I then noticed a group of people standing slightly apart from the rest of the people in the congregation. Some of these people appeared to be quite angry and upset. Others were weeping, and some were standing absolutely still.

As I continued to watch these people, I saw the Lord approach them and knock all of them down to the ground. I was absolutely shocked when I saw this.

Then, the Lord knelt down on the ground in the midst of the people He had just knocked down. Very gently, with great compassion, I saw the Lord draw into His arms and onto His lap each of these people He had knocked down to the ground.

I hesitantly approached the Lord and the group of people the Lord was embracing on the floor of the church building.

"Who are these people, Lord?" I asked.

"These are My greatly beloved ones," the Lord replied tenderly. "They are My prophets. I sent them to congregations, to pastors, to others of My children. Some were honored. Most were not.

"Oftentimes, their words were ignored or ridiculed. They were set aside and pushed aside in many congregations. They endured many situations and persecutions while crying out to Me why it must needs be this way.

"I caused it to be a time of testing for many of them. I allowed many of their sufferings to come upon them in order to bring them to perfection. It is through what they have suffered and endured faithfully that they are now mature spiritually. It is through having been broken of their own agendas and fleshly efforts and desire for renown that I have perfected them."

Hebrews 2:9-10 ~~ "{9} But we see Jesus, who was made a little lower than the angels for the suffering of death, crowned with glory and honor; that he by the grace of God should taste death for every man. {10} For it became him, for whom are all things, and by whom are all things, in bringing many sons unto glory, to make the captain of their salvation perfect through sufferings."

1 Peter 4:13-14 ~~ "{13} But rejoice, inasmuch as ye are partakers of Christ's sufferings; that, when his glory shall be revealed, ye may be glad also with exceeding joy. {14} If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye; for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of , but on your part he is glorified."

Old And New Wineskins

I then watched as the Lord rose to His feet, held a hand out to each of the prophets He had knocked to the ground, and gently helped them back to their feet. I saw that each prophet leaned heavily upon the Lord's Hand to raise them back up instead of trying through their own efforts to get back to their feet.

When the prophets were back on their feet, I saw the Lord put what appeared to be water canteens into the hands of each prophet. Some canteens appeared either older or newer than other canteens.

Then, the prophets took the canteens around to the people within the church building. The prophets offered each person a drink from the canteen they were holding. Some of the people appeared to want to drink from either an older or a newer canteen. They were allowed to do so.

Luke 5:36-39 ~~ "{36} And he spake also a parable unto them; No man putteth a piece of a new garment upon an old; if otherwise, then both the new maketh a rent, and the piece that was taken out of the new agreeth not with the old. {37} And no man putteth new wine into old bottles; else the new wine will burst the bottles, and be spilled, and the bottles shall perish. {38} But new wine must be put into new bottles; and both are preserved. {39} No man also having drunk old wine straightway desireth new: for he saith, The old is better."

Repairer Of The Breach

After each person had drank from the canteen, I watched as the Lord began to touch the places within the church building that appeared to be broken down or in need of some type of repair.

As I watched closer, I noticed that the entire church building was actually made up of individual people. As I turned in a slow circle to stare at the entire church building, I became fully aware of the fact that the building was flesh and blood.

I stood in silent awe, watching the Lord repairing and restoring His Church. While the Lord was at work, I realized that what had been a church building consisting of manmade materials was now disappearing. It was being replaced by an organism that appeared to be alive and breathing and growing even as I stared at it.

The Lord continued to work on this organism. As He did, I heard noises behind and around me. I looked around and behind me and saw long lines of people coming towards the Lord. As the people reached the Lord, He reached out, grasped each person, and incorporated that person into the organism He was building.

Slowly, I also approached the Lord.

"I've waited a long time for this moment, My child," the Lord said to me. "Not just for you, but for all of My children."

Then, the Lord reached out for me, gently took Me into His hands, and fit me into my place within the organism He was building.

Isaiah 58:12 ~~ "And they that shall be of thee shall build the old waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations; and thou shalt be called, The repairer of the breach, The restorer of paths to dwell in."

In Him,
Hollie L. Moody

Why Reformation

Bayo Omoyiola

scroll_of_david@yahoo.com

Have you ever wondered what the reformation move of God is about?
Many had thought the move wasn't from God. Some had thought that its arrival negates the existence of the previous moves of God. How wrong were they for the reformation move of God was not to subtract or cancel out the other moves but was sent by God to add to them and to fulfill God's original intention for his church.

Re-structuring the church

One of the reasons for the reformation move is to re-structure the church to conform to the original plan of God. God sent the reformers to pull down the wrong structures and to replace them with the right ones.

Cleansing

God is coming for a church without wrinkle, stain or blemish and so he send his reformers to clean-up the mess in his church. The purification includes the trying of the vessels through fire. Judgments are declared and the people are made cleaner and whiter.

Perfection

The reformation move fulfills Ephesians 4:11-13 as the reformed 5-fold ministers reach out to the church and the dying world to bring about a reformation. The reformation move comes to complete the entire move of God. It is probably the 9th move of God and it is probably the last of the moves. The presence of the 9 moves of God in these days will promote the church to fullness and perfection. Have you ever wondered why we have 9 gifts of the Spirit and 9 virtues of the fruit of the Spirit? This I believe represents fullness. The fullness of God is always released after a reformation or a re-ordering and when the church lifts up it's voice with one accord. The glory of the Lord fills the temple. After every completion, there is a filling, an infilling that takes place. In these days God is going to complete his house through apostolic and prophetic reformation.

Unity of faith

Sequel to the above point is the fact that reformation brings unity of faith. The false doctrines of the church are exposed and the brethren are united in one accord. The separation is removed as truth separates the false from the true and gathers the true together. And we see unity in manifestation as the apostles, prophets and other reformed ministers unites the hearts of the fathers to their children and the hearts of the children to their fathers.

Manifold Wisdom of God

The heart of the father is made known to the church through the ministry of the apostles and the prophets. The manifold wisdom is released to daze the principalities and powers, to show the world the awesomeness of God and to feed, build and complete the church. Through the Lord's wisdom people are changed. Their minds are reformed and they are made to conform to the Lord's image.

Wise And Foolish

Bob Neumann

I remember several years ago when I was an EPHESIANS believer, caught up in the FIRST LOVE, the joy we all have shared I came across Dallas Holme and PRAISE. Songs like HERE WE ARE would fill my spirit and the simple joy of WORSHIP would fill me. HERE WE ARE, PRAISING JESUS LIFTING HOLY HANDS TO YOU HERE WE ARE PRAISING JESUS FOR ALL THE THINGS HE'S LED US THROUGH.

If you had a Psalm 130 experience where you called out to HIM from the depths, you have lived such lyrics. The problem is that like the believers of Ephesus too many of us lose our FIRST LOVE and settle for something else. At the same time I listened to another song by Dallas where he sang...that his friends called him a "fool" for giving his heart, mind, soul to "something you couldn't see". His answer "I'll be a fool for you Jesus, that's just what I'll be.... CRAZY IN LOVE WITH GOD ABOVE... that's all I want ta be..."

In the minds of the worldly to love THE MOST HIGH is unfathomable. Ask Karl Marx. Ask Voltaire. Ask Hitler. But they are all dead, ain't they? And the philosophies they birthed have all floundered.

Yet we remember the songs of a shepherd boy who made good. We even remember his son who started good and ended poorly. And then there was THE CARPENTER who said COME UNTO ME. But even that had a dual PURPOSE. TO BE YOKED WITH HIM.....and TO LEARN OF HIM...FROM HIM.

1 Corinthians 3
[18] Let no man deceive himself. If any man among you seemeth to be wise in this world, let him become a fool, that he may be wise.
[19] For the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God. For it is written, He taketh the wise in their own craftiness.
[20] And again, The Lord knoweth the thoughts of the wise, that they are vain.

I always love to find IT IS WRITTEN in a scripture passage....well just call me crazy. Worldly wisdom in itself is useless. More than that it can destroy that which is of GOD in a believer. Ever ask why the EPHESIANS lost their FIRST LOVE? As for what was sown among thorns, this is the one who hears the word, but the cares of the world and the deceitfulness of riches choke the word, and it proves unfruitful. Funny that HE puts the two together..."the cares of this world" and the "deceitfulness of riches". To me that speaks of both Ephesus and Laodicea. Not a nice pair of book ends.

Deception and being deceived seems to be around a lot. Especially in places like Matthew 24. Only it is "DO NOT BE DECEIVED". So why are so many falling for the words of men and demons when THE LORD is with us? HE HAS NOT LEFT US...FORESAKEN US. Are we not THE CHILDREN OF THE BLESSING. Equal Receivers of THE MOST HOLY SPIRIT? RECEIVING IN FULL MEASURE THE GIFTS OF THE FATHER?

Or maybe, just maybe....we are not.

Jeremiah 4

[21]How long must I see the standard and hear the sound of the trumpet?
[22]"For my people are foolish;
 they know me not;

they are stupid children;
they have no understanding.
They are 'wise'--in doing evil!
But how to do good they know not."
[23]I looked on the earth, and behold, it was without form and void; and to the heavens, and they had no light.

THE MOST HIGH is speaking in Jeremiah 4. So that is why I use red letters. Maybe RED LETTERS should be thought of as RED FLAGS. WARNINGS OF DANGER....of APPROACHING STORMS. Yet when THE LORD SAID COME UNTO ME... was it a warning of approaching danger? or was it the answer?

THE REFUGE?

Why do Watchmen blow TRUMPETS....ring Bells....sound ALARMS? Why does ABBA send HIS SERVANTS to HIS PEOPLE? [7]And this occurred because the people of Israel had sinned against the LORD their God, who had brought them up out of the land of Egypt from under the hand of Pharaoh king of Egypt, and had feared other gods [8]and walked in the customs of the nations whom the LORD drove out before the people of Israel, and in the customs that the kings of Israel had practiced. [9]And the people of Israel did secretly against the LORD their God things that were not right. They built for themselves high places in all their towns, from watchtower to fortified city. [10]They set up for themselves pillars and Asherim on every high hill and under every green tree, [11]and there they made offerings on all the high places, as the nations did whom the LORD carried away before them. And they did wicked things, provoking the LORD to anger, [12]and they served idols, of which the LORD had said to them, "You shall not do this." [13]Yet the LORD warned Israel and Judah by every prophet and every seer, saying, "Turn from your evil ways and keep my commandments and my statutes, in accordance with all the Law that I commanded your fathers, and that I sent to you by my servants the prophets."
[14]But they would not listen, but were stubborn, as their fathers had been, who did not believe in the LORD their God. [15]They despised his statutes and his covenant that he made with their fathers and the warnings that he gave them. They went after false idols and became false, and they followed the nations that were around them, concerning whom the LORD had commanded them that they should not do like them. [16]And they abandoned all the commandments of the LORD their God, and made for themselves metal images of two calves; and they made an Asherah and worshiped all the host of heaven and served Baal. [17]And they burned their sons and their daughters as offerings and used divination and omens and sold themselves to do evil in the sight of the LORD, provoking him to anger. [18]Therefore the LORD was very angry with Israel and removed them out of his sight. None was left but the tribe of Judah only. I know that was a long passage of scripture....all 11 verses. But which verse do you cut out for brevity's sake? VERSE13? 14? 15? 16? 17? of course 18! How about 19.... [19]Judah also did not keep the commandments of the LORD their God, but walked in the customs that Israel had introduced. [20]And the LORD rejected all the descendants of Israel and afflicted them and gave them into the hand of plunderers, until he had cast them out of his sight.

Because they did not keep HIS COMMANDMENTS...THE LORD THEIR GOD... REJECTED....AFFLICTED....GAVE OVER....and CAST OUT....."them".

Some people think that I write these things because I have nothing better to do. That I and others fill the WWW with "doom and gloom" because we are a bunch of panic mongers. Wackos who get their kicks by scaring people. Loonie-Tunes who have lost all sense of reality.

So why do it?

[1]In the beginning of the reign of Jehoiakim the son of Josiah, king of Judah, this word came from the LORD: [2]"Thus says the LORD: Stand in the court of the LORD's house, and speak to all the cities of Judah that come to worship in the house of the LORD all the words that I command you to speak to them; do not hold back a word. [3]It may be they will listen, and every one turn from his evil way, that I may relent of the disaster that I intend to do to them because of their evil deeds. [4]You shall say to them, 'Thus says the LORD: If you will not listen to me, to walk in my law that I have set before you, [5]and to listen to the words of my servants the prophets whom I send to you urgently, though you have not listened, [6]then I will make this house like Shiloh, and I will make this city a curse for all the nations of the earth.'" Why would an eternal GOD send HIS SERVANTS...URGENTLY? For HIS SAKE? the SAKE OF HIS SERVANTS? Maybe HE DOES NOT WANT TO DO WHAT HE HAS TO DO.... BECAUSE HE IS GOD.

Call it JUSTICE.

We used to say...if you can't do the TIME....don't do the CRIME. [18]For the word of the cross is folly to those who are perishing, but to us who are being saved it is the power of God. [19]For it is written, "I will destroy the wisdom of the wise, and the discernment of the discerning I will thwart."
[20]Where is the one who is wise? Where is the scribe? Where is the debater of this age? Has not God made foolish the wisdom of the world? [21]For since, in the wisdom of God, the world did not know God through wisdom, it pleased God through the folly of what we preach to save those who believe. [22]For Jews demand signs and Greeks seek wisdom, [23]but we preach Christ crucified, a stumbling block to Jews and folly to Gentiles, [24]but to those who are called, both Jews and Greeks, Christ the power of God and the wisdom of God. [25]For the foolishness of God is wiser than men, and the weakness of God is stronger than men.
[26]For consider your calling, brothers: not many of you were wise according to worldly standards,[2] not many were powerful, not many were of noble birth. [27]But God chose what is foolish in the world to shame the wise; God chose what is weak in the world to shame the strong; [28]God chose what is low and despised in the world, even things that are not, to bring to nothing things that are, [29]so that no human being[3] might boast in the presence of God. [30]He is the source of your life in Christ Jesus, whom God made our wisdom and our righteousness and sanctification and redemption. [31]Therefore, as it is written, "Let the one who boasts, boast in the Lord."

Like I said I love it when I read...IT IS WRITTEN....like in... Then Jesus said to him, "Be gone, Satan! For it is written, "'You shall worship the Lord your God and him only shall you serve.'"

To the worldly, it does seem foolish to worship and to serve..... To listen and obey........

When I AM Is In Charge

Kim Alexis:

What It Looks Like When "I AM" Is In Charge of Your Life

This is something that I do in my mind from time to time when things do not go my way. I thought you may want to take the time to read through this (It is short) and adjust your thinking when things do not go your way this week. Blessings, Kim Alexis

Next time your morning seems to be going wrong, the children are slow getting dressed, you can't seem to find the car keys, you hit every traffic light, don't get mad or frustrated; God is at work watching over you. Doubtful? Think about this:

Reports after 9/11 Twin Towers Attack

After Sept. 11th, one company invited the remaining members of other companies who had been decimated by the attack on the Twin Towers to share their available office space. At a morning meeting, the head of security told stories of why these people were alive...... and all the stories were just 'little' things.

As you might know, the head of the company got in late that day because his son started kindergarten.
Another fellow was alive because it was his turn to bring donuts.

One woman was late because her alarm clock didn't go off in time.

One was late because of being stuck on the NJ Turnpike because of an auto accident.

One missed his bus.

One spilled food on her clothes and had to take time to change.

One's car wouldn't start.

One went back to answer the telephone.

One had a child that dawdled and didn't get ready as soon as he should have.

One couldn't get a taxi.

The one that struck me was the man who put on a new pair of shoes that morning, took the various means to get to work but before he got there, he developed a blister on his foot. He stopped at a drugstore to buy a Band-Aid. That is why he is alive today.

Now when I am stuck in traffic, miss an elevator, turn back to answer a ringing telephone ... all the little things that annoy me. I think to myself, this is exactly where God wants me to be at this very moment.

May God continue to bless you with all those annoying little things and may you remember their possible purpose.

Why I Believe In Miracles

Conrad Lampan

A few years ago a fellow minister approached me to give me some "advice" about my ministry, particularly about healing and praying for the sick. It was not the first one to do so, but while others had only given me a sort of veiled suggestion about the matter; this particular friend was very strong and precise in his views. He told me: "Brother, you should not actually pray for the sick because you yourself have not been healed. You cannot possibly encourage the faith of the people you pray for if you yourself have not been healed of your hearing problem; you cannot even hear what they are saying because of your hearing problems, so how could you per chance tell them to have faith? If it was a disease that you could actually hide, it could be different, but your hearing impairment is so evident!"

I have to confess that I almost bought it. For some time I was chewing on those words and I could certainly see the logic of his whole point. I thought that he was actually right in his comments. How could I explain that I had been a musician, a minister of music, and a teacher of music and now I was not even able to catch the right tone? How could I tell a deaf person that God heals today when I myself have such a serious hearing impairment? Yes, I said to myself, I really have to stop putting so much emphasis in miracles and healings until I am myself healed. I will focus on just preaching the Word without focusing on healing and the supernatural.

Then one day my heart leaped as I realized what I was just saying. If I am going to preach "just the Word" how could I actually do away with the fact that the whole book is about the supernatural? I literally shouted "Get thee behind me satan, for you do not put your eyes in the things from above". I said then and I proclaim it today that I believe in miracles not because of my own experience but because it is written in the Bible. I have seen many, many miracles in our ministry, some of them astonishing; I have seen a tumor fell of the face of a woman; I have seen a paralyzed man running up a flight of stairs; I have seen a lady with half the body paralyzed for over 25 years restored completely; a couple months ago a woman who due to a mistake during an operation was left in constant pain for almost 25 years was healed and has been without pain ever since; I have seen deaf people healed when I myself am deaf; I myself was healed of asthma many years ago. Yes, I have seen many other miracles of divers kinds many of which led to the salvation of souls, but I say today that even if I had not seen any miracle at all in my own ministry and experience I will still preach healing, and I will still pray for the sick, and I will still pray for God to intervene miraculously in the lives of those who need a miracle, simply because it is written in the Bible.

Why then hasn't God open my ears? This is a question that I still ask Him every day. I have not as of yet have a complete answer but I could hint at some points. During a seminar on Healing that I was teaching a while ago someone asked me this question: "I have prayed for healing but it has not happen. Should I pray again? How long should I pray for my healing?" This question actually was an answer to me! Immediately I heard the Holy Spirit telling, almost shouting in my mind: "Pray until it happens". That was the answer! The fact is not that I am not healed, the truth is that I am not healed yet! Many people tend to think or have been taught that if they have to pray twice or more for a miracle that shows that they have no faith to receive it, but the truth lies far from that assumption; in fact Jesus Himself prayed twice for a blind man. Unless God tells us specifically as He did to Paul that his thorn in the flesh as he called his problem was not taken from him but much grace was given to him instead, then we should keep praying for a miracle to happen.

Der Dorn für das Fleisch my Aunt would say. Paul's thorn in the flesh. She was a wise woman with that wisdom that only God can give. She once told me "God has not told you that you are to carry this sickness all of your life; however He might let you carry it until He makes sure that your pride is dead and well buried" How truly wise!

Through this disease the Lord has taught me a few things. One is that we are to depend fully, absolutely on Him. It is true that many times I cannot hear or understand what people are telling me, but this brings me to the point where I have to rely fully on the Holy Spirit. I cannot do music at present as I loved to do, but oh, how I love to cross over and hear the music of the Spirit. I have learnt to hear His voice in a way that I did not know before I lost my ears. Oh how much we need to learn to depend on Him and to forcefully crash our pride every day. Another thing that we need to really understand is that ministry is not about appearances, or making it "look good" as my friend's advice suggested, that if it was some hidden disease then it would not affect my ministry. No sir, I still might have the problem but it does not mean a shortage in God's power. (We could go here to a great length about how many things other than a disease might be consider "not a big deal" as long as they remain hidden but that is another issue).

When I was still thinking "logically" about praying or not for the sick I was invited to minister at a church in the USA. I preached and prayed but I did not make much reference to healing or miracles. I had made an altar call and there was a big crowd already at the altar. I could feel the presence of God in a rather strong way, and as I was kneeling behind the pulpit I heard the Holy Spirit say "I want to do miracles, why are you trying to stop me?" I stood before Him accused of hindering Him and had to immediately ask for forgiveness. I promised then that I would never consciously do anything that might hinder Him; that I would always pray for those in need even if I do not see a miracle, for I know now that every time we pray something happens, whether we see it or not something happen, and this prayer today adds to the prayers said yesterday, and if the miracle did not happen today the prayers will add up to the prayers tomorrow until we have so to say enough prayers on our account for a miracle to happen.

Where I Dwell No Mixture Can Remain

June Sanders

"The Shadow of a countenance reveals the shade of soul which either lifts you up Dear Ones or impedes your Godly goal. Too much information is not a blessing, but a curse. It clouds your understanding and is not concise nor terse. The ramblings of the bruised with unforgiveness that's concealed are casting shades of death. Refusing to be healed.

Dwell not under their bitterness which will surely infect you with a spirit of depression; which does not reflect My Glory or My unction to My trees of righteousness: to avoid the shade of mixture in times of great distress. Now fast your words and refine your shade to cast My point of view that sheds light on dark content through words that are few but true.

Beware of the leaven of the pharisee who takes lightly My calling and deity. Let no man steal your crown nor My appointing. Stand in My presence and let My praises sing. The kingdom of your Father is within you and no spell will overcome in My domain. The kingdom of your Father speaks of good things and thus where I dwell no mixture can remain.

Breakthrough now My children for I am in you to repossess My creation and make new. I now unencumber to make your path clear. In ways of astonishment, this very year. You shall run and not grow weary. Walk with Me and not faint. This is the year you will know the meaning of the word 'QUAINT'."

What is God Doing Today

Iverna Tompkins

Web Site: www.iverna.org

I was just attending church the other Sunday, not speaking there but worshiping like all the rest, when I sensed the Lord begin to stir in my spirit. I knew He had something to say to the church - the church-at-large, I believe. As I walked to the podium in obedience to His prompting, this is what I heard in my spirit.

There's a question on the hearts of most of God's people today. And it is: "What is God doing?" "I've given Him everything. I've tried to serve Him. I've followed him. I...and yet, things are not going smoothly in my life. I pay my tithe, and I'm still struggling financially. I've believed Him for healing and wholeness, and I still ache. I lay down my burdens every time I get up in the morning, and yet by the end of the day, they're still there or back again."

We could ask, "What's wrong with this church?" Or this one (wherever you attend)? So many negative things keep happening to people. Sicknesses, financial disasters, family problems, accidents, catastrophic diseases. And we conclude, this church must be out of order or have the wrong staff. Or too much choir. Too much, you know, music. Or, not enough this-or-that.

What is God doing in the Body of Christ today, and why?

I believe God is establishing His Kingdom - now!

Why are we so amazed at things when the Book is so explicitly clear about them? "Many are the afflictions of the righteous" (Ps. 34:19). "Count it all joy when... Knowing this..." (Jas. 1:2, 3). "The trial of your faith..." (1 Pet. 1:7). "Beloved, think it not strange concerning the fiery trial..." (1 Pet. 4:12).

So, if you don't want to have problems, live on the border. Keep one foot in the church, but the other in your world. Don't make this heavy commitment by singing along, "I'm Yours, Lord. Everything I've got..." Don't make that kind of commitment. Just make a humming commitment "Hummmmm. Lord, I'm sort of Yours if I agree and like the things You want for me." Come to church and listen to the songs, then sing only the ones you agree with. Listen to a sermon based on articulation, pronunciation, and theology - and vote on it, deciding if you agree with the Word presented. You see, that's the way that the enemy will leave you alone!

When you make a commitment, "As for me and my house, we will serve the Lord," (Josh. 24:15), and "though He slay me, yet will I serve Him," (Job 13:15), all hell begins to quake because there is power in that kind of life!! You want a powerful life? Then, don't expect a trouble-free one. Look for the promise of His grace to be sufficient to see you through. (2 Cor. 12:9; Isa. 43:2, 3; Dan. 3:17, 18 ,25).

The Purpose of the Passion

You see, God is doing something so unique in the Body of Christ. Do you understand that? You know what the church is? The whole purpose of the Passion that we saw, not the movie but of the cross itself, was so that Christ could be made the head of the church - and that God could be revealed therein.

That is our purpose. The church isn't just for an occasional "Bless me." The whole reason for blessing is to be a bless-er. The whole reason for salvation and baptism and communion and fellowship and friendship and life-change is to demonstrate Him, God Almighty! It's not about you. It's not about me. It's not about what we desire. It's all about Him!

Now, I do not in any way minimize hurt. I am not saying, "Well, just get over it." I said that when I was young and had no "troubles." You don't just get over hurt so simply. But every song we've sung today in this place gives the answer to any problem here - it isn't just "get over" - it's "look beyond it." Look unto the God of the hills (Psa. 121). Do not concentrate on the circumstances you're facing! It's a matter of focus.

There are several ways to go through something hard. You can go through it in self-pity and try to earn sympathy from those around you because you are in such a sorry state. "Oh, poor you." Pity-parties are totally unproductive in the long run.

Or you can go through tough times by carrying a heavy burden, again attempting to gain emotional support from others as they observe your downcast appearance. "How are you today?" "Well...there are things going on." There are always going to be things going on!

Or we can do what we sing over and over in our precious times of worship. We can lift our hands and hearts in praise to God, in spite of all we see and live through. We can say, "Lord, I don't have to understand the why of everything or the wherefore of everything. I just join the psalmist in saying, 'God is our refuge! And God is our strength!'" (Psa. 46; 34)

You Can Take It

Don't ever say to me, "I can't take it anymore." Excuse me, but the Good Book said you can! "I just can't go through any more. I'm telling you..." We whine. Your Creator says, "You're strong enough. You can do this! I am helping you!" (1 Cor. 10:13; Psa. 125; 1 Pet. 2:9)

"I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me" (Phil. 4:13). What do you think that means? "Well, I thought it meant..." It means that every day of your life, you can get up and radiate the glorious presence of the Almighty God within you, walking out among the godless all around you. If you think things are going to get easier, my friend, you're not reading the Book! "He that is filthy, let him be filthier still" (Rev. 22:11).

The separation is on right now - the holy from the profane (Ezek. 22:26; 44:23). We're seeing things my generation never imagined we would see. We're experiencing things we never imagined we would experience in our lifetime - and in the United States of America - in a country that dares to stand together and sing, "God Bless America." We are now seeing anarchy and opposition and lies - deceit right in the open - every day - every day - every day. Our nation, once founded and based on Christian principles, beliefs, and tenets, is now in a constant state of compromising the things of God. The church is even in dangerous fellowship with the world instead of the pure fellowship with the Christ.

You go to work and are far more exhausted today than you used to be, putting in the same number of hours of work. Why is that? The work isn't harder. Hello!

A Constant State of War

It isn't the job that's getting you down. It's that we are continually in a war! A constant spirit battle is waged against the righteous, those who have made the kind of commitment God is looking for from all of us. He says, "They're Mine!" And the enemy says, "They're not going to last."

"God is our refuge!" "God is our strength." Psalm 46. Listen to it again. You know it too well, that's why it doesn't mean anything any more. You have it on a plaque in your house. You've memorized it, and so it's just familiar. Listen to it! "A very present help."

What do you need right now? I mean, NOW. I'm talking about right NOW! "Well, I just want Him to take care of all these problems, to deliver me from this mess." Wrong prayer!

God is determined to strengthen you. He is going to have a strong and mighty Kingdom. And it's going to be made up of the most unlikely people - like you and me. They don't expect big changes to be made by "us."

You say, "I've been asking God to just, you know, put me into politics, or a position of real authority - that when I speak, it would be like E. F. Hutton - and people will listen to me and then I'll have a testimony."

Oh, no. It's the little people like us who just stand up and say, "Look what the Lord has done!" You can't say that if you've never been through anything! But when we come through some things, God will see to it that we are placed with others who need to hear His encouragement - "God is our refuge," and, "God is our strength," and, "God is our help," and, "God is out to do us good by strengthening us..." And we will be the very ones to tell them this Good News!

Past the Halfway Mark

We have come more than halfway through the tunnel of life on earth. When we start out, we meet the Lord as Savior, and we know it's going to be a long journey. But church - I'm speaking to the church in general - we are more than halfway through the tunnel. Now, think about it. You start walking. It's dark ahead and you don't know exactly where you're going, but there's a lot of light in the opening of that tunnel. So, "Praise God. I just trust Him to lead the way. This is great." And then you reach a point where you can no longer see a light ahead. When many people get to that first sign of darkness, they turn their backs on it and walk back. They retreat to that beginning area where they had some light. And then, in time, they start out all over again. We must press on in the dark and trust Him for the light to come.

The majority of churches that are meeting today, in the Name of Jesus, are not preaching this kind of a message. They tend to go back over the same ground, and many of the same people answer the same altar call, week after week after week. And there appears to be little or no progress in their spiritual growth. They stagnate right where they began - "saved" and going to heaven, but not walking in the Light they have. No wonder it was important to be written: "Forgetting those things which are behind, I reach for those things which are ahead. I press toward the mark..." (Phil. 3:13).

Now, as you keep retracing your steps backward, our merciful God will always take you back. Yes, He will. "Oh, well, I think I've committed the unpardonable sin. I can't go back to Him." Not true if you're conscious of it. That's the conviction of the Holy Spirit so you can confess, forsake, and get on with it!

No Going Back!

We need to say, "I'm not going back! I'm not retreating just because I don't know everything that lies ahead. I don't know how I'm going to get to a city not made with hands, but I have a promise! I have God's promise that I have enough strength to go on. He said, 'I AM your refuge. And I AM your fortress, and I AM a very present help.'"

Many of us made that commitment for salvation some time ago, and we have been pressing on into the Kingdom. And now we're way beyond the halfway mark. If you turn around now, it will be darker going back because you have now been heading into the Light without actually realizing how far you have come already.

We are going somewhere. As individuals, we're going some place. As a church, we are going to that place where God is making His presence known in the assembly of His Body; where He is consistently there as we gather to praise Him and worship Him and fellowship with Him and the members of His Body.

Would you give that up? Not for anything! So, "whatever it takes for this will, my own will, to break, Lord. Whatever it takes, Lord, for us to get closer to You. We have made this determination - we have to know You! And this beacon is going to be a Light that shines brighter and brighter and brighter."

Stagnation

You will see churches rise. You'll see churches fall. You'll see churches rise and stagnate. The church - you're going to hate this but it's true - the churches that stagnate will have the most people. It is not an easy choice to press on with God. "Many are the afflictions..." and many will find their contentment in knowing they have secured their eternity with God - period. They will not risk going through the darkness, or the floods, or the fire (Isa. 43:2), even though God's promise is sure: "I will be with you..." (Isa. 43:2).

Don't you worry about those churches. Don't try to pick them out or in any way identify them. We are not to look at them with any negatives in mind, but we are to recognize that there is a very high calling of God to press on with Him. And there is also a high cost we will pay as we choose this way. But, church, it will be worth whatever the cost.

Some rough roads have been plowed already to get us to this point. We dare not become discouraged now. Things have never been brighter for us! Church, things have never been more promising for us! It is true that we still hold in our hearts unfulfilled prophetic promises that I know - I KNOW - that He who has promised is faithful - who also will do it. (Heb. 10:23; Phil. 1:6; 2:13)

Walk In High Places

Bill Burns

I have called you to walk in high places; I have given you hind's feet to tread upon the high places where the enemy has controlled the airways of the world. I am causing you to be able to walk in the place where the enemy has been hiding, for the powers of darkness are beginning to tremble as the power of this age comes upon My people.

Everything that can be shaken will be shaken. I have chosen to use you, My people, to shake the heavenly realm, for there the princes are seated upon their thrones and have established their authority. But, when the shaking comes forth by the heart of My people, the enemy shall fall. The heavens open, and angels are being dispatched. They are bringing forth announcements to the people of God. In their hands they carry My written purposes for My people. Those purposes shall be deposited in you and received in your inner man. It is the manna from heaven that is being given at this time that shall sustain you for the journey. Announcements are being given. Oh ... not only announcements, but invitations! Some are receiving invitations to come before the throne of Glory.

Come boldly before My throne, says the Lord! I am sending My chariots of fire to lift up My people above the earth and bring them before My throne. In your spirit you shall go, and in your spirit you shall run, and in your spirit you shall be charged by the power of My word and My glory.

The devil's job is to kill, steal and destroy. Be on guard and watch, for he will assuredly do his best to shoot the fiery darts of his lies to hit the vital areas of your flesh to bring you down. You must be aware of your vulnerabilities, and establish a shield of faith to bring his attacks to nothing. It is imperative that you bathe your mind with the truth of the Word and refuse to succumb to the fear that follows a lying spirit. Rise up and be strong. Keep your head and heart clear, and stay aware.

I have prepared a table before you, a banqueting table. It is filled with the Word, My truth. It contains all that you need to grow and be healthy. My Word is powerful and living and will energize your life in the Spirit. Come and feed sumptuously. Don't just nibble with the desire of an anorexic. Haven't I said that those who hunger and thirst for righteousness shall be filled? Come and be filled. Now is a season of growth and maturity in the kingdom, but you must feast on My Word.

Stay firmly planted on solid ground of spiritual reality. Presumption and faulty assumptions will have you chasing the wind. You cannot take advantage of opportunities that have not yet presented themselves, and you cannot live a dream. You can only build with the materials you have been given. To try to do otherwise will bring frustration, disappointment and failure. I have opened doors before you, says the Lord, but you must use your discernment to know and recognize true opportunity as opposed to fantasy before your move ahead. Presumption will spring forth from impure motivations -- the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes and the pride of life. Unless the Lord builds the house, they labor in vain who build it. (Psalm 127:1)

Be on guard, and shake yourselves awake. Do not allow distractions and spiritual slumber to overtake you. Test the spirit of all that comes your way to determine whether it is of Me or not. Rise up and overcome any position that has its foundation in the flesh or carnal thinking. You cannot discern truth from error if you have already entertained a lying spirit and believed his deception. Nor, can you discern properly if you have allowed a spirit of fear to overtake you. Quiet your emotions, and rise up in the power of My Spirit to know the truth that will set you free.

Be strengthened by the power of My Word, for it is sharp and powerful and divides soul and spirit. When you find yourself lacking in faith, hear My Word again. Do not allow your symptoms or circumstances to speak louder than the Word of Truth, for I have made a way of escape from every temptation and have made provision for every need. Only believe! Dispell the lies, confront your fears, and rise up in a firm belief that I will do whatever you ask according to My will when you ask in faith without doubting in your heart. Today is the day of breakthrough. Believe!

Seek wisdom and seek understanding, says the Lord, for I speak to you today to reveal something you may have forgotten. Do you not know and understand that you are entering the seventh month of this season? Is not seven the number of completion? Those things that I have been doing in you, teaching you, imparting to you are now coming to a close, but they are not completely finished. And, it is necessary that you position yourselves now to move into that which is before you. The past and those things that I have built in you will now begin to manifest out of the strength of My grace and will empower you to take the next step of the journey, for that journey is being revealed to you, is being opened to you. I have spoken, and said, "The door is open; come through it." The door that I give unto you is the door of this season, and through that door are the wonderful works, which I am about to do in your lives. You are called to come out and come through the door by faith and position yourselves to be instruments of My work in this season, says the Lord.

I speak to you in the same manner that Paul spoke to the Galatians, saying you are so foolish because you began again in the Spirit, yet now here you are in the flesh. The flesh and the works of the flesh will become bondage to you. Rise up into the Spirit, into the place of your calling. Do not go back to the place where you have allowed your desires to rule. Come back from the place where you went astray and departed from the power and the presence and the leading of My Spirit. Stop now and turn back; do not continue on in the flesh.

Be alert to the enemy's strategy against you. Take time to evaluate your thoughts, feelings and circumstances to see exactly where he is oppressing you, for truly I do not bring oppression upon My people, says the Lord, and you do not oppress yourself without the aid of evil spirits. I say again, evaluate carefully to see how and where the enemy gained access to your soul. Certainly he had to find a gap in the wall. What was the lie that you believed? What do you fear? Have I not said that I am your fortress and high tower? I am your place of safety. Rise up in the authority that I have given you to overcome the works of darkness, confront the devil where you find him, and cast him out. I tell the truth, he is stirring up the flesh and working his subtle plan of division among you even at this moment. Resist!

Refuse to allow the enemy to paralyze you with obstruction. He has stopped you or brought delay only in certain avenues of activity. But, there are other things that you need to move ahead on. Do the appropriate warfare to break hindrances and bind hindering forces, and then apply your forward momentum to areas where you can continue to make progress. Do not become obsessed with that which has been clogged or blocked. Seek Me for wisdom and direction, for I am with you to cause you to accomplish all that I have set you to do.

Beloved, I am fine-tuning every aspect of your life if you will allow it. For, even your relationship with Me will come to a higher and more effective level as you let Me show you what must be changed. You will first see these changes manifest in your natural life, for the natural will come first and then the spiritual. Do not resist change brought about by My Spirit, but by the same token, do not initiate change for the sake of change or out of boredom. Be sensitive to your spiritual environment, and be willing to move with the Wind of the Spirit.

Marsha Burns:

Beloved, guard your heart, and refuse to overreact to emotionally charged situations. Remain calm, and do not be drawn off course. The enemy is doing all he can to derail you by pushing you to a point of desperation. The decisions you make during this time of extreme duress are likely to be motivated by your flesh instead of My Spirit. Quiet yourself and seek My wisdom, for situations will arise suddenly and loom before you with an exaggerated sense of impending doom. Do not be afraid.

Bill Burns:

You are a chosen generation. You are the Esthers of this age called for such a time as this. You have been chosen to carry the message and the anointing that I have poured forth in this season. I have called you and spoken to you and said that this is the time that you will now become new wineskins. You are the living stones, the anointed stones that have been cut from that Rock whose name is Christ. It is written that from the Rock, Christ, the water comes. You are stones in the kingdom, the precious jewels, the living stones of that City, the New Jerusalem. You are building that City, for you are the stones and you are walls and you are the foundation of that glorious City. I am the Light of that City, and there shall be no other light upon My people. Encourage yourselves and come to Me as living stones, alive and fresh and built upon truth. Come with new hope and new joy and peace. I have called you for such a time as this.

The Craftsmen
Bill Burns

Feb 29, 2004

The craftsmen (Zechariah 1:20-21) are the sent ones who will shape the living stones through the preaching of the word of truth. Proverbs 20: 15 ¶ There is gold and a multitude of rubies, But the lips of knowledge are a precious jewel.

The craftsmen are those who receive the key of knowledge (Luke 11:52 and Matthew 16:19). They are those who will be anointed to build the House of the Lord, and will be like those that God used to build the tabernacle in Moses' day.

Exodus 28: 3 "So you shall speak to all who are gifted artisans, whom I have filled with the spirit of wisdom, that they may make Aaron’s garments, to consecrate him, that he may minister to Me as priest."

The Hebrew word that translates artisan is chakam, which means "wise and gifted." The artisan was the one that cut, polished and set the stones in the breastplate and ephod. (Exodus 23:9-21) The artisan (craftsman) also engraved the names of the tribes of Israel on the stones.

The Hebrew word that translates craftsman (NKJV) in Zechariah 1:21 is charash, which means artisan and engraver.

In Moses' day, the word of God was written on stone tablets, and the names of the tribes were written on the precious stones that the high priest wore over his heart.

Today, the word of God is engraved or written on our hearts by the anointed word of God (Hebrews 10:15-16). The anointed artisans of this day are the four craftsmen who will preach the truth of God's word in power, and it will cast out the false doctrine of the four horns. (Zechariah 1:18-21)

The craftsmen will establish the foundation of truth that the first-century apostles taught.

Ephesians 2: 19-22 Now, therefore, you are no longer strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints and members of the household of God, having been built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ Himself being the chief cornerstone, in whom the whole building, being joined together, grows into a holy temple in the Lord, in whom you also are being built together for a dwelling place of God in the Spirit.

This foundation of truth will be that which Zion is built on in these last days.

Hebrews 12: 22-23 But you have come to Mount Zion and to the city of the living God, the heavenly Jerusalem, to an innumerable company of angels to the general assembly and church of the firstborn who are registered in heaven, to God the Judge of all, to the spirits of just men made perfect.

The foundation of New Jerusalem is built on precious stones. God's people are the living stones (1 Peter 2:4) that are being polished to reflect the light of Christ in this, the end of the age. (Revelation 21:19-23)

The prophet Isaiah tells us that Jesus will be our crown and jewel (diadem) in that day, which is this day, the third day of Christ. Isaiah 28: 5-6 In that day the LORD of hosts will be For a crown of glory and a diadem of beauty To the remnant of His people, for a spirit of justice to him who sits in judgment, And for strength to those who turn back the battle at the gate.

And he also speaks of the gentile church as a royal diadem as well. Isaiah 62: 1-3 For Zion’s sake I will not hold My peace, And for Jerusalem’s sake I will not rest, Until her righteousness goes forth as brightness, And her salvation as a lamp that burns. The Gentiles shall see your righteousness, And all kings your glory. You shall be called by a new name, Which the mouth of the LORD will name. You shall also be a crown of glory In the hand of the LORD, And a royal diadem In the hand of your God.

At one time Satan's covering was the precious stones of God's creation (Ezekiel 28:13-14). Satan fell from God's grace because of his rebellion, and he lost his covering and his horn was filled with darkness. Then, the Righteous One, Jesus, took the stones of Eden to make the foundation of His city. The Master has shaped and polished us as His living stones, and He holds us in His heart.

The craftsmen will build on the foundation of truth with gold (divine instruction and God's purpose), silver (the message of the power of the cross of redemption), and precious stones (the word of truth that polishes and perfects).

1 Corinthians 3: 9-13 For we are God’s fellow workers; you are God’s field, you are God’s building. According to the grace of God which was given to me, as a wise master builder I have laid the foundation, and another builds on it. But let each one take heed how he builds on it. For no other foundation can anyone lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ. Now if anyone builds on this foundation with gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, straw each one’s work will become clear; for the Day will declare it, because it will be revealed by fire; and the fire will test each one's work, of what sort it is.

The Work of the Craftsman (Artisan): A modern-day term for one who cuts, shapes and polishes stone is lapidary. The work of the lapidary is very easily compared to God's work in us. There are basically four steps to the lapidary process.

They are: 1. Remember we are seeing ourselves in this process. We are the stones being perfected. The lapidary takes the stone that has been taken out of the earth and examines it. In the same way, God takes us out of the earth and examines us to see what work needs to be done. The lapidary then uses a saw with a diamond blade to cut off a part of the rock that he wants to make into a precious stone. At this point we are separated (cut out) for God's purposes for us.

2. The lapidary then holds the stone in his hand and begins to shape the stone on his grindstone. (You get the picture.) The stone is ground until it has the shape or image that the artisan desires.

3. The lapidary then sands the stone to make it very smooth. All of the rough edges are removed. Steps two and three remind us of the work of sanctification that takes place in the Master's hands, and these two steps take a lot of time and effort. We must be shaped by God into the image of Christ, and then we must be perfected (sanded) until we have no rough parts (sin) or scratches (wounds of rejection).

4. The fourth step is the polishing. While steps two and three can take a long time, the polishing is accomplished very quickly. This process enables us to reflect the light of Jesus Christ. The stones are not used in the royal diadem and put on display until they are polished and become precious gemstones. A gem is a stone that has been cut and polished.

Matthew 13: 43 "Then the righteous will shine forth as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears to hear, let him hear! The whole lapidary process from beginning to end takes place with the use of oil or water. The saw blade runs in oil. Water is applied to the grindstone, sandpaper and buffing pad. Water and oil are symbols of the Holy Spirit, and we know that it is the Holy Spirit who is doing the work of the lapidary with us.

The artisans (lapidaries) of this day will use the anointed word of God to cut, shape, perfect, and polish God's living stones. And, they will become God's diadems, His special treasure.

Exodus 19: 5 'Now therefore, if you will indeed obey My voice and keep My covenant, then you shall be a special treasure to Me above all people; for all the earth is Mine.

The Stone Kingdom
Bill Burns

Feb 26, 2004
The Stone Kingdom is the end-time kingdom of God that is being established in the earth. The prophet Daniel saw the Stone Kingdom in a vision. Daniel's vision revealed Nebuchadnezzer's dream, which revealed the kingdoms of this world that would oppress God's people. (Daniel chapter 2)

The image that Daniel described represents the kingdoms that the spirit of the anti-christ rules over. Daniel saw four kingdoms in the image of the beast. The fourth kingdom is the last political system, which is ruled by the anti-christ. This kingdom is the feet and toes of the image and are made of iron and clay.

Daniel 2: 40-41"And the fourth kingdom shall be as strong as iron, inasmuch as iron breaks in pieces and shatters everything; and like iron that crushes, that kingdom will break in pieces and crush all the others. Whereas you saw the feet and toes, partly of potter's clay and partly of iron, the kingdom shall be divided; yet the strength of the iron shall be in it, just as you saw the iron mixed with ceramic clay.

Daniel also saw a fifth kingdom that would rule over the fourth kingdom.

Daniel 2: 44-45 "And in the days of these kings the God of heaven will set up a kingdom which shall never be destroyed; and the kingdom shall not be left to other people; it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand forever. Inasmuch as you saw that the stone was cut out of the mountain without hands, and that it broke in pieces the iron, the bronze, the clay, the silver, and the gold—the great God has made known to the king what will come to pass after this. The dream is certain, and its interpretation is sure."

Daniel revealed the Stone Kingdom that is now being established by God in His Church. The Stone Kingdom is not established by the hand of man; it is established by God Himself. The mountain that the Stone Kingdom is cut of is Zion. (Micah 4:1-2)

Jacob's prophecy over Joseph, who is a type of Christ, makes reference to the King of the Stone Kingdom.

Genesis 49: 22-24 "Joseph is a fruitful bough, A fruitful bough by a well; His branches run over the wall. The archers have bitterly grieved him, Shot at him and hated him. But his bow remained in strength, And the arms of his hands were made strong By the hands of the Mighty God of Jacob (From there is the Shepherd, the Stone of Israel).

The Stone Shepherd's name is Jesus Christ who is the Cornerstone (Psalm 118:21-24). Jesus is also the Capstone -- finishing stone (Zechariah 4:7). Those who dwell with Jesus in truth and spirit will have a part as joint heirs in establishing the Stone Kingdom in these last days. These are the living stones that are being built into a spiritual house by the Lord.

1 Peter 2: 4-9 Coming to Him as to a living stone, rejected indeed by men, but chosen by God and precious, you also, as living stones, are being built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ. Therefore it is also contained in the Scripture, "Behold, I lay in Zion A chief cornerstone, elect, precious, And he who believes on Him will by no means be put to shame." Therefore, to you who believe, He is precious; but to those who are disobedient, "The stone which the builders rejected Has become the chief cornerstone," and "A stone of stumbling And a rock of offense." They stumble, being disobedient to the word, to which they also were appointed. But you are a chosen generation, a royal priesthood, a holy nation, His own special people, that you may proclaim the praises of Him who called you out of darkness into His marvelous light.

The Four Horns:

In scripture horns represent authority (power). In a later vision Daniel saw a little horn that represents Satan operating through the spirit of the anti-christ (Daniel 8:9-12). The army that Satan has is led by four more horns whose purpose is to scatter God's people by opposing the truth of God's Word.

Zechariah 1: 18 Then I raised my eyes and looked, and there were four horns. 19 And I said to the angel who talked with me, "What are these?" So he answered me, "These are the horns that have scattered Judah, Israel, and Jerusalem."

The four horns are lying spirits, which have been sent forth as spirits of the anti-christ (1 John 2:18-19 and 4:1-3). The four unholy horns have established false doctrine in the Church, and these false doctrines have scattered (divided) God's people. This is why we have so many denominations today.

Daniel saw four kingdoms of this world that would oppress and scatter the nation of Israel. In the same way, the four horns (spirits of anti-christ) have divided and scattered the Church. These horns have promoted different false doctrines down through the ages. However, there is no need for despair because God is sending His craftsmen to cast these lies out of the Church.

The Four Craftsmen:

Zechariah 1: 20-21 Then the LORD showed me four craftsmen. And I said, "What are these coming to do?" So he said, "These are the horns that scattered Judah, so that no one could lift up his head; but the craftsmen are coming to terrify them, to cast out the horns of the nations that lifted up their horn against the land of Judah to scatter it."

The craftsmen are those who the Lord will use in these last days to establish the Stone Kingdom on the sure foundation of truth.

Isaiah 28: 16 -17 Therefore thus says the Lord GOD: "Behold, I lay in Zion a stone for a foundation, A tried stone, a precious cornerstone, a sure foundation; Whoever believes will not act hastily. Also I will make justice the measuring line, And righteousness the plummet; The hail will sweep away the refuge of lies, And the waters will overflow the hiding place.

Ephesians 2: 19-22 Now, therefore, you are no longer strangers and foreigners, but fellow citizens with the saints and members of the household of God, having been built on the foundation of the apostles and prophets, Jesus Christ Himself being the chief cornerstone, in whom the whole building, being joined together, grows into a holy temple in the Lord, in whom you also are being built together for a dwelling place of God in the Spirit.

1 Peter 2: 4-8 Coming to Him as to a living stone, rejected indeed by men, but chosen by God and precious, you also, as living stones, are being built up a spiritual house, a holy priesthood, to offer up spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ. Therefore it is also contained in the Scripture, "Behold, I lay in Zion A chief cornerstone, elect, precious, And he who believes on Him will by no means be put to shame." Therefore, to you who believe, He is precious; but to those who are disobedient, "The stone which the builders rejected Has become the chief cornerstone," and "A stone of stumbling And a rock of offense." They stumble, being disobedient to the word, to which they also were appointed.

The four craftsmen are the apostles, prophets, evangelists and pastor/teachers who have made the Holy Spirit their Teacher. They are those who have the four faces of Jesus.

Revelation 4: 6-8 Before the throne there was a sea of glass, like crystal. And in the midst of the throne, and around the throne, were four living creatures full of eyes in front and in back. The first living creature was like a lion, the second living creature like a calf, the third living creature had a face like a man, and the fourth living creature was like a flying eagle. The four living creatures, each having six wings, were full of eyes around and within. And they do not rest day or night, saying: "Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, Who was and is and is to come!"

The face of a man who speaks face to face with the Lord and speaks only that which he hears. This one lives the sacrificed life (the calf) and does the will of the Lord. These have prophetic insight (the eagle), and they will reveal the hidden mysteries of these last days. They, like the Lion of Judah) will walk in apostolic power and authority. In Matthew chapter 16 the Lord said that He would build His Church on the rock of revelation. (Matthew 16:17-18)

These are the craftsmen of these days; they are the living stones who worship in spirit and in truth. The Lord Himself will anoint them with the oil in His Horn, and they shall establish the word of His truth. These are the builders of the Lord's house, the house that is built upon The Rock who is the Stone

Shepherd. And, this house will become the rock cut out without human hands.

Zechariah 4: 5-9 Then the angel who talked with me answered and said to me, "Do you not know what these are?" And I said, "No, my lord." So he answered and said to me: "This is the word of the LORD to Zerubbabel: 'Not by might nor by power, but by My Spirit,' Says the LORD of hosts. 'Who are you, O great mountain? Before Zerubbabel you shall become a plain! And he shall bring forth the capstone With shouts of "Grace, grace to it!"'" Moreover the word of the LORD came to me, saying: "The hands of Zerubbabel Have laid the foundation of this temple; His hands shall also finish it. Then you will know That the LORD of hosts has sent Me to you.

Zerubabbel means "out of Babylon." Those who have come out from Mystery Babylon (Revelation chapter 17 and 18:4) will establish the Stone Kingdom, which is the fifth kingdom (symbolizing grace). The living stones will become the walls of God's house. They will be built upon the foundation of the apostles and prophets who have built upon the Cornerstone. When the walls are finished, then the Capstone will be brought forth "with shouts of grace, grace to it."

Women In Ministry: Anointed For Service, Robbed Of Opportunity -- Howard Morgan
Dec 15, 2004

The position of women in ministry has for many centuries been troubling for much of the church. However, as we go back to our Jewish roots we discover that the true faith of Abraham provides both anointing and opportunity for women to fulfill their callings in the Kingdom of God.

As the church departed from her Jewish roots, she lost her understanding of the Kingdom of God and adopted the pagan understanding of "gentile authority" which Jesus warned us against and prohibited His disciples from emulating. This kind of authority by its nature is oppressive and repressive. It seeks to keep in power and authority those who by virtue of their military strength, political standing, or financial resources have acquired dominant positions in society. The Kingdom of God, as it is revealed in the Jewish Scriptures, is built upon an entirely different structure. The greatest in the Kingdom of God are those who serve (Matthew 23:11). Those who are given authority in the church are given it for the express purpose of serving the purposes of God in the lives of those in their care and are never given it to manipulate them to serve their own self-centered purposes (Colossians.1:28). Anything that is not centered on the purposes of God in another's life is by definition centered on "self." Self-centered religion builds its own "kingdom" in opposition to the Kingdom of God. You can use this concept of a self-centered kingdom as opposed to a Christ-centered Kingdom as a very accurate measuring rod as you look at your own motivations, and seek to discern the motivations of modern church leaders and those you read about in church history. If traditional views of church practices that have become the norm today, and theological interpretations of the Bible that justify those practices, are based on a self-centered motivation, then we must change those practices and change the theologies that justify them. We are under a divine mandate to build God's Kingdom and not to protect that which sustains any other "kingdom."

Leaders in the Kingdom of God are vested with authority so that they can do what is necessary to help those committed to their charge become "complete in the Messiah" (Colossians 1:28). All leaders who are practicing Biblical religion are anointed by God for one reason and that is to equip "the saints" for the work of service that they are called to (Ephesians 4:11-16). "The saints" is a reference to all who believe in the Messiah, which obviously includes women. This means that all ministers are called to do whatever they can to help women fulfill their callings in the Lord, and not hinder them!

Before we look at the infamous "women keep silent in the church" and "let women learn in silence" and "I suffer not a woman to teach nor to usurp authority over the man, but be in silence" verses, let's take a look at the big picture of how God sees and uses women in the building of His Kingdom. It is when we see the whole story that we will understand what Paul was actually communicating. Then we will be able to see what God intends for his anointed daughters.

Let's begin by examining the Bible to see how God anointed women and then gave them opportunities to serve. These many examples are highly instructive for us as we seek to restore the church to her proper Biblical foundations and women to their Biblical ministries.

Please understand that when you read these small vignettes about women in the Bible, that we are not just talking about unique or special individuals but rather we are looking at them as spiritual types as they reflect what any woman can be or do if she will respond to the Lord as these women did. If we fail to see them in this way their stories will have no power to affect lives today, and the purposes of God in relating them to us in His Holy Scripture will be lost. They are "examples to us who believe, upon whom the end of the ages has come" (1 Corinthians 10:11).

Consider:

Sarah, the wife of Abraham, is written about in the "hall of fame of faith" in Hebrews 11. There the writer says that "Through faith Sarah received strength to conceive seed, and was delivered of a child when she was past age, because she judged him faithful who had promised." How are you fairing today concerning the promises of God to you? Like this woman of God, are you judging God faithful to fulfill his promises to you, or are you judging him another way?

When Rebecca understood that it was the will of God for her to go with a stranger to marry a stranger, she did not hesitate to fulfill God's will. When this woman of God was convinced about the will of God she moved without delay, do you?

Consider the faith and wisdom of Jochebed, mother of Moses, Levi and Miriam. Committing her son to the small watertight ark she built, she planned for Pharaoh's daughter to find him and for miriam to suggest that she nurse her own son. In this way she was led by the Spirit to be actively involved in the formative years of Moses' life, imparting to him the spiritual foundations for his future greatness. Could you do with your child what this woman of God did with hers?

Jochebed's godly influence is also seen in her daughter miriam's life. The Prophet Micah mentions her as one of those God used to lead Israel during the Exodus (Micah 6:4). After the miraculous deliverance of Israel and the divine judgment upon Pharaoh's army at the red sea, Miriam, whom the scripture specifically calls a "prophetess" became the first worship leader in Israel's history, singing and dancing with a tambourine, as she led the women in dancing and the nation in singing the praises of the Lord (Exodus 15:20-21).

Because of the boldness, wisdom, and faith in the goodness and righteousness of the Lord, the five daughters of Zelophehad, had the Law of God, the Torah, changed. God himself said that they "spoke right" when they insisted that women be included in the property rights inheritance laws (Numbers 27:1-9). Could they have been the first "lady lawyers" in the world? When you see unrighteousness do you have the boldness to confront it? These five women did!

Rahab, a woman of dubious character, (some rabbis call her merely an "innkeeper") also mentioned in the Hebrews 11 "hall of fame of faith", is a direct ancestor of david and Jesus. She had great faith, wisdom, discernment and courage. She was one who could "discern the signs of the times" and recognized that the formerly impregnable Jericho was about to be destroyed. Rahab's past life was no indication of her future success. When she came to faith, she obeyed and received her reward. What discernment about the signs of the times do you have? What are you doing about the things you discern? Would you take the risks that Rahab did? Would you have hidden spies?

Consider the wisdom of Abigail, and the desire for wisdom of the Queen of Sheba. And the widow of Zarephath, whose obedience to the word of the prophet Elijah brought supernatural provision to her home. What about Hulda, another prophetess, whom Josiah sought for wisdom and guidance when He found the Law of God, or the prayer passion of Hannah, whose intercession and future dedication and sacrifice brought to Israel the great judge and prophet Samuel.

Let us not fail to mention three of the most famous women in the Hebrew Scriptures. Ruth, Esther and Deborah. Ruth is the premier example of faith and devotion. Her quote to Naomi, "Entreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee: for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge: thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God: Where thou diest, will I die, and there will I be buried: the LORD do so to me, and more also, if ought but death part thee and me," is one of the most famous in all of Scripture. It is the answer for all of us to the question Jesus asked Peter, "Will you leave me also?"

Another famous quote is attributed to the beauty queen turned national savior and hero, Esther. When faced with the prospect of certain death for entering the King's throne room uninvited she proclaimed with faith and courage, "I will go in unto the king, which is not according to the law: and if I perish, I perish."

Deborah was a prophetess, a counselor, a military leader and a judge. The Israelite general Barak knew the anointing of God that was upon her life and would not go out to battle unless Deborah consented to go with him. Like Esther, God used this woman to deliver the entire nation.

These examples of women in the old testament clearly show how the Lord anointed women and then gave them opportunities to serve His purposes. God never changes (Malachi 3:6). So why would He, or the apostle the church claims to follow, now prohibit women from exercising their anointings or taking advantage of the opportunities God gives them? The answer of course is that neither He nor Paul has done that.

In the new testament we see women exercising their faith and their giftings as God gives them opportunity. Consider these examples. The woman at the well was an evangelist (John 4:29-30). The woman with the issue of blood had faith enough to take the anointing right out of Jesus' body without Him directing it (Mark 5:30-34). There were three women at the cross (John 19:25, 26), and two women at the tomb who were the first to see the resurrected Savior, and the first to proclaim the good news of His resurrection (Matt. 28:1,10). There were women who were preaching the gospel enough to be persecuted by saul (Acts 8:3,4). Philip the evangelist had four daughters who were prophetesses (Acts 21:8-9). There were jewish women in the upper room (Acts 1:14, 2:4), and gentile women in Cornelius' home (Acts10:24,27,44) receiving the baptism of the Holy Spirit (Joel 2:28,29), the purpose of which was to imbue the receivers with power to minister (Acts 1:8). Why would God give women the power to minister and then deny them the opportunity to use it? He wouldn't and didn't. But insecure, intimidated, and deceived misogynistic men would. In the pure apostolic first century church women could exercise all the gifts of the spirit and did! In 1 Corinthians 11:5 Paul specifically acknowledges women praying and prophesying.

Women in the New Testament did preach, pray, and prophesy. In Romans 16:1 Phebe is called, in the Greek text, a diakonos--a minister--of the church. This is a masculine noun that is used in many places in the New Testament to describe individuals who do the work of the ministry: evangelizing, preaching, praying, prophesying. we see Priscilla and Aquila, her husband, ministering together, teaching Apollos the scriptures, overseeing a church, and traveling with and helping Paul in the ministry (Acts 18:1-18, 26; Romans 16:3; 1 Corinthians 16:19). These are not things a woman who had to be silent could do! Junia, a woman, is called an apostle by Paul in Romans 16:7, and in Philippians 4:2-3 he mentions two women, Euodious and Syntyche, whom he describes as "fellow laborers in the gospel." How could you labor in the gospel and be silent?

It is obvious then that God fully intends for women to exercise all of the gifts and anointings that God imparts to them. This being true, how could Paul tell women in 1 Corinthians 14: 34-35 to be silent, and that it is not permitted for them to speak in church? The answer is simply that he did not. He was only restating a quote in a letter sent to him about this and other issues (chapter 7:1). He responds to the quote by exclaiming in vs. 36; "What? (are you talking about!) Came the word of God out from you? Or came it unto you only?" (Italics mine.) It is foolishness to think that he would stop in the middle of a chapter and contradict all that he had just written and was himself practicing. It is not a shame for women to speak in church, because he already instructed women to speak in church. The whole content of this chapter is the balanced use of tongues and prophecy by both men and women. I believe that all of the difficulties that this text presents are cleared up when these verses are seen as a simple restatement of an issue posed to Paul by those yet bound by unscriptural Jewish traditions. These traditions (the oral "law" of vs. 34) kept women silent in synagogue and there were those who wanted these traditions to be carried over into the church.

Did Paul really instruct the church that women are not allowed to teach in 1 timothy 2:12? If he did, then how could he expect them, as believers, to fulfill the great commission? Jesus told everybody to "go into all the world and teach the nations…" In like manner, those who prophesy do so that everyone can learn, the central goal of teaching (1 Corinthians 14:31). We saw earlier that Paul encouraged women to prophesy. It is interesting to note that Jesus in His rebuke of Jezebel in the book of Revelation (2:20) did not censure her for teaching or prophesying, but for teaching and prophesying error. He could have easily taken advantage of that situation to end this controversy once and for all by saying, "Jezebel, you woman, be quiet! I don't allow women to teach or prophecy in my church, you are supposed to be silent." If women were never allowed to teach or prophesy, the elders in the church at Thyatira would never have even allowed her to open her mouth. But because women were teaching and prophesying as a normal occurrence, she had the opportunity to speak. The church was rebuked for allowing her to lead people astray, not for allowing her to teach. Indeed in verse 21 the Lord gave her time to repent of her immorality, not of her prophesying or teaching.

The immorality of Jezebel in Revelation 2 ties directly to our study of 1 Timothy 2:12. If you will take the time to do an in depth study of 1 Timothy 2:12, you will find that Paul was not telling women in general not to teach or have authority over men, but was in actuality dealing with Gnosticism and female gnostic teachers who were mixing sexual immorality with gnostic doctrines. The greek word used in this passage of Scripture for "usurp authority" is authentien. This is the only place it is used in the New Testament. The normal word for authority is exousia. This rare verb had coarse sexual overtones. John Chrysostom's fourth century commentary on this verb uses the expression "sexual license." What Paul was actually doing was prohibiting female gnostic teachers from mixing their strange doctrines and sexual immorality as a means of seducing the church. This is exactly what Jesus was doing in Revelation 2:20-24. For a detailed treatment of this concept, let me refer you to Charles Trombley's book, Who Said Women Can't Teach.

Throughout the Bible we find women who had powerful personal revelations and ministries. Church history is full of misogynistic theologians and ministers who have, all too successfully, tried to minimize them as some special exception to the norm. but that is completely wrong and the church has suffered tremendously because of it. One of the many doctrines of demons that the church has believed is that women are inferior to men and that Paul meant to silence them and relegate them to lifetimes of spiritual imprisonment and fruitlessness. As we boldly confront those doctrines of demons we will find ourselves in many intense spiritual battles. But the fruits of our victory will be well worth the fight. All the women in the Body of Christ will be set free to minister in the anointing of the Holy Spirit and take full advantage of all the wonderful opportunities God will give them to build His Kingdom. Satan knows how powerful women are in the Spirit and so he has tried to "silence" and minimize them. But as God restores his church to her Jewish roots, those daughters of Abraham will be set free to do a great deal of damage to satan's kingdom. Amen!

God has one unchanging purpose in the earth and that is to disciple men and women who can inherit His Kingdom and be qualified to rule and reign with Him. By anointing His children with His spirit and then giving them opportunities to serve, God is able to train such people. Let us now, as we approach the third christian millenium not hinder anyone from fulfilling God's purposes, but rather work together with Him to see everyone complete in the Messiah.

Wired Different

Bill Yount

Caution! - "I'm Going To Do Fearless Exploits With Those Who Are "Wired" Different - Some Will Seem To Have "No Wiring" At All!"

I sense the Father saying. "Many whom I have "wired" different from the womb are being activated to seemingly go over the edge in fearless exploits, removing every limitation My present day church has established. Watch for them. Some will seem to have "no wiring" at all. But don't judge them too soon. You maybe shaking your head no to the next move of My outrageous acts of heroic exploits. I am sending these "unique" ones who will also be the forerunners in routing every religious spirit out of My House!"

My youngest daughter, Danielle, who is a little strong-willed, and twenty-one as I am writing this, called me a few months ago. She said, "Dad, I bought a new car, a 2003 Honda Civic!" I said, "What? Honey, you just bought a nice Honda Civic two years ago. That car would last you forever! Besides that, your sister Naomi is getting married in May and then you will have to pay all the rent for your apartment plus this higher car payment each month. This is the worst time for you to do something like this."

She said, "I think I can handle it." Then before we hung up she said something that really floored me. She said, "I got a five-speed!" I said, "You are joking, right?" I said, "Honey, you have never driven a stick in your whole life!" She said, "I practiced with a friend's car yesterday afternoon." (She is getting her new car in two days.)

I have come to this conclusion about Danielle-- she is wired different! She is so unique. I believe that's the word of knowledge the Lord gave me concerning her. That's the only way I can have peace. I have discovered something from the day she was born. She's an edge pusher! What worries me excites her. She was born to push the edge back.

She came two days later to show us her car. She parked two blocks away so she didn't have to park between any cars. I thought to myself, "She is probably going to be walking more since she got this new car!" As we looked it over, my wife said something that caused an alarm to go off inside of me. My wife asked, "Are you going to take us for a ride?" I went to get in the backseat, but Danielle spoke up and said, "Dad, I got a two-door this time. (The last time she bought a car, she wouldn't get one unless it was a four-door.)

She pulled out of the parking space slowly, squealing the tires. The next intersection gave us another louder squeal that concerned me. She said, "Dad, I think it's because you are in here!" I wanted to say, "May I get out?" The longest ride in my whole life was just those two miles!

The Lord speaks to me in everyday life many times through my children. When you begin to hear God speak in everyday life, it can become very expensive. This word that the Lord spoke to me concerning you who are reading this is costing my daughter over fifteen thousand dollars! So listen very carefully. I heard the Father say concerning you, "You are so unique! You are "wired" different! Normal just won't do it for you either. You're an edge pusher! You were born from the womb to push back the edge of the powers of darkness over your family, city, region and beyond."

I believe the Lord is taking the Body of Christ this hour into a dimension of the Spirit of a brand new Honda Civic five-speed! I believe the five-speed transmission represents the fivefold ministry of the Apostle, Prophet, Pastor, Teacher and Evangelist. People will shake their heads on this move and think you are going over the edge, but you were born to push the edge back and take great risks to do great exploits in this hour. I sense we are going to hear some screeching of tires on this move. We will hear some squealing of people also who may not understand what God is up to. But God is in the car. He doesn't get nervous like I do. He is going to teach you and me how to shift those gears to have all the power we need to do what He has called us to do corporately as well as individually. Did you know that Hondas are in the Bible? In the book of Acts it says that they were all in "one Accord." This move is nothing new to God. He's been in a Honda before. He is calling us to get into "one Accord" so He can drive and shift for us.

Danielle's boyfriend Justin had a birthday a few months ago. She bought him a gift... to "sky dive." That means you jump out of an airplane and free fall sixty seconds until you pull the parachute. But Justin has never been in an airplane before! His mother paid extra to have another man jump out beside Justin to record on video the "squealing and screeching" on the way down. They went to watch Justin take off in the plane but some clouds rolled in that day and they postponed the jump. See, I thought those clouds were from the Lord. They told me they were from the devil. They went up the following week and Justin loved every second of it. I just got over watching the video a few months ago.

Is what I am sharing finding a witness in you? Do you want to do something you have never done before although it may cost you everything including your life? Step to the forefront now! Your bones are telling you that if you save your life you are going to lose it. But oh, if you lose your life for Jesus' sake you will find it by going over the edge, using a five speed transmission, squealing for all your tires are worth, with people shaking their heads at you! Put that parachute on now and plan to "sky dive" on your first time up! If you know you are not "normal," God may be calling your name.

Step forth now. Being "wired" different, or having "no wiring" at all, enhances your qualifications!

Whatever You Plant in a Garden Will Grow
Bill Yount

4 Apr 2004

"WHATEVER YOU PLANT IN A GARDEN WILL GROW!"

Five years ago I wrote a book that I felt sure was of the Lord and would soon be published. Upon finishing the manuscript, I heard the Father speak. "Take this book and bury it in the backyard in your garden." Perhaps getting my book published meant too much to me at the time. In the dead of winter I dug into the hard ground in my garden and buried my manuscript. As I was throwing the dirt down on top of it, the Lord spoke. "Whatever you plant in a garden will grow."

I then remembered that Jesus was buried in a garden tomb and was raised from the dead in a garden. My only hope was that my book would grow and one day be raised from the dead in my garden. As time went by, I finally died to the desire to ever have a book published. Even when people would mention that I should write a book, I didn't want to touch it. Five years has gone by and through confirmation of the Spirit and much brokenness, tears and dying a thousand deaths, my book has risen up through the crust of the earth - this earthen vessel.

Just like what grows in a garden looks different from what you planted, this book is quite different from what I planted. And also I am not the same person I was five years ago. I believe this is the book the Lord intended to harvest at this time. I am learning that He only raises dead things, dead dreams and dead plans. If it's not dead, He can't raise it.

The book has just come off the press today titled - I HEARD HEAVEN PROCLAIM - (Prophetic Words of Encouragement). I am honored to have Jane Hansen, President of Aglow International, to have written the foreword to the book. Endorsements for the book are from Bob Sorge, Jim Goll, Dutch Sheets, Kathie Walters Chuck Pierce and Al Thomas.

The book is now available through my website at www.billyount.com

It's interesting that it has been released at this resurrection season. I truly believe the Lord is coming to raise up your dreams and plans also. His timing is perfect. It's worth waiting for. Trust Him!

Your garden is growing!

Blessings, Bill Yount theshofarhasblown@juno.com www.billyount.com

The Word Go

What Part of the Word "Go" Do you not Understand"

I sensed the Father saying. "I am hungry for My Harvest!" Upon hearing these words and realizing we are the Lord's Body on earth, could it be the insatiable hunger that God has put into many of us may not be just for Him alone but could it be for His Harvest?

When I think in the natural how in harvest times it's important to bring in the harvest because it is our food and sustenance. The natural harvest sustains our life and health. Could it be that as in the natural harvest the spiritual harvest holds far more for us than we realize. Could the spiritual harvest hold also spiritual nourishment that we have lacked in our walk even with God? Could there be sustenance in the Harvest Fields that we have yet to discover that hasn't been found in our churches and gatherings? I personally believe there is.

When Jesus was ministering to the woman at the well and the disciples returned with food, they wondered why He was no longer hungry. In John 4:32 Jesus says, "I have meat to eat that you don't know about!" The disciples thought someone had actually brought Jesus something to eat. He then explains in verse 34. "My meat (sustenance) comes from doing the will of Him that sent Me. And verse 35, Jesus tells his disciples to "Lift up your eyes and look on the harvest fields for they are white already to harvest."

I believe Jesus was showing us through His own experience that it is in reaching out to the lost that we get true nourishment and satisfaction in our own lives. Sounds like Jesus got something in the Harvest field that He didn't get in the temple! I believe the Lord has put such a high priority on reaching the lost that there are also wages and rewards given that we haven't experienced until we actually go! The devil will tell you don't go until you feel good enough and prepared. But it's in the "going" that God equips us and anoints us "in" the harvest fields. You will discover that the harvest anointing is in the harvest itself. The Harvest Anointing will take care of a whole lot of your problems!

My mother who has been healed so many times and is almost eighty years old, has found the key to long life. I once heard her pray when the doctor discovered a tumor on her thyroid. Before the biopsy test, she prayed to the Lord. "Father, if I get sick and weak with this tumor, how will I be able to serve you and reach the lost?" All I know is that the next morning when the doctor went to take a biopsy they couldn't find that tumor! I believe many times the Lord wants to know "why" we want to be healed. Not so we can live a long life but why do we want to live a long life? Is it for Him and others or just for ourselves.

I believe the Harvest this hour is so ripe that as we reach out and walk into these harvest fields many of us will discover not only the lost being touched, but we ourselves will find nourishment so sustaining that healings and deliverances will be taking place in our own lives. There are Harvest Healings and Harvest Miracles waiting for us.

Do you have a great hunger for God that refuses to be satisfied? Follow Jesus into the Harvest fields. You will find meat to eat that's only found through reaching out to the lost! In case there is a reason why you are still waiting.... Jesus already said "GO!"

"What part of the word "GO!" do you not understand?"

The Older Stars In My Kingdom Are Going To Shine Brighter
And Do Greater Exploits Than Ever Before

by Bill Yount (theshofarhasblown@juno.com)
http://www.billyount.com

As the former President Bush took a jump to sky-dive at eighty years of age, I sensed a prophetic decree was released in the heavens. "The older stars in My Kingdom are going to shine brighter and do greater exploits than ever before!"

I sense there is a special anointing coming upon older men and women in the Body of Christ. God is not through using you! Your age is not against you; it is for you! Job 12:12 says: "With the ancient is wisdom; and in length of days understanding."

You have more wisdom now than ever!

And with your years comes understanding. This anointing is going to cause you to live longer. Many of you have not planned to live long enough! It will be an anointing similar to Caleb's when he was eighty-five years old, and he said to Joshua, "I am as strong now as I was at forty, and I still want that mountain!" There is coming a spiritual fountain of youth into your midst - a renewing - a release of God's strength. Psalm 68:28 says: "Thy God hath commanded thy strength." God is commanding His strength into you!

Many of you are going to go into second childhood in the Spirit. You will be reactivated by God to live out the dreams that you are now only dreaming about. Other people and relatives will laugh and say, "You are going to do what? You are going to go where? At your age?" But that anointing is going to rise up within you to take mountains, to do exploits, to run and not be weary, to walk and not faint.

Bringing forth Fruit

Our older years are when we are in our prime to be used and to bring forth fruit. Psalm 91:16 says, "With long life will I satisfy him, and show him my salvation." There is coming an anointing upon God's people to live longer. The joy of the Lord, which is our strength, is lengthening our days upon the earth.

Many have made out their wills, but before you think about leaving, check out your Father's will for you. I don't think you are going anywhere for a while. As Abraham and Sarah conceived in old age, you are about to conceive and live to see the birth of your Isaac - your impossible dream...

Buy some new luggage and a parachute...

Things I've Learned By Staying In The Same Church For 30 Years!
Bill Yount

(theshofarhasblown@juno.com)
www.billyount.com

God is not building His House to please me ... He is building it to please Him!

At times I used to be bothered by leaders and church members by the way they did things and what they did. So I would share this with our chief intercessors so they of course could pray about the problems... (and hopefully agree with me.)

I've learned the hard way that I was going to the wrong source for the answers. Because the church doesn't belong to the intercessors. It belongs to God.

Someone said, "Jesus has been trying to get His Church back for two thousand years." So I've learned to take my problems to the master builder, Jesus, who is the head of the church.

I would say to the Lord. "Lord, I don't agree with the leaders or members on this situation. It bothers me. I want to know what you think about it. What do you think? Nine times out of ten, I would hear the Lord say, "That doesn't bother me... I kinda like it. I love variety, that's why I never get bored!!

If you are having problems with certain leaders and members of your church, go to the master builder and see what He thinks about the situation. If it doesn't bother Him, get over it and get on with being conformed to the image of Christ!

I don't go to church to get anything out of it. If I did, I would get disappointed at times. I believe we go to church for the wrong reason. We are not supposed to go to receive anything! We are supposed to go to give! Paul says, "When you come together, one has a song, one has a revelation, etc." Sounds like we are supposed to go to church to give.

As I travel, I hear many people say to me. "Brother Bill, I left my church because the pastor is not feeding me." That is the most stupidest excuse God has ever heard of! Your pastor was not called to feed you. He is called to equip you!

I know the verse that says, "Shepherds, feed the flock among you." But I have been to Israel and have seen real shepherds with their flocks. The shepherd goes before his flock and finds green pastures and then calls the sheep by name and they come and they feed themselves or they don't eat. He does not spoon feed them!

I have learned to get fed by the Good Shepherd who knows the best diet for me. There's a lot of junk food out there nowadays. The best days to eat for me is on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. And when I come to church on Sunday, the church is mine!! I can have the pulpit anytime I want to share something, for I can't hold in what I got from feeding six days of that week!

I travel a lot and I am only home at our church about one Sunday a month. By then I am so hungry, every bitter thing tastes sweet. People can come out of the same service and say, "I didn't get a thing out of that church service." I tell them, "It's because I got it all!" Many don't get anything out of church because they are not hungry.

Many times I wanted to leave our church, but God never allowed me for some reason. One time I was ready to leave and it was like a warning to me. He said. "Bill, don't you go. I don't want you messing up another church!" So out of the fear of God, I stayed and grew through the storms, battles, struggles, and fights. I stayed after the honeymoon was over.

The longer I stayed, the further my roots grew down deep and now nothing moves me, or surprises me. I have seen it all and heard it all. And through staying, I have an anchor that holds and grips the solid rock! If you leave a church before God calls you out, you will never find out who was right!

Just two years ago, after twenty eight years, they asked me to be an elder. I think it was because I am the oldest person that has stayed this long in our church. I must be dead, I said, "Yes!"

There was a man who lived most of his life on a deserted island all by himself. Finally one day a ship landed on shore and found the man. The people from the ship noticed the man had built three huts on the island. They asked him what was the purpose of those three huts. The man explained, "The first hut is my house where I live. The second hut is where I go to church. The third hut is the church where I used to attend!"

The greatest revelation that I have found by staying in the same church for thirty years is... I could be a great Christian if it wasn't for other people!

Holding Pattern
Bill Yount

I Have Put Many Of My People And Their Ministries In A "Holding Pattern!

In the Spirit I saw a word being written across the nations of the earth... W-A-I-T! I sensed the Lord saying. "As you wait upon Me, your 'wait' will turn into an eternal 'w-e-i-g-h-t' of My Glory that will begin to descend upon the whole earth!

I sensed the Lord speaking to me recently in commercial airline terms concerning His people and their ministries. He spoke the word... "Holding Pattern." Like an airplane circling around in circles until the "air traffic control" on the ground signals it in for landing. Does it seem like you are going around in circles?

Two days after receiving this word, I flew to another state for some meetings. As we began our initial descent for landing, the pilot came on the intercom announcing... "Ground control has just put us in a "Holding Pattern" until further notice! The same thing happened on my flight coming home. (strong confirmation!)

I sense there are many ministries 'up in the air' right now seemingly going in circles, wondering why they are not being given permission from 'ground control' to bring their ministry in to arrive at their destination. I sense the Lord saying. "You are not the only airplane or ministry in My Kingdom. There are other ministries below you on the ground that need to take off before you can land. As you continue to wait and circle, you will be clearing an opening in the heavens for these ministries on the ground to take off, staying out of their way as they gain altitude. Only as these ministries take off, will the ground below you be cleared for your ministry to come in for landing into God's destination.

"Air Traffic Controllers"

"There are 'air traffic controllers' on the ground who you feel are in control and are delaying and holding you up from coming into My Destiny for you. You must understand that I am in control! Be careful not to get upset or angry with the 'air traffic controllers' in your life at this season. A wrong spirit towards those in positions of authority can be dangerous at this point in time. Lack of respect towards 'air traffic controllers' could prolong your 'holding pattern!' You must pray for those on the ground who have the authority to bring you in for a safe landing. In a way, your life is in their hands. Pray that they bring you in safe and sound."

Many ministries in this 'holding pattern' seem to have their own agenda and time of arrival carved in cement for touch down. (I think I heard God laugh at these plans!) Some even had God's agenda but were frustrated why the Lord seemed to not be giving them much attention in spite of them being huge 747's with many passengers on board who were getting so hungry in the waiting process that there was nothing left on board to feed them. Divine hunger was gripping the pilots (leaders) also, who were feeling helpless to feed the passengers (sheep) any longer. I sensed an angel whispering, "This 'Holding Pattern' is working! The people are becoming totally desperate and helpless!"

I sense the Lord saying. "Many are tired of being in My 'Holding Pattern' and going around in circles. Many are being tempted to jump from their plane or ministry. I heard the Heavenly Pilot speaking loud and clear. "No parachuting at this time... keep circling!"

I sensed the Lord saying. "Tell these ministries that the reason why they are seemingly being overlooked individually right now is because I am not really focusing on individual ministries at this time... I've got the whole world on My mind! I am in the process of bringing the whole earth into alignment and into My purposes. The reason why I don't seem to be focusing on you and your "ministry" right now is because I am looking throughout the whole earth to find a ministry who is willing to look not just at its own needs, but to look to the needs of other ministries, to connect and network with them, preferring and esteeming one another. For I am moving corporately in the earth this hour with corporate vision!"

It is very important what you do during this 'holding pattern'.

The devil is telling you that you are just going in circles, but the Lord says, "We are right on schedule! Wait! While I have you in My 'holding pattern', I am holding you! Many think the enemy or other people are holding them up from accomplishing My plans, but it is I who am holding you up in My arms and I kinda like it! You are not going in circles without purpose. This is your moment to worship Me and dance with the King in high places! (When you hold and embrace someone when you dance, it appears like you are going in circles but I guarantee you something is happening.) There is intimacy taking place. Try slow dancing with your wife, holding her tightly, and see if you don't do more than go in circles. When you dance with the One who sits upon the circle of the earth, who cares if you go in circles? You are suppose to! You just might forget about ever landing on earth. You begin to realize you are seated together with Him in Heavenly places. This is how Heaven views our 'holding pattern'.

When you are dancing in circles with the King, you are dancing circles around the enemy and confusing him!

In your waiting, go ahead and worship and love on Him. God is waiting for you to do just that. It's almost like I hear a "referee angel" in heaven, blowing a whistle throughout the earth, decreeing the word of the Lord... "Time out! I must have worship! Earth can't go on without worshiping Me! Please let Me hold you in My arms. I promise you it will cause Me to fill the whole earth with My Glory!"

May 1st, my oldest daughter got married. I had mixed emotions walking her down the aisle that day. My most cherished moment of the wedding came at the reception when they introduced the song for the father of the bride to dance with her. I honestly didn't want to stop holding her on that dance floor!

I sense Heaven is introducing its sweetest song right now and announcing, "It's the moment for the Father of the Bride to dance with her."

I promise you, you will not mind His 'holding pattern' or going in circles with Him!

Resuscitation To America
Bill Yount

I Plan To Give Mouth To Mouth Resuscitation To America... And Kiss Her Face Again!

In the Spirit saw hair-line cracks appearing on the marble floor of the White House!

As I saw these hair-line cracks begin to appear on the marble floor of the White House, I sensed the Lord speaking from Job 14:7,8,9. "For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut down, that it will grow again, and that the tender branch (of government) thereof will not cease. Though the root thereof wax old in the earth, and the stock thereof die in the ground; Yet through the scent of water it will bud, and bring forth boughs like a plant."

I sensed the Lord saying. "As Samson's hair began to grow again, so are the spiritual roots of this nation." As I saw the cracking of the floor increase, it was like the very foundation of deception and greed was beginning to be dismantled... exposing the enemy! (The enemy is not a man but Satan.)

I said to the Lord. "What has caused these spiritual roots of your Spirit to begin to grow again at this time?" I sensed the Father saying. "I have collected in a bottle every tear that swelled up in every eye that mourned for My righteous son, President Ronald Reagan." The day that 'tall tree' (President Ronald Reagan,) fell, followed by days of mourning, those tears in My bottle were poured out over America causing her roots of righteousness to begin to spring forth in the land. Up here, we have always known him as 'Righteous Ronald'!"

In the Spirit I saw what appeared to be 'paramedic angels' dispatched, dropping from the heavens as in parachutes, landing on the front lawn of the White House. It seemed that those grass roots of righteousness that began to crack the White House floor had set off an alarm in hell, summoning these angels with urgency to surround the White House.

I saw multitudes of other angels descending upon and filling up the mall of the nation's capitol. I saw that these were 'Second Chronicle 7:14,15,16, angels' who had the scripture written all over them... "If My people who are called by My name shall humble themselves and seek My face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven and will forgive their sin and heal their land. 15. Now Mine eyes shall be open, and mine ears attend unto the prayer that is made in this place. 16. For now have I chosen and sanctified this House, that my name may be there for ever: and mine eyes and mine heart shall be there perpetually."

These 'Second Chronicle angels' seemed to have had assignments throughout the ages to descend upon nations that were in critical time frames where a nation seemed to be hanging in the balance of going either way. These angels warred solely and strictly on 'corporate prayer' only! I sensed they had come to Washington, D.C. but now were given orders to wait on the rising tide of 'corporate prayer' from the heart of America.

Some certain angels were released into war for a nation only through tears... nothing else moved these ones. Not even prayer, unless tears were mixed with them.

I asked the Lord. "Father, why 'paramedic angels'? I have never heard of them." I sense He responded. "I plan to give mouth to mouth resuscitation to America and kiss her face again!"

"Oh America... is that a prayer on your lips that I hear... and is that a tear in your eye?"

Marriages are Made In Heaven

A mother had a little girl who was playing down the street at a neighbor's house. A storm was brewing and the mother out of concern called the neighbor and said, "Please send my little girl home quickly." The mother watched from the kitchen window as all of a sudden the storm broke loose and it started pouring down rain with lightning flashing and thunder booming. As the little girl was coming home about two blocks away, the mother watched intently and noticed that every time it would lightning, the little girl would stop and stand still and a smile would break out across her face. Two or three times every time it would lightning the girl would just stop and would start to smile. Out of fear for her safety, the mother ran out of the house and picked her daughter up in her arms and ran inside the house with her. As soon as they were in the house, the mother said to the little girl, "Honey, how come every time it would lightning, you just stood still and started smiling?" The little girl answered, "Mommy, all the way home God's been taking my picture!"

Child-Like in a Storm

Oh, how we need a child-like perspective when the storms are raging in our lives. In our worst storms, when lightning is flashing all around us and the thunder booms shake the earth beneath us. To know that God's eyes are focused on us in our worst storms, and the lightning flashing in your marriage today may be God taking your picture, while thunder is Heaven's applause over you!

I sense many marriages are being bombarded by severe, raging storms like never before. Did you know that when you were even thinking about marriage, God was already thinking of miracles? God spells the word marriage...m-i-r-a-c-l-e! The Lord actually created marriages with a built-in need for miracles. The Lord ordained marriage to not only require miracles but to demand them. Marriages demand miracles!

Marriages and Miracles Go Together

From Heaven's perspective, here is how it works. The Lord will allow your wine in your marriage to run out to get you on miracle territory!

Just like at the first marriage wedding feast in Cana. Did you know that when the Lord brought you and your spouse together, He knew you would need a miracle? In fact, there is something wrong if your marriage doesn't need a miracle sooner or later. Marriages and miracles just go together! Jesus chose to create His first miracle on earth where He knew it would be needed the most - at a wedding feast, so everyone will know they can have a miracle in their marriage. Study the couples throughout the Bible who had great destinies and you will find that they faced the greatest impossibilities and nothing less than a miracle brought them through to God's purposes.

Expect miracles in your marriage today! Lightning and thunder is confirmation that your marriage was made in Heaven!

Weighed In The Balance

Judy Curmi

9-25-2004
Eve of Yom Kippur

For I will have my way in the earth, no matter what man decides and no matter what he tries to do. I can see through every scheme and plan of the enemy. I can see through every scheme and plan of man. The days of the exaltation of man are about to end forever.

No longer will I be put into a box or put into a closet. No longer will my Holy Name be bantered about, laughed at and ridiculed. I am going to have the last laugh. Did I not promise you, Oh earth, that I would have the last laugh? So why do you continue on so unconcerned?

Ps. 2: 1-5 Why do the Gentiles rage and the peoples imagine vain things? The kings of the earth and the rulers have conspired and have taken counsel together against the Lord and against his anointed, saying, Let us break their bands asunder, and let us cast their yoke away from us.
He that dwells in heaven shall laugh, and the Lord shall mock at them. Then shall he speak to them in his anger, and terrify them in his wrath…

I have said many times that I would roar, but all I got in response was a yawn! Will you still yawn when I begin to stake out my territory? Will you still yawn when I send out my angels with flaming swords to carry out my commands?

I promised that fire would fall from the sky. I promised that balls of fire would fall to earth as a burning torch.

> Rev. 8:4-11 And the smoke of the incense which came up with the prayers of the saints ascended up before God out of the angel's hand. And the angel took the censer and filled it with the fire of the altar and cast it upon the earth; and there were voices and thunderings and lightenings and an earthquake.
> And the seven angels who had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound.
> The first angel sounded, and there followed hail and fire mingled with water, and they were poured upon the earth; and a third part of the earth was burnt up and a third part of the trees was burnt up and all the green grass was burnt up.
> Then the second angel sounded, and as it were a great mountain aflame with fire was cast into the sea; and the third part of the sea became blood; And the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed.
> And the third angel sounded, and there fell a star from heaven, burning as though it were a lamp, and it fell upon a third part of the rivers and upon the fountains of waters; And the name of the star is called Wormwood; and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter.

I promised that I would separate the sheep from the goats and the wheat from the tares. [Matt. 25:31-46, Matt. 13:24-43]

> Matt. 13:40-43 Therefore, just as the tares are picked out and burned in the fire, so shall it be at the end of the world. The Son of man will send his angels, and they will pick out from his kingdom all things which cause stumbling and all workers of iniquity. And they will throw them into the furnace of fire; there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.
> Then the righteous ones shall shine as the sun in the kingdom of their Father. He who has ears to hear, let him hear.

There will be NO goats in my sheepfold, no not one. There is a place for the goats, but it is certainly not among my flock. Because this separation has not yet occurred, people just assume that it never will happen.

Even in my house my name is bandied about. My Holy Word is poked and prodded, sifted and dissected, looking for just the right words to support that speaker's or denomination's point of view.

THEY THINK THEIR POINT OF VIEW IS MORE IMPORTANT THAN MY HOLY WORD!

THEY THINK THEIR POINT OF VIEW IS MORE IMPORTANT THAN FREEDOM FOR THE MASSES AND THE SALVATION OF THE LOST!

Woe to you, Oh earth. You have been weighed in the balance and you have been found wanting. You have been found lacking in the things of the Spirit, while you groveled in a pigpen instead. No chickens, ducks or geese here, but a whole planet rooting in the dirt, in the muck and mire, rolling in their slop and loving every minute if it.

I say ENOUGH! I say Prepare to meet your God!

I have held my peace and I have been patient. A few are ready for me, but most are not, so now you will enter in. You will tremble and you will not recover, for I am closing one door and I am opening another.

This is a door you never would have opened on your own. The path you choose led you directly to this door and it opens easily, with the slightest push on the knob. This door was not latched because your deeds unlatched it. Your mindset and your behavior bolted the door that could have saved you so much misery.

It is like making a cake. If you want it to taste good, you add sugar and vanilla. If you want it to be disgusting and inedible you add vinegar instead. You, Oh man, have chosen the vinegar, but this is not a cake you can spit out. You will have to eat it to the very last crumb.

The days of "wine and roses" are over. Get ready to enter into what you have chosen as the door is pushed open before you…

The Most High God

The Reverse Is True
Judy Curmi

There is pleasure in submitting to me. There is pleasure in surrendering to my will, for I am not like man and my ways are not like man's ways. My ways are a mystery to the carnal mind. The way I think is a mystery to the carnal mind.

There can be no marriage between the carnal and the things of my Spirit. The two are as different as night and day. You think the things of the carnal and your flesh are DAY, but you are wrong. Just the reverse is true. The things of the flesh are the things of NIGHT, but a new day is dawning.

I am about to pour out my Spirit in unlimited measure. The things of the DAY and the things of the NIGHT will be clearly seen for what they are, for is there a single person who can not discern between DAY and NIGHT, between NOON and MIDNIGHT?

The earth has been walking in great darkness and called it DAY, but I AM about to switch on the lights so that all can see clearly that which is holy and that which is profane.*

Everyone is going to have to make a choice. No one will be without excuse. I would remind you that those who love the darkness and the deeds that they can do in the darkness will hate the light. When you lift a board that has been lying on the ground in your garden, all manner of insects scurry away to hide. So will be those who choose to run away when I pour out my Spirit and shine my light on them. They had just as much opportunity to repent and be cleansed as everyone else [did], but they would have none of it.

This Is My Final Call, For The Shaking Has Begun.

So far it has had little impact, but what you have experienced so far (9-11, hurricanes, floods, the Madrid train bombing, the North Ossetia Russian School Massacre) is as nothing compared to what lies right ahead of you.

The money supply will quake and come down with a mighty crash. I warned of wars, rumors of wars, famines, pestilence's and earthquakes. All of these lie right ahead of you, yet man sleep walks to his destruction thinking he is walking in the light of day!

I have called and called. I have warned and warned. I have even begun to whistle! Who will hear me and who will respond to my call?

You, Oh earth, are about to find out who your Creator really is. Most of you thought wrong. Most of you never thought there would be a day of pay back, but that you could continue in your ignorance and rebellion forever. You were wrong!

So it begins. As I have said many times before, you MUST be under the shadow of my wings if you wish to remain standing in the days ahead. There is no other place, no position of authority, no other individual, no secret hiding place that will be exempt or secure from what lies ahead.

Pray that you do not sell your eternity for a bowl of pottage or porridge. That is, pray that you will not succumb to the Mark of the Beast. Yielding will only give temporary relief, but will result in your eternal downfall. [Rev. 13:15-18, Rev. 14:9-11]

I am calling all hands on deck. Now is not a time to be lounging or sneezing. You are about to go through a door that will shock the world to its very core. Many will reel to and fro from the shock of it.

The birth pangs have begun, for I am coming soon. The dice have been cast and the path has been laid out before you. Now walk into what you have created. May you have made the right decision. May you be found beneath the shadow of my wings in the days ahead. Here is what my Spirit has to say:

> Ps. 91 He who dwells in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. I will say of the Lord, "He is my refuge and my fortress; My God, in him will I trust."
> Surely he shall deliver you from the snare of the fowler and from the perilous pestilence.
> He shall cover you with His feathers, And under His wings you shall take refuge; His truth shall be your shield and buckler.
> You shall not be afraid of the terror by night, nor of the arrow that flies by day, nor of the pestilence that walks in the darkness, nor of the destruction that lays waste at noonday.
> A thousand may fall at your side, and ten thousand at your right hand; but it shall not come near you. Only with your eyes shall you look, and see the reward of the wicked.
> Because you have made the Lord, who is my refuge, even the most High, your dwelling place, no evil shall befall you, nor shall any plague come near your dwelling; For He shall give His angles charge over you, to keep you in all your ways. In their hands they shall bear > you up, lest you dash your foot against a stone.

> You shall tread upon the lion and the cobra, the young lion and the serpent you shall trample underfoot.
> Because he has set his love upon Me, therefore I will deliver him; I will set him on high, because he has known My name. He shall call upon Me, and I will answer him; I will be with him in trouble; I will deliver him and honor him. With long life I will satisfy him, and show him My salvation. [NKJ]

> Matt. 24:3-14 While Jesus sat on the mount of Olives, his disciples came up talking among themselves, and they said to him, Tell us when these things will happen and what is the sign of your coming and of the end of the world?*
> Jesus answered, saying to them, Be careful that no man deceives you. For many will come in my name and say, I am the Christ, and they will deceive many.
> You are bound to hear of revolutions and rumors of wars; watch out and do not be disturbed; for all of these things must come to pass, but the end is not yet.
> For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom; and there will be famines and plagues and earthquakes in different places. But all these things are just the beginning of travail.
> Then they will deliver you over to be oppressed, and they will kill you; and you will be hated by all nations for my name's sake. Then many will stumble, and they will hate one another and betray one another. And many false prophets will rise and will mislead a great many. And because of the growth of iniquity, the love of many will become cold. But he who has patience to the end will be saved. And this gospel of the kingdom shall be preached throughout the world as a testimony to all the nations; then the end will come.

Where Is The Great Outpouring

Kriston Couchey

June 12, 2004

What is God Waiting for?
God has been loudly speaking about the Glory of the days we are entering into with Prophecies, sermons, articles, scriptures and revelations. I have yet to hear of this sweeping move of unprecedented proportion that has never been see before. So why has it not happened, and what are exactly are we waiting for? Or should I say, What is God waiting for?

Spheres Of Authority, Who is Walking in Theirs?

Matthew 13: 33 Take heed, watch, and pray, for ye know not when the time is. 34 As a man which is gone into a strange country and hath left his house, and given authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to watch.

The outpouring of God wanes and waxes to the degree to which the people of God are walking in the sphere of authority they have been given and accomplishing the specific work each one has been given. When Jesus said “Occupy until I come”, He was referring to the place of authority and ministry He has prepared for each believer. To the degree His people operate in their place of authority and ministry is the degree with which He can manifest his Glory.

What are My Authority and Ministry?
Most sincere believers barely walk in the basic levels of authority that every believer has been given. The common believer authority is over sin, sickness, and the devils attacks on our families and possessions.

When we begin to move into broader realms of authority and ministry gifts, it could be argued that the majority of believers who are sincerely seeking the Lord and His will are ignorant or at best uncertain about their spheres of authority and ministry.

Individual spheres of authority can range from neighborhoods to nations. Some of the authority in gifts and ministry include miracles, healing, prophesy, deliverance, preaching, teaching etc.

So why do so few recognize and walk out their purpose?

The Heart of the Lord On This Matter

The Lord is grieved about the lack of understanding and direction his people have concerning their place and ministry. In a sense, much of the authority and ministry of the believer has been “surrendered” to a leadership structure that has not identified peoples places of authority, or equipped them to walk in them. Obviously, the current structures functionality is not enabling or equipping the body to do the work of the ministry.

What the Lord is Doing Now

The Lord is releasing apostolic and prophetic vessels that know how to walk in their own ministry and authority. More importantly, these are those whose whole purpose and desire is to see just what the heart of God desires; people walking in their places of authority and ministry.

These relate horizontally and personally. They see themselves as equals and consider themselves less then those they serve. Many of these are not "under" a “church” structure with a pastor or “apostolic” network.

You wont hear them call themselves apostles or prophets. They are not insecure in the presence of people with neophyte gifts that far exceed their own. They are dead to their “ministry, and their heart is to see the body rise up in unity and faith, fully equipped to release the outpouring of Glory.

This Outpouring will come from God’s people walking in confidence and faith in the purpose and authority God has given them. The more people that walk in their authority and ministry, the greater the outpouring of Glory!

Wilderness The School of the Prophet
Michael Clark.

Feb 5, 2004
Today we see many fledgling prophets trying to set the house of God in order, often creating disorder instead. I spent a couple of years in this category, standing in churches, "warning them" and being rejected. Rejection led to anger, and suppressed anger led to bitterness. Bitterness led to unforgiveness and pride. What started out as a gift given to a lowly believer, turned into the festering, stinking sore of pride. James wrote: "God resists the proud, But gives grace to the humble" (Ja 4:6).

This is the story of how God dealt with me in His wilderness. One day in 1980 I was praying and seeking the Lord for direction on what He wanted me to say in my church home meeting, He showed me a vision of myself standing on a pedestal in a white robe with all the people in my home group on their knees around the bottom of the pedestal giving glory to God. As each word of praise went upward to heaven and passed me by, I reached out and grabbed it and tucked it in my robe next to my heart. After seeing this I cried out, "Oh God! Is this what I am doing to you? If it is, then Lord kill it!" The gift in me was releasing praises to God, but in my immaturity and desire to be recognized as valid I had sought to be exalted above others and thereby invalidated the gift He had given me.

You see when one is truly dead to self and alive to Him, there is no offense taken when your word is rejected and no pride generated when it is received. There is only one way that I know that God can work so great a death in an individual and that is through tribulation and wilderness.

Shortly after I prayed that prayer of death, God started answering it. First He asked me, "Michael, if I cease to move by my Spirit in your meetings, will you try to fake it?" I said, "No Lord, you quit and I quit." The next day two of the key families in the group called me and told me that they were not coming to the meetings any more. I blessed them and told them that I thought the Lord was telling me that I was to shut it down. The following meeting I announced to the group that it was the last meeting that we would be coming to, but that they were free to continue without us. They had one more meeting and it died.

Next, the church that I was affiliated with was split by a prophetic holiness cult. As the leaders of this group called me in on the carpet and tried to rein me in and get me under their authority, I refused and came under attack and curses by them. My response was to say to them, "I have had all this fun with you Christians I can stand. I'm out of here! I'm heading for Midian on the back side of the desert. I'll see you in about 40 years!" The leader said a most curious thing, "Michael, it need not take that long."

After that meeting I was mad at the Church and mad at God. The next thing I knew His clear voice, which spoke to me so often, ceased to be heard. The scriptures that had so nourished me seemed dead and dried up. I could not find meaningful fellowship with any other Christians. My prayers seemed to fall off the edge of my lip and hit the floor. I felt so alone and betrayed.

Then the Sabean raiding parties started coming in (Job 1:15). I could not find work anywhere! I had three journeyman licenses in my billfold and was sure that I would always have a "meal ticket," but no way! I had been cut off form my supply. I was too proud to accept unemployment, and we (my family of six) were reduced to gleaning food from muddy farm fields and diving in supermarket dumpsters at night for food. Some days I was so depressed I just laid in bed, curled up in a fetal position.

About this time, my wife was near the end of her rope. She pray one day, "God this school for prophets is very hard. Why do I have to audit all the classes?" The Lord spoke to her clearly, "You are not auditing the classes. You are a matriculated student." She saw me through my wilderness and now she is in her own wilderness, being purified by God.

Finally when we were just about to get a third month behind on our home mortgage and the banker was about to foreclose, I found work. It was humbling to accept a job opportunity through my Mormon uncle, but it was work. The job was an electrician position on Akutan Island in Alaska's Aleutian chain, a treeless, wind swept volcanic rock on the edge of the Arctic Ocean. Now I was in a literal wilderness as well as a spiritual one, and my family was not allowed to come.

I was cut off, dying inside, missing my family, but most of all missing my Lord. At one point in my tenure on that rock, sitting on my bunk in my depression I watched my consciousness get up out of my body and head for the door as if to say, "I can't stand to live with you anymore, I'm leaving." I cried out to Jesus to please hold me together long enough to get me back home to my family again. He did.

From that point on it was a very slow and gradual ramp up out of that terrible pit, but for the next ten years He kept drawing me to Him with invisible cords, but not enough that I could perceive it. I spent 14 years in all in that spiritual wilderness.

I had a significant encounter with Him in 1990 at a men's' retreat in Idaho. The pastor had another brother and myself stand in the midst of the men and explained to them that God had called us to the prophetic and that He had us in a time of wilderness, asking them to pray for us. The next day I confessed to the men and to God that I had been mad at God for letting Christians attack me and for taking away from me all things that were spiritual for all those years. I confessed that I had sinned by judging God and His church and asked for forgiveness. That started the "big thaw" in my spiritual winter. Things were finally coming back into perspective, "He is God, I'm a sinner," not the other way around.

In 1991 I had my first real Holy Ghost encounter with God in eleven years. I was at a Vineyard conference and His presence came down on me with such intensity that I could hardly breathe. I was back at the Motel between meetings, sitting on the floor in the laundry room between two washing machines reading the book of Jonah. All of a sudden He filled the room! The book of Jonah came alive! Every word was jumping off the page and straight into my heart.

There were more encounters with Him and more tests and trials at the hands of Christians after that, but I kept "short accounts" and had learned to forgive and keep seeking His face in each one. I had determined that I was tired of a diet of, as my friend called it, "roast pastor." I was not accepted with open arms back into church ministries for I still saw things from that prophetic prospective, but I didn't make it my duty to set all of them "right," either.

Jesus said of the Pharisees, "They are blind guides leading the blind. Leave them alone, they will fall into the ditch." Sometimes, the best cure for a disease is to let it run its course. When one is on his back in a ditch, it might just be the first time that he has ever looked up and become humbled enough to seek help! Saul the persecutor of the Church found this out. "All good gifts come DOWN from the Father of lights." God opposes the proud and lifts up the humble.

Well, I said all that to say this... You who are called to be prophets, study the scriptures and see the common thread of wilderness in the lives of God's prophets and invite His mighty humbling hand to prove your heart in His crucible of affliction, that He might truly use you as His purified instrument. Even after this period of wilderness, called by some "the dark night of the soul," I find that He continues to work His death in me as I continue to follow Him and speak His words.

Wise Virgin

Don Hawley

Want To Be A Wise "Wise Virgin?"

All:
Most Christians are so well acquainted with Christ's parable of the Ten Virgins, that it seldom comes to mind. However, I believe this portion of Scripture has important implications for those of us living right now. I'll not attempt to address every facet of this parable, but only certain points. If you need to review the parable, you'll find it in Matthew 25.

"The Kingdom of Heaven can be illustrated by the story of ten bridesmaids who took their lamps and went to meet the bridegroom." Matt. 25:1.

The setting is just before the Bridegroom, Jesus Christ, returns. My personal conviction is that we are now at that juncture of earth's history. Many seem to think that our Lord's coming could be delayed almost indefinitely, but I am not of that mind. I think the word "imminent" is appropriate, and that viewpoint gives special meaning to the parable.

We often use the symbol of an old oil lamp to represent enlightenment or knowledge. The story makes it clear that all ten of these bridesmaids possessed some knowledge of Christ and his ministry. It also seems they were making some profession of following the Lord. With that in mind, most of us can place ourselves into this setting as it pertains to our day.

However, a mere knowledge of truth is not sufficient; the devil is better versed in the Word than any of us, but that will only make him more guilty in his rebellion. The key ingredient in the parable is the oil, that, when lighted, pushes back the darkness. And when used in this framework, oil in the Bible refers to the Holy Spirit and his ministry for us.

All of the bridesmaids had oil in their lamps, and all who have looked to Christ spiritually have received of the Holy Spirit. However, while five had enough oil to see them through until the Bridegroom appeared, five did not. That proved fatal.

"Those who endure to the end will be saved." Matt. 10:22.

The horrifying words of Christ directed to the bridesmaids who were shut out of the wedding feast were "I don't know you." It wasn't a matter of not having sufficient head knowledge about spiritual matters. Nor was the problem that the foolish bridesmaids hadn't stored up enough good deeds. True Christianity is a matter of relationship. The foolish lost out because they had not sought, found, and retained a true intimacy with the Bridegroom.

And how do we seek, find, and retain such intimacy? Through the oil. The only agency chosen by God to minister this kind of relationship is the Holy Spirit. I find this rather frightening, as some Christians seem to have a certain wariness about the Spirit. It's as though perhaps it is enough simply to know that he is the third Person of the Godhead, without a significant interchange.

AWAITING THE BRIDEGROOM

I suppose this parable has a special meaning for me since I once officiated at an Asian wedding where, along with the bride and the bridesmaids, I awaited the appearance of the bridegroom. He finally arrived with a lot of music and fanfare, and I was a bit nonplussed to find he was the one wearing the veil! Then all who wanted went into the house for the ceremony. I don't recall whether we shut the door or not.

In any case, we knew the day and hour of the bridegroom's arrival, so we were all ready and waiting. In the parable those anticipating the event did not know either the day or the hour, and were taken by surprise. In the story it seemed there was a delay in the Bridegrooms appearance. And when he did come it was at midnight.

It seems to me that the human race is sinking deeper and deeper into a darkness of evil, a veritable midnight. Perhaps that should be a clue to our own position.

SLEEPING AT THE CRISIS HOUR

The bridesmaids weren't expecting the Bridegroom to show up in the middle of the night, and all ten of them were caught off guard. Even those who were "wise."

"When the bridegroom was delayed, they all lay down and slept." Matt.25:5.

But note what brought them up out of their sleep.
"At midnight they were roused by the shout, 'Look, the bridegroom is coming! Come out and welcome him!'" Vs. 6.

Although we are not told just who, obviously someone was awake to announce the bridegroom's coming! I would like to suggest two things:

1. Today, as the parable suggests, most Christians are in a state of lethargy--and some are sound asleep.

2. But not all. Throughout post-Pentecost history God has always had a few faithful ones in each generation who stayed awake, understanding the times and the seasons. There have always been some watchmen on the walls.

So there must be some today who realize how close we are to the final crisis and the actual appearance of the Bridegroom. Some of them are modern-day prophets, but one does not have to be a prophet to have a measure of understanding about current events in the light of the Word.

Whoever was awake in the parable wasn't one chosen by God to stay awake, but one who herself chose to be awake! It's an option for any Christian today. The devil cannot keep you in a deep sleep if, with the help of the Holy Sprit, you choose to stay spiritually awake. You, my friend, can, if you wish, be a wise "wise bridesmaid."

With all that is transpiring in the world just now, it is perhaps difficult to see this period as a lull. But compared to what lies ahead, it is just that. This is no time for fear, but a time to fully clothed with the amour of God and ready to move at his command.

"So stay awake and be prepared." Vs. 13.

Walk Like A Man

Danny Korakas

Dec 11, 2004

Children's children (grandchildren) are the crown of old men, And the glory of children is their father. (Proverbs 17:6)

We know from Scripture that we are all called to be "priests." Men have a detailed and specific calling to be the priest of their home. A priest is one who ministers to God and humanity by the sacrifice they offer through Jesus Christ. To qualify as a priest of the Most High God, we must be willing to offer ourselves as a living sacrifice.

I believe that many men have received the revelation of their calling as a priest to their home. However, I believe that the Lord is calling forth men to be the "PROPHET" of their home as well. The priest of a family will REPRESENT his family to God. On the other hand, the prophetic husband and father REPRESENTS God to his family. It is important to remember that the prophet is not authorized by the WORDS he speaks as much as by the integrity and example he represents and lives.

FATHERS REPRESENTING GOD BY EXAMPLE

As I stated earlier, the prophetic father represents the attributes of God to his family by the life he lives. As much as a father may represent God to his family, he can also "misrepresent" God to his family. If a father is STRONG in love, touch, and compassion, he paints a tangible picture for a child to view the love, touch and compassion of God. Likewise, a father can very easily paint a portrait of God in the mind of a child as being critical, angry, and judgmental. The disposition of a natural and spiritual father will naturally be representative of how a child views their heavenly FATHER.

The story of Isaac and Ishmael is a picture of the tremendous benefits of being ACCEPTED and loved by a father. The Bible says that the birth of a people called by God's name would come through a "father's" blessing given to Isaac. (See Hebrews 11:18 & Genesis 21:12) Ishmael, on the other hand, experienced REJECTION when he was forced to leave with his mother, Hagar. This would forever scar the life of Ishmael. I believe, and scripture confirms, that Ishmael's destiny was one of favor and blessing. However, because there wasn't a natural and spiritual father to paint a picture of God's LOVE and to invest time in this young man's life, Ishmael fell into the insecurity and deceptions that are produced from the pain of rejection. We do not have a record of a father-figure or Ishmael seeking the Lord for healing and restoration; we only see that his "mother" had to gave him away in marriage.(See Genesis 21:21) Consequently, we can clearly see the fruit of unhealed rejection moving from generation to generation as a curse throughout Ishmael's descendants. Unhealed rejection without the healing touch and affirmation of God is strong enough to move from one generation to another through the power of "example."

This truth becomes vividly stark and manifests itself in the Muslim's view of their "god" as a distant, judgmental and critical deity rather than personal, loving and compassionate. The result is oppression, VIOLENCE and control, which provides a warped sense of security in a truly insecure state. The corporate insecurity of Islam surfaces in its unwillingness to expose its adherents to the love of God through Jesus Christ. The greater the rejection, the greater the effects of isolation and insulation.

It has been proven through numerous studies that approximately 80% of children will grow up copying the dominate traits of their parents (both good and bad). Although a child who is abused or neglected may say or think to themselves that they would never do that to a child when "they grow up," without the love and acceptance of God, they tragically find themselves exhibiting the same behavior traits toward their children in many areas and circumstances. We see this as well in alcoholic, violent, addictive and co-dependant behaviors. Children have a built-in desire to love and emulate their parents. Even when abused, mistreated and rejected, they still have the capacity to love and LEARN from their parents. Again, both for the good and bad. (Do we represent the fruit of God's Spirit to our children or do we represent our past hurts and insecurities ... or the fruit of the flesh? This understanding must be seriously taken into account in the EXAMPLE we represent to our children.

The greatest gift and example that the PROPHETIC FATHER can give is LOVE. When tender and compassionate love is lacking in a child's life, the result is the pain of rejection. This leads to a sense of worthlessness and a feeling that they can never "measure up" to the expectations of others. The sad thing about rejection in a child is that this "disease" is slow, lethal and seldom diagnosed until "internal" damage has already been done. And as we have stated in another article: The pain of unhealed rejection will always seek PLEASURE to relieve or comfort itself. Again, we see this manifested in Islamic beliefs of heaven and a god who rewards with sensual pleasure.

The Lord said that a day would come when the hearts of the fathers would be turned once again to their children. I find this promise to be very encouraging in an age with fatherlessness and rampant divorce. Just because a "house" has two parents in it does not make it a "home." I believe that much of the problem in so-called "two-parent" homes is not so much that fathers do not love their children as much as they don't know how to show their love or the love of God by example to their children. Love that is only a feeling, but not demonstrated, is not love to a child. Inconsistent expressions and demonstrations of love toward our children produces confusion, distrust, and rebellious attitudes to gain any type of CONSISTANT attention.

The Prophet in today's church is a spiritual father in representing God to His people. I have read many articles stating how others believe the behavioral make-up of a prophet or prophetic person should be. I have been amused to find that not one has mentioned LOVE as a prophet's primary quality. (There may be some out there. However, I have not read any.) I believe this stems from a deep seated deception of how "strong" men are to portray themselves. This stereotype and paradigm is about to be shattered by a generation of prophetic people who will walk in the strength and demonstration of God's love. They will exercise compassion and DISCIPLINE with maturity and care. They will arise to be the spiritual fathers the church so desperately needs.

FATHERS REPRESENTING GOD AS PROPHETIC TEACHERS

Prophetic fathers are those who place a premium on raising their children according to God's Word along with TEACHING them God's Word. Remember, the Bible states that the WORD (Jesus) is the spirit of prophecy. The primary communication language of the prophetic father is proclaiming and teaching the heart of God. The anointing of the prophet is the fragrance of the Lord's PRESENCE. Without intimacy with the Father, we fail to hear and know what the Lord is speaking to us. We can only give what we truly have to our children. A good example would be the healthy submission and obedience of our children that we all desire. However, as a father, it is rare that we will experience the submission and obedience we desire from our children unless we are submitted and obedient to Christ ourselves. (HYPOCRISY cannot be hidden within a family. Hypocrisy is the enemy to the spiritual growth and development of our children and young people.) Submission and obedience to Christ's authority empowers us as men with godly authority that flows down to the rest of the family.

This is the essence of all prophetic authority. Moving in fleshly authority will demonstrate itself in unhealthy frustration, anger, shouting and stomping of feet. However, it will lack the genuine authority that comes from the presence of God to lead our families.

In ministering at many men's retreats, I have found that many, if not most, Christian men fail to pray with their wives. As I stated earlier, the greatest teacher to our children is the life they observe us living. Children that experience a healthy prayer life between the husband and wife will develop a dynamic and healthy prayer life at a very young age that will carry them through the struggles of adolescence. The manifestation of our young people sitting on the back row and their lack of spiritual depth is primarily the fault of men who fail to be a prophetic signpost and teacher to them. We have got to realize that traditional church is not going to produce and grow on-fire kids. Religion to a kid is an occasion to put on a "religious outfit and face", go home, take it off and hang it in the closet until the next Sunday. Church fellowship is only an extension of the relationship with Christ that is instilled by the head of the home the other six days.

"Therefore you shall lay up these words of mine in your heart and in your soul, and bind them as a SIGN on your hand, and they shall be as frontlets between your eyes. You shall teach them to your CHILDREN, speaking of them when you sit in your house, when you walk by the way, when you lie down, and when you rise up. And you shall write them on the doorposts of your house and on your gates, that your days and the days of your children may be multiplied." (Deuteronomy 11:18-21)

In the above verse, the words in the Hebraic language are all masculine in nature. This is a word of wisdom given by Moses to all fathers in how they should conduct their home-life. As I write this, I am writing out of tremendous conviction in the hope that I will heed these words from the Holy Spirit. I realize that this word is first and foremost for me — for I certainly have a long way to go. I pray that Father would give me the grace, love, and discipline to be the prophetic teacher my children so much deserve. When fathers instill the value of reading the Bible and praying together as a family, the prophetic signpost of Christ's love for the church becomes a real and visible picture to the unsaved and lost.

FATHERS REPRESENTING GOD AS COMMUNICATORS

One of the greatest complaints of young people is that their parents do not LISTEN to them. Did you know that the greatest form of communication is listening? Just as our relationship with other people is a reflection of our relationship with God, so is our listening to others a reflection of our willingness to truly listen to God. The accuracy and anointing of the prophetic voice hinge upon our time of listening to God.

There has been a great deal prophesied as of late for leadership in the church to encourage the body of Christ to EXPRESS themselves and provide them a platform of ministry and purpose. Likewise, it is imperative that we provide a platform for our children to express and communicate with the freedom to discuss their problems and issues. The key is not to become overtly "religious" in our response. I learned when my daughter was 18 years old that this approach did not work very well! Why? Because she wanted somebody who would just listen and try to identify with the emotions and issues of a young lady establishing her identity.

Sadly, we see the same approach in church ministry. "Spiritual fathers" would rather have an answer for everything and create a religious environment instead of just being real and encouraging the freedom to express. I believe that just communicating about everyday life and taking TIME as a father to truly listen to our children will foster an environment and a desire for our children to LISTEN and communicate with God.

PROPHETIC GRANDPARENTS

The Bible says that a child is the "crown" of a grandparent. For many reading this, your "direct" parenting days are over. I imagine that many like me wish we could somehow bring back time and start over with our older and grown children. Beloved, it is never too late to be a godly and "prophetic" parent that represents God's love. There is no condemnation in Christ Jesus and He has promised to even turn our bad or even "absent" times into good if we will trust and obey Him. I believe that this will be a defining week in my life. When the Lord began ministering this word to me to share with you, I realized that God in His love was desirous to heal and restore many things in my life in order to be the father that He would have me to be. His ultimate desire and my utmost calling, is to be a priest and prophet to my dear wife and children — to truly represent Him in a personal and relevant way.

The beauty and privilege of being a grandparent is that it allows a person a second chance in ministering the love and ways of God to their future heritage and namesake. Grandparents have the opportunity to break the bonds of rejection and generational curses that have hindered families from the abundant life that Christ has offered. I am certain that 2005 will be a year in which grandparents walk in an increased anointing and awareness of their calling to our youngest generation. We have suffered as a nation in our spiritual depth and maturity because we have neglected and shelved the WISDOM of our elder men and women. This is about to change. Once again, the youth of the nations will sit at the feet of their grandparents and glean from a lifetime of knowledge and understanding in the blink of an eye. Yes, the grandfather will dream dreams. Their dreams will be the dreams and visions of a generation that will welcome back our Lord and King.

We Must Not Fear

Robert Ricciardelli

We Must Not Fear ,
But We Must Be Obedient!
Dear Brethren,

I am praying like all of you for God's will to be accomplished through this years presidential election. I must make one thing clear, I do not fear if Kerry wins. I actually am more concerned that individually each of us would rise up to the full measure of the authority of Jesus Christ in our lives, that we would raise disciples and through the power of the Holy Spirit, begin to transform our communities. We will impact the local communities with godly leadership and servant hood into all spheres of the community. We will also impact regions and state government and finally as we move to a godly society, we will be able to break through the two party system and demand a one party system called "Kingdom".

Through transformation we can rightfully claim this to be a truly Christian country who unashamedly calls on the name of the Lord. You see, God works from seed to harvest. Even if we had a godly choice at the top, it does not necessarily flow to the people. Just like a godly pastor does not equate into a godly congregation with all members effecting the kingdom. But a godly people set a part will demand in the name of Jesus Christ for the righteous to rule.

I pray for God's people to choose the road of humility and obedience, but we may need even more of a shaking in this nation for even the people of God to rise up. I trust the Lord to know what He is doing to wake up His children. I will be a good steward of my vote and choose the lesser of two evils as some may say, or the man who upholds the closest to what we desire in a kingdom personality and that would be George Bush.

Joyce and I spent the weekend with Pastor Jackson Senyonga of Uganda. He has a church of 40,000 and is one of the spiritual leaders of his entire country and recently led nearly a million Ugandans in 8 stadiums for a day of prayer. They also began to pray for nearly 30 minutes for the USA as we have partnered with them over the years with resources and many spiritual blessings. I was able to see the video as Pastor Jackson led the nation in prophetic prayer for America. It was powerful and overwhelming and the Lord said our days of revival are much closer than the spiritual climate currently presents.

We must reach desperation to move the heart of God and for God to respond. If you look through the history of His people, it was only in desperation and a cry out to the Father that moved Him to action. Father knows that when we come to desperation and hopelessness on our own efforts, He can get all the glory!

When the people of Uganda cried out to God after the brutalization under demonically influenced Idi Amin and Milton Obote, God answered. It was in the pressure of survival that the remnant cried out as a nation to the one true God. Then the power of God came down in signs and wonders as they cried out to Him. They now are recognized as the most transformed nation in the world to the glory of God. Here it is, since 1987 until today, in just 17 years.

1. They went from under 1% Christianity to nearly 40% Christians. These are, "Jesus is everything" type of Christians, like the Barna predicted 8% we have in this country.

2. Aids has gone from over 35% to under 5% since that time as a new morality through the power of transformed lives in Jesus Christ has taken place.

3. The President and first lady have dedicated the whole nation to the Lordship of Jesus Christ for the next 1000 years. When the godly rule the people rejoice. (Proverbs 29:2)

4. Production from the soil of the land is producing a harvest beyond anything they have ever seen. Vegetables and fruits larger and in more abundance and only almighty God can get the glory in that as well.

5. They have unity in the land as now within one week through the radio they can fill stadiums with pastors and leaders from every region as denominational walls have continued to be demolished in the love of Jesus Christ for one another.

6. The spiritual climate has changed and witch doctors have lost their power and most of their clients, so they are either accepting Jesus Christ or leaving the country to find new employment.... Praise God.

7. Nightmares have now in abundance been replaced with visions and dreams from heaven. Islamic peoples are getting dreams of churches they must visit and as they visit the church they see for the first time the pastor they saw in their dream. This leads to repentance as the power of God pierces the darkness of their hearts.

8. In Pastor Jackson's church alone they have 15-20 Muslims come to Jesus Christ each week.

9. Fathers are now learning to lead their families. Communities are being transformed and yet still there is much work to do, many orphans and economic conditions still need prayer and support.

10. The leaders believe that within the next 20 years the country can grow to possibly 90% born again, ready to fight and ready to die warriors for Jesus Christ.

This can happen even in the United States, but it will take a united effort of God's remnant to sacrifice and bring the fire of God down to the rest of His people that will ignite a revival that will transform this country. Finally, one of the strong messages from their prayer time a few weeks back, was that God was not just experimenting with Uganda. That the same thing He has done and is doing in Uganda and other places and times, He desires to do in America. America, we must not fear, but believe. America we must not walk defeated but rise up in Jesus name no matter what the climate or circumstances are. We must rush towards obedience in every jurisdiction including the political realm.

So vote according to how the Spirit of the Lord leads. I will try not to be presumptuous, but I cannot see how a God fearing Christian can vote any other way then for George Bush. And we must pray and we must vote, but we will not fear for the purposes of God will be fulfilled. We must do our part in our obedience to His purpose for each of us. We must sacrifice for the fire of God to come down such as the sacrifice that fell for Elijah in a time of real pressure for the prophets of God. If we do our part, then our Father will do only which He can do, and it will be radical. Then we will begin to see souls transformed for the kingdom. We must do our part to populate heaven and de-populate hell for the glory of God in Jesus name! We must believe the God of heaven and earth can transform our nation and we must believe it can begin to happen now as we rise up in our destiny!

Psalm 20:7
Some trust in chariots, and some in horses; But we will trust the name of the LORD our God.

Moving Towards Breakthrough and Maturity
Robert Ricciardelli

I am more interested in the process of life under the Lordship and intimacy of relationship with Jesus Christ, rather than the past, present or future of circumstance, happenstance, best chance, or last chance. The enemy is on the prowl to keep us bound under the spirit of limitation and restriction. Limitations keep us bound from God's destiny through us and restrict fulfillment of his purposes for our life. We may be able to move about freely, but where are we really going, and what are we really growing towards? We must be seeking Christ likeness and the maturity of Christ being formed in us to live our lives as over-comers in His kingdom and for His kingdom.

We need to understand that there is a major objective for each of us, and that is for Christ to be formed in us, and for "us" to be progressively moved out of the way. As we become less and less a part of life's equation, Christ becomes magnified through us and has His way in and through our lives. Sometimes it seems as though we are moving from point A to point B and then back to A again, but never really getting to point C. Like a hamster on the wheel, this is the devil's ploy to keep us in motion, but really not getting anywhere. As we try to move towards the deeper things in God, we often get hit with road blocks and detours to the promised land of destiny. We get discouraged rather than encouraged of the process necessary many times for preparation on to the next level in Christ. As we mature and begin to have understanding into the way the Father works in us, we then can begin to truly have peace and joy in the midst of adversity and trials of all kinds.

Story of the Wheat and Weeds
Matthew 13:24-30
[24]Here is another story Jesus told: "The Kingdom of Heaven is like a farmer who planted good seed in his field. [25]But that night as everyone slept, his enemy came and planted weeds among the wheat. [26]When the crop began to grow and produce grain, the weeds also grew. [27]The farmer's servants came and told him, `Sir, the field where you planted that good seed is full of weeds!
[28]"An enemy has done it!" the farmer exclaimed.
"Shall we pull out the weeds?" they asked.
[29]"He replied, No, you'll hurt the wheat if you do. [30]Let both grow together until the harvest. Then I will tell the harvesters to sort out the weeds and burn them and to put the wheat in the barn."

So we are the wheat and as we continue towards maturity, we also will have weeds all around us growing along with us. So do not be discouraged with the weeds of trials and tribulations in this life, they are supposed to grow up with us. In fact, they help us grow up in maturity by reminding us that we are the wheat needing the nurturing of the Son. We are the manifest children of God and the weeds prepare the way for us to rise above, not in ourselves, but in He that rose before us.

We do not need to worry about the weeds; all we have to be concerned about is who we truly are in the harvest, which are the sons and daughters of the living God. If we become consumed about the weeds of life, we may forget about who we are as Fathers children, ever growing and turning toward the Son. As we turn to the "Lover of our soul", we begin to be so focused on Him and so in tuned to listen to only His voice, that the weeds begin to be less significant in the tapestry of our purpose. When we get this revelation, we then can begin to have peace and joy in the midst of our enemy…

Psalm 23:5
You prepare a feast for me in the presence of my enemies.
You welcome me as a guest, anointing my head with oil.
My cup overflows with blessings.

Do your hear that! Hallelujah! He prepares a table and gives us all we need "His presence", in the midst of the weeds of life, in the midst of the enemy. The enemy is a defeated foe, he can only win temporarily, when we believe his lies and deceit. Satan and his troops in many ways were left to roam this world until an appointed time to prepare His bride. When we realize the enemy only has as much jurisdiction as the Lord has allowed, we can also know that the Father will supply every resource needed for His children to flourish. Then we will see victories over many of the disappointments we consistently face. If we did not have the weeds of adversity, we may never seek the Son in the way He desires. We must begin to move towards break through and maturity by keeping our eyes on Him and not on circumstances. The last time I checked, the people of God in Jesus Christ win. May we all be wise and win in the midst of adversity!

We Must Seek His Face

Judy Bauman

On April 8, 2002, I had a dream that I believe I am to share at this time. I dreamt that I was a missionary with three other women in a third world country. We planned to be there for some time as we had rented a place close to where we were to minister. The dwelling was connected to others like it, they were fenced in and were very run-down. As I left to meet someone for a job interview at a local cafe, I saw there were sheets and clothing hanging above the street drying. The clothes were old and dull in color, but one sheet was light blue. When I came into the cafe I noticed a puddle of fetid water on the floor. I went out to the alley where earlier I had seen a mop and brought it in to clean up the mess. There was no bucket so I took the mop back out to the alley to wring it out.

A frail, old man came up to me in the dark alley. It was now night. He was not threatening looking and seemed glad to find me. There, alone in the alley, he looked at me with resolve and spoke these words, “My life’s work is about to be confirmed.” Then he slumped over to his left side and he looked like he was about to die. I moved toward him to see if he was alright, but also to hear what was about to be confirmed. He looked straight at me and sternly proclaimed, “We must seek His face!” Then he reached toward me, took my hands and put them on either side of his cheeks so that his face was cradled in my hands. He continued to look intently at me. As I held his face he asked, “Where is my face?” I answered, “It is on your head.” He said, “Where is my head?” I replied, “It is on your body.” Then he firmly stated, “Remember this!”

He was still looking at me intensely with his face still in my hands when suddenly his eyes turned into lion’s eyes! Then his face turned into a male lion’s face! Everything faded from view and all I could see was the lion’s eyes and face. At first I was startled, but then I realized that he was not the lion that seeks to devour, but rather the Lion of the Tribe of Judah! Slowly the lion’s face faded, but the lion's eyes remained and stared directly into mine. I woke up, and in the dark of the night, I could still vividly see the golden lion eyes. (This stayed with me for weeks, and even now whenever I testify of this dream.) Then the Holy Spirit said, “Get up and write this down.” I tried to lie there and convince Him I would be able to remember it. The Holy Spirit again told me to, “Get up and write it down.” So I got up and wrote down this dream. (Hab. 2:2)

Interpretation:

The Location and Components:

The first part of the dream seems to be not as important as the later part, but these types of 'missionary' dreams are usually the most prophetic for me. Since the colorful laundry hanging above the street stood out, especially the blue sheet, it's significance seems to confirm revelation. Three women may be symbolic of Christ's 'inner circle' of friends, and third world countries eat at my heart. Dwellings close together and fenced denotes close community and safety in numbers and that we were to live with the commoners. A cafe is a familiar place to me as my parents owned a cafe, hotel and restaurant. A job interview: see 2 These 3:7-10. To work and live with those we came to minister seems to point that we were to become like the people there. See Acts 18:3, 4. We would have a greater chance to win them to Christ if we lived in the same manner as they did. See 1 Co 19:19-23. The fetid water I believe to be a symbolic of a lack of excellence in the world (just accepting a mess and letting it spoil rather than taking action to clean it). Not having a bucket seems to point to not always having all the tools needed to clean up a mess. An alley is a place where I spent a great deal of my childhood in exploration. Although it's a place to be cautious, for me it's a place of discovery. An old man, for the most part, is someone I respect and think of as being wise.

The Old Man

The old man looked similar to the older of 'the two witnesses' in the TBN movie, The Omega Code, and spoke (in English) with that same unusual accent. Symbolic of the 'witness' of the church as it exists today, the old man had refined the most important truth he learned into one final statement. I detected a hint of regret in his voice as he spoke, yet he was determined to make sure I understood. I had the impression that he was an old pastor who had served the Lord for years, but didn't fully understand this simple but profound truth until the very end of his life. He may have gotten so busy doing the work of the Lord, that he did not spend time developing a personal relationship with Christ Jesus. Because it seemed like God had specifically shown him to share this revelation with me - this has given me a great sense of responsibility to clearly convey this message.

I believe that the physical condition of his body represents that the 'old way' of doing things in the church is dying. The admonition given to us by the church now passing is: "WE MUST SEEK HIS FACE!" If we hold dear this charge, this new emerging church will be known around the world by the intimacy it shares with the Father, the Bridegroom our Lord Jesus Christ, and His Holy Spirit. We must take 'seeking His face' deeply into our hearts, and hold to it.

By having me place my hands on his face, I believe, the old man was physically illustrating the importance for us to hold onto what he was saying. We are to seek God's face in such a manner that we will hold on and not let go even when it looks scary. We have to learn to recognize and discern the Lord in all situations. When the lion's eyes and face appeared I felt a natural fear, but it immediately went away when I recognized the face to be that of the Lion of the Tribe of Judah ~ that being Jesus the Christ. In this dream, I believe I was representative of believers who are willing to hear the revelation of an old and dying generation, and to pass it to the next - like a runner passing a baton in a relay race. It is very important to receive impartation from the passing generation before it is too late.

THE ORDER:

The order of his questions is significant. First he asked me about the location of his face, and then where the head was found. To get to the face I had to find the Head, to find the Head I had to first find the Body. One reason I have held this dream so long was that the Lord instructed me to, "Go to the Body of Christ and ask what it means to them personally when they hear, 'We must seek His face.'" So, I inquired of many spirit-filled believers and I have now compiled the insights I received which witnessed to my spirit into this interpretation.

SEEK MY FACE:

Scriptures make it clear we are to seek God's face. See 1 Chron 16:11; 2 Chron 7:14; Ps 105:4; Hosea 5:15

First, we seek the Lord because His love draws us to Himself. As we come closer to Him, the more we love him in return. 1 John 4:19. In seeking God's face we are hoping to receive God's perspective in everything we see and do. When we seek His face, our face is turned towards Him. Since our face is the center of communication, when we look to Jesus He sees our expressions and can tell whether we are listening to Him and accepting what He is saying, or if we are rejecting Him. As intimacy develops with someone we love, we share our dreams, visions, goals and private thoughts with them. As we seek His face, we learn about His feelings, thoughts and emotions. We learn who Jesus is in truth. We learn things like what brings Him joy and what brings Him sorrow. He longs for the desires of His heart to become the desires of our heart. He does not want us to come to Him seeking His hand but for us to come seeking His face - that is to say - His desires. The Lord wants to have a private audience with each of us. The Holy Spirit is drawing us to seek Christ's face so we see His full expression and have open and honest communication with Him. He wants us to be intimate with Him in this way. When we are facing each other, God will reveal the mysteries of the kingdom to our hearts.

Isn't it interesting that when we confront something, we have to 'face' it. As I looked into the mirror one morning, I seemed to see something different. I asked the Lord what He was showing me and that is when I realized that we can see, hear, taste, smell and touch all within our face. Not only are all five senses located in our face, but it is the center of communication as well. Our words (inflection and tone) come from our mouth and facial expressions can be read when we talk face-to-face. We gain greater understanding when we look at a person and study their face as they speak to us. God's word, the Bible, is like a mirror. He reflects Himself in it and when we read it we become aware of what we are reflecting. When we do not reflect Jesus, then we are to repent (face it) and yield ourselves to be polished into that true reflection. When we become models of Christ, then we share the Father's love for children, the elderly, family members, friends, neighbors and even for our enemies. We then want His will for the world around us. That is when His glory has risen upon us! See Is 60:1-5 It is not about seeking the blessings of God's hand, but about developing a personal and intimate relationship with Jesus. See Matt 6:33

THE HEAD:

The head has two significant parts that I thought about in the dream as the old man was speaking to me. The first is that Christ is the Head of the Church, and second the husband is the head of his wife. See Eph. 5:23. We must honor Christ as the Head of the church. May no man take Jesus' place as Head, or they will in essence be placing 'the hand', which is what the church refers to as 'the five fold ministry,' and obscuring the face of God. To illustrate this stand in front of a mirror and take your hand and place it in front of your face. Now look and see how much of your face can be seen. Christ is the Head of the Body! May the 'hand' do its duty to serve the Lord by grooming the Head and The Body's many parts. See 1 Co 12; Romans 12:4-10; Eph 4:11-13; Rev 3:22. In the second part, God is offering protection for wives through their husbands. May the husbands also find protection in following God's directive for marriage. See Eph 5:21-33.

THE BODY:

The Body is the individuals who believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God, that He was born of a virgin, was crucified, died, was buried and on the third day He was resurrected. Those who believe in Him and have called upon His name are born anew into the Body of Christ and make up The Church. Each member is part of the Body of Christ, and is in effect, a soldier, an ambassador of Jesus Christ, a temple of the Holy Spirit and the emerging Bride of Christ. See 2 Tim 2:3; 1 Co 6:19; 2 Co 5:20; Rev 19:7-9.

THE LION'S EYES AND FACE:

The eyes of a lion are so penetrating. The closer you get to a lion when it looks straight into your eyes, the more deeply terrifying it becomes. In the dream, terror was my initial reaction, especially since its face was in my hands, but I quickly recognized it was Jesus' eyes piercing my soul. See Heb 4:13; Rev 1:14; 1 Co 3:9-16. Because of His great love for me as a believer the fear passed through me (John 3:16). As His face disappeared and His eyes remained, I believe God was showing me that His eyes continually seek those who worship Him in spirit and in truth (as opposed to those who worship in flesh and emotion). In effect, the Lord is seeking our face too. God is seeking the seeker. See John 4:23 and Jeremiah 29:12-14.

CONCLUSION: WORSHIP IS KEY

When seeking God's face, we must worship Him with no strings, plans, or our own personal agendas attached. Even those things that God has promised us must be put on the altar and willingly sacrificed. We do not want to be found guilty of honoring the Lord with our lips when our hearts are far from Him. See Mark 7:6. If anything is lifted up in our hearts as we worship then we must fervently seek to illuminate those things from coming between us and our Lord. Heartfelt praise and worship are keys to seeking God (as are prayer and fasting). We must focus upon His countenance as He inhabits and is enthroned in our praises. There is so much written in the Scriptures on praise and worship the list of references would be overwhelming, but to start - meditate on Psalms 22:3; 9:9-11; 61:7, 8; 107:19-22, 31, 32, 43 and see where the Lord leads you from there. It is a great study for all believers. As we praise Him, He dwells in our midst, and that is when we will see His face. When we see His face then we must listen and pay close attention to what He is saying to us.

The Lord is coming soon and when He sees us face to face He will be asking each of us, "Who do you say I Am?"

Church, WE MUST SEEK HIS FACE!

Note: Four months after I had this dream the Lord put a book into my hands written by Dr. Dale A. Fife, The Secret Place; Passionately Pursuing His Presence. I would highly recommend your reading it. If you are serious about seeking God's face, it will bring fullness to your search. It is important to look up each Scripture reference (both in his book and in this writing). Even if you are sure you know it, the Holy Spirit will reveal volumes of His manifold wisdom to you if you will. God bless you in your search.

Going Out On A Limb

Judy Bauman

In this vision I had in 1997, I saw a large oak tree and the Lord told me to climb it. I climbed up and sat on the first big limb. Then He told me, “Go out to the end of the limb.”

I scooted out until I knew the limb couldn’t hold my weight and stopped. The Lord said again, “Go out to the end of the limb.”

I scooted out a little more, but I knew in my mind that there was no way that I could go any further without the limb breaking. Though I was on the bottom limb, it was a pretty long way down, so I stopped.

Again the Lord spoke to me, “Go out to the end of the limb.”

I protested and told Him that there was no way that branch, which was as small as my pinkie finger, was going to hold me up.

He said, “If I have called you to go out on a limb, then I will hold it up. Just then I saw the tree and me in it as though I was watching the whole thing from afar. When he said, “I will hold it up’ I could see a huge angel underneath the branch holding it up!
The Lord further cautioned me that I was not to go out on just any limb, only the ones He called me out onto, because those He would not be supporting.

What Now?

I believe that while reading the Word last Friday, the Lord showed me that President Bush will be reelected. I consider that a miracle, & a huge answer to the prayers of many Christians around the world. If I am wrong, then we are indeed in for very severe judgment indeed.

If President Bush does gain a 2nd term, I believe that this also signals that the Lord has prevented a much, much greater judgment upon us than most understand. My feeling is that this would be due much to His mercy on the rest of the world, which would suffer much at the hand of the enemy also, before his time to rule, allotted by God.

The tendency of some will be to relax, thinking, "We won." or "We got what we wanted."

I believe however, that the enemy will become stirred up even more & allowed by God to disrupt our lives -- to bring the Church to its senses & to open up to revival -- in the way He is bringing it. Also since judgment is designed to bring people to God, many lost will start searching for the Truth as never before.

For some time now, there have been warnings that terrorists have nuclear weapons here in the US. Several months ago, I had a dream of great destruction in 2 US cities -- the one I was born in, & the one I live in now (Los Angeles & Dallas).

Several months before that, by Divine appointment while flying to Pennsylvania, I was seated next to a minister I had never met or heard of from the Washington, DC area. He described two dreams to me -- one he had before 9-11, which he only understood after the fact, & a similar one more recently. In the last one, he interpreted it as meaning that the next terrorist attack would be on both coasts & in the middle of the country simultaneously. How much may, or might have been prevented by prayer, I do not know.

But I do believe the next attack, whatever form it comes in, is likely before Thanksgiving. I hope & pray for mercy & people to awaken without the enemy getting his way in this, but sometimes only drastic measures will get God's points across to those dull of hearing & satisfied in their own circumstances.

Words To Encourage You

Yolanda Ballard

Come before Me, My little ones, and bask in My presence for I long to pour out My glory upon you and prepare you for what I AM going to do in the near future. For the enemy has been coming on like a flood trying to hinder you from coming before Me, but you are called My overcoming army and you have prevailed the onslaught of the enemy, and once again you are able to hear My voice. I reward those who diligently seek My face. Even though the heavens may appear as brass, you continue to come before Me. And now I AM ready to pour out My glory and fill you to overflowing with My spirit of grace and truth. You cannot walk righteously unless you have the balance of the both.

Have you not known that the great reward of your faith is peace, My glory, and joy unspeakable? My kingdom does not consist of meat or drink but of the following factors: a faith that overcomes no matter what comes before it, peace that passes all understanding, and a pure joy which is your strength, and above all, love which is the perfect bond that holds it all together. Love Me with all your heart and love your neighbor as yourself. Yes, love the brethren, not by appearance only but from a pure heart.

For this is the time to truly examine your heart to see if you are walking in all My ways. You need to make sure you don't have any open door in which the enemy may enter. Make amends with your enemy by blessing him and most of all, forgive those who have come before you with a heart of repentance, and those who have not, pray for My mercy to fall on them that they will come to repentance.

Be strong, be bold, for the Lord thy God is with you. Do not take heed to the lies of the evil one and fear his reports. Stand only on My word. Yes, do not take thought to any lie he tries to ensnare you with. Do not pay attention to your emotions for they are based on lying circumstances. Stay close to My side and feed on My words alone, and let Me renew your mind and heal your wounded heart. Yes, I have come to make you strong once again. And rejoice for I AM a faithful God, and I AM in control of all that you've been going through. Yes, rejoice, for what the enemy has meant for harm is working for your good. Yes, all things work together for your good because you are Mine.

I come to bless you and honor you and give you favor. Expect My words to operate in your life for I promised you the abundant life full of My grace and glory. I wish that you may prosper and be in health as your soul prospers should be your prayer for all the saints just as My apostle prayed. Yes, that is My will and expect not less than the best that I have to offer.

Yes, the enemy has set out to hinder you, but you have prevailed to seek My light, and I have come to meet your heart's desire to know Me more intimately. Draw close to Me and wait upon Me. Be still and know that I AM God. Do not fear the evil report. Respond only to the Truth for I know who My favored ones are. Yes, I know My people, and I will keep them safe in the evil day when the enemy comes to try to defeat you.

For the fire only comes to purify you and to bring all the impurities to the surface. I AM not finished with you for I AM comforting you into My image, and when I AM finished with all of you as one, My glory will blind the evil one, and his plans will be confused. So draw close to Me.

Deep is calling unto deep. I AM ready to travail through you if you make yourself available. Believe and you will receive My awesome outcry for the lost for I love them so and gave My life that they would be saved from the wrath to come.

Be sensitive to My leading. Die out to your flesh and walk in My power, and I will bless you beyond measure. Yes, you will be greatly rewarded for your faithfulness to loving not your life unto death. May your confession be bold, tempered with My grace, and My truth ever lead you for I AM your God.

Out of the hearts of babes comes praise. Be sensitive to My leading you close to where My glory falls, and it is upon the hearts of My little ones. In order to enter My kingdom you must be like children who have pure hearts. I will move mightily through My children. Yes, the youth I will pour a powerful anointing upon and yes, signs and wonders will follow their steps, and an awesome revival will follow the outpouring of My glory upon the youth.

So, I call you to unite as one, the fathers and the sons, the mothers and the daughters, and worship Me, and expect a great move of My Spirit, for I AM faithful.

Repentance And Restoration

(LionOfJudah1920@wmconnect.com)

Escape from the clutch of the evil one, and I will lift you up, for many find themselves in a place that they have not been before, and they do not know how to get out of it. But I AM calling you to escape from the clutch of the evil one and run towards Me, and I will set you free from the giants of your life. Yes, many have been in the midst of insurmountable tragedies in their lives. It seems like one mountain of troubles after another, a never-ending trial effecting every area of their life. But it may seem that I have left you fatherless, but the fact is the other way around. You have pulled away from your first love and have found yourself deep in the clutch of the evil one.

If you aren't worshiping Me and basking in My presence, then you have lost your focus on what it is all about. I called you to be Mine, to walk with Me and to be My bride, but many have lost their zeal and have allowed themselves to be entertained by the things of the world to the extent that they have become complacent to My word and communion with Me. And this cannot be. You cannot both have Me and My presence and the ways of the world. For I have called you to be a holy nation, a peculiar people, one that is set apart from that of the world. And now there are many that have allowed themselves to get entangled that it is hard to them apart.

I AM calling you to repentance to come apart from the unclean thing. Cry out for mercy that I will clean your heart from the effects, and that I will set you free from the desires and lusts that have led you astray. For this is the hour where the trials will either make you or break you. I AM separating the men from the boys, those who are willing to pay the price to crucify their flesh and those who choose to continue to be mesmerized by the things of the world. You have to make the decision whether you want blessings or curses, life or death and the fruit thereof.

Walk with Me and I will bless you and restore to you all that the enemy has robbed you of. But if you continue in your ways this day, you will surely die. Do not believe the lies of the evil one by giving up on My promises. Do not listen when he says that he has better for you for he is a liar and a thief, and he only comes to steal, kill and destroy. I've come to give you life and that abundantly, but you must serve Me, deny yourself, pick up your cross and follow Me.

Crucify the lusts of the flesh, the eyes and the pride of life. Draw close to Me and I will draw close to you. Keep My word deep in your heart and use it against the evil one. Put up your shield of faith and reapply each piece of armor for I paid the price that you would be fully clothed enabled to stand against the powers of darkness. Reposition yourself with Me seated at the right hand of the Father, the position of power, high above all powers and principalities. Let out a victory cry and join ranks once again and worship Me. Then the enemy will be blinded by My glory. Your enemies will be scattered with confusion and will turn on each other, and you will escape and run and be free once again stronger than ever.

Rise up, My holy ones, for it is time to dance and to shout and rejoice for I said I would never leave you or forsake you or to allow you to fall into a snare. Apply My word each day to your life and My blood, and keep your eyes on Me, and I will lead you through. Do not allow the shame or condemnation to defeat you, for they are only lies of the evil one. Cry out for greater grace and My mercy and be restored. For I AM calling My bride together, even those with boots on, to close up the gaps and build the wall, to sound an alarm, to blow the shofar and be united in one faith under one God for I AM and evermore shall be, and I will not be defeated. Those I died for I will not lose in the fight. They are sealed with My Spirit. If you will to do My will, I will carry you through and MY victory will be yours, for I AM your Lord and King.

Waters Of Destruction

Dorothy Hedlund

July 25, 2004
Just before waking, a dream of massive destruction.

I was alone in a large 2-3 story house, located in a mountain valley, surrounded by other homes and those on the mountainsides as well. (Weird)… At the beginning of the dream I was in the house's restroom and had just applied some sort of Noxema-type white cleanser to my face. It had somehow gotten into my eyes, however, to such a serious extent that I called "911" on the phone, asking for medical assistance. Instead, however, a young/handsome policeman suddenly entered the restroom, but with seductive intentions. He took a towel to my face, trying to wipe my eyes clear of the cleanser, but instead began to fondle & kiss me. I said, "No…" and pushed him away.
Suddenly, it seemed, I could see clearly again.

Looking out the bathroom window, his presence no longer seemed of any concern to me compared to the sight that met my eyes. Flood-stage waters were coming up quickly, surrounding the house at an incredibly rapid rate. I said, in fact, "The waters are coming up 6" per second!" This other looked out the window, too, and was quite startled.

I went into the large dining room then, which had even larger sets of windows to look out. The sight that met my eyes was one of indescribable and powerful destruction. Rolling waters…churning waters…were slashing through the mountain valley, bringing up even the bedrock in the area. I saw large slabs of granite 'uprooted' … stand upright … then fall into the waters. The very earth was being destroyed, rock and all.
I saw it rushing towards the house I was in, chiseling away at the rock upon which it was located. Once a flatland, the house was then only three feet or so from what had become a cliff's edge … on all sides.

I saw on the mountainside homes that appeared like doll-house structures, some red, some blue, toppling off the mountainside like dominos. They were built of nothing but cardboard it seemed and were no match for the waters or the force of the torrent. All of them fell. Soon, all was gone. I could see nothing else about me…except water. The house I was in was the only thing left. Still firmly planted on 'The Rock of Rocks' – it had survived. There was not much of the rock left about even this one, however… only about three feet on all sides surrounding it were left…with waters, massive waters of great force, churning all about us. I woke up, immediately quickened to look up the portion of scripture about 'the house built upon the rock' instead of sand. I was also given understanding before getting up – that this 'spirit' had also visited each of the homes in the mountain valley … and each had faced its seduction … choosing either life or death, blessing or curse.

Matthew 7:21-27: [Jesus speaking] - "Not everyone who says to Me, 'Lord, Lord,' shall enter the Kingdom of Heaven, but he who does the will of My Father in heaven. Many will say to Me in that day, 'Lord, Lord have we not prophesied in Your name, cast out demons in Your name, and done many wonders in Your name?' And then I will declare to them, 'I never knew you – depart from Me, you who practice lawlessness!' Therefore, whoever hears these sayings of Mine, and DOES them, I will liken him to a wise man who built his house on the ROCK [i.e. 'The Rock' of rocks]. The rain descended, the floods came, and the winds blew and beat on that house; and IT DID NOT FALL, FOR IT WAS FOUNDED ON THE ROCK. But everyone who hears these sayings of Mine, and does not do them, will be like a foolish man who built his house on the sand: and the rain descended, the floods came, and the winds blew and beat on that house; and IT FELL. And great was its fall."

UNDERSTANDING RECEIVED SO FAR… This dream was not about 'those of the world' but about 'those in The Church.' The red and blue houses built of cardboard on the sides of the mountain represent those who have initially experienced SALVATION (red/blood of Christ) and many even REVELATION (blue/spiritual insight into heavenly realms). They had not built upon 'The Rock of rocks,' however – which was not apparent until torrential waters [of judgment/destruction(?)] swept through The Church, testing the quality of each man's works & the foundation upon which they had built. Yes, many in The Church had experienced salvation/revelation…as in Matthew 7…prophesying, casting out demons, performing signs and wonders … BUT…

The spirit of lawlessness (Matt. 7:23) – a form of seduction – had visited each of their homes as well. Only God knew their response. That which they had decided 'in secret' was made visible to the world … their houses FELL into the waters of judgment, having not been built upon 'The Rock of rocks.' Does that make sense? It appeared to all that they WERE built upon a rock…various levels of the mountainside, etc. It was not until the waters churned away what APPEARED to be mountains of rock (but were simply kingdoms of this world) and slabs of granite upon which they were built - did one clearly see that they were NOT built upon THE ROCK OF ROCKS. They had built upon 'this word & that word' – but not upon THE WORD…the Lord Jesus Christ Himself.

Is it possible that this much of the Church lies in error? That this much of the Church is succumbing to 'the spirit of lawlessness' in this day? In an approaching day? The spirit of lawlessness (unrighteous policeman) was trying to make a covenant (kiss) of deception with those in the Church. It was also trying to fondle/seduce 'twin truths' (breasts) of the Church/Bride … her FAITH & LOVE, which would ultimately affect her ability to walk in righteousness/supernatural revelation/discernment/and holiness. [More info on these 'twin truths' can be found in Bob & Rose Weiner's Bible Studies for the Preparation of the Bride workbook, Study 10, "The Beauty of the New Creation" pgs. 53-55, Maranatha Publications].

Why were 'my eyes' affected by the face cleanser in the first place? Why were they burning? Why couldn't I see? Why did it cause me to call "911?" Well, I haven't sat down with the Lord long enough to hear His answer to this – but have received this impression: all of us will be faced with choices in this life: will we choose life or death, blessing or curse? It is God Himself who will 'try us.' For this reason, circumstances may be 'worked' in our lives which bring even the gifted in 'hearing & seeing' to the end of themselves, testing the quality of the works and hearts. Will they 'embrace' the spirit of lawlessness, which seduces the Church into accepting the liberal viewpoints of our day which stand opposed to the laws of God?

In light of the upcoming state & national elections and the many liberal vs. conservative issues at stake – how many in The Church are standing on THE ROCK OF ROCKS, and not simply on what society deems the 'acceptable viewpoints' of the day? From what I saw in the dream, I think that MANY in The Church are on 'shaky ground' and will not survive the 'shakedown' once 'judgment begins in the house of God.'

Woe To The Bloody City!

Marie-France McDowell-Smith

HaShem is speaking these scriptures, and no commentary of any kind. I sense that there is danger for both Jerusalem and New York City at the same time or close to the same time, possibly around Passover!

Nahum Chapter 3

1WOE TO the bloody city! It is full of lies and booty and [there is] no end to the plunder!(1) 2 The cracking of the whip, the noise of the rattling of wheels, and prancing horses and chariots rumbling and bounding, 3 Horsemen mounting and charging, the flashing sword, the gleaming spear, a multitude of slain and a great number of corpses, no end of corpses! [The horsemen] stumble over the corpses! 4 All because of the multitude of the harlotries [of Nineveh], the well-favored harlot, the mistress of deadly charms who betrays and sells nations through her whoredoms [idolatry] and peoples through her enchantments. 5 Behold, I am against you, says the Lord of hosts, and I will lift up your skirts over your face, and I will let the nations look on your nakedness [O Nineveh] and the kingdoms on your shame. 6 I will cast abominable things at you and make you filthy, treat you with contempt, and make you a gazingstock. 7 And all who look on you will shrink and flee from you and say, Nineveh is laid waste; who will pity and bemoan her? Where [then] shall I seek comforters for you? 8 Are you better than No-amon [Thebes, capital of Upper Egypt], that dwelt by the rivers or canals, that had the waters round about her, whose rampart was a sea [the Nile] and water her wall? 9 Ethiopia and Egypt were her strength, and that without limit. Put and the Libyans were her helpers. 10 Yet she was carried away; she went into captivity. Her young children also were dashed in pieces at all the street corners; lots were cast [by the Assyrian officers] for her nobles, and all her great men were bound with chains. 11 You will be drunk [Nineveh, with the cup of God's wrath]; you will be dazed. You will seek and require a refuge because of the enemy. 12 All your fortresses are fig trees with early figs; if they are shaken they will fall into the mouth of the eater. 13 Behold, your troops in the midst of you are [as weak and helpless as] women; the gates of your land are set wide open to your enemies [without effort]; fire consumes your bars. 14 Draw for yourself the water [necessary] for a [long continued] siege, make strong your fortresses! Go down into the clay pits and trample the mortar; make ready the brickkiln [to burn bricks for the bulwarks]! 15 [But] there [in the very midst of these preparations] will the fire devour you; the sword will cut you off; it will destroy you as the locusts [destroy]. Multiply yourselves like the licking locusts; make yourselves many like the swarming locusts! 16 You increased your merchants more than the [visible] stars of the heavens. The swarming locust spreads itself and destroys, and then flies away. 17 Your princes are like the grasshoppers and your marshals like the swarms of locusts which encamp in the hedges on a cold day--but when the sun rises, they fly away, and no one knows where they are. 18 Your shepherds are asleep, O king of Assyria; your nobles are lying still [in death]. Your people are scattered on the mountains and there is no one to gather them. 19 There is no healing of your hurt; your wound is grievous. All who hear the news about you clap their hands over [what has happened to] you. For upon whom has not your [unceasing] evil come continually?

Ezekiel 24:6-14 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Woe to the bloody city, to the pot whose rust and scum are in it and whose rust and scum have not gone out of it! Take out of it piece by piece, without making any choice. 7 For the blood she has shed remains in the midst of her; she put it upon the bare rock; she did not pour it on the ground to cover it with dust. 8 That it may cause wrath to come up to take vengeance, I have put her blood [guilt for her children sacrificed to Molech] upon the bare rock, that it would not be covered. 9 Therefore thus says the Lord God: Woe to the bloodguilty city! Also I will make the pile [of fuel] great. 10 Heap on wood, kindle the fire and make it hot, boil well the meat and mix the spices, pour out the broth when thick, and let the bones be burned up. 11 Then set [the pot Jerusalem] back empty upon the coals, that the bronze of it may be hot and may glow and the filthiness of it may be melted in it and the rust and scum of it may be consumed. 12 She has wearied herself and Me with toil; yet her great rust and scum go not forth out of her, for however hotly the fire burns, her thick rust and filth will not go out of her by fire. 13 In your filthiness is abomination; [and therefore] because I would have cleansed you and you were not cleansed, you shall not be cleansed from your filthiness any more until I have satisfied My wrath against and upon you. 14 I the Lord have spoken it; it shall come to pass and I will do it; I will not go back, neither will I spare, neither will I relent; according to your ways and according to your doings shall they judge and punish you, says the Lord God.

Habakkuk 2:8-12 Because you [king of Babylon] have plundered many nations, all who are left of the people shall plunder you--because of men's blood and for the violence done to the earth, to the city and all the people who live in each city. 9 Woe to him who obtains wicked gain for his house, [who thinks by so doing] to set his nest on high that he may be preserved from calamity and delivered from the power of evil! 10 You have devised shame to your house by cutting off and putting an end to many peoples, and you have sinned against and forfeited your own life. 11 For the stone shall cry out of the wall [built in sin, to accuse you], and the beam out of the woodwork will answer it [agreeing with its charge against you]. 12 Woe to him who builds a town with blood and establishes a city by iniquity!

REVELATIONS 14:6-8 Then I saw another angel flying in midair, with an eternal Gospel (good news) to tell to the inhabitants of the earth, to every race and tribe and language and people. 7 And he cried with a mighty voice,

Revere God and give Him glory (honor and praise in worship), for the hour of His judgment has arrived. Fall down before Him; pay Him homage and adoration and worship Him Who created heaven and earth, the sea and the springs (fountains) of water.

8 Then another angel, a second, followed, declaring,

Fallen, fallen is Babylon the great! She who made all nations drink of the [maddening] wine of her passionate unchastity [idolatry].

Night Vision
Marie-France McDowell-Smith

14 Adar 5764 (Shabbat ~ March 6, 2004)

Deep, deep, deep darkness as night appears before me, and far off is a bright flashing red light. 'L-rd what is this, what are you showing me? What does this mean?'

'It is My people, My people, My own...My people are poised on the precipice of a GREAT FALL! There is DANGER!!! Warn them!!!'

I cried out, 'L-rd, help us!!! Have Mercy haShem!'

HIS continued explanation, 'The flashing red light in utter darkness is the Ruach haKodesh warning My people to use discernment, caution is imperative. I tell them to guard their minds, to cover it with My Torah, My Instruction, My WORD as their ark of safety. Tell them to run into My arms, their ONLY place of safety. Run to MY WORD, for YESHUA LIVES AND SITS upon My right hand.

Each of them have been covered in the powerful BLOOD of Yeshua (Jesus) as they submitted to me, the GREAT I AM, the Aleph and the Tov!!! As they heard My WORD, repented (turned away from their wicked/own ways, and made choice to follow Yeshua, for HE KNOWS THE WAY HOME TO ME), they received forgiveness of their SIN, and may now REST in Me.

Do you NOT remember that I AM !!! I AM LOVE! I LOVE YOU, I forgive, I redeem, I justify, I sanctify, I commission, consecrate and anoint for SERVICE TO ME!!! I DO THESE THINGS, NOT ANY MAN!!! COME DIRECTLY TO ME through Yeshua haMashiach / Messiah Yeshua, the Way, the Truth and the Life. HE is the door to come to Me, and there is NO OTHER.

My only SON, Yeshua haMashiach / Messiah Yeshua shed HIS BLOOD upon Calvary's hill and in HIS obeience declared, 'IT IS FINISHED'!!! I AM well pleased in HIS obedience to Me; not as many of you in mental ascent or complete self-deception. "It is finished!'

The POWER OF Yeshua's BLOOD is the pitch applied to the ark by the Ruach haKodesh that seals and protects My people from all that is raging to destroy.

Victory, Victory, Victory! HE IS ALIVE, HE IS THE King of kings and the L-rd of lords... 'IT IS FINISHED'!!!

I, the True and Living G-d, the Holy One of Israel, El Gibor, Elohim, Adonai, Abba declare again to you today....'IT IS FINISHED! '

Rejoice!!! Allow my JOY to be your strength.

My people have a clouded vision, with a 'knowing in their spirits' of the season and the times. Still, they cannot apply flesh and dress in Holiness to clothe the heaped, fragmented skeletons lying at the bottom of their souls. Rise up O dead men! Rise up! The people have no vision, many are dying and perish never knowing Me.

Is there no one who will bind up their wounds? Is their no knowledge left upon this earth? Where is faith? Where is My army? Where are those who will reach out into the hiways and byways...Is anyone leading this impoverished people, My very own, toward My Holy Mountain and toward HE WHOM WILL RULE AND REIGN?

Oh, I hear your sanctimoniously spoken words like flying poison darts from your tongue, that slithering snake, 'Those filthy drug addicted, alcoholic, lying, sex perverted, swearing, adulterous, cheating, abortion performing, thieving, disgusting sinners' .. WHY don't they follow Jesus?

Obviously, My precious ones, because THEY DO NOT SEE ME IN YOU? Do you not remember who you once were? Is this lack of clarity not your own doing? Do you not indict yourself as your behavior reveals to whom you truly belong? Vipers, whitewashed tombs...I weary of you.

The WAR rages upon the battlefields --- the minds of ALL men upon the earth. My steps get closer, can you hear it? Can you hear the thunder? Can you hear the battle raging in the heavenlies? Do you hear Me; do you see the night vision I show you? Are you even alive? Your movement is barely visible to Me. As you hibernate, comfortably curled up and serenely sleeping, do you dream that you run the race and are nearly at the finish line, your prize awaiting?

Are you blind? And deaf? and mute? Do you not hear nor see the clashing of swords, the lightening streaking across the sky, as the battle more fiercely explodes and becomes an incinerator of human flesh. There is breakthrough riding upon the morning star, you shall see it in the heavens with your very own eyes, no second hand reports.

Then ALL TRIBES AND TONGUES AND NATIONS will know that I AM !!! All men will SEE, NOT ONE OF THEM will be able to deny. 'WHO DO YOU SAY THAT I AM' is the question. 'WHAT IS YOUR ANSWER?'

PREPARE, THE TEST COMES SOON!!! The evil one will apply his spin. But for a moment in time, a window of opportunity for all to SEE YESHUA, My beloved and only begotten SON, the Way, the Truth and the Life !!! BE READY, PREPARE!!!

Again, I tell you ~ I AM EL GIBOR!

What more can I do? What more can I say? People have no desire for My Ways. Are they too lazy to glean the treasure I have left for them in the corners of the fields? Many prefer to starve, and complain, all hope gone. They cry out to me night and day...all the while answers, their provision lies rotting in the fields, waiting for their most elementary effort, but most too weak. Encourage them, teach them, show them that I protect, provide and give My peace!!!

MANY who look cannot find My provision. Why is this, My people? Is it because many of you, the caretakers of My fields (I AM THE OWNER, the creator of all, Am I not?) have decided that because of My seeming delay that you are the owners of these fields. Have you been so easily deceived?

YOU have become inwardly greedy, ravenous wolves, still displaying the privilege of sheep's clothing, parading about in your vestments. DO YOU THINK THAT I HAVE NO EYES, THAT I AM NOT ABLE TO SEE YOUR INWARD PARTS? YOU are deluded, you obey men and do not obey Me!!!

YOU self-made shepherds, you take every bit and leave none for the orphan and widow, none for the needy. YOU trample beneath your feet people for whom I have paid a great price, giving My only begotten Son, Yeshua. HOW LONG WILL YOU LIVE HIGH AND MIGHTY, as the people perish. HOW LONG DO YOU THINK THAT I WILL ALLOW THIS TO GO ON? You have made yourselves into gods, wielding the power of life and death over the weak, the innocent and the poor.

YOU listen NOT to ME nor to My prophets. YOU continue to murder My prophets and throw them out of YOUR places of worship. YOU discard MY TRUTH given them upon the burning garbage heaps outside the city. You do not acknowledge or recognize that they are servants, merely messengers who bring you My deliverance for your benefit and gain. Yet, YOU, false shepherds are violent to devour. Little changes in the human heart, little changes in human history, WATCH AS I INTERVENE.

O, how predictable My people, and how compassionate your G-d! How I weep for you, I weep, I weep...I AM bringing back My sheep, I WILL DO IT !!! You, My called shepherds, your privilege soon lost, because you succumbed to temptation and traded away this consecrated responsibility -- THE SPEAKING OF MY WORD, THE WATCHING AN CARING OF MY SHEEP -- for a pot of porridge. Your eyes deceived you, you have perverted, twisted and manipulated My Word. YOU fell to the lust of the eye, and wanted what the god of this world gave to his false ones...the ones now being exposed, their riches unable to save.

Once again I call to My fallen shepherds. CAST your eyes upon me, your redeemer, your friend, the Lover of your souls. I will once again forgive and restore, come to ME, follow ME, open your broken hearts to My Love! Am I not able to do all that I have planned and promised? My Love for you cost me shame, suffering and death. But death has no hold on ME, nor upon My own...we LIVE, I live in you...BE YE HOLY. Open yourselves completely to me, we shall clean and discard debris that has cluttered neglected rooms as you were distracted and deceived. There is need for you in My Kingdom, much need and much love, work in My Kingdom, not in man's.

My people walk about as though they are 'happy meals with legs', still babies, not mature, naive as the enemy ruthlessly pounces upon these tasty morsels of lunch and greedily devours.

The evil one who murders and sheds innocent blood in the Land and in My Holy City, I will recompense that evil upon his head. Pray for the people whom he uses for his purposes and then abandons. He continues to steal, kill and destroy. His schemes and plans change not. My anger and wrath arises toward evil and those who walk in that way, that dark street of destruction !!!!

SPEND TIME WITH ME! HIDE THE WORD IN YOUR HEARTS. LEARN OF ME and WALK IN ALL OF MY WAYS. LOVE ONE ANOTHER; LOVE YOUR FAMILIES. REACH OUT WITH MY RACHAMIM TO THE ILL, FORGOTTEN AND INFIRM ~ THOSE LOST IN BODY, MIND and SPIRIT!!! IN THIS YOU SERVE ME AND SHOW MY LOVE !!!

My Love for YOU is full of Mercy, Grace and Justice, Your Abba

Waves Of Holy Terrorism

Yvonne Walsh

yawalsh@ihug.co.nz

My daughter, heaven is on tiptoe in excitement at what I am going to do and release—in you, for you and to others. You are weary with the battle and the waiting and preparation, but I see the end in sight. I have encouraged you both with many promises, prophecies and people contacts, because I know that you needed such comfort.

I am going to release a new wave of My Spirit's power, as a wave of godly "terrorism" - the exact opposite of what terrorism is—fear, hate and subversion. My antidote is love, holiness and truth. My antidote is people guided by the anointing, unction and power of My Spirit—to go out into the world and break bondages, release prisoners, heal the sick, and wounded, and speak LIFE not death, to those who are weary and worn, and discouraged, to those who feel they are on the treadmill, - making no progress, but unable to get off.

EVERY Word I have spoken to you has been the truth and is LIFE, and every promise I have ever made will come to pass—but maybe in a different DIMENSION than you expect. Those with hidden agendas will be exposed, but those who confess and repent of their sin will be set free. My Word will go forth with power and authority, and many will see and believe. You will not be ashamed or let down. I will—I am—sharpening your discernment, activating your faith and enlarging your boundaries. I AM your GOD, and I will once again reveal My hand to a distorted world scene, and bring back a true and viable option for people to see, know and believe in Me, the true and LIVING God.

People will have a clear choice—a Godly Church or Unholy Alliances—and this will cut across all political scenes, and policy flavours and reach the hearts and minds of men everywhere. Just as terrorism has grown, become open and bolder, so will My counter "terrorism" measures, because what I say and do will hit the heart of man, giving him no choice but to decide. There will be no fence sitting when I lay it out clearly to men's hearts. Each heart touched, will be an individual challenge and choice, even if it looks like a mass response.   My challenge will be clear and unequivocal, demanding an answer, a change, a response to My voice.

I will POUR OUT My Spirit on mankind and the harvest will be Mine, the glory will be Mine, the impetus will be Mine, the direction will be Mine—and you will hear a voice saying, Walk this way, Speak to this person, Pray for this situation, Keep on forgiving those who have anything against you as something may have reactivated an old hatred, and release them into My hands. Those who forgive much, find great favour in My eyes. Amen.

TERRORISM: the use of violence or threats to generate fear, especially for political purposes—to coerce or intimidate by threats etc..

Matthew 11:12 (NLT) And from the time John the Baptist began preaching and baptizing until now, the Kingdom of Heaven has been forcefully advancing—and violent people attack it.

LORD, let us be like the lady who filled all the pots she could beg, or borrow, with the precious oil, that she then sold. Let us pray the filling of Your Spirit (the oil) on every "pot" or container we know of!

Words Over Louisiana

Chuck Pierce

Dear Leaders:

In late August I was in Louisiana for a series of meetings promoted by Roger and Charlotte Merschbrock (our USSPN State Apostolic Coordinators for Louisiana) along with Larry and Brenda Bizette. Several of the prophetic words I released might be of particular interest to you at this time with the approach of Hurricane Ivan.

Blessings,

August 29, 2004

After Chuck discussed traveling from Wisconsin directly to Louisiana, he prophesied:

"From the North to the South I am ready to awaken two winds that will awake the nation. There are resisting forces in both states that will cause our nation to not move forward. Go up and down and decree the wind of God will awaken in both places. The states will shift in a new way or the nation will not shift and will go backwards."

Later when addressing the Saul structure in Baton Rouge, Chuck prophesied:

"How the Saul structure collapses will bring Baton Rouge again to national attention. That alignment within it will collapse. A new demonstration with a new blueprint will be seen. This will be known as a meeting house. This will be known as a place where the Ark of the Covenant has dwelt. This will be known as a refuge place. The WIND and WATER will rise in the midst of New Orleans. Many from the south will come north for refuge. Prepare. Prepare now for winds and water that will surprise you. I will renew the pattern not fully seen before. Worship will be here, and birthed in a new way from here. Prepare! Prepare! Prepare! Shift! Saul will be no more. David will arise from this day forward. The wind from the south will begin to blow. Watch for the effects. This will purify the land and bring great change."

Then in Alexandria that night Chuck shared from Song of Solomon 4:16 (Awake the north wind; come, o south wind. Blow upon the garden of this nation). He led the people to pray for the south wind to come. This south wind would be a purifying wind, cause corruption to be blown on and cause corruption to shake and initiate a righteous move starting with the children, then moving to the youth. We were to watch the government and the Catholic Church shake, and watch New Orleans change.

Then Chuck prophesied, "I will put a mantle on African Americans in this land. That which was brought in through parts of this state and held people captive will let go. I will send the wind up the Mississippi River and this wind will shake Missouri. You will see the land shake in Missouri because of the wind from Louisiana. Get ready. Don't brace yourself. Throw yourself up. Get ready for the new is coming. Every place I blow on will shake. The wind is coming on Louisiana and it will shake the entire state. I will fill churches. The south purifying wind of My holiness will sweep across Louisiana. People will be on their faces in malls and shopping centers. Boldness will come upon My people in Louisiana. There is a worship call. Get ready - the wind is about to blow. The river is changing courses. You will be one of the first that changes."
Blessings,

Wondrous Plans

Mary Clark

I have wondrous plans for My beloved in the year 2004. Let Me tell you about them:

First of all let Me say that My plans are without flaw. I will accomplish all that I set My hands to. My plans will go forth according to My will, and with My expert flare of the seemingly impossible taking the lead in My children's lives. I want you to know that My plans for you are to bless you abundantly, and show you another side of My goodness. Oh yes, I am a multi-faceted God. There are many hidden qualities in My personality that I enjoy revealing to My children, but it all has to go according to My time schedule.

I have plans to show you another side of Me that will delight your very heart of hearts. I have plans to reveal more of My glorious glory to those of you who seek after Me with that particular yearning. I want you to revel in My glory this year – 2004. I want you saturated with My glory and walking in the hope that abiding in My glory can bring to you. Yes! My glory will play a big role in your lives this year – 2004...

I am playing a new song this year. This is a song that will get My children's attention. They will sway to the beat. Their toes will tickle to the tune. Their arms will be raised high in holy adoration when I plan this new tune. They will take delight in it. They will be singled out by the world as unholy. But to Me they will be My holy ones in whom I take great delight. So great ready for Me to change the tune, beloved! Get ready to hear something new that you cannot quite identify, but know that it is coming from Me. Get ready to dance forward into the era that is approaching, knowing that your Beloved is wooing you into a new realm of delight in Him.

These are a few of My plans for 2004, but let Me tell you this: No eye has seen and no ear has heard the things that the Beloved has planned for this year. For it is to be a year of new beginnings in Me – delightful new beginnings, and those who take delight in knowing Me will enjoy all that I have prepared. All who know and serve Me will delight in this hour of wonder that is fast approaching. For My plans – My flawless plans – are coming forth post haste. They are coming no matter what anybody does are does not do. They are coming no matter what the devil tries to do. My plans are unfolding! They are unfolding to My delight and to the delight of those who take delight in knowing Me. So get ready for a wondrous hour that is soon approaching, and know deep within your heart that I have saved the best for last, and I am moving you into the last hour when you will know My goodness, perform mightily on My behalf, and revel in the quality of life that I am bringing to all who will serve Me unabashedly!!!

unabashed – bold, blatant, forward, forthright, unembarrassed, shameless,

Keep Your Lamps

Mary Clark

"Be Dressed in Readiness, and Keep Your Lamps Alight"

(Luke 12: 35 NAS)

This morning the Lord called this scripture to my attention. I believe He wants to expound on it to us. Here is what He has to say:

I want My children ready for what lies ahead. I want you to keep your lamps trimmed and alight, for in so doing you will be My lights in a dark world.

I am about to reveal Myself in a mighty way to My dear children. I am about to show you some things about your God that you never suspected. When this happens, beloved, it will cause a flame to rise high in your heart – a flame that cannot be extinguished. Yes, this is a part of My good plan for you. It is part of My plan to see you walking in the light of My truth in a wonderfully spectacular way. So get ready for burning hearts – burning hearts that the Beloved will look on with much pride and adoration. Why do I want your hearts burning brightly for Me? I will tell you: I want them burning in order for you to endure what is about to be presented to the world. I want your hearts burning brightly in order that others may see, and find the way into My heart of hearts. I want you, My dear children, to recognize and walk in My truth without faltering.

I have made a way for you to arrive at this place of wonder, unscathed by the enemy. He does not like the light. The light makes him very uncomfortable. He runs from the light of the living God. But you, My beloved, find rest in this impenetrable light – you find delight in this place of purity and hope. This is what I have for you. This is what you may expect to dwell in. So get your hearts ready for a deep burning to take place, and know that with this burning is coming the bright light of My glory that will light your way into that place of wonder that is found in Me.

I want you dressed for action. Abide in My word. Read and consume the words of your God, and you will find that you have tasted the finest of repasts. You will know, beloved, that your God has touched you deep within, igniting your heart to a blaze. You will know that you are walking in a time of great wonder, and that I have dressed you for the occasion. So come to Me, expecting Me to clothe you with the light of My glory, and know deep within that I have prepared you to walk in the light of My glory, fortified within and without for all that is coming your way.

I have called you to come into a new arena of delight with Me. Abiding in My presence is a wonderful place to be, beloved. It is a wonderful place of rest. Be ready. Be rested. Be equipped for all that I am bringing. For this is truly the hour to walk in a new understanding of your God. It is the hour to recognize My goodness, embrace, it and go forth in the strength and power that it provides.

I am calling you to ready yourselves. I want you dressed for action, and I want your lamps shining brightly on My behalf. I want you to look with a single eye at your Beloved, putting your trust in Me to perform all that I have spoken. Truly this is the hour to recognize My goodness and walk in My truth. Truly this is the hour to stand tall and straight, knowing that I am removing those obstacles that would hinder, and moving you forward into the delight of My heart.

The time is NOW, beloved. Do not put off doing anything that I ask of you. Be prompt in displaying your willing heart, and you will see something of wonder develop. You will see a new hour develop that is going to get the world's attention. It will get the world's attention, and you, beloved, will know a certain truth when all occurs: You will know that you were born to walk in this hour, and that I have equipped you to partake in all that is shining forth. You will also know that you did well to ready yourself, and stoke the fire within for this hour. For truly, as I have spoken My truth over you this day, I have left no stone unturned to present to you a shining hour of delight – delight in the Beloved and delight in all that He is displaying – displaying to the nations and to My beloved – My beloved who serves Me unwaveringly and looks at the production at hand with awe and thanksgiving that will reverberate from your heart, My beloved, for all eternity.

This is My plan. Now! Ready yourself!!!

Word Of The Lord For Year 2004

Miles Ford

(CorpPrayResource@aol.com)

Bethel Harvest International, Arlington, Texas

For the month of JANUARY, I will set forth a new path, a path for My people, which they have never trod before. And there shall be a work that shall be released in the camp of the Lord. There shall be a mighty rejoicing that shall go forth for the shout of the Lord and the roar of your God shall be heard out of the midst of His people. And I will lift up the head of those that have been bowed down and I will exalt the low tree and I will even abase the high tree says the Lord. For this is the time that I am correcting those things which have been out of place and I'm setting in order those things which must be set in order for I am the Lord your God that makes the crooked places straight and the rough places smooth.

And I shall begin a new work in this month of January, which shall be noise abroad and you shall hear of that work. It shall go forth and it shall be manifested before My people. For the first shall be last and the last shall be first. And I will erase all of the old pains of the past, and I will cause there to be a rejoicing, and I shall cause there to be much gladness in the house of God, for the Lord has done great things. And so in this month I shall cause there to be a catching up. Those that have been running behind, they shall catch up. There shall not be any lack in My house says the Spirit of God. For I, the Lord, am doing great things on the behalf of My people to walk them from where they were to the place where I have ordained for them to be. And they shall not be ashamed.

And this is the time that shall signify the time of a new beginning, the time of healing and restoration. For the mountain shall be removed from before the people of God. So January is a key month. It is a month for searching. It is a month to know your position and to know the place that I've called you to be, says the Spirit of God. It is a month to stand in that place that you have been prepared for and to prepare yourselves to go forth and execute all My will in the earth, says the Spirit of God.

And I shall bring forth the seed of the Lord in this month of January, and I shall cause the trumpets to blow. They shall blow loud and clear, and the trumpets shall declare a new season in this month of January. For I shall cause the trumpets to blow, and they shall blow unto My glory and unto My honor, says the Lord. For I do crown and I do advance and move forth to set My people in the place that I've ordained for them. And I shall raise up a mighty people in this time that shall stand in My place, in the place that I have prepared, in the place where I have stood says the Lord and My presence shall be there. And they shall move forth to accomplish great exploits in this year. But this month of January is the time that the trumpets shall declare and they shall begin to designate and they shall begin to articulate. The trumpets shall be begin to spell out and they shall blow loud, and they shall blow clear, and there shall be distinct sound, and My people shall stand and move forth and they shall accomplish much in this season, says the Spirit of God.

I shall sanctify this month of FEBRUARY as being a month for Me says the Lord. I will sanctify this month of February in the midst of My people and it shall be a special month for I shall visit My people in a very unusual way and I shall take them from one place in this month to an entirely new place. I shall cause there to be such elevation, and I shall cause there to be a positioning of My people in a place so that they might know and see throughout the entire year says the Spirit of God. For I have set forth this hour and this month as being the month for My people to see and to see clearly. And I shall open up the spiritual eyes even as I position My people says the Lord, I shall open up their spiritual eyes and they shall see clearly. And there shall be none that shall not understand that the Lord is doing great things among His people. And I shall walk before them in truth and righteousness, even to go before them to establish My name in the earth so that men might know and men might see the very glory of God upon the people of God.

So I have set this month as a month that I the Lord shall do special things. I shall birth forth special things. It shall be a month of great birthing, great birthing in the Spirit shall take place that month, and I shall remove the dross, and I shall cause the cream to rise to the top. This is a time that I shall erase the old that has hindered and the old that has been obstacles, and I will establish My name, and I will establish a new way, says the Lord. Do not be afraid. Let not your heart be troubled, for I the Lord will do great things in the midst of My servants, and I will cause there to be an excellence that shall come forth. I shall cause My people to move forward, for they shall see clearly this month, says the Lord.

For I shall cause there to be great victory in this month, and I shall cause My people's hands to be raised high, for there shall be great victory in this time. There shall be an erasing of things that have been such hindrances. The work of God that has begun in many that had been stopped, that had been hindered and that had been hampered will now be released, and there shall be an accomplishing, and there shall be an achieving, and there shall be great victory, says the Spirit of God. I will do a new thing in that month. I will do a new thing. I will set forth My hand to deliver My people, but not only bringing them out, but moving them forward, delivering them into that which I have already done before the foundations of the world. So, I shall visit My people this month, I shall do exceedingly, abundantly, above all they may ask or think, and the power shall continually work in them to accomplish My will, says the Spirit of God.

For there shall be a new standard that shall be established in this month. It shall be a standard that I shall raise. It shall be the standard of the Lord, and not the standard of men. It shall not be that which has been established by the hands of men, but I shall work through My servants and through My chosen ones to establish a new standard and a new paradigm that shall change the results of much that they have encountered in times past.

MARCH: I have set you in a place, oh My sons that you could not have gone to on your own. I have placed you in positions that only I could have accomplished in your lives and I will require of you in this time and in this month an accounting of your stewardship says the Spirit of God. For I have not forgotten the place from whence you have come, and I will not forget the reward, which I have promised. But this shall be a season and a time of assessment says the Lord. I will assess those things which have been going forth and going on. I will cause there to be an accounting of your stewardship, and not of those things in the natural only, but those things in the Spirit as well. Hearken diligently unto the voice of the Lord in this time, and be ready. For the Lord will come quickly, and He will do justly, says the Spirit.

And I will stir in this hour, and there shall be a stirring, a stirring of the fowls of the air. There shall be a stirring in this hour, a stirring in the earth of very nature. There shall be a stirring in this hour. There shall be a stirring of the waters and a stirring of the land. And My people shall walk in the Kingdom authority that I have placed within them, and they shall demonstrate My faith and demonstrate that which I have placed within them. And I shall move in this month and I shall move in a way that establishes My hand in many places, and I will cause there to be a looking to Me, a crying to Me, and a calling out to Me. I shall cause there to be a returning unto Me, says the Spirit of God, of those who have strayed from Me. For My presence shall be strong in this month.

I shall remove kings and I shall establish kings, says the Lord, in this month of March. And so there shall be a deliverance but there shall also be a great lamenting for I will correct that which I have allowed and I shall make right that which has gone astray. And so this is a time and a period of great challenge and I shall cause it to be a time of great change as well.

Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth and I will say unto the young, "Move forward. Stand in your place. Lift up your head and I will establish you by My strength." And I will cause there to be a mighty wind blowing upon My young people in this month of March. I will bring them forth as pure gold and I shall awaken the giant, which has been asleep. I, the Lord, will not allow the enemy to separate My people any longer, but this shall be the month that I shall destroy and break down the walls that have separated My people and have been barriers and not boundaries that have been walls of separation and not walls of protection. This is the month that I shall cause there to be a restoring of the fellowship and the love, which should have been there all along. For I am the Lord your God, and I am prepared to do great things. So I unify My people in this month of March, and I bring them together, and I remove the things that have separated them, and they shall be one, says the Spirit of God.

I shall set forth in the month of APRIL much change. For I shall cause there to be a strength that shall rise forth and that strength and that increase shall be because of the sacrifice that has been laid down and the work which I have done and that which I have accomplished. And so you shall know that this Month of April shall be a month of great distress in the land and there shall be a time for My people to be focused. And I shall do great things in their mist and they shall not look to the left nor right for what I am doing in My people shall accomplish My will and shall also impact that which is being done in the earth. But what is going on in the earth I shall not cause to negatively affect the hearts of My people. But it shall be a sign to them and they shall see it and as they see it they'll know what it is that they need to do. For the heart of the Lord shall be revealed and the mouth of the Lord has declared and spoken that He shall establish His will and His purpose in the earth in this season.

So this month shall be a month of the miraculous and there shall be many miracles that shall take place. I shall cause there to be many, many miracles that shall be accomplished. Signs and wonders shall be accomplished by My hand says the Lord. Yet My people shall not look to the signs or the wonders but they shall be the evidence of the gospel that is being declared - the gospel of My kingdom - being true and being worthy. This is a season that men are going to begin to come into the place - they're gonna come into an understanding, a place of understanding what it is that they have been called and established for. Their ultimate purpose is going to be revealed in this month and many are going to begin to connect where they had not connected before and they're going to begin to come into line with all that I have ordained for their lives.

I will seek out and I will search out a people - even a special people to wait before Me and to stand before My presence and to wait in My presence so that I might impart special instructions in that month says the Spirit of God. And the work shall be great and the changes shall be continual because I will not stop until all has been done that I have ordained. And I will cause many to speak forth and as they open their mouths to speak I will cause miracles to come forth in this month and I will establish My name in the midst of My people, says the Spirit of God. And there shall be a special release of wealth in this month of April. The increase of the Lord shall be known and the miraculous works of God shall be rejoiced across the land. For I will raise up men and I will raise up women who operate in much integrity and they shall be a people of great wealth that I have raised up and that I have established.

This is the time that there shall be a close working together of those with great means and those with great anointing. And there shall be a tremendous anointing and administration in My kingdom in this season. It shall begin in this month but it shall increase throughout this entire year and it shall culminate in a tremendous moving of My spirit says the Lord. And so hearken diligently unto Me, ye children of men, and hear what thus says the Lord, for I have established you, I have prepared you, and I have positioned you. And now you shall go forth. And you shall not be afraid of those things which shall take place around you. You shall not be deterred by those things which you have feared in the past. But your gaze and your lives and your eyes shall be set upon Me, says the Lord. And as your eyes and your gaze shall be steadfastly upon Me, I will do exceeding and great miracles in this month says the Lord. Many miracles. Many, many miracles, says the Lord.

MAY: Sanctify yourself before Me and establish a time of consecration before My face, because this is the time that I am going to now begin to release a special measure of My grace upon the land. I will work through the hearts and hands of My people, both male and female, and I will stir within the hearts of My servants a special grace that shall be dispersed throughout the land. Hearken unto Me diligently, sons and daughters, for I will give you instructions in your time of consecration in this month that shall be vital to the success of My kingdom in the earth for this year. And this shall be a time that you shall from the very beginning to the very end be in a season of consecration and a season of receiving the instructions and the direction of your God.

For I shall cause there to be such resurrection and such life that shall come forth. This shall be the month that My life shall come forth, and I call you into a place before Me for consecration. I call you into a secret place that you might abide under My shadow and be protected from the scorching heat of the day. I call you in, says the Spirit of God, that you might receive all that you have need of in this hour that you have been born for.

I call you in. I call you in. Come into Me, says the Spirit of God. Come into My presence. Come into My voice. Come in before Me, and I will show you great victory. And I will impart unto you My life, that you might know the Lord your God. Come in, says the Lord, and I shall restore those years which the cankerworm has destroyed and the palmerworm has eaten and destroyed.

Come in, and the work that you have toiled to establish I will cause to flourish and blossom as a flower. Come in, so that I might impart all that you need for this journey that I have placed you on. And so, this is a really important month, and it is a time of great returning unto the Lord. It is a time of great consecration and a time of sanctification.

JUNE shall be a month that I shall cause My great warriors that I have prepared to come forth. And there shall be a great battle, for there shall be a pulling down of the strongest holds that have been over the land, and over the nations, and over the lands. I will cause that battle not to be fought with conventional means, but that battle shall be a spiritual battle, and it shall be a battle that shall mark the breaking forth and the breaking through into the most precious areas that I have desired to reach in this time.

I will cause there to be a seizing of territory, and I shall cause there to be an establishing of the banner of the Lord in this season. There shall be great victory, but there shall be in this time, a time that My people shall war; they shall war and they shall go forth. For I shall cause My angels to be released and to go before them in this month, and they shall know that I, the Lord, fight on their behalf. They shall prepare the horse to battle, they shall prepare the weapons of war, but these weapons are not natural, but they are spiritual.

I will release My angels and as faith shall be shown and faith shall be known; so shall victory be accomplished, says the Spirit of God. For what your eyes cannot see and what your ears have not heard, I will establish by your faith. And I will cause there to be a song of victory in this month, says the Spirit of God, and I will cause My champions to arise and it shall be known. I shall cause My champions to arise, to arise, says the Lord.

JULY: For I shall work a work in this month that shall cause My glory to be revealed, and I will cause there to be tremendous opportunities that shall be realized in this month. It shall be a month of great, special opportunity. And I shall open doors that no man shall shut, for the Lord has done great things. And the rain shall be plentiful upon the land and the harvest, and the fruit shall come forth and be reaped with a tremendous excitement, says the Lord.

And so hearken unto Me, O people of God, for this is a time that you shall know that the Lord has prepared a harvest for your hands. Your lives shall be changed, the harvest shall be great, and the work shall be plenteous, but there shall be a tremendous satisfaction as the opportunities are realized on the left and on the right. For I shall surround you with My favor. I shall surround you with My favor. And the work that has begun shall be completed.

The thing that I have set forth and I have ordained shall come to pass. For I will shake the nations, and I will cause the men of every kindred and every tongue to consider Me. For this is a time My people have been sent forth, and they shall harvest. They shall bring forth into My barns, and they shall bring forth into My house, says the Lord, all that I have set forth, all that I have prepared.

I shall cause there to be a tremendous light in this month. This shall be the month that I shall cause there to be signs in the heavens above and men shall know that I am the Lord. This is the time that I shall do great and mighty things. And so I say unto you, My sons and My daughters, I say, O children of God, let not your heart be troubled, neither let it be afraid, for I have prepared great things for you in thy Father's house. I have prepared great things, says the Lord.

The work of the Lord shall continue to be strong in the month of AUGUST, and the thing that I have spoken concerning My sons shall be established in that month. And I will walk in between the two pieces as covenant with My children, and My covenant shall be known, and it shall be ratified. I shall ratify My covenant in this month of August, and I shall do great things in the midst of My children. For this is the time that the working of God through men, through My servants in the earth, will take on great significance. And I will begin to form and shape My body and My people into what I have envisioned for them during this season. For the Lord is great and the things that He shall do are done by His own hand. And He shall establish what He shall establish for those that call upon Him, and they shall be many.

I shall cause there to be a great awakening. The eyes shall be opened in this month of August, and there shall be a reviewing of many things that have been okayed in the past, but those things shall now be reviewed and shall be brought into question. And there shall be a great turning and focusing. There shall be a light shone in that month, and it shall reveal and uncover- even as things are being reviewed- what was not seen before.

So then shall the Lord do many things in that month of August, and He shall also cause there to be second chances given to those that have failed the first time. They shall receive a second chance in that month of August, and they shall bow down and worship Me, says the Spirit of God.

For those who have escaped the hands of the destroyer shall come by way of the path of the eagle, and I will work a marvelous work in that day that men shall marvel at. They shall marvel, for the Lord is great and His work is great. For there shall be a returning of the captives in that day, and there shall be an unfolding of events that shall garner the focus of the world.

Pray. Pray for those whom I have called you to. Pray for the regions that I have placed you. Pray. Pray for those that I have placed in your path. Pray. Pray for those that your hand can reach. Pray for those that they cannot. For the prayers of My people shall be known, for they shall be unified and they shall be in abundance. And there shall be an outbreak of prayer during that month of August, a time of praying all types of prayer. And there shall be a new synergy that shall be created because of the prayer. I will create a cloud, even a cloud of My glory because of the prayer.

SEPTEMBER the fourth shall be a celebration and a culmination of many of the tremendous things, which I have caused My people to travail through and to birth forth through this year. It shall be a recognizing of times of sacrifice and times of birthing and there shall be a celebration of the life that shall come forth. For this month of September shall shine as a beam of light throughout the end of the year. It is a month where I will have distinction and definition of the day and night. I will cause there to be a distinction between the day and the night, and I shall cause there to be a distinction between the times and seasons.

I will cause there to be understanding and wisdom that shall come forth in this month of September. The light that shall shine shall cause there to be a great wisdom, for in this year of 2004 there shall be an uncovering of tremendous knowledge by the hands of men. There shall be great cures that shall come forth in this year of 2004 and knowledge shall be increased at an absolutely incredible rate. And so shall be found cures in the year 2004.

And this month of September shall be a time of light, a time of understanding, and wisdom shall be disseminated. Wisdom shall arise out of the heart of My people and wisdom shall be brought forth, and wisdom shall be honored.

The wise that have walked before Me shall be honored in this time, says the Lord, for I will cause there to be an elevation into the halls of this nation of My chosen ones, even the champions whom I have raised up. And so this time that you see and this time that is established is a time that there will be clarity, and there will be great reflection of the light of My life that has increased and grown in the spirit of My children.

There shall be great increase that shall be released into the hands of My people, by reason of the sacrifice, and I will do marvelous things. Miraculous things shall be accomplished. The miracles that I shall do shall be miracles that are not only physical, but they shall be miracles of every kind. For this month of September shall carry within it the power to produce great increase, and My people shall be positioned to receive it in that month. And they shall see it, and they shall be aware, and their eyes shall be open, says the Spirit of God.

In the month of OCTOBER, My people shall have to be on watch. They need to be alert and watching, for there shall be many things that shall come by this month. There shall be many things that shall come to this month, but I will bring My people through this month with much intercession and much travail. And I say unto My people that this is the time that I am going to begin to walk you through the valleys of the shadows of death. And you will fear no evil. So I say, "Look unto Me and live. Know that I the Lord am your protector and your reward and I will do great and mighty things on your behalf." So this is the season that they are going to look to Me and live.

This month of October will carry with it a time of challenge - challenge for the nations, challenge for the cities - challenge like they have not seen. And they will have to be prepared. And so My warriors and My praying sons and praying daughters will be ready. And they will be alert, for they will know beforehand that this day was approaching. And they will be ready. They will be ready.

And the hand of the Lord in this month is a hand of His grace - a hand of His grace. It's a hand of His grace, whereby men may be saved. And the working that He will do, and the things that will be done by the hand of the Lord in this month will come by way of the prayers of the saints. And I will operate, and I will work, and I will connect, and I will bring to fruition because of the prayers of the saints. I will protect, and I will create, and I will release because of the prayers of the saints.

And so I say unto you, My sons and My daughters, call unto Me, and I will answer thee, and I will show you great and mighty things that you had no knowledge of, neither had ever been told by men. And as you shall seek Me, I shall be found of you.

And the answers that you have desired concerning all things will be revealed in your intercession for the day. And so release your cries unto Me. Release your heart unto Me. On your knees you will find victory, says the Lord. For, before the day was, I am He.

For I have blessed this month of NOVEMBER even before the foundation of the world and this year. And I shall cause there to rise up a voice - a voice of faith, not by only one, but there shall only be one voice. There shall be a voice of faith that shall rise up out of this month that shall cause there to be change and cause there to be creation of that which I desire to create.

For there shall be miraculous increase in this month by reason of the faith and the action that is taken on the behalf of My sons and daughters. Yes, work shall be accomplished and many shall benefit from those that shall rise up and the voice that shall cry - the voice of action, the voice of obedience, the voice of wisdom, and a voice that executes the covenant of My kingdom, says the Lord.

So the work of God, in this month of November, is a work that shall spring forth and stand strong by reason of the faith that has been exercised - by reason of the voice that is heard in the land during this time - even the voice of many, being the voice of one: the voice of faith.

There shall be a significant change, as miracles take place and many, many things happen. Immediate miracles. Miracles. Immediate miracles. Miracles that have instant impact. And so this is a blessed month. This is a month of great blessing, and I have hallowed it in this year, and I have sanctified it before Me. I will go before My chosen servants, and I will meet with them in this month, and I will commune with them, says the Spirit of God. And I will walk in a place before them that they have never seen Me walk. And I will open up new dimensions of My life and My strength before their eyes, and they shall rejoice at My coming.

For the Lord is doing great things. But the month of November will be remembered as the month of the Lord - the month that the Lord visited His people - and the month that they came in, to be changed by His presence.

In the month of DECEMBER, My sons and daughters shall rise up in a new garment. They shall receive the garment that I have placed upon them as they've come into My presence. And I will begin to walk with them into this new season, for the season shall begin in December and shall go through January, February, and March of 2005. And so I will walk with you. I will walk with you through that season - this new season - for which I have prepared new garments for My children and they shall wear them - boldly - and they shall wear them with much display. And I will walk in the midst of My sons and My daughters, and I will cause them to be gathered unto Me in this month of December.

There shall be a gathering. There shall be a great gathering in this month of December. They shall be gathered unto Me, says the Lord. For this work, which I have been doing, and the thing that I have been preparing has been for this season. This season is going to be one that will always be remembered.

This season will become a part of the history of My people. And I will wipe away their tears, says the Lord, and I will walk with them through this month of December, and I will cause there to be a great victory - a release, a release of the burden that has been upon them. There shall be a great release in this month.

I will cause there to be a drawing of the line, and I shall draw a line on the ground and in the land. And I will cause there to be an exposing of the spirit of antichrist in this month of December, for there shall be a returning unto Me, and there shall be an abandoning of the ways which have not pleased Me. And the spirit of antichrist shall be exposed, and the light shall shine upon many. Men shall choose.

There will be those that choose Me, and there will be those that choose against Me. But the line shall be drawn in the land, and it shall be clear. And those on the Lord's side, and those on the side of the Lord, will I take through this season, and will I show the compassion of My favor, and will I show My heart, says the Lord.

Watchmen On The Walls

A Call To The Watchmen On The Walls

Jul 14, 2004
"On your walls, O Jerusalem, I have appointed watchmen; All day and all night they will never keep silent." Is.62:6

"He calls out like a lion: Adonai, I stand on the watchtower all day long, I stay at my post all night." Is. 21:8

Those who are called as watchmen on the walls must be extraordinarily diligent in this day. We must purpose to stay at our post day and night. The watchmen on the walls have a unique position....as they station themselves on the top of the wall, they are able to scan the horizon at all times, almost from the heavenlies. The watchman's responsibility is to detect the presence of the enemy around the camp of the righteous. But that is only PART of his responsibility. The watchmen are to warn the people, to cry out the alert that the enemy is near.

Watchmen are called to "not be silent" in the face of the enemy at the gate. It is unthinkable that a watchman would stand silently observing as enemy soldiers stealthily approached!! No watchman would ever keep silent when he detects the presence of the enemy! He would immediately sound the alarm, cry out and alert the people. Then, as watchmen are many times also warriors, he would grab his weapon!! OFTEN THE FIRST ARROW THE ENEMY ENCOUNTERS FLEW FROM THE WATCHMAN'S BOW!

Our position as watchmen today is to alert the body, and our position as warriors is to fight the enemy and prevent him from gaining a even a foothold on our ground. This is how we battle......with our words of truth. Our WORDS OF TRUTH go forth as mighty arrows in the fray. We know that the word of God is ALIVE, it's living, and as we speak it out, it is more powerful than a double-edged sword! We purpose to speak forth TRUTH as we see the enemy lurking around the camp. When we speak truth from the word of God, we are shielded from the enemy's return fire! Psalm 61:7 says that TRUTH preserves the righteous. Psalm 91 gives us this dramatic promise..."His TRUTH is a shield and protection." Our very words of truth act as a shield for us!

The enemy is on the prowl again. An archaic collection of lies about the Jewish people has been published on this site, and as watchmen on the walls, we stand and speak forth these arrows of truth:

"For Adonai will have compassion on Ya'akov--he will once again choose Israel and resettle them in their own land, where foreigners will join them, attaching themselves to the house of Ya'akov. Peoples will take and escort them to their homeland, and the house of Israel will possess them in the land of Adonai as male and female slaves. THEY WILL TAKE THEIR CAPTORS CAPTIVE AND RULE OVER THEIR OPPRESSORS." Is. 14:1,2

The Lord their God will save them on that day as the flock of His people. THEY WILL SPARKLE IN HIS HANDS LIKE JEWELS IN A CROWN. Zechariah 9:16

For the Lord has chosen Jacob to be His own, ISRAEL TO BE HIS TREASURED POSSESSION. Psalm 135:4

But you, O Israel, my servant, Jacob, whom I have chosen, you descendants of Abraham, My friend, I took you from the ends of the earth, from it's farthest corners I called you. I said, "You are My servant"; I HAVE CHOSEN YOU AND HAVE NOT REJECTED YOU. So do not fear, for I am with you; do not be dismayed, for I am your God. I will strengthen you and help you; I will uphold you with My righteous right hand. Isaiah 41:8-10

Those who speak lies about the Jewish people should tremble in fear. Attributing the despicable acts of the demon god Moloch to the Jewish people is a whisper from satan himself, as he feverishly works to destroy God's chosen people. Watchmen, let's not let these blasphemous lies regarding the sacrificing of humans by the Jews go unnoticed! As our position of watchmen demands, let's speak the truth about Israel, boldly, and with confidence that this truth is our shield! We proclaim that God loves Israel with an everlasting love, that He will NEVER break covenant with the nation of Israel, and that one day, all Israel will be saved, and will mourn over their Messiah, Yeshua of Nazareth, as one mourns over a first-born son! God has gathered the Jewish people in His arms and brought them back to their land; His arms are around them still, and His presence hovers over them today in the Land, from the Negev to the Golan Heights, as He waits patiently for them to return to Him. In that day, which WILL come, the word of the Lord will go forth from Zion, as Jewish evangelists minister the love of the Messiah to a crushed and war-torn world.

Let's fervently pray that those who print and speak lies about God's chosen people would become like Balaam, and that blessings would flow forth, instead of curses. Watchmen, don't be silent as we hear the whispers of the enemy at the gate! Arise and cry out! Let's take up our weapons, and respond to the lies of the enemy with words of truth from Adonai Tzva'ot himself.

Words of Warning

Dorothea Montague

http://www.angelfire.com/in/hislove
montagud@telus.net

My beloved people, I say unto you today, the time has come for you to hear again My words of warning regarding these end time days. Events which were prophesied by the prophets of old, to take place in these latter days are already in progress. here are wars and rumors of wars taking place in many parts of the world. Famine is prevailing in many places, pestilences, in the form of the Aids virus, has been suffered in many countries of the world, leaving multitudes of children orphaned and homeless. Earthquakes have been seen in parts of the world, taking the lives of many. Is this not the fulfillment of this Scripture?....

For nation will rise against nation, and kingdom against kingdom. And there will be famines, pestilences and earthquakes in various places. (Matt. 24:7)

O, My people, I have warned you in My Word and few of you have listened. I have warned you through the words of My prophets, whom I have sent forth and you have not listened. I am imploring you to diligently search the Scriptures for all the words I have spoken about events to take place in the last days of time, believe it to be truth and take it to heart. I tell you, My Word is truth and every word spoken of regarding the latter days shall surely come to pass. My children, seek Me in your prayer closets and I shall surely speak to each of you words of direction for what I desire you to do in preparation for times of tribulation.

Most important in making preparation to meet headlong the times of great tribulation already begun in the world is to be spiritually prepared. You must be walking in good standing with Me, with all sin in your lives confessed and forgiven and obedient to My will for your lives.

My people, My Word is filled with My great and precious promises and in spite of great tribulation in the world, all of My promises are true and available for everyone, to comfort you, to encourage you, to deliver you from fear, to guide you in all you do, to bring assurance of My sustaining power over you. Search out My promises and store them in your hearts.

Another phase of preparation for tribulation times is to prepare in the physical...the laying up of things you would have need of if shortages occur...shortage of services, shortage of water, shortage of food. Much information has been stored on the airwaves and many excellent books have been written about making preparation but My desire is that My people would simply seek My guidance and I will speak forth My direction for them.

My people, you must avoid the mind set of providing just for yourselves but rather with a desire to make preparation to help others for many will come out of the events with nothing to call their own. Do not be concerned about having enough because, as with the loaves and the fishes, I shall multiply what you have, if need be.

I say unto you, My beloved people, if you will trust in Me with all your hearts and lean not on your own understanding I shall reveal unto you the things you need to know regarding future events and the steps you need to take in preparing for any eventuality. Forgo all fear in your hearts, be at peace, knowing that My everlasting arms are around you and that I will never leave you nor forsake you.

What Pride Does To Revivals

Mark Squire

Why are so many revivals destroyed by excesses, counterfeits, leaders falling into sin, deception, etc? Is there some singular key they missed which will protect us from the same fate?

I believe there is and it is HUMILITY.

Let's have a think about the above areas:

COUNTERFEITS: Pride: Will jump in to be associated with whatever sounds good, wants to impress, allows whatever pulls the crowds, is not worried about what is going wrong as long as the good stuff is happening. Humility: Accepts wisdom and discernment from God, wants to be pure and holy, is not afraid to disappoint people, is careful with prohibiting and permitting.

TEMPTATION: Pride: Accepts small compromises, keeps secrets, focuses on the sin, attempts to resist in own strength, justifies self, entertains sinful thoughts, believes sin is not that bad. Humility: Glorifies God in every area, is transparent and honest, focuses on Christ's death as atonement, submits to God then resists the devil and flees youthful lust, brings self unto submission, takes every thought captive unto the obedience of Christ, knows all sin separates us from God.

DECEPTION: Pride: Follows the crowd, demands its way, cannot be corrected, judges by appearance, will change to become acceptable. Humility: Can challenge the crowd, evaluates it's way, is open to correction, looks for fruits and lets God show roots, will change to become Christ-like.

MISTAKES: Pride: Argues, decides hastily, is offended easily, tries to sound convincing, preserves ego, can be over-complicated or too simplistic, is insecure. Humility: Keeps away from profane and foolish arguments, takes time to consider and pray, gives grace, says it straight, preserves friendship, discerns and avoids distractions but recognizes other factors in an issue.

Let's add some more:

MUSIC: Pride: Plays what sounds good, entertains, over-organizes or is impulsive, follows own ideas. Humility: Selects lyrics which glorify God, worships in Spirit and truth, is orderly but listening, follows biblical values.

PREACHING: Pride: Convinces, exaggerates or plays down, attempts to be skillful, puts on an act. Humility: Teaches, talks straight, relies on God to guide and confirm, is honest.

AUTHORITY (LEADING): Pride: Pushes from the rear, manipulates, is domineering, boasts of self, enjoys position, Humility: Leads from the front, asks, is gentle, boasts only in the Lord, accepts responsibility.

AUTHORITY (FOLLOWING): Pride: Murmurs and complains, is resentful, flatters, is in for what they can get, usurps or divides. Humility: Upholds and supports, is respectful, praises genuinely, is in for what they can give. Submits or departs quietly.

ADMINISTRATION: Pride: Complicates matters, is angry when the smallest thing goes wrong, criticizes, wants everything it's own way, is careless. Humility: Makes things as simple and efficient as possible, accepts that nothing is perfect, compliments, listens to other ideas, is thorough.

The word "revival" already has a negative ring to many. If there was true humility, people would see the difference even before God moves.

Jonah 3:10 - "When God saw what they did, how they turned from their evil ways, God changed his mind about the calamity that he had said he would bring upon them; and he did not do it."

Why Revival Still Tarries

Chad Taylor

Why does revival still tarry? Because God's people still tarry. We have not left the porches of complacency and entered the battle field of humanity. We linger in the conference lines and meeting halls hoping the Lord will "touch us" one more time. It's not a touch of comfort God longs to give us but a taste of His fire. We need a baptism, not of water or of wine but of the fire of God. We have been intoxicated with conferences and Christian gatherings now we must escape the maze of meetings and begin to invade the marketplace. God is looking for those that will come to the awesome altar of sacrifice and leave their life there. That is the problem - we are still alive and striving to succeed when the Lord simply wants us to die. It is hard to be "crucified with Christ" when living is our best friend.

Why does revival still tarry? Because our hearts are yet unbroken. Our pride and dignity is still intact. When we see the tear stained faces of humanity we can still walk by untouched and without emotion. When Jesus saw them He wept. When Jesus was confronted by their poverty and sin He healed them. He left the favor of the ninety-nine for the shame of the one. His was a life of lack but more love, ours is a life of prosperity but no power. We have no revival because we have not wanted one. Oh, we have prayed for one but we have not lived like we wanted one. Revival is not a program it is a person. It's the moment you reach out beyond the tapestries and trappings of contemporary Christianity into the broken heart of your neighbor. The warm insulation of modern church has created a chasm of tradition that the lost dare not cross. Rather than bridge that gap we have only emphasized it by our traditions and left behind the wreckage of a generation. Jesus said it better, "Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none effect by your tradition..." (Matt 15:6).

Why does revival still tarry? Because we let the fire of it pass us by. We are still standing at the depot of empty experiences with our religious baggage and the train of revival has already passed. When Jesus looked over Jerusalem and wept he cried out, "If you had known, even you, especially in this your day, the things that make for your peace! But now they are hidden from your eyes." Revival had come to Jerusalem in the form of their Messiah and they never saw it. Their destruction as Jesus predicted only came because they did not discern the "day of their visitation." We have had a "day of visitation" for a three hundred years in American and by and large we have ignored it. Revival has been waiting for us on every street corner, every marketplace and every dark back drop of American experience but we have passed her by on our way to the next meeting... (Luke 19:42-44).

Revival still tarries because it is no longer our highest pursuit. We have chased everything but it. We have been unwilling to pay the price that revival still demands. Revival cannot be scheduled or dictated in a day planner, it interrupts and disorganizes everything. It turns over the tables of pre-planning and leaves you with divine chaos. It upsets and offends. It reminds us who is really in control of our lives - God. It tears off the roof of religious structure and lowers the sick in. It stops the parade of spiritual plagiarism and cries out, "Jesus Son of David have mercy on me!" It ruins self effort and leaves our hands empty of striving and fills our heart full with the rarefied boldness of divine inspiration. It cannot be managed or manipulated but simply received as we embrace the sacrificial lifestyle that it requires; less of me and more of Him. "He must increase, but I must decrease..." (John the Baptist - John 3:30).

Why does revival still tarry? Because we have learned to live without it. By far this is the most serious dilemma of them all. We have grown so accustomed and conditioned to live within a passive state rather than a passionate one we have become satisfied and content with the lesser. We live from Sunday to Sunday or meeting to meeting and our entire Christian experience orbits around it. I dare you to peak through the key hole of the impossible and see beyond our current conditioned rationale into a different world; a revived one. One where church is everyday and the lost are added to it perpetually. Where the intense pleasure of this Holy pursuit is not rationed to us by conference speakers and church etiquette. But is a constant and daily adventure where the blind can see, the deaf can hear, and the lame can walk. Where Samaria is saved and uttermost parts of earth hear our cry, "And he said, I beseech thee, shew me thy glory..." (Moses - Ex 33:18). Friend, revival still tarries because we do.

A PRAYER OF REVIVAL

Lord, I see my lack, I see the emptiness of my own works. I see the dead efforts of my own hands and like Cain I have tried to pass them off as righteous. Forgive me. Burn up the wood, hay and stubble of my own works and replace it with the refined gold of your will. Remove far from me the ritual and routine of modern religion and burn in Me Your passion for the reality of the Holy Spirit. Clean off the debris of dead works that clutters the altar of my heart and help me make a living sacrifice. Help me to give myself to you completely.

Once your fire has touched me and consumed me Lord, then brand my heart with your passion; the lost and the dying. Give me a divine revelation of what it means to take up my cross and follow You. Show me that apostolic creed, "That I may know him, and the power of his resurrection, and the fellowship of his sufferings, being made conformable unto his death..." Show me the what it means to suffer with you. To take upon myself the same pain that you feel for ones that are void of the knowledge of Your salvation. Show me the secret that, "If we suffer, we shall also reign with Him".

Lord, now show me how brief my time in this life is. If I can grasp that reality then I will live everyday as if it was my last one on this earth. I pray now with David, "Lord, remind me how brief my time on earth will be. Remind me that my days are numbered, and that my life is fleeing away..." Lord let me pour out my heart like water before Your face so that when You do come for me I am not fat and content but rather I am empty and poured out. Let me be a drink offering to you O Lord. Sip from the cup of my life and be satisfied. Search me and know me O Lord and see if there is any apathy in me that breeds indifference. Remove this far from O Lord and let me be a "the light of the world and a city upon a hill that cannot be hid." Let me be a blazing ensign of your life and death, your love and passion. Let me be revived O Lord.

(Phil 3:10, 2 Tim 2:12, Ps 39:4, Matt 5:14).

We Should Be Holy and Without Blame

Dorothea Montague

We Should be Holy and Without Blame

I speak unto you, My precious followers. You are My chosen ones, chosen to walk with Me before the beginning of time.

Just as He chose us in Him before the foundation of the world, that we should be holy and without blame before Him in love. (Ephes. 1:4)

Beloved, I knew each of you before the world was formed, I knew everyone who would be Mine. I orchestrated every detail of your lives. I allowed you to walk in strange paths and I drew you back to My side. I taught you My ways through times of suffering but always you knew that I walked with you and talked with you as I walked with Adam in the cool of the evening.

O, My children, I am raising you up to new levels of service for Me. I have heard your heart's cry for a deeper intimacy with Me and I am bringing you into a fresh, new relationship with Me.

~ I am giving you a new infilling of My Holy Spirit with greater power and anointing for ministry.
~ You are hearing My voice speaking to you as never before.
~ I am putting within you a great concern for those who do not know Me as Savior and a desire to win them for Me.
~ I am giving you a new compassion for those with sickness and disease in their bodies and you have become faithful in praying for healing for them.
~ I am giving you a new boldness to witness of Me and you are going forth to do so without fear.
~ I am giving you the Gifts of the Spirit I have chosen for you and you are manifesting them in your ministries.
~ I am giving you opportunities to pray for people and you are seeing miracles come into being as you do.

My dearly beloved people, I am raising you up to serve Me in greater power in these days of great tribulation which have come upon the world. I shall endue you with all the abilities you will need to proclaim Me before men and multitudes shall come to Me through your ministries. As you are faithful in serving Me, I shall watch over you and protect you from destruction. I shall use each of you according to the natural talents I have given you. Some I shall raise up to serve through their musical talents. Some will have a talent for speaking and shall minister in preaching and teaching. Some will have talents in administration and will serve in that area. Some will have talents in prayer and shall pray for others with great faith and power. To some I have given the ability for great understanding of the Scriptures and they shall speak them forth with all knowledge. To all of you I shall give some expertise which will determine the way in which you will minister.

My people, I am raising up a great army to go forth in these last days, equipped with all they will need to minister to the multitudes. You know that My Scriptures concerning the last days are fast being fulfilled and that great troubles shall come upon the world. I tell you, My precious followers, as you continue to be faithful in your prayers, faithful in studying My Word, I shall protect you and bring forth great fruit from your ministries. I shall supply your needs and help you to supply the needs of all whom you encounter.

> Arise, shine; for your light has come! And the glory of the Lord is risen upon you. For behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and deep darkness the people; but the Lord will arise over you, and His glory will be seen upon you. (Isa. 60:1,2)

Watchmen! Do not hesitate to sound MY warnings! Yes, I have given many warnings in the time since the 911 episode and you have been diligent in sounding MY warnings. I AM would say this to the ones that HE has called to go and prophesy judgment to cities, nations and countries, but as Jonah you have run to hide from ME though you know that I have raised you up to be

MY Prophets. You have gone through trying circumstances and things have seemed to go to hell in your life even though you weren't physically swallowed by a giant fish, you were swallowed up in the adverse circumstances in the sea of your turmoil because of your disobedience to MY calling. Finally you admitted that your disobedience to ME had been the cause of the trouble surrounding you and those about you, even though they were not to blame. Yes, you did not want to prophesy the seemingly terrible word that I gave you even though you know that I AM a loving and forgiving GOD! I would say to you as I said to MY prophet Jonah, "do you do well to be angry with ME?" Yet when you cried out to ME from the midst of your troubles I spoke and you were delivered from them. Yet a second time I spoke MY Word into you and you were diligent in going and proclaiming MY Word and you saw the people take the Word into their hearts and repent and you saw that I deferred MY Judgment because of their repentance. Again you became angry because I did not carry out MY Word of Judgment upon the land and the people. Again, I would say to you, "do you do well to be angry with ME?"

Know this of a surety MY Chosen and Called Prophets, I AM a merciful and Loving Father yet I AM also a GOD of MY Word! That which has been prophesied according to MY will shall come to pass in its allotted time!

I would say to you that as Jonah had pity on the gourd that withered, should I not have compassion upon those that have heard MY Word and repented?

I would say again to those who have prophesied MY Judgments and are angry with ME because they have not come to pass, "Do you do well to be angry with ME???

Amen! So Let It Be!

Blessed Be The Sovereign Ruler!

Joe Ortiz

This is a chapter excerpted from Joe Ortiz’ new book The End Times Passover

The main thrust of most Pre-Tribulation doctrines is based on how proponents interpret the word "left" as used in Luke 17:34 – 36. After reading this chapter, you will be convinced beyond a shadow of a doubt that the Left Behind theory has no biblical legs to stand on.

Chapter 2 - Who’s Taken, Who’s Left, At What Rapture?

Before we examine and present biblical evidence as to how God is going to protect His called out ones during the increased times of tribulation that precede the return of Christ, through what we call the End Times Passover, the author finds it necessary to make some critical observations about the language that has been used for many years concerning God’s End Times rescue program, especially the part theorists call The Rapture! The author also wants to clear up, once and for all, the issue of who’s taken and who’s left.

Let’s first examine closely the phrase that most theorists use in connection with what they believe is the ecclesia’s “blessed hope,” which they refer to as The Rapture. What do proponents of a Pre-Tribulation escape from earth to heaven mean when they call God’s rescue of His church the “blessed hope?” Do they mean that the “blessed hope” spoken about in Titus 2:13 is The Rapture, the catching up to heaven aspect, and thereby is the single most important part of God’s overall redemption program?

Let’s examine the scriptural passage most often referred to by theorists, which they claim is the primary scripture source of this unauthorized coined phrase: The Rapture!

> For the Lord himself come down from heaven, with a loud command, with the voice of the archangel and with the trumpet call or God, and the dead in Christ will rise first. 17 After that, we who are still alive and are left will be caught up with them in the clouds to meet the Lord in the air. And so we will be with the Lord forever. 18 Therefore encourage each other with these words, (1 Thessalonians 4:16-18, NIV). [Underline and bold is by the author, solely for emphasis]

John F. Walvoord, in his book The Rapture Question (page 12), states that “The word rapture is from rapere, found in the expression “caught up” in the Latin translation of 1 Thessalonians 4:17.” George Eldon Ladd, in his book The Blessed Hope (page 78), states “The word “Rapture” is derived from the Latin word rapio which is found in the Latin Bible in verse 17 and translated “caught.” Hal Lindsey, in his book The Rapture (page 24), states that “The word rapture comes from a Latin translation of the Greek word harpazo in 1 Thessalonians 4:17 which is translated in English as “caught up.” It literally means “to seize” or “to snatch.” If I had my way, I would call the rapture “the great snatch.”

Regardless of which rendering you prefer, all three of these gentlemen believe that the so-called “The Rapture” phrase originates from the Greek verb harpazo. The author checked in W. E. Vine’s book, An Expository Dictionary of Biblical Words, for the meaning of the word “rapture,” and the word “rapture” does not appear in his dictionary, whatsoever. Neither does Vine have any category in his Greek Dictionary for the word caught nor caught up, only for the words snatch, pluck, pull and take. This is what Vine states is the definition for the word catch:

> Catch: HAPRAZO, a verb, to snatch or catch away, is said of the act of the Spirit of > the Lord in regard to Philip in Acts 8:39; of Paul in being caught up to Paradise, 2 Cor. 12:2, 4; of the rapture of the saints at the returning of the Lord, l Thess. 4:17; of the rapture of the man child in the vision of Rev. 12:5. This verb conveys the idea of force suddenly exercised, as in Matt. 11:12, "take (it) by force;" 12:29, "spoil" (some mss. have diarpazo here); in 13:19 RV., "snatcheth;" for forceful seizure, see also John 6:15, 10:12, 28, 29; Acts 23:10; in Jude 23, RV. "snatching." See Pluck, Pull, Snatch, and Take (by force). (W. E. Vine, An Expository Dictionary of Biblical Words, Thomas Nelson Publishers, page 166) [Bold and underline is by the author, solely for emphasis]

Let's briefly examine the Greek word harpazo and the scriptures where this word is used. Once again, the word harpazo is the Greek verb for pluck, catch, snatch and take, and it is never used as a noun, pronoun or proper noun. The author might add that the word up is not included after the word caught in 1 Thessalonians 4:17. We first find the word harpazo in Matthew 11:12, where it is used about the Kingdom of God, where violent men take by force; in Matthew 12:29, where Jesus, while talking to the Pharisees, states "how can anyone enter a strong man's house and carry off his possessions unless he first ties up the strong man." We see harpazo again in Matthew 13:19, in Jesus' parable of the sower, where He states, "When anyone hears the message about the Kingdom and does not understand it, the evil one comes and snatches away what was sown in the heart." The word harpazo is again used in John 6:28, where we see that Jesus knew that the people were going to try to take Him by force and make Him King. Harpazo is again used in John 10:12, where Jesus, referring to Himself as "The Good Shepherd," talks about the wolf who attacks the flock and scatters it, the wolf being an example of the Devil and the flock being the example of His sheep (called out ones). Further in John 10:28, 29, we see Jesus proclaiming that His sheep listen to His voice, they follow Him, He gives them eternal life, they will never perish and no one can snatch them out of His hand. Jesus goes on to say, "My Father, who has given them to me, is greater than all; no one can snatch them out of my Father's hand."

In Acts 8:39, the verb harpazo is found in the original manuscript where we see the apostle Philip being snatched by the Spirit to Azotus; and, in Acts 23:10, it is used again to describe when the apostle Paul is taken by force to the Roman barracks. In 2 Corinthians 12:4, the Greek verb harpazo again is used to describe Paul being caught into paradise (he didn't know if in spirit or body), but not up to paradise. The word up does not follow the word caught in this verse, but, rather, the preposition into (Gr. eis). The most well known scripture where the Greek verb harpazo is used is found in 1 Thessalonians 4:17, where we see Paul exhorting the believers that they will be caught to meet the Lord in the air. You will notice very carefully though, that this verse doesn't say they will be caught up to heaven, but rather, caught together to meet the Lord in the air. [There is more to follow on this verse in another chapter]

We see the word harpazo used also in Jude 23, where the author exhorts the saints to be merciful and snatch others from fire; and, in Revelation 12:5, the verb harpazo is used to describe the male child (Jesus) who was snatched to God and His throne. In this verse also we do not see the word up used after caught or snatched.

The question we would pose to theorists, dispensationalists and our readers, too, is this: Would it be proper to say in Matthew 11:12 that the Kingdom of God is raptured by violent men? Would it be proper to say in Matthew 12:29 that someone enters a strong man's house and raptures what was sown in the heart? Would it be proper to say in John 6:15 that the people were trying to rapture Jesus and make Him King? Would it be proper to say in John 10:12 that the wolf raptures the flock and scatters it? Does it make any sense at all to say in John 10:28 and 29 that no one can rapture the sheep from Jesus' or the Father's hand? If we were to accept the theorists' contention that the word harpazo is to be interpreted as rapture, then we would also have to apply the word rapture to all of the above-mentioned verses that contain the word harpazo.

In Acts 8:39, it describes where the apostle Philip is snatched by the Spirit to Azotus, but does it state that Philip was snatched up to Azotus? Not at all! If we can truly discern the exact rendering of the word harpazo, we can see that it does not convey where a person is snatched to, but rather, the Greek verb harpazo means the manner in which the person was snatched. This verse merely describes the forceful manner in which Philip was transported from his location on the desert road, where he had finished ministering to the Ethiopian eunuch, and then appeared at Azotus. Would it be proper to say that Philip was raptured to Azotus? Of course not! This verse merely tells us that Philip was quickly and forcefully transported by the Spirit from where he was to Azotus! In Jude 23, the word harpazo is used to describe how the Christian should snatch a person from a life of sin and escape the fire of wrath to come. Would it be proper to say we are to rapture them from sin or from fire?

With the exception of Revelation 12:5, where it talks about the male child (Jesus) who was snatched to God and His throne, and possibly in the account where Paul speaks about him being caught into the third heaven (he didn't know if it was in body or spirit), it appears that when the word harpazo is used, it does not refer to anyone being taken up but merely the forceful manner in which they are transported. Some theorists have argued that Paul definitely entered into heaven, even though Paul himself was not certain whether he was plucked in the body or spirit; however, we can rightly state that Paul did not bodily enter into heaven because 1 Corinthians 15:50 tells us that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God. We must conclude then that Paul has not seen heaven and is the only person in history who has been allowed to hear (not see) unspeakable words, which is not lawful for man to utter, (2 Corinthians 12:4, KJV).

More importantly, while many theorists believe that the Christian Church will experience a secret catching up to heaven, an event theorists claim will be unseen by those who will supposedly be left behind, nowhere in 1 Thessalonians 4:17 nor any other place in the Bible does it make that specific claim! However it does specifically state that God's ecclesia will be caught to meet the Lord in the air, but the verse (in the original manuscript) does not say that the Christian Church is caught up to heaven. It merely states that the called out ones will be caught (Gr. harpazo, snatched) together with those who sleep in Christ to have a meeting (Gr. noun apentesis, a meeting, officially greet arriving royalty) with Jesus in the air, and henceforth will be with Him forever. The author might add that this verse does not say at what specific location the ecclesia will be at with Him after it is caught; however, this location will become clearly and abundantly identified later in this book!

In Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary, the English word rapture is defined as a noun from the Latin raptus, which means "a state or experience of being carried away by overwhelming emotion; a mystical experience in which the spirit is exalted to acknowledge things; an expression or manifestation of ecstasy or passion." Theorists contend that their doctrinal phrase "The Rapture" (which has become predominately accepted, if not wholly adopted, by the dispensational community) is a pronoun that describes the most anticipated special event by many in the Christian community. They believe they have correctly coined this anticipated event, The Rapture (now a proper noun), based solely on their interpretation of the Greek verb harpazo. They now interpret the verb (hapazo) as a noun (rapture), feeling it is derived from the Latinization of the verb to "seize." The Latin for "seize" is definitely rapere, from whence comes the Latin noun raptus, the past participle of rapere, from the Middle English. However, the Latin noun raptus has more to do with the completed act in where a person has been seized and carried away. It does not imply the manner (as does the verb harpazo) in which a person is carried away. Therefore, the Greek verb harpazo is not to be deciphered as an event that has transpired, but rather, it denotes the manner in which a person is being seized.

In essence, theorists have been using the Greek verb harpazo not only as a noun, but they also have coined a proper noun (The Rapture) for this action, which is truly altering the word of God! The word caught in 1Thessalonians 4:17 is not a noun, but rather, the word caught (Greek verb harpazo) here is describing the rapidity and forceful manner in which a person is lifted or carried off. Theorists continue, as they have for over two hundred years - when the word Rapture was coined to describe the action they believe is being described in 1 Thessalonians 4:17, to rest their doctrinal beliefs on this interpretation as being biblical truth. That the verb harpazo is so carelessly used to describe an event rather than the manner in which God's ecclesia will be caught to have a meeting (Gr. apentesis, official greeting of royalty) with the arriving Christ (the royalty of all royalties) truly boggles the mind!

Without appearing picayune in this matter, myths are too often formed in such a presumptuous and careless manner. This phrase "The Rapture" has gained such worldwide acceptance these last two hundred years, especially by modern-day theorists and evangelists who incessantly infer that "the blessed hope" is the being caught part of God's overall redemption program. The blessed hope is more than the being caught to meet the Lord in the air portion of God's overall redemption program; it entails so much more. Matthew Henry, in his commentary on the book of Titus, Chapter 2, elaborates the totality of the blessed hope of God's called out ones:

> There is a common and blessed hope for all true Christians in the other world. If in this life only they had hope in Christ, they were of all men the most miserable, 1 Co. 15:19. By hope is meant the thing hoped for, namely, Christ himself, who is called our hope (1 Tim. 1:1), and blessedness in and through him, even riches of glory (Eph. 1:18), hence fitly termed here that blessed hope. [2.] The design of the gospel is to stir up all to a good life by this blessed hope. Gird up the loins of your mind, be sober, and hope to the end for the grace that is to be brought unto you at the revelation of Jesus Christ, 1 Pt. 1:13. To the same purport here, Denying ungodliness and worldly lusts, live soberly, righteously, and godly, in this present world, looking for the blessed hope; not as mercenaries, but as dutiful and thankful Christian. What manner of persons ought you to be in all holy conversation and godliness, looking for and hastening to the coming of the day of God! 2 Pt. 3:11, 12. Looking and hastening, that is, expecting and diligently preparing for it. [3.] At, and in, the glorious appearing of Christ will the blessed hope of Christians be attained; for their felicity will be this, to be where he is, and to behold his glory, Jn. 17:24. The glory of the great God and our Saviour will then break out as the sun. Though in the exercise of his judiciary power he will appear as the Son of man, yet will he be mightily declared to be the Son of God too. The divinity, which on earth was much veiled, will shine out then as the sun in its strength. Hence the work and design of the gospel are to raise the heart to wait for this second appearing of Christ. We are begotten again to a lively hope of it (1 Pt. 1:3), turned to serve the living God, and wait for his Son from heaven, 1 Th. 1:9, 10. Christians are marked by this, expecting their Master's coming (Lu. 12:36), loving his appearance, 2 Tim. 4:8. Let us the look to this hope; let our loins be girt, and our lights burning, and ourselves like those who wait for their Lord; the day or hour we know not, but he that shall come will come, and will not tarry, Heb. 10:37. [4.] The comfort and joy of Christians are that their Saviour is the great God, and will gloriously manifest himself at his second coming. Power and love, majesty and mercy, will then appear together in the highest lustre, to the terror and confusion of the wicked, but to the everlasting triumph and rejoicing of the godly. Were he not thus the great God, and not a mere creature, he could not be their Saviour, nor their hope. (Matthew Henry, Commentary on Titus 2) [Bold and underlines is by the author, solely for emphasis]

No, the blessed hope is not merely the being caught (or Raptured, as theorists call that act), it is the totality of God's redemption program, as Matthew Henry so eloquently presents in his commentary. Unfortunately, a myriad of dispensationalists and Rapture theorists continue to present their soothing mythology to hundreds of thousands of Christians, thereby lulling many into a false sense of hope, one that mitigates the impending persecutions Christians will experience before The Second Advent of Jesus Christ. Unfortunately, these theorists have conveniently and cleverly twisted the words of God to infer a pseudo hope for the Christian, by giving new meaning to one single verb in the Bible. Unfortunately, the Rapture has become the mantra for theorists who believe that the (caught) act is the blessed hope spoken of in Titus, Chapter 2. The Greek verb harpazo, which merely describes the rapid and forceful manner that called out ones will be gathered together to have a meeting in the air with Christ, has now become the blessed hope for most Christians; simply by interpreting a verb (harpazo) into a proper noun they call The Rapture!

One graphic example the author often uses to explain the inference we are dealing with here is one where a great rescue of a valiant soldier in a war zone has been planned. Let's say, for example, the battle-weary soldier is finally going to be reunited with his commander after having served for many years in battle, where for three and a half years he has been involved in hand-to-hand combat. He's war-torn and weary, a victim of many bayonet and bullets wounds, almost to the point of death. He is now a prisoner of his enemies, a victim of much torture and persecution. But he waits and waits, never losing faith, always praying that soon he will be rescued from this ordeal. Then, lo and behold, he looks up and there he sees a helicopter coming in his direction, armed and loaded with ammunition, and his commander is at the controls. Suddenly, he sees this giant, knotted rope coming down, he reaches up and grabs a hold of it and, within a twinkling of an eye, he is "snatched" and delivered from the horrors he has been experiencing. Allow the author to ask this question. "What is the most important thing the soldier was hoping for? The being snatched up part or the fact that finally he would be going to meet with his commander and never have to experience combat again?" Yes, the "snatching" process was very important because he knew then, at that exact moment, he would no longer have to do battle again. However, during his combat period, he was not concerned so much about the specifics of his rescue, but rather, how much longer it would take before his commander came to destroy his enemies and reunite him with his fellow soldiers, family and friends. Unfortunately, too many Christians are more caught up with the process of the rescue than they are in the true blessed hope, which is the glorious appearing, return and being reunited with Jesus Christ!

The point the author is trying to make here is that there are millions of Christians who believe deeply in the so-called Rapture theory and have become so convinced that now that they are "Born Again" Christians, they can continue the remainder of their earthly journey without fear of having to experience great tribulation. However, too many Christians are resting their hopes on an unproven theory that claims they will be secretly "caught up" to heaven at any moment, which the author is convinced that scripture reveals will not be the case. As we will see in later chapters, the phrase The Rapture has lulled many Christians into a wishful thinking state that could very well catch them off guard and, more importantly, impede the growth and maturing process that will be necessary to spiritually deal with the reality of the coming tribulation.

The author believes that scripture clearly spell out the three-step phase of God's Rescue Program as it relates to 1 Thessalonians 4:16-17, where the so-called The Rapture theory originates. No scripture in the Bible specifies that the "blessed hope" is fulfilled by being "caught up" to heaven; but, rather, the being "caught" to have a meeting in the air with Jesus is the second part of the overall three-stage rescue process that culminates in our being reunited with Jesus Christ, our Lord and our God, who will return to reign on earth, forever!

Let's look at what the Bible says is the first stage:

> Listen, I tell you a mystery: We will not all sleep, but we will all be changed – 52 in a flash, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trumpet. For the trumpet will sound, the dead will be raised imperishable, and we will be changed. 53 for the perishable must clothe itself with the imperishable and the mortal with immorality. 54 When the perishable has been clothed with the imperishable, and the mortal with immortality, then the saying that is written will come true: "Death has been swallowed up in victory, (1 Corinthians 15:51-53, NIV). [Bold and underline is by the author, solely for emphasis]

In these passages, we see a graphic description of The Resurrection, where the main emphasis is solely on the being "changed" phase of God's rescue process. No mention is made in these verses about being "caught up" to heaven because Paul here is providing discernment pertaining solely to the mystery of the instantaneous transition (in the 'twinkling of an eye') phase that precedes the being "caught" described in 1 Thessalonians 4:17. Paul states that the perishable must put on the imperishable, and the mortal must put on immortality. He states that this will happen at the last trumpet which harmonizes not only with 1 Thessalonians 4:16, but also with Matthew 24:31 and Revelation 11:15-18, which describes the fulfillment of The Resurrection and the subsequent rewarding of the saints (vs. 18). This passage will be discussed later in greater detail, as will other passages pertaining to this subject from the Book of Revelation.

Phase Two of God's Rescue Program is the part where called out ones will be "caught" together with those that sleep in Christ to have a "meeting" with the Lord in the air! According to Strong's Exhaustive Concordance, the word "meet" in 1 Thessalonians 4:17 is not the Greek verb apantao, to go to meet, to meet, but it's the Greek noun apantesis, which is best defined as a meeting where one welcomes another. This is what W. E. Vine says about this Greek noun:

> "APANTESIS, a meeting (akin to Apantao, apo, from antao, to meet with, come face to face with), occurs in Mat. 25:6 (in some Mss in verse 2, and in 27:32, in some Mss); Acts 28:1; 1 Thess. 4:17. It is used in the papyri of a newly arriving magistrate. It seems that the special idea of the word was the official welcome of a newly arrived dignitary (Moulton, Greek Test. Gram. Vol. 1, p. 14)." (W. E. Vine, An Expository Dictionary of Biblical Words, Thomas Nelson Publishing, pages 729,730) [Bold and underline is by the author, solely for emphasis]

According to Vine, the Greek noun apantesis does entail "to meet with, come face to face with;" however, he says that the meaning relates more so with the welcoming of an arriving dignitary. This word apantesis is used only four times in the Bible, and it means the same thing each time: to not only have a face-to-face meeting, but to greet, welcome and then to escort back the persons you had the meeting with! In Acts 28:15, we see the word apantesis used as Paul was talking about fellow Christian brothers who had heard that Paul and 276 of his companions were coming to Rome, and they went outside of the city, as far as the Forum of Appius and the Three Taverns to have a meeting (apantesis) with them. They met them and then they escorted them back to the city! The same word is used in the parable of the five faithful virgins that went to meet (apantesis) the arriving bridegroom then escorted him back to the wedding banquet, mentioned in Matthew 25: 1 and 6. Many theorists use the parable of the five virgins as proof that they went to meet the bridegroom and then supposedly went up to heaven with Him. However, further in the parable, we see the other five virgins who did not have the oil knocking on the door where the wedding banquet was being held, pleading for the Lord to open the door. Mere logic dictates that these unprepared virgins could not have been at heaven's gate. [More on this aspect in another chapter] Nevertheless, in each of the four cases where the word apantesis is used, it always describes a face-to-face meeting, but the greater definition is one that specifically describes a welcome meeting to escort the arriving party back to where the greeters came from!

The best example the author can use of what the word apantesis truly means in 1 Thessalonians 4:17, and the other scripture just cited, is comparable to when a group of people gather together at an airport to greet a visiting dignitary. Whenever the President of the United States or the Queen of England visits each other's country, you will always find a welcoming committee comprised of very special people. You might find some people standing behind the fence trying to get a glimpse of the dignitaries, but only the "chosen ones" are allowed "to meet" with the VIPs, and thereby, share in the glory of the arriving royalty. Therein lays the reason why there cannot be a secret 'snatching up' of any believers solely to return to heaven, anywhere from three and a half to seven years, because the returning Christ wants the whole world to see that those who believe in Him will be rewarded for their faith, patience and trust, and consequently share in His Glory! A beautiful example of this truth is found in Colossians 3:4 which states, "When Christ, who is your life, appears, then you also will appear with Him in glory." In Philippians 3:20, it explicitly tells us that although our citizenship is in heaven, the verse goes on to state that, we eagerly await a Savior from there, the Lord Jesus Christ, who by the power that enables Him to bring everything under His control, will transform our lowly bodies so that they will be like His glorious body, (Philippians 3:20, 21, NIV). [Underline is by the author, solely for emphasis] Also, in 1 Thessalonians 2:19, Paul is telling the saints in Thessalonica what the "blessed hope" really is, and when it is fulfilled:

> For what is our hope, our joy or the crown in which we will glory in the presence of our Lord when He comes? Is it not you? Indeed, you are our glory and joy, (1 Thessalonians 2:19 [Bold and underline is by the author, solely for emphasis]

Therefore, is the so-called "The Rapture," the being caught (Gr. verb harpazo) part of the Lord's return a special event, unto itself?" No! It is one aspect of God's rescue plan; however, it is not a specially named event that the Bible identifies, as it enunciates proper pronouns such as the Sabbath Day or the Passover. Theorists foolishly contend and grammatically err that the verb harpazo should now be equated as the Latin noun raptus, and therefore the verb caught should now be viewed as a pronoun: The Rapture!

There are four special aspects to God's end time rescue plan, and it appears that they are instantaneous to a certain degree; however, there is a procession aspect to the main event which scripture plainly states in harmony with the passages cited. Number one is the change (Gr. allasso, to make other than it is) spoken of in 1 Corinthians 15:52, which does not entail nor describes any removal or translation to heaven. This is where the perishable puts on the imperishable and the mortal puts on the immortal "in the twinkling of an eye." The second stage is when the called out ones are caught (Gr. harpazo, snatched), not necessarily in the twinkling of an eye, but forcefully; both those who have already died and are currently asleep in Christ, and those who will be alive and awaiting His return. The next stage is when we will meet (Gr. apantesis, a meeting), the noun for a welcoming face-to-face meeting with the Lord in the air, and then escort Him back to earth as we share in His visible glory, and then to begin the kingdom reign on earth with Him forever! Then there is the fourth phase, where we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ; that every one may receive the things done in his body, according to that he hath done, whether it be good or bad, (2 Corinthians 5:10, KJV). [Detailed discussions on the Judgment Seat of Christ follow in other chapters of this book]

The author understands how convenient it has been these many years for numerous scholars to refer to God's total rescue plan in the pronoun tense by calling it The Rapture. However, upon close scrutiny of what the scriptures truly say, and how they harmonize with the passages we have cited, it appears to the author that calling this snatching part of God's rescue program The Blessed Hope certainly detracts from the intent of what God's Word plainly states. There is no mystery in what He is conveying to us. God, in the person of Jesus Christ, will return to earth to rule and reign in visible glory. There is absolutely no need for the Lord to secretly step down from His heavenly throne to snatch a group of people out of this world and return back to heaven for a period of time unbeknownst to any besides those who wish this were the case. [The author will be deal with this topic in greater detail in a later chapter.]

The main point we want to make is that to refer to one aspect (the catch part) of God's rescue program, as being significantly more important than His overall "blessed hope" redemption plan, is harmful to the growth and maturation needed by believers, who must be spiritually ready for the great and increasing times of persecutions that Christians will be experiencing in future times, and the horrific events that must precede His arrival.

Another example of how theorists erroneously use scripture to pad their secret Pre, Mid or Post Tribulation Rapture to heaven theories is found in their interpretation of Luke 17:34, 35. Let's read these two verses very carefully, but first beginning with the four preceding verses in this chapter. In attempts to validate their left behind schemes, implying called out ones will be taken to heaven while the unjust will remain on earth to suffer God's wrath, they primarily quote Luke 17, verses 30 through 35:

> It will be just like this on the day the Son of Man is revealed. 31 On that day no one who is on the roof of his house, with his goods inside, should go down to get them. Likewise, no one in the field should go back for anything. 32 Remember Lot's wife! Whoever tries to keep his life will lose it, and whoever loses his life will preserve it. 34 I tell you, on that night two people will be in one bed, one will be taken and the other left. 35 Two women will be grinding grain together; one will be taken and the other left, (Luke 17:30-35, NIV). [Bold and underline is by the author, solely for emphasis]

Some Bibles have included another verse here, 36, which reads: "Two men shall be in the field; one shall be taken, and the other left." Nevertheless, the message is clear that regardless of marital status or working relationships of these individuals, when the Son of Man is revealed, these verses clearly state that one person will be punished and the other spared from God's wrath. The true sadness, however, is the manner in which many in the evangelical and dispensationalist community erroneously interpret these verses to support their secret escape to heaven theories. Too often have preachers and teachers of the Gospel interpreted this verse to read that those taken are the ones that will supposedly be caught up to heaven and the ones left are supposedly those who will be punished and sent to hell! Let's examine very carefully the exact meaning of these two words: taken and left!

According to W. E. Vine, the word taken (or receive) is the Greek verb paralambano, which means to "receive, to take to (or with) oneself." (W. E. Vine, An Expository Dictionary of Biblical Words, Thomas Nelson Publishers, Pages 926 and 1117). Vine states that paralambano is used in Matthew 27:27, as we see Jesus being taken into the Praetorium where He was beaten immediately prior to His crucifixion. It is interesting to see that the Greek word paralambano is not used for the word taken in Acts 1:2, where it speaks about Jesus will be taken up to heaven. The word there is analambano (Gr. ana, up, lambano, take). Nor is paralambano used in Acts 1:9 to describe Him being taken up to heaven in Acts 1:9. The Greek word used to describe Jesus being taken up to heaven in Acts 1:9 is epairo (to lift, raise). The word paralambano describes more so a forceful action of taking and receiving unto oneself without asking. Also, paralambano obviously does not convey the rapid manner the Greek word harpazo (catch or snatch) used in the famous verse (1 Thessalonians 4:17) from where theorists' base most of their secret Pre-Tribulation escape theory.

We also see the word paralambano used in John 19:16 where it speaks about Jesus Christ, when Pilate delivered him over to the Jews: And they took Jesus and led Him away, (John 19:16, KJV). We see paralambano again in Acts 15:39, when Barnabas, after having a sharp disagreement with Paul, took Mark and sailed for Cyprus. We see paralambano again in Acts 16:33, where Silas and Paul's jailer took them and washed their wounds after the earthquake incident. In Acts 21:24, we again see paralambano used for the word take in the scene where Paul exhorts James and the elders to take the four men among them and join in their purification rites so as not to start rumors that Paul is encouraging Jews to turn away from the Law. In verse 32, the word is again used to describe the Roman commander who took some officers and soldiers to rescue Paul from the aroused crowd in Jerusalem. In Acts 23:18, we also see paralambano used to describe the incident where Paul commanded one of the centurions to take the young man to his commander to relay the message that the Jews were contemplating a plot to kill Paul.

These have been but a few examples where paralambano means to take, took or taken. This Greek word is also used to describe the word receive, or to receive from another. We see the usage in Mark 7:4, where the Pharisees received (from tradition) certain edicts pertaining to the cleansing of cups, pots, pitchers and themselves prior to eating. We see this word in John 1:11, where it speaks about Jesus coming to His own (the Jews) who did not receive Him. In John 14:3, the word is used to describe how Jesus will receive those who are His when He returns at The Second Advent. Some would say this describes the process used at the so-called Rapture; however, the receiving here is not the being caught (harpazo) to have a meeting with the Lord in the air that we see in 1 Thessalonians 4:17, but rather, what we see is the receiving unto Himself (or to His side) when He sets up His earthly kingdom. The word in this verse (John 14:3) is not analambano (to take up), but paralambano (to take or grasp to Himself). This verse, as we will see later on, is not describing the so-called Rapture-to-heaven scenario. We see the word again in 1 Corinthians 11:23, where Paul, speaking about the manner in which the Lord's Supper is to be partaken, states that he received instruction from the Lord not to partake the Lord's Supper unworthily. Moreover, what Paul received was the realization that Jesus died for our sins (1 Corinthians. 15:1, 3) and that the Lord's Supper was to be an honored memorial of this fact, not to be desecrated by orgiastic ribaldry, as had become the communion ritual in the Corinthian church. In Galatians 1:9, we see paralambano again as Paul exhorts that specific church to accurse the man who preaches a gospel contrary to the one they had received. This was the true gospel Paul spoke about, because he neither was taught nor received it from man, but through a revelation of Jesus Christ (vs. 12). In Philippians 4:19, Paul once again reiterates the need for Christians to practice the things we have learned, heard, seen and received from Him, another example where paralambano is used.

There are many other instances too numerous to mention where the word paralambano is used and, in each case, like the ones we have examined, none are ever used to describe or picture the catching up of any individual or group to heaven. In other words, paralambano describes a taking unto oneself or receiving unto oneself, as one would forcefully seize hold of something for further action.

Let's now examine the word left used in Luke 17:34, 35. The Greek word for left is aphiemi and, much to many peoples' surprise, the word means, *to forgive! W. E. Vine states that aphiemi has three chief meanings, but it primarily means to send forth, send away (apo, from, hiemi, to send), besides its other meanings, to remit or forgive (a) debts, Matt. 6:12, 18:27, 32, these being completely canceled; (b) sins, e.g., Matt. 9:2, 5, 6; 12:31, 32; Acts 8:22 ("the thought of thine heart") Romans 4:7; James 5:15; 1 John 1:9, 1:12. Vine goes on to state that aphiemi, like its corresponding noun (aphesis, a dismissal, release), it "firstly signifies the remission of the punishment due to sinful conduct, the deliverance of the sinner from the penalty divinely, and therefore righteously, imposed; secondly, it involves the complete removal of the cause of offense; such remission is based upon the vicarious and propitiatory sacrifice of Christ.*" Obviously, those who are left are the forgiven ones, and those taken are the ones who are bound for punishment. Obviously, those saints are the same ones spoken of in 1 Thessalonians 4:15 and 17 who will be alive and awaiting the return of Christ. Vine, speaking about those called out ones who remain (alive) on earth before the Lord returns, also defines the word remain with another Greek word, perileipo He states perileipo means "to leave over," is used in the Passive Voice in 1Thessalonians 4:15 an 17. He says the RV translates perileipo as they "that are left," and the King James Version translate perileipo as they "that remain," literally, "left over," i.e., "the living believers at the Lord's return." (W. E. Vine*, An Expository Dictionary Of Biblical Words,* Thomas Nelson Publishers, pages 452, 655, 656, 661, 1103).

It is interesting to note, and extremely important to mention, that the word aphiemi, in Luke 17:34, 35, is the same word used in the Lord's Prayer (Matthew 6:12; Luke 11:4) where it states: "And forgive (aphiemi) us our debts, as we also have forgiven (aphiemi) our debtors." [Parenthesis by the author, solely for emphasis]

Having now seen the precise definition of these two Greek words, can there be any doubt in the reader's mind as to who is taken (paralambano, taken aside) and who is left (aphiemi, forgiven)? But yet, thousands of preachers and Bible teachers, dispensationalists and Rapture theorists daily use these verses (Luke 17, 34, 35) as depicting those taken as the ones who are secretly caught up to heaven, and those left as the ones who are left behind to suffer the wrath of God for a seven-year period of time. The even sadder commentary on theorists who ignorantly interpret these verses in such a haphazard manner is the fact that the following verse, in Luke 17:37, specifically (and ever so clearly) informs us as to the destination of those who are taken. Verse 37 reads: "Where, Lord?" They asked. He replied: "Where there is a dead body, there the vultures will gather." In light of the proper interpretation of the word left (aphiemi, to forgive), it's obvious that the disciples are asking where will those taken be sent. They couldn't be asking where those left would be taken. They would already be there!

No! My friends! Christians aren't taken anywhere! They are left alone, passed over, forgiven. Unbelievers are the ones taken, as they are seized and bound, as the tares apart from God's wheat spoken of in Matthew 13:30, NIV: "Let both grow together until the harvest: and in the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, Gather ye together first the tares, and bind them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn! In Matthew 13:40, we see when they (tares) will be burned up: *As the weeds are pulled up and burned in the fire, so it will be at the end of the age, (Matthew 13:40, NIV). Here we see a perfect picture of Jesus instructing His angels to bind unbelievers in preparation to be burned, while at the same time providing his called out ones protection inside His End Times Passover barn (See Isaiah 26:20) while He pours out His wrath on the unbelievers. And He performs this at the end of the age, (Matthew 13:40, NIV). [Underline by the author, solely for emphasis]

Once again, as has been the case too often, many theorists' exegesis begins to crumble under extensive examination, due to their lack of knowledge of the precise and true meaning of key words and scriptural verses they use to pad their secret pre-tribulation escape theories.

Even more disconcerting is the pervasive and incessant promulgation of these left behind mythologies that permeate the Christian publishing and video markets of today, which are deluding millions of Christians into a false sense of security, motivated more so by profit and temporal fame. The author makes no apologies to these writers and preachers in regards to this matter. While there exists much love by the author for all those who claim to speak God's gospel truth about who is taken and who is left, claiming that those taken are Christians and those left behind are the heathen, it is inexcusable to persist in this folly when the word of God clearly states His children are left (Gr. aphiemi, forgiven) alone when He returns.

Words That Changed My Life

Various Sources

Jul 1, 2004
Often God speaks in one-liners, or sentences that have changed my life. Some of these were spoken directly to me by the Spirit of God, but many are from others. I have taken the liberty of posting some of these in hopes that they bless you as they have me.

Should you have some of these valuable "eye-popping" revelations, please send them to us that they may be shared...Clay [Sikes, Lighthouse Prophecy List.]

The sin of presumption often hides itself in noble purposes

What I do in god's sight is not so important as why I am doing it

Seldom do our circumstances change without something in us changing first

Circumstances do not make the man, they reveal him to himself

Ignorance often comes disguised as tradition

God blesses our obedience, not our activity

Situation must be married to revelation. Until your revelation works in your situation, you don't really have a revelation

Cowardice to face hard issues creates frustration, and frustration dissipates energy

Where The Lord is About to Move

Bill Yount

"WHERE THE DEVIL IS ATTACKING YOU, IS WHERE THE NEXT GREATEST MOVE OF GOD IS COMING IN POWER!"

Where the enemy is attacking you right now is the very place God is about to move... so hold on! "When the enemy comes in like a flood; the Spirit of the Lord 'will raise up' a standard against him." The enemy almost always will give away the next move of God. The enemy makes his move first but do you see in this scripture and throughout God's word that God always has the last move that ends in victory? The enemy sends the flood of doubts, fear and unbelief first to try to stop us, for he knows that the battle is already turning in our favor, for the Spirit of the Lord has already started to raise up a standard against him, coming to wipe him out and set us free, before the battle even starts. It's a fixed fight! That's why it's called the 'good fight' of faith!

I asked the Father. "Lord, in what area are you going to move next in the earth?" He answered. "In healing... I've already started."

Kathyrn Kuhlman always began her meetings with four words. "I believe in miracles!" It didn't seem to matter to her who else agreed with her. There would be atheists, unbelievers and many coming were hoping to be healed saying, "Lord, I believe, but help my unbelief!" No sooner did Kathyrn Kuhlman speak those words and the atmosphere became electrified in the huge auditoriums and down in the overflow rooms in the basement as miracles started exploding inside of bodies whether they were believers or not! She knew there was always one other person in that meeting that really believed in miracles even more than she did... God Himself!

I believe our 'believing system' in the Body of Christ has been broken down and become weakened over the years. Our problem is that we have seen many casualties over the years in many areas; especially in healing. We are in a war. In a war when a soldier friend goes down and dies, the rest of the army doesn't give up and quit fighting. They don't stop believing they are going to win. They fight all the more harder with all they got inside of them! Besides that soldier did not die in vain for it is like throwing gasoline on the fire to win the war! You got even more reason to fight to win now!

Did you know that when you are fighting a personal battle that you are not fighting just for your own victory? You are fighting for multitudes. That's why you must not quit. For when you get your healing.... healed people heal people! Delivered people deliver people! Victory is contagious. It sweeps through the family, through the whole church and out into the world! Saved people save people! The devil trembles when he sees you getting up after a major blow has knocked the wind out of you!

We are called to believe in miracles and healing no matter what happens. God is the one who heals, not us. A brother who was pastoring a church once shared how the whole church was praying for a fourteen year old child who was dying apart from a miracle. Everyone was fasting and praying and believing. The child eventually went on to be with Jesus. The pastor cried out to God asking what could he have done more to see that child healed? He felt he just didn't do enough and felt responsible for failing the child. The Lord answered this pastor. "The person who takes the blame when I don't move, will be the same person who takes the glory when I do!" We are not the healer, God is. We are called believers and are called to believe for as long as we have breath. Healing is God's business.

I have seen more people healed recently when I didn't even feel like praying for them. God is weaning us from feelings. It's the prayer of faith that saves the sick. It takes more faith to pray for someone when you don't even feel like praying for anyone, for you know you need prayer yourself! But that is what pleases God... our faith, not our feelings.

I believe the Passion of the Christ movie was divinely released in this moment of history so the world could watch the scourging and crucifixion. There have been reports when the scourging was being viewed that many people actually stood up in the theaters and screamed out... that's enough, stop! Mel Gibson explained how he actually played down the scourging by showing other scenes at times. He knew that if we really saw it as long and as brutal as it was that no one would be able to leave the theaters in their right minds! I believe the scourging was allowed to stand out so clear and long because the Lord wanted to let us all get a close up view and know that "by those stripes we were healed! I paid this much for your healing. It's yours! Contend for it until you get it"

Mel Gibson battled everyday fear, doubt, unbelief and wondered at times what on earth was he doing as he was producing the Passion of the Christ. Hollywood thought he was crazy. No one wanted to invest in the movie so he put his own money into it. The Passion of the Christ so far has earned over 600 million dollars! (Poor Mel) Sounds like Jesus was on his side!

Whatever the enemy is telling you right now, believe the opposite. If he is telling you, you will never make it, start shouting and jumping up and down for he is a liar and the truth is not in him. He can only tell lies. So if you believe the opposite of what he is saying, you will know the truth of your situation and the truth will make you free, healed and delivered!

The fact that you are still alive today makes you a living miracle! Since you are a miracle, it makes it easier to believe for another one!

The Blood Of Jesus
Bill Yount

THE BLOOD OF JESUS IS STILL ON YOUR FRONT DOOR...AND IT JUST WON'T WASH AWAY!"

The announcement was coming forth loud and clear in the midst of hurricane winds and severe storms that were beating against houses, threatening to destroy them.

The enemy was bombarding the front doors of these houses to get into the minds of the believers who were inside. Winds of accusations were being hurled against the very foundation, shaking the house, rattling hinges of windows and doors. One deadly accusation to bring down the house was through convincing the believer inside to doubt God's promise to keep them and save their whole household. However, the most fatal accusation hit the front door hard, for there was some truth in it. "You have sinned! Look at what you have done! You have blown it! God will never forgive you this time! He is through with you and your family!"

"Let the Blood of My Son Answer the Front Door...!"

I immediately heard the Father proclaim to the angels who were already encamping round about these houses, "Tell every trembling believer, 'The blood of Jesus is still on your front door...and it just won't wash away! Don't answer the enemy! Let the blood of My Son answer the front door and speak of better things for you!'"

I heard the blood of Jesus speaking from the front door of these houses to the enemy, "Mr. devil, they have sinned, but I have never known sin! Tell Me what sin is like, for you were the very first to fall! Tell Me, what does it really feel like to blow it for eternity? By the way, I love sinners! I gave My life for them! Where sin abounds My grace much more abounds. I have forgiven billions of sins a billion times over. For when my people confess their sin, I am faithful and just to forgive them and to cleanse them from all unrighteousness! And when I forgive, I have chosen to forget that they have ever sinned against Me. So, if they ever sin again, it is like they are sinning for the very first time! That is how My goodness leads men to repentance."

The winds and storms were stilled by the red blood that kept right on speaking from your front door and mine!

"And Put a Candle in the Window...Someone is Coming Home!"

Concerning our lost family members, the blood of Jesus went on to proclaim loud and clear, "Kill the fatted calf! Get the robes out! Get the rings and the shoes ready...Someone is coming home! Set another plate at the table. Put a candle in the window. Stretch that scarlet thread out the window pane and let it hang as a life line. And get ready to answer the telephone and the front door when they knock...Someone is coming home!"

Where The Pharisees Went Wrong

John Fischer

Jul 28, 2004

The year was 1970, and I was an intern at a strong Bible-teaching church in California. At every staff Bible study, I felt like a novice in the company of experts. My New American Standard Bible was no match for the Greek New Testaments that lay open on every lap but mine. The pastors would look at what was no more than hieroglyphics to me and tell me what it meant. It was always more profound and carried more weight than what I had in my Bible.

Before long, I found that a concordance and a Greek lexicon made me privy to the same power. Soon I was able to say, as a leader of my own Bible study, "But the Greek says . . . " And suddenly, I was the authority over anyone whose Bible was, unfortunately for them, only in English.

This delight in the trumping power of a text now recalls to me something about the Pharisees of Jesus' day. Once, when the temple guards failed to arrest Jesus, the Pharisees complained to them:

You mean he has deceived you also? . . . Has any of the rulers or of the Pharisees believed in him? No! But this mob that knows nothing of the law--there is a curse on them. --Jn. 7:48-49

If the mob was ignorant of the law, there could be only one reason for their ignorance: The Pharisees kept them that way. The Pharisees made it their job to study and know the Scriptures in order to gain the upper hand on the things of God and keep the rest of the people in the dark. For the Pharisees, the Scriptures had ceased to be a form of revelation. "Manipulation" better describes their use of the sacred texts. By them they engineered and justified their own righteousness, and by them they controlled others. By the time Jesus arrived on the scene, their misuse of the Scriptures was glaringly obvious, but, most likely, the steps that got them there were not.

Because we are all prone to pharisaical attitudes, we'd be wise to check for any of these tendencies in our own lives and ministries. By determining where the Pharisees went wrong in their handling of Scripture, we can make sure we are not inadvertently traveling a similar path.

There have been times in my life when I have selected a Bible by its size and weight. The bigger and heavier the Bible, I thought, the more spiritual its carrier. During the Jesus movement, we used to wrap our Bibles in thick leather covers with snaps on them. With one of these in my hand, I felt spiritually dauntless.

The Pharisees went one step beyond this. They didn't just carry the Scriptures around; they wore them. Phylacteries--small boxes containing miniature Scriptures--hung from their robes and even dangled from their foreheads. But carrying the Scriptures or wearing them means little if their meaning is not written on the heart. The power is not in the physical book. The power of Scripture lies in its ability to connect us to God, and, with the Holy Spirit illumining our hearts, to open our understanding of Him and His ways.

When my wife first attended dinner in my parents' home, she was frustrated by our practice of reading Scripture before the blessing. We read from a compilation of various passages on a specific topic for each day. Her problem, she told me later, was that the reading was never discussed. She wanted to stop and mull over even one of the verses; but instead, portions of eight or nine verses rushed by without comment, and we were suddenly digging into our mashed potatoes without giving any thought to the truth we had just heard. We were somehow expecting the text itself to balance out the worldliness of the day and make us into a "good Christian family." But if we don't give thought to what we hear, what good is the hearing?

In the Scriptures, the Pharisees discovered a neat system by which they could establish and maintain their own righteousness while condemning others who didn't measure up. Now in order to do this, they had to constantly read into Scripture what wasn't actually there. In essence, they rewrote the law. They made the Scriptures say what they wanted them to say.

As I think about the concordances and lexicons that made me an instant expert on the text, I see a similar flaw in my use of the Scriptures. Without properly understanding the original languages and how various words are used and interpreted, I can, with a few tools, come up with several different meanings of one English word. Then I can conveniently select the word I like the best--the one that suits my purposes. I struggle with this constantly in my personal Bible study: finding out what the Scriptures actually say versus what I want them to say. We evangelicals even have a word for this: prooftexting, that is, the practice of finding scriptures to prove our point.

Do we come to the Bible to find out what God says or to find support for what we want to say? Jesus had to constantly reinterpret the law to the Pharisees, because their interpretation had become more important to them than what God had intended when He gave the Scriptures to His people.

I once read a book warning Christian parents about the dangers of rock and roll. The author resolved most of his problems with this issue by "standing on the word of God." Yet the Scriptures say nothing about rock and roll, not to mention countless other aspects of our contemporary lives. We constantly use the Bible with great authority on individual issues such as these as if we had God's final word on the subject. When we do so, we edge dangerously close to becoming Pharisees.

Think of the wealth of Scriptures the Pharisees had available to them: the narratives of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Moses, and Joshua; the daring stories of the judges; the compromises of the kings; David's psalms; the poetry and wisdom of Solomon; the words of the prophets--all revealing God and His ways with His people. But the Pharisees reduced it all to "take no more than so many steps on the Sabbath, wash your hands before eating, tithe a tenth of your spices, etc." What a shame! They shrank the law to something they could actually keep, and failed to discover its essence: "You have neglected the more important matters of the law--justice, mercy and faithfulness" (Mt. 23:23) .

But do we not do the same when we turn the Bible into a mere answer book for all the detailed questions of our lives? Do we want our questions answered or do we want to know God? Do we want remedies, or do we want Jesus? Do we want to make our lives successful, or do we want to worship the Lord of life?

"You diligently study the Scriptures," said Jesus to the Pharisees, "because you think that by them you possess eternal life. These are the Scriptures that testify about me, yet you refuse to come to me to have life" (Jn. 5:39-40). There is something greater behind this book--something (or I should say "Someone") its pages were given to reveal. If our study of the Scriptures leads us somewhere other than to God, we have stopped too soon. The Pharisees couldn't see Jesus because they were too busy counting their steps.

We do the same thing only we have fancier words for it. We come away from Scripture with principles for living or steps for success or codes of conduct, but if we don't come away with a deeper knowledge of Jesus, what good are all these principles, steps, and codes? Are we not just like the Pharisees?

The Bible is not primarily a manual for living, a sourcebook of sayings, a treasure of spiritual nuggets, or even a road map to heaven. It is a book that reveals to us who God is and how we can enter into and maintain a relationship with Him through Jesus Christ. Whenever we turn it into a practical means of getting somewhere other than to the feet of Jesus, we are falling for the lure of the Pharisees.

When we cling to the great truth that the Scriptures are given to us so that we might know Jesus, the Son of God, the source of new life, then we can avoid the traps of the Pharisees. Anything else can start us down a road where we possess the Scriptures but lose sight of why.

What The Spirit Is Saying

Susan Cummings

A Summary of what the Spirit is currently saying to us in our meetings:

1. We have a short period of Grace open to us, to quickly respond to the Lord and to clean up our lives so that He can transform us into new wineskins that can be filled with the greater anointing that is needed for now.

2. We must lay aside every weight and sin that has kept us from advancing and from obtaining the portion of the Lord's Grace that He has for us.

3. We must lay aside our former ideas and mindsets of what we think God is going to do, and what we will be doing, and sit at His Feet and learn new, because everything is going to radically change.

4. We will not be doing what we're doing now, in the same way soon. We must be equipped for the new day upon us. We cannot go forth with old weapons, methods, and doctrines that have not worked, but must have the mind of the Lord and His Wisdom as to how to proceed.

5. We must be filled with the Lord's Power and His Presence, as He alone will be our Portion and Source. We will no longer depend on others, but He alone will be our God, and will walk with us, as He will now reside fully within us, and we will be clothed within and upon with HIMSELF, as with a garment of Fire.

6. He alone will be seen, as we will be carriers of His Glory. We will not market the Lord or merchandise God's People anymore to profit by and fleece them with God's Word or things.

7. God is Holy and we will be Holy or we will not be God's. We will follow Him wholly, or we will not at all.

8. Church as usual, is over. No longer will we hold the normal worldly services, but more and more, the Lord will take over, as HE IS THE SERVICE, and He is the MEETING. He will inhabit the tents of His Raising and not the man made tents.

9. His Fire is coming upon those vessels who have purged themselves and have made themselves ready, and it is now clothing them, as the latter day outpouring that we will need to reap the harvest that is upon us. It is a Holy Impartaion and Commissioning that God is pouring out upon those He will use as the Torchbearers who will run with it.

10. There is no more playing with His Anointing. There is no more throwing it around irreverently and as advertisement. God is a Jealous God and will not let man defile His Glory. He will judge those who misrepresent Him and His Anointing.

The Fear of the Lord is returning to His House.

11. He will not tolerate the abuse and misuse of His Name anymore. Those who don't fear Him and surrender to their pride, He will judge severely.

12. Those who intentionally preach His Word with a wrong heart or attitude in the pulpit and misrepresent God and His Word, will be judged and will even die in the meetings and the pulpit.

The days of killing the sheep and starving them for their own profit are over.

13. Those who will not bow their knee now to God, will fall. They will either embrace the sword of chastening and correction or they will fall under the sword of destruction.

14. God is marking those who are His. They will know Him intimately, and will come away from what is unclean. Those who reject this last call, will remain in their sins and will remain in darkness and torment. The sealing of His People who weep over their sin and the churches sin has begun, and when it is finished, the widespread massive persecution and destruction of those not marked will begin. Either we are God's or we are not. Zech 7-11.

15. Massive changes are upon us. Major shifts are about to happen, and we either will be founded upon the rock of Jesus Christ, or we will be swept away in the chaos and fear. We will either stand firmly in His Light or we will be absolutely taken over by the darkness that will have its rule.

16. The greatest days are ahead for the remnant. We are rising up, full of the Lord, and in right relationship. We know who we are, and who He is. We are fully prepared to stand in this last day, and will reap a harvest by His Strength and with His Plan. No longer will we labor in our own, but only as led by Him. He is the Lord of this Harvest.

It is totally His, an we will not make our name on it or touch it, for it is Holy Unto Him.

17. It is time. The rains have begun in God's House. The Fire has begun to be poured out upon us. The Winds have begun to blow upon us and to place us in our positions. Now it is time to prepare to run. Great Grace has been given to us, for the harvest.

18. The remnant will be a Body. We will flow as One Tea, as one Body of the Lord. We all have our portion, and duty, and will walk in agreement with the Lord, and serve one another with respect and love. There is no big I and little U anymore.

19. The Scrolls that have been sealed up for our end time generation have now begun to be opened and understood. Men have charted God's endtime plans to death, and still are blind. Many will be surprised at their blindness of the Word, and what God will do in their midst, and they will mourn at how they missed the Truth, and interpretation. It is later than most think. God does what He wants, when He wants to, His Way, and not how we think it will happen or how we tell Him to. His Word is True and it is being unrolled and is now happening before our eyes. The babes can see it and know what time it is......

WAKE UP!!!!!!!

It's Not About Us-- It's About HIM.

God will be seen and we will know that He is in control and we will bow before Him.

The Great Race
Susan Cummings

The crowd was buzzing and the excitement was in the air. There were many people lined up along the highway, crowded together, as they waited for the race to end. Many had been waiting for a long time, and they were ready for the end to come. Others had came in little by little, and now the crowd had swelled to a great crowd.

The race had been running for awhile, and there were many entries. As in many races, many had fallen out for various accident reasons, and many had quit for lack of endurance. Those who were running this lap were those who were coming forth to pass the torch to the next group who would then take their part in the race.

I could hear the crowd getting very excited as they saw the first torchbearer run up the stretch of track into their view. This runner had on a very bright red colored outfit and had his torch high in his hand. He was very tired, but also very excited to run the race and to finish. He ran up to his area and sure enough, a runner stood waiting for the torch to come to him. Great cheers rose up for this runner and it's new partner that now took the torch and began his run.

Then, it quieted down for a minute or two, and another runner came into view. This runner had on a bright blue outfit, and also ran with his torch held high. He was very excited for he knew that he also had came into view of the end. He was met with great cheers from the crowds. He passed his torch to the person that was waiting in position for him to pass it to them. He then began his run.

After several moments, two more runners came into view. Both were also clothed in bright colored outfits. One was green, and one was orange. Both were running together as if to help each other run. Neither competed, but ran in sight of each other. They also passed their torches to their waiting counterparts. The crowd clapped for them, but did not cheer.

More continued to come, and the crowd seemed less excited. They seemed to get bored, after the initial excitement of the first wave of runners passed their views. The runners also were not as excited, and were not as glad to finish as they did not place high in the race.

As I watched, some of the crowd began to leave, as they got their thrill from the first few runners. Some began to complain about how long it was taking the others to run the race. I watched as some were not even wanting to get into their position to take the torch being passed by, as the outcome did not benefit them, and they would not be noticed or get an award for running.

The atmosphere was beginning to dim, and so was the patience of the people. Most did not cheer anymore, and only some clapped, and few were thankful. Many had left for other places.

Then, towards the end of the race, I saw Jesus come walking up. He had been in the race and was walking down the track holding out his hands which were burning with the flames. He was a living torch. He was not dressed in bright clothing, but in a simple garment that hung just below his knees. Everyone just watched him, and no one was in position to take the flames from his hands. No one cheered, no one clapped, no one was excited. No one moved.

Jesus walked by the people, holding out his burning hands. No one came forth.

Then, after a seeming long moment, as I was wondering why no one came forth, a small boy, about 5 or 6 years old, Came out from the crowd. He reached out to Jesus with his little hands, and asked if He could have the fire. Jesus smiled, and reached down, and gave it to the boy. The fire leaped into the boys hands, and he ran down the track with the fire burning in his hands as it did Jesus'.

Jesus then looked at the people.

The Lord then said, "Men want fame, fortune, and applause of men. They will be the first to run and take another man's mantle, anointing, and position. They will cheer, clap, and trample one another to get in line, and run with another's vision, but they will not pay the price to get their own from Me."

"They will run when it is good, and when there is an award, and a crowd to see them, and when they know that there will be others that depend on them or who will help them along. People love to elevate other people, and to promote themselves and advertise their achievements."

“Where are My runners?”

“Where are those who run for the sake of the call, and for the gospel’s sake?”

“Where are those who only desire to please Me, and not to be seen by men who only will use them?”

“Where are those who won’t seek after other men’s mantles, anointings, and positions, but who seek for their own portion?”

“Where are those who run with endurance and joy, the race that I set before them?”

“Where are they?”

“I say to you, that they are now stepping forth from the shadows of the false ones, and will not care for other people’s torches, but will want the Fire that come from Me, and I will ignite them. They will not carry a man given torch, but they will BE a Living Torch for all to see. Men cannot pass this fire on, nor can they counterfeit it. As it is only given by My Father. It is Holy. It is Costly. It is My Truth.”

“Men will not cheer as these run forth, as they know they do not want to pay the price of becoming My Torches. They look down upon My Burning Ones, but I say to you, the world is not worthy of Mine who now run. They will receive their reward from My Father in Heaven and not from men.”

“They will run with the True Fire, the Fire of My Holiness. They will run into the darkness and release My Word.”

“The False Fire has run it’s course, and now My Hidden Ones will come forth.”

When The Towers Fall

Conrad Lampan

Isaiah 30:18-25

This passage speaks both of real towers of power on Isaiah's day and symbolically to everything that means power, military might, financial power, political powers, and so forth that stand in the way of God, including church power for which the Holy Spirit is not the source. One cannot help but think of September 11 when reading verse 25: "In the day the towers fall"

I see a very prophetic connection between this passage and our present day struggles, and the condition of the church and God's promises towards her, as it shows that God's blessings are linked to the fall of the power of flesh, so that no flesh will glory in His presence. Nobody can look lightly on September 11 or make light comments or point fingers, or use the tragedy of the Twin Towers to accuse each other; however we cannot deny that God was saying something in the midst of tragedy.

The whole section is in fact a big promise, and speaks of promises of restoration (v. 18), no more weeping (v. 19), safety (v. 19), clarity of guidance from the Lord (v. 21), healing (v.26), great harvest (v. 23), holiness (v. 22), rains (v. 23), rivers and streams (v. 25) however it is very interesting that suddenly in the middle of all the promises he introduces an odd remark "in the day of the great slaughter, when the towers fall".

If we really believe that the Bible is God's word then we cannot expect Him to bless us while endorsing our ways. God's blessings are linked to His ways not ours. That is what He means when He says that the blessings are being restored "in the day the towers fall". Revival, and all the blessings linked to it are also linked to holiness, and if we do not change our ways into His ways, it will be linked also to judgment.

As odd as this comment may seem, there is a big warning of love in the falling of the Twin Towers. David Wilkerson prophesied quite a few years ago about a big tragedy and turmoil to befall New York city. However, he said recently that what he saw prophetically shown to him by God was not the falling of the Twin Towers but a rather much worse sequence of tragedies. From this view point we can say that September 11 is a warning of love to avoid much greater pains that will surely come if we do not take heed to His words.

Many are praying for revival, and it is my prayer and hope that many more will join the army of pray-ers seeking God's face for revival. However the Lord says as He did in Haggai's time: "meditate in your ways!" When we pray for revival one of two things will have to happen: we either humble ourselves, or He will humble us. (1st Chronicles 7:14). Argentina was blessed by a mighty revival that some consider to be the longest revival in history. However few looked at one important fact: right before the revival exploded in 1982 Argentina was humbled. The Falkland/Malvinas islands war was lost (Argentina prided herself in that she never lost a war in all her history). That year we had a 1500 percent inflation rate. And so forth too long to explain here, but the fact is that before revival came the humbling.

If we do not want to humble ourselves we better do not pray for revival because praying for revival necessarily implies humbling. In other words when we pray for revival we are asking God to humble us. Revival is linked to every thing lofty being brought low.

Walking With Angels

Timothy Snodgrass

Dec 17, 2004
In what ways are we to think like angels? I was shocked to learn that so many were offended by my statement that "we are to think like angels", as if the mere idea was blasphemy; but again I say to you, unless we can begin to throw off our old habitual ways of thinking, and begin to walk in the holiness and steadfastness exhibited in angels, we will not survive the days ahead. The church must undergo total reformation of our thoughts, and conform our minds to the mind of Christ, walking as angels walk under the unction and obedience to the Holy Spirit. Of course we are not to worship or focus our lives on angels, but we can learn by their example, and one of their greatest examples is a life based on holiness. These angelic beings, who live and dwell in the presence of God, would never dream of committing an act of sin or walking short of the glory of God, because it would cost them the anointing and their intimate fellowship with the Holy Spirit. We must live the same way, a life of purity and holiness if we are to dwell in the presence of God. We must learn to think the same way if we are to overcome in the days ahead, taking our orders not from man, but directly from the Throne, whereas it is important that we will be at the right place at the right time during some of the coming judgments which are about to manifest. The greatest place of refuge cannot be found on a map, but is a life of purity, holiness and intimacy with God.

Blessings,

What Will The New Year Bring

Stephen Hanson

Dec. 16, 2004

ISA 60:2 See, darkness covers the earth and thick darkness is over the peoples, but the LORD rises upon you and his glory appears over you.

JOEL 2:2 a day of darkness and gloom, a day of clouds and blackness. Like dawn spreading across the mountains a large and mighty army comes, such as never was of old nor ever will be in ages to come.

“In this season you are preparing for the new year and the new year’s activities. What will the new year bring? What will you face? Will activities and circumstances go on as usual? I tell you that the borders of your country will be breached. I tell you that that man that you have been looking for will be found out. The war will continue with Iraq. This man who has helped plot many terrorist developments will be found out. Life will seemingly go on as usual, but the darkness invades the land. You are living in a time when all of these events are pointing to my soon return. “

Working With You To Eradicate Shame
Sandy Warner

Nov 22, 2004
I AM doing a work among you that will help wash off the layers of shame. I have earnestly waited for you and will work with you until our union is complete. This shame that stands between us, as hidden and lurking veils, has to go. I will do whatever is necessary to remove every layer until you are squeaky clean. Always know there is no shame in love. Learn to relax in My love and you will no longer feel shame. It is that simple.

Cooperate with Me that as I draw the wounds of shame to the surface, you will see the truth of who you are in Me, and release the shame and let Me eradicate it from your life forever.

Isa 61:6-7 NKJV
But you shall be named the priests of the LORD, they shall call you the servants of our God. You shall eat the riches of the Gentiles, and in their glory you shall boast. Instead of your shame you shall have double honor, and instead of confusion they shall rejoice in their portion. Therefore in their land they shall possess double; Everlasting joy shall be theirs.

A Way Through The Heart Of Stone
Sandy Warner

Nov 24, 2004
My beloved Bride, pack all your cares away and leave them with Me. Lean heavily upon Me as you sup with your roots grounded in My love. I understand your weaknesses and feelings of vulnerabilities, I also once walked the earth, you know. Always remember, it is not about your own power, but My power working through you. As you experience your weakness, draw deeply from our well and never retreat. I AM moving you forward into your place. I AM sending you and preparing you for leadership. Now trust Me.

Right now your emotions seem to be up and down and all around. I also understand this and want you to understand. As I AM moving you into your place, I AM also doing heart surgery. I AM opening a way through your heart of stone, this heart that is well barricaded with years of mortar for protection. I AM knocking upon the door of your heart with yearnings and wooing and tender caresses, I AM drawing you with the fragrance of My poignant spices. As you enter into this new place, you will be overcome with the rich smell of My Presence and passionate longings to embrace your heart. As you finally let go and let the climax of our union come to fruition, your heart will pulse once again. This stone of an existence you once knew will spring to life and pulsate with vibrate color and rich sounds that are unique to you.

Watch now, as I move you into the new beginnings with growing foundations that are solid, healthy and strong. Your hearts are becoming tenderized after many years of loss, pain, tragedy and sorrow. Allow Me access to do this work within you I greatly rejoice in you, My beloved ones, - always.

I understand this is greatly disconcerting to you, - to feel so vulnerable and without protection. You see the risks of loss and can not fathom a recovery should a tragedy take place. Precious one, know that I AM the Great Doctor. I do all things well. I will not abandon you, I will never leave you, I AM your destiny. Yes, volunteer love is different than the security of legal contracts. Consider this, that I too have weighed the risks and I have chosen to love you as you are, to embrace you as My own, and to call you My friend. Love is like that.

Ezek 11:19-21 NKJV
Then I will give them one heart, and I will put a new spirit within them, and take the stony heart out of their flesh, and give them a heart of flesh,20 that they may walk in My statutes and keep My judgments and do them; and they shall be My people, and I will be their God.

An Arrow In The Sky
Sandy Warner

Nov 23, 2004

Consider the geese when they fly in the sky,
Lined up like an arrow, when they pass by.
In oneness they move, united in synch.
One after the other, they are so linked.

They move forward to comfortable weather.
It is their instinct to stay together
As I plant in their hearts this common ground,
Of moving on and following the sound.

They are noisy as they move overhead.
While some stay for winter, these press on instead.
With vision and purpose they flap their wings.
Through the cold air, forsaking winter's sting.

Taking the brunt of the opposing air
The lead bird is strengthened against what's there.
I pour into him the strength of My might
As he seeks the landscape for promise in sight.

As he takes his place all others follow suit,
Then together they move on in one pursuit.
He takes his watch at the tip of the arrow.
Setting forehead like flint through bone and marrow.

He's fulfilling his time with faithful passing.
He can hear other flocks gathered and massing.
It strengthens resolve to proceed past winter,
Behind him is frozen from cold endured. .

Before him is comfort and warmth and rest.
As he flaps his wings opposing the test.
He knows My way through instinct in his heart.
With resolve inside, he shield's fiery darts.

From the unit he's leading, he takes the brunt.
Their sound from behind braces him out front.
Should he grow tired, they all change places.
For another to watch, releasing My graces.

So consider the birds as they fly in the air,
And know your position to stay in prayer.
I AM moving you forward to a better place.
Follow My calling and soar with My pace.

Ps 124:7-8 NLT
We escaped like a bird from a hunter's trap. The trap is broken, and we are free! Our help is from the LORD, who made the heavens and the earth.

I Preserve My Remnant
Sandy Warner

Nov 23, 2004

Throughout the throngs of history's making
I've preserved a remnant not forsaken.
Having forged the way through straight and narrow,
There remains today My quickened arrow.

Pressed through denominations and movements,
Like diamonds constrained among sediment,
My jewels of glory find their compressed way
Amidst growing darkness in the last days.

My clock keeps ticking with the sands of time
While My own separate as wholly Mine.
In the fear of their God they do tremble,
As others fall away and disassemble.

I allow stumbling blocks to bring a wedge
Trying the hearts of all those who have pledged.
Every person must decide at the line.
Demarcation is My way, to help redefine.

In these last days all mixture will divide,
As men set their minds and hearts to decide.
Strong meat is here, the menu for the day.
Hard to be chewed, there is no other way.

The holy and the righteous will stand apart.

While the unjust and the filthy will depart.
In the world and in the church all will see
Who belongs to Me with great clarity.

The ones who belong, lay low in My fear
Lest they too are deceived from what they hear.
Those who are sure will have willful mind-sets
Repeating and rewinding old cassettes.

Those who have learned not to trust themselves
Will find the book of Truth upon My shelf.
It reveals the hearts of those that are tender
Having born the fruit of decisions rendered.

They have learned from their mistakes how to win,
To lean upon Me and walk away from sin.
While others play with fire without feeling heat,
My own know the real, having faced defeat.

Strangers that are there will no longer be
At one with My own, building unity.
It is sad for all when the line is drawn
As My glory arises at this break of dawn.

Those who are in the middle of despair
As they mourn over those no longer there,
Must find My truth, resisting compromise,
Uniting their stand among those who are wise.

They shall shine like stars in the blackened sky.
As the darkness presses in on those who deny
The Truth of My Word and all that it contains
About My holy seed, the remnant that remains.

Behold great darkness shall cover the earth,
The people greatly squeezed amid its girth.
But those that know the glory of their Lord
Will have died to self and all that they hoard.

Know ye not the One Whose hand is Sovereign?
Turning the earth, stirring hearts, whisked to churn.
He's the final One Whom all men must face
To know glory or the shame of disgrace.

So humbly bow low before Your Maker.
Pray to discern and to know what is sure.
He will guide and preserve His precious seed,
As His glory arises through faith and deed.

They fear each step lest they fall away too,
Not hiding their light as the dawn breaks anew.
Putting deeds to their faith and walk each day,
As signs unto Him, pointing towards His way.

His remnant is alive overcoming history.

Preserving a holy remnant, is His mystery.
Soon to be revealed His fullness of redemption.
As His own make known their promise of adoption.

Isa 60:1-2 KJV
Arise, shine; for thy light is come, and the glory of the LORD is risen upon thee. For, behold, the darkness shall cover the earth, and gross darkness the people: but the LORD shall arise upon thee, and his glory shall be seen upon thee.

To Stir Your Faith
Sandy Warner

Nov 23, 2004

I love you My dear ones, stand strong in Me.
I hear you calling over wobbly knees.
Tis your faith that's tried in the fires of life,
Tis your faith that's wounded from surgery's knife.

Yes, the enemy intended destruction
As faith simmered or' the fires of reduction.
Persevered to pray for one another's faith,
It boiled down from the weakness of disgrace.

You felt tossed and turned from the trials of life.
Rolled over with the punches and laid down strife.
I kept you from burning as I stirred your pot,
While you waited on Me to cook the whole lot.

Yes, the soup was hot, much too hot to taste.
It cooled a bit, couldn't hurry its pace.
I AM the Master, the great Master Chef.
My work is perfect as you taste what's left.

To stretch and grow has been hard on you.
Sifting came and went through transition too.
The time is up and you're in a new place,
No more pain from remorse or disgrace.

It is I that moved from one place to another
As you held onto Me and prayed for each other.
You prayed for more faith, to be stable and set
You prayed to be cleansed and without regret.

I heard your prayers and you trusted in Me.
That I do all things well as you bowed your knee.
Keep on praying until your hearts are settled.
From all that was tossed and turned disheveled.

Your prayers are multiplied for many in despair.
They know not their Father and how much I care. .
Your time has been multiplied over and again.
You have broken through ground and you will mend.

Their pain is much worse than you can imagine.
What you have tasted is just a small fraction.
Thank you for your sacrifices of real love
As you've clung to Me and sought Me from above.

You've stayed in synch and rolled with the punches,
Your faith did not fall as you followed your hunches.
Now your circle is over and yes it is up.
You can taste new soup and enjoy the sup.

Isa 28:23-29 NLT
Listen to me; listen as I plead! Does a farmer always plow and never sow? Is he forever cultivating the soil and never planting it? Does he not finally plant his seeds for dill, cumin, wheat, barley, and spelt, each in its own section of his land? The farmer knows just what to do, for God has given him understanding. He doesn't thresh all his crops the same way. A heavy sledge is never used on dill; rather, it is beaten with a light stick. A threshing wheel is never rolled on cumin; instead, it is beaten softly with a flail. Bread grain is easily crushed, so he doesn't keep on pounding it. He threshes it under the wheels of a cart, but he doesn't pulverize it. The LORD Almighty is a wonderful teacher, and he gives the farmer great wisdom.

To Partner With Him In Prayer
Sandy Warner
Nov 23, 2004

From the passion of Your bosom, I feel the heartbeats of Your love.
How you continue to incubate, I know not how or of.
But Your Words just keep on flowing with understanding and knowing.
They pour out upon the earth - Your giant womb yet to give birth.

The times and seasons are in Your great hands.
It's not in the agenda or hands of man.
In the fullness of time, ripe, they burst forth.
Carried forth by angels on wings that soar.

Each Word is nurtured and coddled with care,
With men and angels united so rare.
Spanning Your bridge as from heaven to earth,
Each Word is a jewel, destined with worth.

Let Your will be done on earth as in heaven,
Your grace is sufficient to take out leaven.
To guard and to keep what is absolute Thine

Kept pure and holy even as it's refined.

Please impart us this day our daily bread
Let Your manna fall that we may be fed.
We sup at Your table drinking Your cup,
We lean into You to hear what is up.

Grant us ears to hear and grant eyes to see
That we may partner, uniting with Thee.
As we labor to enter with trust and belief
Grant understanding, providing relief.

We desire to please You with our effort,
God forbid that what we carry might abort.
We are weak at most and ignorant at best
To know how to nurture and guard our own nest.

We wait upon You to train us to defend.
Our backs are together looking out and in.
To protect from marauder's attempt to fear.
And to see the young incubating so near.

Yes birds of a feather do flock together,
Waiting for loved ones whose feet are still tethered.
Given tasks to perform while we are waiting,
While the demonic floods are still abating.

The earth is drying from our time in Your ark,
With anticipation we're waiting to embark.
Not in, but out, Your door of eminent hope,
Promised to the prophets, as seen through their scope.

We'll come out Your door with families intact
Prepared to gather anything we lack.
The slates wiped clean with pure new beginnings,
From disciplined lives, repentant from sinning.

Jesus' blood and grace is more than enough
To keep us from stumbling from rocks too rough.
We hold the hands of the weak and feeble,
Bringing them along making sure they're able.

Bravely taking the journey to our new land,
United, moving on, and making our stand.
What a joy to witness our promised new place
Prosperous and healthy, poured from Your grace.

So as we wait by our nest in Your vast love,
We will rest in Your hope and plan from above.
That our loved ones are incubating, safe and sound
As we declare Your great Words, that they may abound.

Hos 2:14-16 NLT
"But then I will win her back once again. I will lead her out into the desert and speak tenderly to her there. I will return her vineyards to her and transform the Valley of Trouble into a gateway of hope. She will give herself to me there, as she did long ago when she was young, when I freed her from her captivity in Egypt. "In that coming day," says the LORD, "you will call me 'my husband' instead of 'my master.'

It Is Not Time To Stuff
Sandy Warner

Nov 26, 2004
It is time for surgery of your soul and to remove the mountains in your life. This is a time when the tares of your soul are coming to fruition. As you try to stuff them, they are becoming openly manifest and this is causing you instability. It is not time to stuff your emotions, but to recognize their sources and yield them to Me.

Don't stuff it, deal with it, and cry out to Me to release you from these things which you have watered your whole life. Resist the impulse to hide and place additional shame between us. Much of what you are facing right now is the exposure of soul giants. They are bad seeds that your parents and grandparents planted and nurtured. Take responsibility for your part, repent, and call out to Me and I will send My angels to perform delicate surgery to gather the tares in your life and take them away forever.

Matt 13:30 NKJV
Let both grow together until the harvest, and at the time of harvest I will say to the reapers, "First gather together the tares and bind them in bundles to burn them, but gather the wheat into my barn."

The Bride Awakes
Sandy Warner

Nov 28, 2004

With all that you do and all that you are. Shout with joy as you see the Morning Star. The night is now breaking into dawning of day. My bride is stirring from nightmares gone astray.

Like Joseph's long season among the shadows, was her training and waiting among the gallows. Triumphant she will rise as she prepares herself. After years of waiting and being on the shelf.

He kisses my hand, He kisses my face. The Lover of my soul reveals His great grace. It's me, He wants. Not another, He says. He stirs my heart to passion, giving me His best.

Great longings He evokes in me, a simple folk. So weak and so foolish - resting in His yoke. To be His bride and stand by His side; A marriage of power that can not be denied.

Yet all that matters to me and my soul, is that I am with Him as He makes me whole. The triumph and tragedy of every day life. The tides come and go to wash away strife.

My flesh profits nothing I'm learning fast. His work in my life is all that will last. The ups and downs are hard on my soul. From laughter to tears He makes me whole.

Releasing the snares as I let go of cares. Purging soul giants and uprooting the tares. From a heart that had grown cold with wounds so old, He uncovers the wounds from stories untold.

It's not mind over matter, nor bronze or brains. It's following Jesus, Who is always the same. It's Kingdom living, a life on the edge. It's joy and loving Him, all without dread.

Ps 3:5 KJV
I laid me down and slept; I awaked; for the LORD sustained me.

You Are Far More Prepared Than You Think
Clo DiPilato

Dearest Friends in Jesus,
Another long article from me, but I take my liberty in doing this, as I do not write as often as others. Part of the length is due to laying a foundation for what I'm getting to, and so I hope you'll take time to read the whole article, even if takes more than one setting to do it!!

Love in Jesus, Clo

Throughout our Christian experience, it seems we are ever in seasons of preparation for something. Often the preparation process does not require much more activity than a simple willingness to wait on the Lord, and wait for the Lord. Some can do it by giving themselves often to a graceful and quiet repose in His presence, while others feel a need to fill their time of waiting by finding outlets for their pent-up spiritual energy as it releases itself through all sorts of spiritual activity. There is one thing I've learned....when I'm inclined to tell people HOW to do it, I get quickly checked by the Spirit that I'm not to limit His expression in and through His people.

Just as soon as I receive a revelation on how "in quietness and confidence shall be your strength", shortly on the heels of it will come a word to "SHOUT for the Lord has given you the city!!" Either one, or both are absolutely appropriate when they come forth as the "word in season" for a given situation. When either is couched in expressions of finality as the only method through which God can move to the exclusion of the other in your insurmountable problem, beware. Someone is trying to put you in a box, and God does not dwell in a limited atmosphere. For every problem, God has a thousand solutions, and though I am leaving that statement with you, I feel a check because, of course, the number "1000" is far too small!!

When God allowed Himself to be confined to the flesh body of Jesus Christ, when He prepared Himself a body in place of burnt offerings and sacrifices, when all the fullness of the Godhead made the decision to enter the realm of time, and fill up the holy child, Jesus, it was THEN that God Almighty limited Himself in the most ardent expression of love for creation ever realized.

It was then that God "got inside the box" with us. He limited Himself to the sensory realm we all must operate in, but with it He made a way to "think outside the box" (it pains me to use an overworked, faddy expression like that, but it truly fits.) His way is the way of "hearing" and then "working" and "walking" in complete obedience to the Father. He was able to escape the confines of His box, His own personal robe of flesh by operating in obedience to His heavenly Father. You know the scriptures that prove this. They are found in the 5th chapter of the book of John. Jesus had an ear to hear, and then He had a heart to obey, and it released Him from His fleshly limitations in order to work the works of God. He caught the vision of His Heavenly Father, and was able to do that which defied human reasoning.

Now, I want you to put these scriptures on the back burner, and keep them simmering through the rest of this article:

Now, the birth of Jesus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph, before they came together, she was found with child of the Holy Ghost. Matthew 1:18

......fear not to take unto thee Mary thy wife: for that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost. Matthew 1:20b.

And the angel answered and said unto her, The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee: therefore also that holy thing which shall be born of thee shall be called the son of God. Luke 1:35

After reading these few scriptures, I have a question that could spark some doctrinal debate, but that's truly not my intention:

Who was Jesus father?? Was it "God the Father", or was it "God the Holy Ghost"? Whom was Jesus listening to when He was in relationship with His heavenly Father to the point that He knew what the Father wanted Him to say or do? My Bible very clearly tells me that it was the Holy Ghost that caused Mary to conceive and be with child. When a man causes a woman to conceive, that man is the father of the child.
The Holy Ghost was Jesus Father!! In other words, Jesus hearing the voice of the Father was actually Jesus hearing the voice of the Spirit!
Beloved, Jesus hearing from His heavenly Father was absolutely NO different than when YOU hear the voice of the Spirit speaking to you!

This revelation is filling me up with greater desire to understand the new birth experience in a way I had not yet perceived. I have been saved and filled with the Holy Ghost (I confess with episodes of 'walking afar off and rebellion' in my teen years) for over 41 years. But something has truly come alive within my spirit as I realize as never before that the physical birth of Jesus Christ IS the very example of my own spiritual renewal, my "born again experience". As Mary was, I am impregnated with royal seed and there is a spiritual travail until Christ truly be formed within me. I have resident within me, a holy being able to hear and respond to a "word from God". I have developing within me, a capacity to be able to hear the voice of My Father, the voice of the Spirit, and then as I obey, I can walk in the same power and authority that Jesus walked.

Jesus, the pattern son, the firstborn among many brethren, IS the "original" Spirit-led Man!! And, through the new birth, we have received dna from the very same gene pool, and resident within that gene pool is the ABILITY to HEAR FROM GOD!! Now, there is an "OLD birth" which is after the fallen order of Adam. That birth causes you to hear and respond to a lower level of life. The first man, Adam, was a "living soul". Oh yes, that "living soul" is very much alive and well. It's the realm of OUR mind, will, and emotions apart from the perfect will of God being worked out in our lives. The last Adam, (Jesus) a quickening spirit. (Ref. 1 Cor. 15:45)

Beloved, if you have received within your being the Spirit of God, if your own human spirit has been touched and renovated by the power of God through the new birth experience, and you're consecrated unto Him, then your life is being ordered so that your soul (mind, will and emotions) are coming under the dominion of the Spirit of God working through your regenerated, revived spirit........that part of you truly created in the image of God. You have the mind of Christ, and you KNOW the mind of Christ!!

Ye HAVE an "unction" from the Holy One, and ye know ALL things. (Ref. 1 John 2:21). When you hear "truth" for the first time, why does it seem like you already know it, even though you never heard that particular revelation before with your natural ears??

It's because that life-giving, quickening spirit, JESUS on the inside of you, truly DOES know it and the fact that you have literally re-entered the fullness of God Almighty by being "raised from the dead" (As in Adam ALL die) by being IN CHRIST so that you are MADE ALIVE, (ref. 1 Cor. 15:22) you are literally planted IN PURPOSE. You have to read 1 Cor. 15 in order to know what "planted in purpose" means. It means that God has His own divine ultimate vision wherein ultimately everything will be restored to Himself. All in the heavens and the earth and under the earth are marching to the eternal beat of the "plan of God" to their final destination that God be ALL in ALL. (1 Cor. 15:28). JESUS, the pattern Son, has arrived FIRST. He is in the process of bringing MANY SONS to glory. That process is called being "changed into His image from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord. (Ref. 2 Cor. 3:18)

I could write reams from the phrase "even as by the Spirit of the Lord". That could mean through a "baptism of fire", or a "furnace of affliction." It could be on the "potter's wheel", or on a "threshing floor". But I wish to stay with the intended purpose of this article, which is to stir up within you the understanding that even as JESUS was led by the Spirit by having a "hearing ear", and that came about through relationship with His heavenly Father, even so we can be in a spiritual communion whereby we know and discern the voice of the Lord that will change us from being LIMITED EARTH BEINGS into God's agents of UNLIMITED DISPENSERS of His lovingkindness, mercy, and grace, healing, delivering, and cleansing power EVEN as Jesus was!!

So often when we speak of becoming more like Jesus, we are referring to our character issues where we don't measure up. And we certainly need to focus on those things. The devil came to Jesus, and could find NOTHING in him. There was no fleshy feast of dust for that snake to feed upon. (Ref. John 14:30) We need to come to that place. We need to come to being changed into His image so that we attain a greater glory whereby the devil can find NOTHING in us to nibble at. But beloved, there are two sides to this coin. We can forever stay in personal deliverance, and cleansing and consecration mode. It's better to be THERE than dull and cold and insensitive in your spirit.

But it's time to move up to a new level. It's time to accept by faith that we can move to yet ANOTHER level of glory, and that level of glory is the one whereby we are exemplifying to the earth not only the character and devotional part of the image of our Lord Jesus Christ, but the power part of His image, too!! It's time to get into ACTIVATION mode!! It's time to walk out the purpose of our devotion and consecration!! Jesus went up to the mountain, and then Jesus came back down from the mountain. Jesus met with His father, and then Jesus ministered to the people.

We often quote the scripture, "Verily, verily I say unto you , The Son can do nothing of himself, but what He seeth the father do.....John 5:19..." to encourage ourselves to walk in a total obedience to the Lord, and thus deny any propensities in the flesh to operate apart from God at the level of our own carnality. For many years, I've viewed this verse of scripture with awe at the Lord's complete submission to His Heavenly Father, and it has ever been my example in how I might become more purely like Him in discipline and devotion. But I forgot to meditate on just exactly WHAT was Jesus seeing and hearing??

This is a scripture where Jesus was literally defending Himself against the persecution of those who had sought to kill him for doing miracles on the Sabbath day. (Ref. John 5:16). He was, in effect, telling them, "I saw My Father telling that poor man, infirmed for 38 years, who had no one to help him into the pool so that he too could be healed by the stirring of the waters, that man who had laid their in his suffering, hoping that someone might carry him to those waters, only to be defeated again and again as another made it to the water ahead of him....I heard my Father tell Him to RISE, TAKE UP THY BED, and WALK. And so that is what I did. I told that man to RISE, TAKE UP THY BED, and WALK. (ref. John 5:1-20)

A loving heavenly Father who created the Sabbath FOR MAN, and not man FOR THE SABBATH, heard the cries of the suffering over and again on the Sabbath, and healing or deliverance was wrought. Go through the gospels and see all the times Jesus got into contention with the Pharisees for healing on the Sabbath day. What is the significance of this? Those who are blind and dull as the Pharisees have no ability to hear or see. But those who are seeing by the eye of the Spirit, and hearing by the ear of the Spirit ARE seeing and hearing!! In a time of REST, in a time of ceasing from our labors and our own works where we truly believe that we can HEAR FROM GOD, even in the very same way Jesus did, by the Spirit, we are going to see the power of God at work in this earth!!

Is the Spirit revealing to you the miracle-working power of God? Are you in the process of being changed from a powerless, in-effective Christian to one who works the works of God because you have an eye to see what the Spirit is doing, and an ear to hear what the Spirit is saying? Are you being changed, even as by the Spirit of the Lord? Just what are you seeing your God do? Just what are you hearing Him say?

I feel God elevating my eye sight. I'm seeing HIGHER than all the weaknesses and problems of my own flesh, or YOUR faults and shortcomings. My eyes are being anointed with eye-salve and I'm being enlightened in my understanding, and I'm catching a glimpse of what the riches of the glory of His inheritance IN the saints is!! (Ref. Eph. 1:18)

I feel God circumcising my ear to hear! If I'm going to be like Jesus, if I'm going to be "even as He is in this world", then I have to NOT STRIVE to copy a religious example of separation and piety and monasticism, but rather I'm going to exercise the release of the New Creation Man within that truly DOES hear from God because it's an inherited trait to HEAR FROM GOD because I am created in His Image, and Jesus HEARS from God!! That New Creation Man that took up residence by the Holy Ghost when I became born again, and baptized in water, and filled with His Spirit is the Lord Jesus Christ, and He still recognizes and responds to the voice of the Father!

As we have borne the image of the earthy, we shall also bear the image of the heavenly. 1 Cor. 15:49

Amen and Amen.
All glory to Jesus!!
And GREAT LOVE, In the Name of the One who loved us, and gave Himself for us,

You Are Living in the Latter Days

Dorothea Montague

http://www.angelfire.com/in/hislove
montagud@telus.net

My dearly beloved people, I would say unto you, indeed you are living in the latter days of time. I am coming soon to gather up My Bride to be with Me in heaven. O, My people, have you searched My words of Scripture to determine what will take place in the latter days and to learn My direction for you during this difficult time?

When you are in distress, and all these things come upon you in the latter days, when you turn to the Lord your God and obey His voice (for the Lord your God is a merciful God) He will not forsake you nor destroy you, nor forget the covenant of your fathers which He swore to them. (Deut.4:30,31)

O, My people, seek My promises which I have made to you, in My Word. My Word is truth and you can utterly rely on every word therein.

But this is what was spoken by the prophet Joel: And it shall come to pass in the last days, says God, that I will pour out My Spirit on all flesh; your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your young men shall see visions, your old men shall dream dreams. And on My menservants and on My maidservants, I will pour out My Spirit in those days; And they shall prophesy. (Acts 2:16-18)

I am pouring out My Spirit in these days as foretold by the prophets of old. Come to Me, come to Me, My people, and be filled with My Spirit. Beloved, you have need of the power of My Spirit to go forth and serve Me in the ministries I have destined for you.

Now the Spirit expressly says that in latter times some will depart from the faith, giving heed to deceiving spirits and doctrines of demons. (1 Tim. 4:1)

Yes, My people, in the latter days many will turn away from serving Me and will be led by deceiving spirits back into the things of the world and to following other gods.

But know this, that in the last days perilous times will come: for men will be lovers of themselves, lovers of money, boasters, proud, blasphemers, disobedient to parents, unthankful, unholy, unloving, unforgiving, slanderers, without self-control, brutal, despisers of good, traitors, headstrong, haughty, lovers of pleasure rather than lovers of God, having a form of godliness but denying its power. From such people turn away. (2 Tim. 3:1-5)

O, My people, does this not describe many in your midst today? Do not get entangled with such as they would turn you away from Me.

Little children it is the last hour, and as you have heard that the Antichrist is coming, even now many antichrists have come, by which you know that it is the last hour. (1 John 2:18)

O, My children, listen, listen to My words of warning of what is coming upon the world. Seek to find every Scripture pertaining to the latter days and know that they are truth. So many of you are ignoring anything you read or hear that would pertain to events to take place in the latter days.

As you absorb the truths found in Scripture, consider what you can do to meet headlong the tribulations and disasters which have been prophesied to occur at the end of the age. First of all, My people, I am calling you to spend much time in prayer, seeking My direction for your life and I will lead you onto My path. May you say....

You have made known to Me the way of life. You will make me full of joy in Your presence. (Acts 2:28)

O, My people, take heed to My call in these dark and difficult days. Renounce all fear that comes upon you and fearlessly go forth to accomplish My plan and purpose for your lives.

But Christ as a Son over His own house, whose house we are if we hold fast the confidence and the rejoicing of the hope firm to the end. (Heb. 3:6)

My children, hold fast to Me and to My Word and you shall go forth in these latter days with My glory upon you and touch the lives of countless people for Me, drawing many unto Me and bringing healing to the multitudes. I am pouring out My healing power in these days as never before and you shall be My hand extended to touch the sick and see them healed in these latter days.

You Are Neither Forsaken Nor Forgotten

Janet Chamberlain

My child I have neither forsaken nor forgotten you. For I made an everlasting covenant with you on that day that I gave up My son to be a sacrifice in your place. Yea, though your circumstances tell you one thing, yet look up and see the One who is risen and seated at the right hand of the Father. Know that in the times of silence I am teaching you faith in Me and to trust that I am present even though you may not feel My presence. I see your heartaches and pains and behold, I am coming as the latter and the former rain to refresh you and give you water from My well. Arise from the dry desert and come to Me for I long to refresh and renew your Spirit. You are neither forsaken nor forgotten, says God.

You Bunch of Do Nothings

Becky McLendon

Matthew 6:33: But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you.
The kingdom of God and HIS RIGHTEOUSNESS need to be sought first...WOW there is revelation we seek HIS kingdom because ours does not "work." We seek HIS RIGHTEOUSNESS...because WE HAVE NONE in ourselves.

Many seek the wrong kingdom. Their focus is on this world, barely extending beyond the end of their own noses. They will never see the kingdom of God with this narrow world-view.

Many seek the wrong "righteousness". Their focus is on what they can do or what they don't do for outward appearance sake and inward self satisfaction. Romans 3:10 says: As it is written, There is none righteous, no, not one. So we can see that self-righteousness sought after and held to keeps them from ever being "righteous" in God's eye. Notice the words of Jesus in Matthew, SEEK YE FIRST...HIS RIGHTEOUSNESS. We can do NOTHING apart from Him. Absolutely NOTHING.

The hardest thing man will ever have to do is GIVE UP, and SEEK GOD. To GROW UP INTO GOD and to GO UP OUT OF HIS CIRCUMSTANCES AND DARKNESS into the KINGDOM OF CHRIST's MARVELLOUS LIGHT. And the reality of it all is MAN CANNOT DO IT. It is only by the FAITH OF GOD that he can "get there."

Then answered Jesus and said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, The Son can do nothing of himself, but what he seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Son likewise. John 5:19

So the man seeking first the Kingdom of God does likewise. The man seeking first the RIGHTEOUSNESS of God in Christ does likewise. He acknowledges he can do nothing apart from Christ.

Jesus said: I can of mine own self do nothing: as I hear, I judge: and my judgment is just; because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me. John 5:30

To seek first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness is to "seek not one's own will, but the will of the Father..." Jesus said it, and in Christ, so say we the very same thing. Jesus re-enforces it by giving us the assurance of failure outside of Him: I am the vine, ye are the branches: He that abideth in me, and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit: for without me ye can do nothing. John 15:5.

So the ones who seek first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness (the ones who LOVE the Lord with ALL THEIR HEARTS, their souls, their minds and their might) acknowledge freely: I AM A DO NOTHING outside of Christ. All "my" works and righteousnesses are VANITY OF VANITIES under the sun. However, in Christ, all of His works and His righteousness in me is a fruitful field under the SON.

Amen and Amen.

For there are to many distractions in My people's lives. For they can not see Me as clearly as they are to because they are to busy looking over here and they are to busy looking over there. There are many things that have the attention of My people but you say Lord nothing has my attention but You. I say unto you that many things have your attention. Where you walk everyday. What you do everyday. The mind set that you have. The things that you speak. They become distractions to you, they become burdens to you.

I say relax and rest in Me and you shall see the salvation of the Lord but there is a root of fear in many of My people. You say Lord, I don't have fear but I say unto you that you do have fear. You have a spirit about you, that you think that you have to be perfect and if everything isn't perfect in your life, then you think that every thing is a mess and you think that your life is displaced but it is not. I didn't call you to be perfect. I didn't call you because you were perfect. I called you because you are a people that I can use. People that would be willing to lay all of their agendas down and walk with Me.

I hear you say, that you can't but I am telling you that you can. My word says that you can do all things through Christ Jesus who strengthens you. You have to see who is on the inside of you. You have to see who is leading you. Who is directing you. To do that, you can't be in control. What is wrong with a lot of people in My churches today is they think that if they can't control it and if it doesn't go just the way that they think it are to, then they think that they can't do this but I would say unto you that it is not by might, it is not by power but it is by My Holy Spirit says the Lord God Almighty.

What I am trying to tell you is to quite looking at your failures and start looking at Me the Author and the Finisher of your faith. I am calling, I am choosing and I am picking people right now just like I did with Peter. When I was out in the middle of the water and the disciples were in the boat, only one of them got up and seen the vision of Mine, seen Me, seen the vision that I have. He said Lord if this is really you then command Me to walk out on the water and I will come to you. One person out of all the people in the boat got up and came to Me. I am calling laborers in this day. I am calling harvesters in this day but who is going to set in the seat and who is going to come and go with Me?

For just as I told Isaiah, who can I send and who will go for Me? Any body and everybody can stay in the boat but who will get up and walk on the water. Even when you think that you can't, I am the one that is holding you up. It is not you that is doing the work. It is Me that is doing the work through you if you will rest and relax and let Me do it in you and quite fighting it. You don't have to be burdened because you are not doing the job unto the people but you are doing the job for Me. If you have the mind set now that you can't, you never will. You have to know who is holding you up. You have to know that when I give you a mission or a job I will do it through you if you will let Me.

I love you My people and this is the hour that I am calling the harvesters now to stand up, to be accounted for. Peter was the only one that got out of the boat. Peter was the only one but who did I tell when I arose from the dead to minister? I asked Peter will you go for Me, do you love Me? He said Lord, you know that I do and I told him to feed My sheep, feed My lambs and that is what I am saying to you, do you love Me? Then quite worrying about your failures and quite hearing the spirit of intimidation. Quite walking in your fears and come on and feed My lambs, says the Lord God Almighty. It is not just about you, it is not just about being comfortable in that boat. It is about getting up and walking on the water with Me, so that you can come up higher with Me. For that is what I have placed within you My people.

I love you and I have equipped you, whether you think you are equipped or not. You are equipped.

Your Greatest Peril

Judy Curmi

5-9-2004
I show men their sins so that they can repent and turn back to me. It is not my desire that even one of my children should be lost. The greatest thing keeping people from repenting is their pride. It is a naturally humbling experience to repent and turn from your former ways.

My ways lead to Life on a magnitude so abundant that the natural man can not begin to understand it. My very nature is a Life so profound that no human words can even be found to express it.

Man’s ways and my ways are completely different. They are different paths that use different methods and end at different destinations. The things that I create produce more life. The ways of man are static and lead to death.

Man, without the voice of my Spirit to lead him, walks in great darkness. You see that darkness is now gradually engulfing all of mankind step by step. Because the light has been dimmed gradually (so to speak), few have noticed or sounded the alarm. Great darkness is about to engulf the whole earth as the lights are switched out totally.

In this darkness you will see the fires of hell burning. You will see this fire reflected in people’s eyes and expressed in their emotions. Fire, from a variety of sources, will also burn in the natural.

I am raising up a people to fight this fire and stand against this fire. Their weapons will not be carnal, for the things of the Spirit are never carnal, but supernatural. These people – my people – have been in the furnace of affliction. They have felt my supernatural fire as I have worked to burn away the dross in their walk with me, their Loving Creator.

Know that the times ahead are going to be very challenging and difficult. Many who have thought they were mine will fall away when the heat is turned up, for that which has not been purged in the fire will not be able to stand in the fire when it begins to roar and blaze up. [Matt. 24:7-13]

My remnant have given their lives to me and do not consider their own earthly lives sacred above all things. [Rev. 12:9-12] They have been trained for such a time as this.

Never, in the history of man, will there be a time like that which lies just ahead of you, Oh man. In their “cleverness” men have laid snares and traps that will now spring shut. They had hoped with their traps to bring greater power or wealth to themselves. Instead, the makers will be caught in the jaws of these traps they have so carefully devised to entrap others. Many others will be caught in their traps as well and many will die.

I have called and called. I have warned and wooed. Only a very few have responded to these calls. Therefore, Oh man, you will see the fruit of your wickedness and rebellion against me. I offered Life, but you chose death instead.

You have heard the warning rattles of the approaching rattlesnake, but you have not heeded the warning because you are confident that YOU are in control. YOU ARE NOT IN CONTROL! I AM IN CONTROL! I always have been and I always will be, no matter what your eyes or your brain may tell you.

If you do not walk by my Spirit, you are in the greatest possible danger of falling away in the days ahead. You will not be able to get out of the traps you so cleverly devised. It will be as if your leg was caught in a bear trap* or a fly was caught in the web of some giant spider. No matter what you do you will not be able to extricate yourselves!

You can not escape what is headed your way and is even now on your very doorstep knocking. You have no way of keeping the door shut or of keeping this great evil at bay.

I am giving you one last chance to repent. If you refuse me and go you own way, you do so at the risk of a peril so great you can neither conceive nor fathom it.

Daddy

*Isa. 24: 17-18 Fear and the pit and the snare are upon you, O inhabitants of the earth. And it shall come to pass that he who flees from the noise of the fear shall fall into the pit; and he who comes up out of the midst of the pit shall be caught in the snare; for the fountains from on high are open, and the foundations of the earth do shake.

Amos 5:16-20 Therefore thus says the Lord, the God of hosts: In all the streets there shall be wailing; and in all the broad places they shall say, Alas! Alas! And they shall call the farmers to mourning, and those who are skillful in lamentation to wailing. And in all the vineyards shall be wailing; for I will pass through the midst of you, says the Lord.
Woe to you who desire the day of the Lord! To what is it for you? The day of the Lord? For it is a day of darkness and not light.
As when a man fled from a lion and a bear met him; or went into the house and leaned his hand on the wall and a serpent bit him. Such is the day of the Lord; it is darkness and not light; yea, it is a day of thick darkness and no brightness is in it.

Your God Shall Not Fail You

Carla Rickard

2004-11-21

The enemy would have you have you sifted as wheat and scattered to the wind , but I have prayed for you that you will endure.

The Lord allows the scattering of His People for purpose. These overwhelming trials and tribulations that you are experiencing are not for your hurt, but to show forth the Glory of the Lord as He delivers you out of the mouth of the lion, out of the fowler’s snare. The Lord loves to prove himself strong to His People.

Psalm 91:3
Surely he shall deliver thee from the snare of the fowler, and from the noisome pestilence.

Psalm 124
[6] Blessed be the LORD, who hath not given us as a prey to their teeth.
[7] Our soul is escaped as a bird out of the snare of the fowlers: the snare is broken, and we are escaped.
[8] Our help is in the name of the LORD, who made heaven and earth.

2 Timothy 2
[25] In meekness instructing those that oppose themselves; if God peradventure will give them repentance to the acknowledging of the truth;
[26] And that they may recover themselves out of the snare of the devil, who are taken captive by him at his will.

Do not lose faith and faint. Remain strong for the Lord has prayed for you that you will endure. Lose not the vision that is planted within you. You have loved Me and done my commandments. Keep your eyes on your Salvation who is the Lord!

I know that you have felt forgotten by Me. I know that you wonder where is the safety and peace of the Lord. Stand firm, waver not. KNOW that I AM the Lord who delivers you.

Rest in His Love for you. The kind of love that died for you when you were far away from Him. When you deserved punishment, He provided mercy beyond understanding. These tests and trials are to show you that He does love you with a real and practical love. It is not a love that is conditional. It is not a love that is removed. It is a love that delivers, casting out all fear. Know the Love of the Lord, YOUR GOD, and you will never fear the enemy. For you will understand that you are in His Hands. He will never let you go. When you were yet undeserving, He showed forth great compassion and mercy for you. He is bringing you into deeper understanding of His Love. Just believe.
His love is great than your ability to love. His mercy is greater than your mercy. His wisdom is greater than your wisdom. Don’t doubt Him, Trust Him and watch your deliverance arise!

THE SCATTERING

Jeremiah 50:17
Israel is a scattered sheep; the lions have driven him away: first the king of Assyria hath devoured him; and last this Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath broken his bones.

Ezekiel 34:12
As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places where they have been scattered in the cloudy and dark day.

Acts 8:4
Therefore they that were scattered abroad went every where preaching the word.

THE SIFTING

Luke 22
[31] And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat:
[32] But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not: and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.

THE DELIVERANCE

Psalm 18:17
He delivered me from my strong enemy, and from them which hated me: for they were too strong for me.

Psalm 34:4
I sought the LORD, and he heard me, and delivered me from all my fears.

Psalm 34:19
Many are the afflictions of the righteous: but the LORD delivereth him out of them all.

LOVE

Romans 8:15
For ye have not received the spirit of bondage again to fear; but ye have received the Spirit of adoption, whereby we cry, Abba, Father.

2 Timothy 1:7
For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.

1 John 4:18
There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love.

2 Corinthians 4:9
Persecuted, but not forsaken; cast down, but not destroyed;

Hebrews 13:5
Let your conversation be without covetousness; and be content with such things as ye have: for he hath said, I will never leave thee, nor forsake thee.

Isaiah 49
[15] Can a woman forget her sucking child, that she should not have compassion on the son of her womb? yea, they may forget, yet will I not forget thee.
[16] Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my hands; thy walls are continually before me.
[17] Thy children shall make haste; thy destroyers and they that made thee waste shall go forth of thee.

Isaiah 35:4
Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompence; he will come and save you.

You Have Asked For My Heart

You Have Asked For My Heart - Now I Have Given It To You

"God's house will be full!

I will call them in off the streets, off the corners, from the alleys, out of the schools, and from where ever they will come.

They will NOT walk and talk like you are accustomed to. They may seem "unclean", BUT THIS WILL BE THE HARVEST.

'I HAVE NOT COME TO CALL THE RIGHTEOUS, BUT SINNERS!'

Be merciful. Extend grace to those who don't deserve it. Pray for them; bless them; bring them in. I went out among the "unclean". I ate with "sinners". I had compassion upon them. And I healed the sick, cleansed the leper, and cast out demons. You will do the same. But first, you must be willing to learn to love the unlovable. Understand, that they don't have to look like you to be one of my little children, one of my lost sheep. Learn to lay down your life, be willing to be dead to your own expectations, to being right, to striving to "make" them understand, and just love them, with My love, compassionate, merciful, and forgiving. Remember that My love covers over a multitude of sins and offenses.

You have asked for My heart. Now, I have given it to you. Look only to Me, for you cannot bear this burden alone, and only My grace can sustain you.

Hope in Me! I am giving you many children. You will declare, "Here I am and the children that the Lord has given me!" You will be a fruitful branch in My vine, and will have no cause to be ashamed, when you stand before me on That Day. I AM THE LORD."

Matthew 25:35-36
"For I was hungry and you gave me something to eat,
I was thirsty and you gave me something to drink,
I was a stranger and you invited me in,

I needed clothes and you clothed me,
I was sick and you looked after me,
I was in prison and you came to visit me."

James 1:27 - Religion that God our Father accepts as pure and faultless is this: to look after orphans and widows in their distress and to keep oneself from being polluted by the world.

Matthew 9:13. But go ye and learn what that meaneth, I will have mercy, and not sacrifice: for I am not come to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.

Matthew 20:25-28 25. But Jesus called them unto him, and said, Ye know that the princes of the Gentiles exercise dominion over them, and they that are great exercise authority upon them. 26. But it shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister; 27. And whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant: 28. Even as the Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransom for many.

Galatians 6:9. And let us not be weary in well doing: for in due season we shall reap, if we faint not.

1 Peter 4:7-9 7 The end of all things is near. Therefore be clear minded and self controlled so that you can pray. 8 Above all, love each other deeply, because love covers over a multitude of sins. 9 Offer hospitality to one another without grumbling.

You Have Sown The Wind

You Have Sown The Wind And Now You Will Reap The Whirlwind

Hosea 8:7 FOR THEY SOWN THE WIND, AND THEY SHALL REAP THE WHIRLWIND; the bud shall yield no meal: if so be it yield, the strangers shall swallow it up.

Isaiah 66:15 For, behold, the LORD WILL COME WITH FIRE, AND WITH HIS CHARIOTS LIKE A WHIRLWIND, to render his anger with fury, and his rebuke with flames of fire.

Jeremiah 30:23 BEHOLD, THE WHIRLWIND OF THE LORD GOETH FORTH WITH FURY, A CONTINUING WHIRLWIND: IT SHALL FALL WITH PAIN UPON THE HEAD OF THE WICKED.

Nahum 1:3 The LORD is slow to anger, and great in power, and will not at all acquit the wicked: the LORD HATH HIS WAY IN THE WHIRLWIND.

Those of My children who have sown to the wind will now reap the whirlwind. Long have I chastised them but they did not repent of their ways or of their error of putting self above Me; self-love and self-fulfilling ways, above the way of death of the Cross so that they may walk in resurrection life. This has become a stench in My nostrils; a continuous vile stench of their abominations is before Me. I have been full of grace and slow to anger, but the day now fast approaches when all their false supports and erroneous ways will be swept away as a whirlwind blows through the very inward part of them. This whirlwind will blow away the chaff and dismantle ungodly fortresses they have built around themselves so that they have an appearance of godliness, but I know them not!

I have warned and warned through My prophets, through My messengers of flame and of fire, through My watchman that stood upon the wall and from their position in Me they could see what manner of perversity, unjust judgment and unclean desires these so called children of Mine were walking in, yet they received not the words of My prophets, neither the words of My watchman, now see if this thing does not come to pass.

All day long I have stretched out My hands to a rebellious people and they hear Me not. They ran from My promptings with much works and strivings and never sat still long enough to really hear My still, small voice, but now that still small voice will become thunderous as the winds roar about their ears and through them.

This is a new season; that which I once allowed in pity and compassion for you, I will allow no more. No more duality, no more double mindedness, you are either with Me or against Me. I will no longer allow the mingling of the precious with the vile, the unholy with the holy, profane speaking and perverse actions born from out of your un-regenerated soul and mind. Enough is enough saith the Most High God, you have made the heart of the righteous sad who I have not made sad and have tried to pervert their upright ways before Me with your gospel, and not Mine. My gospel is death to self for no good thing resides in you save that which is of Me!

How long have you mixed that which is of the Spirit with that which is of the flesh, how long have you striven in your ungodly ways to prove to others you are someone to be noted. It is not you have to be noted but MY SON IS TO BE HIGH AND LIFTED UP SO THAT I MAY DRAW ALL MEN UNTO ME.

Dan 5:25 And this is the writing that was written, MENE, MENE, TEKEL, UPHARSIN.
26 This is the interpretation of the thing: MENE; God hath numbered thy kingdom, and finished it. 27 TEKEL; THOU ART WEIGHED IN THE BALANCES, AND ART FOUND WANTING.

In your perverse, mingled ways, you have plundered the soul and the spirit of My righteous ones and you have not received correction. Am I not a God of justice? I have thus far given rain to the righteous and the unrighteous, but now you will see a change. Your eyes will see My favor come upon My righteous and you will writhe with the agony of realizing that the very ones you counted as one of no repute, of no importance, being sustained and given honor in the times that are coming upon the face of the earth.

Isa 65:12 Therefore will I number you to the sword, and ye shall all bow down to the slaughter: BECAUSE WHEN I CALLED, YE DID NOT ANSWER; WHEN I SPAKE, YE DID NOT HEAR; BUT DID EVIL BEFORE MINE EYES, AND DID CHOOSE THAT WHEREIN I DELIGHTED NOT. 13 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, BEHOLD, MY SERVANTS SHALL EAT, BUT YE SHALL BE HUNGRY: BEHOLD, MY SERVANTS SHALL DRINK, BUT YE SHALL BE THIRSTY: BEHOLD MY SERVANTS SHALL REJOICE, BUT YE SHALL BE ASHAMED: 14 BEHOLD MY SERVANTS SHALL SING FOR JOY OF HEART, BUT YE SHALL CRY FOR SORROW OF HEART, AND SHALL HOWL FOR VEXATION OF SPIRIT. 15 AND YE LEAVE YOUR NAME FOR A CURSE UNTO MY CHOSEN: for the Lord GOD shall slay thee, and call his servants by another name: 16 That he who blesseth himself in the earth shall bless himself in the God of truth; and he that sweareth in the earth shall swear by the God of truth; because the former troubles are forgotten, and because they are hid from mine eyes. 17 For, behold, I create new heavens and a new earth: and the former shall not be remembered, nor come into mind.

When you have made an end of plundering, you will be plundered for am I not a God of justice? What you have sown you will now reap! It will be by My hand, for those you have oppressed and belittled with your ways, and not by their hand; for I know their hearts in that that they have forgiven and released you. I will recompense your works unto your bosom.

Isa 33:1 Woe to thee that spoilest, and thou wast not spoiled; and dealest treacherously, and they dealt not treacherously with thee! when thou shalt cease to spoil, thou shalt be spoiled; and when thou shalt make an end to deal treacherously, they shall deal treacherously with thee

There is still a little window of time, and I did say a LITTLE window of time for you to repent and seek My face earnestly. Lay aside your own agendas and come to Me as a little child. It may be then that I will hear you and heal you and remove all that ails your soul. Repent therefore before My voice comes to you in thunderings and lightnings and I send a whirlwind to winnow the chaff from your soul. Oh foolish and perverse generation, will I strive with man forever, will I forever suffer the stench in My nostrils? If you bend the knee and submit to the whirlwind you can still reap resurrected life. The whirlwind comes to blow away that which is not of Me. Bend the head in submission to Me and seek Me in a day while I may yet be found. Do this quickly for I am already separating the wheat from the tares, the sheep from the goats, and those found wanting will be cast into the fire along with their unprofitable works.

Isa 29:5 Moreover the multitude of thy strangers shall be like small dust, AND THE MULTITUDE OF THE TERRIBLE ONES SHALL BE AS CHAFF THAT PASSETH AWAY: yea, it shall be at an instant suddenly. 6 THOU SHALT BE VISITED OF THE LORD OF HOSTS WITH THUNDER, AND WITH EARTHQUAKE, AND A GREAT NOISE, WITH STORM AND TEMPEST, AND THE FLAME OF DEVOURING FIRE. 7 And the multitude of all the nations that fight against Ariel, EVEN ALL THAT FIGHT AGAINST HER AND HER MUNITON, AND THAT DISTRESS HER, SHALL BE AS A DREAM OF A NIGHT VISION. 8 It shall even be as when an hungry man dreameth, and, behold, he eateth; but he awaketh, and his soul is empty: or as when a thirsty man dreameth, and, behold, he drinketh; but he awaketh, and, behold, he is faint, and his soul hath appetite: so shall the multitude of all the nations be, THAT FIGHT AGAINST ZION 9 Stay yourselves, and wonder; cry ye out, and cry: they are drunken, but not with wine; they stagger, but not with strong drink. 10 For the LORD hath poured out upon you the spirit of deep sleep, and hath closed your eyes: the prophets and your rulers, the seers hath he covered. 11 AND THE VISION OF ALL IS BECOME UNTO YOU AS THE WORDS OF A BOOK THAT IS SEALED, which men deliver to one that is learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I cannot; for it is sealed: 12 And the book is delivered to him that is not learned, saying, Read this, I pray thee: and he saith, I am not learned. 13 Wherefore the Lord said, FORASMUCH AS THIS PEOPLE DRAW NEAR ME WITH THEIR MOUTH, AND WITH THEIR LIPS DO HONOUR ME, BUT HAVE REMOVED THEIR HEART FAR FROM ME, AND THEIR FEAR TOWARD ME IS TAUGHT BY THE PRECEPT OF MEN: 14 Therefore, behold, I will proceed to do a marvellous work among this people, even a marvellous work and a wonder: FOR THE WISDOM OF THEIR WISE MEN SHALL PERISH, AND THE UNDER-STANDING OF THEIR PRUDENT MEN SHALL BE HID 15 WOE UNTO THEM THAT SEEK DEEP TO HIDE THEIR COUNSEL FROM THE LORD, AND THEIR WORKS ARE IN THE DARK, AND THEY SAY, WHO SEETH US? AND WHO KNOWETH US? 16 SURELY YOUR TURNING OF THINGS UPSIDE DOWN shall be esteemed as the potter's clay: for shall the work say of him that made it, He made me not? or shall the thing framed say of him that framed it, He had no understanding? 17 IS IT NOT YET A VERY LITTLE WHILE, AND LEBANON SHALL BE TURNED INTO A FRUITFUL FIELD, AND THE FRUITFUL FIELD SHALL BE ESTEEMED AS A FOREST? 18 AND IN THAT DAY SHALL THE DEAF HEAR THE WORDS OF THE BOOK, AND THE EYES OF THE BLIND SHALL SEE OUT OF OBSCURITY, AND OUT OF DARKNESS.19 THE MEEK ALSO SHALL INCREASE THEIR JOY IN THE LORD, AND THE POOR AMONG MEN SHALL REJOICE IN THE HOLY ONE OF ISREAL. 20 FOR THE TERRIBLE ONE IS BROUGHT TO NOUGHT, AND THE SCORNER IS CONSUMED, AND ALL THAT WATCH FOR INIQUITY ARE CUT OFF: 21 THAT MAKE A MAN AN OFFENDER FOR A WORD, AND LAY A SNARE FOR HIM THAT REPROVETH IN THE GATE, AND TURN ASIDE THE JUST FOR A THING OF NOUGHT. 22 Therefore thus saith the LORD, who redeemed Abraham, concerning the house of Jacob, JACOB SHALL NOT NOW BE ASHAMED, NEITHER SHALL HIS FACE NOW WAX PALE. 23 BUT WHEN HE SEETH HIS CHILDREN, THE WORK OF MINE HANDS, IN THE MIDST OF HIM, THEY SHALL SANCTIFY MY NAME, AND SANCTIFY THE HOLY ONE OF JACOB, AND SHALL FEAR THE GOD OF ISREAL. 24 THEY ALSO THAT ERRED IN SPIRIT SHALL COME TO UNDERSTANDING, AND THEY THAT MURMERED SHALL LEARN DOCTRINE.

I, the Lord of hosts, have spoken and that which I have spoken will come to pass.
THE FATHER

Your Ministries for the End of the Age

Dorothea Montague

O, My beloved people, I am doing a powerful work in your hearts to bring you into the place in Me where I desire that you be. Many times I have brought you into times of a new beginning with Me but, I tell you, My precious ones, I have long been preparing you for this time in the history of the world and My plans for each of you which shall be a powerful new walk with Me, such as you have never known.

I have convicted you of all sin in your hearts and through confession of your sins you have received My forgiveness.

I have created within you a burning desire to study and to know My Word, so that you be able to lead many unto Me.

I have brought you into an understanding of the truth of the Scriptures regarding My healing power and you have come to believe in my power and anointing which I have given you to pray for the sick and see miracles of healing.

I have instilled within you, My beloved, such faith as you have never known....faith to believe that wonders and miracles shall be manifested through you as you pray.

...for assuredly I say to you, if you have faith as a mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there' and it will move, and nothing will be impossible for you. (Matt. 17:20)

With faith speak to the mountains in your life and witness them move out of your life.

I am teaching you those things you need to know about end time events and how to be prepared to meet them headlong. As you absorb all of these things into your minds and hearts you will know that I am providing all things that you will need to go forth into the darkness of the world and draw people into My light so that they will come to know Me as their Savior and Lord.

I am enduing you with My power and anointing to manifest My signs and wonders and miracles as you pray with many people.

God also bearing witness both with signs and wonders, with various miracles, and Gifts of the Holy Spirit, according to His own will. (Heb.2:4)

I am teaching you about the Holy Spirit baptism and the manifestation of the Gifts of the Spirit....

Now there are diversities of gifts but the same Spirit. There are differences of ministries, but the same Lord. And there are diversities of activities, but it is the same God who works all in all. But the manifestation of the Spirit is given to each one for the profit of all. For to one is given the word of wisdom through the Spirit, to another the word of knowledge through the same Spirit, to another faith by the same Spirit, to another gifts of healing by the same Spirit, to another prophecy, to another discerning of spirits, to another different kinds of tongues, to another the interpretation of tongues. But one and the same Spirit works all these things, distributing to each one individually as He wills. (1 Cor. 12:4-11)

I call you, My people, to diligently seek the infilling of the Holy Spirit and be prepared to manifest the Gifts of the Spirit which I shall give you, each one available to you as you have need of them. The future shall be a time fraught with troubles and trials, and much tribulation shall come upon you, but as you allow me to minister the Gifts through you, you will rejoice at the evidence of wonders and miracles which shall follow you.

I tell you, My beloved, you shall experience My glory descending upon you which will touch all with whom you pray. Go forth, My children, in the ministries which I have chosen for you and see what I shall do to you and through you.

I Cherish You
Dorothea Montague

My beloved people....

Indeed you are beloved in My sight. I cherish each of you in My heart. My desire is that you come to a new beginning in your walk with Me. My desire is that you listen carefully to My words of direction for each of you which will bring you onto the new path which I shall stretch before you.

O, My children, the storm clouds are gathering in the sky, strong winds are beginning to blow and soon a full scale storm shall erupt, which shall be felt throughout the entire world. Out of the storm shall come much destruction for there shall be wars and famine and pestilences and earthquakes as foretold by the prophets of old. Many of you are of the belief, "It won't come near me" but, I tell you, My children, these disasters shall occur in every part of the world. Even you who have known much affluence shall encounter these tribulations.

You have a choice, My beloved, to either go your merry way, uncaring about My words of warning or you can receive all the words of direction I shall give you and put them into being in your lives. Above all, you need to be in remembrance that I have all things under control, on earth and in heaven and that My plan for My people shall be accomplished, even in the midst of times of disaster.

O, My children, you can either choose to seek My direction on how to prepare to meet the storms headlong or you can ignore the approaching storm clouds and bring future suffering upon yourselves.

I love you, My people, and I yearn to provide protection for you but I require that you be willing to follow

My direction for you. Begin to record the names of those around you who are poor in this world's goods, those who are elderly and sick in body and cannot make preparation on their own and begin to gather food and clothing for the time when they shall be in need. Gather together with other Christians in your midst and share the guidance which I have given to each of you. Some of you will prefer to prepare on your own and others will choose involvement in a group effort in making preparation..

I urge you, My children, not to procrastinate in your efforts to prepare. The clouds are about to break into great storms and you could find yourselves too late in following My directions. Sources of food could be emptied overnight and you would not know where to turn.

Again, I tell you, My beloved, seek My precious promises, found in My Word....

Behold, the eye of the Lord is on those who fear Him, on those who hope in His mercy, to deliver their souls in death, and to keep them alive in famine. (Psalm 33:8,9)

My promises are true and even to those of My people who choose not to prepare I shall surely keep you alive in famine and safe from pestilences and protect you in the midst of wars, even as I shall do for those who are obedient to My direction.

I am calling you, My precious ones, calling you to sit at My feet to receive the direction I have for each of you and then to go and do.

I am calling you, My children, to speak My salvation to all who cross your path. I am coming soon and then it shall be forever too late to reach them for Me.

I am calling you, My people, to walk in the healing anointing I have given you, to pray for all whom you meet, with disease and infirmity in their bodies and see My hand of healing touch them.

I am calling you, My beloved, to be in obedience to all I have spoken to you and to prepare in the spiritual realm and in the physical realm to go through the storms with Me.

You Must Look Beyond What You Can See

Susan Cummings

You must look beyond what you can see. There is no answer for you among men. You must take your eyes off of your desires and begin to focus upon Me.

Your struggle comes from relying upon your previous relationship with Me, and your idea of how I used to lead you and work through you. That has all changed. I told you that I was bringing you forth into the new.

I showed you that I have come in a new way and I am here to stay. You must know that it will involve you letting go of the old relationship with Me, and re-learning of Me all over again. Why? Because I am always moving forwards and never remain the same in My dealings with earth and men.

You have camped long enough. If you continue to try and work out your solutions by what you see, and what you know, and what worked before, then you will fail miserably, and will be overcome by the struggle and will deny that you even heard My Voice and knew My hand was in it. You even now doubt your relationship with Me. You must look beyond what you can see.

All that I have spoken to you, and shown you, has indeed begun. But you have allowed yourself to begin to walk it out with the old ways and ideas. Let it go! Do not look back anymore! You must press forth and break out from your mold and safety. You will not be safe in your thinking, but must abandon your ideas to Mine. If you do not, you will lose all that you have birthed forth. You will abort the destiny that I have brought you into.

I am killing off everything that you have trusted, relied upon as true, looked to for support, and knew as a foundation. There will be no other support system between Me and you. Either I am everything or I am nothing to you from now on.

All must die, and be put upon the altar, and given totally to me, then you must absolutely trust Me to work out your Life, MY WAY.

It will not be like you think. It will be as I have ordained for you.

It will not be when you think. It will be in My timing for you.

It will not be how you expect it to happen. It will be My Choice for you.

It will not be a crutch to you, for you will not be able to lay hold of it and put your faith into it's workings. For I AM your GOD, not the works I bring forth!

I AM fully able to provide for you, lead you, and teach you. I have done it since you were created, and I will continue till you come home to Me. So, stop taking My Portion, and start walking in yours!

Begin to see through eyes that are set apart unto Me, and trust Me. Let nothing come between Me and you, and jealously guard your heart. Look higher, unto Me, and don't go your own way, but remain at My Feet, and you will see what I have now begun…

Your Brother Will Rise Again

Helen Pollack

Jesus reveals here yet another aspect of being God the Creator and the Giver of Life. Jesus says to them that He is the resurrection and the life. He goes on that he who believes in Him shall live even though he dies and those who live will never die. When Martha said she believed what He said He called Lazarus, who had been dead four days, forth. Lazarus came forth in fullness of life.

The eyes of the witness again saw that Jesus was in fact God.

John 11:23-26 23 Jesus said to her, "Your brother will rise again."
24 Martha answered, "I know he will rise again in the resurrection at the last day."
25 Jesus said to her, "I am the resurrection and the life. He who believes in me will live, even though he dies; 26 and whoever lives and believes in me will never die. Do you believe this?" NIV
John 11:27 27 "Yes, Lord," she told him, "I believe that you are the Christ, the Son of God, who was to come into the world." NIV

John 11:38-40 38 Jesus, once more deeply moved, came to the tomb. It was a cave with a stone laid across the entrance. 39 "Take away the stone," he said.

"But, Lord," said Martha, the sister of the dead man, "by this time there is a bad odor, for he has been there four days."

40 Then Jesus said, "Did I not tell you that if you believed, you would see the glory of God?" NIV

John 11:41-44 41 So they took away the stone. Then Jesus looked up and said, "Father, I thank you that you have heard me. 42 I knew that you always hear me, but I said this for the benefit of the people standing here, that they may believe that you sent me."

43 When he had said this, Jesus called in a loud voice, "Lazarus, come out!" 44 The dead man came out, his hands and feet wrapped with strips of linen, and a cloth around his face. NIV

Today there have been reports in third world countries of the dead being raised. An everyday application gives us quickening to bodies that have been operated on, are ill, etc. Often, because we believe, we heal much more rapidly than normal from ordinary medical treatment. In nations where there is very little medicine to provide care, we find tumors shrinking to nothing to bring people to Jesus. God gave us the sophisticated medicine we have in this country; however, we must rely on Him for it to be used properly in our situation.

Not long ago I had a 51 lb pelvic mass removed. My body was week and emaciated. I had to trust God to strengthen me and prepare the mass so that the surgery would be smooth and I would survive. The mass was cystic at the time of the surgery, but its very thin wall could have ruptured at any time and didn't. Without His divine hand and without using the physician He had chosen, I would not have survived.

Year of Release

scroll_of_david@yahoo.com

2005 would be a year of release. So many prophets would be released to fulfill their calling. Many doors would be opened. There would be a mighty awakening and a mighty release of the Spirit of the Lord.

In a closed visions I saw many birds and the Lord told me that in 2005 the prophets would be released. Many prophets would go to the four corners of the earth with the gospel and there would be great harvest.

God also told me that whatever I have begun to do and has not been completed would be completed in 2005. I believe it would be a time of fulfillment of visions and dreams. A time of fulfillment it would be.

I believe we are in an era of change, fulfillment and harvest. Technological breakthroughs would continue because God would release great wisdom in 2005. As the wisdom of God is poured down from Heaven men’s eyes would be opened to behold his mysteries. It would be a season of change. A season of harvest but already we are in a new era. The light has indeed dawned upon men. Welcome to an era of complete and total revolution. What a release from the throne room of God.

You Are My Children

Vincent Xavier

1-27-04

How can I express my love to you child? How can I show you how much I love you? Though you have not felt and you have not seen, I want you to KNOW that I love you in the deepest recesses of my being. I am the creator of the ends of the earth and I have created the universes! I have stretched out the heavens and all of these reveal my glory. I have made man in my image and I have formed him into my likeness. Yes I am the CREATOR of all things. Yet I have those who are closer to my heart than others. My sons and daughters you are dear to me. You are at the center of my love. I have brought you into a relationship that transcends all other experiences in life. I am not only your GOD, but I am your Father.

As your Father I have an affection for you that is beyond my love for the whole race of man. You have entered into this covenant relationship through my only Begotten Son, Jesus. I have given ONE SON in order to receive MANY SONS. You are my sons and I love you just as I love my Son Jesus. You are one with Him and you are one with me. Yet you have not known or understood this depth of my love. The religions of the world who call me God are stuck behind the veil of their humanity. They cannot see through the veil of their flesh because they have not had the wonder working power of my grace to remove and cleanse away the sinful nature. They have rejected my purpose in my Son and have come to me with their own righteousness, a righteousness I will never receive. Their gifts mean nothing to me for they have not received my gift. As they have rejected my gift so have I rejected theirs.

Oh I understand their hearts but I know that what is in the heart of MAN is deceitfully wicked. Only my cleansing grace can erase the veil. Only My amazing love can remove the veil of humanity, the human nature that has been corrupt because of Sin. But I have taken the sin of the world away in my blood! I have cleansed forever all unrighteousness from my Children. Now my Children who have been brought into my house can come to me without reproach or shame, without self-effort or self-righteousness.

Yes, I am your God but more than this I Am your Father! Understand today my Fatherhood in your life. Understand that you are my sons and daughters and because you are, you are heirs! You are inheritors of all that I have made and created. This is why I have said that eye has not seen nor ear heard what the Lord has prepared for those who love him. Yet I have revealed these things to you in a measure and I want you to embrace the promises I have made. I am in covenant with you my Child! I love you more than your natural mind will ever know.

Yet I will open your mind and stimulate that which has been dormant and I will open your spiritual eyes to the truth and the depth of My love. This is why during these difficult and dark days you need not fear. For I am with you always even to the end of the world. I will and I have never forsaken you no not even in the midst of your most fiery trial. I have been with you, not just the angels, not just overseers for your good, but I, the Almighty God have been with you, your FATHER! I have walked with you. I have been with you. You have only seen and known me as a God FAR OFF, but I am near! I am so near that I am even in your breath! I am not bound to a seat in the heavens! I am not stuck! My presence in your life is a mystery only until the final unveiling.

But understand that the unveiling is within you. For I dwell in you my child. My throne is your heart. My seat of authority and power is IN YOU! Receive more and more of my sacrifice! Receive more and more of my finished work. Partake of my blood and my flesh. Drink deep and eat to the full. Fill yourself with my life, my death, my burial and my resurrection. Have I not said that you are living in the THIRD DAY, the DAY of resurrection power? Have I not said that you shall be raised up into new heights? What is the final act of my destiny concerning earthly things? My ascension! I have ascended and you too have ascended with me. As you eat more and more of my being and partake of my flesh and blood you shall not only be raised up from the prisons of despair but you shall ascend in your spirit to my right hand! You shall sit as kings and priests! You shall sit as sons within the Kingdom.

Even now these things are true but you must come to maturity! How? By eating and drinking of my being. EAT MY FLESH! DRINK MY BLOOD! Are these not the days of the PASSOVER? Is it not the season called MARCH? Yes it is at this time during the month of MARCH that the dynamic of my Kingdom shall manifest in the earth. A great outpouring of My Spirit is to come and fill the house with the Glory. A great deliverance from the power of sin and death shall be broken and my people will come forth in freedom and liberty. Truly old things shall pass away and all things shall become new!

EAT CHILDREN! Eat of my sacrifice. I have prepared it from the foundations of the world and I have invited you to come and dine. Open your heart to me this day and I will come in and sup with you! A GREAT AWAKENING shall be witnessed in the earth during the month of MARCH AND APRIL. For this is the FIRST MONTH of my new year and I shall do great things. I have promised and I will confirm it! I LOVE YOU MY CHILD, I LOVE YOU WITH ALL MY HEART. I beckon to you this day to come! Come unto me and I will give you rest! Come unto me and I will fill your cup. Come unto me and I will give you LIFE! Know this day that you are the children of the resurrection and you are children of the ascension. Truly you shall ascend into glorious heights as you come!

You Ran Well

Maria Magruder

You Ran Well: No More Hindrances!

By Maria Magruder

“You ran well. Who hindered you from obeying the truth? This persuasion does not come from Him who calls you. A little leaven leavens the whole lump. “

“I have confidence in you, in the Lord that you will have no other mind; but he who troubles you shall bear his judgment whoever he is.” Gal. 5:7-10

Hindrance-Greek-à means to “beat back”

My people have ran well, they have ran hard, they have ran the race set before them, and yet they have hit hindrances in the spirit. These hindrances are not from Me, these are hindrances have been your enemy, no matter how subtle they may have seemed. Some hindrances have not been so subtle as it has been for many of you, that you have reached a certain level and have been able to go no further. It has been as if you have banged your head against a brick wall over and over again and when you finally break thru just a small hole in the wall, a big wrecking ball comes down and “beats you back”, and sends you backwards. These enemies of delay, hindrance, lack, debt, sickness will not beat back My people anymore, for I call forth judgment on your enemies, no matter who they are. The judgment has been released this day, says the Lord. And from this day forward do not let your enemies persuade you anymore. Do not let them persuade you that your destiny, calling and harvest is null and void, nor let them persuade you that it is far off. For your purpose, destiny and harvest, I assure you is not far off.

John 4:35, 38 “Do you not say, There are still four months and then comes the harvest? Behold I say to you life up your eyes and look at the fields, for they are already white for harvest!”

Vs 38 “I sent you to reap that for which you have not labored; others have labored and you have entered into their labors.”

My people will no longer say there are still four months till harvest time, they will no longer say “someday” my breakthrough will come, they will no longer say, someday the word of the Lord will come to pass, they will no longer say someday I’ll be healed, for the hindrances that have bound My people are broken and judged, and I tell you your harvest is upon you, for you are in due season. Yes, due season is upon you My children, for I am exalting above your enemies this day. Look up, for it’s your appointed time of visitation, it’s your appointed time to step into the destiny I have called you to since before I established the foundations of the earth. For I am NOW sending you to reap where you have not labored or sown, for this is the time the plowman shall overtake the reaper.(Amos 9:13-15)

You have entered into a new time of harvest like the Church has never seen before, and it is NOT four months and then harvest, the time is NOW!

Duet 6:10-11 So it shall be, when the Lord your God brings you into the land of which He swore to your fathers, to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, to give you large and beautiful cities which you did not build, houses full of all good things, which you did not fill, dug out wells which you did not dig, vineyards and olive trees which you did not plant…"

Real Estate NOW RELEASED

My people are entering into a due season, due season of receiving houses that you have not built. Real estate is released NOW over to My people, My Church. Lands will be given to you, lands full of plenty, and lands already pre-pared, and cultivated. Lands and houses, lands and houses, large lands and large and beautiful houses, you will see and receive titles to lands and houses-that seem impossible in the natural to you, but it will happen, and I swear it to be so. I will even fill your lands and houses with everything needed to sustain those properties-I am taking back the land and all that has been beat back from My people. My people will be a testimony to the world of My goodness, for I will give you above all you could think or imagine.

Businesses NOW RELEASED.

I will give you business' that you did not labor for, that someone else has spent years building up cliental and will just decide to give to people doing the work of My Kingdom. Businesses of millions of dollars, multi-millions, and billions will be given over to My people and My Kingdom.

DIVINE IDEAS RELEASED

I will give you wells of wealth that you never labored for and have not even conceived that you could own. They are wells that will continue to pour out wealth and provision with un-limited resource. Divine ideas that have set in your minds and spirits will now manifest. You did not know in the past how to make those divine ideas come to pass, but I now bestow upon you the wisdom, anointing and My ability upon you, and in a split second you will know with confidence how to begin to bring together the divine ideas that I had given you many years ago. It will just come to you over night in your sleep, as you are resting and not laboring, and millions and billions will come into My Kingdom.

LARGE & BEAUTIFUL CITIES

And I am giving My people, My Church large and beautiful cities, where they will own the property, they will own the businesses, they will be the wealthy that I have called them to be, and they will be the sign that will cause the world to "wonder" of all this increase that I am bestowing and there will be many that will come to Me because of My goodness, for it is My kindness that leads them to repentance. My goodness is un-limited!!!! For there are targeted cities that I have place My eye on, and there will be great transformation as the world has never seen. These are cities I have set aside for My people.

"…when the Lord your God brings you into the land of which He swore to your fathers…"

Swear in the Hebrew means "number 7, as the sacred full One, complete, seven times, declaring, declaration, cause to happen, make to happen"

I have sworn the inheritance to My people, and My word will not return void, and I will make it happen in your life, I will cause this inheritance that you will not labor for to happen in your life, and I swear it seven times complete!

Haggai 2:19 "Is the seed still in the barn? As yet the vine, the fig tree, the pomegranate, and the olive tree have not yielded fruit. BUT FROM THIS DAY I WILL BLESS YOU."

My people, you may have not seen your harvest yet, or the fruit of your seed come back to you, but I tell you, it is THIS DAY, that I will bless you. Look up to Me, don't look to your labors or your works, but let everything be done by My anointing and My Spirit, for I desire for THIS DAY to bring to pass all that I have spoken to you. The hindrances will no longer beat you back, I declare it and I swear it. The enemy will be judged and hand over to you all that he has held back, and return it with interest.

You have ran well, now rest in Me, and watch and see what I will do for you. I love My people!!!!

You Will Break Out

A Prophetic Word For You

“Have I not said to you that this will be a year that you will break out of that which wearied you. This will be a year that you will begin to compete with the horses and run the race with new strength. I will give you strategies to overthrow the enemy that has surrounded you.

These will be new strategies. You will have insight that you have never had before. Be still and receive revelation from Me. I am beginning to accelerate events and relationships around you. The enemy would love for you to remain with your feet deep within the mire that has stopped you from moving forward. The enemy would love for you to remain eating from the pig trough instead of sitting at Father’s table. However, I am calling you to leave that place of lack and enter into a banquet mentality.

I am calling you to shake the mud of the past from your feet and allow Me to cause you to rise up in a new way. I am causing your feet to be liberated. I’m causing you to be able to run in a new way, for even in this coming week there will be an acceleration; there will be a turn. You will begin to see the finish line of the race that you have been in.

Finish that race! But do not remove yourself from the competition. Take a deep breath and get ready to run again. This is a time where you need to breathe, receive and move forward quickly. Receive My Spirit and My breath. Allow Me to refresh you. Let the Holy Spirit manifest in you in a new way. Allow His gifts to be activated in a new way to give you new insight to run.

Allow Me to remove things from your path. Do not stop running because you see obstacles you do not believe you can hurdle. Those hurdles will be removed if you keep moving. I am ready to do a new thing.

Let go of your past this week! Let go of your past this week! Let go of your past this week! Do not look back but look forward to the next race and assignment. Even though you feel weary, I will burst forth within you and you will accelerate into the suddenlies I have prepared for you.

Accelerate past the strategy of death that the enemy has put on your path. Do not allow the enemy to convince you that you cannot reach the finish line and run again. Break past and into that which is forming new and fresh for you.

Watch the heavens shift and new windows or portals form over you. These portals will pour grace and strength from heaven for what is ahead. Declare the heavens above you to shift, so you are connected in the Throne Room in a new way.

Be not deceived. The enemy will attempt to counterfeit the ‘real’ that is forming before you. Worship in Spirit and in truth and you will discern fully the right door to go through. I am releasing a new measure of discernment.

Be willing to step out into a new place of faith and watch me turn water into wine. Some of you will even rise above your circumstance and walk out on water, and instead of sinking you will remain buoyant because of a new faith level that is beginning to work in you.

Even though much confusion is around you and you do not seem to see clearly the enemy's plan or even the finish line that I have set before you from the beginning of this adventure and season, keep moving and I will see to it that you go past the confusion.

The enemy would love to remove you from the wall. Find your place on the wall new and fresh. Review your assignment. Don't be afraid to get on the edge. For though you feel like you are falling over, I will uphold you with My righteous right hand.

Watch your new doors forming. Do not attempt to go back for you have attained a level of victory that you are not fully aware of. I have formed a beach head from your obedience so do not go backwards and be captured in an old season by the enemy.

Rise up! The higher you rise the farther the horizon line will be extended for your future. This will give you a new measure and sphere of authority. Your boundaries are changing for your future. I am giving you a new scope to pinpoint the way the enemy will move.

Do not fear the movement of your enemy for you will see him in ways you have never seen him before. Remember, one small Word will fell him. Come up! Draw near to Me for I have a new seat of authority I have formed for you. Come up and receive your new mantle for this next season. Come up. I am waiting for you. Come up and receive the strength to move forward."

I hope this word encourages you. Even though you perhaps are in a time of transition, you can move from one phase of transition into the next phase. This is similar to moving from a place of shutting doors into one where the new doors are forming on your behalf. Let me remind you that transition has three phases:

1. Loss or death. In order to go through transition, we must die to the old. If we have fear of death, we cannot submit to God in transition. Fear of death will capture our emotions unless we let the perfect love of God remove this fear. We must learn to walk through death with the fragrance of life on us.

2. Confusion. When new revelation comes into your environment, it becomes confused. You must be covered and connected or Satan will try to do you in. It will seem like a whirlwind. You can speak a word which will keep you from being sucked in. When we get into a place where we do not know what to do, God will bring us to a place of communion which tests our faith so He can reveal Himself to us in a new way.

3. Crossing Over or Entering into the New Place. God has a garden for each of us to cultivate and fill with the glory of God. He will increase our boundaries as they fill with the glory of God.

Blessings,

Chuck D. Pierce

You Will Have The Light With You

Helen Pollack

You Will Have the Light Just A Little While Longer

Jesus taught the great mystery of death and resurrection. The picture of the seed falling to the ground and dying only to rise and become many seeds revealed what He would do as the one seed. The primary issue here was that the earthly dies and the spiritual lives. All things past, present and future were crucified on the cross. Yet, Jesus lived again, rising again from death. Death was swallowed up and defeated at the cross for all time. Paul described it in another way:

1 Cor 15:45-49 "The first man Adam became a living being"; the last Adam, a life-giving spirit. 46 The spiritual did not come first, but the natural, and after that the spiritual. 47 The first man was of the dust of the earth, the second man from heaven. 48 As was the earthly man, so are those who are of the earth; and as is the man from heaven, so also are those who are of heaven. 49 And just as we have borne the likeness of the earthly man, so shall we bear the likeness of the man from heaven. NIV

This is the transformation of our being of which Jesus spoke. The price was to follow Him and serve Him. The word, "follow" in this context, means to accompany Him. The word, " serve" in this context, means to await or tend Him. The disciples accompanying Him everywhere that He went, is a physical picture of our walk with Him.

John 12:20-22 20 Now there were some Greeks among those who went up to worship at the Feast. 21 They came to Philip, who was from Bethsaida in Galilee, with a request. "Sir," they said, "we would like to see Jesus." 22 Philip went to tell Andrew; Andrew and Philip in turn told Jesus. NIV

John 12:23-26 23 Jesus replied, "The hour has come for the Son of Man to be glorified. 24 I tell you the truth, unless a kernel of wheat falls to the ground and dies, it remains only a single seed. But if it dies, it produces many seeds. 25 The man who loves his life will lose it, while the man who hates his life in this world will keep it for eternal life. 26 Whoever serves me must follow me; and where I am, my servant also will be. My Father will honor the one who serves me. NIV

In order to follow and attend Him daily, we must give up the life that we have planned, that we believe should be, that has been spoken over us by others, etc. If we follow Him one step at a time, as He has said, we will be where we are suppose to be when we are suppose to be. We don't have to figure out how to get there. The disciples did not have to figure it out when they walked with Him. When they walked with His Spirit they followed Him wherever He led.

John 12:27-28 27 "Now my heart is troubled, and what shall I say? 'Father, save me from this hour'? No, it was for this very reason I came to this hour. 28 Father, glorify your name!" NIV

John 12:28-29 Then a voice came from heaven, "I have glorified it, and will glorify it again." 29 The crowd that was there and heard it said it had thundered; others said an angel had spoken to him. NIV

John 12:30-33 30 Jesus said, "This voice was for your benefit, not mine. 31 Now is the time for judgment on this world; now the prince of this world will be driven out. 32 But I, when I am lifted up from the earth, will draw all men to myself." 33 He said this to show the kind of death he was going to die. NIV

All things were brought to the cross and judged on that day when Jesus was crucified. All things of this earth and the spirit realm were judged, past, present and future. The end of the current earth as we know it came to the cross where everything met and was placed on the Son of Man. Death was killed by the Son of God and Satan's defeat was complete.

Today, we are walking in a victory that has already been won. Each one of us, following Jesus, will complete the journey of victory unto eternal life. Jesus said that He was the way the truth and the life. By abiding in Him we walk in His light and His eternal life.

John 12:34 34 The crowd spoke up, "We have heard from the Law that the Christ will remain forever, so how can you say, 'The Son of Man must be lifted up'? Who is this 'Son of Man'?" NIV

John 12:35-36 35 Then Jesus told them, "You are going to have the light just a little while longer. Walk while you have the light, before darkness overtakes you. The man who walks in the dark does not know where he is going. 36 Put your trust in the light while you have it, so that you may become sons of light." When he had finished speaking, Jesus left and hid himself from them. NIV

Jesus spoke of Himself as the light that they would have just a little longer. Only by trusting in Him are we able to become sons of light with the capacity to receive spiritual light. After He left the earth, the spiritual light was sent to lead us. We have to be given the capacity to receive it by trusting in Jesus. Spiritual things and eternal life cannot be obtained by our own effort or our own way. We must walk and attend and follow the eternal one who is eternal life in order to attain it. The gift of understanding the truths that are God's alone come only from God. Those that have it are His Sons of Light.

In His Abundant Love,

Helen

Zambia

Robert Holmes

August 12 2004

Coming in to Zambia for the first time, Jesus spoke to me about the life of Moses. Deuteronomy chapter 34:7 says that Moses lived 120 years. His life falls neatly into three, forty year segments:

- 40 years with Pharaoh in Egypt
- 40 years with Jethro in Midian
- 40 years with the Lord in Sinai

These three phases represent phases in the life of the nation of Zambia.

The first forty years were a time of great wealth and prosperity for Moses, but also a time of great suffering and slavery for his people. This time period relates to the years Zambia was under English rule. She became very rich and prosperous [having more money in the bank than England], but her people were enslaved.

The second forty years were a time of stripping away. Moses lost his great wealth and served Jethro as a humble shepherd. He dwelt with the Midianites (who were not his true people). This time period relates to the years of Zambian independence, when she lost her savings. But the people were free. The Zambian people were still finding themselves. Next month they celebrate forty years of independence.

In the last forty years of the life of Moses, Israel came out of Egypt - and the people truly came under God. He provided miraculously for them: things lasted longer, food was sent from heaven and protection was over the people. They obtained all the land of their inheritance, west of the Jordan.

But the book of Hebrews chapter 3:17 also says of God that, "He was angry for forty years, was it not those who sinned whose bodies fell in the wilderness?" Zambia is a Christian nation, 90% of her people say they are saved. But how do we explain the bars, casinos, alcohol, corruption, AIDS/ HIV, poverty and sickness still prevalent? She is half saved - she dwells among the Midianites but has not yet come free and inherited her promised land.

Ahead lies a great choice. Revival - receiving her inheritance, miracle provision and judgment: God being angry with sin and disobedience. The next forty years for Zambia represent the best of times and the worst of times. Blessing and cursing. Turn and repent oh Zambia, seek God whilst He may be found. It is written: "One people, one nation, Zambia". This is good and worthy but it is not enough. "One faith, one God, one people, one Zambia" - that would make an awesome next forty years!

Zion is Giving Birth

Julie Volby

As I write this I am completely in awe of God. He is indeed a faithful God who declares the end from the beginning. While I do not intend this to be a comprehensive writing about Zion (spiritual), I would like to share a bigger picture of what I believe God is doing on the earth from the eyes of one who sees. I spent last weekend at the “Former and Latter Rain” Conference with Pastor Vincent Xavier and Doug Fortune here in San Diego, CA. I then spent the majority of this past week shut in with the Lord studying and writing. The amount of revelation forth pouring forth from Heaven is more than I could ask or think. What I am about to share is what I believe is a connecting of the puzzle pieces, if you will. So, I submit this to the Body for your testing and consideration.

I recently received a transcription (from the Elijah List) of a prophetic discussion with Paul Keith Davis on TBN. There is one part in particular that blew me away. He spoke of being taken to a TREASURY ROOM. Upon reading this I immediately knew this was the STOREHOUSE spoken of in Malachi 3:10. If you look up the Hebrew word for storehouse, it comes from the words ‘osar’ and ‘bayit’.

Osar – Treasury, storehouse, storeroom, storage vault
Bayit – House, homes; of royalty palace of deity; temple

I believe the currency of Heaven is very different than that of the earth. For the currency of heaven is FAITH. Remember Hebrews 11:1 defines it as, “the SUBSTANCE of things hoped for, the EVIDENCE of things NOT SEEN.” While faith may not be tangible in the natural realm, I believe that it is very tangible in the spiritual realm. When this FAITH in the WORD OF GOD is brought into the Storehouse or Treasury Room of God, what you will RECEIVE in return is MULTIPLIED in the form of the REVELATION and MANIFESTATION OF CHRIST as the DIVIDENDS and INTEREST of Heaven pours forth into and through your very being, which is the DWELLING PLACE of God. This was evident in the life of Abraham for, “Abraham BELIEVED GOD and it was ACCOUNTED to him for RIGHTEOUSNESS” (see Galatians 3:6 and Genesis 15:6). The Hebrew and Greek words for ACCOUNTED are ‘hasab’ and ‘logizomai’ respectively, meaning to credit, account, impute; which to me sounds like something that happens at a bank, treasury or storehouse. Hebrews 11:8 tells us, “BY FAITH Abraham OBEYED when he was CALLED to go out to the PLACE which he would RECEIVE an INHERITANCE.” FAITH IN GOD’S WORD is the only currency accepted in the TREASURY ROOM of God. Let us not try to ‘buy’ (through earthly means) the ANOINTING, who is CHRIST, like Simon the Sorcerer in Acts 8. The transcription went on to say that Paul Keith Davis’ prophetic experience also included a stack of BLUEPRINTS, which blew me away. For on 2/21/04 the Lord had commission me to ‘study the BLUEPRINT of HIS SON’! I was not totally sure what that meant, but since then have written some articles pertaining to this. Paul Keith Davis went on to explain that he believed there were ‘architectural Christians that will go into that place and come back with designs for buildings that were energy efficient like we’ve never known before’. He went on to say that the special designs for the buildings would be able to withstand the weather, earthquakes, and things happening around the world. I believe these 'architectural Christians' are the REPAIRERS OF THE BREACH and the RESTORERS OF STREETS TO DWELL IN (see Isaiah 58)! I understand this because I am a civil engineer in the natural realm. Civil engineers are those that design and build the INFRASTRUCTURE of a CITY! These Repairers and Restorers are the ENGINEERS, ARCHITECTS and BUILDERS of God’s Kingdom. They are the Apostles and Prophets who will lay a COMPLETELY SOLID FOUNDATION within the Church as we know it and will also venture out into the MARKETPLACE. It’s time to take to the streets! In addition I believe these 'ENERGY EFFICIENT BUILDINGS' that he spoke of, designed to withstand the ELEMENTS, are actually built of LIVING STONES. My friend, Doug Fortune, has been speaking repeatedly about a “NO SWEAT MINISTRY” and that is what I believe these ENERGY EFFICIENT BUILDINGS represent. While they may manifest in the natural, I believe the deeper meaning is that they are BUILDINGS or TEMPLES NOT BUILT with human hands!

They are designed and built to WITHSTAND the ELEMENTS OF THE EARTHLY, FLESH or CARNAL NATURE through which devastation comes! The Lord had told me last year that I was to SET-UP HOUSES OF REFUGE. I did not know what He meant and thought He meant home fellowships or literal places of refuge for a coming time of famine. Again, it was my natural man's understanding trying to carry out the spiritual man's DESTINY, just as the Lord had revealed to me why I was trained as an engineer in the natural. I am now believing, while again establishing these houses may be something that also takes place in the natural, I believe the deeper meaning is that these HOUSES OF REFUGE are actually GOD'S PEOPLE or TEMPLE. These are THOSE WALKING IN THE PERSON OF RESURRECTION, who is of course Jesus Himself, where the lost, weary, and dying can come to and find SALVATION, REST, REFRESHMENT, HEALING AND NEW LIFE!

What about Zion? Again, I do not intend to go deeply into this at this time, but know this. In the coming days I believe an onslaught of even deeper revelation and teaching will pour forth from God's Throne Room concerning Zion. For now I will use the verses in Isaiah 66:7-8 to explain what I am seeing. Isaiah 66:7-8, "BEFORE she TRAVAILED, she BROUGHT FORTH; BEFORE her pain came, she DELIVERED of a MAN CHILD. Who hath heard such a thing? Who hath seen such things? Shall the EARTH be made to BRING FORTH in ONE DAY? Or shall a NATION be born at once? For as soon as ZION TRAVAILED, she brought forth her CHILDREN." Sounds like a 'no sweat', ENERGY EFFICIENT, process of BIRTH to me!!! Now many may say that these verses are a prophetic picture of Jesus coming forth from Israel over 2000 years ago and that is true. But I believe there is another layer of meaning behind this as well. Remember, Jesus was the FIRSTBORN among MANY brethren (see Romans 8:29). Also notice that in Isaiah 66:8, it describes this MAN CHILD as a NATION. It also says that ZION brought forth CHILDREN (plural). Because I believe we are living in the THIRD DAY or the beginnings of the THIRD MILLENIUM since Jesus physically walked the earth, I believe that we, the CHURCH, are that MAN CHILD, with JESUS being the preeminent HEAD, US being the members of HIS BODY. Recall Peter charged us in 2 Peter 3:8, "But, beloved, DO NOT FORGET THIS ONE THING, that with the Lord ONE DAY is as a THOUSAND YEARS, and a THOUSAND YEARS as ONE DAY." The THIRD DAY is the DAY OF RESURRECTION! I will not go into a study of the THIRD DAY here, but if you are interested there are many great teachings (such as Doug Fortune) already out there by some Forerunners of God's Kingdom. I just want you to understand where I am coming from.

Now seeing this MAN CHILD being birthed in Isaiah 66 in ONE DAY reminded me of another MAN CHILD in Revelation 12. But let me backtrack just a bit. Let's get one thing straight first. I believe the Book of Revelation is not the revelation of the anti-christ, neither is it some end times science fiction thriller. It is what is says it is in Revelation 1:1, "The REVELATION OF JESUS CHRIST, which God gave HIM TO SHOW HIS SERVANTS - things which must SHORTLY TAKE PLACE." In Revelation 11 we find the SEVENTH TRUMPET has been blowing. I believe this TRUMPET or PROPHETIC VOICE has been 'blowing' the Church into the THIRD DAY or third millennium since Jesus died and was resurrected. Remember there are THREE SETS of SEVEN in the book of Revelation (Seals, Trumpets, Bowls), which I believe represent THREE PROPHETIC DAYS. This blowing of the SEVENTH TRUMPET or prophetic voice has been signifying passage into THE THIRD DAY. Revelation 11:19 says, "Then the temple of God was OPENED IN HEAVEN, and the ARK OF HIS COVENANT was SEEN in HIS TEMPLE." I believe this is a prophetic picture of what happened at the Cross when the VEIL of the TEMPLE was torn from the top to the bottom once again giving us FULL ACCESS to the FATHER. This veil of flesh understanding, in our own temple and within the Body of Christ CORPORATELY, is being torn down even now across the earth. People are being awakened to who they are in Christ and who HE IS IN THEM, thus finding TRUE INTIMACY and ONENESS WITH THE FATHER like never before.

Back to the Man child…While again I believe Revelation 12 is a prophetic picture of Jesus coming forth from Israel in the natural, I believe it also has the same deeper meaning that Isaiah 66 has with ZION giving birth to CHILDREN. You see, Christ is a PERSON. Jesus is the PREEMINENT HEAD and the Church is His Body. The woman or Church in Revelation 12 is GIVING BIRTH to a MANY MEMBERED CHRIST CHILD or MAN CHILD in ONE DAY…THE THIRD DAY! For the past 2000 years I believe the Church has been maturing and growing in the knowledge and understanding of Christ. Remember Zion is a city within a city (Jerusalem). I believe the 'baby' being birthed out of Zion within the Church (Jerusalem) is not just a regular baby, but is instead a MAN CHILD. This indicates to me that this is a Body of Believers who have gone through all stages of formation within the womb and have become MATURE. I believe this MAN CHILD or holy remnant knows the Father's heart and have come into ONENESS WITH HIM through the SON, not by might, nor by power, but BY THE SPIRIT. They are those who know the Kingdom of God is WITHIN THEM and have learned to walk in the POWER and AUTHORITY of God as they have learned to rule and reign with CHRIST, seated with Him in the heavenly places in Christ Jesus, over their own earthen vessels. We are a CHOSEN GENERATION, a ROYAL PRIESTHOOD, A HOLY NATION (see 1 Peter 2:9). We are that NATION that is being BIRTHED OUT OF ZION as Isaiah 66:7 speaks of. I hope I have not lost you. If I have, there is and will be much more teaching pouring forth in the days to come regarding this.

So, who is this Man child? He is CHRIST IN YOU the HOPE OF GLORY! We are living epistles! We are the temple of the Holy Spirit! All for GOD'S GLORY! So upon further consideration of the TREASURY ROOM or Storehouse I did a study of 'storehouses' and found a Scripture in Genesis 41:56 that caught my attention. It says, "The famine was over all the face of the earth, and Joseph opened all the STOREHOUSES and sold to the Egyptians. And the famine became very severe in Egypt." When I read WHO opened the STOREHOUSES my heart took a flying leap! It was JOSEPH! Now many prophetic words, declarations, articles, etc., have been written about the "Joseph Company". These are those who have lived out the life of Joseph and as of now many are still wondering what happened? Their gift seemed to have made room for them, just as Joseph was able to interpret the dreams of the other two prisoners. But like Joseph, when they thought they were about to be RELEASED, they were 'forgotten' and have continued to sit in the darkness waiting and waiting. But this prison has been one of MATURING and they have grown more here than perhaps any time in their lives. They have found the SECRET PLACE OF INTIMACY with the Father, while 'trapped' by their present environment, yet finding TRUE REST in this hidden place of obscurity. All that they had hoped for and dreamed of had died, just as many must have felt when Jesus died on the Cross. But just when it seemed that all hope was lost, there was a glimmer of Light. A few trickles at first, then a stream, but then not just a stream, but a mighty rushing flow of the RIVER OF LIFE. It is a FOUNTAIN OF GLORY that has no end, a reflective POOL of the GLORY OF GOD…on the THIRD DAY they saw their HOPE RESURRECTED! THE LORD JESUS CHRIST HAS BECOME THEIR ALL IN ALL!

If this describes you, I believe I have a word from the Lord for you. "IT IS TIME! RISE UP , MY BELOVED, RISE UP!" You see, in our Scripture in Isaiah 66:7-8 we find ZION GIVING BIRTH to the MAN CHILD in ONE DAY. Who has heard of such a thing? Well, my friend we are in living in the days of SEEING THIS COME TO PASS. Jesus was the firstborn of MANY SONS. Has not the whole creation been groaning and laboring with BIRTH PANGS TOGETHER UNTIL NOW (see Romans 8:22)? Who was LAUNCHED INTO THEIR DESTINY in ONE DAY? It was JOSEPH!!! In ONE DAY his gifts had made room for him and this is what happened, "Then PHARAOH said to JOSEPH, 'Inasmuch as GOD HAS SHOWN YOU this, there is no one as discerning and wise as you. You shall BE OVER MY HOUSE, and all my people SHALL BE RULED according to YOUR WORD; only in REGARD to the THRONE will I be GREATER THAN YOU. And the PHARAOH said to JOSEPH, 'SEE, I have SET you OVER ALL THE LAND OF EGYPT'" (Genesis 41:39-41). What is the DESTINY of this Joseph Company? I believe it is all laid out in the Chapters of Genesis, the END PRODUCT being FULL RESTORATION. I have much to share about this and am working on a book to share understanding, as will many others I am sure. But for now the point I am trying to make it that the TIME OF RELEASE IS NOW!!! The KINGDOM IS NOW! FULL ACCESS was already GIVEN AT THE CROSS over 2000 years ago, but we are just NOW coming into the FULL UNDERSTANDING and MANIFESTATION of it as a CORPORATE BODY.

What does this DAY OF RELEASE MEAN? Well, since the Year 2000 I have seen various Prophets trumpeting that a 7-year period of plenty or abundance had begun for the people of God beginning in the year 2000 or 2001. Yet, when I have looked all around me I have not seen this, but instead those in their last stage of 'death' - suffering, being persecuted, never having enough, and always in want.

HOWEVER, what I do believe these prophetic voices have been acting in FAITH, for as was stated previously, “FAITH is the SUBSTANCE of things HOPED for the EVIDENCE of things NOT SEEN.” I will not pretend to understand fully the Hebrew calendar, but I do know enough to know that it does not line up directly with the calendar used in the United States. So, I do not know exactly when the NEW MILLENNIUM began. Sticking to what I do know, in Genesis 41:1 it states that it was at the END OF TWO FULL YEARS that Pharaoh had his TWO dreams (two being the number of witness). IT WAS THEN that JOSEPH was REMEMBERED and his gifts made room for him and he was RELEASED from the prison now no longer an immature adolescent, but a MATURE MAN. It was only AFTER JOSEPH was RELEASED that the SEVEN YEARS OF PLENTY BEGAN. Upon realizing this I was completely blown away. For my friend, Pastor Vincent Xavier, has been prophesying that 2004 is THE YEAR OF RELEASE and the time when ‘we shall eat in PLENTY and be SATISFIED’ (Joel 2:26). Many have been TRUMPETING the “SUDDENLIES” and I believe those words are indeed for such a time as this. We have indeed entered the time when the years the locusts has eaten are being RESTORED. It already happened in JESUS’ FINISHED WORK on the CROSS, but we still must bring our FAITH IN THAT FINISHED WORK into the STOREHOUSE to see its FULL MANIFESTATION ON THE EARTH.

Genesis 41:46 tells us that JOSEPH was THIRTY YEARS old when he STOOD BEFORE PHARAOH or ‘inhabitant of the PALACE’. Just as the Word tells us that Joseph WENT THROUGHOUT ALL THE LAND OF EGYPT, so too shall we see these precious jewels, that have been HIDDEN or BURIED deep in the earth, EMERGE and GO FORTH SHINING into the highways and byways. We also know who else was about THIRTY YEARS old when He began His ministry (see Luke 3:23)...JESUS! It is time for those who have been dwelling in caves and prisons to COME FORTH into the LIGHT OF A NEW DAY! This is just the beginning of the THIRD DAY or the MILLENNIAL REIGN of CHRIST THROUGH HIS MANY MEMBERED SON. Therefore…

THIS IS A DAY OF REJOICING AND GREAT JOY! COME OUT OF HER MY PEOPLE COME OUT! RISE UP UNTO THIS NEW DAY! BE FILLED WITH MY GLORY FOR THE DAY STAR HAS ARISEN IN YOUR HEARTS! YES, MY PEOPLE, RISE UP! BE AWAKENED TO THE EVERLASTING PRESENCE OF MY GLORY AND SPLENDOR. MY LOVE CONSUMES YOU. BE NOT AFRAID!

Fullness of Time

Julie Volby

In the past two months I have had several prophetic puzzle pieces come my way. Some have come directly from the Lord, while others have come via other prophetic voices. It seems that on 04/04/04 they began to take on a form or shape and today (04/05/04) the picture has become clearer. Starting somewhere around the beginning of February 2004 I began receiving 4:44 on the clock. This went on for two weeks straight. It was coming so often that I finally shared this with my best friend and prayer partner, Aileen. On the same day I shared this with her, I saw another 4:44 on the microwave at work and just hours after that Aileen went Downtown for a meeting and ended up parking in parking space 444 without realizing it. It was at that point I felt the Lord was definitely trying to say something. If you think it is ‘peculiar’ for God to talk through a clock, I will have to agree with you. But I prefer this than through a donkey’s mouth. We are a peculiar people are we not? I have found that God will talk through just about anything if you have your eyes set on Him. Anyway, I went through many Scriptures with 4:44 or 44:4 and did not find any that were particularly speaking to me concerning this.

I then remembered that the Holy Spirit had previously shown me that a set of THREE stood for FULLNESS. This is readily seen in God Himself being the Father, Son, and Holy Spirit in Oneness. Colossians 2:9-10 says, “For in Him dwells all the FULLNESS of the Godhead bodily, and you are COMPLETE in Him, who is the head of all principality and power.” Here the Greek word used for fullness is ‘pleroma’ meaning FULLNESS or FULLFILLMENT. So upon understanding this, I have been compiling a list of what I believe to be something like this:

111 - Fullness of Unity or Fullness of Oneness
222 - Fullness of Double Witness or Agreement/Double Anointing/Double Portion 333 - Fullness of Fullness or Fullness of Completion
444 - Fullness of ???
555 - Fullness of Grace
666 - Fullness of Man
777 - Fullness of Perfection or Fullness of Rest
888 - Fullness of Restoration

As you can see my list was incomplete because I did not understand what 444 represented.
So I set out to search for the prophetic meaning of the number FOUR and how it was used in the Word. I then recalled reading something (I believe it was by Chuck Pierce) about the number 4 representing elementary elements such as earth, wind, fire, rain...north, south, east, west...spring, summer, winter, fall...morning, afternoon, evening, night...as I continued to pondered this I remembered the 4 phases of the moon and I had recently read something about 4 quarters in a year.

Suddenly something hit me. Genesis 1:14-19! I had just been at one of Doug Fortune’s conferences in early February 2004 where G.L. Parks had used this Scripture at the very end of the last meeting. He was not sure what to speak about that morning and this was one of the things that the Lord put on his heart. His talk on this struck me because of the way the Lord had been talking to me about time (kairos - appointed time vs. chronos - earth 24-hour time). I was led to study the FOURTH DAY of creation. Genesis 1:14 says, “Then God said, ‘Let there be lights in the firmament of the heavens to divide the day from the night; and let them be for signs and seasons, and for days and years.” I then realized that on the FOURTH DAY, it seemed that the chronos time (24-hour day as we know it) came into being as this was the day the Sun, the Moon, and the Stars were created as G.L. Parks had explained. It seemed that the number FOUR not only represented DIVISION as others had also been explaining, but it also signified TIME. It was then that I began to wonder if 444 represented the FULLNESS OF TIME or END OF THE AGE.

I then remembered that my friend Pastor Vincent Xavier had been prophesying for quite awhile that we, the Church, had entered a time of GREAT ACCELERATION. I also remembered Doug Fortune had been teaching that kairos time is overtaking chronos time. I sent out a few e-mails to see what others thought. Doug Fortune later told me that the FOURTH WATCH was the last watch, which I found quite interesting. But I still did not have clarity, so I tucked all of this away.

On 04/03/04 the idea of 444 came back to me as I was led to write an article on Zion giving Birth. I realized that the following day was 04/04/04 or could perhaps be looked at as 4-4-4. I discussed with a friend that I had been receiving 4:44 on the clock continuously for a season and interestingly we discussed that that night we would SPRING AHEAD into a New Season (Spring being a time of NEW LIFE). We also discussed how this year (2004) just happens to be LEAP YEAR (which only happens once every FOUR YEARS). Aileen had pointed LEAP Year out to me a week earlier at the conference, but I had not ‘caught’ what she meant. On the morning of 04/04/04, I received TWO e-mails mentioning the number 4. The first was from Marsha and Bill Burns daily prophetic words of wisdom and exhortation. In their words I was reminded that 4 is also the number of THE OPEN DOOR of which they and so many others have been prophesying that 2004 IS THE YEAR OF THE OPEN DOOR. I opened my next e-mail to find my friend, Josephine, had written me a brief message in which for some reason she also reminded me that FOUR was the number of the OPEN DOOR. I took this as a witness. I believe we are in a season that confirmation is coming almost immediately, for it is a WITNESS. For “By the mouth of two or three witnesses every word shall be established” (see 2 Corinthians 13:1 or Deuteronomy 19:15). Interestingly enough FOUR is rather unique in that it is the PRODUCT OF TWO TIMES TWO and also the SUM OF TWO PLUS TWO! And of course the ultimate witnesses are The Word of God and the Holy Spirit or Spirit of Truth!

I believe that perhaps this FULLNESS OF TIME is also representative of the FULLNESS OF THE OPEN DOOR! I believe this OPEN DOOR is the same one found in Revelation 4:1, “After these things I looked, and behold, a DOOR standing open in heaven. And the first voice which I heard was like a TRUMPET speaking with me, saying, “COME UP HERE, and I will show you things which must take place after this.” This would explain the various people I have met who have been having dreams and visions for the past three or four years of AN OPEN DOOR, KEYS, and being called to “COME UP HIGHER”! This door being the PERSON of Jesus Himself as He says in John 10:9, “I AM THE DOOR. If anyone enters by Me, he will be saved, and will go in and find pasture.” It is the DOOR INTO THE THIRD DAY AND BEYOND.

Let me explain what I believe this means for us. In the Spring of 2000 the Lord told me to, "Live in the Light of Eternity". This was shortly after my revival experience or complete repentance, when I began to walk in both the Spirit and the Truth. In that time frame there was a 3-month period that I have not been able to begin to explain until now. Everything just flowed. The Word was so alive, it was a Person, and somehow I felt alive and a part of it. I would read passages of Scripture and be in ONENESS with the Word. It is hard to explain. Somehow I could see how every action and more importantly every word that came from my mouth had an affect in all of eternity. I could see the 'ripple effect' of every word as it went forth, similar to when a stone is thrown into a pond that is as still as glass. This must be why Proverbs 18:21 says, “Death and life are in the power of the tongue, And those who love it will eat its fruit.” In that same time frame, because I did not know any better and had no understanding of the Third Day I did not remain in this ‘place’ for long. However, during this 3-month period I would experience these 'time warps', for lack of a better description. I would go about my daily business, working, cleaning, organizing, running errands, etc. Usually, one plans things out their actions according to the amount of time they have to try to get everything done. At least that is the way I usually operate. However, in this time frame, I was in such a place of peace and rest I did not have to worry about getting everything done. It just happened. The thing I found strange was that I would do things that would normally take hours to accomplish and when I would look at the clock only an hour or short time would have passed. This happened several times over the course of those few months. I found that the only other times this happened was during deep prayer and worship. Prayer could last for a long time and when I would come out, it would have seemed that only minutes had passed by. This had made sense to me in the realm of prayer/worship, for then we had entered the Throne Room of God, who lives in the realm of eternity, where time and space do not exist. But to have this happen in regular everyday life I still did not understand. Almost four years later, his ‘time warp’ recently began happening again in early February 2004, which is the same time frame I started seeing 4:44 everywhere.

The Lord then led me to read a chapter in Doug Fortune's book, "Intimacy and Adversity." The section that my eyes were led to brought confirmation and revelation to what I had experienced in those 3 months. He writes on page 133, "’there should be time no longer'; ‘And the angel which I saw stand upon the sea and upon the earth lifted up his hand to heaven, And sware by him that liveth for ever and ever, who created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which are therein, that THERE SHOULD BE TIME NO LONGER:’ (Revelation 10:5-6) the word translated as 'time' there is chronos in Greek, implying the time of the natural realm - 60 minutes in an hour, 24 hours in a day, etc. We have shifted into a season wherein the kairos appointed time (the time of the spiritual realm) is overtaking the chronos (the time of the natural realm), and there is a great acceleration occurring." Now looking back at this revelation in February 2004 I see what the Lord was trying to show me. There are deeper dimensions than the 3-Dimensional world that we normally perceive. Upon discussion of this with Doug Fortune on 04/04/04 I looked up the word Fourth Dimension in Webster’s Dictionary today (04/05/04).

Fourth Dimension – A coordinate in addition to length, breadth, and depth; a coordinate in addition to three rectangular coordinates especially when interpreted as the TIME COORDINATE in space or TIME CONTINUUM. Something OUTSIDE THE RANGE OF ORDINARY EXPERIENCE.

I was shocked to find out that the FOURTH coordinate had something to do with TIME! Being an engineer, I should have known this, but most of my work is done in the x, y, and z-axis or 3-dimnensional space. I then remembered a vision I had a week earlier at the “Former and Latter Rain” Conference here in San Diego with Pastor Vincent Xavier and Doug Fortune. On the last morning of the conference the Lord had spoken to me during worship telling me that He had adjusted my vision and that I would now see as He does. I did not quite know what He meant, but that evening the Lord had me face down on the floor during worship. I had a vision in the Spirit (keep in mind this was not opened eyed) in which I saw a bunch of feet walking around. I then looked up and saw angels walking all around the room. They were placing white boxes with lids and pretty colored bows all around the pulpit area. I wondered what was in the boxes and was wondering if the Lord would tell me what was inside of them. Then I saw another pair of feet different than the angels. It was the Lord. He was walking around the room, but then told me to set my vision higher. I then saw as if Pastor Vincent was standing at the pulpit (even though in reality he was sitting in the back of the room). Instead of seeing him as I normally do, it was as if his outer appearance was a shell and I saw the Lord standing inside or within him. As I looked around the room I saw Jesus standing inside of many. I then somehow knew what was inside the packages from the angels. They were EYEGLASSES.

The Lord continued the revelation by speaking to me that the consummation of all things is LOVE. Tongues would cease and prophecies would fade away, but LOVE WOULD REMAIN. The Lord told me to share what I was seeing with the rest of the group. I hesitated for a few seconds, but then walked over to Pastor Vincent who had the microphone. At that moment Doug Fortune, who had been leading worship, singing "Your Love is Extravagant", stopped and said someone had a word that needed to be spoken. So, the Lord spoke through me about the vision. That we were to LOOK FOR HIM in one another. That if we looked for something else, we would find it. But if we looked for Him, we would find Him in one another and it was HIS LOVE THAT WOULD PERFECT US. That if there was one thing you were to leave the conference with, it was with a greater understanding of HIS LOVE. Also, for those who were fearful of moving into this New Day that it is HIS PERFECT LOVE THAT CASTS OUT FEAR. That we were just to look for HIS LOVE because in the end that IS ALL THAT WOULD REMAIN.

Today I realized something very funny (at least to me). As I looked up the Fourth Dimension in the dictionary, I found the word FOUR-EYED, which means WEARING GLASSES. I then fully realized what the EYEGLASSES in the vision I just shared were all about! It is with DEEP SPIRITUAL VISION that we PERCEIVE THE LORD’S BODY CLEARLY. God does have a sense of humor…smile. Yesterday (04/04/04) during worship at church I heard the Lord say, “I AM THE FOURTH MAN IN THE FIRE.” I was reminded of the story in Daniel of the three men who were thrown into the fiery furnace.

Daniel 3:23-25

> 23 And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-Nego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.
> 24 Then King Nebuchadnezzar was astonished; and he rose in haste and spoke, saying to his counselors, “Did we not cast THREE men bound into the MIDST OF THE FIRE?” They answered and said to the king, “True, O king.”
> 25 “LOOK!” he answered, “I SEE FOUR MEN loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and they are not hurt, and the FORM OF THE FOURTH IS LIKE THE SON OF GOD.”

Perhaps for just a moment in time, King Nebuchadnezzar was given heightened vision to see into the FOURTH DIMENSION! We are living and moving into some very interesting times my friends. It is only in the midst of the FIRE OF GOD’S LOVE that can live and walk in the “FOURTH DIMENSION” and beyond…

For now I will leave you with these Scriptures to ponder:

Galatians 4:4-5, “But when the FULLNESS OF TIME had come, God sent forth His Son, born of a woman, born under the law, to redeem those who were under the law, that we might receive the ADOPTION AS SONS."

Romans 11:25, "For I do not desire, that you should be ignorant of this MYSTERY; lest you should be wise in your own opinion, that blindness in part has happened to Israel until the FULLNESS OF THE GENTILES has come in."

Ephesians 1:10, "that in the DISPENSATION OF THE FULLNESS OF TIMES He might gather together in ONE ALL THINGS IN CHRIST, both which are in heaven and which are on earth – IN HIM."

John 1:16. "And of HIS FULLNESS we have all received, and grace for grace."

Ephesians 1:22-23, "And He put all things under His feet, and gave Him to be head over all things to the church, which is HIS BODY, the FULLNESS OF HIM who FILLS ALL IN ALL."

Zion is Giving Birth – Part Two

Julie Volby

May 16, 2004
I submit the following to you with great fear and trembling and at the same time with great joy and hope. I know it is only God who can provide a way to experience all of these things at once. I pray you would carefully consider what is shared. Please test, discern and pray about what the Lord may show you concerning these things.

On 04/03/04 the Lord allowed me to release a revelation He was unfolding to me regarding Zion giving birth in one day, the one day being the Third Day or the Third Millennial year that we are now living in since Jesus physically walked the earth. This article was sent out across the internet a week later. I received many confirmations, revelations, dreams, and visions from people all over the world having seen the 'baby' or Manchild being birthed. I believe this Manchild as spoken of in Revelation 12 is the Manchild of our destiny in Christ as He is continuing to reveal Himself through a many membered Son or 'one new man'. I also shared about bringing one's faith, which is the currency of heaven, into God's Storehouse or Treasury Room. This brought about a revelation and exhortation to the Joseph Company or Remnant of Overseers to RISE UP and leave the prison of maturity and equipping and to begin to move into their God given destinies in Christ. Please see the first article for supporting Scripture and understanding. Zion Is Giving Birth.

Today, I feel another release to share the continued unfolding revelation concerning Zion giving birth. Since the first article was written I have experienced a fair amount of what the Lord showed me was like 'turbulence'. I was led to study a bit more about turbulence and found the following:

Webster's dictionary definition:

Turbulence - the quality or state of being turbulent, wild commotion, irregular atmospheric motion especially when characterized by up-and-down currents, departure in a fluid from a smooth flow.

I also found an article that described 'turbulence' as 'air pockets' described as "irregular air motion that normally cannot be seen and often occurs unexpectedly. It can be created by a number of different conditions, including atmospheric pressures, jet streams, cold or warm fronts or thunderstorms. Turbulence can occur when the sky appears to be clear.

Flying in medium air turbulence is like driving a car through a road with lots of pot-holes. Severe air turbulence can cause abrupt changes in aircraft airspeed and even temporary loss of control.

Generally, flying through turbulence of the milder nature, if prolonged, can be fairly uncomfortable to the passengers. If such turbulence is detectable by the weather radar or from weather forecast, pilots would avoid them by deviating off track.

Flying through severe turbulence can result in injuries to crew and passengers if they are caught unaware and without seatbelts. So, have your seatbelts on whenever you are seated at all times." - Source: Federal Aviation Administration.

I felt the Lord showing me that as we continue to ascend higher and higher in the Spirit, that we would encounter some 'turbulence' or 'air pockets' that were really just portals into higher realms of His glory. From glory to glory we shall ascend! I believe He is calling us to fasten our seat belts (belts of Truth) and let Him pilot this "flying temple" or mobile Tabernacle of God. We are to remain in our seats or seated with Him in the heavenly places in a position of deep rest and secure trust in Him. I believe we will eventually leave the 'earth's' atmosphere or the limitations of our own flesh (the earth representing the dust we are made of) and be as rockets propelled into 'outer space' in which nothing can hold us back, including gravity. I know I am sounding a little 'spacey', but please bear with me as I paint this prophetic picture for you. I believe we are not going to have to physically leave the earth to see the glory of God manifested in His Temple (not made with human hands), which is what He is building us together into. This is laid out in the following verses of Scripture.

Ephesians 2:21-22 says, “In Him the whole structure is joined (bound, welded) together harmoniously, and it continues to rise (grow, increase) into a holy temple in the Lord [a sanctuary dedicated, consecrated, and sacred to the presence of the Lord]. In Him [and in fellowship with one another] you yourselves also are being built up [into this structure] with the rest, to form a fixed abode (dwelling place) of God in (by, through) the Spirit” (Amplified Bible).

Because we are progressively being called into a time of CORPORATE ANOINTING, which is what the Third Day or Feast of Tabernacles (Feast of Ingathering) is all about, I feel led to share the following dream and its interpretation with you. It is burning on my heart as I write and therefore believe that it is a “Kairos” or “NOW” word.

On Sunday, 05/09/04, right before going to bed, I was led to pray for all of my friends, family and those that the Lord has been bringing alongside me in ministry. After praying I saw this large cobra in the spirit lifting its head toward me. I remember seeing this cobra type snake when a wave of witchcraft was released against the church a couple years ago. However, this serpent was much larger, especially the head. I saw this serpent as if he were the dragon waiting to devour the Manchild to be birthed out of the woman. The revelation of who this Manchild is was discussed in the first article.

Revelation 12:1-2 says, “Now a great sign appeared in heaven: a woman clothed with the sun, with the moon under her feet, and on her head a garland of twelve stars. Then being with child, she cried out in labor and in pain to give birth.”

It goes on to say in Revelation 12:3-4, “And another sign appeared in heaven: behold, a great, fiery red dragon having seven heads and ten horns, and seven diadems on his heads. His tail drew a third of the stars of heaven and threw them to the earth. And the dragon stood before the woman who was ready to give birth, to devour her Child as soon as it was born.”

Upon still seeing this serpent in the spirit, I began to praise and worship the Lord as I fell into a rather restless sleep. I then had this intense dream.

Dream of 05/09/04

I was in a closet type room with my two physical brothers. The walls and shelves in the room were painted white. My brother, Joe, had a pet snake in a fish tank sitting on a high shelf in the room. There was actually water in the fish tank also and at least two fish swimming in it. I scooped the two fish out and for some reason decided not to use them and put them back in with the net. One fish was healthy looking and the other looked terribly sick, blackened and diseased. Then I noticed a snail crawling on the inside of the tank and wondered what the snake ate. Suddenly it lashed out its tongue and ate the snail! It kind of jolted me and I told my brothers that we must leave the room. As we exited the room the snake suddenly emerged out of the tank (at least the head did) and his long, thin, tongue lashed out and nearly missed my youngest brother's head. We closed the door behind us as we left.

Next we were all sleeping in a single bed just outside the room with the snake. All three of us were uncomfortably scrunched into it. I awoke (in the dream) and realized that this little bed we were in was actually aligned longitudinally along the end of a full size bed. I woke my brothers up and asked if one of them wanted to crawl up into the other bed so there would be more room. I thought Jeff moved up there, but later realized that I was the one who had moved up to the full size bed. Suddenly, somehow I realized what had happened with the snake. I knew that someone had been practicing witchcraft and voodoo and they just needed to take this 'porcelain doll's head’ and touch it to something to activate the spell.

No sooner had I realized this, then I knew that they were approaching the front door. I crawled across the full size bed and walked to the front door of the house we were in. I opened the door to find this woman coming up the driveway with the porcelain doll's head to complete the spell. At the same time I saw out of the corner of my eye the angel of death standing in the shadows in the corner behind me. As the woman (witch) approached the door I knew she was planning to finish her spell and I stood there in her way. The fear was so thick I could literally cut it with a knife. I could barely speak and the only words that I could use against her was "Jesus, Jesus, Jesus, Jesus..."

End of Dream.

I awoke (for real) saying this to myself over and over and over. I could still sense the fear and see in the spirit the snake in my midst. I just kept saying “Jesus” and then began praising and worshipping the Lord for the victory. Even though I could see the large cobra's head in my midst I thanked the Lord that it was all a lie and that it was actually under my feet. Suddenly I saw a big foot came crashing down upon the serpent's head. It was a really big foot! I know it was the Lord's Foot. I was rejoicing in the victory of the Cross and believing the feet of My Savior have already trampled the father of lies as the Lord prepares and is releasing the Remnant into her destiny in Him.

I have since then had a series of dreams almost every night for over a week. I have been given partial interpretation for some of them and continue to wait on the Lord for further revelation. Most of them seem to be related to this particular dream in one way or another. I want to point out that I am usually not much of a ‘dreamer’, but in the past few years have been given more and more dreams, with increasing intensity and depth of meaning. To start with, I sought the Lord for interpretation on a personal level in which I received some understanding in the form of a personal warning, but in my spirit I knew there was more. I asked the Lord to show me the kairos revelation and I believe He answered. I believe that the interpretation is not only personal, but also Corporate.

This past week various things have transpired to point me in the direction of the understanding of this dream and some of the others. I cannot get into all of it at this time because it would take too long to explain. So, I will highlight the things that were revealed to me in an attempt to explain how I was led to the interpretation of the dream. As I had seen the gigantic foot of the Lord come down to crush the serpent’s head, I was reminded of a vision my friend Pastor Vincent Xavier had shared with me earlier in the day before having the dream. He had been at a conference that weekend and the Lord had given him a vision of the Lord’s Feet walking in the earth. He said as the Lord walked, the mountains were trembling and the earth was quaking. He said the Lord said He was coming for His own and the earth was His and He was taking it back. He was given Habakkuk 3 for understanding. I then felt the Lord tell me to study His Feet. The following verse seemed to come alive through my own vision of His Foot as the Lord spoke to the serpent:

Genesis 3:15, “And I will put enmity between you and the woman, And between your seed and her Seed; He shall bruise your head, And you shall bruise His heel.”

It is clear that the Seed that God is speaking of in this verse is Jesus Christ and His complete and total victory over Satan on the Cross. All of us have been given access to this same power, yet we do not yet see the full manifestation on the earth as stated in the following Scriptures:

Psalm 110:1, “The LORD said to my Lord, ‘Sit at My right hand, Till I make Your enemies Your footstool.”

1 Corinthians 15:24-25, “Then comes the end, when He delivers the kingdom to God the Father, when He puts an end to all rule and all authority and power. For He must reign till He has put all enemies under his feet.”

It is clear to me that if we are the Body of Christ and Jesus is the preeminent Head, then we are to function as HIS FEET through His direction in bringing an end to all rule and all authority and power of the evil one. I have much more to share regarding this, but will have to stop for now to continue with the unfolding interpretation of the dream.

I later sat down to read my Bible. As I began reading, I suddenly remembered the name of the witch in my dream had been “Ashtoreth”. I thought it was interesting and recalled hearing that name somewhere in the Bible. After a bit of research I learned that she was an Old Testament Canaanite goddess of love, fertility and lust that the Israelites committed adultery with. They forsook the Lord to serve Baal and Ashtoreth. I noted this and didn't feel led to study any more at that time.

Friday morning (04/14/05), after having a series of 3 more dreams I awoke and began to study Scriptures about the Fullness of Christ as He had directed. I turned on my computer and decided to check the online news. The following article caught my eye:

http://www.abcnews.go.com/wire/US/ap20040514_120.html

Lesbian Rabbi Finally Gets Turn As Bride
After Performing Countless Weddings, Lesbian Rabbi Finally Gets Her Own Marriage Rights

The Associated Press

I was quite surprised that I had not heard anything recently in the news about the gay unions. I also was saddened to see that the Jewish religion was allowing gay unions and Rabbis into the ministry. Please note that I am not highlighting this article because the couple in question happen to be Jewish, but am more concerned right now about the couple being of the same gender. This reminded me of the dream I had the night before the dream containing the snake and Ashtoreth. In the dream two lesbian women at a “Woodstock” type gathering confronted me. I did not know what to make of that dream, but after having the second dream I began to see a connection.

Let me also state that I am at a place in my walk with the Lord in which I know the enemy is a defeated foe through Jesus FINISHED WORK on the CROSS. So, studying spiritual warfare type things is something I am no longer drawn to, as the Lord had called me to ‘come up higher’ to the Third Heaven or Third Day perspective. I do believe what Ephesians 1:17-22 says that Christ was raised from the dead and seated in the heavenly places FAR ABOVE all principality and power and might and dominion. So, if we are in Christ as a new creation, then this is also where we are to live and abide positionally in Him.

However, with that said, I still felt led to do a little more research on Ashtoreth and found that Astoreth was not only known as the goddess of love, fertility and lust, but also a goddess of war and also believed by some to be known as the ‘queen of heaven’. I found the following definitions on the internet.

Strong's Exhaustive Concordance: Hebrew and Chaldee Dictionary:
"6252. Ashtarowth ... or Ashtaroth ... the name of a Sidonian diety ... : —Ashtaroth."
"6253. Ashtoreth ... the Phoenician goddess of love (and increase): —Ashtoreth."
Webster's New World College Dictionary:
"Astarte ... a Semitic goddess of fertility and sexual love, worshiped by the Phoenicians and others: see also ASHTORETH, ISHTAR."
"Ashtoreth ... the ancient Phoenician and Syrian goddess of love and fertility: identified with ASTARTE."
"Ishtar ... see ASHTORETH ... the goddess of love, fertility, and war."
Encyclopedia Britannica:
"Astarte/Ashtoreth is the Queen of Heaven to whom the Canaanites had burned incense and poured libations."
Encyclopedia Britannica:
"Through her identification with the Greek Aphrodite and the Roman Venus, Inanna-Ishtar, the queen of heaven, still survives in Roman Catholic iconography - e.g., as the Virgin Mary standing on the moon."

I was then led to the following Scripture verses.
Judges 2:11-18
11 Then the children of Israel did evil in the sight of the Lord, and served the Baals;
12 And they forsook the Lord God of their fathers, who had brought them out of the land of Egypt; and they followed other gods from among the gods of the people who were all around them, and they bowed down to them; and they provoked the Lord to anger.
13 They forsook the Lord and served Baal and the Astoreths.
14 And the anger of the Lord was hot against Israel. So He delivered them into the hands of plunderers who despoiled them; and He sold them into the hands of their enemies all around, so that they could no longer stand before their enemies.

15 Wherever they went out, the hand of the Lord was against them for calamity, as the Lord had said, and as the Lord had sworn to them. And they were greatly distressed.
16 Nevertheless, the Lord raised up judges who delivered them out of the hand of those who plundered them.
17 Yet they would not listen to their judges, but they played the harlot with other gods, and bowed down to them. They turned quickly from the way in which their fathers walked, in obeying the commandments of the Lord; they did not do so.
18 And when the Lord raised up judges for them, the Lord was with the judge and delivered them out of the hand of their enemies, all the days of the judge; for the Lord was moved to pity by their groaning because of those who oppressed them and harassed them.

I was very surprised because on 11/21/02 a trusted friend had give me Judges 2:12 along with Judges 2:18. At the time we had no idea what the Lord was referring to when she gave these verses to me. We had not been in much contact in recent months and suddenly this week for some reason we reconnected. This same friend shared that she had just had a strange dream containing lesbians hiding. She had recently been at a church function where she discerned two of the women there were lesbians. She thought perhaps this is what sparked the dream. I thought it was interesting that she would have a dream with similar contents in the same time frame.

I was also been reminded of a series of 3 dreams another friend had late last year and earlier this year. At the time I somehow had partial interpretation that it had to do with the homosexual agenda being pushed forward specifically by the females or lesbians. These are not things either of us had been led to intercede about, so it was strange to have it come up. I believe she had these dreams right before the first same sex marriages were performed in San Francisco of which I learned the first couple to be married were female. These unions were later halted by the State of California and not recognized at that level. My friend’s dream also contained 3 snakes (boa constrictors) that were in a bag trying to get out.

The same day she had the dream, I found out that a fellow co-worker had passed away. He had taken a leave of absence, so I had not seen him in months. As soon as I heard of his passing, I suddenly somehow 'knew' that he had had AIDS. While he was openly gay, it was not openly known if he had AIDS. It was very sad as I found out how many had tried to minister to him. I felt that perhaps this was confirmation of the interpretation I had for the dreams, though we still await full understanding. I also realized that this was not about some controversial agenda, but was in fact a matter of life and death.

Saturday (05/15/04) as I watched the news and another program, it was evident that something major was going on with the gay marriage agenda as I could see the spirit of perversion flooding this Nation. The story I saw on the news was unreal to me. It was about a same sex couple (women) and the children they birthed through artificial insemination with a gay couple (men) and how they were a happy 'family' unit. Then I felt the Lord tell me that on Monday (05/17/04) an even stronger spirit of perversion, lust and homosexuality was going to be unleashed over the United States. I believe this spirit may be the spiritual strongman of Ashtoreth or the Queen of Heaven (see Jeremiah 7:17-18), which I confronted at the door in my dream. I felt the Lord say that the door would open to the full workings of this spirit through the first gay unions that would take place legally in the state of Massachusetts on Monday. I found the following article as well.

http://abcnews.go.com/wire/US/ap20040515_1285.html

This is just a portion of the article if you click on the link above.

May 15, 2004 — For better or for worse, depending on which side of the ideological aisle one chooses, a divided America crosses a historic threshold Monday as state-approved marriages of same-sex couples take place for the first time.

I thought it was interesting that this story has not been making the major headlines, nor did I find this topic highlighted on any of the other major news websites. It seems most people are focused on the war in Iraq and all the perversion and violence taking place there. This could be related to my friend's earlier dream as everyone was focused on a roulette wheel with a ball of flesh (perhaps representing the unknown outcome of these ‘war games’). An even deadlier thing lied in wait behind a wall, which I believe this to be.

With all of that laid out I now hope to provide the interpretation of the dream to you.

Interpretation of Dream from 05/09/04

I believe the fact that my dream contained my two brothers and I was significant. At first I thought it represented my physical brothers, but as I sought the Lord I realized that He was painting a prophetic picture of the Church for me. You see, in the natural I am the oldest of three children. Jeff is the youngest and Joe is in the middle. I believe the significance of this is that the youngest brother represents those believers standing in the Outer Court of God’s Temple. They know Jesus as Savior and have experienced Passover, but have not come into a deeper knowledge of God. I believe the middle brother represents those believers that have entered into the Holy Place of knowing Jesus as both Lord and Savior. They have received the Baptism of the Holy Spirit or Feast of Pentecost and move in the gifts of the Spirit. They also know the ins and outs of spiritual warfare as they battle with the enemy in this soul realm. I believe that since I am the oldest, I represent the believers that have matured into Christ and stand in the Holy of Holies. They have entered behind the veil of the flesh and are experiencing the Feast of Tabernacles in a very tangible way as they commune intimately with the Lord continually. Not only is Jesus their Lord and Savior, but He has become their All in All. I am not saying this is where my brothers are as individuals, but using this as a frame of reference to understand the dream. I believe the three of us together represented the living Temple of God.

I believe the closet type room we were in was painted WHITE because of its contents. It reminded me of what Jesus said to the Pharisees in Matthew 23:25-28, “Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you cleanse the outside of the cup and dish, but inside they are full of extortion and self-indulgence. Blind Pharisee, first cleanse the inside of the cup and dish, that the outside of them may also be clean. Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites! For you are like WHITE WASHED TOMBS which indeed appear beautiful outwardly, but inside are full of dead men’s bones and all uncleanness. Even so you also outwardly appear righteous to men, but inside you are full of hypocrisy and lawlessness.” It also reminded me that as Paul stated, “You cannot drink the cup of the Lord and the cup of demons; you cannot partake of the Lord’s table and of the table of demons” (1 Corinthians 10:21).

The fact that the snake and fish tank belonged to my middle brother was significant as many of those walking in the revelation of the Holy Place or second heaven have continued to keep the enemy as their ‘pet’, as the Church has warred with a defeated foe for over 2000 years. This is not to say this warfare did not have its time or place, but I believe that it is time to ‘come up higher’. The fact that the tank was on a high shelf represented it as something that the Church has set up as an idol or a high place, as many have chosen to feed their pet demons or sins, keeping them hidden in a white washed tomb or closet, rather than repenting and leaving them at the Cross where they were already dealt with by the Blood of Jesus.

I believe the two fish that I first took out to use, then put back, were significant as well. Through another dream I received the next night I was able to identify the healthy looking fish as a spirit of religion which would explain why it looked ‘healthy’. The other black, sickly looking fish was a spirit of slothfulness and spiritual apathy, gluttony, drunkenness, hatred and deceit, which inevitably causes lukewarmness. These perhaps have a form of godliness, but deny the power thereof. I was also reminded of Proverbs 23 and was given Proverbs 26 by another friend. These Scriptures warn of the consequences of becoming spiritually lazy and overly indulging or feeding on the things of the world and becoming drunk with its pleasures. Proverbs 23:32 explains what happens as a result, “At the last it bites like a serpent, And stings like a viper.”

I believe this lines up with my wondering what the snake ate. It was the snail that I saw him eat, the snail representing something ‘sluggish or slow-moving’, not able to escape should the enemy come to devour him. It was after I saw the snake eat the snail that I realized we needed to exit the room taking both of my brothers with me. I believe the snake nearly missed my youngest brother or the immature brethren because they do not stand in much protection against the wiles of the devil standing in the Outer Court, yet they are still spared. We shut the door behind us signifying that the Church is to no longer hide within the veil of white washed religiosity, but instead called to come out of the closet of lukewarmness, thereby shutting the door to all dealings with sin and the devil.

Next, I believe that the fact that we were all lying in the same single bed at the foot of the full size bed was also significant, the bed signifying a place of rest. When I awoke I had realized that there was not enough room for all of us. So, I woke my brothers up to try to get one of them to move up HIGHER to the FULL SIZE bed. I believe the full size bed represented the FULLNESS OF CHRIST or a bed of MATURITY and as I ROSE UP and got onto it my EYES WERE SUDDENLY OPENED to see what was really going on in the Spirit. I had moved to the Third Heaven or Third Realm and could see from ‘above’ and accurately discern what was happening.

At that moment I knew that the woman, Ashtoreth, was bringing a porcelain doll's head to complete the spell. I believe this may represent the connecting of the head of her authority over her body, which is already operating quite freely in our Nation and perhaps even in many parts of the Church. I passed through the ‘valley of the shadow of death’, when I saw the angel of death in the shadows, as I went to meet Ashtoreth at the door. I believe her ultimate plan is the enemy's attempt to marry himself to the world as a counterfeit version of Christ and His Bride. She is trying to bear her own 'offspring' through it. Her plan was to cause death with a flood of perversion, but God had raised up a standard against her. It was the mature remnant that was this standard. It was also very significant in the way that I (representing the mature ones) stood against her, not by warring, but simply by calling on the Name of Jesus. After I awoke the fear was still thick in the air and I continued to see the Serpent’s head, but upon proclaiming the Truth (standing against the lies) and worshipping and glorifying God for the victory on the Cross, the enemy was clearly defeated as the FOOT OF THE LORD crushed the serpent’s head.

Conclusion:

I believe that the Lord issued these things for such a time as this to warn the Church and this Nation of what is about to happen. I believe that tomorrow (05/17/05), by the first State recognized same sex marriages taking place, a door is going to open over the United States and a flood of perversion, that has not yet been seen openly, is going to come flooding into the land. Not only into individual households, but also especially into THE CHURCH. It is clear in the Bible that God esteems the covenant of marriage very highly as He even relates His own relationship with Israel in the Old Testament and the Church in the New Testament as a spiritual union of marriage, in which spiritual adultery and perversion, especially of an abominable type, is not met without severe consequences.

I believe that this same flood of perversion is the same flood spoken of in Revelation 12. The purpose of this flood is to devour the Manchild of Destiny or Christ in us the hope of glory. I believe the full birth of the Manchild will cause the unraveling of a series of worldwide events that has not yet been seen to this degree as the dragon attempts to stop this from happening. This can be likened to Herod’s attempt to find and kill Jesus when He was first born. I have not addressed the rest of the world in this revelation because the Lord has only shown me things specific to this Nation. However, it is clear that what happens in the United States seems to have a domino effect in the rest of the world in one way or another. I am also not saying that the Remnant resides in the United States only, but believe that there are hidden ones across this earth that have been prepared and equipped for this time in history.

I was also reminded this morning of David Wilkerson’s prophetic warning to this Nation that was given decades ago called, “The Vision”. Upon listening again to a taped sermon he gave regarding this, I was surprised at how, for the first time, it became alive to me. I had at one point grown weary of his teachings, but the Lord had directed me to learn from him for a season of time. Though much of what he preaches sounds like ‘fire and brimstone’ I believe that what he was seeing was real. You see, I believe that the Sword of the Spirit is double edged with one side being judgment and the other being mercy. The following verses speak of the duality of God’s righteousness:

James 2:13, “For judgment is without mercy to the one who has shown no mercy. Mercy triumphs over judgment.

Romans 11:22, “Therefore consider the goodness and the severity of God: on those who fell, severity; but toward you, goodness if you continue in His goodness. Otherwise you will be cut off.”

I believe that each individual has a choice and that where we stand with God is a matter of perspective. Many would choose to stand on the side of judgment and choose not to repent and to remain in bondage to their sin. Others would choose to stand on the side of mercy and only see the goodness of God. But my friends, we are coming into a time that we will see both the goodness and severity of God demonstrated across this earth in all its fullness. As the darkness increases, so will the light. We have got to come up higher and have the Lord’s perspective. The judgment that is coming is not to condemn the world, for the full account for sin was already taken upon the Son of Man on the Cross over 2000 years ago. The world does not need to be condemned for as John 3:18 states, “He who believes in Him is not condemned; but he who does not believe is condemned already, because he has not believed in the name of the only begotten Son of God.” I believe the JUDGMENT OR CRISIS that is coming is as Rick Joyner has been talking about as the Final Harvest or a reaping of what has been sown both unto life and unto death.

It is indeed time to COME UP HIGHER! The coming flood of lies can only mean that the Manchild of Destiny in Christ is also being birthed into FULLNESS. The good news is that like in my dream, if we call on Jesus and proclaim Him as the Lord and the King over all the earth, worship and praise His Name, and stand firm in the Spirit claiming complete defeat over the enemy, eventually the Lord's Foot of righteousness will bring a final crushing blow to the enemy. I do not yet understand the timeline of how this is going to unfold, but know that the Lord has promised to provide the Daily Bread of His presence for us.

Upon sharing all of this with my friend Pastor Vincent last night, he gave me confirmation of the coming flood of perversion and lies that the enemy was planning to flood the earth with as explained in Revelation 12. As we discussed these things we moved into a time of prayer and prophetic declaration calling forth the hidden remnant that the Lord has prepared for such a time as this. We called forth those that were hidden in the spiritual prisons, wildernesses and deserts of preparation and maturity. We were led to call forth not only the Josephs, but the Daniels, the Elijahs, the Joshuas, the Jeremiahs, the Jobs, etc. This holy remnant of people are going to be used mightly in the days to come to light the way.

I also believe as we enter into and pass through the next season of PENTECOST we must BE IN ONE ACCORD and seek Him as never before. I believe this season is like no other we have seen on the entire earth. As the season of Passover was taken to another dimension with the release of “The Passion”, displaying Jesus finished work on the Cross across the world, so this season of PENTECOST is going to be taken into another dimension. I believe that those that are in ONE ACCORD seeking Him will be filled with the DUNAMIS POWER FROM ON HIGH, displaying the full manifestation of what this entails including healings, miracles, signs and wonders. I also believe we shall see Joel 2:28-29, “And it shall come to pass afterward that I will pour out My Spirit on all flesh; Your sons and daughters shall prophesy, Your old men shall dream dreams, Your young men shall see visions” fulfilled as never before. The BEGINNING FULFILLMENT of this prophecy happened in Acts 2, but we shall now see an even GREATER DIMENSION UNTO FULLNESS in this year and in the time to come. As these POWER SURGES of the Holy Spirit infiltrate the Church this will cause a ripple effect that I hope to address in a future article.

For now I charge you to seek to enter into this kairos moment in time and SEEK HIM AND HIS KINGDOM FIRST AND HIS RIGHTEOUSNESS. WE MUST STAND WITH ONE ACCORD TO RECEIVE THE FULLNESS OF THE PROMISE IN THIS HOUR. WE WILL NEED HIM AS NEVER BEFORE FOR WHAT IS TO COME. As Jesus said in Luke 10:2, “The harvest is truly great, but the laborers are few; therefore pray the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers into His harvest.” We will need to completely rely on GOD’S POWER AND PRESENCE THROUGH HIS SPIRIT to bring in the Harvest. Please do not take these words lightly. It is a time to consecrate yourselves and your Church Body before the Lord God Almighty! PREPARE YE THE WAY OF THE LORD!

One last thing. Along with the flood of lies, there is another flood coming as well. I leave you with this promise from God’s Word.

Isaiah 45:8, "RAIN DOWN you HEAVENS, from ABOVE, And let the SKIES POUR DOWN RIGHTEOUSNESS; Let the EARTH OPEN, let THEM BRING FORTH SALVATION, And let RIGHTEOUSNESS SPRING UP TOGETHER. I, the Lord, have CREATED IT."

Two Visions

May 16, 2004
I just wanted to share what happened today. Upon awaking, the Lord laid it on my heart to write Part Two of "Zion Giving Birth". I wrote for about an hour and a half and then headed to church. During worship I was given 2 very brief, but absolutely incredible visions.

In the first vision I saw myself standing up straight and something outpouring over my body that is hard to describe. I didn't really pour out like a rushing flow of water, but was more like a light, transparent, gold toned oil. The incredible part was that as it poured over me, it became this type of embalmment or encasing (like an opaque membrane or cocoon) and as I saw myself standing in it, the membrane was actually made of what looked like lightening, thunder, wind, and water (not that we can 'see' some of these things with the natural eye). It was like I was encased in this electric shock wave membrane. Suddenly, the worship music stopped so they could make an announcement and the vision ended as well, but was still fresh in my spirit.

Then the worship continued and this time I saw another vision. It was as if I saw Jesus being baptized, rising up from the River, and as the waters dripped down His Body, the water was so reflective as if composed of millions of little diamonds glistening off His body. There were rainbows as the light from the sun reflected off the water. It was similar to the vision I had just seen on my own body.

As worship continued I began clutching my stomach with one hand and the other one raised to Him. I have learned to understand this is a prophetic act of the Lord ministering to, in, with the Manchild within the spiritual womb as He prepares to birth something in the Spirit. As the worship went on, I was led in and out of speaking in tongues, singing and silence for most of the time. The woman next to me thought something was wrong with me, so she prayed for me while we worshipped. After the last song in the set, there seemed to be a miscommunication between the worship leader and the Pastor. The Pastor asked him to play another song and the worship leader did not have one prepared. So, he decided to sing "These are the Day of Elijah". I knew this was of the Lord.

The congregation continued in worship and I continued to clutch my stomach in a bent over fashion by now. After the song was finished it was quiet for just a moment and suddenly someone broke out into a prophetic tongue very loudly. This has only happened once since I have been at this church (that time being the very first time the Lord sent me to this church last Fall, which gave me confirmation that I was in the right place). As soon as the tongue went forth I began to weep deeply and the interpretation came immediately. The tongue went on for some time and then the Pastor called for the interpretation. A man immediately began to speak forth part of the interpretation as I continued to weep. I do not remember what he said because the word of the Lord was burning so strongly on my heart. After he finished my weeping became louder as I poured forth what the Lord had laid upon my heart. It was something like, "THE GLORY OF THE LORD FILLS THE EARTH. THE WHOLE EARTH IS FILLED WITH HIS GLORY. I HAVE PREPARED A PEOPLE FOR SUCH A TIME AS THIS. MY GLORY SHALL BE REVEALED IN MY PEOPLE AND ALL THE EARTH SHALL SEE ME AND BOW DOWN." I don't remember the last part. By then many others were weeping as well. A few others brought forth more interpretation. All I remember is some others speaking forth something like, "THE YEAR OF JUBILEE HAS COME" and "HE COMES RIDING ON A WHITE HORSE". It was so beautiful. God is good. Zion is giving birth! Glory to God!

The Pastor later announced that the prayer class group also felt led for those attending the All Church Prayer Meeting this Wednesday to fast. This gave me confirmation of the Lord calling for His people to consecrate themselves as we enter into the season of Pentecost. I then went straight home and wrote for 5 hours straight to complete Part 2 of “Zion Giving Birth”.

I believe that my vision had something to do with Pentecost. From the things the Lord has been revealing to many others, and me it is apparent that we are living in the days of the Latter Rain outpouring in fullness. I believe there are coming great tidal waves of His Spirit upon the Church and all flesh. These power surges are going to bring forth the true anointing of God in a fullness that we have never experienced. These power surges, will in turn, trigger an unfolding of worldwide events. I will share more when the Lord releases me to do so. For now, here are some related Scriptures.

Habakkuk 2:2-3

2 Then the Lord answered me and said:
“Write the vision
And make it plain on tablets,
That he may run who reads it.
3 For the vision is yet for an appointed time;
But at the end it will speak, and it will not lie.
Though it tarries, wait for it;
Because it will surely come.
It will not tarry.

Matthew 3:16-17

16 When He had been baptized, Jesus came up immediately from the water; and behold, the heavens were opened to Him, and He saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and alighting upon Him.
17 And suddenly a voice came from heaven, saying, “This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.”

Revelation 11:19

19 Then the temple of God was opened in heaven, and the ark of His covenant was seen in His temple. And there were lightnings, noises, thunderings, an earthquake, and great hail.

Acts 2:16-17

16 But this is what was spoken by the prophet Joel:
17 ‘And it shall come to pass in the last days, says God,
That I will pour out of My Spirit on all flesh;
Your sons and your daughters shall prophesy,
Your young men shall see visions,
Your old men shall dream dreams.
18 And on My menservants and on My maidservants
I will pour out My Spirit in those days;
And they shall prophesy.

Isaiah 6:3
4 And one cried to another and said:
“Holy, holy, holy is the Lord of hosts;
The whole earth is filled with your glory!”

Deuteronomy 16:16-17

16 “Three times a year all your males shall appear before the Lord your God in the place which He chooses: at the Feast of Unleavened Bread, at the Feast of Weeks, and at the Feast of Tabernacles; and they shall not appear before the Lord empty-handed.
17 Every man shall give as he is able, according to the blessing of the Lord your God which He has given you.

Leviticus 23:15-16

15 “And you shall count for yourselves from the day after the Sabbath, from the day that you brought the sheaf of the wave offering: seven Sabbaths shall be completed.

16 Count fifty days to the day after the seventh Sabbath; then you shall offer a new grain offering to the Lord.

Deuteronomy 16:9-10

9 "You shall count seven weeks for yourself; begin to count the seven weeks from the time you begin to put the sickle to the grain.
10 Then you shall keep the Feast of Weeks to the Lord your God with the tribute of a freewill offering from your hand, which you shall give as the Lord your God blesses you.

Acts 2:1-4

1 When the Day of Pentecost had fully come, they were all with one accord in one place.
2 And suddenly there came a sound from heaven, as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled the whole house where they were sitting.
3 Then there appeared to them divided tongues, as of fire, and one sat upon each of them.
4 And they were all filled, with the Holy Spirit and began to speak with other tongues, as the Spirit gave them utterance.

Haggai 2:6-9

6 "For thus says the Lord of hosts: 'Once more (it is a little while) I will shake the heavens and the earth, the sea and dry land;
7 and I will shake all nations, and they shall come to the Desire of All Nations, and I will fill this temple with glory,' says the Lord of hosts.
8 'The silver is Mine, and the gold is Mine,' says the Lord of hosts.
9 'The glory of this latter temple shall be greater than the former,' says the Lord of hosts. 'And in this place I will give peace,' says the Lord of hosts."

Zechariah 10:1

1 Ask the Lord for rain
In the time of the latter rain.
The Lord will make flashing clouds;
He will give them showers of rain,
Grass in the field for everyone.

James 5:7

7 Therefore be patient, brethren, until the coming of the Lord. See how the farmer waits for the precious fruit of the earth, waiting patiently for it until it receives the early and latter rain. You also be patient. Establish your hearts, for the coming of the Lord is at hand.

Run To Win

Julie Volby

April 17, 2004
1 Corinthians 9:24 – "Do you not know that those who run in a race all run, but one receives the prize? Run in such a way that you may obtain it."

There are many of us running this race Paul speaks of. The race of humanity is running the course that was laid out before the foundation of the earth. What we may normally refer to as 'the rat race' is nothing more than those who are running to and fro without direction or true purpose.

So, I begin this writing with one question for you, "Are you running to win?"

I have long wondered about this verse of Scripture. Why would Paul tell us that those who run a race all run? This seems obvious to me. Perhaps the question is do we all know that we are supposed to be running? Paul also exhorts us to run in such a way that we might obtain the prize. The burning question on my heart has been, if only ONE receives the prize, then what is the point of running the race?

I found that in my childhood years through adolescence I was, in most cases, numbered with the shortest ones in my class. “Shorty” was a common nickname growing up. While in school, this height challenge followed me as I tried to make the cut in various sports, never being the best player, but still having a measure of fun. At one point, I joined the track team. I soon found that with my short legs, I was never able to run as fast as those with longer legs, especially in the short distance races. I then found that in the long distance races leg length became less important, as focus and endurance took precedence. However, I was not very good at, nor did I enjoy, long distance running. Therefore, I never won first place. So reading Paul’s words about only one receiving the prize left me rather frustrated. I had always wanted to win the race, but knowing that only one obtained it, what was the point of trying?

I finally accepted the fact that I was indeed a part of this race Paul speaks of, so I decided that the only way to finish the course was to run. However, I needed to understand that this race was not about a competition with the other runners, but was all about RECEIVING THE PRIZE. As I gazed around at the mass crowds of those running by me, I realized that I could never keep up with their pace. I tried to stay in step with them, but could not. Although I had some training as a child, many old habits, thinking patterns, and experiences held me back. This left me tired and discouraged. Instead of seeing these wise ones, who were gliding by me, as an inspiration, I saw them as prideful and lofty. How could I ever compete with their long, graceful, and enduring strides? Though they had never done anything personally to me, I inwardly decided that they were unbalanced and what they were doing was not for me. So I continued running the race with a small amount of energy and little hope that I would actually finish. It was kind of lonely at first. I did not know how to discipline myself and would run in sporadic and meandering patterns. Over time I realized that there were others like me. They were not quite as swift as the ‘gazelle’ runners, but were running at a pace I could handle. I found comfort in running alongside them as we discussed our relationships with the Lord. As we ran together, I found healing, knowing that I was not alone and that my own self-pity, pride, fear, and unbelief had actually caused me to look at the forerunners in the wrong light or perspective. I realized that perhaps the forerunners did know more than me, as they saw further ahead. I knew I needed to be open to what I could learn from them.

As the race continued, I realized as Paul said in 1 Corinthians 9:25, “And everyone who competes for the prize is temperate in all things. Now they do it to obtain a perishable crown, but we for an imperishable crown.” This race had seemed so long already. However, due to the length of the race, the fruit of the Spirit had been growing, including the temperance and self-control that Paul spoke of. The Word tells us that fruit is grown through patience (see James 5:7). It was during these times of trial and tribulation that I learned to, “Count it all joy when you fall into various trials, knowing that the testing of your faith produces patience. But let patience have its perfect work, that you may be perfect and complete, lacking nothing” (see James 1:2-4). I had to also realize that those who had gone before me did not have it any easier, but also went through their own tailor made trials of suffering to produce this patience. It became apparent that the Lord is very compassionate and merciful. And that those who endured were counted as blessed. Just like Job, the end intended by the Lord was much better than in Job’s early years. (see James 5:10-11). Job persevered to the end and the Lord blessed his latter days more than his early days with a double portion. It was the LORD who had brought the adversity upon Job to test and purify his heart. This was all done to fulfill God’s purpose in his life (see Job 42:9-12). I realized that there was hope as I studied the lives of so many in the Bible whom God tested with fiery trials, but later restored. This encouraged me as I continued to run by faith in God’s Word.

As time passed, my legs became stronger and my faith grew. This race was not so bad after all! Suddenly, before I knew it, my legs were able to run swiftly and with great speed and endurance. I related this spiritual growth spurt to the maturing and physical growth of a child to adolescence thru adulthood. Individuals will grow spiritually, emotionally, and physically at their own set pace. Because my growth in these three areas never seemed to be in alignment as an adolescent, it many times left me confused and hopeless. As I eventually matured into adulthood, it seemed that for the first time things began to come into alignment. But back to the race…

As I got accustomed to my new found strength and tenacity, I realized that the pace that I had been running was no longer comfortable for me. It had been a place of such comfort, growth and healing. It had been a season in the race where many hardships and trials were overcome together with others at my side. But there was something inside of me saying I must go on. I must leave the comfort of those I had run with for years and move forward at the rate of growth, which the Lord had destined for me. I must let go of many old habits and ways of doing things that I had come to depend on to survive the intensity and length of the race. This was by no means an easy choice, nor did I fully understand what it meant. As this transition occurred, I found myself misunderstood and often confused as I tried to explain what was happening. It was painful to feel the distance between my co-runners and I grow further and further apart, as my legs began to pick up speed. I wanted to stay where I was because it was comfortable and seemed safe, since I knew what to expect. But the stirring inside of me was too much. I realized that like Paul I needed to, “Forget those things which are behind and reach forward to those things which are ahead. Pressing toward the goal for the prize of the upward call of God in Christ Jesus” (see Philippians 3:13-14). Here the Greek word for press is ‘dioko’, meaning to pursue, as an extended meaning of pursuing a person on foot in a chase. It seemed that perhaps there was more strategy to winning the race than I thought.

If I wanted to take advice from Paul, who was a forerunner (or one who went before), I would need to use the same strategy that he used. He had exhorted us to ‘run in such a way that we would obtain the prize’. It seemed that as Paul ran, he was not running in a random fashion but was, as the Greek word ‘dioko’ suggests, pursuing something or Someone! It seemed I had found the key to running with the same passion that Paul spoke of. I was to run as if I were chasing the One I love! It reminded me of the Shulamite bride’s desire as she sought her bridegroom. We can hear her heart’s desire being poured out in the following verses.

Song of Solomon 3:1-3

1 By night on my bed I sought the one I love;
I sought him, but I did not find him.

2 “I will rise now,” I said,
“And go about the city;
In the streets and in the squares
I will seek the one I love.”
I sought him, but I did not find him.

3 The watchmen who go about the city found me;
I said, “Have you seen the one I love?”

Oh how chasing my Lord gave me renewed hope and fresh strength. It was as if, for the first time, I could see a glimpse of the Finish Line! I ran with such fervor that I did not notice any obstacles that would have distracted me in the past. It was as Paul wrote, “Therefore I run thus; not with uncertainty. Thus I fight: not as one who beats the air” (1 Corinthians 9:26). I now ran with much certainty knowing my heart’s desires could all be fulfilled in knowing my Lord even more. But I still had to fight as Paul did. What does this fighting entail? It is obvious, I hope, that Paul did not write this to get us into a fistfight with our brother or sister in order to win the race. Again, our eye or focus must be singular on the Prize or the Purpose, not the Process. So, what did Paul mean when he said this? I had for a long time understood this to mean that when I got involved in spiritual warfare I was not to shoot my prayer arrows in an aimless fashion, but was to make sure I hit my target. This ‘fighting’ brought much success, but in most cases left me exhausted. Now looking back, I think I may have missed the mark all together. It does appear that Paul does intend to fight or contend…but not as one who beats the air. I believe there is much well-meaning spiritual warfare that goes on with nothing but thin air. Please know that I understand that the enemy is real and so are his minions, but according to the Word of God, this prince of the power of the air works in the sons of disobedience, which we are no longer called to number ourselves with. We are to understand that “God, who is rich in mercy, because of HIS GREAT LOVE with which He loved us, even when we were dead in trespasses, made us ALIVE TOGETHER WITH CHRIST (by grace you have been saved), and RAISED US UP TOGETHER, and

MADE US SIT TOGETHER in the HEAVENLY PLACES IN CHRIST JESUS (see Ephesians 2:1-6). This place that we are sitting with Him is FAR ABOVE all principality and power and might and dominion (see Ephesians 1:21). I realized that I had spent many years fighting an enemy, that my carnal nature had empowered, by believing the lie that they had any authority over me at all. By God's grace, I came to know the Truth that set me free. The truth is that Jesus' Finished Work on the Cross was one of COMPLETE victory over sin, death and the devil. This is FULL SALVATION of the body, soul and spirit! This could not be done by might, nor by power, but only by the Holy Spirit! The only thing Jesus called us to do is BELIEVE IN HIM by faith.

The Lord finally revealed the reason that only ONE won the race was because the only way to WIN was to find oneself in ONENESS with Jesus Christ, who is also ONE with the Father. "Therefore we also, since we are surrounded by so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which so easily ensnares us, and let us RUN WITH ENDURANCE the RACE that is set before us, LOOKING UNTO JESUS, the AUTHOR and FINISHER OF OUR FAITH, who for the joy that was set before Him ENDURED THE CROSS, despising the shame, and HAS SAT DOWN at the right hand of the throne of God", Hebrews 12:1-2. From these verses we can truly see that the Author and Finisher of our faith is also the Sole Winner, or SOUL WINNER, who is our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ. He is the ONE who paid for our lives with His Blood. He is the ONE who deserved to win the race for humanity! He was the FORERUNNER of all forerunners (see Hebrews 6:20) and we must obtain the PRIZE (a fully restored relationship with the Father) the same way! It is from this position of correct identification of ONENESS with Jesus that we can truly live a victory filled life in Him. Romans 6:8 states this quite clearly, "Now if we DIED with Christ, we believe that we shall also LIVE with Him."

I like the way the Amplified Bible summarizes all of this:

1 Corinthians 9:24-26

Do you not know that in a race all the runners compete, but [only] one receives the prize? So run [your race] that you may lay hold [of the prize] and make it yours.

Now every athlete who goes into training conducts himself temperately and restricts himself in all things. They do it to win a wreath that will soon wither, but we [do it to receive a crown of eternal blessedness] that cannot wither.

Therefore I do not run uncertainly (without definite aim). I do not box like one beating the air and striking without an adversary.

Now I need to clarify a few things. I had described my experience of transition when I began to pick up speed and leave behind those things that I had been a part of for some time. In this transition, I am in no way advocating an exclusivist mentality, nor church hopping, like a frog. I am simply trying to make the point that there comes a time in one's life that they must choose to let go of anything that may hinder them from following God wherever He may lead. These things may include old mindsets, attitudes, belief systems and sometimes even the influence of others. This process may actually entail an outward physical separation or may be more inward, where the closeness that was once shared with others is no longer the same as it once was. The same can be reflected in the natural, as we normally do not see 8 year olds relating to 18 year olds on the same level of understanding, nor do I know of too many Kindergartners taking Calculus class. This is not to say that they cannot co-exist together, it just means that their rate of spiritual maturity may be different, thus the relationship may be one of more a mentee/mentor than one of close friends or ministry partners.

There are many, myself included, that have mistaken this sudden growth spurt, as our eyes were opened, as a means to pick apart the Church and others. The intent is not to tear down people, but instead to tear down old mindsets, the end product being restoration. It is simply a season of growth ordained by God. Some call it death to self, others call it the cave, the prison, the desert, crucifixion of the self-life, and some a "Patmos" experience. Perhaps we could call it 'Tomb Time'. Whatever the name, it is designed to squeeze the flesh life out of us in order to come into a deeper, more intimate relationship with our Father. Crossing the Finish Line can only happen by placing our faith in Jesus' Completed work on the Cross. The Resurrection that results from the death of our old man or carnal nature, through proper identification with His death, will then enable us to more effectively and efficiently fulfill our destiny in Him. It is much easier to encourage and train others if we have already passed across the Finish Line ourselves. While many may believe this Finish Line is the end of their life, it is in fact just the beginning of a whole new world filled with God's light, love, peace and rest. It is the eternal life in the Kingdom that Jesus promised and prepared for us.

If I have now obtained the Prize, which is an intimate ONENESS OF RELATIONSHIP with the Father, through the Son, by the Holy Spirit, I must recognize my citizenship is not of this world. I am a "Kingdom Dweller"! This must mean that I definitely need a CROWN! What happened to the crown that was promised to me for obtaining the prize? Recall that in 1 Corinthians 9:25, this crown was described as an imperishable crown. The word imperishable is the Greek word, 'aphthartos', which means immortal or lasting forever. An eternal crown for eternal life! That makes sense. However, I had to see that it was not one of those shiny metal imperishable crowns that are worn by the haughty and prideful. It was not one that could be bought with money, nor gained through popularity, charisma, self-ambition or coercion. This imperishable crown, was instead, a CROWN OF THORNS. The Greek word for crown, 'sephanos', used in this context means a woven crown, wreath, victory garland; of various shapes and various materials, leaves, twigs, flowers, even metal as a sign of victory, honor and in some contexts authority.

I remembered having a vision recently that seemed to illuminate the understanding of this crown. The crown that I saw in the Spirit was a crown of thorns. However, this crown was not only one of thorns, but it was laced with beautiful jewels round about. It was a CROWN OF HUMILITY AND GRACE. It was laced with the living stones that had been hidden deep within the earth, crushed by extreme pressure, and purified by intense heat. These jewels are the Lord's treasured possession (see Malachi 3:17), reflecting His beauty and His splendor. It is by identifying with the Lord's humility, that we find true spiritual authority to rule and reign with Him on this earth now and forevermore. The whole race was actually TRAINING FOR REIGNING!

With that said, I leave you with these thoughts to ponder:

The wise runner will run at his or her own God ordained pace. Their eye or purpose will be single, focused solely on the Lord. They will run with those that the Lord has placed in their path and will allow Him to lead and guide as they trust in Him. They will view adversity as a stepping stone from God, rather than a hindrance from the enemy. Their authority will come from above and not below, though they will reign from a position of lowliness and not be high minded. They will weather the storms of life by faith and through patience they will renew their strength. They will run and not grow weary. They will walk and not faint. They will learn to fly upon the wings of Love soaring through the air unhindered and in carefree abandonment with their Lord.

The turtle and the hare may run the race. It is not important who comes in first, but that they both cross the Finish Line! This is true victory! Hallelujah!

IT IS TIME TO RUN!!!! VICTORY IS ASSURED!!!!

Zionism
Ephraim Frank

Shalom Fellow Israelite,

This past week I sent a letter out by my friend Steve Kramer on the present day attitude of indifference among the Jews, especially in the West, towards Zionism. We have also seen one of the great Israeli warriors and Zionists, now become leader of this nation, agreeing to and doing things that seem to us the complete opposite of what Zionism stands for. At the same time, we have also been hearing reports about a lack of interest in the "redemption of Land" on the part of many Ephraimite groups. It seems that there are very few groups of Ephraimites that are interested in coming over, either on tours or for the purpose of getting involved in some kind of activity. Please check and see how many trips are planned in the near future, or within the next year by Ephraimite organizations. If we understand our priestly role, than we will also understand the importance of remaining connected to the Land. But also, as I, and others, have been pointing out, for the redemption of the former (i.e. the Land) it is totally necessity to have our own house swept clean of all filthiness of spirit and flesh; in other words, our sanctification is vital. This prompted me to pull out a an article that I wrote back in 1998, which is also posted on our web site. www.1st-born.com . I pray that you will remember Zion…

Modern day Zionism came into being during the nineteenth century, inspired, at least in part, by contemporary nationalistic movements, which were prevalent in Europe of that day. But perhaps still greater was the contribution made by a few Spirit-filled Christian (Gentile) visionaries, who began to realize the importance of the Torah, the prophets, and the Jewish people's return to the ancient land of their ancestors. Relationships between these Gentile Christians (Zionists) and the Jewish community in Europe started developing already in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries (ref. The Vision Was There by Franz Kobler, 1956). The Zionist movement, however, was not really acknowledged by nineteenth century historians as a viable or a definable phenomenon. Jewish identity was still very much attached to religion, which preserved the uniqueness of the Jews as a people while in the "Galut" (diaspora, or exile). But the religious traditions left them with only a very slight hope of realizing any national aspirations. Saying "next year in Jerusalem," every Passover was not enough to extricate them from their host countries. Their identity was defined more by default than by anything positive. It wasn't until the time of Rabbi Alkalai and Kalishcher (two Jewish "prophets" of the 1800's) that seeds of national identity began to be sown. They were followed by Moses Hess, Ben-Yehudah, Pinsker, Herzl, Nordau, Ahad-Ha-am, Bialik and others, whose names and writings have lost their prophetic significance today, and have become (in the eyes of most Israelis) mere signs posted on street corners in the cities of Israel.

The transformation, from religion to nationalism, began to grow in the hearts and minds of a remnant, ultimately resulting in the birth of the State of Israel, albeit not without tribulation (pogroms, persecutions and the Holocaust). The return of Judah (the Jews), as a nation, to the Land of Promise is a direct fulfillment of the End Time prophetic scriptures. It testifies to the fact that the God of Israel neither slumbers nor sleeps (Ps. 121:4), but "watches over His word to perform it" (Jer.1:12).

However, this is only half of the story. Zionism, as a national movement was not only evident amongst a remnant of Judah, but also began to surface in Ephraim, who is the other "witness" of the God of Israel's unending mercies and covenant keeping faithfulness. It was at about this time (i.e. the nineteenth century), that a few born-again, spirit-filled believers in Europe, especially in the UK, received prophetic insight into the history of the Two Houses, the two witnesses, the two olive branches, the two sticks, the two families, the two kingdoms and the two nations, spoken of in the Bible. Many believed that the nations that made up Europe were primarily of the lost tribes of Israel. Intense studies of languages, culture, religion etc. began to emerge. In 1887, a work by M.M. Eshelman, called The Two Sticks, was published. Later, another, by J.H. Allen called Judah's Sceptre and Joseph's Birthright, 1917. These works were evidence that the Spirit of the Lord was (and still is) working to turn the hearts of the children to the fathers, and to restore the national identity of both houses of Israel (Ephraim and Judah).

In the covenant that God made with Abraham, He promised him a land and a nation (Goy) which was to come out of his own loins, (Gen 12:1-3). God would never forget the covenant, although He would scatter this nation into all the nations, and thus it is written that Ephraim is "well mixed into all nations" (Hos. 7:8), and that he would become their "fullness" (Gen 48:19). Yet, in Ezekiel 37:22 we read: "I will make them one nation in the land," (as well as in Jer 3:18). God's redemptive plan for this earth was, and still is, a united, redeemed, single nation of "Israel", living in the land that God promised to the patriarchs.

Religious identity has kept the Two Houses divided. However, with the restoration of our national identity we can begin to tear down the age-old divisions of enmity and jealousy and build, under the guiding hand of the Messiah, the commonwealth that will be a light to the rest of the nations, a royal priesthood and a holy nation. Both houses need to return to Zionism, to the Zionism of the Torah. This Zionism is a very simple concept; it involves a land, a nation ("goy"), and a kingdom government.

It all started with the covenant that God made with Abraham, and it will end with the prophesied redeemed remnant (progeny of Abraham) returning to live in the Land of Promise. United Israel, under the lordship of the Messiah who is King of the kings, and High Priest of the priesthood, will yet become a reality. This is the reason for the strong exhortation to "remember the Torah and My servant Moses, and the statutes and ordinances…for all Israel" (Mal. 4:4), at the end of the age.

[Today, in 2004, we see that that which started out as a move of YHVH's Word and Spirit has been relegated to nothing more than lip service and political maneuverings on the part of the country's leaders (having its spiraling effect all the way round) as the spirit of secular humanism is increasing and now controls the policies of our nation]. In Judah, Zionism was dealt a deathblow in 1978, with the first Camp David accords. Staggering and reeling from this first hit, it took another stab in the back at Madrid, and the final shot was fired in Oslo. Many of us who have been living in the Land over this period of time, watched and felt this crushing process destroy the Zionistic ideal, turning it into a word devoid of meaning on the lips of a dying nation. Now it only remains for the United Nations to vote in a Palestinian State, whose territory is the heartland of Israel, Judea and Samaria. Israel was birthed by a UN vote, will the Palestinian national aspirations not be fulfilled in like manner? Mind you, I'm not against a state for the Palestinians, but couldn't something be found for them within the four million square miles of Arab lands?

The present situation in Judea is highly reminiscent of the days of Nehemiah, when Judah was heard saying: "The strength of the laborers is failing, and there is so much rubble, that we are not able to build the wall." To that her adversaries responded: "They will neither know nor see anything, till we come into their midst and kill them and cause the work to cease" (Neh. 4:10). This very reality is upon us today.

Does our destiny as a nation lie in the democratic process, in the form of a vote cast in the United Nations, where the majority rules and is backed up by the combined military forces of the Security Council? "Who can make war with the beast?" (Rev. 13:4). What is our answer to this present situation? THE WORD OF GOD, and our ability to believe and trust in the Rock of our salvation, as we, the two olive branches of Zechariah 4:3, 11-14 and Romans 11:24 experience the "grace" (Zech 4:7) that comes not by might, nor by power but by God's Spirit (Zech. 4:6). Ephraim must repent and return to Zion; Judah must repent and come to know the King and Messiah of Zion. Together we must consecrate ourselves as a nation before the Holy one of Israel, and worship Him in spirit and in truth. Let us sing the song of Zion; the song of Moses and the song of the Lamb. "Great and marvelous are Your works, Lord God Almighty! Just and true are Your ways, O King of the saints! Who shall not fear You, O Lord, and glorify Your name? For You alone are holy. For all nations shall come and worship before You, for Your judgments have been manifested" (Rev.15:3-4).
